

Dear Reader: Thank you for downloading this free book from Brian W. Kelly. I finished the book titled America First Immigration <https://letsgopublish.com/immigration/amfirst.pdf> in September 2021. You bet it is America first.

Most of my books had previously been published on Amazon.

Click below if you would like to donate to help the free book cause:
<https://www.letsgopublish.com/books/donate.pdf>

Enjoy!

America-First Immigration

Innovative solutions which save $Trillions. Learn how!

By Brian W. Kelly

America-First Immigration

Innovative solutions which save $Trillions. Learn how!

Biden's border crisis is not the only issue with immigrants. What do we do with the 60 million who reside in America? The border crisis is solved by reinstating the Trump Remain in Mexico Program as ordered in August 2021 by the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS). This is a great solution and it is the right solution. This book addresses the problem of having 60 million illegal aliens residing in the country with many collecting welfare. This is a bigger problem. Your author's developed this solution after more than 15 years of research into the matter. You will enjoy the solutions.

Countries as far away as Australia have problems with migrants taking native jobs and gobbling up the country's resources. They use a technique called the Assisted Voluntary Return as part of an overall Pay-to-Go plan to incent migrants to leave Australia and return back home. Pay-to-Go is run successfully across the world. It pays both travel expenses and offers a generous stipend for those who sign up for the offer to return home.

But, what about those who would not leave the USA no matter what the incentive? Are we better off with the remainder of 60 million illegal interlopers staying in the shadows of America, rather than devising a plan to solve the problem of the immigrant shadows in a fair way that keeps America whole and immigrants safe and makes Americans masters of our own country again?

The last official try by eight corrupt US Senators was called the Gang-of-Eight plan in 2013 and it basically gave up America and Americans for the benefit of illegal interlopers. It put them on a fast track to citizenship that would cost US taxpayers up to $6.3 Trillion with all of its provisions. In 2013, Americans told Congress and the House voted "no" and we sent the Gang of Eight Senators packing.

Unfortunately, if we do nothing to end the tremendous cost and sacrifice of accommodating the 60 million illegal interlopers in the shadows of the USA, we cannot sustain our resolve. Will the gang of 8 re-emerge and take us down? How long can we Americans withstand this situation, which many rightfully call A Mexican Standoff. Our country is clearly in chaos; a race to the bottom in wages is underway; and regular Americans are losing the jobs and low-wages war every day.

Meanwhile, there is no American consensus as Democrat-dominated American cities and certain Democrat states offer sanctuary to illegal foreigners rather than supporting the needs of American citizens. The point is that if we opt to do nothing, this real standoff in the USA is scheduled never to end.

The one clear choice for those wishing to stay in America would be if we can legalize interlopers with no benefits. This would end the sanctuaries and the shadows and be good for everybody. I think we can do it.

In this book, in addition to Pay to Go, you can read the details of how to legalize Illegal Aliens via Resident Visas. It takes interlopers out of the shadows and gives them the opportunity they seek while keeping Americans whole and keeping the country prospering. You're going to like this America-first plan built by an American for Americans.

BY

Brian W. Kelly

Title: America-First Immigration

Subtitle: Innovative solutions which save $Trillions. Learn how!

Copyright © 2021

Publisher:

Author

Brian W. Kelly

Brian P. Kelly

Brian W. Kelly

All rights reserved: No part of this book may be reproduced or transmitted in any form, or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, scanning, faxing, or by any information storage and retrieval system, without permission from the publisher, LETS GO PUBLISH, in writing.

Disclaimer: Though judicious care was taken throughout the writing and the publication of this work that the information contained herein is accurate, there is no expressed or implied warranty that all information in this book is 100% correct. Therefore, neither LETS GO PUBLISH, nor the author accepts liability for any use of this work.

Trademarks: A number of products and names referenced in this book are trade names and trademarks of their respective companies.

Referenced Material: Standard Disclaimer: The information in this book has been obtained through personal and third-party observations, interviews, and copious research. Where unique information has been provided or extracted from other sources, those sources are acknowledged within the text of the book itself or at the end of the chapter in the Sources Section. Thus, there are no formal footnotes nor is there a bibliography section. Any picture that does not have a source was taken from various sites on the Internet with no credit attached. If resource owners would like credit in the next printing, please email publisher.

Published by: LETS GO PUBLISH!
Editor: Brian P. Kelly
Email: info@letsgopublish.com
Web site: www.letsgopublish.com

Library of Congress Copyright Information Pending

Book Cover Design: Brian W. Kelly
 Publisher: Brian P. Kelly

ISBN Information: The International Standard Book Number (ISBN) is a unique machine-readable identification number, which marks any book unmistakably. The ISBN is the clear standard in the book industry. 159 countries and territories are officially ISBN members. The Official ISBN For this book 978-1-951562-76-2

The price for this work is:

$14.95 USD

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Release Date:

September 2021

Dedication

I still have not gotten over losing my dog Ben, a year ago last Thanksgiving. He sure enjoyed himself on the day he moved on. He would not have permitted us to change any of his great remembrances as the Thanksgiving Turkey carving time for all his years, was one of Ben's favorites.

Each & every day before this year 2021 or so it seems, when I would go to work in the front office, and sometimes even before I would arrive, my two co-workers on every other book project were there to greet me and work with me all day—other than for extremely necessary bio-breaks for all parties.

This book is dedicated to these two fine individuals.

Benny, the first little man below, passed away on Thanksgiving two-years ago after a fine stuff-fest; but his spirit continues with me.

Buddy did his best to make up for Ben's absence. And I loved the little guy for his wonderful acceptance of the loss of his best dog friend in life. Buddy passed away last year. My wife Pat and our three adult children miss them immensely.

Ben & Dad

Buddy, Ben & Mom

Acknowledgments:

I appreciate all the help that I have received in putting this book together as well as all the other 290 books from the past.

My acknowledgments were so large at one time that readers complained that they had to go through too many pages to get to page one of the book.

And, so in response, I put my acknowledgment list online, and it continues to grow. Believe it or not, it costs about a dollar less to print my books today than then. No kidding!

Thank you, my dear friends and supporters of many years. May God bless you all for your help.

You may check out www.letsGOPublish.com to read the latest version of my heartfelt acknowledgments updated for this book.

A new lover of literature, Wily Ky Eyely continues her supportive efforts.

Thank you all very much!

Brian

Preface:

What would you call a plan that solved a problem for America that most of the Congress seems to have no interest in solving? I have called it many things while perfecting this, my twelfth book on the subject. But now let me settle my mental rumblings with what it should be called The Resident Visa Plan. It has a companion plan called the Pay-to-Go Plan. Both plans are needed to make the overall plan of America-First Immigration work for all Americans and for our temporary “guests.”

This book, America-First Immigration is the latest book which offers a two-part solution to the problem of having 60 million illegal interlopers living in America with most of them being supported by US taxpayers.

The simplest part of the two-part plan to understand is called Pay to Go!. It is exactly what it says it is and it is used as the primary way in many countries to encourage illegal interlopers to go home. In many cases, it provides enough cash in the homeland to permit the returning interloper to establish a nice business and become successful in their own home country. If you asked them, they would more than likely pick that option rather than live in the shadows of a country in which they are thought of as illegals.

The more complicated but also a simple part of the two-part package pick is called The Resident Visa. It too is what it says it is. Americans do not need a visa to live in America but illegal interlopers are not Americans. They are natives of their own home country and they snuck into America sometimes by hopping the border and sometimes by overstaying a student or a work visa.

For an illegal interloper to be able to reside out of the shadows and among the general public, without being citizens, as simple way would be to give them a visa which in essence gives them a visitor status. The Resident Visa Plan gives them a permanent resident visa that if renewed once a year would entitle a former interloper to live out of the shadows in America for their entire lifetime. Besides good behavior to be defined, there are two major stipulations to stay in good standing with the program. They are as follows:

1. No right to vote
2. No welfare – pay your own way

This book should be required reading for every House and US Senate member as well as the President of the United States. This is the only plan that can work for Americans-first to end the shadows and the sanctuaries and save America about a $Trillion per year. Both books are available on the Amazon and Barnes & Noble sites. Keep reading and you will be amazed at how easy it really is to solve this problem that has plagues America for well over fifty years.

I am very pleased that you are already reading this book and I hope many others find it and convince the US Administration and the Congress and the President that it is their turn to learn about The Resident Visa Plan. It should have been obvious without me, a guy from no place giving Congress and the President a good idea.

Table of Contents

Chapter 1 Let's Get Right to the Best Solution?	15
Chapter 2 Everybody Wants to Come to America!	19
Chapter 3 Beyond Immigration Politics	27
Chapter 4 Solutions Prior to This Book	39
Chapter 5 The FAIR Solution	43
Chapter 6 Is This a Problem With a Solution?	47
Chapter 7 Should We Send All 60 Million Back Home?	55
Chapter 8 What If An Interloper Does Not Want to Return Home?..	59
Chapter 9 A Pro-American Comprehensive Immigration Program ..	67
Chapter 10 The Financial Impact of Illegal Immigration.....	75
Chapter 11 Tell Me About Jobs & Millennials, etc.....	81
Chapter 12 The Jobs Impact of Illegal Aliens on Black Americans ...	87
Chapter 13 A Perfect Plan to Solve a Big Problem	95
Chapter 14 Gang of Eight Compared to Resident Visa Plan.....	105
Chapter 15 Review of the Resident Visa Program	119
Chapter 16 Financial Accountability System	131
Chapter 17 Summary and Conclusions	149
Other Books by Brian W. Kelly: (amazon.com, and Kindle).....	151

About the Author

Brian W. Kelly retired as an Assistant Professor in the Business Information Technology (BIT) program at Marywood University, where he also served as the IBM i and midrange systems technical advisor to the IT Faculty. Kelly has designed, developed, and taught many college and professional courses. He is also a contributing technical editor to a number of IT industry magazines, including "The Four Hundred" and "Four Hundred Guru" published by IT Jungle.

Kelly is a former IBM Senior Systems Engineer and he was a candidate for US Congress from Pennsylvania. He has an active information technology consultancy. He is the author of 290 other books, in many topical areas, as well as hundreds of articles. Kelly has been a frequent speaker at many US conferences. Invite him to your next conference on immigration solutions.

