The Cowardly Congress

A coward dies 1000 times before his death. Lord, please clean out all cowards in Congress

Cowardly Democrats and Republicans alike in Congress are the bane of the American people. It would be tough to find a greedier, more corrupt lot in any government anywhere. They are nothing like the founders. They continue to exist because people are too trusting. US citizens are like babes in the woods to be trampled on by these self-serving narcissists. Don't expect anything from your representatives in either chamber. They no longer believe they need the people. They are intentionally killing government of the people, for the people, and by the people and they are using the good will of the people for their self-serving gains. This must stop. Of course time is long overdue for voters to bring out the big cleansing broom from where the founders placed it and sweep this pox on America out of the sacred halls of the Congress once and for all.

Both parties at one time in the course of their election campaigns lied to their respective constituencies. Republicans claimed to advocate nationalistic and conservative policies and Democrats claimed to use a liberal progressive agenda to help the people overcome what they called the big-business mentality of the Republicans. Those days are long gone. Both parties now show disdain in the treatment of their constituents.

I am a registered Democrat who loves America. Democrats no longer permit a love for America in their ranks. For years I watched Republicans promise the policies which I advocate and then go ahead and join the Democrats in undermining the country. Today, the Democrats take extreme positions on socialism v capitalism, infanticide, border security and taking care of America and Americans first. If you are a traditionally good American, with Alexandria Ocasio Cortez now serving as the de-facto leader of the Democrat Party, you have reason to fear. Democrats no longer lie about their designs on bringing down America, they brag about it openly.

As an example, on Mayday, 2017, the Republican Party showed that the will of regular people in the party of the elephant no longer matters. Republican elite leadership once again turned over the control of the budget to the Democrats. Hard as it is to believe, the truth is more difficult to assimilate than the fake news.

Anti-leftists, conservatives, nationalists, populists and regular Americans for America, who might very well be described simply as Trump voters and loyalists, learned a bitter lesson again watching Republican Party leaders give it up for the opposition party. Conservatives need a representative party that we can count on. That representation has not been delivered by the weak-kneed, elitist establishment Republican leadership. In the first budget submission of the Trump Administration, they found our backs and stabbed us again. If these cowards could hurt us anonymously they would, but today, we can recognize them by their limps. It seems both Democrats and Republicans today are limping cowards pushing their own agendas above the people's needs.

This book describes the values that are no longer important to the cowards in Congress. It offers a solution so that Democrats can again represent the people and the one-time Party of Lincoln need no longer be so important to everyday John Does.

Americans, both Democrats and Republicans believed we had thrown out the swamp with Donald Trump's election. Yet, neither party, especially the elite establishment Republicans got the message. The promised border wall and border security is the most egregious example. Republicans are afraid of Democrats to do what they promised the voters, while Democrats are afraid of Nancy Pelosi and Alexandria Ocasio Cortez, for fear they will be cut off from the Party's goody bags. Americans have to send these fraidy-cats packing.

Preface:

This cowardly Congress might as well be absent all the time as they expend little to no energy on behalf of the people. Republicans were AWOL during the entire Obama presidency, and we quickly learned when the Party of Lincoln submitted its Mayday Budget in 2017 that this cowardly Party's plan was to remain AWOL. Democrats have been AWOL for an awful long time in terms of their duties to American citizens. Its even worse now that this cowardly Party has gone nuts.

As a Democrat, like many Democrats, I saw the Party leave me. I did not have to leave the Democrat Party. I am convinced that if the Republicans changed the name of their party to The American Party or to the John Doe Party and they got rid of the elite swamp rats, Democrats would join in droves and make the new party unbeatable and unafraid. Right now there is no good home for misplaced, unrepresented Democrats.

Once thought to be honest to a fault, the Republicans have taken to lying as a tool to survive. With all the Democrat lies about President Trump, the halls of Congress are a veritable lying chamber, and of course the corrupt, liberal, progressive press lies to make sure the people think Democrats are telling the truth.

Democrat lies seem true. They are masters of prevarication as telling the truth will destroy their Party. They lie, and the press swears to their lies. However, as neophytes in the lying game, Republicans simply are not as good as Democrats, and they do not have the corrupt press available to back up everything they say.

Republicans chose a while ago to no longer care about the needs of any in the Republican Party other than the fat-cat donors and the K-street lobbyists, and Party elites. They blamed conservatives for losing the Presidency in 2012, yet it was the Republican Party who backed an elite Republican not the anti-leftist conservatives, nationalists, populists, or regular Americans who caused the defeat.

Though Mitt Romney was not a bad guy in 2012, he is a real self-serving jerk today. I thought he may have made an OK president, but he was not a good candidate for regular Americans, and he did not attract the masses of John Does to the Republican Party. With his crybaby reaction to the Trump Presidency, I would almost prefer a lying Democrat to one of the worst conservatives on record. I hope he decides to be a good Senator for the conservative cause.

It really does not matter at this point as it is almost a certainty that Republicans for some time now have been looking for a new constituent base. Anti-leftist, non-elites without huge checkbook balances for the Republican Party today are passé. Wildly dreaming Republicans were hoping that Hispanics would become their new base, and Paul Ryan was commissioned to roll regular John Does off a cliff along with Granny.

While Republicans planned the demise of the little guys in the party, Americans who love America decided to launch a preemptive strike on the elite Republican establishment. We looked for and found a candidate that the wimpy RINO establishment Republicans did not want and surely did not like. We found a smart businessman who did not spend all his life as a suck-up politician. That man of course is Donald Trump. He is now our President. His election shows that the people can do anything we choose, when motivated.

Besides talking about the demise of the Congress into a bunch of fraidy-cats, by picking on the cowardly ways of Republicans and Democrats, this book asks regular Americans such as anti-leftists, conservatives, nationalists, populists, independents, and regular American John Does who love America to strongly consider pulling out of the Republican Party. They have left us behind and they are not looking back to see if we are following. Even regular John Doe Democrats will be welcomed in The John Doe Party or perhaps The American Party.

The good ole boy elite establishment Republicans can learn to swim in their own complacency. America-lovers, conservatives and former Tea Party people, who most often are one and the same, for eight years had a real enemy in the White House. His name as we well know is Barack Hussein Obama, and he had appointed his heir to be Hillary Rodham Clinton. Of course, we the people did not want that, and so we made Donald Trump President of all America.

Why is this book about Congressional Cowards instead of the Democratic leadership? Democrats are always the clear and present danger to democracy. The answer hit me like a ton of bricks. It was a wake-up call. What seemed like out of nowhere, the GOP began to stop engaging Democrats as an opposition party by choosing not to help regular Americans fight Obama's many anti-American policies. Worse than that, with Trump's ascendancy to the presidency, the Republican RINOs continued to favor Democrats over the anti-leftists John Does that had always supported the Party of Lincoln.

It seemed like a bad dream when Republicans began to either believe they were dealt a winning hand in the Obama game or they were actually afraid of the President. Either way, these were scary times for Americans. No reinforcements came to the aid of Americans from the Republican Party, which had simply capitulated. Republican elites would give Democrats whatever they wanted even after winning the Congress. How disappointing. For nine months the Republican Never Trumpers played Congress like Trump was guilty of "collusion," and would be gone by the end of 2017 and they did nothing to help the people who got them elected.

There would be no border issue today if Republicans had done the job for which the people elected them. They gave Trump virtually nothing and the border and the wall were not even on their radar other than to say, "NYET!". Republicans paid the price for their cowardice in the midterm elections in 2018.

The people saw the resistance his own Party gave to the President's agenda and those not on the Trump wave, paid the price by having to go back and live at home. All in all with a new socialist Democratic-controlled House, with Pelosi as their leader, the American people had their retribution but now we are all paying our own price for speaking up and cleaning out a bunch of RINOs.

In races across the country, from Virginia to Alabama to South Carolina, the political careers of Trump haters have begun to crumble to dust in the elections. Life was a lot better for those who have atoned for blaspheming the President but not enough atoned to save the Republican majority in the house.

Regular Americans have gotten accustomed to getting nothing from Republicans. We are sick of it. We expect excrement from democrats and we get it but we had hope in Republicans but for too many years, they opt to not support the people. We must be prepared to go it alone.

When Donald Trump showed up, we knew we had our leader; now we must fight to gain real representation. We must continue the Republican purge by beating the Swamp rats in the primaries.

For years, Americans believed that the Republican Party's values and our values were the same. Regular Americans have not had our own Party, and so for many years or so it seemed, Republicans were the enforcers for our values. Therefore, we logically believed that Republicans felt the same about important matters as we do. We were wrong.

Republicans idiotically made their love affairs with the donor class and the K-street lobbyists well known and began to oppose regular Americans in important life and values matters. With Trump in office, they made it worse, they began to align with the opposition party—i.e. the Democrats.

In both economic and foreign affairs, conservatives watched Obama spend his eight years in an anti-American role. During this time. The cowardly Republicans were like mice afraid to speak. The Republican leadership has been marking time waiting for something supposedly, choosing not to oppose the Democrats.

Republicans became the great pretenders bluffing us that “our day would come,” without any pushback to the Obama agenda. Trump is our honest answer finally. The taste of Democrat rule in three months of 2019 is enough to teach us all that we pay a price when we get rid of RINOS so let's get back some good guys in the 2020 primaries.

That's why this book is so necessary today. We unabashedly recommend that Americans stop trusting Republican hand-shakers and Democrat socialists. Republicans have proven that they will not fight for America or for American values. Democrats now live someplace off the wall where few sane people even visit.

Republican greed trumps the needs of America. The leaders of the Grand Old Party have not even acknowledged that Obama and the Democrats are wrong. Anti-leftist regular Americans such as you and I must learn to go it along. Bye Bye to Republican elites!

The sooner Americans can cast off Republicans as our only protection against Democrats and progressivism, the sooner we can move on to solving the problem for our values, our country, and our freedom. We need our own Party for sure; for without a Party, Regular John Doe Americans will not even be permitted to help on the battlefield when America is hanging by just a thread.

While we have been waiting for the right time to form a party, most of us think that we can defeat the Democrat leadership, the corporations, the unions, the media, and the traitorous Republicans who are not worth the ground they stand on. The time for waiting is over. It is now time to act.

As a great start, Americans from all political backgrounds chose to support Trump as our President. What a great move. He will govern as a good Republican, and as a nationalist and conservative working to make America great.

I hope he does not get too frustrated with the anti-Trump power brokers in the GOP. I hope he finds that he can rally the troops such as us, without the Republican Party umbrella. We must stand ready to do our part within a new Party, even if we exist as a clandestine wing of the Republican Party. Our best bet of course is to form our own John Doe Party and get rid of the swamp donors and the Never Trumpers.

We must work together to create a place for regular John Doe Americans—the little guys in America. We must leave the elite establishment to run its own Party. Meanwhile, a Party such as The John Doe Party can take all the regulars in America, including the regular Joe Democrats, Independents and members of other Parties who love America. We can do it. Our first step was to get Trump elected and we did that. We the people can do anything. Now that we are motivated, it is time to move forward.

Brian W. Kelly for years and years has monitored what is happening to regular Americans and has written extensively on this major problem with the Republican Party. Democrats are even worse, according to Kelly and those of us who have seen the new radical anti-capitalist, infanticide advocating Anti-American cowardly Democrats know he is right.

Kelly is one of America's most outspoken and eloquent conservative speakers and authors on American values. He is the author of 193 books including Saving America The Trump Way, Why Trump? Taxation without Representation, Obama's Seven Deadly Sins, Kill the EPA! Jobs! Jobs! Jobs! and many other fine patriotic books.

All Kelly books are now available at Amazon, and Kindle. Many can be found at Barnes & Noble and other fine booksellers.

www.amazon.com/author/brianwkelly.

Like most of you, Brian is fed up with a stifling progressive liberal agenda in Washington that places the needs of everybody else in front of the needs of Americans. Like many regular John Does, he is shocked at the behavior of the new RINO Republican Party.

Like you, Kelly is frustrated with how Republicans continually try to deceive us so that we will believe they are still with US on values and policy. They want our votes; but they no longer want to know what we think. It does not matter to these establishment elites.

Brian Kelly has read the intelligence reports, has researched and has written about these important topics for years, and he knows how intolerable the results of poor government policy can be within our neighborhoods. His comprehensible and sane recommendations in this book are explained in detail within the covers of this soon-to-be classic offering. The Cowardly Congress is filled with so many low-life Representatives it can be cited as a national shame.

It's Time for a big change. It's time for Cowards to stay buried under big rocks. This book is part of the new conservative bible to get us back on track with America. It shows why sucking up to RINO Republicans is bad for Americans, and Kelly tells us all what to do about it. You are going to love this book since it is designed by an American for Americans. Few books are a must-read, but The Cowardly Congress has all the prospects of ending the party of elites paid for by the US taxpayers.

Thanks to you, The Cowardly Congress is about to appear at the top of America's most read list.

Sincerely,

Brian P. Kelly, Editor

Chapter 1 Should Cowardly Democrats or God Decide Who Lives or Dies?

You may find it hard to believe. Nonetheless, cowardly Democrats in the US Senate have just blocked a measure aimed at punishing doctors, who fail to provide medical care to a child that is born after an attempted abortion. No, this is not something that is taking place in China or North Korea. It's happening in America folks.

Amazon has over 65 million hardcopy books for sale online as well as a ton of e-books. Amazon prints my books and provides downloads of electronic versions through its Kindle division. My books and many other Amazon printed books are also sold at Barnes & Noble and other fine booksellers. Thank you for choosing this book.

Like most Americans, I too am not happy with representation by the cowards in Congress. Over 80% disapprove of Congress on a regular basis and there is plenty of reason why. The one factor that sticks out among all others is that at least 80% of the members are cowards, and a higher percentage than that are pathogenic liars.

One could be easily convinced that you have to be a liar to be elected to the Congress. I tried one time with no lies and lost. I made it to the ballot in 2010 for the US House from Pennsylvania in the Primary but I was soundly defeated. In a three-person race, I got 17% of the vote. The incumbent won. Maybe that is why I failed to win. Like most Americans I don't lie and I always try to do the right thing.

Though they often appear to be the honorable so and so from such and such, observation suggests members of Congress are not very honorable at all. They prefer the honorable as their public title rather than the more mundane moniker, Representative. Honorable is more proper since years ago, Congress let Representation go as one of its goals. Perhaps that has something to do with their favorability rating of 20% on a good day. Those of us paying attention have learned that what the Congress decides on a daily basis has very little to do with the will of the vast majority of people.

Professors Martin Gilens (Princeton University) and Benjamin I. Page (Northwestern University) looked at more than 20 years-worth of data to answer a simple question recently: "Does the government represent the people?"

Gilens & Page found that the number of Americans for or against any idea has no impact on the likelihood that Congress will make it law. They write: "The preferences of the average American appear to have only a miniscule, near-zero, statistically non-significant impact upon public policy."

In this book I do not give Republicans much credit for their lying to get elected and then choosing a different path of execution than promised. Like most, this galls me. President Trump suffers with a half-hearted Congress that cares little about his agenda or the agenda of the American people, which happens to match Trump's.

I am tougher on Democrats because recently they are acting like utter goofs. They appear in public like they own the world as certified elite globalists and America does not matter to them. In fact, Americans no longer matter either--and infant American children matter even less.

Having babies does not matter. Ask Alexandria Ocasio Cortez for the new scoop. The nuclear family does not matter. Fossil Fuels for vehicles, heat and light do not matter and must be eliminated. Airplane travel must stop. The Rich need to pay more than they make in taxes. The price tag for Democrat socialism is greater than $93 Trillion but how the country pays for it does not matter. Humph!

Alexandria Ocasio Cortez (AOC) has anointed herself as the new boss and the chief spokesman for all Democrats. Nancy Pelosi does not dare challenge her. AOC says that “This is going to be the New Deal, the Great Society, the moon shot, the civil-rights movement of our generation.”

Cortez cautions that we have just twelve years to solve the “green” crisis or “people will die.” Democrats pay her homage. All of the six presidential candidates now sound like copies of AOC, and she is not the country’s best thinker.

Meanwhile most Americans watching all this nutty stuff unfold, even those Americans who mostly listen to CNN and are not among the sharpest tools in the shed, think she is just a crazed goof. They actually believe that all Democrat leaders are dimwits. They do worry if, God forbid, Dems get more power. “Is America itself doomed?”

February 2019 brought a heavy-on-high-hope, light-on-logic policy with this Democrat New Green Deal. Smart conservatives are praying that the wise sages of the new Democrat House majority bring each of the proposals in the Alexandria Ocasio Cortez’ Green New Deal up for a vote — every single one of them. They are to a one off the wall and Democrats are off the wall crazy, cowardly, nasty, and vicious. They are also now seen as savage bullies, especially where infants are concerned.

Because AOC and the six birdbrain Senators who follow her like lapdogs are such nincompoops, I have begun to conclude that there is no hope for the Democrats at all. This is after many weeks of research and reading as the weeks went by in 2019 since I began this book. If they are not bad people at heart, they surely have not figured out how to let their goodness show. I see no goodness in today’s Democratic Party

They all act like creeps. More and more, they give me the creeps. How about you?

Until the time they give up on their Party, which is happening every day for many ex Democrats, I found that registered Democrats are CNN-only and no matter what Trump does, they hate it. Then, one day out of nowhere, some change how they feel. More and more are having such epiphanies. One day if the exodus continues, there will be no rank and file Democrats at all. Their party will be left with AOC and six goofy Senators. To me, that is still too many cowards.

Sorry: blockhead Democrats are dopey buffoons

As of October 2017, Gallup polling found that 31% of Americans identified as Democrat, 24% identified as Republican, and 42% as Independent. As of 2018, 40% of all voters in party registration states are Democrats, 29% are Republicans, and 28% are independents. Yet, more and more people are now inclined to vote Republican. Watch Trump in 2020.

Independents vote too so they cannot be ignored but more and more Democrats such as my friend Gerard who shared with me after church Sunday that as a lifelong Democrat, he was giving up. Gerard said “They are nasty and stupid and wacky and empty-headed and I don’t think they like whites, America or Americans. Why should I be in this party” He switched to Republican because there are no good choices but at least Republicans do not plan to destroy America with socialism. So even though Democrats out-register Republicans right now, more and more citizens, such as myself and Gerard, are voting conservative, which today means Republican.

It is easy to see that as much as Republicans in Congress are not trustworthy and they do not serve the people well, Democrats are far worse. All they talk about is hate for Trump. Who needs that. Trump is actually doing good for the country. It is just underreported by a corrupt press. Such Democrats in Congress aren’t just anti-Trump; they’re anti-American. Worse than that, they seem happy about it.

Whenever Democrats are massed together, they now appear more dimwitted than ever. I watched the State of the Union recently as Democrats continued to self-destruct during President Trump’s speech. It was 121 minutes with 115 applause lines and scores of standing ovations. With all of this goodness in the chamber, Democrats sat on their hands and made faces as they used their anti-Trump feelings to justify their anti-social, anti-propriety behavior.

Their smug faces and failure to acknowledge the President was not only disrespectful and juvenile but also a continuation of all their concerted and malicious attempts to discredit him and undermine his presidency since Inauguration day. You will see in this book that my wife also has a lot of opinions about this. Her feelings about Democrats, and she is still a registered “D,” is that they are Bad! Bad! Bad! I think that about sums it up.

Think about Trump’s successes that the “children in the chamber” dismissed by talking and laughing among themselves –

- The defeat of ISIS
- The booming economy
- 2.4 million new jobs
- Bonuses and new businesses because of his tax bill
- Etc.

Remember it was said that Trump’s economic plan would never create more money or jobs for America. Liberal Democrats refused to applaud God, country or the flag, border security, fighting opioid abuse or the lowest black unemployment rate in history. The fact is that America is growing; people are thriving. It is a shame that obviously makes Democrats angry.

They didn’t just brand themselves as anti-Trump the night of the SOTU. Democrats permanently branded themselves as anti-American and disgusting at the same time. More Americans are getting accustomed to whom the Democrats really are. For those, such as my wife, Gerard, and myself—who know that it wasn’t always this way in our Party, it is very sad. But it is what it is. Being a registered Democrat is no longer cool. Voting Democrat is becoming plain stupid.

Democrats outdo themselves it seems every day on being dunderheads. Find me one person that thinks Democrats are patriotic and I will show you one dumass. But, wait, there is one, just one.

After Trump declared a national emergency at the behest of the people of the US, Democrats were out advocating for their resolution to terminate Trump's national emergency declaration. The New Queen of Mean herself took to the podium and she surprised everybody, especially me, by invoking the notion of patriotism: "This is about the Constitution of the United States. It's not about politics, it's not about partisanship. It's about patriotism,".

Dear Nany Pelosi. You are the most anti-American Speaker of the House in history. Would you please repeat that thing about Patriotism? You gotta be kidding us all.

Some Breitbart readers found this as laughable as most of us.

Reader 1: "If Nancy is using her political position to argue that it's patriotic to enable a foreign invasion, and actually try to pass legislation that further enables a foreign invasion, then she is criminally insane, a traitor, or both. Only a psychopath could say with a straight face that the death and misery from an open border is not a problem, and that a barrier to stop it is immoral. Maybe faking insanity is her way to avoid the cage or gallows for the treachery of her past, or maybe she is actually insane.

Reader 2:

Comrade Pelosi talking about patriotism is laughable. She wants to completely destroy the country and all of it's citizens.

Reader 3:

The resolution is a document of treason to continue to enable the foreign invasion of our country. It is well past the time to water the Tree of Liberty with the blood of these traitors.

Our thanks to Breitbart for the comments above.

Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act

This February 25th legislation brought out the absolute worst in the cowardly United States Congress. Forty three brainless, sicko, cowardly Democrat Congress members, would not support their own rank and file constituents by standing up to their nutty leadership. However, they voted to take the bullying of babies to its ultimate conclusion--death sentences with well-heralded bravery.

This new breed of “tough” Democrats are OK with killing any babies that get in their way. “Killed by Democrats” can now be written as an epitaph about 1-hour old babies that emerge alive after an abortion attempt, only later to be killed by the surgeon’s knife with mother’s permission.

It is stupid politically; but it is also murder. Even Congress cannot approve of murder with any legality. Democrat leaders do not get it; but the people do get it. In the February 25, 2019 vote, the 2020 Democrat candidates all voted against an anti-infanticide bill because the press would let them get away with it. Just three Democrats in the US Senate voted for the babies--Joe Manchin, Bob Casey, and Doug Jones.

The dirty corrupt press will not challenge them on the bullying of newborn babies right to the grave. There was not a peep of condemnation from the mainstream media wing of the Democrat Party.

In a sane world—a world that existed not much more than a year or two ago, a presidential candidate voting against an anti-infanticide bill would be a campaign-ending decision. But we don’t live in sane times. Therefore, 2020 Democratic hopefuls felt they had nothing to fear. They think the voters do not care about what they do.

There were 53 votes to offer death sentences to survivors of abortion attempts and there were just 44 members of Congress ready to protect the babies. This is America?

All of the senators who have announced they’re running for the Democratic nomination in 2020, including Sens. Cory Booker, D-N.J.,

Kirsten Gillibrand, N.Y., Kamala Harris, D-Calif., Amy Klobuchar, D-Minn., Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass., and Bernie Sanders, I-Vt., voted “nay.” Does that tell you something about the cowardly Democrat Party? What a bunch of creeps

The inmates are now running the Democrat Party asylum. Democrats have voted in favor of barbarity. They advocate the slaying of children that they previously failed to kill in the first place.

Cowardly Congress: Abortion survivors can now be murdered with impunity.

Cowardly congress now bullies babies to death

On the way home from the doctors the day after the legislation to save live babies failed in the US Senate, I heard Frank Andrews, a local opinion talk show host on WILK Radio discussing the last great act of cowardice by our Congress. It is a big one. Kill the babies. Frank is a great advocate of everything good. Yesterday, the US Senate voted against born-alive infants receiving medical care after birth. Frank suggested we all read a Federalist Article about it, which I just finished.

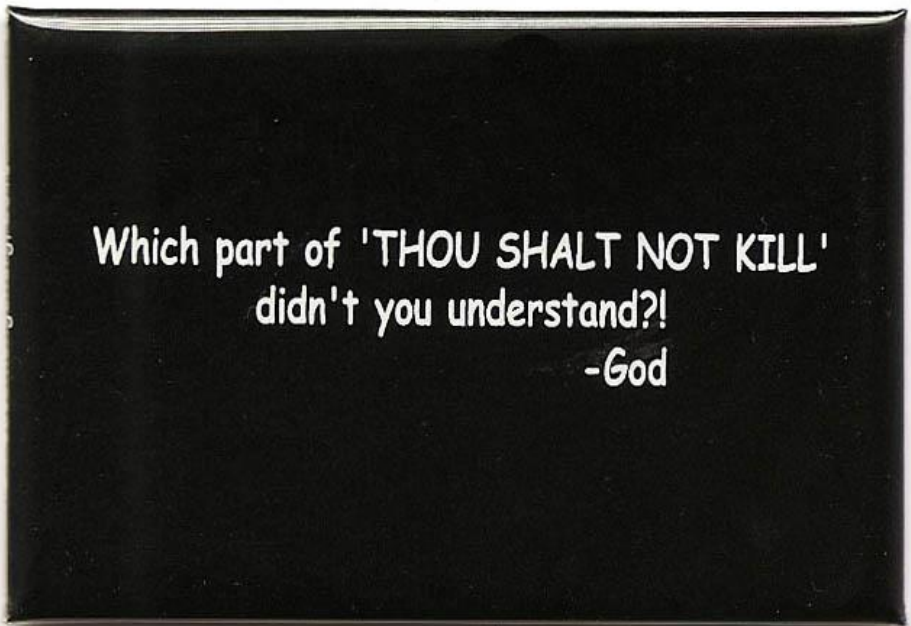

The Federalist says unequivocally that this act by the Senate proves that the Democrats “safe, legal, and rare”, “Pro-Choice” mantra has changed. Now, they seem to have dropped the whole “rare” thing. It is disgusting.

Democrats are now the Party of Infanticide. Whenever and wherever you want to kill a live baby on the abortion table, it is now OK. In America, on February 25, 2019 the “honorable” in the US Senate decided that for many, the rite of abortion now includes termination after birth.

Why does “Thou Shalt Not Kill” no longer apply?

I wonder what makes those who voted against saving the babies think they have the right to kill full term babies after they are born. There has to be something special that enables what would otherwise be a crime of murder. Let’s think about this conundrum for a while to help us understand the Democrat motivation in this regard. Are they looking for more than “just” infanticide?

Perhaps it is the fact that the botched abortion baby lands on an abortion table when the abortion is unsuccessful instead of being directly tossed into the garbage as would be the case if the abortion were successful? Maybe that is what gives the surgeon the right to end its life though it is alive. Maybe that is the secret. Perhaps we have uncovered the mystery as to how it is justified by Democrats. The abortion table is an extension of the abortion. Get it?

The baby being on the abortion table and not gasping for air in a garbage can or on a shelf in the OR, must be the special sauce that justifies infanticide. Shall we say that the abortion table is where dead abortion babies would lie for a brief instant before being discarded into the trash heap?

In the new infanticide scenario, voted for legalization by the US Senate in February 2019, the live baby would be on the abortion table just until their life is taken from them by the “surgeon.” It would be the surgeon’s choice to make it painless with a needle or quick with a scalpel movement directly into the heart. Then, of course with no time wasted, the dead baby corpse could be right to the scrap heap unless of course there are organs to be harvested so another 1-hour old baby can live after Planned Parenthood or another service provider is paid handsomely. Ironic???

So, in this scenario it clearly is the abortion table that permits the following through on a live birth of a botched abortion by killing a baby that might otherwise live for 87 years.

Surely after their success in getting approval for infanticide, smart Democrats are looking for step 2. How about bringing in a 95-year old grandfather whose hygiene habits have made it tough for the family to care for him. Just place him on a somewhat larger abortion table, and let the surgeon perform infanticide on him just like the botched abortion victim. No more inconvenience associated with grandpop. Maybe when it does down this way, a funeral director or Coroner need not be called. That would make it even easier for the Dems to get rid of unwanted old people.

Once Democrats begin to evaluate scenarios in which the infanticide notion could be applied, they are limitless. Why should there be a time limit? Why should there be an age limit. Why should it not be permitted that anybody could be killed at any time if the guardian wants it to be so?

Perhaps the Democrat plan is that just like the government in Obamacare would have somebody in authority decide who gets healthcare or not. Same for a Medicare- for-all system. Democrats could fight for a system with no restrictions on when and who.

The state could take all the hard decisions away and determine who lives and who dies at any time during their lives. It could even help law enforcement. Rather than have jails for bad people, the state could just eliminate them.. That would save a lot of anguish, don't you think?

-- End of missive--

Besides the absurd scenarios, which I touched on above, the Federalist really dissects this new legislation in their article pointed to by WILK host Frank Andrews on my way home yesterday. Here it is by the Federalist, well done, below:

The Federalist author David Harsanyi is a Senior Editor at The Federalist. He is the author of the new book, First Freedom: A Ride Through America's Enduring History with the Gun, From the Revolution to Today. Follow him on Twitter.

Presidential hopeful Kamala Harris wants to force every American to give up his private health insurance, but she can't get herself to support legislation that compels doctors to give an infant who survives an abortion attempt the same care they would provide any other human being. She's merely one of 44 Democrats who blocked a bill that would have saved all babies from negligent homicide. Presidential candidates Cory Booker, Kirsten Gillibrand, Amy Klobuchar, Elizabeth Warren, and Bernie Sanders all voted against Nebraska Sen. Ben Sasse's Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act, as well.

Senate Democrats unsurprisingly struggled to find an effective way to lie about opposing a bill that prohibits abortion in the fourth trimester. Some of them maintained that Sasse's bill was superfluous because all the things in it were already illegal. Others claimed the bill would "restrict doctors from making case-by-case decisions about what is best for infants and mothers." Still others claimed the practice never ever happens. Other Democrats, who support government intervention in every nook and cranny of human existence, argued that tough choices should only be the domain of women and their doctors, not the state. Many of them saw no conflict between these ideas and argued all these things at the very same time.

Sen. Patty Murray claimed the bill was "clearly anti-doctor, anti-woman and anti-family" and that "proponents claim it would make something illegal that is already illegal." This is untrue, regardless of a full-court press from Democrats and the media. As bills in both Virginia and New York clearly illustrate, the practice isn't illegal. Both bills specifically provide legal protections for doctors who terminate babies who survive abortion attempts.

This was the practice Gov. Ralph Northam of Virginia hamfistedly explained to us on video, forgetting to use the standard euphemisms typically used to conceal the horrific specifics of the procedure. In New York, abortion—and post-birth termination—of a viable, once-healthy infant is legal through the entire pregnancy, and after, for virtually any reason. The rite of abortion is so intrinsic to progressive ideology (and coffers) that not one major player on the left had the moral spine to condemn either.

Leana Wen, the president of the state-funded abortion mill Planned Parenthood, argued that the Sasse legislation was "based on lies and a misinformation campaign, aimed at shaming women and criminalizing doctors for a practice that doesn't exist in medicine or reality." Why would Wen oppose criminalizing a procedure that doesn't exist in medicine or reality? And if it did exist, would Wen support banning the practice? Has anyone in truth-seeking media asked her?

The reality is that Sasse's bill exempted mothers from prosecution, and would have merely required medical professionals to "exercise the same degree of professional skill, care, and diligence to preserve the life and health of the child as a reasonably diligent and conscientious health care practitioner would render to any other child born alive at the same gestational age." Nothing in the bill would have inhibited the doctors from making choices about critically ill infants. Conflating the experience of couples who lose a sick child to those who terminate a healthy one is both fraudulent and immoral itself. Then again, a bill that asks doctors to fulfill their oath of keeping babies alive is in direct competition with Wen's professional mission.

As National Review's Alexandra DeSanctis points out, the media did its customary job of running interference for Democrats. Take this Politico piece, for example, which is teeming with the usual deceptive language, referring to Sasse's bill as "anti-abortion"—as did many other outlets, including the Associated Press—though it would not stop anyone from performing a single abortion in this country. Most of the media portrayed the debate as a cynical election ploy to "to squeeze Democrats ahead of the 2020 campaign." The bill was filibustered, with three Democrats voting for it. President Trump would surely sign it. Does anyone doubt conservatives want it passed?

Is it cynical to put politicians on the record for their beliefs? Is it cynical to point out that the majority of elected Democrats – including every presidential hopeful in the Senate — are, judging from polling numbers, far to the left of the country? Although polls have consistently shown that large majorities of Americans oppose all third-trimester abortions, I can't find one that asks if they support the practice of aborting infants who had the temerity to survive a third-trimester abortion. I wonder what the numbers would look like on that question.

One of most durable talking points for abortion has to do with the notion that if a thing is in a woman's body then it is a woman's choice what to do with that thing, even if that thing happens to be a unique and viable human being. Now Democrats have expanded their position to argue that even if a baby escapes death, then the mother (and, often, the father)—in consultation with a doctor, as if this made it any more morally palatable—can still terminate the baby’s life for any reason they see fit.

These vulnerable babies are the only people in the United States who have no person representing their interests and no law protecting them from harm. And so it remains.

Chapter 2 Congress: Greedy Scoundrels, Cowards, and Liars

Civics 101:

We do NOT live in a democracy, we live in a constitutional republic with democratically held elections.

The difference?

In a democracy, 51% of the people can take 100% of your rights

In a constitutional republic, the rights of all are equally protected.

Freedom of choice is allowed in a constitutional republic.

In a democracy ... the mob rules.

A Constitutional Republic

As most of us even with a minimal civics background already understand, our country, the United States of America was founded as a constitutional republic, not a democracy. The word democracy does have play, however. Our form of government is basically a modified democracy with the rule of law as a basis. The rule of law is the Constitution. For all Americans to understand our perfect founding and what America is all-about, I wrote the following three books

1. America for Dummies <https://www.amazon.com/dp/0989995747>
2. The Constitution for Dummies <https://www.amazon.com/dp/0989995755>
3. The Founding of America <https://www.amazon.com/dp/1947402102>

These books and others written by others, help you see for yourself that our elected officials want to lord over us rather than be our servants as the founders had intended. The America books begin a few hundred years before the founding and show today's Americans what early Americans endured for the sake of freedom and liberty.

The Constitution is a classic book that is easy to read. It contains the full Constitution and it explains what it means as it shows the text of this great historical document. For Americans wanting to know about their country's government, these are fine books to have in your collection.

America began as a perfectly balanced and just system indeed. However, somewhere along the way to today, the country was deliberately corrupted by evil men for personal gain. Just like Cain (in the Bible) destroyed the tranquility and peace of an idyllic world and divided the family of Adam by first introducing murder into the world, greedy politicians who wanted to line their pockets, corrupted our wonderful system and brought evil into the government.

How did this happen? Over the years, they did their deeds with a combination of force, fraud, and the corrupting influence of money, which we know is the root of all evil.

Excerpts from John W. Whitehead August 15, 2016

On August 15, 2016 John Whitehead wrote a piece for the Rutherford Institute that he titled: The Greatest Threat to Our Freedoms: A Government of Scoundrels, Spies, Thieves, Ruffians, Rapists and Killers. It may not seem quite this bad yet, but then again maybe it is, and we simply do not know it yet.

Nonetheless this tragedy is brought to you thanks to one of the most cowardly and corrupt institutions in existence—the Congress of the United States of America. In the last ten years, the people have caught on and in major polling have rated the job approval of the Congress from a low of 9% to a high of 20%. That means that at one time in the last ten years, over 91% of American have had a poor opinion of our Congress—and with good reason.

John Whitehead – A lot to say about the US government

John Whitehead began the referenced piece with a quote from Lawrence Lessig, a Harvard Law Professor:

“There is nothing more dangerous than a government of the many controlled by the few.”

Think about that and think hard about the shenanigans of the New Queen of Mean in America, Ms. Nancy Pelosi of California, the Speaker of the US House of Representatives.

Whitehead follows this quote with his opening volley:

“The U.S. government remains the greatest threat to our freedoms.”

“The systemic violence being perpetrated by agents of the government has done more collective harm to the American people and our liberties than any single act of terror.

“More than terrorism, more than domestic extremism, more than gun violence and organized crime, the U.S. government has become a greater menace to the life, liberty and property of its citizens than any of the so-called dangers from which the government claims to protect us.

“This is how tyranny rises and freedom falls.

“As I explain in my book Battlefield America: The War on the American People, when the government views itself as superior to the citizenry, when it no longer operates for the benefit of the people, when the people are no longer able to peacefully reform their government, when government officials cease to act like public servants, when elected officials no longer represent the will of the people, when the government routinely violates the rights of the people and perpetrates more violence against the citizenry than the criminal class, when government spending is unaccountable and unaccounted for, when the judiciary act as courts of order rather than justice, and when the government is no longer bound by the laws of the Constitution, then you no longer have a government “of the people, by the people and for the people.”

“What we have is a government of wolves.

“Worse than that, we are now being ruled by a government of scoundrels, spies, thugs, thieves, gangsters, ruffians, rapists, extortionists, bounty hunters, battle-ready warriors and cold-blooded killers who communicate using a language of force and oppression.

“Does the government pose a danger to you and your loved ones?

Ask Paul Manafort, Roger Strone, or Michael Flynn what they think.

Since this is not a conspiracy theory book, but instead a book for regular people about the cowards we elect to Congress, we will stop the heavy work that was completed by John W. Whitehead and we will continue with Chapter 1. Feel free to pick this story up on your own at https://www.rutherford.org/publications\_resources/john\_whiteheads\_commentary/the\_greatest\_threat\_to\_our\_freedoms\_a\_government\_of\_scoundrels\_spies\_t

With minimal observation, you will conclude that Congress is full of cowards who are so hung up on their party's protocols and instructions that they no longer choose to do the work of their constituents—the people. Democrats are afraid of Nancy Pelosi and Republicans are afraid of their donors, Democrats and the press. Of course today, the main stream media is corrupt and difficult to differentiate from the Democrat Party. No valid Fourth Estate operates in America today.