When Brian ran for Congress as a Democrat against a 13-term Democrat in 2010, he took no campaign contributions, spent just enough to buy signs and T-shirts, and was a virtual unknown. Yet, he captured 17% of the vote. Kelly says: "Writing books is lots easier than running for public office!"

Chapter 1 Let's Get Right to the Best Solution?

The problem is that there are over 60 million illegal interlopers today in America and many of them collect welfare and pay no taxes. Take heart, my friends, I have a great solution which I will introduce forthwith and which we will then expand upon as this book continues.

The solution is called America-First Immigration. There are two parts, both of which are very important. They are as follows:

1. The Resident Visa Plan
2. The Pay to Go Plan

The Resident Visa Plan is a vision for a secret sauce solution to fix the problem of 60 million interlopers waking up in America every day without our permission. Yes—build the wall, please! Also, reinstate the Trump Remain in Mexico plan according to the Supreme Court and do what is necessary to protect our borders from illegal entry. While we are at it, the US must enforce our existing immigration law so we never are in this situation again.

While other laws protect the border, these two parts of the America-First Plan—Pay to Go and The Resident Visa simultaneously solve the residence problem of so many people who do not belong here in America. Do we really need up to 60 million interlopers in residence? I do not think so. Hey, John McCain, when he was a powerful force in the US Senate believed that there were over 128 million interlopers in residence. He based this on 4 million per year in 2002-2004. Here is a McCain letter to that effect

Every year, millions of people enter this country legally, in a monitored and controlled manner. However, an increasing number of people risk their lives to cross our borders illegally. According to the U.S. Border Patrol apprehension statistics, it is estimated that almost four million people crossed our borders illegally in 2002. The majority of these people are seeking the American dream, looking for a good paying job that will enable them to provide a better life for themselves and their families. We must recognize that as long as there are jobs available and employers in need of workers, people will continue to migrate.

Maybe he was right. I am inclined to think so. Do we need 128 million? Do we need any extremely large number of illegal aliens? Can anybody tell me what we need? My personal thoughts say we need zero. It is time to give Americans an opportunity to work in America. Let's stop favoring foreign nationals above American citizens.

The Pay to Go program is in use throughout the world while the Resident Visa Program solution is unique but everything needed to implement it is already in place. Together, both plans directly address the issues that having 60 million illegal foreign nationals in residence have brought upon America.

Nobody likes deportation but just like you would throw an uninvited guest out of your home. It would be very fair for the US to throw out (deport) the 60 million uninvited guests in America today. Despite it being fair, there are many Americans who think that would be too harsh a treatment for those who have been enjoying life in the recent past in America.

So, the Pay-to-Go Plan and the Resident Visa Plan are the tools that would eliminate the need to institute the “harsh act” of deportation to solve our illegal residency problem. Isn’t that really what most people want? With the stipulations of no voting and no welfare, there is nothing not to like in the Resident Visa Program. The shadows and the sanctuaries fade into a dark part of our past history and everybody becomes free to live their lives in the open in America.

I personally do not think that deportation is an unfair method of dealing with the problem of 60 million uninvited guests in our house. It would solve the problem for us for sure. But, I too think it is harsh as it affects the lives of human beings in a very negative and some might say a cruel way. Deportation does not give the interloper a head start to get back on their feet in their home country. It simply kicks them out of America to fend for themselves wherever they land. That’s why I created both the Pay to Go and the Resident Visa Plans.

To repeat, yes, deportation is fair of course as these folks have broken our laws. But, our politicians are culpable also as they made it too easy for foreigners to break our laws. The problem is that we do not see them in our house every day and so most of us have no stomach for deporting them. The America-First Immigration Plan solves all that in a clean way for everybody involved.

That is why there are two parts to the plan. A necessary adjunct solution to the Resident Visa Plan is the Pay-to-Go Plan. The US will pay the return expenses for each illegal interloper who chooses to return to their home country. Moreover, depending on their status in the USA, the government will provide a generous stipend of anywhere from $20,000 to $50,000 once they return to their home (payable in the home country).

That’s a good deal. The returnee would then be able to invest in their own small business and start life with a head start in their own home country—not a strange place like the United States. Moreover, their family members would be there for support.

Amnesty is not a solution as Americans have already paid a big price for the largesse of politicians wanting low wages and those wanting the future votes of today’s interlopers.

Ideally, the solution would be to go poof, and every foreign interloper would be taken back to where and when they crossed the border years and years ago.

Every plan requires fine tuning and we would expect these plans to continue being made better. When illegal interlopers do not want to be paid to go, and they want to stay in the US, the Resident Visa Plan comes in very handy. Some illegal interlopers know no other country than the US and they want to be productive members of our society. So, they do not want to leave. Together these plans are the long-sought solution to 60 million illegals in America. Nobody will be illegal and there will be no need for sanctuary citizens.

A key element of this plan is that each year the clock resets on foreign nationals who are permitted here on a temporary basis under the Resident Visa Plan. This book, thus focuses on interlopers signing up to become Resident Visa Holders with appropriate renewal assurances for good behavior.

In summary, this book presents the Resident Visa Plan as the fix and Pay-to-Go Plan as the backup fix. Then it offers many other points on why this is the one and only fix to create an America without shadows that favors Americans 100%. There is so much good left over that good-willed interlopers have a lot to gain simply by signing up.

You are going to love this book as well as the plans themselves. All interlopers immediately are to be registered and accountable. You will see that the Resident Visa Plan is designed by an American for Americans.

Additionally, illegal foreign nationals will be very pleased because the plan uses deportation as a very last resort and it immediately gets illegal foreign nationals out of the shadows. Few books are a must-read but America-First Immigration will quickly appear at the top of America's most read list.

This is a simple, America-first solution but only if Congress and the President have the guts! It solves the problem with 60 million interlopers in America and many others immigration related issues. Learn more about the best America-First solution for immigration in this book!

Chapter 2. Everybody Wants to Come to America!

Everybody wants to come to live under the stars and stripes

America is a great and kind country. That is why everybody wants to come here—from so many different countries. Their plight is well served by arriving on our shores and life begins again for them. Unfortunately, it is not as easy as getting on a magic carpet and winding up in the US of A. Even though President Biden and Vice President Harris promise forever, they can't deliver America to foreigners because it is owned by Americans like you and I.

Like everything good in life, there are issues. Just like there would be issues if ten people showed up from a foreign country and wanted you to cook dinner for them every night until you could not take it anymore.

There would be trouble. The first set of issues and concerns for unwelcome unexpected arrivals / uninvited guests, would be the integration of millions of people and their children and their close relatives into American society. Then there is the social and spatial mobility across generations, competence in the English language, naturalization, intermarriage and ethnic identity. Nothing good happens overnight even in America.

The next set of issues concerns the effects of immigration on American institutions, focusing on two extremes with side-effects for the rest of the population—excellence in science and the arts and participation in crime.

The social consequences of immigration are not only the outcomes of immigrants' own values, skills, and motivations, but also reflect the reactions of the resident population. What American wants freeloaders to show up for supper each night? Which Americans want to give up their jobs so that a foreigner can have a better life? Not many for sure.

Besides that, there are interethnic relations and public opinions on immigration, especially regarding concerns about the economic effects. Many Americans want the best for foreign “guests”, but they question whether they should be forced to pay for it.

These issues do not exhaust the ways in which immigration has shaped American society and how immigrants have responded to their new environment. However, they do serve both to illustrate the potential contribution that social science research can make to policy debates and to identify gaps in current understanding.

Ask yourself what immigrants gain by coming to the United States and then, what do they contribute to the country. What are the skills of immigrants compared to those of native-born Americans. What are the experiences of immigrant women and other groups, and much more.

Examine the examples of how to measure the impact of immigration on government revenues and expenditures—estimating one year's fiscal impact in California, New Jersey, and the United States and projecting the long-run fiscal effects on government revenues and expenditures.

What about the background information on immigration policies and practices and data on where immigrants come from, what they do in America, and how they will change the nation's social fabric in the decades to come. Finally one must ask, is the disruption worth the social and economic cost? Is the cost ever fully recouped? Does the rest of the world have a God-given right to migrate to America and be supported by American taxpayers. Many Americans do not think so.

Nonetheless, in the past several decades, there has been a large influx of interlopers who claim to be immigrants. Many of them are Hispanic /Latino and many are illegal. This has expanded from traditional multi-lingual cities into the suburbs, exurbs and even rural areas of America. This unexpected onslaught which some call an invasion has produced a backlash, especially since the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001, made immigration a national security issue.

Though those who carry fake news estimate there are now 12 million undocumented immigrants in an illegal status in the United States, your author has studied this matter for years at which times the inflow rate has been several hundred thousand to several million per year.

Your author therefore finds the 12 million estimate as way too low. He estimates there are 60 million illegal residents today living in the country. This is really unfair to American taxpayers who pay a goodly amount in taxes to support these interlopers. What should the U.S. do with them? The nation is engaged in a heated and divisive debate, one that crosses all lines of party and ideology.

I do not recall in all of the Theological lectures that I have attended, in my twelve years of Religious Education that God has ever dictated that Americans must open up the country for unlimited unvetted migration. The world's population is 7.9 billion as of 2021. The US population is currently 328.2 million. Can the world's population possible be accommodated. Nobody thinks so.

By the way in a recent survey by CIS.org, the results pointed out that anywhere from 386 to 703 million people around the globe (adults plus children) would love to migrate to the United States if they could. That means that waiting in the wings to come to America is a number of people greater than twice the size of our current population . The US population would explode to three times its size if there were no borders. No country could possibly sustain such a huge growth in population. One must conclude therefore that even God does not intend for all people to live in America. He made a lot bigger world and America is just a small portion of all the real estate that God has given to the people. We should feel no guilt about our border wall which is designed to protect our citizens from such an onslaught.

There are many other issues involving the social consequences of U.S. immigration that do not receive detailed discussion in this chapter. Two examples are studies of the effects of immigrants on schools and the role of immigrant entrepreneurs in creating new businesses.

There are lots of people—lots of good Americans who continually assess the social consequences of immigration. Their assessment arouses strong reactions. Some critics of the contemporary immigration policy conclude that the arrival of predominantly nonwhite immigrants displaces native workers. It also swells the largely minority "underclass," and in some cases, it exacerbates racial and ethnic tensions. Most of this has nothing to do with skin color, it has to do with the fact that foreigners seem to get a better deal than citizens from our own government.

There are many others with other reasons for why massive immigration is good. For example the Democrats want to change the voting landscape so that those inclined to vote Democrat far outnumber those who operate more on the conservative side.

Depending on what you have observed, you may find that the new arrivals who come mostly as interlopers, do not have concern about taking the jobs of Americans and working for far less pay. Some others find them a breath of fresh air, which they feel strengthens and reinforces the best in American traditions, revitalizes decaying neighborhoods and stagnant industries, and they see it as a way of adding new talents and energies to the U.S. civic culture.

The problem is that we get some of each and the bad is mixed in with the good and many Americans do not want to risk the bad for whatever good may come from it. Besides that with the rise in nationalism in conservative circles, this is the wrong medicine

There have been times when several million interlopers per year slipped into the US through various means. Some in the early days came in inner tubes across the Rio Grande and became known as wet backs as their backs were wet from the open area of the tubes by the time they reached the US side.

Until they dried, they were easy to spot. Some say we already have enough immigrants and we should stop all unlawful entry and cut back even on legal immigrants. The idea is fraught with consequences and issues. Debates on the topic are intermittent and no resolution is typically the resolution.

Although it is not possible to resolve all controversies over the impact of immigration, though some immigrants have made significant contributions to many American institutions, once burned Americans do not forget easily. It is also true that some immigrants have participated in crime, and contributed knowingly to interethnic tensions and violence, sometimes directed at other immigrants, sometimes at American citizens.

Unmitigated immigration is a risk for the existing population. As with many past waves of immigrants, the new breed will also redefine the character and content of American culture in the process. It is not good that their first official act in America is to break the immigration laws.

An often-heard criticism is that immigrants do not adapt to American society and culture, thus balkanizing the American population. Issues of immigrant assimilation are important for several reasons. There are studies that suggest that some immigrants, particularly those from Latin America, have higher fertility. Some people notice this “fact” more than others.

Intermarriage and Identity

There has always been variations in the experience of different ethnic groups with social mobility and ethnic or racial identification. East European Jews achieved a great deal of social mobility by the second generation, but some have observed that Italian Americans took several generations to reach parity with native whites of native parentage. Overall, however, the remarkable progress of once-stigmatized groups like Greeks, Slavs, Irish, and Italians has been viewed by some analysts as an "ethnic miracle."

Succeeding generations of some non-European groups have also experienced significant upward mobility. The increase in education and income across the generations of Japanese Americans, for example, has been so great that they now have the highest income of any ethnic group in the United States. Regardless of success and failures, there is no way to assure the right mix.

In the nineteenth century, the Irish were seen as a "race" apart from other European groups. Their names sounded like mick this and mick that. And they were mocked for being Micks and Harps. First generation Irish were tough as nails—sometimes too tough for their own good. They were wily by nature and were stereotyped for their criminality, lack of education, and poor family values and were often portrayed as apes in cartoons of the time. Irish were the whitest white and negroes were the darkest blacks. Blacks and highly white Irish were labeled negatively by early Americans.

Irish, at least my family actually often joke about their characterizations. For example, there is a placard that I have hung on top of the entrance to my sun room which states rather boldly: "God invented whiskey to keep the Irish from ruling the world." As a person of 100% Irish descent, and knowing quite a few from the Old Sod, I can see some truth in the saying. But disparagement of any race is a bad thing unless the people involved are OK with it.

In the mid-nineteenth century, the Irish were also nicknamed "Negroes turned inside-out", while African Americans would be described as "smoked Irish". I would bet there were many in both ethnicities who disliked that moniker. In those times, there would not be a jovial tone but a sarcastic tone to the ethnic slurs.

If those debating immigration restriction in the early part of the twentieth century had done population projections to predict the "race suicide" they believed new immigrants were causing, they would have projected the numbers of Southern and Central Europeans and Irish and they would have shown how these growing groups would have made white Protestants a minority by some date in the far-off future. Yet we now know that such predictions would have been wrong for several reasons.

Most importantly, they would have failed to predict the decline in the relevance of the boundaries separating European groups from one another. The children and grandchildren of immigrants from Italy, Poland, and Greece—groups that were once seen as "unassimilable" and racially distinct—intermarried with others of different ethnic origins to such an extent that the descendants of most white European groups as of today are virtually indistinguishable. Time cures all ills.

Indeed, the descendants of all immigrant waves from Eastern and Southern Europe have surely by now reached equality with white Protestants in education, income, occupational specialization, and residential distributions. Today blacks and whites have almost reached a similar assimilation. At least we seem to be headed that way if the media can stop dividing us. It's like I've grown accustomed to your face. And the next thing they are married. Marriage solves a lot of racial problems. Today's "woke" crowd does not seem to want harmony in the races and that surely makes it tough to achieve.

At the turn of the century, marital "endogamy was castelike for new ethnics from eastern and southern Europe" Marry among your own was the credo of many races and creeds.

Endogamy, also called in-marriage, custom enjoins one to marry within one's own group. There are sometimes real penalties for transgressing endogamous restrictions. These have varied greatly among cultures and have ranged from death to mild disapproval. When marriage to an outside group is mandated, it is referred to as exogamy.

Within the space of two generations, social, economic, and cultural changes have led to levels of ethnic intermarriage that would have been unthinkable in the decades immediately following the major waves of immigration. Perhaps we have gotten so good at assimilation that if the Martians finally do come to America, our "Independence Day" will be marked with a few good marriages. Stranger things have happened.

Chapter 3 Beyond Immigration Politics

Like me, Craig Berlin, an independent writer, wrestled for years with how to solve the US immigration “problem” and in 2018, he wrote what he considered to be the eight-part solution in his timely article titled: 8 Common Sense Solutions to Immigration that Go Beyond Two-Party Politics

His piece was published Jan 9, 2018. The perfect picture from the beginning of Chapter 2 was included with his article submission.

We will discuss Craig’s solution near the end of this chapter.

Berlin begins by noting quite correctly that any debate on immigration today is tainted by major partisan opposition and it is rarely viewed in the light of pragmatism. The country’s attitude on immigration has changed quite dramatically overall from a time when most Americans agreed that illegal immigration was a real problem. The major divide between progressive liberals and conservatives is seen in this controversy as the left acts as if it is a “human right” to live in America regardless of how you get here and the right suggests anyone here illegally has committed a crime and are inclined to stay safe in the shadows even if their safety may do harm to Americans.

After Biden took over, after not requiring constant attention in the latter Trump years, the new President reversed all of the policies that had delivered a relatively long and tranquil period at the border. Within weeks of Biden's inauguration, all hell broke loose. The Biden welcome mat was visible from all countries across the globe. Republicans are now finally getting upset and the RINOs at least are now providing lip service around the issue, a signature of Biden's predecessor, Donald J. Trump.

"If they don't control this, it'll be a huge issue this year, and it's an issue that gets you into public health, into the issue of defending America and whether there are borders," said Former House Speaker Newt Gingrich, a longtime Trump ally.

In a letter signed by 40 senators, Republicans have criticized the Biden administration's border policies; among the criticisms are Biden's kinder tones, his pledge to end family separations at the border, and the administration's freezing of Trump's border wall project. Biden's policy simply is "if it was working for Trump, America won't use that policy."

There is still a huge gap between these two positions on this major dividing issue. Not everybody sees room for two sides. When some Americans may understand the space between, somehow there is not enough agreement that any long-term solutions can be brought forth that address the "disease" rather than the "symptoms."

The Gang of Eight were not of the people

Oh, there have been attempts but the public sees most tries as coming from one side or the other and not from the middle. There is never a real compromise. When Obama had control, there was a group of eight Senators out of 100 on both sides of the aisle—4 & 4, who suggested they were bipartisan. They called themselves the Gang of 8. Their major work product was a comprehensive immigration reform package known as S. 744, the "Border Security, Economic Opportunity, and Immigration Modernization Act."

Conservatives in the rank and file saw it as another sellout by mostly RINO Republicans such as John McCain and Lindsey "Gramnesty" Graham who absolutely love the amnesty idea . While the bill passed the Senate with strong bipartisan support, the House didn't act on it and it ultimately expired.

The House on this one were more in touch with the American people who, at the grassroots level, were not interested in illegal aliens taking American jobs among other things. From this controversy the political differences seem to have migrated to another set of issues, namely DACA and Sanctuary Cities in exchange for the funding for the big wall. The sides were the same – conservative v liberal progressive.

Conservative Americans as well as some conservative Democrats such as yours truly, many of whom looked to the Republican Party to stay clear-headed on these issues and not get "sucked" into the Democrat point of view, began to feel betrayed by what they saw as a whole Congress full of RINOs. The Gang of Eight convinced this set of Americans that there was no hope left for them and that it was only a matter of time to come out announcing they had become full-fledged Democrats.

There was a major sense of betrayal. Conservatives believed that the new Republicans and the old Democrats wanted to join to fundamentally change America to match Obama's political vision. This did not sit well with the conservative rank and file who fervently believed in patriotism and Constitutional Law.

Then came Donald Trump. The sense of betrayal from the conservative side was so strong that Trump was not at first fully embraced even though he seemed to be saying exactly what the folks wanted. But, could this big TV Star be trusted?

It took a while for the trust to flow but it did. In the debates, the people learned about Trump as he ran roughshod over the many wimpy Republicans who collectively looked like namby-pambies on the issues nearest & dearest to conservative hearts. Mitch McConnell and John Boehner and Paul Ryan had given into the Democrats so often, conservative Americans had had more than enough of RINOs.

Before too long, the notion that Republican good-old boys were wishy washy on the issues began to really grate on the people. Conservative Democrats and Conservative Republicans did not want things to stay the same. Trump was playing a different tune and the people liked what he was playing.