Republicans are in fact, worse than the Democrats because they are afraid the donors, the Democrats and the press won't like them if they choose to do the will of the people. Once they get into Congress, Republicans metamorphosize into “almost-Democrats,” yet they are very bold and brazen about truth and honesty when running for office. They are not above lying to get elected and so they are not afraid of lying as a modus operandi.

The fact that today's Republicans in Congress know that their constituents put them in office to build Trump's wall no longer matters. Once elected, the donors matter more than the people. Republican donors want cheap labor and Republican Congressmen deliver that all the time and in fact, are annoyed that the people want a wall.

From inauguration day, despite their promises to get elected, they have had no problem fighting the President on major issues such as the Wall, Obamacare, etc. They no longer even pretend to support Trump in order to curry with anti-American far-left Democrats and the corrupt anti-American press. Americans are totally sick of them. Speaker Ryan did Trump no favors during his tenure. Ryan's legacy will tarnish even further as the people find out his misdeeds against the President.

Democrats won the House in the midterms not because they have a better plan. They have no plan at all other than to hate Trump at all costs. They won the midterms because Republican and Democrat voters gave wimpy RINOs the boot. Conservatives were sick of lying do-nothing Republicans. We are not happy with Democrats either, but we have to clean out bad Republicans from Congress as soon as possible.

The far left Democrats offer nothing but a way to get back at poor Republican leadership, too scared of a government shutdown to back the President and fight the Democrats on the wall. Republican scaredy-cat cowards are absolutely disgusting and do not deserve our vote. Let's keep getting rid of them in Primary elections until we eventually find some good men and women who respect the will of the people.

Is the wall necessary?

There are skeptics who suggest that the Democrats think a wall is unnecessary because their party, the Democrat Party is building its own wall. Every time I hear about a cowardly democrat leader today, I hear the raspy voice of Nancy Pelosi in the background saying that Democrats have their own wall and don't need another.

“We have our own wall. It is a big growing wall of big government statism, endless war, globalism, and higher taxes that race toward socialism.” Though Democrat rank and file know that their top Party leaders are having a race towards socialism, just like congressional leaders, they too are afraid to speak out against Nancy Pelosi and her wall. Democrats are afraid to talk to their own to stick up for America.

The Pelosi-powered virtual Democrat Wall blocks Americans from our liberties. Democrats don't tell you what you lose when you take the Pelosi wall instead of the Trump wall but a true accounting would point out that you lose a lot. The losses include your right to own a gun and your right to engage in free speech. This new Democrat Wall is a wall that censors and controls minds via political correctness precepts and by means of a lying fake news corporate media. It is a wall that protects a massively corrupt Deep State from receiving justice from what has become an inept Democrat-controlled Justice Department and FBI.

Is Pelosi America First?

There is no need to ask. Just listening to the New Queen of Mean, and Americans already know Pelosi is for non-Americans before Americans. Despite having no hope that the Chief Witch of the Democrat Party, Nancy Pelosi will ever choose to do what is right for America and Americans, on behalf of Americans who love America, right now, right here in this book, I am asking her to please tear down her despicable, fascist, blue virtual wall.

I am asking her to permit the President of our country, the US of A, to construct a legitimate wall, with which he can protect the people along our southern border and throughout the rest of the country. At the same time. I am asking all of the representatives in Congress to hide their cowardly ways and vote for policies that help Americans even if it means crossing the New Queen of Mean and the big money donors.

Americans know and even Democrats know. Even our wimpy, cowardly leaders in Congress know—that a wall is not immoral. If a wall were immoral, Pelosi and Schumer would not have the huge walls which are reported to surround their huge estates.

Regardless of Pelosi's real wall and her virtual wall, we all know that Americans need a really well-built wall that protects us from an endless stream of illegal aliens coming here for free stuff as well as criminals and terrorists who come in to wreak havoc on us all. It is time.

We all know that Nancy Pelosi lies when she says that the border wall is immoral. Its purpose is to keep those who do not belong in America out of America. A wall and huge gates around the Pelosi estate would not be immoral even though its purpose would be to keep those who do not belong inside the compound out of the Pelosi grounds. We all have a right to safety.

Rank and file Democrats unfortunately for their own reasons are happy being led by the nose even if the leader of the Party is obviously nasty and unpleasant. Donald Trump offered a real compromise in his national address to end the Democrat owned government shutdown. Pelosi quickly and callously rejected Trump's kind offer—even before he had delivered his speech. Trump got the Pelosi message loud and clear. "There will be no negotiations." She is tough for sure according to her daughter Alexandra. "She'll cut your head off and you won't even know you're bleeding.

She is a nasty person. Even before the January 19 address, while the government was shut down, Pelosi did her best to show she was the new boss in Congress and Trump had to cow-tow or he'd get nothing ever. The President offered this Tweet:

Donald J. Trump
@realDonaldTrump

Nancy Pelosi and some of the Democrats turned down my offer yesterday before I even got up to speak. They don't see crime & drugs, they only see 2020 - which they are not going to win. Best economy! They should do the right thing for the Country & allow people to go back to work.

♡ 125K 8:11 AM - Jan 20, 2019

Things happened even earlier--as early as January 3, 2019. In an interview, Savannah Guthrie asked the New Queen of Mean: "Are you willing to come up and give him some of this money for the wall?" Pelosi, the incoming House leader quickly shot back: "No, no. Nothing for the wall." Pelosi answered. "We're talking about border security." "We can go through the back and forth. No. How many more times can we say no? Nothing for the wall,"

Her word was final and then after she asked and got a three weak reprieve from the shutdown when Trump said OK, almost immediately she said that it would do no good because there would be no money for the wall. She reneged because she is quite comfortable with dishonesty and cowardly cheating.

The press did not even report all the good Trump had offered. For example on just one item. Democrats immediately rejected President Donald Trump's offer of a work-permit amnesty for one million registered migrants in exchange for 230 miles of new border wall.

After watching the President present his reasonable case for border security, Americans—Democrat and Republican alike, wanted to see how the Democrats in Congress would respond to Trump's address. The response was one step down from a horror show. A reasonable conclusion is that Democrat leadership cares nothing about Americans but they do care about the feelings of "migrants". BTW, migrants is the new politically correct clean word for illegal aliens.

The new buddies, Pelosi and Schumer stood together with stiff bug eyed looks like as if something was spooking the two of them. Their response had what has been called all the makings of a Stephen King novel. Side by side for their rebuttal, their sullen, flat, crazy-eyed presentation was instantly mocked by both the left and right.

I ask myself why regular Democrats accepted it? Why did the other Democrats in Congress accept it?. Why? Because they are cowards and they are looking for any reason to not execute on the will of the vast majority of the people of America. You know that.

Some even characterized these two buffoons as the "Grady Twins" from the horror movie, "The Shining". That captured it for sure.

The red walls in the scene made us think of the famous elevator scene in "The Shining." You remember the doors opened and a ghastly wave of red blood gushed into the room.

That is a great metaphor for the Open Borders of our country? The "doors" are open and innocent American blood is being spilled. Meanwhile, neither Schumer nor Pelosi will meet with the Angel Moms whose family blood has already been spilled

In case you may have put this on the back burner, Donald Trump offered the following in his address the other night:

"Some have suggested a barrier is immoral, then why do wealthy politicians build walls, fences, and gates around their homes? They don't build walls because they hate the people on the outside, but because they love the people on the inside. The only thing that is immoral is the politicians do nothing and continue to allow more innocent people to be so horribly victimized. To those who refuse to compromise in the name of border security, I would ask: Imagine if it was your child, your husband, or your wife, whose life was so cruelly shattered and totally broken?"

Trump added: To every Member of Congress:

"Pass a bill that ends this crisis."

Despite Trump's caution to Congress, our cowardly representatives in Congress chose not to support him with the finances necessary to build a barrier the right way for America. Nancy's representatives in the compromise meeting did manage to get Trump 1.37 Billion for the wall but they exacted a big cost from America. For now, under the compromise, there is a de-facto amnesty at the border for anybody reaching America.

Donald Trump asked every citizen to call their cowardly Congress and tell them to finally – after all of these decades – secure our border. He went on that "This is a choice between right and wrong. Justice and injustice. This is about whether we fulfill our sacred duty to the American citizens we serve... "Last month, 20,000 migrant children were illegally brought into the United States – a dramatic increase. These children are used as human pawns by vicious coyotes and ruthless gangs. One in three women are sexually assaulted on the dangerous trek up through Mexico. Women and children are the biggest victims by far of our broken system. This is the tragic reality of illegal immigration on our Southern Border. This is the cycle of human suffering I am determined to end."

Most Democrats, including all but the most socialist representatives in Congress, at least those who think for themselves. understand that the border wall is for the safety of all Americans. They do not believe that it is immoral. But, in the spirit of political correctness, and in the fear of being looked at as a non-joiner, i.e., an independent, their fear of crossing the dictates of the Democrat Party override their instincts to represent the people in a sane fashion.

Donald Trump won Pennsylvania by appealing to Democrats who are sick of being dictated to. Trump thinks it is should be OK to live in America and be white. Democrats in Congress profess a belief that whites are what is wrong with America. And, so, Trump won the election then and he will win again.

Have Democrats gone crazy?

Great American Daily offers a poignant message about the self-serving some, America-loathing, Democrats in Congress and their new self-appointed leader—apparently more powerful than a Pelosi—Alexandria Ocasio Cortez

Cowardly Democrat Leaders in Congress are everywhere and their rhetoric and behavior is not for the good of America. The President's State of the Union speech was another lesson for a big 2020 contrast with the Democrats.

Given those high stakes, with less and less Americans siding with the crazy democrats in Congress, one could believe how the Democrats – led by Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez – acted. She is out of control and even Nancy Pelosi cannot rain her in. The other day, she declared herself the boss. She pulled a stunt at the State of the Union that shows there is no love between she and her country.

Enjoy these words from Trump at the SOTU.

“The agenda I will lay out this evening is not a Republican agenda or Democrat agenda, it is the agenda of the American people. Many of us have campaigned on the same core promises, to defend American jobs and demand fair trade for American workers, to rebuild and revitalize our nation’s infrastructure, to reduce the price of health care and prescription drugs, to create an immigration system that is safe, lawful, modern and secure, and to pursue a foreign policy that puts America’s interests first,” the President began.

It soon became clear that Democrats had no interest in accepting President Trump's olive branch. If it helps America more than the Democrats, they have no interest. Democrats were ignorant to say the least during the speech.

At one point during his speech, President Trump acknowledged First Lady Melania Trump. Ocasio-Cortez – as well as many other Democrats – refused to stand up and applaud the President's wife. In addition, Ocasio-Cortez made a spectacle of herself with her attire and guest.

Ocasio-Cortez, Pelosi and other female Democrats in Congress wore white to pay tribute to the suffragette movement – the early 1900s movement among women to ratify a Constitutional amendment that gave them the right to vote. Why would Democrats disrespect the State of the Union Address to get out their own partisan identity-politics message.

This set of actions sent the message that Democrats want to make gender and identity politics central to the 2020 Presidential campaign. Finally, there was the matter of Ocasio-Cortez's guest.

The freshmen Democrat brought Ana Maria Archila to the speech. Archila was the Soros-funded activist who screamed at Arizona RINO Jeff Flake in a Senate elevator after he had declared he would vote to confirm Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court.

Ocasio-Cortez announced the move on Twitter.

“This @AnaMariaArchil2, the NY-14 hero that will be accompanying me to the State of the Union tomorrow. She wasn't planning on leaping into that elevator ahead of the Kavanaugh vote, but after hearing the stories of survivors across the country, she went in. A defining moment.”

After Archila berated Flake, the Never-Trump traitor announced he would withhold his vote until the FBI completed a one-week supplemental background check to investigate the fake news sexual assault allegations made against Kavanaugh.

Archila appeared on MSNBC after the State of the Union and leaned into the Democrats 100 percent resistance to Trump.

She claimed the Supreme Court was illegitimate because of the Republicans confirming Kavanaugh and not folding to the hoax accusations of sexual assault.

Democrats are not willing to meet Trump half way and work on behalf of the American people.

The next two years is going to be a political blood sport as unhinged, seemingly crazed Democrats use every weapon at their disposal to remove the President of the United States. It is obvious these cowards were not elected to serve the American people.

Democrats will do their best to hurt America

I am not the only one who thinks this. Just last week, on February 19, 2019, Joseph Curl echoed my sentiments in the Washington Examiner when he wrote:

“The left’s hatred for President Trump runs so deep that liberals are hoping for — even actively working toward — the demise of America.

Curl offered a case to make his point.

“Democrats decry Mr. Trump’s use of the presidential power of the executive order (a power, it should be noted, that former President Barack Obama used 13 times) to secure the U.S.-Mexico border, which they hope to bottle up in court.

“To Democrats, the well-being of Americans (who, it should also be noted, pay their exorbitant salaries) is second to the goal of destroying Mr. Trump. Democrats have tied his hands in Congress, and now are set to begin open-ended probes into everything from his taxes to his children. They don’t care about their actions’ impact on the United States.

Trump & Kim; Pelosi, Cortez & Michael Cohen

Think about the scenario in the last week of February 2019. The Democrats orchestrated a dog and pony show to hurt the President while he was working hard for all Americans to get North Korea to disengage from its nuclear ambitions. Pundits on both sides of the aisle think the Democrats move of demeaning Trump while he was conducting important US foreign policy was bush league and it emboldened Kim to hold his ground. Who is it that the Democrats root for if not for America?

Cowardly Democrats do not know how to fight fairly. They do love to hit below the belt . From Hanoi in Vietnam President Trump got sick of the blatant anti-American slant of the press and their partners, the Democrats. He slammed them during a news conference Thursday after the summit for having scheduled the damning testimony of his former attorney Michael Cohen.

Why was a discretionary hearing scheduled at the same time as the US summit with North Korea in Viet Nam. Trump of course accused Cohen of lying as it has been proven. Why could Democrats not have moved this hearing up a week or back a week? Answer these lying cowards wanted to damage Trump's opportunities for success. .

It could have been any time but Dems wanted to embarrass Trump on the world stage and make America seem weak. Trump added:

"I think having a fake hearing like that and having it in the middle of this very important summit is really a terrible thing. They could've made it two days later or next week," Trump said. "But having it during this very important summit is sort of incredible."

Trump awoke in Vietnam on Thursday while US newscasts were still picking through Cohen's anti-Trump testimony. The President did not address the specific allegations Cohen leveled against him, but said his former adviser "lied a lot." Cohen could not even get the things he had put in his own book right. Republicans have preferred new charges against Cohen for the third time for Lying to Congress. Cohen will never learn.

The President's comments were his first on the matter since Cohen sat before the House Oversight Committee, a stunning testimony that Democrats staged to upstage Trump's high-wire diplomacy in Hanoi. Trump was doing the country's business for all Americans while Democrats were leading anti-Trump cheers simply because two years ago Hillary got her butt beat by Trump in the presidential election. Give me a break.

Lies, lies, and more Democrat lies

By the way, just because Ocasio Cortez is the darling of the Democrats today, does not mean she is different than them. She too is a liar and a cheat and a coward and it looks like it has just caught up with her.

She is now accused of laundering funds to mask payments. Yes, the little darling who told us all she won't be having any babies in America, Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-N.Y.) just got hit with a Federal Election Commission complaint. She is accused of funneling thousands from her campaign fund to her boyfriend through a political action committee.

Her economics degree may not be enough to help her on this one even though as the boss, she may have thought it was her right. Perhaps she believed as the boss, she could take the abundance of funds from her campaign and shift some to her boyfriend, who, by the way has not weighed in on her deciding "no babies" –though it clearly may affect him some day.

The details show that the complaint was filed by The Coolidge-Reagan Foundation, and it names Ocasio-Cortez, her congressional campaign, and Brand New Congress as respondents. The group, Brand New Congress was founded by her current chief of staff, Saikat Chakrabarti. It is the firm Ocasio-Cortez hired to run her campaign, and it has an affiliated PAC by the same name. Perhaps she thinks all she has to do is say: "I didn't mean it," and her boyfriends will be able to keep the loot. Not having been in her economics' classes, it is tough to know what she thinks and why.

Make up your minds Chuck & Nancy

The new King and Queen of Mean, aka, the Chuck and Nancy show was in full bloom Thursday after the Kim summit. They publicly applauded Donald Trump unexpectedly for walking out of the summit when the NOKO leader's demands for sanctions relief were not matched with significant concessions on denuclearization.

President Donald Trump received bipartisan praise from the heads of the Party and members of Congress for walking out of his summit with Kim Jong Un when the two could not reach a deal. Trump said it was because of North Korea's refusal to give up its nuclear weapons program.

"President Trump did the right thing by walking away and not cutting a poor deal for the sake of a photo op," Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, a New York Democrat, said on the Senate floor.

Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said it was "smart" for Trump to meet Kim in Singapore and Vietnam to "expose the North Korean delegation to the kind of economic prosperity that could be possible if he were to choose a new path."

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi told reporters, "It's good that the president did not give him anything for the little he was proposing." She added, "diplomacy is important; we all support it," but that she had thought the prospects for an agreement were dim.

Schumer said that "just like the president, I want a deal with North Korea that would bring an end to the conflict and change the course of the region. However, I've always been concerned about the possibility of a bad deal, especially with the other pressures currently on the president."

After all the flurry at the end of the summit, North Korea held a midnight press conference disputing President Donald Trump's account of why the summit between Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un collapsed. Their statement says that the North Koreans demanded only partial sanctions relief in exchange for shutting down its main nuclear complex. We'll never see a debate on this but if I were the President, this would displease me immensely.

I suspect there was some concern by NOKO that they were left with nothing and it was their fault. NOKO is accustomed to lying to every other president from Clinton to Obama but this seems to be the first dispute for NK and Trump. They left with nothing which is an unusual outcome for one used to wrangling what he wanted from Bush and Obama. There really is a new sheriff in town.

Trump, who was on his way back to Washington on Thursday, said before leaving Hanoi that the talks broke down because Kim insisted that all the punishing sanctions the U.S. has imposed on Pyongyang be lifted without the North committing to eliminate its nuclear arsenal. NOKO did not concur.

Predictably, the "drive-by" media as Rush Limbaugh calls them, were first happy that Trump did not give away America and then later they averred that the president was lying. Why the change? Well because they chose to side with the dictator of North Korea instead of the United States. His staff had conducted a press conference at Midnight and said Trump got it wrong.

Who do you think the cowardly Democrats and their supporters in the Press now believe? Well they believe the man and the country that never broke a deal with other US presidents. The US media has decided to back Kim Jung Un instead of the United States. Should we have expected anything better from these bums?

Democrats are coming to get your guns

This is too juicy not to tell you about early in this book. Have you ever heard Democrats bragging about taking your guns because it is the right thing to do. They are openly doing so today. Get ready for a big fight

Way back In November 2018, for example the cowardly Democrat leaders told the Wall Street Journal that they will pass the most aggressive gun-control legislation in decades when they become the House majority in January. They renewed those plans in the aftermath of a mass killing in a California bar.

They now have an incoming class of pro-gun-control lawmakers who scored big in the midterm elections. Although any measure would likely meet stiff resistance in the GOP-controlled Senate, the Dems believe they have it made. It is time to wake up folks. The cowardly Democrats lied so you would elect them. Now they are about ready to figure out ways for you to be arrested just for owning guns. But, of course like in the picture above, you will be able to turn them in and not be prosecuted. They can't do this of course unless they know you have guns. That is why they are so anxious to register all guns in America. Step two I to send out the law to collect them and destroy them. Think I am kidding? If so, start doing your own thinking and check out the non-censored news on the Web.

Watch the legislation coming from the Democrat lawmakers. Republicans are weak when Democrats are strong so don't think it cannot happen. Remember: It is dangerous to your health to elect cowardly Democrats. They will take away your rights and blame somebody else so that the next time, you will again vote for them..

Your rights are being taken away, and the media is silent on it.

Democrats want total control over their citizens. Freedom is their enemy. By now, I suspect you know that.

Cuomo the Gun Grabber

Sanctuary Governor Mario Cuomo just stole a top constitutional right from citizens overnight. Cuomo is coming for your guns before Pelosi even gets into act. It's time to hasten that move out of New York

The sonsof1776 are calling this matter to everybody's attention in an article by Adam Casalino on March 1, 2019.

In order to get their way, they chip away at your rights. Little by little, we all lose our freedoms. Then, one day we have none left.

In New York, Governor Andrew Cuomo just made it legal for your own family to take away your Second Amendment rights.

From Breitbart:

Gov. Andrew Cuomo (D) signed gun confiscation into law for New York on Monday...

Buffalo News reports that the law allows that "family members, school administrators and law enforcement officials can seek to get guns confiscated from people deemed by courts to be an ‘extreme risk’ to themselves or others.”

So Sanctuary New York Governor Andrew Cuomo thinks he can take away guns from anyone the courts deem dangerous.

I’m sure I don’t have to tell you gun control laws don’t prevent shootings or crime.

Every state with strict gun control has the worst gun violence. It’s because law-abiding citizens are defenseless against criminals.

Criminals, by the way, don’t follow gun laws.

That’s exactly how it played out in Sanctuary California:

California has a similar confiscation law and it did not prevent the November 7, 2018, Borderline Bar & Grill shooting. Illinois has a red flag / firearm confiscation law, too, and it did not prevent the February 15, 2019, shooting at the Henry Pratt Company.

Cowardly Democrat attempts to suggest otherwise is because facts do not matter to Democrats, especially when it hurts their ultimate agenda.

This new law signed by Cuomo isn’t about stopping the rampant crime in New York. It’s about scaring Americans into agreeing that taking guns away from their family or friends is a sane thing to do.

It is another attack on one of our most fundamental rights given by the founders. This law makes someone guilty before they do anything wrong.

It presumes a person is a criminal, just for owning a gun. It does nothing to stop actual criminals from acquiring weapons, nor will it protect citizens, should they be attacked.

But it was never about protecting Americans, was it?

Cuomo is okay with a New York overrun with crime. He wants to manipulate scared and defenseless citizens. When they are brave, he knows they see his real stripes.

Chapter 3 Sample Letters from Democrats

Rank & file Dems complain

The rank and file Democrats who know how to think, know that their leaders are wrong again and in the quiet of the voting booth, they will kick out the members of their own Party who are hurting America.

I recently got a dose of how rank and file Democrats feel about all things Democrat and the tyrant Pelosi just today in the reader's column of the Wilkes-Barre PA Citizens Voice.

A lady named Carolyn Jones from Forty Fort, a small berg about three miles from Wilkes-Barre, the big city in the area. She wrote a nice piece, which was covered in the Your Opinion section. She titled her opinion "Trump Is doing a fantastic job"

When you read this, you will see that not every Democrat thinks Nancy Pelosi now gets to deliver the Sunday Gospels. Pelosi may bark but Democrats, even though they may fear her nasty bite, are no longer listening. Thank you Carolyn for your most welcomed perspective: Here is what she offered:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR / PUBLISHED: FEBRUARY 20, 2019

Editor: I come from generations of Democrats. When you come from a family who constantly voted Democrat, you just follow suit. I voted for Hillary without question. When she lost and I witnessed what these Democrat losers were capable of, I will never, ever vote Democrat again. I am ashamed for them. They are unscrupulous, evil and have tried every tactic to have President Trump impeached.

With the money they have spent trying to get dirt on him, they could have built two walls. Pelosi and her comrades know we need a wall, but her stubbornness and dislike of Trump is why she won't agree. They are acting like spoiled children.

I wish the state of California would become its own country. Then all these Trump haters can move there, have open borders and welcome everyone into their home, feed them, clothe them, educate them. They can create their liberal, stupid laws that make no sense and leave this country in peace.

Trump is doing a fantastic job. He doesn't talk around his supporters and overwhelming citizen support. He says it like it is and we understand where he is coming from.

These extreme liberal Democrats are trouble. They are taking away hundreds of years of history, taking away the Confederate flag, and their monuments. Thousands of these southerners died fighting for their land, their beliefs and their rights.

Then all of a sudden comes this disrespect for our flag that thousands of men and women died for and are still dying for.

Where are these people coming from? It sickens me.

They should be arrested and removed from this country.

God help us if we ever get one of these liberal Democrats as president. This country is doomed.

Letter to the Editor Aug 13, 2017

Leave Trump alone; let him do his job

To The Daily:

I have lived through 13 presidents, and Donald Trump is the first president who has been scrutinized over every word, subjected to humiliation, slander, ridicule, insults and lies.

The Trump children have been insulted, threatened and humiliated.

The media and the Trump haters are doing everything in their power to defeat this president and his agenda for our country. Past presidents have been treated with some degree of respect. Those of us who were not pleased with President Barack Obama did not try to destroy him because, like him or not, he was our president.

The Trump cartoons appearing regularly in The Decatur Daily are disgusting. I have yet to figure out their purpose. If they are supposed to be humorous ... they failed. If they are supposed to make us feel better about our country ... they failed. If they are supposed to incite anger and hatred ... what good thing could possibly come out of it?

Enough is enough! Leave the man alone and let him do his job because while you are blasting him, North Korea is planning to blast us.

Trump's No. 1 job is protecting Americans.

I hope President Trump gets the money for the wall on our southern border.

His No. 1 job is protecting we Americans. Whatever security we have there now isn't working. It's very obvious that Democrats don't care about securing that border. The wall works in Israel.

I'd rather pay for a wall than give illegal immigrants our benefits. That costs the taxpayers way more than what Trump wants for the wall.

But with the new Democratic majority in the House coming in, I know that whatever Trump wants for the good of our country, they will fight him at every turn.

Congress is full of nothing but big fat cat cowards. They care only about their esteemed donors in the swamp and they are all liars. Why? Because they have to make up big whoppers to convince their constituents into believing they care about all the little guys in the country. But, in fact, they do not care. They are not even consistent in what they say they believe.

They think the people are not noticing; but we have noticed and we hope we can fire them all—and the sooner the better. They are disgusting.

Chapter 4 Was the Wall Built in 2006?

... Remember?

You may recall that the Wall was built in 2006 so what Trump is requesting must just be repairs. Just kidding folks! Our cowardly, “lying Congress” was just kidding back then—in 2006 when they duped us about legislation authorizing them to build a wall. It was way back on Oct. 26, 2006 to be exact. The cowards lied.

In 2006, President George W. Bush signed the Secure Fence Act of 2006 saying:

“This bill will help protect the American people. This bill will make our borders more secure. It is an important step toward immigration reform.” Back then, we called the wall a fence; but everybody knew what it was, and we still do.

So, here we are now in the first quarter of 2019 and Democrats in Congress think they run everything. They have blocked funding for a fence or wall—your choice. They argue now that the barrier is too costly and a step away from (not towards) their stated goal of “comprehensive immigration reform.” See gang of 8 information on the web for more.

Since the gang of 8 debacle in 2013 when the since deceased John McCain and company tried to ram amnesty down our throats under the guise of Comprehensive Immigration Reform, Americans have learned a lot. We have learned for example, that these words all together make up the left’s code-phrase for proposed legislation that typically includes de facto amnesty.

The amnesty was intended to affect sixty million illegal aliens (aka migrants / undocumented). They would be free to collect welfare and medical benefits in quantities greater than allowed for Americans. Yes, there are sixty million or more already in the United States. Nobody can prove me wrong on that number.

The bill was introduced into the House of Representatives as (H.R. 6061) on Sep. 13, 2006. Rep. Peter King, R-N.Y brought it to the floor. It received overwhelming support from a cowardly Congress that were caught by surprise and could not show the people their true colors.

It passed overwhelmingly in the House by a vote of 283-138 on Sept. 14, 2006, and it was “so popular” that it passed in the US Senate by 80-19 on Sept. 29, 2006. Though they were lying and never intended to build any part of any wall, Congress got many accolades for their work, it was just a ruse as the people shortly learned. But, the “honorable” took many bows even though their intentions never matched their actions.

The Secure Fence Act of 2006 called for building some 700 miles of double-fence construction along the Mexican border. It would be completed with vehicle barriers, checkpoints and lighting. It would be a phenomenon for a first attempt at a real barrier between North and South America.

Congress approved $1.2 billion in a separate homeland security spending bill to build what was referred to as a border fence. If the people’s representatives (Congress) were watching for the people, what happened to this bill could not have happened. It was a ruse, plain and simple.

Bushes were luke warm at best on border security

The Bush family, every one of them, were never for a wall or for restricting immigration in any way. They talked a big game but they never put up even though they never shut up. They lied. Yes, they lied about it from the get-go.

The people wanted immigration control but the Bushes were luke warm. They did not want to deal with it. In 2006, as George W. Bush was pushing the Security and Prosperity Partnership with Mexico, those looking for and pushing for secure borders had reason to believe the Secure Fence was the real deal. Why would they not? Back then, the people did not expect the cowardly Congress to be made up of mostly greedy self-absorbed liars.

The Act was apparently intended to go a long way toward solving the problem of unchecked illegal immigration from Mexico. But, our cowardly Congress had no real intention of giving the people anything for all the hype and glad-handing.

The cowardly Congress knows how to lie in many tricky ways, especially when the President's heart (Obama) was not in the legislation. Of course, the people were never told Congress was only kidding about the wall. These rogues love to be reelected and that is where their allegiance to America ends.

We should have this wall built by now at least. Don't you think.? If we had an honest Congress we would have. World Net Daily reported in 2007 that then Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchinson, R-Texas, known now as a big swamp dweller, submitted an amendment to the Department of Homeland Security's 2008 budget that would effectively gut the Secure Fence Act. Yes, I said "GUT!"

She was really trying a pirouette, but she looked like a flim-flam artist. In just one stroke, she managed to take the whole Congress, none of whom wanted any wall to begin with, off the hook. They did not have to lie to their constituents. She took them all off the hook with the folks back home. Hutchinson took the hit.

The people were run over by a big train engineered by Kay Bailey Hutchinson. The “Lady” played the scoundrel and she lied for all of Congress and for the Bushes. They never wanted the wall but they all wanted the good will of the people for reelection purposes. They loved to lie but did not want to get caught in their lies.

So, Kay Bailey’s little white lie would theoretically (was intended to) go unnoticed while all these great statesmen (cowards) in Congress were spared from facing the people. The people were kept in the dark and Congress again pulled a cowardly snooker over the people with media complicity.

Some ask, with 435 Congressmen and 100 Senators, how could she have gotten away with that? Well first of all, Congress never wanted the wall and Bush did not want it either. The cowards were pretending like a soap opera for the people’s consumption. It was a prevarication from the beginning. Congresspersons never even meet their constituents in a super market or drug store or gas station, and if they ever do, there is no discussion about anything. Congress waves their hands and they smile but they never act any more on behalf of the people they represent. When did you in your neighborhood ever talk to one of these cowards?

Ask yourself: “Does any US Senator live in your neighborhood?”

OK, there are 100 votes against the wall to start. Now ask if any members of Congress live in your neighborhood? That gives us the other 435 votes against the people. You never see the cowardly Congress because somehow it manages to eat and sleep in different parts of the country than you do. Get it?

The Hutchison amendment (aks, the big Kay Bailey Con Job) read, in part, “nothing in this paragraph shall require the Secretary of Homeland Security to install fencing, physical barriers, roads, lighting, cameras, and sensors in a particular location along an international border of the United States, if the Secretary determines that the use or placement of such resources is not the most appropriate means to achieve and maintain operational control over the international border at such location.”

One might rationally ask: Are Kay Bailey Hutchinson and Nancy Pelosi the same person? Seems so!

You can read more at <https://www.wnd.com/2016/11/1-main-reason-u-s-border-wall-hasnt-been-built/#WYrhjtsUf1kjp8vQ.99>.

In essence, by slipping the amendment into the 2008 DHS funding bill, Hutchinson gave DHS total discretion to build a fence or to not build a fence in any particular location.

Slimeball Republican RINO Hutchinson knew that if then-Secretary of Homeland Security Michael Chertoff had discretion on whether or not to build the fence, the Bush administration could always insist that negotiations at the local level along the border, including with Mexico, had resulted in solutions to border security – including cameras, drones, sensors and other technological surveillance measures – that would make the barrier unnecessary.

That sentence is so unreadable, it must be the exact words used.

In other words, it gave the Bushes the power of BS and nobody knew the better. Worse than that, they did know better but decided to stiff the people. The Bushes were trained liars but believed their white lies would be forgiven by some Texan someplace...dead or alive!

The people are noticing that the Democrats are using the same excuses today. The truth is that again, nobody in Congress wants the wall. They are all lying to the people until it quiets down and they can get it all quashed.

Only the President and the people want the wall to be built. Republicans pretend better than Democrats but they are pleased to have advised the President to take the February 2019 raw Democrat deal and look like wimps. It's politics and Americans are not ever considered when politics is the only game in town. Get rid of bad Republicans in the 2020 primary...please.

On Nov. 6, 2007, a DHS fact sheet documented that only 76 miles of a "pedestrian fence" had been built along the Mexican border, making it clear no double-layer barrier had been built. I know after rooting for the wall, I figured there were just some kinks and they would begin the building any day now. I was wrong.

That's how bad our cowardly Congress is when being forced to face the people on their real intentions. They do not work for us, I am afraid. The Founders are already regurgitating really old dirt at the acts of these cowards..

Can the border fence notion be reconstituted?

Maybe Congress and Kay Bailey were only kidding about the two year halt? Maybe? But it is unlikely. Few in Congress cared for the people but the few are prominently recognized below:

On Jan. 25, 2008, then-Rep. Duncan Hunter, R-Calif., the author of the double-layer fence provisions of the Secure Fence Act of 2008, complained that only five miles of the 75-mile "pedestrian fence" then built was actually double-layer, as specified in the original legislation. Hunter was either snookered or he went along with the duping of the American people by a cowardly Congress. I think they gathered him in and kept information from him. He was a lone voice in a desert of deceit.

In 2014, Hunter's son, Rep. Duncan Hunter, R-Calif., posted on his website an editorial he had published in a San Diego newspaper arguing that the fence specified by his father in the 2006 legislation still needed to be built. He was right but like too many politicians tell the people:— so what???

"One of San Diego's greatest assets is the double-layered border fence that extends inland from the Pacific Ocean," Hunter wrote. "Fencing and infrastructure alone are by no means enough to stop illegal crossings, but the presence of physical impediments at the border, when supported by manpower and technology, create barriers that make entry increasingly more difficult and sometimes impossible.”

The objective is to keep illegals out along with the bad guys. Right???

Hunter charged that the Obama administration was lying in claiming that border infrastructure needs had been met, arguing that less than 40 miles of double-layered fence had been built along the Mexican border in the eight years that had gone by since the Secure Fence Act had been passed.

George W. Bush had duped Americans and got what he wanted for his family, and Obama swore that the job was done. Two crafty liars won the day and the people lost.

“Either the mandates of the Secure Fence Act should be reinstated, which I have proposed, or the Obama administration should utilize existing authority to finish the job that the Bush Administration halfheartedly started,” Hunter insisted. “Either way, this is one initiative that, after almost 10 years since the Secure Fence Act was enacted, needs to be completed – the way it was intended.”

Donald Trump does not lie. All accusations of him being a liar are wrong. All the liars are cowards and Trump is the bravest President in modern times. Liars and cowards in Congress are happy to call Trump a racist and a liar but it is Congress, not the President that stinks the house out with their egregious lies and their anti-white rhetoric against the American people.

Feel free to read more at <https://www.wnd.com/2016/11/1-main-reason-u-s-border-wall-hasnt-been-built/#WYrhjtsUf1kjp8vQ.99>

Not ready to say “never,” on Jan. 23, 2008, a determined senior Rep. Duncan Hunter reintroduced into the 110th Congress a bill (H.R. 5124) titled Reinstatement of the Secure Fence Act of 2008 that again called for the building of a two-layered 14-foot tall, reinforced fence along the U.S. border with Mexico, only to see the bill die in committee.

Yes, Virginia, the Congress was brave enough to sign their names to the rejection post facto but while the heat was on and they could have built the wall, they lied, lied, and then lied again. Fear of not getting elected is always their major fear. Cowards they are for sure, but there is one thing that Congress fears the most and that is that the people learn the truth of who they really are.

Congress is made up of more cowardly liars than constituents would believe. That's why they get reelected. That must end. now We should send them all home if it is possible. Notice how quiet Republicans are now on the wall issue so the people who elect them do not notice their names.

Back then, Sen. Jim DeMint, R-S.C., wrote in Human Events Online on May 27, 2010, that only 34.3 miles of double-layer fence had been completed along the southern border, with only 2.3 miles of that total being built in the first year of the Obama administration.

At that time, DeMint, one of the few good guys in Congress while he was in the Senate (he's now gone) was preparing to reintroduce an amendment to the DHS spending bill that he first introduced in July 2009. Its objective was to force President Obama to finish the 700-mile double-layer border fence by the end of 2010, as specified by the original 2006 legislation. Obama had no motivation to do that and so he did not.

In 2009 and again in 2010, our trusty and cowardly and liarly Democrats, as expected, stabbed the people in the back again. In the legislative mark-up conference after the DHS funding bill had been passed by both houses, they stripped DeMint's amendment from the DHS budget in their best cowardly vestments, behind the finest closed doors.

This was after the Obama administration opposed what was termed "rapid expansion of the fence." Meanwhile many of the people who thought Congress was elected from a batch of honest citizens, thought that the Congress had already built the fence. Not being informed by an honest Fourth Estate, the people had not been informed that we were duped.