I saw a number of one-time hard core Democrats in my own family switch parties to Republican in Pennsylvania for one reason—so they could vote for Trump in the Primary. In PA, if you are a Democrat, you can vote for only Democrats in the Primary. The magic of Trump appealed to lifelong Democrats who knew something was wrong with the country and the Democrat leadership was not about to fix it.

Donald Trump rose to become the Republican frontrunner during the 2016 election. He offered a love-America-first approach, and he set a nationalistic / populist tone in his campaign. Some accused him of racism and anti-immigrant sentiment. Along with a number of other Americans, I attributed this perception to pre-existing Democrat bias and their control of the media.

Even conservative news stations such as Fox gave half of their coverage to liberal issues. At the time, there was no OANN or NewsMax for channel changers to get a different conservative point of view.

Trump had what was needed to satisfy the patriotic yearnings in America. He had a major concern for America-first and that put all immigrants—legal and illegal behind all Americans in the Trump Big Book of Priorities. He did not appreciate criminals crossing the southern border to hurt America and he was adamant about Islamic extremists, and he promised to cut them off even before they ventured into the country.

Democrats created spin about white supremacy that was popular among white Democrats but was not accepted by white conservatives. I looked in the mirror and saw a white guy looking back. My family never taught us that we were superior. We believe all men are created equal so my family and I did not fall for their hooey.

I knew my father, mother, myself and my siblings were not raised with superiority complexes and did not put other Americans down – white, black, yellow or red. Most Americans felt the same in their hearts. The liberal politicians kept trying to create dirt where there was none and they continued throughout Trump’s four years with all sorts of machinations such as the Mueller Report, two impeachments and the charade of the Kavanaugh hearings. Trump withstood it all but succumbed to the unbridled cheating in the 2020 elections—what a shame!

Real Americans had gotten real sick of such charades and what appeared to be fake news.

Even Democrats, especially those who had lost their jobs or had their salaries cut dramatically because of low-wage illegal immigrants, liked the Trump message of America and Americans first. For them and others, there was admittedly a universal discomfort, not just here but in many countries of the world. It is simple. When people face the possibility of their community being overrun with others who not only look different but don’t speak the same language and have an entirely different culture, minds begin to wander.

That’s human nature.

However, beyond culture shock, which does not necessarily mean bias, there are valid concerns about unfettered immigration that at one time had bipartisan consensus. Peter Beinart wrote an article for the Atlantic in July/August 2017 titled: How the Democrats Lost Their Way on Immigration, summed it up in this one sentence: “In the past decade, liberals have avoided inconvenient truths about the issue.” We all know that as inconvenient as sometimes they are, nonetheless, the truth is the truth whether you choose to believe it or not.

Beinart has a follow-up thought on the truth about what he calls one of the myths spread by Democrats which lack truth. His words are: The myth, which liberals like myself find tempting, is that only the right has changed. Chew on that for a while.

Both sides have in fact changed. When Donald Trump rode down his golden escalator, it was not too long afterwards that America-first nativism, which had always been a big part of conservative politics, had enveloped it. But even that is not the full story. We admit that the right has grown more nationalistic, but the left has not assumed a stationery posture.

It has in fact, grown less nationalistic. Some conservatives see the left as socialist and Marxist if not full Communist. The sides have been picked and neither is prepared to lose. A decade ago, just like conservatives, liberals publicly questioned immigration in ways that would shock many Marxist / socialist / progressives today.

Going back a bit further, we find President Bill Clinton in his 1995 State of the Union Address. In his address, he began to outline his plans for stemming illegal immigration by saying, “All Americans, not only in the states most heavily affected but in every place in this country, are rightly disturbed by the large numbers of illegal aliens entering our country.” Yes, Bill Clinton said that!

If a Democrat in Congress said that today, we know that Nancy Pelosi would reclaim their Democrat Card and that person would be banned from all committees and House honors until either they or Nancy herself were no longer in Congress,

It was not uncommon for politicians just over twenty-years ago to advocate for a real immigration policy. For example, as recently as 2006, we have reflections from many including Glenn Greenwald, Paul Krugman, and yes, even then-Senator Barack Obama that showed their clear concerns about the impact of illegal immigration. In 2008, the Democratic platform still referenced entering the country illegally as disrespect for the rule of law. Those days are gone. Indeed, By 2016, that language was completely gone.

Even though their base is mostly white, Democrat positions on immigration clearly place the needs of illegal aliens ahead of the needs of Americans—white and black and brown. I find it strange that white Democrats actually favor a party that clearly favors those from other countries before them. Can that last? Well, it’s been going on for a long time and even now with the Democrats blatant movement to Communism, white constituents get dragged along with no apparent kicking and screaming. Have whites simply given up?

Slogans such as “America First’ have become part of the credo of the right. And, so the right appears to have become more xenophobic. Meanwhile few argue that the left has simply reacted. We know that the definition of xenophobia is a dislike of or prejudice against people from other countries. So it is unlikely that this is a result of simply a reaction on the part of the left as the changes began long before the rise of Trump.

Democrats have tuned into any means that can give them power and especially enduring power. Here are some of the political roots of this shift: Moving into the new millennium and continuing from 2008 to about 2016, Democrats transitioned by becoming more and more confident that they could win the vote in the country. They believed the Latino vote was theirs and that the South of the border contingent if settled in the US and would be forever Democrats. They believed the Latino vote was theirs.

In other words with the country’s growing Hispanic / Latino population according to their thinking, that gave the party an electoral edge. The more illegals, the merrier for Democrats. Democrats began to believe that to win the presidency, they didn’t need to reassure white people skeptical of immigration so long as they turned out their Latino base. Democrats in essence were OK replacing their white base with brown-skinned people from other countries.

Ironically, white Democrats were not bothered at all by this trend which was clearly anti-white. Whiteness no longer mattered to the Democrats. Everybody knew it but they could not say it and white Democrats convinced themselves that they were all on the same team and that the anti-white bias was not really happening.

Obama took advantage of this trend. Salon in fact declared that “The fastest-growing sector of the American electorate stampeded toward the Democrats the November after Obama’s 2008 win.” “If that pattern continues, the GOP is doomed to 40 years of wandering in a desert.”

Democrats were giddy about it and their enthusiasm was contagious as The First Black President was awarded a second term—Obama had won the white vote for sure. Democrats saw themselves becoming more reliant on Latino votes, and they began to be more influenced by pro-immigrant activism. They truly believed until Trump came along that they no longer needed to cater to the white contingent of the party—at all.

In his article about immigration Craig Berlin offered his full disclosure:

“While I am no more interested in seeing everything that’s familiar to me completely transformed than most others, I do not care who comes into this country under certain conditions:

- 1) They are willing to work;*
- 2) They obey the law;*
- 3) They respect our Constitution and our culture; and*
- 4) They pay taxes.*

I am not going to pick on Mr. Berlin, who like me, is a white writer. In fact, I applaud him for saying things that white Democrats are no longer permitted to say out of fear today that they will be canceled. Not too many years ago when seeing his four reasons, I would have said, “Of course!” Today there are no stipulations for foreigners other than that they love the Democrat Party and to hell with America per se.

There are some conundrums in the story of US immigration? With the cancel culture, wokeness, and America First philosophies, can two people starting off on different sides actually have a peaceful, fruitful discussion? Maybe! Maybe Not!

Can the public address their legitimate concerns without being accused of a lack of compassion? What is the answer? Neither a wall nor ICE raids nor claiming opposition to illegal immigration is all about racism and xenophobia. Can it provide solvency?

There are two components to the problem; one is putting a stop to illegal immigration; the other is badly needed reforms to the legal immigration system. The two are intertwined because the challenges of the latter are an incentive to circumvent the law.

Some like the idea of a wall and would say that the big shots live in gated or walled communities because they work. Having unwanted guests at the dinner table does not evoke a pleasant thought.

Some at one time said a wall would simply be too expensive both to build and to maintain and monitor. Then again they say there is a major disruption to private property and wildlife. They go on that “it doesn’t solve any problem other than maybe some of the illegal immigration from Mexico.”

Even so, the negativists on the wall say it isn’t likely to halt those we should be primarily concerned about drug traffickers or terrorists masquerading as Latinos.

It also doesn’t address the other three physical borders nor does it stop unauthorized immigrants who overstay their visas-- as many as 60% in some parts of the country. They suggest that these cases now outnumber border crossings.

So what do officials think. Let’s ask Homeland Security. They ought to know.

Homeland security says

“Effective physical infrastructure works to secure our Southwest Border. Since the U.S. Border Patrol began constructing border barriers nearly 30 years ago, these barriers have proved to be a critical component in gaining operational control of the border. Deploying the wall system in high priority areas—particularly urban areas where illegal border crossers can quickly vanish into the surrounding community—allows the USBP to decide where border crossings take place, not smugglers, and the USBP can deploy personnel and technology in complement to the border barrier.”

Homeland Security further justifies a wall by citing that In 2006, the U.S. Senate voted in a bipartisan 80 to 19 majority to pass the Secure Fence Act, which authorized construction of physical infrastructure to secure the border. At that time, securing our Southwest Border was a bipartisan issue. What they got was a rat trap that could not catch rats and was easily compromised when neglected—which it was from the first time a piece was completed.

It lasted about ten years before the border fence concept needed a reinvestment in 2017. From day one, President Trump prudently recognized that America must have an effective border wall system that delivers first-of-its kind capabilities to the men and women of the USBP. The system as built during the Trump Administration, according to DHS, deploys the right mix of personnel, technology, and infrastructure to meet the challenges of a dynamic border threat environment and ultimately achieve operational control of the border.

The bottom line according to DHS is that the Trump administration was well on its way to meeting its goal of having 450 miles of new border wall system deployed by December 31, 2020. DHS evaluated the effectiveness and says that to the extent it was deployed, it is effective, by disrupting criminals and smugglers. They say the results speak for themselves: illegal drug, border crossings, and human smuggling activities have decreased in areas where barriers are deployed. There are positive results in all sectors. This is a typical report summary.

The San Diego Sector:

1. In one short 12 mile section in the San Diego Sector, the wall reduced CBP manpower requirements by 150 agents every 24 hours. That is approximately a $28 million return on investment per year in salaries and benefits. These agents were redeployed to fill resource gaps in other areas of the border -- further improving our security.

2. CBP's San Diego Field Office continues to be a significant source of narcotics seizures. From FY 19 to FY 20, seizures of fentanyl, marijuana, and methamphetamine all increased, with meth seizures jumping at alarming rates in the past several years – demonstrating that the border wall is forcing drug smugglers to where we are best prepared to catch them – our ports of entry.

The results were similar in the other three sectors reported on by DHS

- ✓ Yuma Sector
- ✓ RGV Sector:
- ✓ El Paso Sector:

Craig Berlin believes that the US needs a fundamental change in philosophy regarding legal immigration as well. Two-thirds of our immigrants come under the “family reunification” umbrella, based on having relatives already here. “Family reunification sounds nice on an emotional level (who doesn’t want to unite families?). But it’s a lousy basis for government policy, since it lets dumb luck — that is, whether some relative of yours had the good fortune to get here before you — shape the immigrant population.”

Berlin believes the following eight steps should be performed. I will comment on this after I list his 8 steps.

So what does Craig Berlin think can / should be done?

- 1) Reform the guest worker VISA program as proposed by the Gang of Eight’s 744 and make it easier to enter legally for a visit or temporary work.
- 2) Reform legal immigration so that people access the forms and processes necessary to become citizens if they choose to do so at a reasonable price.
- 3) Institute a merit-based system similar to Canada’s, not to limit immigration, but improve it.
- 4) Fix the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program through Congress
- 5) Institute a transaction-based consumption tax so everyone pays in, largely eliminating the major economic concern of their presence.
- 6) Deploy an identity-theft type system that tracks the activities of illegals and the Americans who do business with them.
- 7) End the War on Drugs
- 8) Prioritize court proceedings for criminal offenders so they are deported quickly.

Craig Berlin closed out his eight points with the following summary:

Prior to the information on the Immigration policy is another area where Democratic and Republican lawmakers seem more interested in opposing each other than finding common ground. If they truly had compassion for either immigrants or American citizens, they’d work harder to implement solutions that address the legitimate concerns of both sides.

Craig Berlin wrote an article on January 9, 2018 titled: 8 Common Sense Solutions to Immigration That Go Beyond Two-Party Politics. Parts of this chapter were based on his work.

Here is Craig's self-supplied biography: In our polarized and partisan political landscape my views are hard to categorize. I most closely resemble a libertarian-leaning independent combining classical liberalism with a shot of pragmatism. After graduating from the University of Texas with degrees in Radio-TV-Film and Plan II, the Liberal Arts Honors Program, I began my career in broadcast news and proceeded to run multiple small businesses. You'll find an archive of articles where my works are published, and on Medium and WordPress. I also answer questions on Quora.

Thank you Craig.

Here is a URL that enables you to read his entire article:

<https://ivn.us/2018/01/09/common-sense-solutions-immigration-beyond-two-party-politics>.

Comments on Craig Berlin's Solution.

Lots of people over the years have written about the solutions to the border crisis which has been part of the southwestern scenario since before the Reagan years. Craig Berlin's article is well written and he makes a point about how to solve the crises that we have experienced over the years at the border. There is something positive to say about each of the concluding eight points in the article but in my humble opinion, it would take more than all of them together to come up with the one best solution for illegal immigration for America.

I have written more than ten books over the years on the subject of immigration. This book focuses on two great solutions. But first, before any solution is adopted we have to be sure that the Congress and the President actually want the problem solved. The major components of the best solution are called Pay To Go! and The Resident Visa. I hope you will agree. Don't be surprised if you do. I have been working on this for quite awhile.

Chapter 4 Solutions Prior to This Book

Books › Politics & Social Sciences › Politics & Government

Americans Need Not Apply!:
 Illegal foreign nationals,
 offshoring, visa abuse adds up to no jobs for Americans.

Paperback – August 27, 2016

by Brian W. Kelly (Author)

See all formats and editions

<https://www.amazon.com//dp/0984141855>

To demonstrate how active I have been in engineering solutions for the border, here are the books I have written over the years to address the problem. These are the current versions of the books. I have been writing books about the topic for twenty-years. There was always a better way and so I would write the next book to improve on the prior best way I knew. Each time the solution gets better.

Here are the books:

1. The Lifetime Guest Plan (from 2015)

Finally, A long-term immigration fix that puts Americans first!

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/0996245405>

2. The US Immigration Fix. July 26, 2016

The Immigration fix demanded by Americans. Very achievable.

<https://www.amazon.ca/dp/0997766727>

3. No Amnesty! No Way!, Original 2013, revised Aug 27, 2016

Classic book about freeloading & taking advantage of American goodwill

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/098414188X>

4. Americans Need Not Apply, (from 2011, released on Aug 27, 2016)

Illegal foreign nationals, offshoring, visa abuse--no jobs for Americans.

<https://www.amazon.com//dp/0984141855>

5. The US Immigration Fix The Trump Way Sept 9, 2016

A Donald Trump Plan to fix problem - 60 million interlopers in America.

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/0998084840>

6. President D. J. Trump, "The Annual Guest Plan" Jan 21, 2017

A long-term immigration fix that puts Americans first

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/0998628204>

7. 60 Million Illegal Aliens in America!!!:

A simple, America-first solution.

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1947402137>

8. Pay-To-Go-- America-First Immigration Fix Oct 16, 2017

No More Deportations; We can afford stipends and save Welfare dollars

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1947402145>

9. Legalizing Illegal Aliens Via Resident Visas Oct 27, 2017

A great Americans-first plan which saves $Trillions. Learn how!

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/194740217X>

10. Taxation Without Representation 4th Edition Jan 4, 2018

Can the U.S. Avoid Another "Boston Tea Party?"

Twenty consecutive years of non-responsive Presidencies, unprotected borders, and a Congress with more blame to go around than accomplishments yields a catastrophic failure of a report card. Kelly illustrates how public servants are so overwhelmed with self-interests, special interests, the interests of corporations and the interests of other countries that they have no time to work for the people. He eviscerates, with cogence and gusto, the veneer of honor cloaking some of our nation's most dishonorable public servants.⁷

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1947402277>

11. How to End DACA, Sanc. Cities, & Resident Illegal Aliens Oct 2018

This is the best solution to wipe out all the shadows in America.

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1947402617>

Who is the author of these immigration books?

Brian W. Kelly retired as an Assistant Professor in the Business Information Technology (BIT) program at Marywood University, where he also served as the IBM i and Midrange Systems Technical Advisor to the IT Faculty. Kelly designed, developed, and taught many college and professional courses. He continues as a contributing technical editor to a number of IT industry magazines, including "The Four Hundred" and "Four Hundred Guru," published by IT Jungle.

Kelly is a former IBM Senior Systems Engineer and IBM Mid Atlantic Area Specialist. His specialty was designing applications for customers as well as implementing advanced IBM operating systems and software facilities on their machines.

He has an active information technology consultancy. He is the author of 290 books and numerous technical articles. Kelly has been a frequent speaker at COMMON, IBM conferences, and other technical conferences.

Brian was a candidate for US Congress from Pennsylvania in 2010 and he brings a lot of experience to his writing endeavors.

Brian Kelly knows that the immigration crisis can be solved without making matters worse. Donald Trump had it solved once. The programs announced in this book Pay to Go and The Resident Visa are the means by which we can provide a solution that Americans and foreign nationals both like. How about no more shadows folks?

Chapter 5 The FAIR Solution

The facts in this chapter have been provided by the Federation for use in this book by American Immigration Reform (FAIR) from a report distributed on Apr 29, 2021, 03:16 ET

SHARE THIS ARTICLE – this is my authorization to print these statements as a chapter in this book. Our thanks to Dan Stein.

The following statements cited were issued by Dan Stein, president of the Federation for American Immigration Reform (FAIR), in response to President Biden's first address to a joint session of Congress on April 28, 2021. The format of this chapter will be to present a heading and then fill in the information satisfying the intent of the heading:

Failure to acknowledge the border crisis:

"In his address to Congress and the American people, President Joe Biden utterly ignored masses of illegal aliens crossing our border – a crisis he created. Many of these migrants are unaccompanied children caught up in a humanitarian, national security and public health crisis. Even worse, the president has offered no viable plan of action to end the crisis that is growing worse by the day.

Addressing 'root causes':

"The Biden administration's 'solution' to the crisis the president set in motion on his first day in office continues to hinge on 'addressing the root causes of migration' in the sending countries. Joe Biden and Kamala Harris were not elected to solve the problems of Central America. They were elected to address the problems of the United States of America and, as the rest of the president's speech made clear, his administration has much to do on that front. The idea that he and the vice president are going to show up with fistfuls of cash and end poverty, crime and corruption in Central America is pure hubris, or deliberate obfuscation. It is not a plan to end mass illegal migration.

DREAM Act and TPS amnesties:

"Apparently oblivious to the fact that his own pronouncements that unaccompanied children, and even those accompanied by adults, will be allowed to enter, has triggered an unprecedented surge of children, with and without parents, at our border, President Biden called for passage of the DREAM Act amnesty. The DREAM Act, which would grant previous waves of migrants who entered the country illegally as minors full citizenship and other benefits, would only add more incentives for people all across the globe to get their kids to the United States by any means necessary. Once again, the message from the president is, 'Don't bring or send your kids to the United States illegally, but if you do, they will be rewarded.'

"Additionally, he promised amnesty to people who agreed to accept our offer of Temporary Protected Status (TPS), and are now reneging on their end of the bargain by demanding to remain permanently. TPS recipients were never promised a chance to stay here forever. Rather they promised to go home when the time is right, and the time is now right.

Impact on American workers:

"While President Biden spoke at length about the need to get millions of American workers who were displaced by the COVID crisis back to work, the unprecedented amnesty he is proposing would make millions of illegal aliens eligible to compete legally for every job that becomes available. And, over the next decade or two, more than 50 million new people would gain eligibility to immigrate under our archaic family chain migration policy. Additionally, the administration has also authorized a 22,000 visa increase in guest workers. This is not what immigration in the national interest looks like.