DeMint stressed that a pair of reports the Government Accounting Office prepared in 2009 and early 2010 “proved virtual fencing was proven to be a virtual disaster.” By the way, Pelosi is again pushing virtual fences, which is her code word for no fences. . A virtual fence by the way is like virtually having no fence at all but it is an argument that cowardly congressional prevaricators often use to dupe their constituents. Shame on our lying cowardly Congress for not telling the truth regularly.

Trump should not have to be arm wrestling Pelosi today for a wall that was supposed to have been built thirteen years ago. But our Congress was only kidding about building it; and they figured dumb Americans would never notice. It’s time for Americans to object to being treated as the dumasses we too often appear to be.

The virtual fence idea was as good as watching Lone Ranger episodes alone in the den with a bottle of Rye Whiskey next to you. The Government Accounting Office discovered Border Patrol agents, when using virtual tools, were relying on cameras that suffered signal loss and that the number of new defects identified with the virtual fence outpaced the number that were being fixed,”

DeMint wrote. “U.S. Customs and Border Patrol Chief Alan Bersin dashed any hopes left for the virtual fence when he called it a ‘complete failure’ during a Senate hearing last month.” I wonder if Bersin knew he was supposed to lie so Congress could look good.

DeMint was frustrated with both efforts to finish the fence [wall]. His peers were liars. He called them out but how long should the people have to check and recheck to make sure when Congress passes legislations that they actually allow it to take place without secretly calling it off?

Demint: “We’ve now had two administrations fail to keep their promise to the American people to secure our border and Americans are tired of excuses,” DeMint said this when launching his doomed second attempt. “ Americans have demanded a real fence to combat the very real problems of illegal immigration that have led to human trafficking, drug trafficking, kidnapping and violence on our border. Congress will never be able to achieve long-term reform to create a legal immigration system that works until we secure our borders.”

Earth to Jim Dement: “Jim, I know you know you were duped by the sanctimonious lying, cowardly lying of your ne’r do well peers in Congress. I know you know that when our cowardly Congress thinks it can lie instead of fulfill its promises to the people, the weasels in Congress often take the dark road.

By the way Jim, did any of these weasels in Congress ever ask you to not tell their constituents so they could keep getting elected – the only real game for them in every town in the USA.

Thank you Jim Dement for your efforts on behalf of the people. Too bad the full Congress was not more like you as they did their work in Congress. I regret that you left the Senate; but I understand why? You were forced to work with a bunch of low life cowards in the Swamp in Washington DC. That could not be pleasant.

Since Cowards die many times before their deaths, shouldn’t members of this Congress all be in their graves by now?

Since Cowards die a thousand times before their death, Lord, please bring US a rapid decomposition to clean out the many undead from the Capitol. The scent of a rotting, rotten Congress is overwhelming in Washington. Ask your member of Congress to look in the mirror every day to see how undead they really are.

From William Shakespeare, Julius Caesar r

“A coward dies a thousand times before his death, but the valiant taste of death but once. It seems to me most strange that men should fear, seeing that death, a necessary end, will come when it will come.”

Can we get a plaque made with this saying inscribed to be placed in the Washington Capitol in the House chambers as well as the Senate?

Quickly, please! In the meantime, how about we Americans give these knaves their walking papers. They are not worth our time.

As I think of the poor job of representation the Congress of today does for the people, I am reminded of a night gallery-like show about a man who did not believe he had died. Technically, he was undead like many in Congress are today.

I can't find it on the Internet, but I remember it like it was yesterday.

Here is an encapsulation:

The father of the house died during the night but there was nobody to come and carry him away and so he remained in his room. First thing in the morning his daughter was making breakfast and surprisingly, he walked down the steps came to the table, and took his usual chair. He looked fine.

The daughter was amazed as he had clearly died. She called the doctor and brought her dad his breakfast, which he ate with no issues. The doctor came and checked his vitals and noticed that he had no heartbeat.

There was nothing the doctor could do to make him right again and have his heart beat like he was alive so he spoke with the father and told him that he was dead and that he should go upstairs and lie in his bed and see what happened. The man did not believe the doctor and he refused to go up and die.

The doctor called a priest and the priest came over the house. The father went outside on the rocker and he looked almost fine but his face was beginning to darken somewhat, especially around the eyes. The priest arrived and he was briefed by the doctor and finally he addressed the father. He looked him over and was amazed the man was still functioning. The man joked with the priest that they thought he was dead, and he was glad the priest was there so he could prove that he was not dead.

While talking to the priest, flies and bugs of all kinds began to pester the father as he was beginning to have a smell to him. The priest knew his heart was not beating and that the doctor pronounced him dead so the priest reluctantly told him that he was dead and that he should go peacefully to the afterlife. The man would not believe the priest and insisted he was fine. The priest and the doctor left. The priest told him he should go up and go to bed and let the Lord do his thing and it would be OK.

When it was bed time, the father went to his room and when breakfast was on the stove the next day and the next and the next he came down and ate and stayed downstairs all day and then went to his room. It became his ritual while he was “undead.”

Nothing changed in his new routine from day to day, but he was beginning to look really bad and his nose seemed to be separating a bit from his face. When he went to bed on a particular night, the daughter was checking all the books they had and talking on the phone with friends and she got the idea that if she could actually convince her father that he was really dead, he would give up and go upstairs, get in bed and go to his eternal reward or punishment, whichever.

She finally found something that she believed would work as her father’s skin appeared more and more to be hanging on by a thread. She wondered how to do what she wanted, which she almost knew would convince him he was dead. He could not discover the plot or she was afraid he would foil it.

And, so the next morning, he came down for breakfast and ate about the usual amount. He had begun to look almost like a decomposing corpse. At the evening meal, she set up the table nicely as usual and she put a shaker of pepper without the shaker inside her father’s napkin. The father sat and liked the looks of the meal. They said grace as usual and he picked up his napkin and got a big whiff as he put the napkin to his face. The father let out a big sneeze.

He felt something funny. It was obvious that something had happened. There was silence at the table as nobody really knew whether the plot had worked or if it was going to work. The camera no longer showed his face. Without a word, the father simply put the napkin down and got up and went to bed and fell asleep. Soon he was really dead, and he never came back again.

They showed the father going upstairs like as if this was it. The camera then showed the napkin. In the napkin where he had sneezed was his nose. He had blown off his flimsily attached nose with the strong sneeze. His daughter by her action had convinced him that he was dead. When he saw his own detached nose in the napkin, he finally believed that he was dead. When he went up the steps this time, his family all knew that it was the last time. They had convinced him that he was dead. The show showed the credits and all viewers were left with something in the pits of our stomachs.

Our undead Congress is just as stubborn in their greed as this man was to stay "alive." Our cowardly Congress believes that they can go on ignoring the people's business, cheating and lying and engaging in other cowardly acts, not supporting their constituencies with no concerns for their souls or what is right.

Yet, eventually, if they do not begin to serve God and their constituents, they will do something that may be the oral equivalent of blowing their noses off and their cowardly selves will be gone from Congress and perhaps from this world. When people learn of cowardly congressional misdeeds, the people will be rooting for such members to be gone.

That's my story and I am sticking to it.

In case I got you upset with how the story ended, let me share with you a tale I heard just yesterday to lighten up your day. It has a death theme also but the humor is overpowering in this story. Here goes:

A man and woman were married for many years. Whenever there was a confrontation during their marriage, yelling could be heard deep into the night. The old man would shout, "When I die, I will dig my way up and out of the grave and come back and haunt you for the rest of your life!"

Neighbors feared him. The old man liked the fact that he was feared. Then one evening, he died when he was 98. After the burial, her neighbors, concerned for her safety, asked, "Aren't you afraid that he may INDEED be able to dig his way out of the grave, and haunt you for the rest of your life?"

***

*(HERE IT COMES!!!)*

The wife said, Let him dig. I had him buried upside down...and I know he won't ask for directions."*

Ladies and Gentlemen, that may or may not have anything to do with our cowardly Congress. If you find a connection, it's OK! They are so bad we ought to be able to blame everything bad on them.

In 2012, the Republican Party's platform again raised the issue. They declared "The double-layered fencing on the border that was enacted by Congress in 2006, but never completed, must finally be built."

Congress has such little trust the real question on this is "do any of us really believe we can trust Congress to do anything for the people? Not me!"

The funding of Trump's wall in 2019 has the same issues—a recalcitrant, cowardly, lying Congress that nobody trusts to do the people's work.

Realizing the legislation already exists in the form of the Secure Fence Act of 2006, opponents have focused on the costs to build Trump's wall, which some estimate may have escalated from the $1.2 billion total projected in 2006 to more than $4 billion today.

Trump, repeatedly asserted during the 2016 campaign that Mexico would pay for the wall, noting the cost would be "a tiny fraction of the money" the U.S. loses to Mexico in trade deficits, currently estimated at $58 billion in 2015. Trump got Mexico and Canada to get it right in 2018, but Democrats do not care where the money comes from. They want no wall even if all of America want it—and we do.

Too bad Democrats and RINO Republicans in Congress hate America first.

Chapter 5 The People Will Pay for the Wall

Chuck Schumer and Nancy Pelosi; Modern Democrat Ogres.

Kevin McCullough on Dec 23, 2018 picked up on the cowardly theme in this book in a piece he titled, Why we know that Congressional Democrats are betraying us on the border wall. This chapter contains some excerpts and comments on his perspective and others on this major issue.

“The amount of grandstanding “on principle” in the Swamp Capital of America, has made many feel that no one in Washington DC will ever listen to the people ever again. However for the past five days—outside of DC—another story began to be told.

“For the past five days, more than a quarter of a million American citizens have been more successful in gaining consensus than sixty elected U.S. Senators.

“Here are the details.

“At the Senate’s inability to find the votes necessary to pass the initial 5 billion to fund a permanent border barrier, a triple amputee, decided to lead in a different direction. Brian Kolfage, the most seriously wounded Special Forces Airman to ever survive combat,” figured out how to build the wall.

Kolfage has become a successful Architect. He is a brave man. On September 11, 2004, during his second deployment in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, he lost both legs and an arm after a rocket attack. The 107mm rocket shell exploded about three feet from Airman Kolfage, who was thrown several feet in the air and landed against a wall of sandbags. Still conscious, he began calling for help.

It was thirty-six hours after being struck by the blast of that mortar, before he was airlifted to Walter Reed Medical Center, where his new life would immediately begin. Nobody had ever been able to walk independently after his level of amputation but this did not discourage the always hopeful Kolfage.

And, so with the same level of grit and determination in which he served, Brian walked out of Walter Reed 11 months after being injured. To this day, he is still the most severely wounded Airman to survive any war.

Brian Kolfage wants the border wall and just a few weeks ago, he started the Go Fund Me page with the name “We the People Will Fund The Wall.” In just five days, he got 259,000 likes with about 258,000 making a contribution. So much for trusting a cowardly Congress.

Kolfage said on his campaign page that he “was tired of watching the U.S. government’s inability to secure our southern border, according to CNN. Kolfage challenged Americans, to act on what they believe. He quickly raised about $16,000,000.00! Before his effort was shut down, it had raised over $20,000,000

There is also what we can call a swarmy response page titled: “Ladders To Get Over Trump’s Wall.” This has been formed by those supporting illegal immigration. It is funding for the invaders who want to sneak into America to plunder American assets while being on the welfare dole. Their response there has not been quite as stunning. It is actually kind of sick when you think about it. Perhaps our Congress is donating to this page.

It has barely 5000 people participating and a whopping total of $125,000 raised. Which averages out close to $30 per donor.

Kolfage told the New York Times that donating to the government would have required Congress' approval, and he said a Democratic-controlled Congress would not give it to him. Thank you again, you misguided cowardly Democrats in Congress.

In its place, Kolfage formed a Florida nonprofit organization called "We Build the Wall, Inc." that will use donations to fund a private effort to build portions of the wall where private landowners permit construction.. <https://webuildthewall.us/>

Please donate to this cause if you are so moved. We Americans can do what our lousy, cowardly representatives will not do for us.

We all know that President Trump demanded Congress produce $5.7 billion to further the current wall efforts. Voters believe that this fixed cost is reasonable given that we spent $285 billion last year attempting to enforce border security without a wall. Americans overwhelmingly believe a southern barrier to our border needs must be established.

While the cowards in the elected bodies of Congress seemed grossly ham-handed in attempting to fund the wall, by voting with green tickets (Fives and Tens, Twenties and Fifties), with the help of all Americans including, the free market, the internet, and one of our finest warriors, Brian Kolfage, we can together accomplish what the people expect.

Having raised $16million in five days, with almost no exposure, imagine what the response would be if they garnered the press coverage that this issue deserves! That's why this site is highlighted in this book.

Imagine our base going to the ballot box and canceling the paychecks which this yellow-bellied Congress still draws even after they voted to shut down the government and stiff the people.

Sometimes things aren't nearly as complicated as we imagine them to be. Some days it just takes the example of someone who understands sacrifice—like a triple amputee—to help us see it right God bless Brian Kofage and Donald Trump for helping we Americans in our goal to make America great and safe again.

Though I hammer Democrats harder in this book than Republicans because they are off the wall in their hatred for the nation's president and we the people who support him, Republicans are cowards too and they need to come around or be ejected.

These elite cowards would not dare to upset powerful donors even to support the people. But the bottom line on cowards, and the major reason for this book is that Congressional Democrats are the biggest cowards. Nancy Pelosi bullies them all the time and they know better than to cross her and they don't. They'd rather stiff their constituents than the "New Queen of Mean from California.

We all know the numskulls, who they have running for the presidency with their belief in Reparations, the elimination of cows and meat in our diets and airplanes and cars, gasoline, fossil fuels, and so many things that make life easier to live. Plus they want to impinge on our safety by permitting open borders, letting criminals, drug traffickers, human traffickers etc. into our country and then giving them a comfort zone in which to roost before they get their total amnesty. No Amnesty! No Way!

Yes, I wrote the book on Amnesty! Check it out.

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/098414188X>. Democrats in Congress are so fearful of violating the party's new orthodoxy on border security for example, they are abandoning sensible practices en-masse as if they are being driven by the fluted melodies of Pied Piper Pelosi. As we have discussed, Democrats still serving in Congress are hypocrites besides being big scaredy cats, as they already had voted for border fences in 1996, 2006, 2007, and 2013.

Scaredy Cat Republicans

As we learned, this last attempt was a vote for a Senate bill (on which House Republicans failed to act) that had $7.5 billion to “deploy, repair, or replace fencing” on our Southern border. But Nancy said no so the cowards all caved.

To read more about this go to

https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2019/02/border\_cowards.html#ixzz5g29LeiHP

Reviewing this again, we know that Democrats in the Senate at the time in 2013, voted for this bill, as did 14 Republicans. But today, with the mere mention of the word “wall,” Democrats develop a nervous twitch, denying that they had supported such logical practices in the past.

In this new environment, when dealing with hypocrites and liars who are cowards to boot, it is hard to have a rational discussion about border security, or much of anything.

For a one-time more reasonable view from a Democrat, look no further than the Obama Administration. You may immediately reject the idea of linking Obama to border security, but this example illuminates the craven cowardice of current congressional Democrats. Even Obama showed sense at times.

In one of the last budgets submitted to Congress by the Obama Administration, funding for fences was justified because the barriers were designed to work.

“In support of other USBP [U.S. Border Patrol] mission elements, the pedestrian and vehicle fences provide persistent impede free border access by illegals. The barriers slow, delay, and act as a USBP force multiplier. If the required fences are not properly constructed or replaced, access points become available for illegal cross-border activity. The gaps in the fence, particularly in urban locations, will in turn lead to an increase in crime and threats to national security and agent safety.” (This brief report is from Dept. of Homeland Security, Border Security Fencing, infrastructure, and Technology, FY 2016, page 21)

But ladies and gentlemen, that was then, this is now. We know that Twenty-seven percent of Californians, almost 11 million, "were born in a foreign land." And none of them vote Republican. That explains a lot.

Congressman Pete Aguilar (D-CA) from a state which soon will have more non US-born citizens than native born, throws us this smokescreen: "We've seen that walls can and will be tunneled under, cut through or scaled. We can't focus on archaic solutions in order to address this very modern problem. Technology works for securing the border." (Washington Post, 1/31/19)

Thanks Pete, no kidding. Do you know that no tunneling is even required when there is no wall?

Pete calls Obama's solution archaic. How about that? "Archaic solutions?" President Obama did you know you've become archaic?

Looking back again at the Obama administration. The former President was confronted with the problem described by Rep. Aguilar. Obama did not sit by and take it like today's cowardly Democrats. He was more of a man than what we see today. The Obama administration sought funds to "remove and replace" a section of existing pedestrian fence that had failed.

As described in the administration's budget request: "This section of fence has been successfully exploited by Transnational Criminal Organizations (TCOs) due to ease of concealment (the fence is within a populated area) and due to the inadequate design of the fence (the fence lacks adequate height, foundation, and strength). The funding requested was designed to address these vulnerabilities."

(Dept. of Homeland Security, Border Security Fencing, infrastructure, and Technology, FY 2016, p. 42)

So Obama when it was politically expedient believed that fences are useful. We will all admit that when barriers are poorly designed or poorly constructed, they need to be fixed and redesigned. That was easy. Wow. The Trump wall design by a Master Builder is impregnable.

Obama administration border security budget requests talked about using both tactical infrastructure (“roads, fencing, gates, bridges, crossovers, lighting, electrical components, drainage structures, vegetation removal, debris removal, towers”) as well as technology.

Democrats failed to discuss the fact that fences have already been built, even though privately, they acknowledged it is true. There is about 654 miles of fencing. But there is only 354 miles of pedestrian fencing designed to stop humans. The rest of the barriers were built to stop vehicle traffic but, through which illegal immigrants can walk quite easily.

Thus there is not a wall from sea to shining sea and nobody has been asking for one. There are critical spots and those are the ones for which Democrats have denied funding.

In fact, the 1,954-mile border with Mexico is barely covered. That’s why people from south of the border simply pick their spot and come on down. Americans know it must stop and so do Democrats but they are afraid of Nancy Pelosi who won’t bet a dollar on America or Americans.

The people who know best—those who work the border—have an opinion opposite Nancy Pelosi. In a survey of border patrol agents, 89% agreed that a wall system in strategic locations is necessary to securing the border.”

We know that this time Trump was asking for just a little over 200 miles of strategic barriers, but it was too much for lying cowardly Democrats to handle. Sensible Congressional Democrats like the rest of Americans, know what needs to be done. They are cowering and deathly afraid of their radical shadows however and are simply not brave enough to go against the flow.

Chapter 6 Democrats Rush to Judgment

When will they ever learn?

How many deaths must these undead Congress members endure in their cowardly lives? Surely none have the guts to write a new chapter in Profiles in Courage?

As an almost lifetime Democrat with my Democrat Party card still in my wallet, though very deep, this is just another issue that proves Democrats are lost. Moreover, the Dems have left America and Americans way behind as they run to the far left with Alexandria Ocasio Cortez.

They have lost all reason and are covered in cowardice. They hate Trump and that is how they govern. There are no other issues in the country other than hating and punishing Trump for beating Hillary in an honest election. These liars are always looking for ways to make Trump look bad even if they must make them up out of thin air.

Think about the Democrat's rush to judgment in the Kavanaugh hearings. Guilty! With no evidence. Think about the Democrats rush to paint the Covington Catholic School as racist with no evidence. Then, just today when the Chicago Police Superintendent told the real truth about Jussie Smollett, remember that again with no evidence, the Democrats had already convicted Trump and his followers. Don't expect fairness or the truth from sniveling, weak-hearted, cowardly, lying Democrats in Congress.

Even 2020 presidential candidates were on the wrong side of all of these issues in the last several months on the Smollett issue. Democrats cower and then they lie. Right out of the gate Kamala Harris weighed in: She tweeted that the alleged attack was “an attempted modern day lynching.” Nice & tough for a presidential candidate. Dear Ms. Harris, the attack was bogus. Rush to judgment again. Lie again.

Here is Spartacus Cory Booker on Smollett

Cory Booker ✓

The vicious attack on actor Jussie Smollett was an attempted modern-day lynching. I'm glad he's safe.

To those in Congress who don't feel the urgency to pass our Anti-Lynching bill designating lynching as a federal hate crime— I urge you to pay attention.

Nancy Pelosi cannot be blamed for these two no-mind comments about Smollett. But it isn't because she did not use her own supply of rash judgment to weigh in on the case. Pelosi, 78, quickly tweeted her disgust with the alleged attack on Jan. 29 after the Chicago Police Department said the Empire star was allegedly involved in a “racially-charged assault and battery.” Here is Pelosi's rash comment:

“The racist, homophobic attack on @JussieSmollett is an affront to our humanity.” She wrote this on Jan. 30 hopping on the anti-Trump & anto-wall bandwagon. She added: “No one should be attacked for who they are or whom they love. I pray that Jussie has a speedy recovery & that justice is served. May we all commit to ending this hate once & for all.”

I bet there are few Democrats who believe Pelosi’s final line was sincere. “May we all commit to ending this hate once & for all.” This was clearly a Pelosi euphemism added with no thought. Does anybody believe she feels this way?

The New Queen of Mean is very calculating in her speech. She is for anything today that is anti-American. She leads a Party that hates America and so anti-American rhetoric must be expected from them all.

What happened to her? It has been several months since the two-party border war broke loose. Most non-government employees are glad the shutdown occurred v a bad deal. Few are happy with the ultimate resolution (minimal wall funding) that has to last until September 2019.

The fight for the border did bring the monstrous federal government – or at least an imperceptible chunk of it, in any case – to a grinding halt. The fight then spilled over into every political dealing between the Democrats and Republicans. Trump’s state of the Union address was canceled by the Queen Bee, which was her right.

As time went by, support for the unreasonable, uncompromising New Queen of Mean of the Democratic Party was drying up. However, wimpy RINO Republicans with allegiance only to donors were still cowering in their boots. They feared the corrupt press and their anti-American donors.

For a brief period, there were Democrats in the House who called for Speaker Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) to negotiate on the wall. They also seemed open to Trump delivering his SOTU speech in the House chambers. Most Americans believe that this refusal to bend on anything will come back to bite Pelosi – or even her entire party.

Nancy Pelosi speaking with her hands

While Dems rush to judgment, conservatives sour

In the recent fight for the border wall funding, the wimpy, cowardly Republicans on the committee helped snatch defeat from the jaws of victory. They negotiated the worst deal possible after the three week shutdown reprieve. Trump reluctantly signed it and called the State of Emergency. This gave Democrats some additional life but ultimately their stance on the border is untenable and it will clearly kill their hopes for a 2020 resurgence as the people want real border protection not rhetoric from a flim-flammer.

Most conservatives were upset that the President did not fight hard enough for the wall before caving due to cowardly Republican elite congressional pressure to avoid another shutdown. Conservatives were somewhat ameliorated by the thoughts of the Emergency funding to build the wall but nobody I know was happy that Republicans ended the three-week deal looking weak and Pelosi emerged looking strong.

Though we often pull our punches rather than blast the President since he is all we really have for hope's sake, in this case, most of us wished that he were stronger for sure in this failed deal. Quietly many felt exactly the same as Ann Coulter and Sean Hannity, and not Rush Limbaugh. But, few of us were ready to blast Trump because, after all, he is all we have to fight the swamp and the deep state.

A sour Ann Coulter:

Coulter called the border agreement Trump's 'Yellow New Deal.' Joe Concha reported on this on 02/12/2019.

Conservative commentator Ann Coulter ripped President Trump ..., saying he was "afraid" to fight for a border wall and calling a bipartisan compromise to avert a government shutdown his "Yellow New Deal." She meant it. She still wants Trump but surely wished he had more guts this time.

"Trump talks a good game on the border wall but it's increasingly clear he's afraid to fight for it," Coulter tweeted to her 2.13 million followers.

"Call this his 'Yellow New Deal.'"

The tweet from Coulter, who has repeatedly criticized the president in recent months for not securing the necessary funds to build a wall along much of the U.S.-Mexico border, comes as Trump mulled signing off on the all-Democrat and partly RINO compromise reached by Republican and Democratic lawmakers.

She also warned in a later tweet that the U.S. "will become a socialist country" if the president doesn't get the wall built.

Chapter 7 What's Wrong with Republicans?

Wimpy, Cowardly Congress-- bad record w/people

Anti-left John Doe style regular Americans who once considered themselves pure bread conservatives are not alone in being upset today with many things, including a corrupt and cowardly Congress, and an inept government. People of many political persuasions came out of the woodwork in late 2016 to express their outrage by voting for Donald Trump for President. I saw many Democrats switch to Republican so they could vote for Donald Trump in the PA Primary election. That's how fed up the people were. Most still are.

Regular Americans are mad as hell

We the people are fed up again with Republicans especially who had the chance to work with President Trump and cowered out. Here we are kicking off 2019 and there is no border wall, and both parties are racing to tell the people, "What, me worry?" In 2018, the people kicked out a lot of Republicans for not paying attention and in 2020, the folks will get them in the primary so that swamp rat elite RINOs are not among the Congress in 2021. All the new radical Democrats proved in month 1 of 2019 that they could not legislate their way out of a paper bag. I predict they will all be gone in 2020. We just have to make sure the slimy RINO swamp rats do not get back in.

Before Trump, we all know, that for eight years, the prior President, BHO, unlawfully bypassed the Constitution to do whatever he wanted to the country. Meanwhile wimpy Republicans in positions of power did not even complain and actually appeared to be going along to get along. That made the John Does such as yours truly “Mad as Hell!”

Howard Beale in the paragraphs below represents all frustrated Americans. His story, though unrelated, really captures the mood and the emotions of America today regarding a government and a Republican Party gone bad!

FYI, though I really give it to the Republicans in this book, because they deserve it, they are not alone in misrepresenting the people. They clung onto Trump’s coattails and lied to the people to get elected. Then, when it was time to work for the people, they chose not to help move the Trump agenda through the Congress.

They were happy not getting Obamacare repeal and replace done, and they did not get the wall and other important agenda items passed. In fact, they fought the president in his attempts to work for the people. Other than tax reform, they were asleep at the switch. That is why we have a Democrat controlled Congress until 2020.

Yet, despite their obstruction to the Trump agenda, this President still goes down as one of the best Presidents ever. He did most of it with executive action and executive orders. By eliminating bad Obama-era regulations, he brought on an economic revival that is unprecedented.

Voters saw the lack of support for the President from the Never Trumpers and others and they punished many Republicans who they had supported in 2016. They chased them home and put enough Democrats in their places to give the Democrats control of the House in the mid-terms.

So, now the Democrats are in charge and everybody including Trump-Democrats think the progressive liberals are doing a “stinky” job. In fact, they are stinking the House out with their far out ideas and their inability to take any action to help Americans. They have become caricatures of themselves.

Considering that now that Democrats got this small chance to govern in 2019 because voters punished Republicans in the House for not being faithful to their campaign to help Trump, one would think that the Democrats would make the most of it. But, no, they are not smart enough. Democrats are treating it like as if they won for all time and they seem obsessed with impeaching Trump rather than helping the people and their own Party.

Now, with socialism, climate change, the New Green Deal phasing out fossil fuels, welfare for all; Medicare for all, late term abortions & infanticide, open borders, anti-ICE posture, anti-law & order, as well as a huge dose of anti-Americanism as the precepts of the Democrats, they have no chance to get elected again. People have long memories about boneheads in office. Republicans are too dumb to make good out of this so the people must be very picky who we vote for next time around.

Republicans do not get it. They have their own agenda items and though they can get elected, they do not follow through. Psychologists are working double time to figure out what people vote a certain way. For example, they believe as a rule that People vote Republican because Republicans offer "moral clarity"—a simple vision of good and evil that activates deep seated fears in much of the electorate. Democrats, in contrast, appeal to reason with their long-winded explorations of policy options for a complex world. For those that want to live in a permissive world with no taboos or Religion to worry about, the Dems have the edge.

You may not remember because you are probably not old enough but many others of you have enough years to have seen the “Network News” movie long after its debut in 1976. So, if you have some baggage, and you have some time on your bones, you may be able to look back and remember back in November 1976 when Howard Beale, as played by Peter Finch, the long-time anchor in the movie “Network News,” gets the bad news that eventually causes him to utter one of the most famous movie lines of all time. A lot of conservatives empathize with Beale in today’s world. “What’s the use,” is a constant theme Beale gets fired and is given two weeks. The long-time anchor has a very poor reaction to this news and he cannot control himself during the next news broadcast.

He promises to commit suicide on the air. The company immediately fires him—no second chances for a repeat performance. Beale is devastated and remorseful. He begs for the opportunity to say good-bye to his fans with dignity, and he is reluctantly given his last opportunity ever for air time so that he can say his good-by's and also apologize to his fan base. He gets his chance

Yet, once on the air, Beale is overwhelmed by his continuing circumstance. He goes into another diatribe starting off with a rant claiming that "Life is bullshit." He is so passionate that his ratings spike as he persuades his viewers to shout out of their windows: "I'm as mad as hell, and I'm not going to take this anymore!" That is the line heard 'round the world.

Well, my fellow Americans, I bet you saw this coming, and I am going to deliver it as passionately in words as I can: "I am mad as hell, and I am not going to take this anymore." I bet you are too. Let me remind you.

Though Trump has mitigated our pain with many fixes over two years, there is a lot more to do. Taxes are still too high; elected officials, especially Democrats, are out of touch; government is too big; spending is out of control; the Affordable Healthcare Act has become a train wreck; heroes are dying in the VA system, and nobody, after spending $160 billion per year supposedly on Veterans, can tell us why they are being neglected. Some good news is that President Trump has been paying attention big time to Veterans and his changes have been significant.

The people of America saw the federal government for the last eight years before Donald Trump as incompetent. Those feelings do not disappear overnight no matter how good things get. We elected Republicans to have a voice, and yet we still have no voice as they do what helps them and their elite donors, not us. Americans have no voice. We act stupidly on the world stage such as exchanging five top Taliban Officers from Gitmo for one deserter PFC. Additionally, and this is the worst: too many of US are simply too lazy to hold government accountable, and too many of our finest politicians are on the take from elite donors and from insiders on K-Street.

It really is a train wreck. Corporate leeches have infiltrated our government and they seem to have a grip on Republican lawmakers. We have record unemployment; illegal aliens are smiling as they take American jobs; an unsustainable status quo supports special interests over the people's interests and when we look to the future we see a public education system that creates dummies and it trains k to 12 and college students to love the government and to hate America. The graduates are so dumb that they don't seem to mind being called dummies. Scrooge would sum it up with a hearty "Bah Humbug." It is that bad!

Democrats want open borders and Republicans want the cheapest wage possible and so both want illegal entry to continue unabated. They say there are 20 million to 30 million illegals in the country but have no facts. I say there are 60 million and the late John McCain was more on my side as he was quoted saying 4 million a day have crossed our borders since 1986—the Reagan amnesty.

Before Trump, the US had the poorest economy since the depression; excessive welfare; income and healthcare redistribution; institutionalized lying; a corrupt state-loving press carrying water for government; a debt large enough to kill America; huge student debt stopping graduates' successes; tyranny v. democracy; government lawlessness; support for criminals over police; freedom and liberty in jeopardy; American stagnation, and a big loss of America's world prestige. Even a super hero like Donald Trump cannot solve these problems all at once without the help of Congress. Our cowardly Congress is too busy with its collective head buried in the sand.

And, on top of that, the press beats its breast about its importance by suggesting that the former president (Obama) learned about what was happening across the world from reading the newspapers. Meanwhile government is spying on the people—even the newly elected president.

Everybody in Washington gets a free ride with no accountability. It is that bad.

Our big government has become such a problem that most Americans believe that it can never again be the solution. Republicans choose to behave like Democrats rather than take them on. Our finest hope, our youth; go through colleges in huge numbers only to be unemployed and sacked with debt for life.

As a Democrat, I am smarter than most Democrats. Believe me, I have queried them on this. I know that the Democratic Party is the source of most ill fortune in the country. But, millennials do not believe it so they are not willing to fight the bad guys in either party to make America great again!

This group of youngers known as millennials are the smartest by cranium, but they are the stupidest offspring America has ever produced from anybody's loins in terms of their gullibility and their willingness to sacrifice their future for a promising promise.

They have no clue what life is about, and they actually protest American heroes such as Condoleezza Rice and Dr. Ben Carson. Both came to visit universities and were disrespected by the students. Rutgers for example in 2013 picked a boardwalk babe, Snooki, rather than an American who loves America to give them their final addresses at their Universities. Even Berkley, the bastion of free speech in the 1960's will not permit free speech anymore on campus and will not protect those who insist on it. They have small free speech zones on many college campuses so that free speech does not get in the way of their preferred propaganda. Hope is reserved for people who have never met today's millennials.

Students are guided by coffee-breath communist professors in universities and the students now accept that communism and socialism is OK. Yet, the truth is that Communism wherever it has been practiced has never reached its final stage because current leaders choose not to turn power over to the communes.

The coffee-breath crowd includes the elite progressives in their universities who believe free speech cannot be tolerated and who fill the heads of the millennials with mush. Their importance is endorsed by the universities when they get to be adorned in their finest plumage at commencement ceremonies, and they process before all others to the stage. With such guidance, students have learned that they really do know it all, though their parents have no clue what happened to them once they reached their progressive campuses.

The student loan burden prevents former student borrowers from buying homes, cars, and having a family. Yet students do not blame their elite faculty and their establishment universities for anything. They blame George Bush for everything still because some talk show host once told them that works for him. They have begun to blame President Trump but always gave Obama a free pass because he was the one that the coffee breath elites said was the social savior. It is great to have brains today as always. However, brains are no longer respected if a person decides to use them for the public good.

Only 90-year old retirees can afford honeymoon cottages while looking for their next spouse. As many as 37 million student loan borrowers are too broke to engage in basic life. College loans, instead of lifting people to the top, have created a new race to the bottom,

On the International stage, America is a bad actor, and frustrated zealots from the left are making sure nobody gives America a break on the world stage. For eight years, (Obamatimes), the US tried to make the rest of the world strong by making America weak. The weaknesses of America were always highlighted by a corrupt press because, as they proselytize, Americans have been doing too well because of a new phenomenon known as "white privilege." They do everything but say white people are "bad," bad," "bad." But that is what they are saying underneath it all. The world today is upside down and the hordes of Howard Beale's out there have had enough.

None of this helps command respect for our country from anybody but the guilt-ridden university students and their "lucky to have a job" mentors on the faculty. Having been a faculty member, I know how bad things are. The only people who seem to care have names like John Q.

Public, John Doe, and Jane Doe. Thank you to the Johns and the Janes for choosing this book about a possible solution to the country's mess.

Nobody in the world gives America standing ovations anymore. Nobody asks us for curtain calls. Our leaders for eight years turned their backs on our friends and paid homage to our enemies. How is this? We now have a President who was elected to drain the swamp but the cowardly Republican Congress seem to like living comfortably in the swamp and they resist the President's overtures to make America great again. As noted, in 2018, the people began to throw out such Republicans from the Congress. It is not over so Republicans members of the legislature should not get comfortable. They are next!

Has Congress lost all its power? Or has Congress decided to simply give up. Who has the power in the US? The Constitution says it is the people! We replaced the President in 2016 and we must do the same for the Congress in 2020. If the Congress won't help the President drain the swamp, Congress must be taken out of their self-created swamp and sent back to live in an ungated community.

Before Donald Trump bombed the Syrian Airport and let the MOAB fly down on the caves, smaller and weaker countries such as Russia, Iran, and North Korea continued to push the US around and laugh at US, and our only response was to see if somehow it might have been because we may have offended them.

We once could not figure out any other way to show our greatness than by counting the number of hits on a hashtag of bring our girls home, when no Americans were missing, and we expected terrorists to cower when the number of twitter resends hit a million.

Over the last eight years of Obama, US officials refused to have an honest discussion about why four Americans, including the US Ambassador, were permitted to die in Benghazi when the military says they were prepared to save them. The then Secretary of State (Hillary) responsible for their deaths, was able to run for President as if their deaths did not matter. How did that happen in America? What Republican that you know spoke up about it? Me neither!

We had an administration that blamed the Christian Government of Nigeria for not reaching out enough to the Muslim killers who kidnapped 300 girls for sex slaves. Boko Haram had captured and killed 49 boys just a few weeks before.

The captors boldly announced they would sell them on the sex slave market, and the US was powerless in its feeble response. The Obama strategy was to have time go by so those who are at fault could claim that it was old news. Trump no longer lets America be pushed around but the press is still trying to take him down—he beat Hillary Clinton.

What has happened to our good sense? Should there not be a set of laws written by sane people so that insane acts cannot occur without retribution? Why do our representatives, especially Republicans who have lost heart and their consciences, not represent America?

For me, these are the worst days of America that I have ever witnessed. Yet, our recent government seemed to have no problems that needed solutions. Clear-thinking Americans look at today's Republican leaders as buffoons, without the wherewithal to tie their own shoes.

Before God sent him, we yearned for a guy like Donald Trump to come forth to save us. And yet while he is prepared to do so, Republican Never Trumpers and other RINOs are still willing to give America the five-finger salute to express their displeasure with our very capable president. These leaders would like all Americans to be happy in a state of mediocrity, rather than being outstanding. “Don't worry: Be Happy!”

If you have been paying attention, and I sure hope you have been as it is a civic duty, you know that there are even more issues than the exhaustive list we just walked you through. Isn't this a big shame on US? I think this is the reason that you bought this book. Thank you very much.

The Constitution is a survivor's guide to dealing with a corrupt nation; a corrupt press; a corrupt government and corrupt politicians who believe they can trick us all into finding them acceptable. Armed with the Constitution, we all, even though we are just John Does, must get rid of the Republican Party for they choose even today to give the people their greed and not their representation.

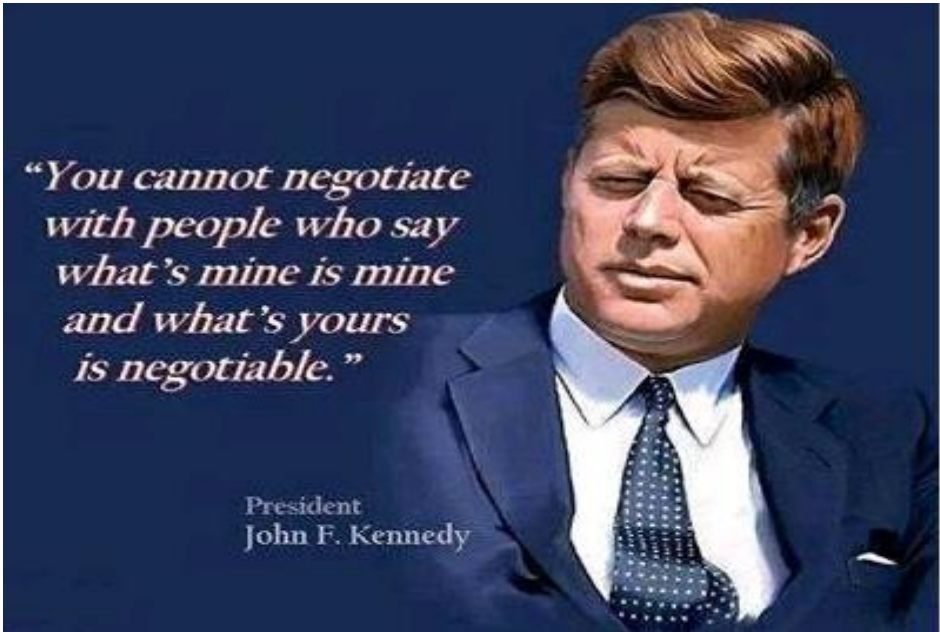

Would it not be great if rich conservatives sponsored a movement to create a John Does Party or an American Party—a new party for us—for the people. Yes, a new party is the people’s solution to corrupt greedy Republican elite politicians and their donor class. I think a lot of Democrats and independents looking for real action would also join.

Since you bought this book, I know you and I are on the right side and thankfully we are on the same side. Together, we can all help arrest control of our government back from perpetrators wishing to destroy US and a Republican Party that is determined not to lift a finger until we are destroyed by crazy Democrats from within. We can stop this—first by staying awake and secondly carefully watching what the cowardly knaves in Congress are doing and thirdly, being brave enough to boot them out in 2020.

We first must understand what is going on and we then must understand our rights. Even before you and me and everybody else are on board, just like Howard Beale, we must start the first wave of solutions by opening our windows all the way and shouting as loud as we all can: “I am mad as hell, and I am not going to take this anymore.”

Then, we must make sure that we talk to everybody we know on the streets, supermarkets, and the neighborhoods—people like you and I and others, and let’s help them all know that unless we all fully engage in America, when we wake up from our deep fog, there may be no America left for our progeny. We will have blown it for sure if that is permitted to happen. Our cowardly Congress no longer cares what happens to us. We must return the favor. Getting a replacement party off the ground would surely be a great start.

Chapter 8 What's Wrong with Democrats?

What's wrong with the United States?

Having been a Democrat all of my life other than my first two years eligible to vote (Independent), I know that the answer to the question What's wrong with the United States is today's "the Democrat Party." Moreover, the answer to "What's wrong with the Democrat Party?" is its policies, most of which have a debilitating effect upon the USA. That's my story from my own observations and I am sticking with it. More and more Americans agree with my look from the inside of the Party.

After a long career with IBM and a number of years as a computer consultant, in 2010, I decided to run for Congress in the Democrat Primary. My major opponent was a 13-term incumbent. He won the race with 49% of the vote. I took no funds from anybody and I spent $3500 on yard signs, and public service ads, etc. I achieved 17% of the vote in a three-way primary race. I received no help at all from the Democrat Party nor did I expect any with an incumbent running.

I announced a campaign for US Senator in 2012 but when my campaign manager passed away, I decided to take the pressure off by making it a write-in campaign. The State of Pennsylvania informed me after the general election that I had not won but they did not count the votes so I do not know how close I came.

Then, in 2015, I ran for Mayor in my home town and in the four-person primary race, I came in third. I learned that it is tough running for office when you don't have the money of the machine to back you. If it were offered, however, because I was running against machine politics, I would have refused it.

Cowardly Democrats are nothing to be proud of

You know and I know there is a lot wrong with the Democrat Party. Many of my friends over the years have found that it is no longer the Party of JFK, nor is it "your father's Democrat Party." I still have many Democrat friends who have not yet awakened to that reality. They refuse to see the truth. Others are very glad they switched and are more disgusted with their old Party than when they left. Over time, Democrats are losing the white vote and ironically, they seem pleased by that fact. My white friends who still cling to the Democrat Party will not admit that they have been left behind by the Party of the diverse.

Many people over the years have seen and some have even felt the big changes in the Democrat Party. They too have asked themselves: "What's Wrong with Democrats? What's wrong with the Party?"

On June 2, 2015, writing for American Thinker, Ed Lasky took a shot at this conundrum.

https://www.americanthinker.com/articles/2015/06/what\_is\_wrong\_with\_democrats.html

He immediately cited proof of their being a disconnect of Democrats with reality in his opening paragraph. Ed wasted no time saying who he was and what he thought of Democrats:

“They elected Obama -- twice! And will nominate Hillary Clinton. But that is just a smidgen (as Barack Obama might say) of what is wrong with Democrats.”

“The question of what motivates Democrats and what their values are has bedeviled me for years, since I have friends and family who are Democrats. If the government was not so big, controlling it would be less of an issue, but I find decisions I would make overruled by Democrats in power. My family and I end up paying for their mistakes on top of our own.

“We work hard, save as much as we can, invest in the future, and we find out we have the ever-grasping government as partners who can render our efforts useless. Regulations and the overseers who impose them on us add to my misery, as do tax forms that are needlessly complicated and filled with loopholes that the rich can afford to exploit. I find the fruits of our labor are harvested and enjoyed by others.”

“I see the Constitution trampled to advance agendas I do not share. Free speech is all too often rejected as “hate speech,” while watchers for “trigger words” are all too ready to censor the speech of others.

I see unions’ corrupt politics and teachers’ unions protecting their interests and the future of their pensions over protecting the future of our children we place in their care. The work ethic is being eviscerated. People who build things were derided by then President Obama as having not built things or dismissed as “lottery winners.”

Doctors do not heal, they too are greedy people who yank out tonsils and lop off legs solely for profit -- or so says the Democrats’ leader, Barack Obama, and the Democrats who cheer him. People who work in finance are “fat cats” and “one-percenters” who must be “toppled” -- or so sayeth the one percent of one percenter, Hillary Clinton, probably the most hypocritical person in America. Why do Democrats worship her?”

It is a puzzlement for sure.

In 2015, Donald Trump was not the biggest part of every news story. He was not really a political entity though he had the press going in 2012 when he threatened to run for President. Democrats have been a problem since after Reagan though they did their best to undermine the “Gipper” by trying to make him look stupid during his two terms as President. Democrats goaded George Bush Sr. into raising taxes, and then they kept reminding the public that he had said: “Read my lips no new taxes”

Candidate George H. W. Bush at the 1988 Republican National Convention fired off this line as he accepted the nomination on August 18. It was written by speechwriter Peggy Noonan, and it served as the most prominent sound bite from his convention speech. It made Bush look like a lying piker and his next time out, it basically guaranteed Democrat Bill Clinton the White House.

Trying to explain how Bill Clinton’s personal sex life in the White House had nothing to do with governing as president, the Democrats began their slide to all things left. Regular Democrats for the most part are not hard left, but rather are simply loyal Democrats.

It all came to a head in 2018 as the Democrats’ left turn became very noticeable. Long-time political watchers were more than shocked even in recent months to see formerly powerful Democrat Party leaders ousted by far-left challenges within their own party. Alexandria Ocasio Cortez is a name everybody now recognizes. The once-proud centrist party of the working class, the Democrats are now a pawn of the hard left.

When the workers in America learn they really do not matter to the Dems, I predict the fortunes of the Party will change, but with Republicans playing every opportunity with their heads down in the sand, the people may stay mad enough to elect Democrats again in 2020 when Republicans should have clear victories.

There have been many questions that Democrats ask before they leave the Democrat Party. Yet, the Dems somehow find replacement players in the minority factions of the day to fill in the blanks left from defectors. Meanwhile former stalwart conservative Republicans are disillusioned at their leadership paying homage to the wealthy donor class and not paying much attention to the rank and file. The border crisis is the latest issue to give us that proof. Nobody seems to care about John and Jane Q. Public.

Nonetheless, there is still more causing me to ask in despair, “What is wrong with Democrats?” Their marriage with the corrupt press is symbolic of their own corruption. Old time Democrat values promoting the people no longer exist. When there was no outrage from regular Democrats with the wave of Democrat states fostering infanticide, most old time Democrats were shocked at the callousness of the new party under the new Queen of Mean. It proved that the little guys in the Party have either given up or simply over-trust that their Party leaders will making everything OK in the end. So far, folks, that is not a good bet.

It makes no sense but a lot of regular Democrat Joe’s who are non-political get their news only from CNN. How else can you explain why the Democrats on the street and in the barber shops and beauty parlors have permitted their Party to get away with such blatantly poor choices.

It bothers rank and file Democrats that the Party embraces Al Sharpton, who is an anti-white anti-Semite, liar, con man and a hustler. Sharpton is well known for extorting millions from corporations and on top of that he does not even pay his taxes. The NY Times for example reported that he owes or did owe $4.5 million in taxes at various levels.

Skeptics suggest that perhaps His 85 Obama White House visits somehow exonerated him from his duties though he is a habitual tax cheat. Sharpton gains a lot of attention from his showboat talk show on MSNBC that few watch (Few watch MSNBC!)

Yet, for his own reasons, President Obama appointed the flamboyant Sharpton as his point man on race. Formerly “Big Al,” has one point of view so he is easily predictable: “White is bad! bad! bad!” In Ferguson and Baltimore riots and the tragic death of Eric Garner, Al Sharpton stirred the pot and made the situation worse. That's what Al offers.

You may recall the “Reverend” Al’s involvement in the Tawana Brawley (15-year old rape victim) case in 1987. Sharpton had commandeered this incendiary story and made it racial by accusing a white county prosecutor of being among the attackers. The prosecutor, Steven Pagonis, won his defamation suit in 1998 against Sharpton, Brawley and her lawyers. It was a hoax but Sharpton refused to pay the judgment against him, which magically they say, was discharged. There is lots more—yet Sharpton lives on the Democratic High Hill.

Do you remember the IRS was hitting on conservative groups. Democrats under Obama were known to weaponize agencies and they orchestrated IRS attacks against political enemies. People blame the IRS scandal, for example, on Lois Lerner but she was just a fall girl and has been well taken care of for her complicity.

Weaponizing the IRS is just part of a broader attempt to restrict the free speech of conservatives and Republicans. Somehow Democrats, even with neither house of Congress nor the presidency still wielded power in the Justice Dept and the FBI. It is amazing.

It has been almost 100% proven that Hillary Clinton and the Clinton Foundation have been mired in scandals for a long time until after she lost the presidency. Regardless of her tarnished history, Mrs. Clinton remains highly regarded among Democrats, with 76% saying they viewed her favorably. For me, it is hard to believe.

As we have discussed, the Democrat Party and its base are lurching further and further to the left, led by its leadership. Remember, they elected Obama twice and they nominated Hillary Clinton. What more must one say to show how off the mark they have drifted?

What motivates Democrats? Do they have any values at all?

What values Democrats may have is a puzzlement for sure. Like I said, I am a registered Democrat and I still have friends and family who are Democrats. I see no values today. Most of my friends and relatives have left the Party but those who remain still swear Democrat while they recite the news from CNN. There is some irony in that they never go against their values and it is highly likely that it is because they have none.

Perhaps it all can be explained in the results of surveys, which show that while the Republican center moved only slightly to the right over the past 23 years, the center of the Democratic Party shifted far to the left. To make my point I could say that all Democrats are now left-handers but such hyperbole might be misconstrued. We surely can say that the Democrat Party is not the Democrat Party any more. That explains a lot.

One thing is certain. Democrats have changed and the change is not doing them or the country any good. Those with some mileage on their frames remember that Democrats did not always obstruct, resist, and embrace anti-American exceptionalism. John F. Kennedy, who is still revered by the Left as is Ronald Reagan by the Right, was intensely pro-American. Democrats forget that Kennedy was somewhat conservative, and he believed in capitalism, not socialism.

In fact, there are many Republicans who still have great feelings about the country from the Kennedy years. Kennedy had an entrenched belief in American exceptionalism that drove him to push America in a positive direction. It was his NASA Apollo missions, in which Americans accomplished the staggering feat of placing a man on the Moon in record time. It would not have happened without Kennedy, who I would list as one of the last great Democrats.

The Party of Kennedy—not today's Democrats

Remember these acts of the Democrats after Hillary lost the 2016 election. Supporters went nuts. Take a look at low-life, low-budget actress Kathy Griffin, who became an ISIS-style-beheader of the world's most powerful man and held his severed head to mocking ridicule. How about actor Johnny Depp who asked a cheering crowd, “When was the last time an actor assassinated a president?” Funny, right?

Pardon this please. It is disgusting as are many liberal Democrat Trump haters

Then, of course there is the one and only Madonna, still a great friend of millennials who were in diapers when the singer-songwriter, actress, author, director and philanthropist was taking joy rides naked in New York Cabs. Many recall when the “material girl” spoke at a Women’s March about “blowing up the White House,” or the great one, Rep. Maxine Waters calling for mob violence against Trump’s staff, Cabinet, and supporters. In Waters case, this was followed by her own supporters burning the American flag outside her office. I guess they don’t like Trump’s love for America? How else do you explain it?

The undeniable truth which Democrats deny anyway is that the country is actually holding up very well despite these doom predictions and the asininity of anti-Trump starlet imbeciles. Since Trump defeated Clinton, the ISIS terrorist group has been almost completely annihilated; North Korea has agreed to complete denuclearization; no more missiles launched over Japan, the unemployment rate is at a 49-year low; black and Hispanic employment levels are at their best in history. On top of that, the war on women is gone and more women have jobs today than at any other time this century.

The economic numbers are great, and despite 91% of the news being anti-Trump, the economic numbers continue to improve despite these headwinds put in place by Democrats . For example, GDP has risen more than 4.3 percent and it continues to rise. The stock market is up nearly 40 percent. Additionally, we have the highest consumer, manufacturing, and small-business confidence levels ever recorded.

Other than the negative feelings by the idiot Hollywood elite, hard-left cowardly Democrats, and the Never Trumpers, all numbers show that Trump is doing one hell of a job. But, the corrupt press and the lying Democratic Party won't give him an inch. The cowards love to lie and they do because deep down they hate America and Trump represents an awful lot of Americans who do not think like they do.

Yes, Virginia, Democrats do hate America because they no longer have control and because Hillary was such a bad candidate that she lost the presidency.

Every now and then the voice of reason is permitted to be heard but not often and not on CNN, NBC, MSNBC, CBS or ABC. The Democrats carry the water for all the networks other than Fox and they are in lockstep in their hate for Donald Trump, America, and Americans.

Lindsey Graham, a one-time amnesty advocate when he was John McCain's partner in crime, has become a voice of reason for the country. Until his great speech during the Kavanaugh hearings, he was not on any of my good-guy short-lists. Yet, he has always had the respect of Democrats because he and Ted Kennedy and others wanted an amnesty bill when most Americans did not. Now, with John McCain having passed on, Graham is not as bold on amnesty and he is much more rational and reasonable on immigration from my perspective.

Like me, he thinks Democrats have begun to hate America. In the border security debacle that has played out during late 2018 and early 2019, Sen. Lindsey Graham said Republicans are not going to give in on getting funding for the border wall. He went on to say that the shutdown over the wall is about Democrats "hating" Trump so much that they want him "to lose" in every move he makes.

I equate hating Trump to hating America since when we look at what Trump has done, it is clear that he has moved America forward so much that we are in fact, great again. If you don't like what Trump has accomplished, you cannot like America very much if at all.

Graham said: "Senator Schumer, what does it take for you to realize that we need more money for a broken border? This is about Dems hating Trump so much, wanting him to lose, they can't understand that America needs to win and we're not going to give in. I'm a pretty reasonable guy but we're not going to give in on this," Graham spoke this piece to FOX News host Jeanine Pirro. Pirro offered her own comment:

PIRRO: "ALL right and joining me now with more on all of the developing news and the fight for border security, Senator Lindsey Graham. All right Senator, should Mitch McConnell have sent them home well?

SEN. LINDSEY GRAHAM, R-S.C.: Well, you know, I don't think we're going to do anything between now and Christmas.

PIRRO: Why not?

GRAHAM: Let me just say - well, it takes two to tango. Here's what Schumer said, I'm going to quote you, Judge. "Schumer demands Trump abandon the wall." So Senator Schumer, we're not going to abandon the wall. We're going to build the wall and to all of those Americans who want us to abandon the wall and open up the border, that's what this fight is about. We don't agree with you...Schumer wants to abandon the wall. We want to build it. That's what this fight is all about and it really is a silly petty fight on behalf of Democrats."

On the border Wall, Congressional Democrats have made clear by their no-negotiation stance with President Trump over border security that they are not about to move regardless if everybody in America is for the wall. They don't care what the people want. They do not want a wall or a fence built, period. It has nothing to do with any principle, and everything to do with racial politics and the Democrats' raw, unfiltered hatred of Trump. They are unhinged about Trump running the country and they are simply crazy angry

It would be solvable if this were a principled debate such as when Tip O'Neill would take on Reagan or vice-versa. You may remember that O'Neill and Reagan were often at Loggerheads until they needed each other. And unlike Pelosi and Schumer, back then, the country always came first.

In their first meeting, as captured by writer Laurence I. Barrett, a Time magazine reporter, Reagan broke the ice by telling an off-color Irish joke that ended with the punch line "So I told her to shit in her hat and the fight was on." Despite what Barrett termed an inauspicious beginning, the two sides stuck at it. Four months later, they announced an agreement that formed the basis of the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982. It was not about them. It was about what's best for America. For Trump, it is about the country and the people. For Pelosi it is about her ego and her desire to turn us all into socialists.

Unfortunately, as the saying goes too often, that horse left the barn a long time ago. The Democrats have an unalterable opposition to Trump as their bottom line. Hate makes you see everything through blurry glasses. Because their only plan for the country, by their own admission, is to impeach Donald Trump for as-yet unspecified crimes (winning against Hillary Clinton), at the very least, cripple the remainder of his presidency, they won't help him build the wall or do anything that would give him an ounce of praise by the public. They are fighting Trump like babies in a playground with no adults in supervising roles. What a shame. Rank and file Democrats must be very disappointed.

No matter what!

You may recall that Trump already had his meeting with his adversaries, Pelosi and Schumer in lock step, and these two babies only cared about getting the President to do something they felt they could blame on him. That's how it was when President Trump met with Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer and House Speaker Nancy Pelosi. They presented a common anti-American front. They unanimously said "No deal!" They claimed Trump walked out, calling the sham meeting "a total waste of time." It was a sham and a shame for America that Democrats have lost their love of country. When they said, "No Deal" should Trump have kissed their rings?

No deal! No deal! No deal! No deal is no deal!. Of course, that was sort of the idea. The Democrats merely wanted to virtue-signal their most ardent followers that they were still solidly Never Trump. Damn what is good for the country. Will it get better? Not while all the hate is still in Chuck and Nancy's one shared heart brewing hot even though the country must go on. The Pelosi/Schumer baby spite ego war will go on at the same time. Babies rarely compromise. They expect to get what they want.

Chapter 9 Democrats Hate Trump with Passion

They surely hate Trump big-time—Picture thank you to The New York Post

When did the Democrat hate for Trump begin?

Michael Reagan says it happened on day 1.. Posted: Oct. 30, 2018 12:01 am “Guess which future leader of the United States said this about illegal immigrants in 2006:

"We are a generous and welcoming people, but those who enter our country illegally, and those who employ them, disrespect the rule of law.

"And because we live in an age where terrorists are challenging our borders we simply cannot allow people to pour into the U.S. undetected, undocumented and unchecked.

"Americans are right to demand better border security and better enforcement of immigration law."

"Donald Trump, right?"

"Not exactly."

"Try rookie U.S. Senator Barack Obama."

"Remember the good old days of about a decade ago, when Democrats were in favor of strong borders and the strict enforcement of immigration laws?"

"Until Trump was elected, the Obamas, Clintons and Schumers of the land gave tough-sounding speeches on illegal immigrants and argued in favor of strong borders."

"But Democrats have been against Donald Trump's famous border wall since Day One."

"They insist over and over today that they are in favor of humane immigration reform, not open borders."

"Yet look what happens when a "caravan" of as many as 14,000 men, women and children from Central America marches toward the United States with the intention of invading us."

"The Democrats' solution is to warmly welcome the immigrant invaders into our country, give them plenty of free government help, let them go free while they process their asylum claims for a year or two -- and encourage them to register as Democrats as soon as possible."

Thank you Michael Reagan.

That Democrat position does not fly with most Americans and it certainly holds no water with President Donald Trump.

Rush Limbaugh in his nationally syndicated talk show loves to discuss why things are as they are. He reminds his audience regularly that Trump did not have Republican support in his first nine months of the presidency.

He points out that the RINOs and Never Trumpers in the Elephant Party were at their peak after the inauguration. They believed that the Democrats' investigations had a good chance of resulting in a Trump capitulation. They did not know Trump's high intestinal fortitude factor. Just like the nasty Democrats, these low-life Republicans simply did not like him. They figured he would fold since they had no idea what a tough man the President is. Trump learned tough and he is tough.

They thought that if he did not quit, which is what the nasty RINOs actually expected, and secretly hoped for, the Democrats who ruled the Justice department in the Deep State at the time would impeach him or figure some way to assure that Trump would be gone before they had to actually stick their necks out to support him in any meaningful way.

Republicans figured Mike Pence would soon be President and they acted accordingly. Democrats figured when Trump was ousted, rather than Pence, they would be able to coronate Ms. Hillary. That is why Trump could only do executive orders early-on as the Republican controlled Congress treated him as an outsider and they did not like him messing with their long-held turf.

Rush Limbaugh believes that only Trump would take building the wall so seriously. He means what he says; and he wants what is best for America. No other candidate would have spent the political capital because the donor class to whom they all bow, want no wall. They want an unfettered flow of illegals who will work for less than the minimum wage and they will fatten the donor wallets of America.

Of course they do not talk about how their jumping the wall creates new American ghettos, where poverty is the order of the day. Neither RINO Republicans, Never-Trumpers or hard core Democrats actually care about the people affected by their policies. They came here poor and Democrat and RINO policies keep them poor. None of these slimy and cowardly politicians care about the negative effect on wages and the ability for Americans to do well and survive. US citizens cannot compete with those working for less than minimum wage, and those receiving less than minimum are as poor as dirt.

“Rush says: “Going back two years, there's not a single Republican that was on that stage -- all 16 of 'em running for office -- who would have built the wall. There's not a one of them right now that... If Trump were not on the scene, if Trump weren't elected, if he had been defeated, if he weren't wherever he is, there's not a single Republican that would be talking about building a wall.

“The debate right now would be amnesty, and by now I'll wager that if Hillary Clinton had won the White House, we would have already had our comprehensive immigration bill for amnesty for 11 to 12 million and the flow continuing. There would be no discussion of a wall whatsoever.

“If Mitt Romney ever wins, the wall project is gonna get shut down. If anybody from the John McCain wing of the Republican Party ever wins the White House, they're gonna shut down the wall, given circumstances as they exist today.

“The point being there isn't another option. If a wall -- and let's use the wall as a symbolic term for stopping illegal immigration, shoring up border security, however. If a wall's part of it, fine and dandy. But my point is there isn't another Republican who's gonna spend anywhere near the amount of time or energy on this than Donald Trump. Nobody. Make sure... Ted Cruz would, but who knows if he's going to run for president again.

“If he were in Trump's shoes, he probably would. But you couldn't fill up all five fingers on a hand naming Republicans who would follow through on something like this, and that matters.

This chapter and the last is all about What's wrong with Democrats. The fact is that Donald Trump would have it a lot easier if he had an army of Republicans fighting with him instead of on the Democrat side. Republicans for Trump might as well be completely AWOL. They are such cowards few speak up for the President.

The Democrats' problem is worse than the cowardly Republican problem for Trump, but it is not good that the President as Commander in Chief has no army of “R” guys to help him out. The Dem problem is that they are part of the New Queen of Mean Democrats even though with so many defections, there are fewer and fewer of them.

If the Republicans were tougher than the do-nothing donor-loving cowardly undead RINOS that we have, who are supposedly on our side but are not, Trump would be able to play a tougher game of “I the winner!” His victories are already numerous without this army and he did shed an awful lot of them in the midterms. Can you imagine if Republicans were actually on his side instead of siding with the slimy Democrats?

Rush says that the Russian Hoax actually began before the election but after the election things got more serious. Why? Hillary woke up from her Chablis Stupor, which had prevented her from addressing her own constituents the night she lost. She was AWOL and Podesta covered for her. The Russia Hoax happened when a groggy Hillary emerged in a fit of hateful rage after she realized that she had been whooped and the Democrats conjured up the idea that the election had been stolen from them and her.

Along the way to today, of course the Democrats decided to get back at Trump since, after all an Army of Obama was still running the major agencies. With all that horsepower, Hillary agreed that they should do their best to remove Trump from office and the Russia Hoax was expected to work.

The pro-Hillary narrative thus got constructed. It promoted the falsehood that Trump stole the election. And, of course all card-carrying Dems had to quickly learn how to hate Donald Trump forevermore and never give the President a break—ever.. Lying and fake news was more than permitted but only positive Hillary news or negative Trump news was permitted to flow from the major channels.

Rush’s Limbaugh asks tough questions. He still wonders why when we hear the phrase that the Russians colluded with Trump to affect the outcome of the election, nobody ever describes what it was that Trump and the Russians actually did. What did they collude about? Perhaps it was too soon after the story was manufactured to have all the plot lines created?

Chapter 10 The Deep State is Real

What actually happened to make the Russia Collusion notion believable?

That's an easy one and a tough one at the same time because nobody in the mainstream media wants to deliver the truth and the Fourth Estate, the constitutionally provided free press has been destroyed by the Democrat Party. The fact is that Democrats and the Hillary Campaign and the Deep State began a dirty campaign operation against Trump. Even before the election, they used the power of the government to spy on Trump through his minions.

Then, with their left-over Obama power, they opened a special investigation that inspected just about every area of Trump's life and his business affairs. They looked at a lot more than just his supposed collusion with Russia. It all originated with the Hillary Clinton campaign. Yes, but it found more-than-willing participants in the remnants of Obama's national security and intelligence Deep State.

Pat Buchanan is never without an opinion. He sees similarities with attempts to bring Trump down and those from way back even to Nixon. Pat Buchanan, one of America's great writers, wrote the following quite recently

If you wish to see the deep state at work, this is it: anti-Trump journalists using First Amendment immunities to collude with and cover up the identities of bureaucratic snakes out to damage or destroy a president they despise. No wonder democracy is a declining stock worldwide.

And, yes, they give out Pulitzers for criminal collusion like this. The New York Times got a Pulitzer and the Post got a Hollywood movie starring Meryl Streep, for publishing stolen secret papers from the Pentagon of JFK and LBJ — to sabotage the Vietnam War policy of Richard Nixon.

Why? Because the hated Nixon was succeeding in extricating us with honor from a war that the presidents for whom the Times and Post hauled water could not win or end.

Not only have journalists given up any pretense of neutrality in this campaign to bring down the president, ex-national security officers of the highest rank are starting to sound like resisters.

Ex-CIA Director John Brennan openly speculated Tuesday that the president may have been compromised by Moscow and become an asset of the Kremlin.

“I think he's afraid of the president of Russia,” Brennan said of Trump and Putin. “The Russians, I think, have had long experience with Trump and may have things they could expose.”

As a very good friend of mine, my father, would say, if Brennan had another brain, it would be lonesome.”

What is the Deep State?

An acceptable definition would be a body of people, typically influential members of government agencies or the military, believed to be involved in the secret manipulation or control of government policy. The deep state and its policy of allowing extremist ideologies to flourish are believed to be actual issues of concern for the well-being and continuance of the country as founded.

In 2019, we all must conclude that our system is tragically broken when government officials can lie and deceive in an effort to thwart an American election and the opposition candidate is made the object of a take-down, not the candidate whose operatives created the original perpetration.

So, you may ask, and you should: “Where is the collusion?” “What is the conspiracy?” “What did Trump and the Russians do to steal any election from Hillary Clinton?” “Did they put a bunch of robots out there on social media, making fun of Hillary, criticizing Hillary?” “What did they do?”

No answer ever is obvious because the whole thing from the beginning has been a hoax perpetrated by the DNC and the Clinton campaign to explain away her embarrassing loss to Donald J. Trump in the 2016 election. Few Republicans who had sworn allegiance to the Party were solidly on the President’s team for the first two years.

Few to none were outspoken on the President’s behalf, working hard to prove his innocence and prove his opponent’s guilt. Just about the whole Republican Party was AWOL. The people remembered and kicked a goodly number out in the midterms and shifted the balance in the House to the Democrats. It is not nice to fool with Trump. I’d like to see a lot more get booted out in the next Republican Primary for they still do not give Trump or the people their allegiance.

From day one, Republicans brought on their own misery by not working for the Trump agenda. The people noticed. I noticed and more and more of people like me are noticing. Limbaugh goes on to say right now it is all academic, meaning that it is irrelevant.

There is so much claptrap about all this that it's entirely impossible to keep it front and center in one's mind. The people are not in a forgiving mood. With the Democrats led by Ocasio Cortez, acting like socialist boobs, and the Republicans paying lip service to Adam Schiff, the House and Senate are prime to change their composition again as more Republicans feel the pointy end of the people's boot.

Let's look at some facts again:

Hillary and her team -- 24 hours after her Chablis hangover concession speech, devised and came up with the explanation that her election loss was a result of foul play by her opponent. She blamed Trump and threw in the Russians for good measure. Since both were innocent, they were unaware of the supposed Hillary "proof." How clever? Her coterie claimed that the Russians tampered with the election? There is a book out which captures this idea cold. Here is the passage from that book:

"Within 24 hours of her concession speech, campaign chairman John Podesta and the campaign manager, Robby Mook, assembled Hillary's communications team at their Brooklyn headquarters to engineer the case that the election was not entirely on the up and up. "For a couple of hours, they went over the script they would pitch to the press and the public. Already Russian hacking was the centerpiece of the argument."

Hillary Clinton's campaign personnel were all burning with rage after the campaign. They did not just pay for the Kremlin-aided smear job (the infamous dossier) on Trump before the election; this wicked team continued to use the dirt after the election to frame her humbling loss as a Russian conspiracy to steal the election. Their powerful media connections had the press leading the charge for them as if this were all true.

They were bitter to the core and they were desperate because the unanticipated had actually occurred. Hillary had lost. Trump was the winner. Hillary had to concede. They would have paid anybody any amount to take Trump down; but few knew how to get that job done cleanly, so it was one vain attempt after another until they settled on Russian collusion.

Even President Obama weighed in but that too upset the Clinton Campaign. President Obama agreed with the count — “Donald Trump won, period.”

They first challenged the independent vote with recounts. Both Jill Stein and Hillary worked the recount angle til it would not work anymore. They also tried to get the Electoral College victory over-turned as seemingly, it was a huge California plurality (illegals?) gave that gave Hillary the popular vote.

Trump did not buy any of the attempts. He said: "In addition to winning the Electoral College in a landslide, I won the popular vote if you deduct the millions of people who voted illegally," Trump tweeted to the barely concealed contempt of many in the media. Typical was the utterly dismissive headline in The Nation, the flagship publication of the progressive movement: "The President-Elect Is an Internet Troll."

From his election, they were all out to get him one way or another. The fact that ¼ of the state of California is foreign born and Californians are said to permit illegal voting, Trump had a lot of reason to believe the popular vote in California was inflated because of California's liberal policies on voting.

The rest of the country was happy with the Electoral College results in which Trump slammed Hillary. Why would the other forty-eight states want California and NY to decide all national elections—especially with illegal voting a strong possibility.

They tried nonetheless to figure something out. As noted, she and her campaign aides hatched a scheme, reportedly within the first 24 hours after conceding the race, to spoon-feed the dirty rumors to an eager liberal media. Part of the deal was the manufactured narrative that Russia secretly colluded with her opponent to sabotage her coronation.

The irony for all fair-minded US citizens who had a right to vote in the election was that it was actually Hillary who was trying to kneecap

Trump, even after he had licked her, fair and square, in Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan and other blue states that she had mistakenly taken for granted.

The book which explains all this is titled: “Shattered: Inside Hillary Clinton’s Doomed Campaign,” by Jonathan Allen and Amie Parnes. Once its speculation of dirty tactics became facts—that Hillary’s campaign funded the dirty anti-Trump “Steele” dossier, the book took on a new meaning and sales went through the roof.

What is the point? Well, we now know that the Hillary presidential campaign paid for the dirty dossier about the “Golden Shower.” We know that the FISA court was not told that Hillary had financed this piece of garbage smear. We know that the Hillary campaign financed this nasty slime job on Trump. It was not fact. It was raw made-up opposition research packaged to look like legitimate intelligence. This happened before the election, but it carried through afterwards when Hillary needed it the most.

With the dossier in the arsenal, the campaign team got together and conjured up the script. They had other things to do but this turned out to be the most promising as the corrupt media was ready to support it. So this became the strategy that they would pitch to the press and the public about how the Trump win was illegitimate.

They believed they could overturn the election and the message was that Hillary should be the President. Some would say it was a Hail Mary of Hail Mary’s. Yet, the more they put it out there, the more they began to believe their own made-up lies and it immediately became the hit of “The Fake News Hour.” It shows how much in the Democrats’ pockets, the corrupt news networks really are. The Dems and the press are so thick some wonder whether it is actually the press leading the Dems.

For over two years now, we have been hearing the big claim that the election was a fraud. It was not on the up and up. The Dems thought with all this pressure, Trump would not be able to take it and he would capitulate and step down and then the case would be made to bypass Pence and bring in Hillary. It could not have been done without a fawning, corrupt press after the media was steered into covering how Russian hacking was the most unreported story of the campaign. Hah! Yet, before long everybody knew the dirty plot.

The lapdogs in the media went along with the ruse as expected. Hillary could do no wrong. They took the plot to heart and amplified it as needed. Trump had to go. Just like Bush's second term was illegit, the Democrats found a story onto which they could all hang their hats. Now all they needed was an effective plot to get rid of Trump and everybody would call for Hillary's overdue coronation.

We all know that the corrupt mainstream media was already playing ball on the Hillary team. So after the election, this non-factual fairy tale, fully strategized at Democrat HQ, became the endorsed story of Russian collusion. You remember after all of the third party votes were counted and Hillary still had lost, the Dems tried to undo the Electoral College results as several million illegal aliens had apparently voted, giving Crooked Hillary a big lead in the popular vote. They were like the man that would not die even though he was dead.

Sidenote re: Electoral College

FYI. Many do not fully understand the meaning of the Electoral college being used instead of the popular vote. It is not a place. It is a process for electing the President. The founders created the Electoral college so that each state would have a fair shot at having a person from their state having a shot at being the President of the US.

Without the Electoral College for example, big states such as California and New York together might theoretically, due to their large populations, be the only two states necessarily to win the presidency. In other words, without the Electoral College, each election could be decided by just a few states. If for example, you live in Pennsylvania, too bad, because just California and NY might be the only states necessary without the Electoral College

Those cursing the creators of the Electoral College should remember the tough sales job the Founders had trying to form the Union of states we know as the United States. Dealing with 13 autonomous states in order to form a union of all states was not an easy task. A mechanism that could be inserted into the constitution had to be determined.

To get this done, the Founders had to get agreement of nine of the 13 states to adopt the Constitution which would govern all. The Electoral college is in Article 1 Section 1. Small states would not have agreed to the constitution if their voice in the government were not assured. Pennsylvania for example would not have joined the union if the President always came from New York.

The Electoral College simply makes sure that less-populated states have a voice. The small states demanded it or there would be no Constitution. The Electoral College was one of the ways they came up with to make sure small states had the same kind of say in who was picked as a national leader.

As noted, the smaller states at the time the union was formed were afraid that if a president was elected by a national popular vote, the candidates would only go to the big cities. They would ignore the rural areas—you know, the places that folks in New York call 'flyover country.

Instead of the United States today, without the Electoral College to help in the formation of the Union, there might be 50 different countries in an alliance that had no teeth instead of the United States.

If you would like to learn more about the Electoral College, I wrote a book to help clear up the confusion. It is called The Electoral College 4 Dummies. I spelled it wrong intentionally. It is available at Amazon at <https://www.amazon.com/dp/0998268372>.

--- End of Electoral College Sidenote---

No matter where you went, the news was about Hillary's stolen victory. It filled the news media. About the same time and perhaps before, the deep state politicians and officials got involved and started providing daily anonymous source leaks to CNN, the New York Times, and the Washington Post. This made it all the more real as they leaked fake news that the Trump White House was falling apart. They were as bad as it could get. Yet, Trump survived, and the people love him for it,

We know now that many of these leaks came from defrocked FBI and Justice Department officials, British Agent Christopher Steele, and Deputy AG Rod Rosenstein, Andrew McCabe and Smiling Jim Comey. They are members of a group known collectively as The Deep State.

In the real world, the term Deep State is synonymous with a shadow government—a permanent yet formless administrative state that exists in contrast to the tangible public structures we’ve all come to know. Many think that Barack Obama in his Washington HQ still is the operating head of the Deep State.