Passing off amnesty as border security:

"Perhaps the most laughable attempt the president made was passing off his massive amnesty bill as a means to secure our borders. 'If you believe we need a secure border—pass it.' Perhaps the president hasn't read the bill. There is no border security or any other form of immigration enforcement in it."

Contact: Matthew Tragesser, 202-328-7004 or mtragesser@fairus.org

ABOUT FAIR

Founded in 1979, FAIR is the country's largest immigration reform group. With over 3 million members and supporters nationwide, FAIR fights for immigration policies that serve national interests, not special interests. FAIR believes that immigration reform must enhance national security, improve the economy, protect jobs, preserve our environment, and establish a rule of law that is recognized and enforced.

SOURCE Federation for American Immigration Reform (FAIR)

Chapter 6 Is This a Problem With a Solution?

60 million interlopers cost many taxpayer dollars

If we knew how to immediately stop the drain on our government treasury with one bold and very fair move, would America's inept politicians make that move? That is not a rhetorical question. I ask you to think about how we would answer that as a country. Do we have the will to protect our borders and deport those who break our laws by jumping the line and taking up US residence? I don't think we do but we don't want to say it is OK the way it is because it is not OK!

Do you think that if Congress and the President wanted to solve the fifty-year immigration crisis, we would not have done so already? Maybe we do not want to solve it. In fact, every year with all the lame plans hatched by an uncaring government it is almost a certainty that we as a country run by biased corrupt officials, do not want the crisis solved.

I have done many analyses and I have concluded that American politicians, from Congress and the Senate on down. will never support

Americans unless convinced that they would be out of office otherwise. So until we have a way of forcing accountability on officials, we are doomed to live with a non-system that changes with each presidential administration. Nobody wants the bad stuff in immigration but Democrats insist we leave it alone as they expect it to pay off at the ballot box. Most Americans do not feel as the Democrat leaders, however.

Based on what it costs to support illegal foreign nationals (average of $30,000 per person per year), the US can certainly afford to deport millions of people. But, the dirty politicians and the corrupt press preach a different mantra that puts Americans last and illegal aliens first.

Ironically, though Americans complain about all of the illegal aliens, supporting them, having them take their jobs, and lowering the average wages in America, most would prefer a different solution than rounding them up and deporting 60 million people. But, we can afford deportation if we choose. If nobody was collecting welfare, this would be a lot tougher, and if nobody in illegal status was stealing taxpayer dollars from Americans, maybe no American would care.

Can we afford a mass deportation of illegal foreign nationals—even without a roundup?

Is there a consensus for or against the idea? It only matters if the US can actually afford to undertake a mass deportation? We certainly can afford it as a non-solution cost us much more.

Let me prove that we can afford deportation before we move on to solutions that we can stomach. I am not recommending mass deportation but we can certainly afford it and the US can save lots of money if we choose to do it.

Let's say that 30 million of the 60 million illegal aliens in residence collect some form of welfare from the US to help afford their lives in America. What does that cost us per year?

The cost per year is $$30,000 \times 30,000,000 = \900 Billion per year
 The cost of deportation is $$10,000 \times 30$ million = $300 Billion one time

The first-year savings is a net of $600 Billion after deportation. The second and subsequent years, the savings would be the full $900 Billion per year. That is a deal that if Congress was really on a budget, it could not refuse.

Rather than look at the unpleasant task of coerced deportation, many countries across the world have instituted what they call Pay-to-Go programs in which a free return and a stipend incentive are offered to the migrants to induce them to return home. In our country we would be incenting illegal interlopers living in the shadows of America. We would, could, and should pay them to go home.

A very nice stipend amount that would persuade many interlopers to return to their home country is $20,000. In this way, the deportation is really a voluntary emigration back to the home country. It would not be a deportation but a free-will choice.

The cost of the stipend at $20,000 X 30,000,000 would be = $600 Billion one time. This is if the country is the USA.

In this example, the cost of the return and the cost of the stipend would be $900 billion if every interloper agreed to return home and then executed on their promise. Since the savings would also be $900 billion, there would be no cost in the first year and $900 million in every subsequent year. At that rate, if we chose, we could use the proceeds to pay off our entire student debt which now totals $1.7 Trillion.

This is the same amount as the cost to support an interloper in the US for one year. The difference between the two is the savings. In year 1, in this scenario, the savings would be zero dollars and the cost would be zero dollars. In year two an annual savings of $900 billion would begin to accrue. Where does the savings come from? It comes from the US not having to pay welfare to illegals as well as Americans being able to get jobs that pay substantially more than when the interlopers were depressing wages by accepting sub-minimum wage positions. .

Suppose the Pay-to-Go stipend were raised to $50,000, to attract more takers, the annual savings of as much as $900 billion would begin to accrue in year three so the stipend could still be paid for. After year three, the US in this scenario would be back in the black on the program. It is easy folks but we have to want to solve the problem in order to do anything about it.

Talk to your Congress

I predict that the biggest obstacle in solving the problem of 60 million illegal interlopers in America will be both chambers of the US Congress. I am not naïve enough to suggest that the current Congress' predilection for more voters and lower wages for all Americans could be overcome by the fact that this plan to deal with resident interlopers is the best yet conceived. So, if they remain recalcitrant, we may be forced to replace the entire Congress in order to do the right thing for America.

The late John McCain was known for his personal estimate of about 4 million per year jumping the border. He was talking about Illegal aliens, which we like to refer to them as illegal interlopers. An interloper is another word for an uninvited guest.

McCain's estimate was about those who had chosen to cross the southern border. In his estimate, he did not include the million or more a year who simply decide not to go home when their visas expire. Instead they opt for illegal residency in the US. That's how we got into this problem in the first place. We did not invite 60 million people to America to sponge off US taxpayers. However, some of our elite representatives may very well have done exactly that.

US. amnesty advocate the late John McCain, in his prime was a recognized authority on the subject of illegal immigration. In a letter dated February 2004, he wrote that apprehension figures demonstrated that "almost four million people crossed the US border illegally in 2002."

McCain estimated that over 10,000 cross every day. If it were exactly 10,000, then 3,650,000 per year would be his estimate. Instead he simply rounded it up to 4 million. That comes to 144 million from 1986, the year of the Reagan amnesty to the end of 2021. If we cut that in half and round it down, we're looking at a number closer to my long-time estimate of 60 million interlopers in residence today. I know that nobody can prove me wrong on that number.

The purpose of this book is to find an acceptable solution to the big problem of having 60 million illegal interlopers (uninvited guests) permanently enshrined in an illegal status in the United States today. There are three international plans implemented in a number of countries such as Australia to help migrants (illegal aliens in our US situation) return to their home countries. They are as follows:

1. Assisted Voluntary Return (AVR)
2. Assisted Voluntary Return & Reintegration (AVRR)
3. Pay-to-Go

The plans are self-descriptive. AVRR programs work with the governments in the home country so that after the return, the migrant can reintegrate with society in his or her country. This is a great idea. Pay-To-Go encompasses any plan that pays anything such as transportation costs home, reintegration costs, and/or stipends to induce interlopers or migrants to choose to return home.

There is no question that incenting a mass exodus from a country overcrowded with non-citizen migrants, legal or illegal, without the need for deportation can be a very effective way to again gain control of the illegal immigration situation in the United States.

In our country. I would recommend that the US implement a comprehensive Pay-to-Go program as soon as possible. Otherwise, the raw numbers of interlopers that are increasing every year will eventually bankrupt the US.

Generally, a citizen of a foreign country who wishes to enter the United States must first obtain a visa, either a nonimmigrant visa for temporary stay, or an immigrant visa for permanent residence. For the most part, immigrant visas that are approved for permanent residence result in green cards.

Temporary visas for travel are easy to get. In 2016, well over 10 million such visas were issued. In 2021, it is expected that there will be again about 10 million temporary visas issued. Since many countries are not required to produce visas, the numbers of visitors coming in are substantially higher, more like 30 to 70 million passports needing no visas.

The Visa Waiver Program (VWP) is administered by DHS and enables eligible citizens or nationals of designated countries to travel to the United States for tourism or business for stays of 90 days or less without first obtaining a visa. You can see that if just 10% of the 80 million visitors each year choose not to go home, the US population of illegals can rise by as much as 8 million per year. It makes it easy to understand why we have a problem. No agency of the US goes about assuring that visitors go home.

What about legal immigration?

About 1.2 million green cards were issued in 2017. In 2014, a total of 1,016,518 persons became lawful permanent residents aka, LPRs complete with green card status. Over half of the new LPRs (53 percent) already lived in the United States when they were granted lawful permanent residence. Sixty-four percent of the new LPRs were granted lawful permanent resident status based on a family relationship with a U.S. citizen or lawful permanent resident of the United States. The leading countries of birth of new LPRs were Mexico (13 percent), India (7.7 percent), and China (7.5 percent)

The 2021 numbers are not completed yet .U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) recently released data for green card and naturalization applications and denials for fiscal year 2020, in one huge spreadsheet. Let's take a look at this data set, which includes new data for the fourth quarter 2020, July 1 September 30, 2020.

Overall for FY2020, 85% of the 7.47 million immigration applications submitted were accepted, with an additional 1.12 million either denied or still pending. That is on top of the other 80 million counted above.

The denial rate was just 8%, or 163,049 out of almost 2 million, for the fourth quarter, a decrease in percentage points from the third quarter rate of 10%. Why bother hopping the border when legal green cards are so easy to get?

The other type of legal resident in the US is known as a birthright citizen, colloquially known as an anchor baby—somebody born in the US

If the stipend were a little higher, the Pay-to-Go Program could save the US another ton of funds if it were also used to attract green card holders on welfare, and anchor babies on welfare. When and if they agreed to return to their home countries there would no longer be a cost for their welfare. Think of what the US could do with another half trillion or as much as a full trillion dollars per year to spend on American interests?

The three categories for which the Pay to Go Program could be used include the following:

1. Current interlopers
2. Legal green card holders on welfare
3. Anchor babies at any age, including children supervised by a legal or illegal parent.