That which is known as the US Deep State is secretive. It is a scary assortment of powerful groups and agencies. It entails a fluid network that includes intelligence agencies like the NSA, FBI, CIA, and Defense Department—agencies that run on secret surveillance, in-the-know Intel, and cryptic communication.

These are all agencies that play for high stakes, willing to do anything to make sure they don’t lose it all. This Deep State isn’t anything like your local town council or the Department of Agriculture. In other words, it is not your granddad’s government. It is bad, bad, bad for America and it is completely unlawful.

The term “Deep State” is not new but many Americans who became familiar with the term did not really believe something so sinister actually ever existed. It did and it does. It has been thrown around for years, but Donald Trump made sure we saw it clearly in early 2016 when he openly discussed a cabal—a secret political faction—that operated in Washington DC of unelected officials—that “swamp” that had to be drained, as he so demanded. The motto “drain the SWAMP,” came from this notion.

We all recall way back in 2014 when Eric Snowden, the infamous NSA whistleblower, exposed the reach of government surveillance, saying: “There’s definitely a deep state. Trust me, I’ve been there.” Few doubt Snowden today. The Deep State appears to be controlled by Democrats and those who are aligned on the left side of the political spectrum. The full force of the Deep State would not be felt if the Democrats, led by Barack Obama were not commanding these treasonous anti-American bad actors

A little more on the Deep State

How did the Deep State become so unstoppable?

The Deep State is real. They are and have been under the control of the leftovers of the Democrat Party since Obama had to find new living quarters in Washington. Many see Obama as the one who formed them and weaponized them in their existing US agencies and he gave them the breath of life they needed to become apparently legitimate to others in the government.

As noted, they don't like exposure, accountability, or responsibility. They fight back, outlast, and work the parts of the system they control to their advantage. Sometimes even conservatives talk about the Deep State as though it's just a dumb, inefficient bureaucracy.

However, it is a dangerous reality. Otherwise there would be some trials and a few folks at least in jail We'll soon see if AG William Barr is a member or an adversary of the Deep State. Like you all, I am hoping for the best. If, God forbid, the Deep State shadow government has more power than the real wheels of the United States government, that explains a lot about why the chant "lock her up!" sounded good but could never happen in a million years. .

The Deep State is definitely real. In fact, it is a dangerous reality. The Deep State is unconstitutional, organized, and exceptionally good at protecting itself from supervision.

As chairman of the House Oversight and Government Reform Committee, Jason Chaffetz was the tip of the spear challenging the Deep State and trying to hold them accountable individually. He took on the powerful forces at the IRS, the EPA, the DOJ, the Department of State, and others.

“The deeper I dove in, the more shocking the brazen approach by the power brokers became. They were accustomed to operating anonymously and without consequence. This is a problem bigger than we can even imagine and getting worse unless we do something dramatic to wrestle back control.”

Chaffetz’ stories are as enraging as they are endless. Every government department in a huge government bureaucracy employs highly paid workers whose primary role is to keep their work secret from the cowardly Congress and the public. Every department has an agenda they believe cannot be constrained by the democratic process. Every department is filled with people who believe they deserve steadily rising paychecks for less work than they would have to do at a private company.

While this metastasizing corruption tends to support Democrats, they will work with any party that lets them grow unchecked. That’s why they feel they must stop the anti-establishment agenda of Donald Trump. He is not one of them and would shut them down in an instant.

The Deep State has been in place for a long time. In this surprisingly entertaining and optimistic book, Jason Chaffetz highlights their tactics, illuminates the problems, and offers a way to fight back and win. He is no pushover.

Are the Swamp and the Deep State One and the Same?

Not exactly. To some, they seem the same. Not me. I view the swamp as including the Deep State but not vice versa. The Deep State includes the secret and public mechanisms of government and the portions of those mechanisms that do not have loyalty to the country or to the President whether the President is a rogue or a hard-liner Republican.

The swamp is less sinister but just as real. It includes all the donors and power brokers who exert major influence and control over the government. Neither of them are there to help John Q. Public. Swamp dwellers include those power brokers who make RINO’s RINOs and they live mostly on the left side of the political spectrum.

The Deep State is real but the ties to Obama are so secretive nobody is talking. I mean nobody. In a Sept 16, 2018 article posted by Tim Hains, for RealClearPolitics, titled, "Deep State Unmasked" Documentary, Most Of Them "Brag They Can't Get Fired" James O'Keefe tells it like it is on the Deep State:

James O'Keefe is a famous investigative journalist whose nose is always pressed against the glass seeking the truth. He is the founder of Project Veritas and author of American Pravda: My Fight for Truth in the Era of Fake News. O'Keefe has recently spoken about his next project, which he hopes will bring light into the depths of Washington's unseen bureaucracy—the Deep State.

O'Keefe has a big problem with unaccountable, unfirable lifetime government employees who abuse their power for personal or ideological whims. Here are his words:

"To some, this deep state is an anonymous, faceless resistance. To others, it is a vast unaccountable government bureaucracy or some would call it an extra-legal state within a state," O'Keefe offered. "Some call it a conspiracy theory. But that conspiracy theory recently took out an op-ed advertisement in the New York Times," he joked.

"At the most fundamental level, Americans make their voices heard through elections, and these people are circumventing that," he told the audience, adding, "A lot of them brag about how they can't get fired."

The fully identified perpetrators in the deep state include fired FBI Director, James Comey; former acting FBI Director Andrew McCabe, FBI agent Peter Strzok, and former FBI lawyer Lisa Page, Justice Department Official Bruce Ohr, Fusion GPS employee Nellie Ohr (Bruce's wife), and James Baker, FBI General Counsel. More recently Sally Yates, discussed below has become a central deep state figure. Surely more will be uncovered unless the Democrats are able to stop the investigation.

Former Obama Deputy Attorney General and very brief Acting Attorney General in the first days of the Trump Administration, Sally Yates, became a major person of interest in the Deep State Cabal. Bruce Ohr, previously mentioned, worked for Sally Yates.

The cabal, by the way is the group of corrupt FBI and DOJ officials who apparently attempted to tilt the 2016 election to Hillary Clinton and since have worked to undermine the Trump presidency at every turn. Sally Yates took an aggressive posture against Trump right from the outset.

You may recall her brief moment in the spotlight back on January 30, 2017. Donald Trump wasted no time in firing her, when she refused to enforce his initial travel ban order. “She knew better.” She then got another bit of media sunshine on May 8, when she sat before the Senate Judiciary Committee about her role in concocting the “Logan Act” violation scheme that ultimately trapped General Mike Flynn. It led to Flynn’s guilty plea for lying to the FBI.

That sentence is still not imposed as it was determined. The plea is currently on hold until at least May 2019 at the request of Special Counsel Robert Mueller. BTW, Mueller finds his reason for being in his current role increasingly under political fire and public suspicion.

With AG Barr now involved, the report was supposed to be out this week, has again been postponed. Conservatives and Liberals alike are looking to see what Barr’s role will be in the Mueller investigation. Will Barr clean up the mess in the DOJ and FBI and Mueller probe, or will he let it continue to fester? Maybe we can find a government collusion antibiotic.

Getting back to Sally Yates, she had become a cause celebre’ in leftwing circles for her defiant testimony last May. Little had been heard from her since that time, but two new revelations got her right back in the middle of things before her celebrity firing by Trump.

First was the really goofy email that Susan Rice concocted and then sent to herself at 12:15 AM on January 20, 2017. This piece of work was found when the process was under way in 2017 by Senators Lindsey Graham and Charles Grassley. In a low-budget CYA move, Rice claimed that President Obama, in discussing his senior staff's interactions with the Trump Transition team on January 5, instructed everyone to do everything "by the book." Humph!

Nobody talks like this especially to themselves so clearly something else was in play from that meeting. It had Ms. Rice extremely concerned enough to fire off her CYA email. She also listed other senior officials being present in that meeting, including Joe Biden, James Comey and – the star of these last few paragraphs, then Deputy AG Sally Yates. Can you imagine. Could it have been the monthly meeting of the unknowns in the Obama Deep State Society? Could it have included "Plugs" Biden?

The FBI agents who interviewed General Flynn had already noted and had told Comey that they did not believe Flynn had misled them during his interview. Mueller nonetheless nailed Flynn for lying.

When Ms. Yates concocted an absurd scenario that Flynn was somehow in violation of the 218 year-old Logan Act, a law that never in U.S. history had been enforced because of its questionable constitutionality, Flynn suddenly came under harsh criticism in the fake news media and was ultimately fired by the President.

All of this seems familiar because it was in the press at the time. Comey went to Capitol Hill in March to brief lawmakers privately. He then revealed that the FBI agents who interviewed Flynn did not believe Flynn had lied. Comey also noted that any inaccuracies in Flynn's answers were intentional. And that is when some lawmakers got the impression that Flynn would not be charged with any crime pertaining to the Jan. 24 interview. Mueller's team was interested in a takedown.

So, with the Mueller Special Counsel staff floundering around, desperate to pin something on somebody, Flynn ultimately was manipulated into pleading guilty in November to lying to the FBI. How was this? Either Comey lied to Congress last March and that would not be surprising, or perhaps FBI Super-Agent Peter Strzok and the other FBI agents present in that meeting with Flynn lied to Comey—which also would surprise no one. There were a bunch of creeps in the FBI and the DOJ at the time. Many on the good side are still not sure if they have all been purged—even now.

The bottom line on the repurposing of the Deep State is often discussed by Rush Limbaugh who recently offered this take on the deep state Here it is as a quote:

The objective is that all of this “has been not to find Trump guilty, not to find... Maybe as a bonus, maybe some impeachable offenses. But the real purpose has been to just rein Trump in and stop him, to keep him sidetracked, to keep him obstructed, to keep him confused, to keep him unable to advance his agenda, to keep his staff in constant turmoil.

It has basically been a deep state plot to prevent Donald Trump from being Donald Trump, to prevent Donald Trump from having any kind of success with his agenda at all, with the added bonus being that along the way they can create the idea that Trump stole something like an election or is a thug-criminal and bad guy. But all of it -- and it's an important distinction, because they started all this knowing full well there wasn't any crime here. There wasn't any crime mentioned when Mueller was appointed, which violates Justice Department regulations.”

Democrats out to get Trump because of Hillary

We can say that Democrats have been trained to hate Trump because Hillary lost the election and we would be correct. But, few of us can believe that Democrats never really loved Hillary with a passion. They loved Bill, but not so much Hillary. Many voted against her after all or she would have won. There still are many more registered D's than R's.

My point is that no matter who ran against Trump, Trump was a different kind of guy who was not about to suck up to anybody. He is loved by the people but not by entrenched politicians, whether Democrat or Republican.

Hillary happens to be the place holder for all this corruption because she actually ran against Trump, but no matter which Democrat ran against Trump and lost, the Democratic Party would have been surprised. Just like with Hillary, they would have blown a gasket, lost all their hinges and blamed the loss on Trump. Remember they blamed Bush for Al Gore's loss. They never blame themselves and their poor policies for America. They are never motivated to tell the truth unless of course it is accidentally.

The Democrats of 2019 are plain ole nasty. They were nasty in the 1960's when the country was in turmoil and they are nasty again. In the 1960's the few network channels and the lack of color on TVs to make things look more real made those days seem mild compared to the Democrat tools of destruction used today. They ought to find the ghost of the Viet Nam era Barry Maguire to check out whether again we are on the eve of destruction.

See what Barry was singing back then

Barry McGuire

The eastern world, it is explodin',
Violence flarin', bullets loadin',
You're old enough to kill but not for votin',
You don't believe in war, but what's that gun you're totin',
And even the Jordan river has bodies floatin',
But you tell me over and over and over again my friend,
Ah, you don't believe we're on the eve of destruction.

Don't you understand, what I'm trying to say?
And can't you feel the fears I'm feeling today?
If the button is pushed, there's no running away,
There'll be no one to save with the world in a grave,
Take a look around you, boy, it's bound to scare you, boy,
And you tell me over and over and over again my friend,
Ah, you don't believe we're on the eve of destruction.

Yeah, my blood's so mad, feels like coagulatin',
 I'm sittin' here, just contemplatin',
 I can't twist the truth, it knows no regulation,
 Handful of Senators don't pass legislation,
 And marches alone can't bring integration,
 When human respect is disintegratin',
 This whole crazy world is just too frustratin',
 And you tell me over and over and over again my friend,
 Ah, you don't believe we're on the eve of destruction.

Think of all the hate there is in Red China!
 Then take a look around to Selma, Alabama!
 Ah, you may leave here, for four days in space,
 But when your return, it's the same old place,
 The poundin' of the drums, the pride and disgrace,
 You can bury your dead, but don't leave a trace,
 Hate your next door neighbor, but don't forget to say grace,
 And you tell me over and over and over and over again my friend,
 You don't believe we're on the eve of destruction.

No, no, you don't believe we're on the eve of destruction.

The difference between then and now is that Barry Maguire wanted things to be better where today's Democrats certainly seem to want everybody to begin to hate the United States and therefore, we should revolt against it and bring in Marxist socialism or Lenin's Communism.

I ask, what's wrong with America? And with everybody wanting to come here uninvited, I have concluded: Not too much! They want to come to America because it is the finest place in the world.

To Democrats: Did Black Lives Matter?

Back then as some may recall the order of the day was disorder. There was civil disobedience, mass demonstrations, outlandish stunts, celebrity activism, vulgar language, pornographic satire, and Nazi analogies. There was pretty much every form of resistance that we see today but there was no 24-hour news cycle pushing CNN lies in our faces every minute of every day.

Nonetheless the same claptrap that we see today was deployed in the late 1960s, too—including accosting administration officials and family members when they ventured out in public. No it was not Maxine Waters leading the charge then as she was not yet of age and there was a minimal chance that she would have been elected then as few blacks were elected for public office and none before 1870. The Democrat Party kept blacks down just like they do today. No blacks could possibly be elected.

We, who studied just the basics of history, know that nasty Democrats throughout American History hated blacks in the same way in which they now hate Trump. That ought to make blacks love Trump because he loves Blacks and is changing history to help Blacks and Hispanics, and that is very good. Don't listen to Democrat propaganda (lies).

So, through the years, the Democrat Party did what they could to keep blacks, called negroes back then, or perhaps worse by Democrats, minimized. The objective of the Democrats was to assure that “negroes” did not interfere with the fine lives of “respectable” Democrats. I know you who read this book believe me but for those who do not, it is all documented in history.

The truth should certainly give African Americans pause and anger them a lot. So many good people placed their trust solely in the hands of self-serving cowardly Democrats and yet the same cowardly Democrats betrayed them and then lied to their faces about it.

It was not the Republicans. It was the Democrats who denied black people civil rights from the days right after Republican-led armies crushed slavery in the US by winning the Civil War.

Abraham Lincoln was a Republican and his biggest obstacle was Democrats. But Democrats of today lie better than Republicans so it is easy for those who love Democrats regardless of the truth, to be fooled. I am not kidding about that. Democrats are great liars and they still are. They lie to get their own way all the time. No joke intended.

The message for blacks and for whites, but especially black people, because they never hear it in the modern media, is that before Charlottesville, Democrats voted for racist policies for more than 100 years. They do not deserve any of our trust. Now, they want to kill the live babies born despite an abortionist's attempt to snuff them out. Are Democrats worthy of your trust? I find them not worthy of any human privileges as they deny anything fair to all others.

By the way, most of those babies that are now OK to kill are black because most abortions are performed on black women. There are 19 million babies who would today be young black adults if they had not been aborted. Why do blacks love the Democrats so much when Democrat history says blacks are less than people?

Why do white Democrats incite blacks to think that white Republicans are against them when it has always been white Republicans who have been on the front lines to assure that the civil rights movement was successful? Why is that?

Why when I have believed all my life that color does not matter as there is no color in a man's soul, why are Democrats always calling people like me, who are colorblind, racist? What do they gain by making blacks hate conservative whites? They gain only if blacks believe whiteness is bad and therefore blacks must pay homage to Democrats. But, Whiteness is not bad just like Blackness is not bad. But, Democrats who push that nasty agenda are bad for sure. .

Abortion and infanticide are bad

I am against abortion for blacks and whites but in this instance, so we all know we are not talking about abortion, we are rehashing briefly infanticide after a botched abortion. A botched abortion is one in which the baby lives. Blacks are affected most by abortions and thus they will be affected most by the legalization of infanticide. Facts are facts.

In the United States, the abortion rate for Black women is almost 4 times that of White women. On average, 900 Black babies are aborted every day in the United States. This tragedy continues to impact the population levels of African-Americans in the United States.

It pains me to say that more than 19 million Black babies have been aborted since the 1973 Roe v. Wade U.S. Supreme Court decision legalized abortion in our country. Think about the percentage of the US population that represents. f

Jennifer Kerns wrote a great expose that was published in the Washington Examiner on the subject of racism in politics on August 18, 2017 Her focus was not abortion or infanticide. It was about Democrat reluctance over the years to give blacks a fair shake.

Jennifer Kerns: The Democratic Party was responsible for passing Jim Crow laws, in addition to Black Civil Codes that forced Americans to utilize separate drinking fountains, swimming pools, and other facilities in the 20th century. (from Wikipedia Commons)

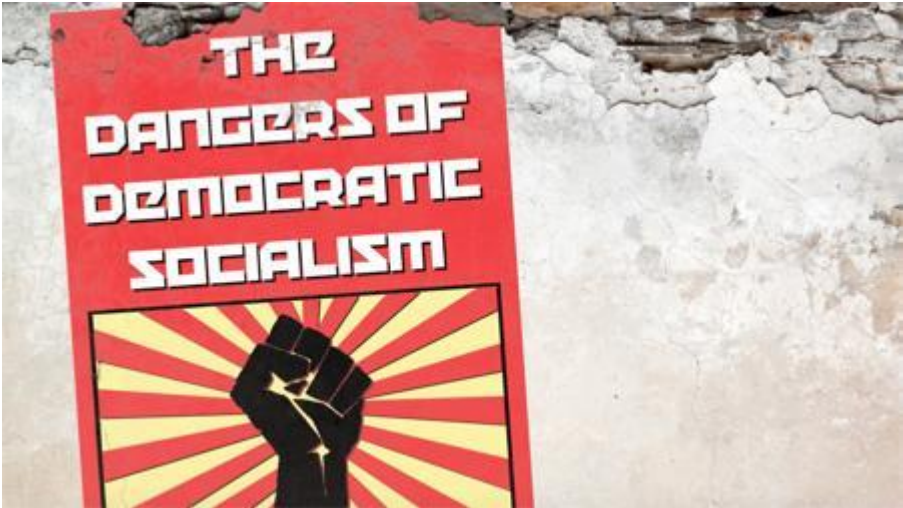

Here are a few excerpts from her powerful piece

“In the aftermath of Charlottesville, an awful lot of awful things have been said about Republicans and race relations.

However, the Left's [Democrat's] accusations of racism couldn't be further from the truth that has played out in the halls of our cowardly Congress over the last 150 years.

It is shocking that as talk of statues and historical racism is being bandied about, no one has mentioned the Democrats' utterly shameful treatment of African Americans throughout history.

They were simply bad, bad, bad.

Over the past 100 years it has been Republicans, not Democrats who have stood up for African Americans. Meanwhile Democrats not only stood on the sidelines, but in fact served as obstructionists to civil liberties.

Kerns put together 12 examples and has lots more to cite of Democrats voting against African Americans, and Republicans voting to free them. African Americans are taught that Democrats are good; but history proves this is not true.

Nasty Democrats voted against every piece of civil rights legislation in Congress from 1866 to 1966. Of course this is a dismal record of which nobody should be proud. That is why today's Democrats would like you to believe that history has been on their side on this issue. It hasn't.

That does not stop today's Democrats from seeing it their way even though it was a different story in truth. Democrats and other lefties are not above lying to get you convinced. Don't believe them. Check your history.

Here is part of the list put together by Kerns

- Democrats voted to keep Africans Americans in slavery, opposing the 13th Amendment which officially freed the slaves. Only four Democrats voted for it.
- Republicans also passed the 14th Amendment which granted slaves U.S. citizenship; Democrats voted against it.
- Republicans also passed the 15th Amendment which gave slaves the right to vote. Not a single one of the 56 Democrats in Congress voted for it. Shame on them.
- Republicans passed all of the Civil Rights laws of the 1860s — including the Civil Rights Act of 1866 and the Reconstruction Act of 1867 following the Civil War.
- The Republican Party itself was founded as the "anti-slavery party" in 1854. The party subsequently gave us President Abraham Lincoln and ultimately, the Emancipation Proclamation which led to the liberation of slaves.
- Republicans supported African Americans not only in the 1800s, but in modern times as well.
- In the 1960s, with the exception of Democrat President Lyndon B. Johnson, who was instrumental in the passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the 1965 Voting Rights Act in the wake of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the truth is that Democrats were the largest single blockade to civil rights.
- Long after slavery was over, the Democratic Party continued down their path to deny African Americans their rights. Wikipedia refers to this as the era of "disenfranchisement" when "Democrats worked to exclude blacks" from civil liberties.
- You don't hear the "antifa" movement or anyone else on the Left talking about Democrats' shameful involvement in American history, nor do many speak of Republicans' brave work on behalf of African Americans.
- President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a Republican, appointed Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren who penned the Brown v. Board of Education decision that ended school segregation forever.

- It was also a Republican, Sen. Everett Dirksen from Illinois (the "Land of Lincoln"), who wrote numerous pieces of legislation including the Civil Rights Act of 1968 which banned discrimination in housing.
- It was Republican President Richard M. Nixon who introduced the "Philadelphia Plan" that serves as the blueprint for affirmative action today.

OK, that is enough for now. If you would like to read Kern's masterful piece so you get your civil rights story correct, feel free to go out to your favorite browser and type in her article title and it will take you to it. Then, you can enjoy reading the whole thing right from the Washington Examiner's Web Site Remember Not everything is the same as it seems to be.

Democrats are plain old nasty. You've seen their behavior recently and it is not your father's Democrat Party. They will hurt you if you cross them. If they can get you back when you choose to oppose them, you can count on getting it back in triple measure or worse. From 1870 to 1930, because of the prejudice of Democrats, just 19 blacks were elevated to the Congress of the US. Actually the 19 were already on the books at the turn of the century.

The generational period beginning in 1930 followed an absence of African-American members in Congress from 1901 to 1929. Why? Democrats would not give blacks an inch of success. Republicans are so unaware of how nasty Democrats have been in history towards black Americans, most could not tell you why this happened. Democrats were the nasty perpetrators and they know why, whether they choose to tell you or not. Ask them.

Democrats live their lies; but they are often too dumb to know they are lying. If we were building a cast for a play and we might have some from Republican Casting and others from Democrat Casting, until this year, we would find the Democrats from Central Casting as minimally corrupt but just enough to notice. Their selected cast member would look slightly dopey with a do-gooder tattooed above the elbow. He or she would have stars in their eyes and a lot of gold in their hearts. As docile as that sounds, it was always tough for Republicans to fight these dopey do-gooders as the people still believed their bull.... Those days are gone. Bad Democrats have been exposed.

There is now a new Democrat caricature emerging and each day that it seems like it can't be that bad, it gets even worse. Democrats have toughened up. They are still dopey (Ocasio Cortez) and not close to being smart about what is right in life, but their new image is that of a power-obsessed politician who will do anything to win. Think of the lovely Nancy Pelosi, ever conservative's favorite voodoo doll.

They do not care who they hurt even if it is all of America. They are also big cowards, just like in the past. They are afraid to let anybody know who they really are. They'd like to say that MLK is their hero but they do not act at all like the great MLK.

Unlike Martin Luther King, one of my heroes, as I watched his goodness form a movement of blacks and whites that has had everlasting positive results for America, these newbie Democrats simply want to win at all costs even if all of America, black, white, and brown, is lost in winning their unworthy cause.

Yes, their leadership such as Pelosi and Schumer and Cortez are that bad and maybe even worse. Don't identify them as they are not like Dr. King who needed to be known. Democrat cowards of today love being in Congress so they can lurk in the background, hoping not to be spotted while they ruin the good works of others to the fullest extent possible.

Chapter 11 Why Do Democrats Hate Trump?

Does Trump love America & Americans too much?

Donald Trump has to deal with a lot of hate every day. We all see it. Nobody else in my opinion could put up with what he gets and that is why Democrats had felt until now that they could beat him. They figured that simply by being nasty and having their co-conspirators in the US press ready to pile on, Trump could not beat them. But, they rue that strategy today as they were wrong. .

All Americans know that their President Donald Trump gets a world of hurt thrown at him every day from the press and their Democrat leadership. It makes Americans love him more as he responds and does not cower like cowardly members of Congress do, when their donors ask what they have given them recently.

The members of the corrupt press all seem to believe in the myth that though the elections were fair, somehow Trump cheated Hillary out of her long overdue presidency. They won't even entertain the truth that it was Hillary who cheated; but she lost anyway.

Trump gets it from everybody—even Republicans who ought to simply retire. He gets it from sour-pussed Never Trump RINOS who do not like the idea of self-made-men eclipsing politicians who have never even had jobs.

And, hard as it to believe he gets it from the bastions of our internal democracy—the Justice department and the FBI, CIA, IRS and whoever the eight years of Obama have affected in the Deep State. Obama weaponized every US agency he could during his tenure, and he had them turn those weapons on Trump because even when he was no longer president, he still commanded this force in the Deep State.

There are many of us who believe that Obama still leads them from his rat hole in Washington DC as the big secret boss of the Deep State. BTW, there are no laws against marijuana in the rat hole so Obe Wan Kabama can be quite content in place.

Kid Obama, a rich guy enjoying life like many wish they could

Few would argue that the curse Democrats have placed on Trump with the help of their fully aligned Deep State press, has made our President the most unloved President of all time—according to corrupt polls. Only honest brokers of the truth would tell you that Trump does not deserve the rap.

God loves Trump

The people who know the truth love the President and so does God. After all, God picked him to lead America. I am not kidding about that. If it were not God, then you tell me who it was? Just look what Trump has accomplished while everybody was against him. It is amazing.

The list of agency traitors which I listed for you in a previous chapter have taken their toll on this presidency yet the Commander in Chief gains energy by their inane attempts to bring him down. I am glad Trump has a sense of humor. I am amazed at his strength and resiliency.

Cortez wants whatever you have

Along with turning off the gas, and powering down the airplanes, and taking away the people's cars, and even mopeds, and collecting the guns, of course, the new Ocasio Cortez Democrats from 2019 will be hammering the American people with ridiculous regulations forever. Expect no steak and no friendly grass-eating cows. There will be no stopping them if they gain the presidency.

Eventually, maybe they will discover that human gaseous excretions also contain methane and so there should be no orders to resuscitate for any human permitted. Adult humans, who are deceased no longer hurt the planet.

When the real objective for kids (29 yrs of age) for old farts like me (no I won't tell you my age as long as Cortez is in power) is to die earlier to save the planet, think of all the healthcare dollars that can be saved. When keeping people alive is no longer the most important objective of US medicine, killing them off can save a lot of cash.

Maybe they will collect volunteers so those wanting to catch a few reruns of Ben Casey can get them in before the newly minted Cortez activated US grim reaper comes to fetch them away for eternity.

Democrats believe that a few less oldsters would be good for the planet. Climate Change enthusiasts would cheer but their cheers would mute a bit as the age is lowered for resuscitations—perhaps.

Of course, the Cowardly Congress of the US would have an exception for themselves because of their importance to keeping the death spiral spinning.

This may all seem funny until you hit the magic age of extinction yourself.

I am pretty sure that with positive spin it will be called distinction and not extinction. Perhaps there can be a bronze statue for everybody who promises to no longer breathe out that nasty CO<sub>2</sub> gas. Of course, if the gas cannot be exhaled, all persons who promise and keep the promise will die soon one at a time. But, then again, the planet Earth will live longer with fewer humans. Ask the Big Green Deal people.

All good cannot exist without some bad. What would God say? Democrats would simply not know. They do not believe God loves Trump, but more and more good Americans are coming to the realization that Trump is one of God's favorites.

From 2017 onwards

President Trump, much to the chagrin of Democratic leaders and some hard left rank and file Democrats is actually still alive and quite well today. The Cortez Storm Troopers are not powerful enough to take Trump down.

Nancy Pelosi, the ultimate hypocrite of 2019 with her own personal wall, and her desire to live forever looking like a twenty-year old prom queen, has declared it immoral for the country to be protected by a border wall. Yet, she won't give up her own personal protection.

From Inauguration day and even before, the corrupt press, the Democrats, the deep state, and the Never Trumpers have worked together and separately to assure that the people's agenda brought forth in the election of President Trump continues to be unfulfilled.

Worse than that, they have colluded and conspired to remove the President from office. Never Trumpers, and RINOs slowed all things Trump in Congress and that is why we still have Obamacare and we still have no border wall. For two years, nasty two-faced Republicans prevented it as the Democrats during this period had no power at all—just their wind and the corrupt press.

For two years, Democrats conspired to hurt Trump and have had their Trump removal work done for them by the Deep State .

With RINO Paul Ryan running things in the House for the Wimpy Republicans, for Trump's first two years, there was no chance of the Trump agenda for the people ever coming to pass. It is hard to believe that Ryan actually worked on the Tax bill as that clearly helped Trump.

However, he slow-walked everything else and was a great Democrat friend for his last two years in Congress. He disgusted most conservatives. It was hard to tell if Ryan was for or against Trump most of the time. But, in retrospect, he was a swamp rat for sure.

GOP Rep. Matt Gaetz took a big shot at Ryan's ambivalence in the middle of this past year. Ryan was a major obstruction for the Trump Agenda and is solely responsible for little getting through the Congress though Republicans were the majority. Gaetz came right out and accused Ryan with siding with the "deep state," the FBI and the Justice Department over congressional Republicans trying to conduct oversight on those agencies.

Ryan protected the bad guys in his last two years in office. Good riddance. Can you imagine the damage this cowardly wimp would have done if he were Romney's VP. Two big disappointments.

Rush Limbaugh recently cleared up any thoughts some of us may have had about the ineffectiveness of the Republicans in Trump's first nine months. He said that they were lining up with Democrats as they felt that the efforts of the FBI and the Justice Department and the Deep

State against Trump were so ferocious that no regular man would last. So, they felt that was excuse enough for them not to invest in Trump since he was going to be taken-out right away anyway. Why waste the effort?

And, so, it took them about nine months before Republicans finally came out of hiding to at least pretend they were on the President's team. The Never Trumper cowardly Republicans, of course, still are not on the President's team.

It is amazing that Trump, despite all this, through his strong will, intelligence and pure cunning has been able to move the country forward with everybody, Democrats and RINO Republicans alike, or so it seemed, providing major headwinds to his advances.

In October 2018 before the midterms, As Trump neared the two-year mark of his historic election, at his political rallies around the country, he had a lot to talk about when he began to discuss his wins. The people cheered and cheered.

Trump always hoped the rallies would energize Republican voters and those who were simply unaware that the administration had counted up 289 great accomplishments in 18 categories. This was capped off by the confirmation of Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court. Trump has a lot more wins now. He is a human win dynamo. The people love it. The rallies worked and still work.

His work for America includes 173 major wins, such as adding more than 4 million jobs, and another 116 smaller victories, some with outsize importance, such as the 83 percent one-year increase in arrests of MS-13 gang members. If Trump, spoke just of his accomplishments, all of which were with major opposition someplace, he would never be able to get to the essence of his rally speech as time would run out. We are all lucky he is our president and that God loves him.

The President's successes (and yes, he does love to win) in reducing the cost of taxes and regulations, rebuilding our military, avoiding wars of choice and changing the courts rival those of all previous Republican presidents," said Grover Norquist, president of Americans for Tax Reform. Only Democrats—and I have friends in this category—who are intentionally blind to the good Trump has done, would deny him his wins but they are wrong. Trump is a phenomenon. Democrats hate him so much that they deny him successes that they know would benefit all Americans.

Don't trade Trump for any trade deal

Trump was able to brag after just one year about his administration's superhuman efforts to rewrite the much-maligned and poorly negotiated trade deals with Canada and Mexico. In year two, Trump claimed a well-earned victory when his team negotiated an historic U.S.-Mexico-Canada Trade Agreement to replace NAFTA. Trump knows what he is doing for the business of the country and his successes, though they help America, they enrage the Democrats and the Deep State.

John McLaughlin, Trump's 2016 campaign pollster in The Washington Examiner writes: "President Trump is a truly unique leader in American history. He's a kid from Queens who became an international business leader and made billions by getting things done when no one said he could.

"They told him he couldn't be president and beat the establishment and he did. For two years the establishment has been telling him that he can't do things in Washington and he's been succeeding in spite of them. He never retreats. He doesn't back up. He's relentless. He just wins," McLaughlin added.

Chapter 12 The Deep State & Anti-Trump Timeline

Does McCabe have nine lives?

Former FBI Director Andrew McCabe, who was fired from the FBI for lying and not being candid with investigators, came out of the woodwork again in February 2019 and began a series of interviews with CNN, CBS, NPR, and anyone else who would pay him to promote his new book about his experience with President Trump. None of the Deep State actors so far have had to do any jail time for their actions against America and with our weak, wobbly, and cowardly Congress. They may never have to pay the price.

In his NPR interview McCabe let loose and condemned what he called the "relentless attack" that President Trump has waged against the FBI even as it continues scrutinizing whether Americans in Trump's campaign may have conspired with the Russians who attacked the 2016 election. Those of us who have been watching agree with Trump's slant on things and we find Trump's FBI comments on the mark. McCabe was thrown out of the FBI for lying. Remember, After all, the FBI and the DOJ as part of a Deep State Cabal, conspired to take Trump down. How would you react?

McCabe told NPR: "I don't know that we have ever seen in all of history an example of the number, the volume and the significance of the contacts between people in and around the president, his campaign, with our most serious, our existential international enemy: the government of Russia," McCabe told NPR's Morning Edition. "That's just remarkable to me." Most find Andrew McCabe difficult to believe on any topic. If on a rainy day, McCabe said it was raining, many would doubt that he was telling the truth.

As most know already, McCabe left the FBI after 21 years last March, when he was dismissed for an "alleged in a media" leak probe unrelated to the special counsel investigation.

While with NPR, he declined to conclude that Trump or his advisers colluded with Russia, McCabe said the evidence special counsel Robert Mueller has made public to date—including new disclosures about an August 2016 meeting between former campaign chairman Paul Manafort and Konstantin Kilimnik, whom the FBI has linked to Russian intelligence "is incredibly persuasive." I think we are all better off letting the Mueller Probe play out before we start giving known liar Andrew McCabe any credence. By now, we all know the entire Russia debacle has been a big hoax and a perpetration on the people of the US by the Democrat Party. Perhaps a few Democrats should be investigated. I have a feeling these hoaxes would end soon afterwards.

Since McCabe began to take us back in history through the Deep State events in his series of interviews in February, let's pause for a bit now and go back in time to review what the Deep State has done to our country and our President.

The McCabe Timeline for the deep state was presented well recently in a 2019 expose by axios at <https://www.axios.com/who-is-andrew-mccabe>. Feel free to review this at your leisure.

FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe has used every opportunity to face off against President Trump both before and since his firing in March 2018. In his upcoming book "The Threat," McCabe recounts his time as deputy director and his embattled relationship with the president. If you have friends who like reading lies and innuendos about President Trump, McCabe's new book is the perfect gift.

Here's a look at the back and forth between McCabe and the President since then...and even before.

2016

During the Obama Administration, FBI Director Comey appointed Andrew McCabe as Deputy Director of the FBI on January 29, 2016, and he assumed those duties on February 1, 2016. This was during the presidential campaign season. In this role, McCabe oversaw all FBI domestic and international investigative and intelligence activities. He was the logical choice for acting Director when Comey was fired.

2017

May 9: Trump fired the most egregious liar and leaker in his administration-- FBI director Comey. Before the firing, Trump reportedly had complained to Comey that the investigation into possible collusion between his campaign and the Kremlin was a "cloud" over his presidency and asked Comey to "let [Michael Flynn] go." Trump did all he could to keep Comey but the former director was clearly an antagonist to the good of the country.

McCabe was named acting director when Comey was fired. I bet Trump wishes he had another bite at that Apple as it did not take long for Trump to regret his choice of Acting Deputy.

McCabe had been affected by all of the deep state activities at the time and looking back it appears that McCabe was already poisoned against Trump, and he was surely upset that his boss and buddy James Comey had been fired.

May 11: With minimal experience at the helm, McCabe testified before the Senate Intelligence Committee as acting director on the state of the Russia probe.

One of many notes of controversy surrounding his position with the FBI was that his wife was a Democrat politician. She ran for a Virginia State Senate seat in 2015. In her run, she accepted hundreds of thousands of dollars in donations from Democrat operatives. One must question how McCabe could be objective regarding President Trump when his wife's bread was buttered by the political party opposed to the President.

May: After he became acting director, Trump asked McCabe in an Oval Office meeting who he voted for in 2016, per the Washington Post. McCabe says he didn't vote.

According to many sources and McCabe himself, during the critical eight day period after the Comey firing, Justice Department officials discussed whether to invoke the 25th Amendment. This is serious business.

It occurred between Trump's May 2017 firing of former FBI Director James Comey and the appointment of special counsel Robert Mueller. In the eyes of knowledgeable pundits, this precipitated the Mueller probe when Rod Rosenstein, another Comey buddy, serving as Deputy AG, initiated the probe. Trump was unaware of what many see as the beginning of a coup d'état to remove the President at this time.

So that we all have the meaning of this action correct, the French term coup d'état is also known as a putsch, a golpe, or simply a coup. It means the overthrow of an existing government; typically, this refers to an illegal, unconstitutional seizure of power by a dictator, the military, or a political faction. In this case, it was the Deep State and they almost pulled it off.