The recommended stipend for each of the three categories would be as follows:

1. Current Interlopers	$20,000
2. Legal Green Card Holders on Welfare	$30,000
3. Anchor Babies or Adults	$50,000

Anybody opting to receive a stipend in any of the above categories would be prohibited without special petition from ever returning to the United States for any reason. Any debt accrued that is accounted for in the Accountability system, explained in later chapters, would need to be collected prior to any request for readmission to be examined.

There are in excess of 15 million legal immigrants (green card holders) currently in the country. Half of them are on welfare. 7.5 million X $30,000 = $225 Billion per year. There is no free lunch for Americans but Congress loves feeding foreign nationals.

There are 6 million birthright citizens (former anchor babies) born to illegal aliens currently in the country. They are almost all on welfare 6 million X $30,000 = $180 Billion per year. I bet you did not think it cost that much. You pay for it from your tax dollars even if an illegal alien has your former job.

The US can thus save an additional $405 Billion per year by adding the above two categories to the illegal interlopers able to use the Pay-to Go program or any other program that reduces costs to zero. This would make a total of three categories for which the program could be used.

What problem does the Pay-to Go program fix? It is a pro-America and pro-American citizen solution. It is an America-First solution to the major problem of 60 million illegal residents sponging off the taxpayers in the United States. It also addresses legal aliens and anchor citizens who are collecting welfare.

Once in the continental US, the interlopers either wholly or partially depend on US taxpayer dollars for their daily sustenance. Is your wallet looking a little thinner these days? The problem we plan to solve in this book, the real problem, is that 60 million illegal foreign nationals cost Americans money every day. They just don't pay their way and live here. They take from US.

Chapter 7 Should We Send All 60 Million Back Home?

Maybe!!!

Maybe we should send them back if that is what they want. It is my contention that we lured them into America by giving them the idea that the streets were paved with gold and when they took their share of that gold, the streets would grow more gold. They are culpable for sure but our politicians deceived them by not building a wall and by not enforcing our border protections.

Because of the role of corrupt American politicians in their coming to the United States, there was an implicit promise that illegal interlopers could stay and we Americans would make sure that they were OK. Because of America's role in bringing them here, I would say that we owe them at least a free trip home with a little pocket money. We can afford a lot of pocket money for what they cost us. Yes, we can afford a lot more and it would serve us well if we paid it.

Yes, you heard me right. We need to pay for their return 100% and give them some pocket money. We already estimated the cost to taxpayers in the prior chapter of a full-boat fake-id welfare recipient in 2021 at about $30,000 per year. We also calculated the savings that would be accrued by providing interlopers, green card holders, and anchor babies a large stipend to take home. If the US were a business, it would be very prudent to institute a Pay-to-Go program. We pay one time and never again. No returns.

A few years back, I wrote a complete book titled Pay-to-Go, also available on Amazon that explores all of the details of the proposed US Pay-to-Go program. It is a great program and the US can afford it and it would benefit all Americans. Feel free to read the Pay-to-Go book for more information. The cover and ordering information are shown below. Please note that most of the information is also in this book.

Pay-to-Go: America-First Immigration Fix Paperback –

October 16, 2017

by Brian W. Kelly (Author)

<https://www.amazon.com//dp/1947402145>

See all formats and editions

Kindle
$0.00 kindleunlimited

Read with Kindle Unlimited to also enjoy access to over 1 million more titles
$2.99 to buy

Paperback
$12.95 prime

2 New from $12.95

See all 2 images

Follow the Author

When you read this book, you will find that the biggest problem with 60,000,000 interlopers in America is that your friendly representative in Congress does not respect your concerns for America. Americans must send home their representatives as

Both the Pay-to-Go Plan and another program which we are about to discuss should be instituted together in the US for us to solve the problem of 60 million interlopers in residence in the shadows of America.

The fact is that not everybody will be willing to leave and return even though they would be returning to their homes. In the next chapter we address this fact and we have a very innovative solution for US officials to entertain. I think you will like it. Write your Congress person about it.

Chapter 8 What If An Interloper Does Not Want to Return Home?

We have a great answer coming up!

A reasonable estimate is that with a $20,000 stipend, between 20% and 50% of the 60 million illegal aliens residing in America would take the money and return to their homes. Why would they want to persist in the shadows living in squalor, when they could get a great start with a big hunk of money back in their own country. They can use the proceeds from the return of their family to the home country to become entrepreneurs.

Regardless of the percentage, what we as a country would not want if we put forth a program to solve the problem is for just 20% or even 40% of the problem to be solved. We might have as much as 80% of the illegal residents remaining in the shadows. Then what? Would we even notice the improvement?

If illegal interlopers choose to stay in America, we have to make that OK for them and us or we will wind up like today with shadows, sanctuary cities, and too many bad guys with a place to hide. However, the terms must favor Americans. To get out of the shadows, any illegal interloper would be required to agree to those terms.

Can anything be less appealing than the shadows?

The US savings on the Pay-to-Go as we proved is huge and it is easy to calculate. After the first year it is $30,000 per alien who returns per year. Not having to pay $30,000 per illegal alien is like the country receiving an additional $30,000 in tax revenue. Over a lifetime, that would save taxpayers $1.8 million per person. Multiply $30,000 by 60,000,000 by 60 years to get $108 trillion in total possible savings over time. How can Congress say no?

Books › Law › Administrative Law

Look inside ↓

Legalizing Illegal Aliens Via Resident Visas: A great Americans-first plan which saves $Trillions. Learn how!

Paperback – October 27, 2017

by Brian W. Kelly (Author)

<https://www.amazon.com//dp/194740217X>

Countries as far away as Australia have problems with migrants taking native jobs. They use a technique called the Assisted Voluntary Return as part of an overall Pay-to-Go plan to incent migrants to leave Australia and return back home. Pay-to-Go across the world pays both travel expenses and offers a generous

< Read more

See all 2 images

Now what if we let the former illegal interlopers stay in the US legally rather than in sanctuary cities and rather than in the shadows? How would that be good for Americans? The Resident Visa Program is designed for an America-first country. It can produce the same savings one year sooner than Pay-to-Go as there is no cost at all for this program. All program costs are paid by the resident visa holders. I am sure you want to hear more about this

I don't want to go home, period!

If a resident illegal foreign national really does not want to go home and would rather live in the shadows or in sanctuary in Chicago, regardless of the cash incentive to return home, should Americans simply accept that as the end of negotiations? Without another program that fits, we would continue to be stuck in America with shadows and an underground economy, and a ton of illegal interlopers tapping the welfare system with fake stolen identification—perhaps using your social security number.

Desperate people do desperate things. Who wants 60 million desperate people living next door? Nobody in America would think the problem is solved if that is all that remains from the Pay-to-Go proposition.

There is no amnesty in this deal

There is always another option. This one actually costs US taxpayers nothing and it permits the interloper who will not go home, to stay in America indefinitely in a temporary legal status as long as they “behave.” The big differences between this and the shadows and sanctuary cities is that the shadows and sanctuaries are completely gone and the individual will be illegal.

The big difference between this and amnesty is that there is no welfare for Resident Visa Holders, and there is no green card to make the visa holder a permanent resident on a path to citizenship. The former interlopers would become temporary visa holders and that is it. They are not half-citizens or semi-citizens or legal permanent residents or citizens. They are simply holders of a legal visa in the US. They have the same rights as any other temporary visa holder plus one more.

Each year, they can renew their temporary Resident Visa by paying a renewal fee and being vetted again. The former illegal interlopers become legal temporary residents with a $100 to $200 annual renewal depending on what is cost effective for Americans. Of course privileges reserved for citizens such as the right to vote or the right to collect welfare would not be available to these temporary (permanent with renewals) residents.

From a financial standpoint, each former interloper, in order to gain the benefits of no-shadows, must agree to participate in zero welfare programs. If the illegal interlopers cannot afford the financial demands of the Resident Visa Program after ten years, they would still be able to participate in the Pay-to-Go program. They could return home voluntarily with a large stipend.

New illegal aliens who break-in to the country after the inception of the program would be deported immediately. The plan is not to increase the illegal immigrant population but to reduce it.

My suggestion for the beginning date for eligibility would be January 1, 2022. Or a more appropriate date. Anyone who hopped the fence after that date would qualify for Pay to Go but would receive just half the stipend. Anybody who skips the fence after the legislation passes, however, would get deported immediately with no questions asked.

As a big benefit for Americans, the shadows and the sanctuaries would be gone completely. Ever former aliens would be registered in the system once they received their special passports. US authorities would know how many there are and know for sure who they are. Multiply the number of illegal interlopers left after the completion of the Pay-to-Go program by the $30,000 per person per year savings to calculate the annual savings for this resident program. It is a good deal for the interlopers and for Americans.

Since this system depends on working computer systems with properly designed software, we can use the same system and software for other visa holders so that they cannot get lost when their visas expire.

The US Immigration Department already issues millions of travel visas for potential interlopers from other countries on a temporary basis and they have a cost of about $140. The Resident Visa would also have a charge from $100 to $200 per year.

The US would need to assure that a system would be in place that would permit a one-year expiration on a Resident Visa and an option for an annual renewal for all 60,000,000 interlopers left behind after Pay-to-Go. If there is no renewal, deportation or coerced Pay-to-Go at the lowest stipend rate become the only options left.

After each year, the resident visa holder would be able to renew the Resident Visa for another year unless they have broken the terms of the arrangement. They will never vote and they will never cost the US a dime. And, they can never commit a crime.

So, what I am proposing is that the program provides for granting interlopers in good standing what we should simply call a Resident Visa. This would be a new visa type that, unlike other visa types. It would be a one-year visa and could be renewed each and every year thereafter with conditions.

With this, former illegal foreign nationals would be legalized under the protection of the Resident Visa. They could remain in America out of the shadows on a one-year renewable temporary basis as long as they behaved in a lawful manner according to the exact terms of their visa.

There are many differences between illegally gaining benefits in the United States and becoming legal by gaining a Resident Visa. Those choosing to employ the Resident Visa to stay in America, are welcome to do so for one year after the program begins. However, the terms of the relationship with US officials will not be the same as when they were illegal. No illegal aliens will be tolerated one year after the program commences. Additionally, after one-year, the illegal interlopers who do not obtain their visa, would have the option of coerced deportation or a minimal Pay-to-Go.