Looking at this definition you can see how close McCabe and the Deep State were to sedition / treason. Some question today whether the acts we will be outlining actually crossed the line from discussion to plotting.

July 25: Trump tweets, "the acting head of the FBI & the person in charge of the Hillary investigation, Andrew McCabe, got $700,000 from H for wife!"

July 26: Trump is more than awake at this time to McCabe not being on his friend list. Trump tweets, "Why didn't A.G. Sessions replace Acting FBI Director Andrew McCabe, a Comey friend who was in charge of Clinton investigation...?"

August 2: Christopher Wray was sworn in as the new FBI director.

McCabe went from Acting Director to assume his former position of Deputy Director.

December 23: The Washington Post reported that McCabe had plans to retire in March 2018 "when he becomes fully eligible for pension benefits."

Trump was on to the disloyal nature of McCabe's tenure with the FBI and he let it be known. The same day, Dec 23, two days before Christmas, 2017, Trump went after McCabe on Twitter: "How can FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe, the man in charge, along with leakin' James Comey, of the Phony Hillary Clinton investigation (including her 33,000 illegally deleted emails) be given $700,000 for wife's campaign by Clinton Puppets during investigation?" He later tweets, "FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe is racing the clock to retire with full benefits. 90 days to go?!!!!"

2018

Jan. 23: Axios' Jonathan Swan reported that AG Jeff Sessions, at the public urging of President Donald Trump had been pressuring FBI Director Christopher Wray to fire McCabe, but Wray threatened to resign if McCabe was removed.

The same day, January 23, the Washington Post reported that Trump asked McCabe who he had voted for in the 2016 election during an Oval Office conversation shortly after Comey's firing and that McCabe found the question "disturbing." Was Trump attempting to find out whether McCabe had any loyalty to the United States? Others had already determined that he had no loyalty.

Jan. 29: NBC reported that McCabe was stepping down, and undisclosed sources told CBS' Pat Milton that McCabe was being forced out. Press Secretary Sarah Sanders said the President and the White House were not involved in McCabe's decision to step down.

Jan. 30: Senior officials at the FBI including McCabe, were aware that a batch of emails from Hillary Clinton had been found on Anthony Weiner's laptop long before then-Director James Comey disclosed their existence to Congress, the Wall Street Journal reported. Trump already had misgivings on Comey which had led to his firing.

March 16: McCabe was fired late Friday on this day. It was shortly before his formal retirement. His firing followed an IG report that concluded he improperly disclosed secret information to reporters.

It was none other than Attorney General Jeff Sessions who made the announcement late Friday that he had fired FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe effective immediately. There was scuttlebutt in the corrupt press about the firing coming just days before McCabe's retirement benefits would have kicked in.

As noted, McCabe had abruptly announced his intention to resign in January. But he did not get his chance as the agency recommended in March that he be fired immediately. He was thus fired from the agency in the midst of a review into the FBI's handling of the investigation into Hillary Clinton's use of a private email server while she was serving as Secretary of State.

Sessions created a statement in which he said McCabe's firing was the result of an "extensive and fair" probe of alleged misconduct, which concluded that he had made "an unauthorized disclosure to the news media and lacked candor – including under oath – on multiple occasions."

"The FBI expects every employee to adhere to the highest standards of honesty, integrity, and accountability," Sessions said.

President Trump was pleased to have McCabe out and he applauded Sessions' decision, calling it "a great day for democracy."

"Andrew McCabe FIRED, a great day for the hard working men and women of the FBI," Trump said on Twitter, adding: "Sanctimonious James Comey was his boss and made McCabe look like a choirboy. He knew all about the lies and corruption going on at the highest levels of the FBI!"

March 30: McCabe's old DOJ/FBI team set up a GoFundMe page raised over a half million dollars to help cover McCabe's legal fees. In early April McCabe shut down the GoFundMe account.

There was a lot of talk that it was unfair to fire the cooked McCabe just two days short of FBI retirement as this "cost him his federal pension." Everybody seemed to want to help McCabe in his pension circumstance:

Andrea Mitchell wrote: "One suggestion from a McCabe supporter: if a friendly member of Congress hired him for a week he could possibly qualify for pension benefits by extending his service the extra days. Massachusetts Congressman Seth Moulton, a democrat decided to give McCabe a job so weep no more for the new Congressional aide as he is getting his pension. Other Congress persons also stepped up to the plate.

Rep. Mark Pocan (D-Wis.) announced quickly on the Saturday afternoon following that he offered McCabe a job to work on election security in his office, “so that he can reach the needed length of service” to retire. McCabe needed just a few days of work. Those with sympathy for the job the Deep State was doing on Trump did not want McCabe to suffer for his “crimes” in any way.

April 13: DOJ's inspector general's report clearly states that McCabe misled investigators as they looked into his role in a media disclosure to the Wall Street Journal. The IG referred findings on McCabe to U.S. attorney for consideration of criminal charges.

April 13: Like most of us, Donald Trump does not like to be messed with. Trump tweeted: "He LIED! LIED! LIED! McCabe was totally controlled by Comey - McCabe is Comey!! No collusion, all made up by this den of thieves and lowlives!" Trump's disgust at lowlife McCabe was very evident and very justified.

April 19: DOJ's inspector general issued a criminal referral to the U.S. Attorney's Office in D.C. regarding its report that McCabe lied under oath about disclosing sensitive information to the media, the Washington Post reports. We'll see what happens on the criminal front.

April 20: McCabe was discussing his plans to sue for defamation, wrongful termination and other possible civil claims. Pundits and experts suggest it would be pretty tough for McCabe to prove that Trump made an objectively “false statement of fact” about him. They also suggest McCabe may be characterized as a public figure making it all but impossible for such claims to be upheld.

May 30: Out of work but still not quiet, McCabe reportedly turned over a confidential memo detailing a behind-the-scenes conversation between himself and Deputy AG Rosenstein where Rosenstein explained that President Trump asked him to refer to the Russia investigation in a memo opposing then-FBI Director James Comey, as reported by the New York Times.

Sept. 21: The New York Times reported Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein discussed rallying Cabinet members together in order to remove Trump from office. The plan was to invoke the 25th Amendment. It suggested that Rosenstein was to secretly record the president in the White House and then use the recordings in an effort to "expose the chaos consuming the administration—making Trump worthy of removal. Many see this as the beginning of a coup on false pretenses.

Sept. 22: Rosenstein denied that he had anything to do with anything serious about the 25th Amendment. Who is there with an honest record to believe? He said: "I never pursued or authorized recording the President and any suggestion that I have ever advocated for the removal of the President is absolutely false." McCabe and Rosenstein are still at loggerheads on this important issue.

Sept. 27: Former House Judiciary Chairman Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.) issued a subpoena ordering the Justice Department to hand over memos drafted by McCabe, which detail his meetings with top government officials. McCabe has not gone away.

2019

Feb. 8: According to The Guardian, McCabe claimed that Rod Rosenstein was directed to write what has become an infamous Comey memo by President Trump.

The deputy attorney general, Rod Rosenstein, privately complained that he was ordered by president Donald Trump to write the notorious memo justifying the firing of the FBI director James Comey, according to Comey's former deputy McCabe.

The McCabe book, if you can believe it, tells how Rosenstein behaved in ways Rosenstein has not yet agreed to. It says that Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein complained that he did not plan to write the memo justifying former FBI Director James Comey's firing but was ordered to do it by the President. As noted ex-FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe wrote such in his upcoming book.

Rosenstein is said to have complained about having to write the document, which is now part of a probe into whether the president obstructed justice by ousting Comey, McCabe writes, according to The Guardian. What should we expect of McCabe? He'll be duking it out with Rosenstein over what is actually so.

Feb. 14: CBS' Scott Pelley explained on "CBS This Morning" how McCabe told him about the discussions to use the 25th Amendment, which the New York Times first reported in 2017. There is more outrage of this expressed in conservative media regarding how much it looks like a coup.

Feb. 14: In excerpts published in The Atlantic, McCabe wrote that President Trump "a deliberate liar who will say whatever he pleases to get whatever he wants" in his upcoming book "The Threat." McCabe according to many should be dismissed as a habitual liar who was fired from the FBI for lying.

Feb. 14: Trump tweeted that "Disgraced FBI Acting Director Andrew McCabe pretends to be a "poor little Angel" when in fact he was a big part of the Crooked Hillary Scandal & the Russia Hoax - a puppet for Leakin' James Comey. I.G. report on McCabe was devastating."

Feb. 14: Rosenstein and McCabe's war of words intensified regarding Sept 25. A DOJ spokesman commented on McCabe's interview, saying Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein "rejects McCabe's recitation of events as inaccurate and factually incorrect. The Deputy Attorney General never authorized any recording that Andrew McCabe references."

Feb 15: Andrew McCabe Confirms: "Deep State plotted to take down Trump.: In pushing his new book, former FBI acting Director Andrew McCabe dropped another bombshell on CBS News. The Justice Department held meetings to consider removing President Trump from office under the 25th Amendment, after Trump fired former FBI Director James Comey for lying. The scuttle on this is that if that doesn't convince you there's a Deep State, perhaps nothing will.

Feb 24: Headlines over the weekend after Trey Gowdy made the Sunday News circuit included these snippets:

"If you really believed Donald Trump was an agent of Russia, why did you tell CBS and not Congress?" Gowdy wondered. "If you really believed that Donald Trump criminally obstructed justice, why did you tell CBS but you didn't tell the United States Congress a month after you discovered it?"

Expanded Gowdy quote:

TREY GOWDY: Let's go back to May 9, I believe it was, Comey is fired, and Andy McCabe wants you to believe the Department of Justice and FBI were in utter chaos, and they thought the president of the United States might be an agent of Russia. And they thought the president of the United States may be guilty of criminal obstruction of justice -- May 9, 2017.

Two days later, Andy McCabe is before the Senate Intelligence Committee with the entire world watching. It is on worldwide television and he's got the Senate Intelligence Committee, and he doesn't say one single solitary word about Donald Trump being an agent of Russia, or criminally obstructing justice. And if that's not good enough, if two days wasn't enough time for Andy to process that, in June 2017, he's right back before the Senate Intelligence Committee.

If you really believed Donald Trump was an agent of Russia, why did you tell CBS and not Congress? If you really believed that Donald Trump criminally obstructed justice, why did you tell CBS but you didn't tell the United States Congress a month after you discovered it?

Chapter 13 The Silent Coup is Deafening

Cowardly Democrats pull a Sergeant Schultz

Some believe that Democrats actually believe all the things that they say about Donald Trump. One looking from 10,000 feet would have a hard time believing that Democrats cannot see the truth for looking. If it were not for CNN and other corrupt media outlets spreading an anti-Trump narrative in over 91% of their supposed news stories, perhaps even the Democrats would be able to see the truth for what it is.

One thing for sure is that if the Democrats do not believe what they are spreading about Trump, and many of us cannot believe that they think any of it is real, their acts in destroying this man, our President, are even more despicable and cowardly than they otherwise would be Sergeant Schultz in Hogan Heroes best characterizes the Democrats that I see every day—both in party leadership roles and in the trenches. “I know nothing....” My wife, who like me was once a good Democrat, looks at what they do every day to hurt people. She agrees that in addition to making up most of our cowardly Congress, Democrats of today are simply bad! bad! bad! Looking at Adam Schiff and Maxine Waters, it is clear they enjoy the wrath they are causing. Too bad they don’t love America. It would be so much easier for the rest of us if they acted like good Americans.

Thin-Air is the news source for Russia collusion

Many organizations including the Editors at investors.com, Rush Limbaugh, and most at Fox News, have maintained since early 2017 that the supposed "Russia-Trump collusion" was really conceived out of thin air to help the Hillary Clinton Campaign gain the White House or at least punish Trump with a big lick for beating her.

More and more evidence is on the table that proves the hoax was engineered by the Obama administration and the Hillary Clinton campaign working with Deep State officials and bureaucrats. All were looking for something and Trump was not on their list. They hoped the favors and opportunities for advancement would flow and perhaps they would gain posts in the coming Hillary Clinton Administration.

Because Obama was a teammate, they would not, of course, have to worry about rules, laws, or even moral propriety, since Clinton once in office would no doubt squelch any unwanted investigations. They were free to act in any way necessary to help the Clinton cause.

The list of corrupt agents of the government is vast. Government is so big I would bet there are people getting paid today that no government manager has ever met. A large cast of the seedy characters who were working together for several years to bring down President Trump follows.

The list begins with presidential candidate Hillary Clinton; and moves quickly to others such as CIA Director John Brennan; recent Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein; senior Justice Department Official Bruce Ohr and his wife Nellie from Fusion GPS, a sometime CIA asset; FBI Director James Comey; FBI attorney Lisa Page; FBI official Peter Strzok; and, of course, Sally Yates and Andrew McCabe. These and many more took part in this ruse, which must be seen as an affront against all Americans.

Of course there are many others who simply took orders very willingly from their superiors. The Deep State was like a second job for them. The most positive thing that can be said about the lot of them, until they could see the water coming into the ship of fools, is that they were very loyal, and they stuck together.

Their mission unfortunately was to undermine the United States of America. Now we are seeing some discord among the members of this once tightly knit crew. We'll see how long they can keep the truth and the light of day from the people.

They all worked together to undermine Trump, who was the visible source of all their angst. They used what we would best explain as an unreliable "dossier," based on hearsay from questionable foreign sources. The dossier as we all now know by now was actually paid for by Hillary Clinton and the Democrat National Committee—so far with impunity.

They also had what some might call intense discussions about removing a legitimate American president under the 25th Amendment. This alone showed their desperation to undo Trump's "surprising" 2016 victory.

Together, they decided that democracy was too important to be left to the people and the legitimate voting process. Trump's removal had to be stage-managed instead by them from behind the scenes.

So, they lied about it. Or they kept quiet about it. Or they misrepresented what they did, even to the Foreign Intelligence Security Court (FISA). Yes, it was a real obstruction of justice, but they are Democrats from the Obama regime. And, let's not forget,. Hillary was supposed to be the next President. Yes, the Democrats and the Deep State had a real conspiracy going and as poorly executed as it was, because the corrupt press was complicit, the hoax is still going on..

We were reminded again with Andrew McCabe doing the talk-show circuit in February 2019, of the gory details of their transgressions. These events were happening just months into Trump's first day in office. And Comey's own flim-flam took place just as Trump entered office. Remember there was no evidence of a Trump crime. They made it up. They simply wanted Trump o-u-t and they thought they had enough powerful cohorts in the government to pull it off. They almost got away with it and it is scary that the structure of our Republic permitted this treason.

Was it the beginning of a silent coup?

The Deep State and the “Inside-the-Beltway elites” fought to subvert the presidency of someone they, not the rest of America, deemed unfit for the presidency. They assumed wrongly that their powerful positions gave them that right.

The more facts that come out, the more tenuous the evidence of any Trump collusion seems. And the more devious and partisan the major elitist players seem. Is it possible the Mueller investigation has something on Trump of which no one is aware? Sure. But he hasn't shown anything yet. Nor has he even hinted that he has something. Perhaps, the biggest perpetration of the Mueller investigation is that we have been paying him a lot for nothing.

So, let's say Mueller has nothing and never had anything and after a short while checking it out, never expected to have anything. If, indeed, he doesn't have a shred of evidence, somebody should pay for this ruse. The legal scrutiny should immediately turn from Trump to those who, from the apparent safety of their taxpayer-funded Deep State offices, conspired to take down a president they didn't like. Amen!

Looking at this for the 1000th time, we see that Perkin Coie, a firm with major ties to the Democratic Party and Hillary Clinton, paid the Fusion GPS opposition research firm with Nellie Ohr, Bruce's wife as a principal, so they would dig into Donald Trump's past—as much as they could. Again they produced the infamous Trump dossier through the hands of former British spy and paid FBI informant Christopher Steele. Yes, British Agent Steel actually worked for the FBI for a time.

James A. Baker, one time General Counsel for the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), told Congress recently that Perkin Coie lawyer Michael Sussmann directly handed documents to him about Russia's attempts at meddling in the 2016 election. He was a go-between, for

Hillary Clinton. And the FBI knew it. The FBI knows a lot more than they have told any of the investigators

Perkins Coie and Fusion GPS--Perpetrators.

FYI, Perkins Coie is an international law firm headquartered in Seattle, Washington, and founded in 1912. It is the oldest and largest law firm headquartered in the Pacific Northwest and has offices across the United States and in Beijing, Shanghai and Taipei.

Fusion GPS is the name of the research firm that produced the notorious “Trump Dossier.” Their work was funded by the Hillary Clinton presidential campaign and the Democrat National Committee. Of course, the Clinton campaign and the DNC needed layers of deniability and obfuscation and all the parties involved helped provide that.

Adding to the cast of characters, the Clinton campaign and the DNC retained the law firm of Perkins Coie. One of their partners, Marc E. Elias, retained Fusion GPS. It has not been determined yet how much Fusion GPS was paid, but the Clinton campaign and the DNC are known to have paid $9.1 million to Perkins Coie during the 2016 campaign between mid-2015 and late 2016. You need good lawyers for a thick plot.

Unclean FBI

The horde of information collected was later used as the basis for the official investigation into alleged collusion between the Trump campaign and Russia. The question everybody has is why would a “clean” FBI, knowing this whole scenario, then lie about it?

In effect, the FBI, with its leadership operating as part of the Deep State, was part of the crooked application for a FISA tap on the Trump campaign and they knew or certainly should have known that it was done at the direction of a major political opponent, Hillary Clinton. Is that entirely illegal, for both the FBI and Clinton? Sure does not seem like it ought to be.

In many committee meetings and hearings and interviews, and even books, and articles, numerous officials at the DOJ and the FBI have told the public under oath that "nobody at FBI or DOJ knew anything about the Democratic Party being behind the Clinton dirt," Humph! We now know that is not true. Why do only Republicans go to jail for lying under oath?

House Intelligence Committee Chairman Devin Nunes, R-Calif. has been a bulwark for good Americans in his work to uncover the truth. He said this in the past week: "Now you have one of the top lawyers for the Democrats and the Clinton campaign who was feeding information directly to the top lawyer at the FBI."

Collusion anyone?

Sure; but not the Trump variety that Democrats hoped for. It appears that both the FBI and Justice Department were doing the Clinton campaign's bidding in applying for Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court (FISA) permission to snoop on the Trump campaign's communications. They did so by getting a FISA warrant to spy on former Trump campaign official Carter Page, who had some ties to Russian officials.

And the Clinton campaign contact with the FBI happened "before even the FISA warrant," Chairman Devan Nunes said. "Now you have absolute proof that that wasn't told to the FISA court. So you want the evidence of FISA abuse? There it is right there."

Dear accusers of this cowardly Congress. We now know that it was not just FISA abuse, however. It is not all buttoned down, however. What remains to be explored and explained is the Clinton campaign's role in all this. It was major but mum is the word for sure for the Clintonistas. That includes how Hillary's team apparently got away with running a secret and illegal deep state campaign against Donald Trump.

This behavior is clearly the stuff of penny ante dictatorships, not of proud constitutional republics. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton's visits to a lot of different backwards countries as part of her job for Obama, it gave her all she needed to treat the US as a third-world nation.

The truth is, Hillary Clinton's campaign has yet to come clean about its role in pushing the anti-Trump agenda through the FBI and the Justice Department using deep State operatives. It may never do so unless AG Barr chooses to see through the mud to find the truth and bring them all to justice. It is too soon to know if Barr is ready to take on the Clintons. The Clinton team has not had to face the music or admit anything.

Hillary wore virtual brass knuckles

Despite their reputations for fearless advocacy of U.S. rule of law, both Justice and FBI, the honest leaders who remain, still fear Hillary Clinton. Her brass-knuckle reputation precedes her.

In this case, Clinton's desperation to beat Trump led to a host of illicit shenanigans—some already mentioned and some not. Without her involvement, there would have been no FISA application to spy on Carter Page. There would have been no Fusion GPS dossier on Trump. Nor would we now be living through the end of the second year of the Mueller Russia collusion investigation.

Democrats cynically launched this probe because with Rosenstein's help they were enabled. Trump could not muster up a loyal AG staff as Obama did with Holder and Lynch. The objective of the Democrats and the Deep State was to ruin Trump's presidency and perhaps even impeach him. They have not stopped trying and their mid-term election has re-emboldened them. They are acting goofy now, even giddy with their new found power.

Over a year ago, the liberal Campaign Legal Center filed a complaint against the Clinton campaign: "They failed to accurately disclose the purpose and recipient of payments for the dossier of research alleging connections between then-candidate Donald Trump and Russia, effectively hiding these payments from public scrutiny, contrary to the requirements of federal law." The Clintons have always felt they were above the law and the American people see them as ignoring the law to their benefit at all times.

When you follow the money in the Clinton activities set, you find that their campaign reportedly channeled as much as $6 million from mid-2015 to the end of 2016 to a company we identified above as Perkins Coie. The DNC shelled out another $3.6 million in legal services, at least some of which went to Perkins Coie. This group, as we now know, paid Fusion GPS. Fusion GPS likewise paid Christopher Steele for the Dossier. Steele was in close contact with the FBI's No. 4 official, Bruce Ohr, and his wife, Nellie Ohr, who also worked for Fusion GPS. The whole thing was and still is a rat's nest.

The connections to the Clintons are not "coincidences." They are an identifiable pattern. More and more, it looks like a conspiracy to avoid U.S. election laws in order to sabotage Hillary Clinton's political foe. Clearly this Congress should look into what transpired. Stuff like this, if unchecked, uncharged, and unpunished, makes it seem like our democracy is on its last legs.

There is little likelihood that President Trump did anything illegal during his campaign with regard to Russian election meddling. We might rate the chances as small to nonexistent. But there was another party involved in actually doing the nasty things they would love to be able to sink Trump with.

There is a growing likelihood that Hillary Clinton broke the law by not reporting campaign expenditures and by secretly working with deep state bureaucrats at the CIA, Justice and the FBI. Their objective was to tarnish Trump and then to take him down.

Being in the thick of legal turmoil is something to which the Clinton's should be accustomed

Webster Hubbell for example, was Hillary Clinton's former law partner at Little Rock's Rose Law Firm, He was convicted at the beginning of a probe into some unclean activity involving the Clintons, Like today's Justice Department thugs, Hubbell held a great position with Justice. In fact, Hubbell was in the #3 position in the Justice Department.

He admitted to stealing from clients and partners of his law firm and he pled guilty to mail fraud and tax evasion. He was sentenced to 21 months in prison. He was later indicted on an additional 18 charges after resigning from the DOJ.

Much of the income Hubbell received in 1994 may have been hush money. Some say it came from contracts arranged by close friends and supporters of the Clintons, suggesting to investigators that Hubbell may have been given money to discourage him from cooperating with the Whitewater independent counsel's office. It was a dirty deal then and it is dirty again. The only question would be if it were clean in the middle of this time period.

You may remember that Hillary Clinton called her husband a victim of a "vast right-wing conspiracy." Bill Clinton adviser Paul Begala called independent counsel Ken Starr "corrupt" and his investigation a "witch hunt" and "a scuzzy investigation" based on "leaks and lies and manufactured evidence." Sound familiar?

Clinton senior strategist Rahm Emanuel complained of the "partisan pursuit of the president." The difference is that the Whitewater convictions, as opposed to the Mueller probe convictions at this point, specifically related to the purpose of the probe.

Stuff that happened in the last thirty years has put our country in a bad light. Democrats no longer appear to be on America's side. They are on the Democrat side, period and don't cross them. Some who study America say that what seems to have mostly greased the skids of America's relatively recent decline toward the ways of a banana republic is the emergence and the unfortunate acceptance of a two-tiered justice system and the attendant cronyism and political corruption. People in the past at least did not appear to be as bad actors as they do today.

Can it be any more obvious than in the pass given to the Clintons, and particularly former First Lady, former Secretary of State, and former DNC presidential candidate, Hillary Clinton.

There is not much that sticks to the Clintons. Even when the Clintons left the White House in 2001, taking with them over $190,000 worth of heirloom china, flatware, rugs, and furniture which they had completely cleared out, there was no prosecution or fines. Of course, they were caught but the part that was strange for those aware was that much of the loot had to be returned. Perhaps because they claimed they were flat broke, there were no fines exacted.

Today the Clintons somehow are well-to-do. Their net worth today is in excess of $150 million. Clinton researchers suggest that this wealth was accumulated not by traditional means of work and investment, but rather by pay-for-play influence peddling through speeches and Clinton Foundation fundraising. Some call their total enterprise the Clinton Crime Family. It all seems to be true, but they are coated well with Teflon so nothing that is thrown at them ever sticks –nothing.

They were able to collect all this money purportedly because there was a tacit understanding that the Clintons would be in a position to return favors to donors after Hillary won the 2016 presidential election. Yet, despite all this, in the 2016 election, according to the results, Hillary had more people in America vote for her than did Trump.

Release the Documents

Back to the probe. Chairman Nunes says that the recent revelations show why President Trump needs to declassify some of the Russia-related documents. In the early fall 2018, Trump promised to declassify what was needed but changed his mind with a weak explanation. We still do not really know why and the documents still are not declassified.

The President at one time said that Justice Department officials would review the documents, adding that “in the end I can always declassify if it proves necessary. “

Many pundits and observers who care about the takedown of Trump think it is necessary and that it should be the starting point for a thorough investigation of the Hillary Clinton campaign's apparent crimes.

Will a new Attorney General matter?

In early February, William Barr was confirmed as a new Attorney General. This means that the extreme case of bureaucratic constipation in that Justice Department may be resolving in what many are predicting will be a “shitstorm” (pardon my French) of counter-revelations and prosecutions for the crime of perpetrating or at least attempting to perpetrate a coup d’etat. Let’s take a quick reminder of some of the damning and overwhelming evidence that is already public. We have discussed much of it before. It includes:

- Using FBI counter-intelligence assets improperly and illegally.
- Using fabricated “opposition research” provided by Mrs. Clinton to obtain warrants to spy on her election opponent, and failing to verify it as evidence (according to strict “Woods” procedures) submitted to FISA court judges.
- Recruiting Britain’s MI6 to spy on US citizens as a work-around from US laws prohibiting US Intel from spying on Americans.
- Setting up the notorious Trump Tower meeting to entrap Donald Trump Jr., using a Russian lawyer, Natalia Veselnitskaya, in the employ of Fusion GPS, Mrs. Clintons oppo research contractor.
- Orchestrating leaks of secret FBI proceedings to the news media to feed a Russia collusion hysteria.
- Malicious prosecutions by Special Counsel Robert Mueller and egregious political conflicts-of-interest among Robert Mueller’s team of prosecutors.
- Coverup of the Uranium One scheme facilitated by Robert Mueller and Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein.

- A scheme to surreptitiously and illegally record conversations with Donald Trump once he became president.
- Conspiring to bury multiple inquiries into illegal conduct of Mrs. Clinton, her employees and associates by failing to obtain evidence and allowing it to be destroyed.
- Misconduct in office by former CIA chief John Brennan, former National Security Director James Clapper, former AG Loretta Lynch, and members of President Obama's White House inner circle.

As you can tell from reading this book and hearing the news on legitimate media, these matters and a lot more have deserved official attention that was bypassed during the indescribable DOJ regime of former AG Jeff Sessions. AG Barr should have his work cut out for him bringing justice to those who so far have escaped unscathed.

They have had a lot of light shone on them. Now it is time for the scales of justice to fall. The Trump "resistance" already seems demoralized by the dying and finally the collapse of the Russia collusion story, which had been the centerpiece of the impeachment hopes of the corrupt press, the Swamp, the Deep State, the Never Trumpers, the RINOs and the Democrats.

With Democrats in control of the House, it will be like pulling teeth getting anybody to admit wrong-doing, but it is so obvious. AG Barr ought to be able to use his prosecutorial skills to good avail. Despite the death of their case, several reconstituted house committees under the new Democratic Party Chairs such as Adam Schiff, have pledged to keep mining that vein of fool's gold to keep the hysteria alive long enough for the 2020 elections.

But what will happen in the meantime as their enablers are dragged into courts of law to answer for their roguery, should be a lot of fun for conservatives to observe.

We can expect the "resistance" to dig down to new depths of delusion and, eventually, derision, as its narrative cloak gets shredded in public testimony and their foolhardy prevarications are revealed. The heat from these future events may be so intense and disruptive that it will interfere with the 2020 election. We'll see. Bring on the heat!

On 8/13/2018 Investors Business Daily wrote an editorial, the beginning of which put the Clinton role in the Trump collusion problem in perspective:

Russian Collusion: It Was Hillary Clinton All Along 8/13/2018

Russia Investigation: It's beginning to look as if claims of monstrous collusion between Russian officials and U.S. political operatives were true. But it wasn't Donald Trump who was guilty of Russian collusion. It was Hillary Clinton and U.S. intelligence officials who worked with Russians and others to entrap Trump.

That's the stunning conclusion of a RealClear Investigations report by Lee Smith, who looked in-depth at the controversial June 2016 Trump Tower meeting between officials of then-candidate Donald Trump's campaign staff and a Russian lawyer known to have ties with high-level officials in Vladimir Putin's government.

The media have spun a tale of Trump selling his soul to the Russians for campaign dirt to use against Hillary, beginning with the now-infamous

Trump Tower meeting.

But "a growing body of evidence ... indicates that the meeting may have been a setup— part of a broad effort to tarnish the Trump campaign involving Hillary Clinton operatives employed by Kremlin-linked figures and Department of Justice officials," wrote Smith.

It was again the Deep State and the Democrats. It's that simple

McCabe's coup perhaps is the least important fact

Democrats hate Trump and Republicans are cowards when dealing with Democrats. I hope we have that clear by now.

Investors.com writes great editorials, which over the years have captured a lot of the essence of this saga that has consumed the American news cycle for the past two years. There is always another fact raised. There are so many incriminating things in all that has been discovered that with regard to the Deep State and Hillary Clinton's role and the former president's role, it shows well beyond any reasonable doubt that Obama administration minions were more than complicit. They launched an all-out effort to first destroy President Trump's presidential campaign and, when that failed, his presidency. Yes, you "heard" that correctly. Now what?

Was Obama tied to any of this? So far, nobody and I mean nobody has given up the former President on anything. That's loyalty. Meanwhile DOJ, FBI and other officials who were not hired by Trump are doing their dandiest to create a scenario in which the current President is forced to resign or is taken down in any other way possible. The Deep State still exists. Can AG Bahr loosen its grip? We sure hope so.

Does knowing the truth matter with all of the corruption and a more and a more difficult road emerging to see who the bad guys are and who the good guys will be who will prosecute them. Perhaps it will be new AG William Barr. It sure ought to be someone.

Will Barr's Justice Department charge these people with crimes?
We're waiting!

The whole concern over "Russian interference" with the 2016 election was a ruse by the good ole Hillary gang. It was little more than a smokescreen for a much wider effort to go after Donald Trump with the objective to get his followers to get disgusted enough with all the accusations that they abandon the President and find a nice substitute among the Never Trumpers.

In this long-lasting witch hunt, the press clearly aligned with Democrats and RINOs in trying to bring down Donald Trump. The New York times was a first class perpetrator in the ruse.

A Times report titled "F.B.I. Opened Inquiry into Whether Trump was Secretly Working on Behalf of Russia," shows that the investigation into Donald Trump for the non-crime of "collusion" with Russia's government began even before the election. The inquiry was aimed at stopping Trump from advancing to the presidency. It was not about seeing if Russians really interfered in our presidential election.

The Justice Department and FBI investigation began during the election campaign. Yes, Obama was President and all these guys one way or another worked for the former president. The FBI and the Justice Department we now know were not working on behalf of America and Americans but they were instead working with the rest of the Deep State using half-baked and "unverifiable" intelligence about Trump's purported links to Russia.

Surely by now, either in your regular life or in this book, you have heard of the so-called Steele Dossier which included a tale about the "Golden Showers" in which Russian Prostitutes urinated on a bed in a Russian Hotel. Trump is supposed to have authorized that perpetration to show his disdain for the Obamas. But, it has been proven that there was not a shred of truth in the report. Yes, it is disgusting and it was paid for by Hillary Clinton operatives.

Though it was bogus, this same Dossier as it is euphemistically labeled was used four separate times by the dark DOJ for FISA court approval so Hillary's campaign could spy on the Trump campaign. The FBI contingent of the Deep State knew it was bogus but their dislike for Trump prompted them to forge ahead anyway while seemingly taking orders from the leaders of the Deep State whoever they may be.

The Bogus Steele Dossier

The only problem was, the Steele Dossier didn't come from the FBI or Justice Department. It was bogus. It was bull----. It came from Fusion GPS, an opposition research group linked to the Democrats. And Hillary Clinton's campaign definitely paid for it... and yet Trump, not Clinton is being investigated. Humph!

"Ostensibly, the surveillance FISA application targeted a guy named Carter Page," as disclosed by Andrew McCarthy, a senior fellow at the National Review Institute, who had been a former federal prosecutor.

"But Page was just a side issue. The dossier was principally about Trump – not Page, not Paul Manafort, Michael Cohen, or other Trump associates referred to by Steele. The dossier's main allegation was that Trump was in an espionage conspiracy with Russia to swing the election to Trump, after which Trump would do Putin's bidding from the White House."

Think about how ridiculous that sounds. As a supposedly viable idea, it has even less credence.

So for all intents and purposes, Deep State holdovers from the Obama administration that Trump had unknowingly kept on after being elected, were serving as an adjunct to Hillary Clinton's campaign. Early on in the investigation, CIA chief John Brennan convened multi-agency meetings of the Deep State about Trump. They included Peter Strzok, the head of the FBI's counter-intelligence, and James Clapper, national intelligence director under Obama, among others.

Peter Strzoch and Lisa Page

The premise of the meetings, again, was that Trump possibly colluded with the Russians to hack our election and might even be an agent of Russia.

What happened to Strzok

On August 3, 2008, after much longer than it should have taken Peter Strzok was terminated by the FBI. The FBI finally fired Peter Strzok, an agent who had been removed from the Russia probe the prior year for sending text messages disparaging President Donald Trump.

Strzok may have been a model FBI employee at one time but he went south and began a new career while employed by the FBI as a full-time employee of the Deep State for which he collected no salary. So, he needed his day job.

The termination of this man was a remarkable downfall for him, a 22-year member of the bureau who had investigated Russian spies, defense officials accused of selling secrets to China and myriad other important cases.

In the dimlight of his career, Strzok was integral to two of the bureau's most high-profile investigations: the Russia case and the inquiry into Hillary Clinton's use of a private email server while she was Secretary of State. From my eyes, his second job caused him to fail in both cases.

When a Justice Department inspector-general investigation uncovered politically charged messages that Strzok had exchanged with another

FBI official, Lisa Page, he was relegated to a position in human resources for a time while they figured out how to get rid of him from the agency.

Conservatives soon made Strzok the face of their attacks against special counsel Robert S. Mueller III's investigation of the President's campaign. The FBI eventually and from my perspective, reluctantly took steps to remove Strzok from its ranks. He's gone and that is good..

What happened to Lisa Page

Lisa Page was almost always the person at the other end of Strzock's emails about "getting Trump." She and Strzok were said to be lovers and coworkers and their emails show a close connection. Page was a lawyer who had come under fire after it was revealed she exchanged anti-Trump text messages with another FBI official (Strzock), and before being fired, she stepped down at about the same time as James Baker.

Texts between Strzok and Page were infamous, and it was obvious the two were involved in an extramarital affair. Page wrote that Trump was an "idiot" and a "douche." Additionally, Strzok coming back to Page offered in one text "F Trump." Yet, they were sweethearts .

Page had at one-time been a member of the special counsel (Mueller) team, which is still looking into interference in the 2016 election and whether the Trump campaign colluded with the Kremlin. Strzok was also a member of the team until he was demoted after the anti-Trump text messages were revealed.

Page was also part of the team that advised Comey in what amounted to his announcement in the summer of 2016 that the FBI would not recommend criminal charges against former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton in the investigation of her unauthorized email server. They were both thick as thieves in the Deep State.

James Baker, General Counsel

James Baker left on the same day as Lisa Page, before he was fired. He served as FBI's top lawyer until late last year when he was reassigned as an adviser to FBI Director Christopher Wray. Baker was being investigated for possibly disclosing classified information with journalists about the so-called Trump dossier, though he had not been charged.

Comey loved Baker and he lamented his departure in a tweet the same day, heaping praise on his former adviser.

Following his departure from the FBI, Baker is now heading the Brookings Institution to contribute to their Lawfare blog, which is run by a longtime friend of Comey's, Benjamin Wittes. Somehow even after sedition, these guys still have nine lives.

The question of the times: Where's the evidence of collusion?

Though anybody visiting from Mars would believe the NY Times is in the thick of it with the Deep State and the Democrats to get rid of Trump, every now and then they surprise us, more than likely by mistake, and they tell the truth—at least a partial truth.

In the Trump Witch Hunt, they admitted that there is virtually "no evidence" existing for such a charge. Clearly such actions are illegal, an attempt by supposedly nonpartisan government employees to subvert the 2016 presidential election. Bureaucrats attempting to veto the legitimate will of the people by unseemly means is verboten.

In fact, the claptrap surrounding Trump—the extra-legal machinations—pose a far greater direct threat to our democracy than anything Trump allegedly did. After all the Deep State was ready to lower the boom on Trump with no evidence other than “trumped” up accusations with no proof whatsoever.

Somehow all of the list of Deep State high ranking US officials that we have discussed still have their fishing licenses and they are walking around as free men and women. But then again, so is Hillary—unscathed so far. Regular law-abiding citizens do not understand how Trump is being harassed daily and these clearly guilty parties remain free.

Will these perpetrators still be walking free with a new AG? Soon, we will have a perspective on whether AG William Barr is all gristle and no guts or whether he is outraged like most Americans at his corrupt justice department. Will he clean it up is on a lot of people’s minds. Stay tuned. This crew of n’ere do wells now are free to make hundreds of thousands of dollars on the lecture circuit, with their tell-all books, and of course they are also part of the talking heads on TV.

Even the Times points out that when he was Director, as he deepened his investigation into Trump on behalf of the Democratic Party, former FBI Director James Comey lied repeatedly to Trump about whether he was under investigation. Alan Dershowitz and others note that is an FBI tactic so the President would choose not to shut down a bogus investigation—tell him he’s not being investigated. Cute, but another lie. Comey was a deep liar and a leaker. He also leaked the contents of a private meeting with Trump in the White House to the media.

What did Democrats and the Deep State hope to accomplish? Their sole objective was to create doubts about Trump and sow the seeds of broader action by the Deep State against his presidency. They wanted the public to turn on Trump. A President with no support will not last long. Despite their many plots and schemes, they could not separate Trump from his base.

Continued high ratings for the President has foiled much of the action they might have unleashed. For anyone still harboring any doubts: Pundits agree that there was no vindictive political act involved. Trump had no real choice but to fire Comey.

Firing Comey

As my wife would say, Comey was “Bad! Bad! Bad.” He was bad for Trump and his delusions of grandeur were bad for the country. Putting Comey on the street, however, did not end Trump's problems. It actually multiplied them. Comey's buddies in the deep state were infuriated that their boss, their buddy; their co-conspirator was fired.

Mueller came out of nowhere. It was just days after Comey's firing in early May 2017, that the Eddie Haskell-like sweetly deceptive, dishonest and unscrupulous, acting FBI Director Rod Rosenstein named Robert Mueller as the special counsel to investigate the charges that Trump was, in essence, a Russian agent. Though Rosenstein's days are numbered, this is still going on and it first became worse before it got a bit better and now some think it may be over as Mueller may be turning his report in any day..

To get the Mueller probe going, Rosenstein lied. He had no actual evidence, but he had fired Comey as Trump desired and that act energized Rosenstein and the Deep State to bring in the special counsel.

The only thing offered as evidence was the infamous Clinton-financed Steele Dossier. This piece of garbage had never been verified. However, since the Deep State did not like Trump's foreign policy views, in particular on Russia and Vladimir Putin, it was fair game to package these lies together to get Trump in a formal investigation by the “impeccably honest” Robert Mueller.

Mueller for his part showed his impartiality by hiring all Democrat thug lawyers who had bullied many suspects in past investigations such as Enron. If having only nasty Democrats on his teams proved Mueller's impartiality, then clearly he was angelically impartial and Americans were simply lucky to have him.

As this thing heats up and cools down, in recent days we have had a rehash of Andrew McCabe's story, the subject of the prior chapter, as told in his new book with this cutesie title:

The Threat: How the FBI Protects America in the Age of Terror and Trump

Making a comeback in the news since the Book's announcement is McCabe's assertion that those taking part in this conspiracy against Trump actually discussed invoking the 25th Amendment. This amendment allows for removal of a president who is "unable to discharge the powers and duties of the office."

There was no basis for this, of course and none was sought or found but fake accusations and fake news are such a part of today's CNN-driven news landscape, the truth rarely matters. True or not, it was a weapon they could use; and they used it.

More and more pundits are calling the meetings about the 25th Amendment as a silent coup, not an investigation. For example, The Federalist's Senior Editor Mollie Hemingway recently wrote: "Using the completely lawful and constitutional firing of the bumbling Comey as pretext for opening a criminal investigation into the president is a grand abuse of power by the FBI. Attempting to overtake the authority to determine U.S. foreign policy from the lawfully determined president of the United States is a violation of the U.S. Constitution."

The Deep State anti-Trump acolytes of the Democrat Party committed big-time crimes.

Their offenses are many and their offenses are big. They are not minor crimes and they must be brought to justice. The real collusion was not in Trump's house but as we now know, it was executed by the FBI, the Justice Department, the CIA and the Hillary Clinton campaign. Trump and the Russians had no idea. They had nothing to do with it.

Clearly the Hillary post-election and pre-election teams for many reasons, all wanted Trump to lose the election. When he didn't give them the results they wanted, they decided to deliver the ultimate punishment. They tried to remove the President from office.

Obama had weaponized so many agencies in the government that it seems that agents were confused about whether their loyalties lied with the original President (Obama) the current President (Trump), the expected President (Hillary), the country, the FBI, or whoever or whatever was expedient at the time. The ruse is still going on. The Democratic Party openly seeks to impeach Trump. Meanwhile, the Mueller investigation traipsed on, with nothing but heartache and process crimes so far to show for its efforts.

It would not take much investigation to find that top officials at the Justice Department, FBI and CIA, were in cahoots with the Clinton campaign. They clearly used the extraordinary powers of the U.S. justice and intelligence agencies for purely political ends: hoping to put an end to the Trump presidency and resurrect Hillary from the ashes if possible to be coronated and to reign as the new President.

The people are not stupid by and large though there are some dedicated Democrat dunderheads who can't see straight no matter what. In polls, most people answer honestly and an IBD/TIPP Poll just recently shows Americans mostly believe that this is all about hurting Trump and not about preserving Democracy. In the poll, 51% agreed the Mueller investigation is an attempt to delegitimize the 2016 election. And they are 100% correct about that.

With the House now in the hands of far-left Democrats, we can expect no calls for any investigation of this egregious behavior. The Justice Department therefore under AG Barr must investigate these crimes and those who committed them. And then, they must start prosecuting. Don't wait for a signal from this cowardly Congress as it will not be coming any time soon.

Chapter 14 The Mueller Probe

The Mueller probe is illegitimate

One person who has been on Trump's side since well before the election is former NY Mayor and former prosecutor, Rudolph Giuliani. He won't give you two cents for the legitimacy of the Mueller Probe. Its founding was illegitimate, and it is still illegitimate. Rudy Giuliani, President Donald Trump's personal attorney, offered his opinion on the probe to CNN on a recent Sunday show. Rudy had no problem quickly dinging the Rosenstein initiated investigation into Russian influence in the 2016 presidential election as illegitimate.

When he was asked in an interview with CNN's "State of the Union" whether he believes special counsel Robert Mueller's probe is legitimate, Giuliani gave it little thought and responded, "Not anymore."

"I did when I came in, but now I see 'Spygate,'" This is a term used by Trump to describe revelations that an informant made contact with his campaign as part of an FBI investigation into Russian meddling in the election. Trump has lambasted the Mueller and Justice Department, calling the ongoing investigation an effort to undermine the validity of his election. Real crimes were committed by Hillary Clinton but the corrupt Democrat-leaning press offers no comment.

Saying there's no evidence of collusion between Trump and Russia, Giuliani said "the basis on which [Mueller] was appointed is illegitimate."

"I know 50 years of investigatory experience tells me they don't have a darn thing because they would've used it already and they wouldn't be off on collusion, they wouldn't be off on Manafort, they wouldn't be off on Cohen," said Giuliani, a former federal prosecutor and former mayor of New York City.

"You've got a good case, man, you go right to it," he said.

Everybody knows this is pure baloney

Other than those in a deep Rip Van Winkle sleet, everybody in American and most of the world are aware that President Trump is being investigated by what is called a special counsel. The investigation has a few pet names used by the press, but its real name is Special Counsel Investigation. It is also referred to as the Mueller Probe or the Mueller Investigation.

Few understand its real purpose, or the real authority given to the lead counsel, former FBI Chief Robert Mueller. The pundits on the right suggest it is a fraudulent investigation as there is no crime to be investigated. Whereas the rest of the country including the Deep State find anything to help in the disposal of Donald Trump as president of the United States as "legitimate game," even if it is illegal and unlawful.

The left does not care. To them, Mueller's probe is just another possible way to have Trump removed from office, regardless of the reason.

Supposedly the investigation includes any possible links or coordination between Donald Trump's presidential campaign and the Russian government. They also threw in "any matters that arose or may arise directly from the investigation." The scope of the investigation is supposed to be crimes committed but Donald Trump rightly called the investigation a Witch Hunt as it has no real purpose in law.

The investigation, began on May 17, 2017. Mueller's MO is to get anybody he wants on whatever charges he wants. He recently brought down Paul Manafort and early in the probe former National Security Advisor Michael Flynn was targeted and crushed. Mueller is known for his gestapo-like tactics .

No simple phone call; Come out with your hands up!

There was little Deep State media coverage on FBI Director Chris Wray whining about what makes him really mad. I mean it is silly just like the do-nothing Director himself. Wray is such a do-nothing in cleaning up the FBI that nobody in America really ever heard of him. But, rather than do his job, he complained about the government shutdown caused by Nancy and chuck refusing to budge an inch on funding the border barrier.

Wray bemoaned the fact that some of his agents chose not to work during the Democrat-caused shutdown because like all government employees, they were not getting paid. This forced other Wray to work harder to reassign other agents to cover their assignments. Why not fire them if they don't come to work. Why not ask the president for interest-free loans for those who are hurting? I did not see Wray's request for loans. Did you?

Ronald Reagan fired more than 11,000 Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO) unionized employees when they did not come to work on a scheduled day. It should have been easy for Wray to fire his disgruntled employees as they are not unionized. After less than five weeks, FBI people were reportedly so hard pressed in the bread lines. Maybe the FBI is hiring the wrong people.

With locality pay and availability pay, field agents at their maximum pay level can earn $131,027 to $149,895 per year. They should have been able to sustain a short shutdown much more than lesser paid government employees. Perhaps they should be investigated to see why they could not make it on such a nice salary for a month. I know I could and I bet you could. A number of citizens see Wray and his cry-babies for what they are: Here is a comment from the Internet on Wray's moaning:

Go back to trying to overturn the 2016 election - they're so good at that.

Ironically, Wray had his little hissy-fit on the very day somebody was actually being hurt by his FBI-goys. A dozen and more of Wray's agents put together a pre-dawn SWAT-style raid on regular citizen Roger Stone's house as if he were Al Capone. They carried lots of automatic weaponry and they wore body armor. They scared the bejesus out of Stone and his wife who also were not being paid that day.

Why. Well, Stone had fully cooperated with the Special Counsel. Maybe Wray should hire Stone to replace the guys who did not show up. Mueller ought to apologize.

Here we are working on getting to April 2019, and there have been dozens of indictments for federal crimes in the Mueller probe, and at least eight guilty pleas, or convictions but no collusion with Russians yet. Most of the crimes were process crimes – in other words somebody lied or stepped on a crack in the sidewalk No collusions. The crimes etc. include the following:

Dec 2017: Flynn pleaded guilty to making false statements

In February 2018, Mueller indicted 13 Russian citizens and three Russian entities, most notably the Internet Research Agency

June 2018: added an indictment of Konstantin Kilimnik, Manafort's business partner.

July 2018: 12 members of the Russian GRUcyber espionage group known as Fancy Bear, responsible for the 2016 DNC email hacking,

July 2018: Investigations into Trump's personal lawyer, Michael Cohen, were referred to the US Attorney's office of the Southern District of New York

Aug 2018: Manafort-- found guilty on eight felony counts

Sept 2018: Manafort pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the United States and obstruct justice, Mueller further secured guilty pleas from Manafort's business partner, Rick Gates, Dutch attorney Alex van der Zwaan, former Trump campaign adviser George Papadopoulos, lobbyist W. Samuel Patten, and Richard Pinedo; all, except Van der Zwaan, have become cooperating witnesses for investigators.

Jan 2019: Longtime Trump advisor Roger Stone was indicted on seven charges in January 2019.

Jan 28, 2019: Acting Attorney General Matthew Whitaker announced that the investigation was "close to being completed,"

Jan 30, 2019:, An FBI court filing revealed that someone located in Russia was also attempting to discredit the special counsel investigation through Twitter

Feb 8, 2019: In testimony before the House Judiciary Committee, Whitaker clarified that was "my position" and that Mueller was "going to finish his investigation when he wants to finish his investigation

What's it all about Alfie?

The Mueller investigation is supposedly all about Russian election involvement by Trump and his campaign, but more and more outsiders view the probe simply as a witch hunt prompted by the Hillary Clinton wing of the Democrat party

In January 2017, there was an assessment by the US Office of the Director of National Intelligence that claimed that Russian leadership favored presidential candidate Donald Trump over Hillary Clinton. It added that Russian president Vladimir Putin personally ordered an "influence campaign" to harm Clinton's electoral chances and "undermine public faith in the US democratic process."

There was no tampering with voting machine alleged or found. It is alleged, however, that the Russian government interfered in the 2016 U.S. presidential election by bolstering (through Facebook ad buys, etc.) the candidacies of Trump, Bernie Sanders and Jill Stein, in order to increase political instability in the United States as well as to damage the Clinton presidential campaign. Looking at what was spent, there was little chance any votes were gained or lost.

The Russians spent chump change on the effort. Those Russians supposedly involved in nailing Hillary spent some $1.25 million per month on ad campaigns. It cost more for a few days of investigation than what the Russians spent for their whole effort. No wonder it has been called a Witch Hunt!

The entire Trump investigation has been fraught with issues and innuendo. Jess Sessions was a key player for Trump when, before others, he endorsed the President when Sessions was a Senator. We all should know that a special counsel investigation is subject to oversight by the Attorney General. Because there were questions regarding light contacts between Sessions and Russian ambassador Sergei Kislyak in 2016, when he was appointed ,AG Sessions was advised to recuse himself from any Justice Department investigations regarding Russian interference in the election. He took the advice much to the President's chagrin.

Thus, there was nobody on the President's team who had American interests at the top of their list. Over the ensuing months, as any of us would feel, Trump was angry that after wanting the AG slot so much he could taste it, Sessions decided to recuse himself from participation in the biggest event of the presidency.

Once Sessions was out of the way, Trump was like a lamb to slaughter. Oversight of any Russia investigation into the 2016 election fell to the Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein, a Trump appointee who more than likely had not even voted for Trump. Trump has nobody to blame but himself and taking bad advice for nominating Maryland U.S. Attorney Rod J. Rosenstein to be deputy attorney general, the longest serving Attorney in the Justice Department.

Rosenstein was confirmed by the Senate on April 25, 2017, by a vote of 94–6. Seeing how many Democrats voted for Rosenstein more than likely gave Trump some agita.

Rosenstein apparently suggested that Comey be fired but he later denied it. Trump fired FBI Director Comey supposedly at Rosenstein's insistence. That is apparently when the big trouble began with Rosenstein supposedly who claimed he was bullied by Trump in the Comey firing.

And, so the press suggests that Rosenstein got his revenge on Trump by appointing Mueller. They say that it was a stunning vote of no-confidence in President Donald Trump by Rod Rosenstein. With no friendly face like Jeff Sessions on his team, Rosenstein, a stranger to Trump, got his due on the President and gave Trump no opportunity to make it better before it was fait accompli.

Department of Justice sources say the White House was given only 30-minutes notice before the public announcement, and that Rosenstein had already signed the order at that point. It was a sign of Rosenstein's anger at supposedly being bullied by Trump the prior week when the White House, amid the uproar over Comey's firing, pinned the reason for the firing on Rosenstein. Since then Rosenstein behaved as if he were always a part of the Deep State.

As part of his oversight, and his new power as acting AG. after resisting calls for it, Rosenstein chose to make the call for a special counsel and as we now know, he appointed Robert Mueller in charge of that special counsel office in May 2017. Mueller's charter was to determine if there was any Russian interference in the 2016 election process, or related matters. Of course, the legitimacy of Mueller's role is still debated.

As noted, this came to the fore on May 17, 2017, followed a series of events that included President Trump firing the FBI director James Comey on May 9, 2017. While the termination letter and several administration officials have stated that Trump fired Comey solely on the recommendations of Attorney General Jeff Sessions and Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein, several other reasons were later offered. Some cited a Rosenstein-authored memo and Comey's subsequent allegation that Trump had asked Comey to drop the FBI investigation into former National Security Advisor Michael Flynn.[41]

Four congressional officials allege that Comey's dismissal came just a few days after the still active FBI Director had requested additional resources to step up the Russia investigation. In typical Spy v Spy fashion, there are reports that the Justice Department denied that such a request was ever made.

Nonetheless, on May 9, in a matter of just hours before the dismissal, it was made known that federal prosecutors had issued grand jury subpoenas to Michael Flynn's associates. This was a blow to Trump as it represented a significant increase in the intensity of the FBI's Russia investigation. It was exactly the wrong direction for the investigation to be going [for Trump supporters.]

When interviewed by NBC, Trump made it known his thoughts when he decided to fire Comey: "I said to myself, I said, 'You know, this Russia thing with Trump and Russia is a made up story. Reports were made of a May 10 meeting in the Oval Office with Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov and Russian Ambassador Sergey Kislyak. There were always leaks. Trump was supposed to have told the Russian officials "I just fired the head of the FBI. He was crazy, a real nut job ... I faced great pressure because of Russia. That's taken off ... I'm not under investigation."

Comey had friends nobody knew about even Comey or so it seemed as calls for a special counsel "intensified" after his firing. Mueller was appointed just eight days after the firing. The hiring of Mueller marked "a concession by the Trump administration to Democratic demands" for the investigation to be run independently of the Justice Department, according to the Washington Post. Who really knows?

In 2019 Andrew McCabe suggested that during those eight days, top Justice and FBI officials Baker, Rosenstein, McCabe, and others discussed invoking the 25th amendment to get rid of the Trump presidency once and for all. This has recently been called the beginning of a silent coup d'etat.

As special counsel, Mueller took his office like a god. He had the power to issue subpoenas, hire staff members, request funding, and prosecute federal crimes in connection with the election interference along with other crimes he may uncover. The constitutionality of indicting a sitting president remains to this day an unsettled legal question.

Chapter 15 Review from the Top. Pre-Trump through Mueller

George Papadopoulos

May 2016

George Papadopoulos must be one of the unluckiest people in the whole world. Don't buy a lottery ticket with his numbers. This guy was a bit player and had a bit role and still got caught in Muellers web because he was unlucky and because he was easy pickings.

Papadopoulos, whose involvement in the probe is because he briefly served as a foreign policy adviser to President Donald Trump's campaign, will now be punished for that involvement. Sentencing is for lying to the FBI.

Papadopoulos is now more famous by name recognition than Christopher Wray. He is a 31-year old kid looking for a break in life, who found it best to plead guilty Oct. 5, 2017, to lying about connections to people he understood were connected to the Russian government. Prosecutors say Papadopoulos had hoped to broker deals between the campaign and Russian officials.

There is a lot of intrigue over what was known, not known, and who was in on fixing the election if anybody, and whether or not they were set up, etc. Nobody seemed to have the full truth . It was reported, however that over drinks in a London wine bar in May 2016, Mr. Papadopoulos reportedly told Alexander Downer, Australia's High Commissioner to the UK, that he was aware that Russia had compromising material on Hillary Clinton.

This later became a major spark for the Russia investigation. Eventually Mueller got Papadopoulos on a process crime and he served two weeks in prison.

George Papadopoulos, 22 months after he first lied to the FBI about his contact with Russians while working for the Trump presidential campaign, reported to a federal prison camp in Oxford, Wisconsin, Monday. Nov 3, 2018. He served a 14-day sentence, then was placed on probation for a year. He was also ordered to pay a $9,500 fine and participate in community service. He will be really free later this year. Maybe he was not such a bad guy!

June 9, 2016

Jumping at straws, another 2016 meeting came into play as a sign that Trump was bad and had to be investigated. The president's oldest son, Donald Trump Jr, then campaign chairman Paul Manafort and Trump's son-in-law, Jared Kushner, met at Trump Tower with a Kremlin-linked lawyer, Natalia Veselnitskaya.

They believed they would receive damaging information about Candidate Clinton. Jared Kushner failed to recall and initially report the meeting to the government, as required, when he took his position in the administration as a senior adviser. After the election. This created a lot of scuttlebutt.

June 15, 2016

A little known hacker calling himself Guccifer 2.0 leaked to the Democratic National Committee's (DNC) opposition research on Mr Trump. Security experts linked the data breach to Russian hackers.

June 20, 2016

Christopher Steele, a former British spy, out of thin air, produced the first of his private memos into Trump's alleged ties to Russia. This work was later given the name the 'dirty dossier'. The work was funded first by a Republican rival, then by the Democratic National Committee. The work was done on behalf of a Washington consulting firm Fusion GPS. High ranking Justice Dept official Bruce Ohr was connected to the company through his wife Nellie who was a Fusion GPS employee. The compromising information on the Republican candidate includes fake facts that the candidate slept with prostitutes at a Moscow hotel in 2013 and that the prostitutes in what was termed a "golden shower" urinated on a bed in the same bedroom in which the Obamas slept in one of their trips to Russia.

Early July 2016

Christopher Steele handed the information he' had gathered on candidate Trump over to the FBI. The former intelligence officer had been a source for the agency in the past.

July 22, 2016

An Internet publisher called WikiLeaks published thousands of emails that reportedly were stolen from the DNC within days of the beginning of the Democratic Convention.

July 2016

The FBI began looking at this seriously by investigating possible links between the Russian government and the Trump campaign. It came when Australian authorities alerted the agency to Papadopoulos's earlier indiscretions and comments on “Russian dirt” to their diplomat in London. The Australians decided to alert the FBI after the stolen Democratic emails were released, and after Papadopoulos's allusion to Russian information appeared to have greater significance to what they perceived was mounting evidence against Donald Trump the candidate.

Paul Manafort quit the Trump campaign days after news reports emerged claiming that he had received payments from Russian-backed Ukrainian figures. Manafort had had business dealings in Ukraine before his involvement in the Trump campaign. The campaign chief denied receiving secret payments or working for the governments of Ukraine or Russia. He was later found guilty by Mueller and went to trial in 2018. He spent a lot of time in solitary confinement.

September 2016

Congress was briefed on the CIA's belief that Russia was intervening in the election to benefit Donald Trump. Republican senator Jeff Sessions, a Trump campaign foreign policy adviser, met with Sergey Kislyak, the Russian Ambassador to the US, in his Senate office. Sessions' explanation was normal business as a Senator and not about the Trump campaign.

By this point, the Internet Research Agency was spending approximately $1.25 million a month, a relatively small amount on interfering with the election according to US prosecutors.

October 7, 2016

It is well known that Donald Trump had a lot of businesses that involved Hollywood Stars. In this time frame, Donald J. Trump was recorded having a frank conversation about women with Billy Bush, who was an "Access Hollywood" host. Bush ratted on the conversation and the Democrats and the press milked this information believing they had more than enough to stop the Trump campaign in its tracks.

Trump Shortly after the publication of the 2005 “Access Hollywood” video in which Trump discusses exploits with women, WikiLeaks released a batch of emails from Clinton campaign chairman John Podesta’s email account. The leaks continued for weeks. The emails were obtained because Podesta was not careful in his use of passwords and did not involve a major undercover governmental hacking scheme

WikiLeaks contacted Donald Trump Jr on Twitter to ask him to share a link to file archives. Shortly afterwards, the candidate tweeted about the leaks. Democrats were desparate after the Billy Bush revelations did not affect Trump’s polling numbers.

In an Obama Oval Office meeting with President-Elect Trump, Barack Obama reportedly warned the president-elect against putting Michael Flynn in a high level position within his administration. There was no love lost between Obama and Flynn who was at the time a major player backing Trump.

Think about the wrongdoing of Hillary Clinton and no trouble found while the Deep State officials were monitoring Flinn's bathroom breaks trying to get a load on him. Eventually Mueller prevailed.

Michael Flynn, who served a short period as President Donald Trump's national security adviser was taken down by the Mueller Probe and he pleaded guilty to lying to federal law enforcement officials. He was badgered and lost all of his money and his house defending himself from Mueller.

He participated in 19 interviews with Special Counsel Robert Mueller's office and he assisted with several ongoing investigations including an undisclosed criminal one that was part of a probe of possible collusion (Witch Hunt) between Trump's presidential campaign and the Kremlin.

All of that, plus Flynn's "substantial assistance," early cooperation, and acceptance of "responsibility for his apparently unlawful conduct," led Muller's team to petition the court to grant Flynn a more lenient sentence that did not include prison time, according to a highly anticipated sentencing memo the special counsel's office filed.

There was not much more than what appeared in 13 concise and heavily redacted pages that let down anyone expecting the document to be another public narrative fleshing out lots of fresh detail about Mueller's investigation. It was a nothing burger, but they destroyed Flinn along the way—intentionally.

They were hoping to give pause to members of Trump's inner circle especially the president's son-in-law and senior White House adviser, Jared Kushner—Don't mess with Mueller. .

December 22, 2016

Michael Flynn contacted Ambassador Kislyak to urge Russia to oppose a resolution about Israeli settlements. Russia is one of several countries Flynn contacts, allegedly at the behest of Mr Kushner. Theoretically, this should not have been an issue but seemingly everything was an issue.

The Obama administration in its final hours issued new sanctions against Russia in response to its interference in the US election.

Flynn called Ambassador Kislyak multiple times about the sanctions and asked Russia not to retaliate. Kislyak later tells Flynn that Russia "had chosen to moderate its response to those sanctions as a result of his request", according to investigators.

US intelligence agencies release a detailed report on Russian election interference.

Two weeks before the Inauguration, FBI Chief James Comey briefed President-Elect Donald Trump at Trump Tower in New York. The FBI director lied when he said that Trump was not personally under investigation as part of the agency's counterintelligence case. He also informed Trump of the contents of Steele's dirty dossier, including the allegation involving prostitutes in a Moscow hotel. Trump immediately denied the false allegation. The dossier was a Hillary Clinton mechanism to help bring Trump down.

January 10, 2017

In his Senate confirmation hearing for the attorney general post, Jeff Sessions denied under oath contacting Russian officials during the election campaign. Steele's 'dirty dossier' was then leaked by BuzzFeed News, despite containing a series of unverified claims. The explosive 35-page report created a legal storm.

Trump tweeted

FAKE NEWS - A TOTAL POLITICAL WITCH HUNT!

January 11, 2017

The next day the President-Elect held a press conference in Trump tower decrying the "highly salacious" dossier, saying he has been a victim of "fake news".

"Does anyone really believe that story?", Mr Trump asks the audience.

To help convince the press with additional reasons, Trump added "I'm also very much of a germaphobe, by the way, believe me."

During an FBI interview, Michael Flynn reportedly did not relay all the facts 100% about his conversations with Ambassador Kislyak. The takedown of Flinn by the Deep state had begun.

January 26, 2017

Sally Yates, the acting attorney general, is briefed on the Flynn interview and warned the White House that the national security adviser could be vulnerable to Russian blackmail.

Trump's lawyer later says the president knew that Flynn lied to the FBI by late January.

Sheryl Atkinson in September 2017 offered that the media reports in September showed that they did indeed "wiretap" the former head of Trump's campaign, Paul Manafort, both before and after Trump was elected. If Trump officials or Trump himself communicated with Manafort during the wiretaps, they would have been recorded, too.

January 27, 2017

The FBI director claimed Mr Trump told him in a personal meeting "I need loyalty, I expect loyalty" over dinner at the White House, a move which could be seen as an attempt to steer the Russia investigation. Clearly there was no love lost between the Director and the President.

Comey seemed to be working at odds with the President. The President vehemently denied the claim. Comey added that the president told him that Flynn "has serious judgment issues". He also again denied the allegations involving prostitutes at a Moscow hotel, denying he even spent the night in Moscow. The Deep State plot thickened and at the time the President did not know that Comey was one of the top ring-leaders.

Jeff Sessions was confirmed by the US Senate as attorney general. He would remain seemingly behind closed doors for his entire time as AG. Though apparently a good man, sessions did nothing to abate the corruption at the FBI and the Justice Department. More and more one-time Sessions supporters eventually, were very pleased with his resignation.

February 13, 2017

The boom finally fell on Michael Flynn and he was forced to resign as national security adviser after just 24 days in the post. The Deep State were hoping that they could keep Trump from having a functioning staff at the White House.

February 14, 2017

During a meeting in the Oval Office, the President reportedly asked the Director to end the FBI investigation into Mr Flynn, which technically could amount to obstruction of justice. Comey claimed the President told him: "He is a good guy, I hope you can let this go." Mr Trump denies he made the comments. Comey did his best to hurt Trump in their encounters.

June 15, 2018

Paul Manafort was ordered to jail after a judge revoked his bail. The former Trump campaign manager was accused of contacting witnesses while awaiting trial for fraud charges. A federal judge ordered former Trump campaign chairman Paul Manafort to jail to await separate trials on money laundering and fraud charges following allegations that he sought to obstruct the Russia inquiry while he was on house arrest. He was reportedly put in solitary.

Immediately after U.S. District Judge Amy Jackson revoked Manafort's bail, he was led from a packed courtroom by U.S. marshals. Meanwhile, Manafort's wife, Kathleen, left the courthouse, forced to walk a gauntlet of photographers to the door of a black SUV. The family made no comment. If convicted at trial, Manafort faces the prospect of spending the rest of his life in custody. Why? Because he was associated with Trump for a short while. None of his charges would have been made if he chose a different course in life that did not include the President. I sure hope he is pardoned.

Donald Trump appeared to side with Vladimir Putin over US intelligence officials during a joint press conference in Helsinki. Trump's words were taken wrongly. He offered praise for the Russian president's "extremely strong and powerful" denial over election meddling.

He added: “I don’t see any reason why it would be” Russia who interfered in the 2016 presidential race. Of course, the press “killed” Trump for saying that.

The next day, after a fierce backlash from Democrats and Republicans, Trump made a statement in the White House saying he misspoke and meant the opposite. He clarified that he should have said "I don't see any reason it wouldn't be" Russia. He called the sentence he meant to say a "bit of a double negative".

August 18, 2018

McGahn, the White House counsel, had co-operated extensively with the Russia investigation and spent more than 30 hours with Mr Mueller's team, the New York Times reported. Following the report, Trump said he allowed McGahn to fully co-operate with investigators. The revelation was significant because McGahn will be a key witness to Trump's thinking at significant points-- for instance in the days leading up to his firing of James Comey, the former FBI director.

Historians have drawn comparisons with John Dean, the White House counsel during Richard Nixon's presidency, who handed prosecutors key information about his attempts to obstruct justice.

Hours later, Mr Trump appeared to be rattled by the news reports, sending out a string of tweets in which he compared the Russia investigation with the 1950's hunt for communists led by Senator Joseph McCarthy.

Trump: Study the late Joseph McCarthy, because we are now in period with Mueller and his gang that make Joseph McCarthy look like a baby! Rigged Witch Hunt!

August 20, 2018

President Trump sent out a series of tweet attacks aimed at Mueller and his team calling the special counsel disgraced and discredited. The Mueller probe ought to be long finished

Trump went on: "Where's the Collusion? They made up a phony crime called Collusion, and when there was no Collusion they say there was Obstruction (of a phony crime that never existed). If you FIGHT BACK or say anything bad about the Rigged Witch Hunt, they scream Obstruction!"

The comments came as the jury in the trial of Mr Manafort, the president's former campaign chairman, continued to deliberate a verdict.

August 21, 2018

Paul Manafort was found guilty of eight financial crimes in the first trial of the Russia investigation. It was a major victory they say for the special counsel.

A judge declared a mistrial on 10 other counts the jury could not agree on, however Manafort, who led Trump's election effort during a crucial stretch of 2016, still faced a lengthy prison stretch.

The verdict was part of a stunning one-two punch of bad news for the White House, coming as Trump's former lawyer, Michael Cohen, was pleading guilty in New York to campaign finance violations arising from hush money payments made to two women who said they had sexual relationships with the President.

November 7, 2018

The President had had enough inaction from the Justice Dept. He forced Jeff Sessions, the US attorney general, to quit, plunging the Russia investigation into deep uncertainty. Matthew Whitaker, Mr Sessions' chief of staff, was appointed acting AG. Democrats were immediately concerned as Whittaker could partake in the Mueller probe and other investigations of Trump.

In the role of acting attorney general. Whitaker had previously suggested that a replacement to Sessions could slash Mueller's budget so the investigation "grinds to almost a halt". That is surely true as acting AG is the AG.

It raised questions about whether Robert Mueller, the special counsel leading that investigation, who reports to the Justice Department, would face more restrictions in the coming months. As it turns out, he did not.

Donald Trump had selected to select as attorney general a person who would likely oversee the Russia investigation personally. This raised raising fears the president would pick an ardent supporter (William Barr) who could protect him and the country from the Deep State.

Trump's business entanglements are publicly brought into the Mueller investigation for the first time, with Trump himself reportedly referred to as Individual 1 in court documents.

This included misstatements about the "Moscow Project" -- the Trump Organization's efforts to "pursue a branded property in Moscow" and

On the same day, SDNY prosecutors revealed they have a deal with National Enquirer publisher American Media Company, Inc., in connection with a payment made during the campaign to purchase and never publish the story of a woman who claimed to have had an affair with Trump in 2006. ## Chapter 16 Heritage Foundation: "Don't Be Snookered."

Republicans still snooker the people

Republicans were once solid on doing what was right for America. Democrats always talked the better game but handed the outhouse spoon to Americans as the fulfillment of their promises. After Americans voted for Donald Trump and a Republican House and Senate with the expressed purpose of draining the swamp, Republicans chose not to make it happen. So, we lost the House to Democrats in the midterms because cowardly Swamp-Rat Republicans played footsie with donors instead of doing the people's business.

Yes, too many cowardly Republicans have been against Trump since he was first sworn in. We see it too often. Lisa Murkowski is the new poster girl of the Republicans who cares nothing about the people. When has she been for a conservative thought? The Murkowski ilk do not want their constituents to know but conservatives are helping them find out anyway. It isn't new. In its first noteworthy act of the 2017 Congressional session, for example, the Republican leadership decided to protect the swamp and drain the people of any financial influence in the government. No, I am not kidding.

The Heritage Foundation is a great organization that supports regular Americans. They put together an analysis of the Republican charade. They wrote a great synopsis of the message sent by Republican elites on Mayday, 2017 in the Omnibus Budget. The Republicans supported every Democrat notion that Obama had put in his budget from the prior year, and even some Obama had forgotten. Who needs Republicans like that when the Democrats would be pleased to deliver the same.

Worse than that, they gave the Democrats 1.1 Billion spending money for whatever they wanted. But, they provided the people with no wall and they refused to begin draining the swamp. Doesn't that upset you? Doesn't that make you mad as hell. The Republicans betrayed the people. That's just what they did. Let's start by asking Lisa Murkowski, why?

Here is a piece written by Heritage. You will be further enraged after you digest what the Republicans just did to us

KEY VOTE: "NO" ON FY17 OMNIBUS SPENDING BILL (H.R. 244)

MAY 02, 2017

This week, the House and Senate will consider the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2017 (H.R. 244), a 1,665-page omnibus spending package that would fund the federal government through September 30, 2017. The Heritage Foundation explains that while the bill, which was released publicly at 2 AM Monday morning, "does make progress" on some issues, "it woefully fails the test of fiscal responsibility and does not advance important conservative policies."

Many conservatives went along with a short-term continuing resolution last December (2016) based on a promise that the current deadline would be used to advance key policy priorities. Instead, the bill is widely viewed as a rebuke to President Trump's agenda and conservative priorities. [Thank you RINO Republicans like Lisa Murkowski, Paul Ryan, and the bad news Never Trumpers.]

Overall, the Trump administration requested an additional $30 billion for the military, $1.5 billion to continue construction of the southern border wall, and $18 billion in discretionary cuts. The bill provided only $15 billion for defense (of which $2.5 billion was withheld until the administration submitted a plan to combat ISIS), provided no funding for the border wall, and actually increased domestic discretionary spending. [This is for Democrat boondoggles]

Through a combination of emergency funding and overseas contingency operations funds, the bill pushes discretionary spending $93 billion above the budget caps.

The Trump administration was rebuked at the program level as well. The Department of Energy's Office of Science will receive an additional $42 million, whereas the administration requested a $900 million reduction. Funding for Community Development Block Grants was kept level despite a $1.5 billion requested reduction. The list goes on, as CQ Roll Call reported: "Trump proposed killing off more than a dozen federal programs in his fiscal 2018 budget outline, but it doesn't appear appropriators are inclined to reduce or eliminate federal funding for any of those line items."

Liberals, who supposedly had no power at all in 2017, celebrated the bill as a victory over President Trump and claimed they successfully blocked "more than 160 Republican poison pill riders." Heritage notes the omnibus "fails to advance almost any key conservative policies" as "it would continue to provide funding for Planned Parenthood and do nothing to restrict funding to sanctuary cities."

Along with a lack of conservative policy riders, the bill contains a $1.3 billion bailout for the United Workers of America, a union that represents about 10 percent of all coal production in the U.S. today. Coal miners deserve proper health care and retirement benefits, but it is the job of the union and private companies that made those promises, not taxpayers, to provide those benefits.

H.R. 244 contains a second health care bailout to Puerto Rico. In passing a bill to help Puerto Rico restructure its debts last year, lawmakers promised there would be no cash bailout. Yet, this bill would give the mismanaged and politically corrupt Puerto Rican government $296 million in taxpayer dollars to cover their shortage in Medicaid funds.

Coupled with these two bailouts, the omnibus spending bill also funds liberal priorities and initiatives. H.R. 244 includes millions in increased funding for Department of Energy (DOE) pet projects, national parks, Amtrak, Head Start, college tuition assistance, the National Endowments for the Arts and Humanities, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), and even a Bureau of Land Management (BLM) sage grouse conservation project.

When spending bills provide more funding to the National Institutes of Health (NIH) than border security, as this bill does, it's fair for conservatives to ask if this resembles more of an Obama administration-era spending bill than a Trump one.

The Heritage Foundation's Justin Bogie and Rachel Greszler acknowledge the bill "does make progress" on some issues, but they add:

"Unfortunately, the additional $15 billion in defense spending is only half of what President Donald Trump requested earlier this year and is inadequate to meet global threats facing the country."

"The additional $1.5 billion for border security is important in the battle to curb illegal immigration. However, none of these funds can be used for construction of a border wall, one of the president's top priorities."

"Unfortunately, none of the increases in spending proposed by this bill would be offset. Earlier this year, the president released a 'skinny budget' which proposed $18 billion in 2017 cuts, yet none of those cuts made it into the latest budget deal."

Heritage Action opposes H.R. 244 and will include it as a key vote on our legislative scorecard.

Chapter 17 Why Lie?

Republicans may be infrequent liars but liars nonetheless

I hope you enjoy this off-center introduction to the chapter that offers some rationale about why the Republicans choose to lie way too often to the American people. Democrats have been and continue to be incessant liars. I cannot recall a lie that they may have ever told for a good purpose.

keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it.”

-- Dr . Joseph Goebbels

Anti-leftists such as I, even if we are Democrats by registration, long ago hitched our wagons to the Republican Party because Republicans at least talked about the great values of America and Americans, whereas the Democrat message was always spent in hope of duping regular citizens into giving up more and more freedoms for more government control of things. Republicans once talked the talk and walked the walk.

That was until recent years when they began to play footsie with Barack Obama on budget matters and now with Trump, their little feet are still moving towards where Obama's feet had been but that is completely unacceptable to America and Americans.

Then one day, the Republicans decided it was OK to lie.

Can it be for beer?

My brother Joe Kelly, who once was the best Food Service Supervisor that the VA Hospital in Wilkes-Barre, PA ever had in their employ, scheduled his life well enough that he actually could take real vacations. On a particular vacation with me, his beautiful wife Diane could not accompany him because of a work conflict (She is a nurse). Joe asked a friend Bill Kepics, a progressive liberal but a nice guy, nonetheless, to accompany us to a conference that I had to attend for business in San Francisco.

A great friend of mine, Gerry Rodski had offered to share a room so that the four of us could make the trek while just two of us would be attending the tech sessions at the conference. The plan was to meet for Happy Hour each night of the San Francisco experience. It was great. It was like a fishing trip for four without having to go fishing.

My brother sat in on one tech session that I conducted at the conference. He is four years younger than I and he is a handsome man for sure. I had written a book called AS/400 Data Warehousing (DW) and the session was intended to describe the rudiments of the AS/400 computer solution for DW. It was well received.

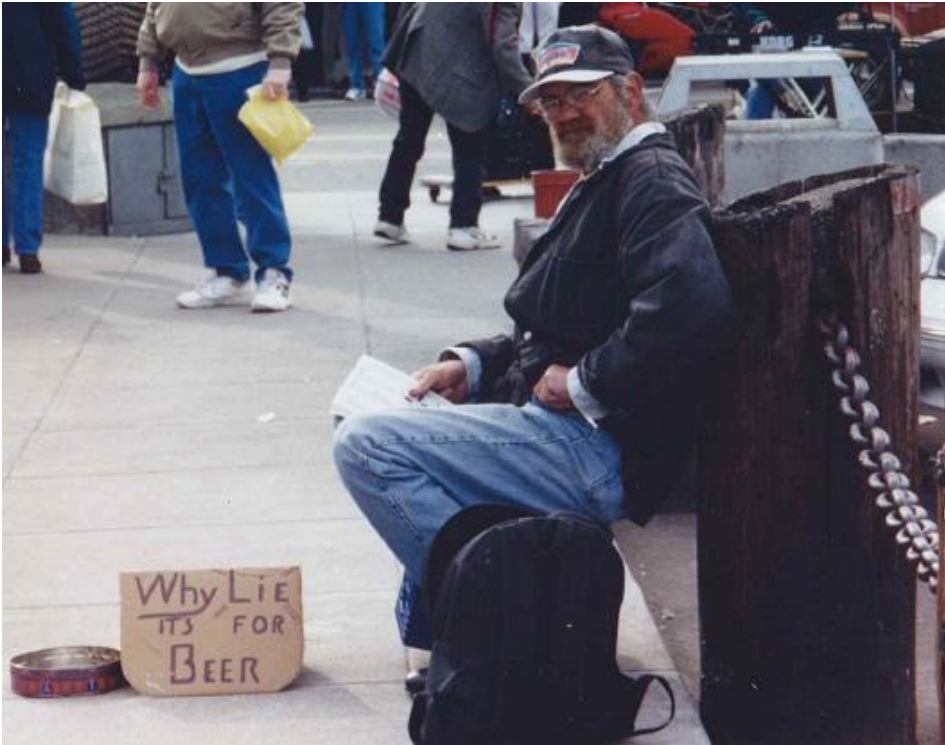

We had a few minutes after the session for front of the room questions before the next session, and I offered to sign any books on Data Warehousing that those in the audience brought forward. As that process began, an attractive young lady called out that she would like her book signed by Joseph Kelly, my brother.

Other young tech ladies did the same. Joe kindly signed the books but resisted the under current as he was a happily married man. Mr. Rodski was in the room as the DW topic was new to him but Mr. Kepics was not present. Kepics would have enjoyed the female entreaties if they were towards him as he remains single but still finds the opposite sex very attractive as they do him.

That is just the exciting warm-up to the real Why Lie story.

On the second or third day of the conference, my brother Joe was no longer coming to sessions. He was out and about enjoying the lively streets of San Francisco with his best friend in life, Bill Kepics. Joe and the Kepster (Bill Kepics' nickname) took the cable car to Fisherman's Wharf and had a ball.

Gerry Rodski and I were slugging it out with the tech presenters at the conference trying to get as much knowledge as we could on the new elements of the system so we would be more effective when we returned from the conference. My brother and the Kepster came back after a day of fun with a picture to commemorate their day at the Wharf. The pic was taken by the Kepster and is shown below"

Why Lie It's for Beer This picture now graces the back bar at my brothers place.

As you can see, the picture is of a reasonably-dressed pan-handler with a different sort of message. It was so obvious and so unusual that my brother asked his buddy to snap this picture and he told me that he generously donated and conversed with the honest funds-seeking broker. That's Joe in the background with the yellow package and his head cropped. For those viewing in b/w, Joe lines up perfectly with the Why Lie sign.

The pose may have cost a bit more but, nonetheless, we were all intrigued. The next day after early conference sessions, we all went to experience the man with the sign.

There he was unabashed in his iniquity and apparently ready to face as many days as he could to gain recompense and eventually some good beer for his absolute honesty. The passers-by were all intrigued. He was asking for money like all pan-handlers do. He was sitting back on a small bridge against the rail with a pan that looked like a tambourine and a sign created by a magic marker that read: “Why lie? It’s for beer!”

Though his mission was not necessarily noble, he was a lot more truthful than the Republican leadership of today who lie through their teeth to the people that the people’s agenda is their agenda. Nothing can be further from the truth.

Their agenda is to please their big rich donors and lobbyists and the people are not even on their radar. They could use a little honesty such as “Why Lie? It’s for beer?” But, they don’t ever fess up. They just do the bidding of those to whom they are beholden, and it is not the people.

By the way, before I continue about the lying Republicans, I have since found a number of other pictures of people who use Why Lie as their honesty catch phrase. Would it not be nice if Republicans said Why Lie? I am now an honest representative! See an honest Republican Representative on the next page. He is definitely the honorable so and so from such and such. I

Which district of your state does this fella represent?

The honorable so and so from such and such! The true look of an American politician

Every now and then a good Republican shows up and takes on the lying leadership of the party. For example, in March 2017, Louis Gohmert, one of the few greats in Congress, had had enough of the lies regarding the repeal of Obamacare.

He was on Fox and Friends and he was very open while detailing how Obamacare had hurt the majority of Americans, especially the elderly. He said that it appears the GOP leadership's current strategy is "we're gonna hurt our elderly folks a little more, but don't worry."

Gohmert is one of my favorites. He is a proud member of the House Freedom Caucus, and he is interested in a real repeal and replacement not a package of lies representing a watered-down version of Obamacare.

According to Gohmert, this was the lie: "We can't do what you guys want to do because the parliamentarian won't allow us to do it. Now, we can't check with the parliamentarian until we pass the bill in the House, send it to the Senate, and then the parliamentarian can rule." Gohmert says these are all lies. Why lie?

A Great Congress Person Louis Gohmert

If this chapter introduction were written by a Trump-hating promulgator of fake news, you can bet that they would ignore the facts and affix the dates of the encounter so as to depict that my brother's discovery, "Why Lie," from Fisherman's Wharf was really a young Donald Trump in the months before he got his family grub stake leading to his fortune. Once upon a time, it was just Democrats who lied. Now, Republicans get enough lies told just fast enough to push their donor agenda.

Why Lie? The people would not reelect me!

When a drunken pan handler on the streets of San Francisco has more class than sitting Republican members of the House of Representatives and the US Senate, we have come a long way from the patriot days when honest men spoke with honest men in the legislature and then later discussed matters in the town tavern. The quaff added to the honesty for sure. The City Tavern in Philadelphia in the days of Ben Franklin (on prior page) often filled the bill and the bellies for the early Patriots:

When Donald Trump ran for office he spoke the truth in all ways, even about things, which in the future he might not have control. But, why would he ever think that the Republicans in the House and the Senate, if they were honest representatives of the people, would consider lining up with the Democrats against America to smear and besmirch its President.

Yet, that is what this President has experienced. How well would you stand up in such an environment where your enemies remained your enemies and your supposed friends were more treacherous than your known enemies. I admire Donald Trump for his tenacity, but I want to see no chumminess with the swamp or the Deep State. To the extent possible, let's have AG Barr lock them all up.

Welcome to the one-time world when we could trust Republicans to do the right thing. It ain't going to happen again because this dishonest opportunistic cowardly Congress thinks it does not make enough money per year to avoid falling into hell by acquiescing to the temptation of the bribes of the donors and the promises from lobbyist operatives for an after-Congress life with a huge salary. It sure is shame.

Can we find one good Republican? Do we need Abraham's help?

Abraham Pleads for Republicans

Looking for a guiding lesson from God, let us turn to Genesis 18: 16-33

When we got there, we would find that those before us were not looking to save Republicans as we are. This is a bible passage from Genesis and they were looking to save the people of Sodom. See if we can find a few good Republicans in the same fashion that God sent Abraham to find good people in Sodom. Let's review God's word from the Bible

16. When the men got up to leave, they looked down toward Sodom, and Abraham walked along with them to see them on their way.

17. Then the Lord said, “Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about to do?”

18. Abraham will surely become a great and powerful nation, and all nations on earth will be blessed through him.

19. For I have chosen him, so that he will direct his children and his household after him to keep the way of the Lord by doing what is right and just, so that the Lord will bring about for Abraham what he has promised him.”

20. Then the Lord said, “The outcry against Sodom and Gomorrah is so great and their sin so grievous

21. that I will go down and see if what they have done is as bad as the outcry that has reached me. If not, I will know.”

22. The men turned away and went toward Sodom, but Abraham remained standing before the Lord.

23. Then Abraham approached him and said: “Will you sweep away the righteous with the wicked?”

24. What if there are fifty righteous people in the city? Will you really sweep it away and not spare[c] the place for the sake of the fifty righteous people in it?

25. Far be it from you to do such a thing—to kill the righteous with the wicked, treating the righteous and the wicked alike. Far be it from you! Will not the Judge of all the earth do right?”

26. The Lord said, “If I find fifty righteous people in the city of Sodom, I will spare the whole place for their sake.”

27. Then Abraham spoke up again: “Now that I have been so bold as to speak to the Lord, though I am nothing but dust and ashes,

28. what if the number of the righteous is five less than fifty? Will you destroy the whole city for lack of five people?"

"If I find forty-five there," he said, "I will not destroy it."

29. Once again he spoke to him, "What if only forty are found there?"

He said, "For the sake of forty, I will not do it."

30. Then he said, "May the Lord not be angry, but let me speak. What if only thirty can be found there?"

He answered, "I will not do it if I find thirty there."

31. Abraham said, "Now that I have been so bold as to speak to the Lord, what if only twenty can be found there?"

He said, "For the sake of twenty, I will not destroy it."

32. Then he said, "May the Lord not be angry, but let me speak just once more. What if only ten can be found there?"

He answered, "For the sake of ten, I will not destroy it."

33 When the Lord had finished speaking with Abraham, he left, and Abraham returned home.

We all know what happened next in the Bible story

<https://biblia.com/bible/esv/Genesis%2018.16%20-%2019.38>

Would we find one good Republican in this cowardly congress. Would we?

It is a tough life for our President whose mission is to drain the swamp of such representatives and who finds the Republican-led Congress operating against him from their HQ in the swamp on K street and elsewhere. The people must save the President from the swamp. But, the President must also resist the temptation of the swamp.

Picture yourself as Donald Trump, who comes in with a team of swamp suckers and the equipment needed for a big-time wholesome drain job. We see already in just a few months that those depending on the swamp for their excesses in life do not like it one bit at all. Like the bad men in Sodom, they have lined up against Trump's legislation and executive orders and appear to be against Trump being able to do anything—including breathing.

An unacceptable solution for dishonesty in government may be to pay members of Congress about $10 million per year instead of $170,000. Even this probably would not be enough. The $200,000 per year with expenses that they currently pocket ought to be enough or they should get another job.

The honorable so and so from such and such has a lot of reason to lie. One way of assuring purity of heart is with a lie detector test. If before taking the oath, they can't pass then they should immediately be expunged from office and that seat would stay vacant until the next normal election. In fact, they should be put in jail just for thinking about becoming dishonest.

Sometimes as I watch the inconsistent behavior of the president such as on the Omnibus bill and the "Repeal" and Replace that perhaps the big donors or the K-street mafia from the swamp have been able to threaten him or threaten his family in ways that we see only in some of the network TV shows such as Scandal.

I think that in 2019, with a Dem majority in the house instead of Lying Paul Ryan, Trump realizes that Ryan led him astray. Donald Trump played Mr. Nicey Nicey as directed by Paul Ryan but the Democrats were and still are ready to cut off all his appendages to get their way.

With Ryan, they did not have to. The traitorous Ryan pretended to be a good guy. He convinced Trump that it was OK to give America away. Trump learned a lot from Ryan because lying Ryan undercut him every chance he got. Now Republicans leaders are wondering why they lost the house. How about this. They did not do their jobs of supporting the President.

My personal fear at the time was that somebody has threatened the President in a believable way to accept the claptrap he was being fed... or else. And perhaps he was in peril. I hope it is not so; but I have an active mind. I would not put it past desperate people whose beloved swamp is being drained to attack our President and /or threaten his family.

Why Lie? You know why?

You see the analogy I am sure between the drunken panhandler who won't lie on Fisherman's wharf and those cowards, drunk with power in Washington, who lie as a matter of policy.. Legislators excuse themselves for their lies. Their honesty is a ruse. The guys we elect, lie regularly to protect their next opportunity to be reelected regardless of its impact on the country.

What if they told the truth? What would it sound like? Nobody would expect any corrupt legislator to actually come out and say something like this, but it would sure be refreshing:

“You know I am lying. I know I am lying. Why Lie? It's all I know. I will lie to get my way and I really do not care why you elected me as you will elect me again because I will lie and convince you to elect me. I will be back in office and you can't stop me.”

I think when hit between the eyes like that, even dumb voters would send such a bum home for good.

Though I see some things I do not like and things happen differently than I would like, I am still on the Trump team. I am confident that President Trump must begin to keep the promises that he made such as:

“We're going to have insurance for everybody,” Trump told the Washington Post after the election. Under Trumpcare, according to Trump, people “can expect to have great health care. It will be in much simplified form. Much less expensive and much better.” After a while on the things which Republicans would not support, Trump stopped pushing. We need to give Trump a better Congress. Maybe we need a new hat design:

“Give Trump A Better Congress”

How would that look on a T-shirt or a hat?

The new bill passed by the House in 2017 did not even yet come close to the full essence of the Trump campaign promise, but then again, the Republicans in the swamp told the President that there are two more phases to come. Now in 2019, we know it was all bull----. They lied. They were kidding. It did not happen. They lied and we let them.

Do you trust Republicans? I think too many of them want to destroy Trump's presidency and in so doing the people's dreams. That's why my secret idea of a John Doe Party is so appealing and so appropriate. I would love to see a new Party that would attract conservatives and Democrat populists and nationalists. Wouldn't you?

I wrote two books about this idea:

1. Kill the Republican Party 2nd edition www.amazon.com/dp/0997766751
2. It's Time for The John Does Party! www.amazon.com/dp/B071VPZ5C2

Would it not be nice to no longer have to trust Republicans to get the conservative job done in Congress.

I admit openly that I was not a fan of John Boehner but he was at least more honest than Paul RINO Ryan. I am not at all a fan Mr. Ryan. He is gone but he did a lot of damage when Republicans should have been all powerful. He is of the swamp and for the swamp as I see it. The lying he used to preserve Obamacare while calling it a repeal made no sense but the fervor of the lying was remarkable. The more I saw him in action the more pleased I was that the Romney/Ryan ticket went bust—but he might have been better than Obama—just maybe. Liars do not make me happy.

I would go so far as to say that the Ryan lying fervor has likely surpassed the degree of intensity of the corrupt Gang of Eight and their bogus amnesty immigration bill when Republicans were trying to convince anti-leftists that the bill was the opposite of what it actually was.

Yes, members of the Republican elite swamp government, do lie right to the people's faces. They think they are smarter than us. We must stop believing them and begin a new party – the John Doe Party, or the Good Guys or the American Party or something like that—that sounds good for starters..

Tell me--would you trust either of these guys below with your money?

This picture on the prior page was taken shortly after Ryan became the Speaker of the House and began to call the shots on the Republican elite agenda. They look too cozy, don't they? Which one do you trust the most / least?

Conservatives and anti-leftists were enraged at Paul Ryan's actions after such a short time holding the power of the purse. He may as well have been Barack H. Obama because he gave the former President even more than Obama expected in a budget funding debacle that lasted far too long and again the next year he extended like as if it had to be. He lied. Ironically, both funding bills were for $1.1 Trillion.

Examples of some really big lies

There were lots of headlines in 2015 decrying this new chumminess between the Speaker and the President. One major headline from Breitbart, describing what the regular Joes on the street thought about the prior Ryan budget resolution before the big Ryan Omnibus debacle of Mayday 2017 goes like this:

Paul Ryan Betrays America: $1.1 Trillion, 2,000-Plus Page Omnibus Bill Funds ‘Fundamental Transformation of America’

What chance do you have or does Trump have when your own team is not on your side of things. Doesn't this Breitbart headline sound a lot like Mayday, 2017. Yet, this headline is from December 16, 2015. Ryan kept kicking the can and coming up with excuses that conservatives were forced to buy.

That is why anti-leftists and the pro Trump crowd are enraged that the Republicans did it again with their Omnibus 2.0 in May 2017 and have been snookering conservatives for the two years of the Trump presidency.

How many times must we get burned by lying cowardly Republicans leaders before we actually fire them and start over. The John Doe Party or something like it would be a great way to eliminate Republican establishment rule and pull the plug on the Republican side of the swamp.

Steve Bannon, a name we all recognize & Julia Hannon wrote the following lead to a joint article in December 2016 They needed to express their outrage and the outrage of all the little guys out there who were hoping Ryan would be a much better conservative leader than Boehner. Ryan no longer needs to be fired, but shame on Republicans for not having the guts to do it. Here is what these two patriots wrote.:

Paul Ryan's first major legislative achievement is a total and complete sell-out of the American people masquerading as an appropriations bill.

Too harsh, you say? Let the programs, the spending, and the implications speak for themselves.

This is all old news, but it is the same ole news just the same. Republicans still do not serve the people. It is always “iffy.”

Moreover, it was replayed in front of us again and again the same “trust me I have an honest face,” Paul Ryan on Mayday 2017. Say it ain’t so Joe, but it is! You will know them by the scent of the swamp in the air as they go about their business. When will we ever learn? How about N-O-W!

There was little talk about a wall in 2014 and 2015, but there was a lot of outrage on President Obama’s end run on the Constitution to fund all sorts of illegals and emigres that Trump would eventually promise to shut down. And, for that we all elected him. And for that, Democrats and our “savior” Republicans have betrayed our trust.

You may recall the outrage and the major public attention that surrounded Obama’s 2014 executive amnesty. While Americans were out of work, the former President’s amnesty quietly continued to churn out work permits and federal benefits for hundreds of thousands if not millions of illegal aliens. It is still going on. The Obama Ryan team funded the 2012 amnesty in its entirety without asking for anything from the Democrats. It also funded the euphemistic “Dreamers”—aka, those illegal immigrants who came to the country as minors. For all that, Trump cannot even get a wall to assure border security for the American people.

Thankfully others in the House were not as bad as Speaker Ryan. The House had rejected Paul Ryan's amnesty bill by a 193-231 vote. If the bill had been passed, it would have been the largest amnesty in more than 30 years, despite President Trump's campaign promise of "no amnesty" and after multiple GOP congressional leaders expressed opposition to amnesty for any illegal aliens. Ryan was not a friend of conservatives. He lied and so did many, many Republicans. Too bad we could not recognize them by their limps.

There was not even an attempt by Ryan to minimize the impact of the Obama unconstitutional activities. There was no language for example, to limit the use of funds and prohibit them from being used for DACA, Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals, which as we know is a source for many of the gang members now in the country. Ryan funded the 700,000 illegal aliens with work permits, as well as the ability to receive tax credits and federal entitlement programs. Thank you, you Traitor, Mr. Ryan.

Should we have trusted a Speaker of the House who in 2013 said that he believes "that it is his job as a U.S. lawmaker to put himself in the shoes of "the Dreamer who is waiting" and work to find legislative solutions to his or her problems. Paul Ryan at the same time said nothing about Americans out of work because of illegal immigration. He was a smooth liar.

The Mayday 2017 Omnibus bill funded these same programs and did not offer a dime for the Trump Wall. Speculation is that the staffers of donors and K-Street lobbyists wrote the 2017 Mayday Omnibus, which continued to fund Barack Obama's dream world. Yet, anti-leftists who voted for Trump believed that Republicans for the last two years were representing us and not the Ghost of Obama Past.

Here are the other elements in bullet form as written by Steve Bannon and Julia Hannon. Closer than Chris Christie and Obama hugging on the beach during the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, the good buddy team of Obama and Ryan funded all things Obama at the end of 2015. Unfortunately, because Republicans lie to survive and do not care to represent their constituents, this claptrap continues still:

- Ryan's Omnibus Fully Funds DACA
- Ryan's Omnibus Funded Sanctuary Cities
- Ryan's Omnibus Funded All Refugee Programs

- Ryan’s Omnibus Funded All of the Mideast Immigration Programs That Have Been Exploited by Terrorists in Recent Years
- Ryan’s Omnibus Funded Illegal Alien Resettlement
- Ryan’s Omnibus Funded the Release of Criminal Aliens
- Ryan’s Omnibus Quadruples H-2B Foreign Worker Visas
- Ryan’s Omnibus Funded Tax Credits for Illegal Aliens
- Ryan’s Omnibus Locked-In Huge Spending Increases
- Ryan’s Omnibus Failed to Allocate Funds to Complete the 700-Mile Double-Layer Border Fence That Congress Promised multiple times to the American People.

You may recall about ten years ago when Congress lied to the American people and took credit for building a border fence and then never budgeted the funds. This was the 2006 Secure Fence Act. The American people were promised a 700-mile double-layer border fence. It was before Donald Trump began to refer to the” beautiful wall.”

This was just a fence, but a huge fence. People demanded it but we forgot, and Congress remembered to forget. OK, they simply lied. Well, Ryan’s Omnibus did not even require that funds be allocated to finish the construction of the 700-mile double-layer fence or begin the beautiful wall. Maybe the Republicans simply do not like Donald Trump. Yet, when they refuse to do their jobs well, they hurt the American people. We need to expel them by voting them out.

Bannon and Hannon finish their expose on Ryan with the following:

“Yet Ryan’s omnibus serves a second and equally chilling purpose. By locking in the President’s refugee, immigration, and spending priorities, Ryan’s bill is designed to keep these fights out of Congress by getting them off the table for good. Delivering Obama these wins—and pushing these issues beyond the purview of Congress—will suppress public attention to the issues and, in so doing, will boost the candidacy of the Republican establishment’s preferred presidential contenders, who favor President Obama’s immigration agenda.”

“What may prove most discouraging of all to Americans is that recent reports reveal that conservatives in the so-called House Freedom Caucus are praising Ryan even as he permanently locks in these irreversible and anti-American immigration policies. According to Politico, the House Freedom Caucus will “give Ryan a pass” even as he funds disastrous policies that prioritize the interests of foreign nationals and global corporatists above the needs of the American people, whom lawmakers are supposed to represent.”

Mick Jagger would say that “You can’t always get what you want.” This is a far cry from promising one thing and doing exactly the opposite. Question: Why do Republican elites continue to lie? Answer: Because we let them. Even with their lies, they appear to be the better choice rather than electing leftist Democrats.

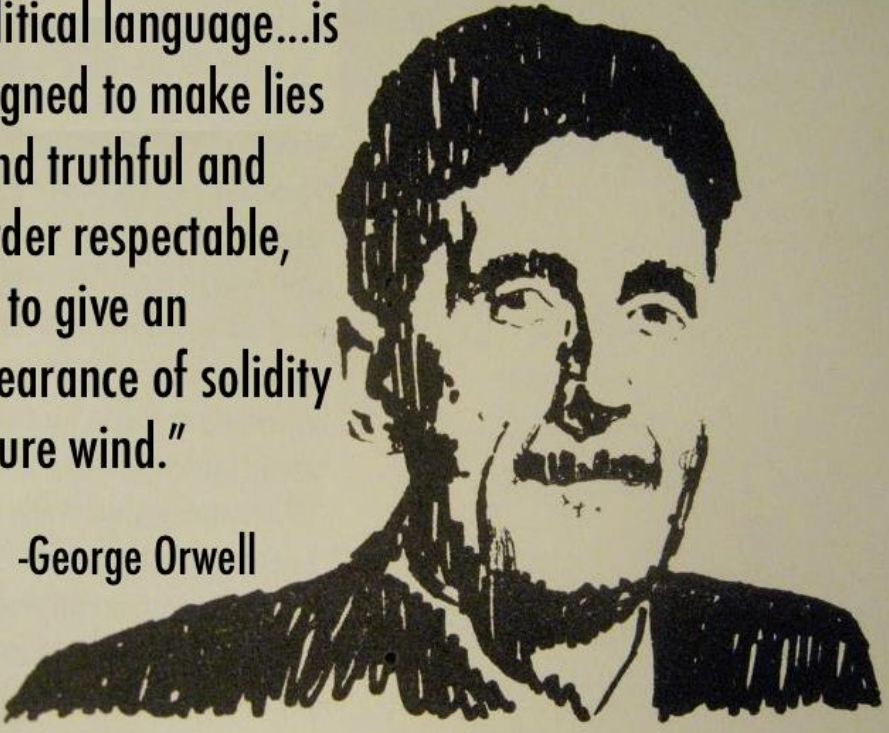

Just as the Republican Party once took on the Whig party and won; then one term later got its first President in Abraham Lincoln, we could do it with the right organization and the right team. But first we must believe we can. Back when the Republicans got a foothold in the 1850’s, there was no Internet to get the word out quickly. Yet the Republican Party came to be and Lincoln got the nomination and the victory. We should be able to get it done today with less effort! Let’s go do it!

Hey Buddy, can you spare a dime?

Chapter 18 Americans Are Sick of Cowardly Congress Lies

“Political language...is designed to make lies sound truthful and murder respectable, and to give an appearance of solidity to pure wind.”

-George Orwell

Rush Limbaugh well understands that many voters are simply “fed up” with the Democratic Party and have been fed-up for quite a while. They had been patient with Republicans for years but saw no action coupled with a new and obvious disdain for the anti-left masses. And, so now, we the people have become angry with Republicans in Congress, and we simply no longer trust them with our political fate.

We are angry with those who provide no real opposition in Washington. Who is supposed to take on the Democrats if not Republicans? Thankfully, the actions of elitist establishment Republicans did not mean that we got Hillary for eight years after Obama. Isn't that great? It was because the people decided it waa to be so,. The leaders weaseled out.

We the unwashed masses are the new-nationalists and populists while we are still mostly conservative and all-anti-leftist. We are taken up with the idea that we might be able to fall in love with Al Jolson's America again along with Frank Capra's America as we can play Jolson's old songs and watch Capra's movies in a happier America. You see, with Trump, it is not pure conservatism that has united us or has motivated us. It is America and all its good..

Until Trump came along, none of us were really sure we could do it. Like the John Doe movie with Gary Cooper proved: Americans can do it. We backed Trump as our John Doe and we got him elected.

That's what everybody had been missing in Washington and throughout the country before the bold and brash. "I can do it" attitude of Donald J. Trump began to seep into our very beings. American conservatives have found a way to bring back our America and we have learned that it is not by being staunch Republicans because Republicans cannot be trusted with our freedoms and liberties. For us it was by believing in Donald Trump, even though the odds appeared to be against him.

Americans came to the conclusion that we could re-find America by following Donald Trump and we made him our president, and we have re-found America. Nobody is going to take Trump from us, even the lying Republicans and even the nasty cowardly democrats. Now that Trump is President and winning the day, every day for America and Americans, we trust him even more. I am so glad he is so strong to take all the crap that is thrown at him every day. He is a phenomenon. Who else could or would withstand all he has had to deal with?

Most of us, especially you guys reading this book love America to pieces and that is a great start for America's spiritual comeback. The cowards in Congress must help by remembering who they represent.

For years, we saw Obama as the anti-American and we saw Hillary as offering the same. That is why so many John Does came out to assure America did not get eight more years of anti-American policies with Hillary. Donald Trump is our Captain America. He is a phenomenon and history will record him as such.

My friends and I are very glad he was in the race and we are elated that he won the race. Bravo President Trump! We sure hope you can remain impervious to the daily nasty ad hominem attacks. Most Americans think you are the greatest and that God put you in America for a great purpose. Thank you..

We wish that this President is careful as that he engages the swamp but he must be careful for the swamp dwellers will do their best to hurt him if he chooses to trust them. Donald Trump, I predict, would switch to the John Doe Party or the Good Will Party or The American Party if any such Party were available to him. He would reject cowardly Republicans who have not backed him in an instant if there were another option such as The John Doe Party, The Good Guys Party, or the American Party, or perhaps even the MAGA Party.

Hopefully, the rest of the Trump family would one day help with the movement to John Doe Clubs if we like that name and then like in the Gary Cooper Movies, ultimately The John Doe Party. Would that not be neat? Would that not be great?

Everything that Obama and Hillary stood/stand for, we have been against and continue to be against. It is axiomatic. We are in direct opposition to the left, to the Democratic Party, to Obama, to Hillary, to the leftist press, to the Deep State, to government corruption, and everything that has been going on for the last ten years.

We are still mad as hell and we want it all stopped and reversed. The right guy is in charge. That man is a unique truth-teller in an era of lies. That man is Donald Trump. Would it not be great if four years from now, Donald Trump were in his third year of his second term as President of the United States, after being nominated from the thick of a raucous pro-American John Doe Party Convention. Trump does not need cowardly RINO Republicans. They need him or Democrats will assure they get the boot. When Republicans finally realize they need Trump, I hope it is not too late. I still like the idea of The John Doe Party

We like Trump as much for the fact that we do not perceive him as part of the establishment as we do for his simple solutions that are best for America. Even if the solutions are difficult to achieve, we admire Donald Trump for having the moxie to get on the ball-field and do his best to win the game. We believe in his ability to make us all winners. There will be no losses and no losers on the Trump team. And, we will never get sick of winning.

Rush Limbaugh knows that Americans are angry at “Republican establishment central” in Washington. Donald Trump shares our anger and disdain for Establishment Central, and we love him for that.

Limbaugh believes that the new Nationalists and Populists are not necessarily committed as much to the conservative orthodoxy, especially when it comes to abstract principles or free market economics. For me, I have always been America-first but nobody other than Donald Trump has capitalized on that notion. And so, as a regular John Doe American, I have no problem being a Nationalist and a Populist. I want America to survive and have a great future.

“They don’t have to be conservative,” Trump explained. “They don’t even have to be Republican.” As a Democrat myself, I found that refreshing. I am a future John Doe man.

On a recent show, Limbaugh read from a 1996 article in the magazine Chronicles titled “From Household to Nation,” authored by the late Sam Francis.

He was discussing populism and nationalism when he quoted Sam Francis from this 1996 article. Here is the quote:

"Sooner or later, as the globalist elites seek to drag the country into conflicts and global commitments, preside over the economic pastoralization of the United States, manage the delegitimization of our own culture, and the dispossession of our people, and disregard or diminish our national interests and national sovereignty, a nationalist reaction is almost inevitable and will probably assume populist form when it arrives."

When Francis was writing this piece in 1996, he was talking about a rogue Patrick Buchanan presidential campaign. Francis had served as an advisor to the campaign. Ironically, though Buchanan is unquestionably one of America's great ones, Francis's prognostication can be brought into the present and just about all he wrote applies to Donald Trump. One can see in Francis's writings that he was predicting the rise of Trump.

We all know that Trump's signature issues are opposition to illegal immigration and opposition to bad trade deals against American interests. Trump is not just a man that gets our nationalist pro-American juices going, he has the ideas necessary to do the right thing even though the donor class—the real leaders and financiers of the swamp, are against everything he stands for. Too bad!

That is why so many of the establishment elites are against Donald Trump and why the people who learned who he is have been so dedicated to help him achieve his victory. Government hates him. Elitist establishment Democrats and Republicans hate him. Union bosses hate him, yet their members love him. Corporations hate him, and of course the corrupt media, a branch of the Democratic Party or vice versa also hate Trump. Only real people—my neighbors and your neighbors like Trump because he is hell-bent on creating an America for us, not for the donor class to count their immeasurable increasing wealth,

That means CNN, MSNBC, ABC, NBC, and CBS all hate Trump and unfortunately for conservatives, half of the bigshots on Fox openly hate Trump. Again, that is a big reason why the people love him. Those guys that we love to hate; hate Trump.

In days' past, even the Robber Barons cared about America, while they cared about their wealth. They were not at odds with their country. Today it seems our culture has given the big and the powerful the right to enjoy their riches selfishly and not to worry about anybody or anything else—even their country.

Today as I was at Mass, I heard a great homily. The Priest talked about rich people who love their money more than anything else. It made me think of the elite establishment cowards in both political parties. No time to worry about anybody else while collecting all their gains and fixing elections with their available cash.

Bury your heart with your riches

IN a story similar to a Dickens' Christmas novel, St. Anthony of Padua, who was known for his big heart spoke about the importance of not being too attached to greed.

In one of his sermons at the death bed of a rich man, he suggested that the dead man's remains had everything but a heart. His heart was not with the poor or the needy or with those he should have loved, but instead, Anthony told the crowd at the funeral that this man's heart was buried with his treasure if you could find it. It surely was not with his body. He asked the participants in the funeral to go ahead and see for themselves. This is that story:

"In a few words, on true and false love, [St. Anthony] preached at the funeral of the Florentine notable! Anthony's text was: "Where thy treasure is there thy heart is also." Pausing suddenly, he beheld in a vision, the soul of that rich man in torment. He exclaimed: "This rich man is dead, and his soul is in torture! Go open his coffers and you will find his heart." The astonished relatives and friends hastened to do his bidding; and there, half buried among the gold pieces, they found the still palpitating heart of the dead Croesus."

The good news today is that a billionaire such as Donald Trump with a heart and with a lot of love for family, friends and country chose to serve America. His heart will not be with his coffers, We the people need Donald Trump more than he needs us. He is one of a kind. Now that we elected him, let's help him get the job done in whatever way we can. Speak up when somebody defames America by defaming our President.

Big time billionaire Meg Whitman, who has been trying to win elections as a Republican for years, but nobody wants her, spent a lot of time (6 yrs) as CEO of HP. As a loyal IBMer, I competed against HP and the HP people with their HP Way loved the company. Whitman did not belong at HP. She cared nothing about their people.

Maybe with her riches, she bought her way into the job. All I know is she had no apparent loyalty to HP or to her Party, the Republican Party. She thought her X did not stink. She made the news before the election that she was abandoning the Republican Party because of its support for Donald Trump. Whitman changed to the "D." Party. Good riddance Meg! Great!

A list of many other traitorous Republicans, who have disgraced their own Party and who abandoned Donald Trump, who may or may not be on the list of disgraced "Republican" neocons, globalists, and establishment insiders but who fully pushed a Clinton presidency, include the following names. Don't ever forget them!" Remember them as losers, please.

If I made a mistake in any, I can make corrections and republish this book. Send the corrections to me so I can evaluate them. Meg, in my humble opinion did not win th hearts and minds of HP as Tom Watson Jr. and senior did with IBMers with a simple notion, "Respect for the Individual." Here are the creeps , Amen!

I expect more and more people on this list to come back to Trump. I hope it is sooner than later. They will be welcomed back.

That's not all and there will be more. Use the list above as your own personal starter set and add names as you learn about them. Washington insiders, aka the swamp, are threatened that Donald Trump, one of the few good guys left out there may take the gravy train right from their mouths.

Doesn't President Trump look great as he was becoming our President

When Republican non-elites (folks like you and I) have the great sense to no longer cling to a party that has abandoned them, this new notion of which I speak, whether it be a John Doe Party or an American Party or whatever, will save our day. Meanwhile, those Republicans who chose to abandon their Party, with a partial list of the perpetrators who hate Trump shown above, will rue the day. Why would one of us ever give them an opportunity for anything in the future after they have plotted and almost destroyed our county? Well, unless they ask nice!

God Bless America a million zillion times. We all need it!