There will be a vetting process in order to initially be approved. The visa will be special in that it will be renewable with a fee of $100 to $200, required annually after a renewal application, a record update (demographics, etc.), and a re-vetting of the applicant, and an eventual special oath of allegiance.

There are major benefits to the former foreign national for going through this process. The Resident Visa holder will receive an official photo ID at their application source so they do not have to carry a passport or an accompanying visa.

For those familiar with the notion of American visas, this unique visa would permit those approved, to live in America as long as they want, on a temporary but renewable basis for as long as they want as long as they renew their Resident Visa each and every year.

In essence, this process provides a Resident Visa, which would be an official US visa. Like all other US Visas, this would provide all of the benefits of a US non-immigrant category visa and more.

Will the press represent this program properly?

Members of the liberal progressive ideology, including over 90% of the media, have a habit of taking words and making their usage appear to be, for want of better words, dissatisfactory and disrespectful. There is nothing intrinsically wrong with the word illegal, and there is nothing intrinsically wrong with the word, alien.

Moreover, when the term illegal alien, as used in US immigration law, is used in everyday speech, there is nothing implied that makes the term disrespectful to the person who fits the description. It is merely a statement of fact that permits an individual to be identified and described with accuracy without caring about their name.

What types of US Visas are there?

The type of visa that a visitor or traveler must obtain is defined by U.S. immigration law, and relates to the purpose of the travel. There is one new category of visa proposed for current illegal alien US residents in addition to the two main categories in existing U.S. law:

1. Nonimmigrant visas—For travel to the USA on a temporary basis.
2. Immigrant visas—For travel to live permanently in the United States.
3. Resident visas—New—For current resident aliens to live temporarily in the US on a temporary but annually renewable basis.

Description of the new visa category

Under the new Resident Visa Program, a third type of visa would be authorized by US officials. It would be called a Resident Visa. Current law says all visa holders must first have passports containing information such as their home country and other pertinent information. The new visa category will also require a passport.

The new visa category is intended for those residents formerly in an illegal status, who register for and are granted a Resident Visa. Unlike other visas, the Resident Visa may be renewed annually as long as the holder does not violate the terms of the visa.

Like all visa requests, the individual must first possess a passport and then apply for the Resident Visa. The costs for the resident passport and the Resident Visa would be the same as under current law. An additional charge may be added to the visa fee for an ID card so the Resident Visa holder does not have to keep the passport and visa on their person at all times.

The visa is renewable annually for a $100 to $200 fee to reflect changes such as address or marital status etc. The ID card and picture must be refreshed at least every five years.

If we include the Pay-to-Go program, the new program in its entirety, would provide for the voluntary egress (with stipend) of illegal aliens as well as providing Resident Visas for those who choose to stay. An interloper would get to execute just one of these options. If the program were fully adopted by US officials as law or as an Executive Order, a proper name would be Pay-to-Go Program for one type of solution or and the other solution would best be named as the Resident Visa Program.

The most important part of this action if taken by Congress that most Americans would want to learn to assure that they are getting a fair shake from the government is the Resident Visa Program. In this case the former interlopers are being legalized on a temporary basis and will continue to live among Americans but out of the shadows of suspicion.

The Pay-to-Go is fairly self-explanatory. My opinion is that it will remain the quiet part of this completely revolutionary program. Despite its serendipitous presence, it is such a great deal for both parties that it has the potential to save the US the most treasury tax dollars.

Years ago, a friend of mine told me about an experience he had with an IBM Executive that proved to him that business deals were like a marriage. Both parties must bring something desirable to the table. The Pay-to-Go in conjunction with the Resident Visa Program do exactly that.

At the end of the day, the United States would have no more resident illegal aliens. Instead, the former illegal aliens would either have gained a Resident Visa and would be legal, and be under the terms of their visa or they would be in their home countries cashing their massive stipend checks, while preparing to knock them dead as newly funded entrepreneurs in their home country.

Chapter 9 A Pro-American Comprehensive Immigration Program

Are the words comprehensive and American incompatible?

We have already described the proposed Resident Visa Program and the Pay-to-Go program in simple terms. With the Gang of Eight Senators, the term comprehensive was made a synonym for amnesty and as such it did not belong in the same sentence as American. Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa are all-American notions that reflect the good-will of the American people in a genuinely comprehensive way. These programs together have all that is needed to solve the problem of shadows and sanctuaries forever.

Can this possibly be enough to prompt Congress and the President to finally create a pro-American, comprehensive immigration plan. Those normal and reasonable people who read the plan will know immediately that it will work and work well.

Overall, its acceptance depends on what's in it for Americans and what is in it for Illegal Foreign National Interlopers? Let's examine the benefits for interlopers first. Yes, a pro-American plan can have lots of great benefits for illegal foreign nationals.

Both programs together provide many benefits for those currently living in the shadows. For those wanting to stay in America now have a way to gain freedom to roam and a sense of belonging and an opportunity to succeed in America.

Think about why an illegal alien residing in America in the shadows should like the Resident Visa Program? While you are thinking, consider the seventeen points beginning below:

1. No more living in the shadows of America.
2. Opportunity to go home travel-free if desired with a big stipend paid by Americans.
3. US will budget $15 Billion to help make cities in home countries safe for returning immigrants
4. US will separately create 15 safe areas. They may be large settlements or perhaps small cities. Ten of these would probably be best to be built in Mexico.
5. Resident Visa Holder (RVH) can get in line (back of line) in home country for citizenship without leaving US.
6. With renewals, the opportunity to live in America a lifetime.
7. Can obtain a driver's license, insurance, etc.
8. Can keep any job that is already held.
9. Can apply for any job available in America. Americans have preference for five years.
10. Can live wherever they want in America.
11. Can get same paid by patient medical insurance as Americans.
12. Can get installment loans from US Government on an exception basis to help with medical and educational expenses. Must be paid back.
13. After ten years but no more, living with a Resident Visa, can still opt for Pay-to-Go.
14. Green Card Pay-to Go stipend of $30,000 per permanent resident.
15. Anchor person Pay-to-Go huge stipends of $50,000 per birthright citizen.
16. Green Card Resident Visa stipend of $30,000 per permanent resident for transition from permanent residency to Resident Visa.
17. Anchor citizen Resident Visa stipend of $50,000 per birthright citizen) for transition from citizen to Resident Visa.

As you can see, we included some of the benefits of the Pay-to-Go program in the list above.

Many of the advantages for current interlopers are listed in the seventeen points above. The Pay-to-Go program provides a stipend that is more generous than that which any other country in the world provides. The Resident Visa Program immediately gets interlopers out of the shadows and provides a stipend for green card holders and anchor citizens who transition from their current program to the Resident Visa Program with the option of using Pay-to-Go.

If you want to stay in America, the Resident Visa is the best plan for illegal interlopers. If you want to stay in America and receive a generous stipend, the Resident Visa Transition can also be used by Green Card Holders as well as Anchor Citizens.

Knowing this is so beneficial to interlopers, why should an American find it acceptable? The answer is simple. Americans are smart and upon analysis they can see that both plans if implemented by Congress and/or the President will save a ton of dollars for all American taxpayers. Moreover, nobody really likes the shadows or the sanctuaries.

Many Americans do not trust the government, period. So, why would Americans think this is a good deal if the illegal foreign national does not choose to exit America with a stipend? Then what?

If an illegal foreign national chooses not to accept this US government act of kindness, and does not go home, and does not sign up for The Resident Visa Program, the only option left is to stay in the shadows and/or sanctuaries. This will result in the interloper being asked to leave the country at their own expense.

By the enactment of this new visa and this new “Pay-to-Go” return home” plan, the idea of residing in America in an illegal alien status is being eliminated. The lack of a decision by an illegal interloper to choose one or the other will unfortunately provoke immigration authorities to deport them.

Why should an American citizen like these two plans?

1. The days of the free lunch are over.
2. Both programs are cost free to Americans
3. Pay-to-Go stipends pay for themselves in one year
4. Illegal aliens must agree to terms of Resident Visa-- all benefits eliminated after 1st year.
5. Once an illegal alien returns home, cannot come back; no cost to Americans after year 1.
6. No more birthright citizenship for illegals, permanent residents, and Resident Visa Holders. Children born in America in future may apply for a Resident Visa.
7. No cash, medical services, education, welfare, or other benefits permitted for those with a Resident Visa.
8. No citizen-only privileges permitted
9. Resident Visa Holders have no right to vote in any election
10. New jobs must go to American citizens first—all things being equal.
11. Fees, fines on employers will help pay for Resident Visa program kickoff. Will generate approximately $400 Billion.
12. When program in high gear, US will save from 500 Billion dollars to One Trillion dollars per year on avoided interloper expenses.
13. Resident Visa holder must be employed.
14. Resident Visa holder must have health insurance.
15. Resident Visa holder must pass English test in two years
16. Resident Visa holder must take oath of allegiance to be approved for 1st renewal
17. No more green cards for family reunification--instead use Resident Visa.
18. All green card permanent residence visas are eliminated when expired. No new green cards. Use Resident Visa.
19. Next 10-yr green card renewal becomes a Resident Visa
20. No path to citizenship without going home to get in line (begin a process like all others from that country)
21. Citizenship line -- jumping the line is not permitted.
22. No more "need" for Sanctuary Cities
23. No more need for DACA Dreamers
24. Major cost savings for America

The end of Sanctuary Cities

Victor David Hanson writes: “Sanctuary cities protect illegal aliens from federal immigration agencies in a way that is not true of American citizens who arrive at airports and must go through customs, with no exemption from federal agents examining their passports and personal histories. If crimes or infractions are found, there is no safe space at an airport exempt from federal enforcement.”

The new migrant programs that I am recommending either pay illegal interlopers to go or provide a Resident Visa that offers many benefits to both interlopers and American citizens. For example, it saves over $500,000,000 000 per year after year one of its implementation. With no more illegal aliens in the country, a major advantage is that the divisive notion of Sanctuary Cities and the term Sanctuary Cities can be removed from the US vocabulary. There will be no need for them with residents all being legal.

Anchor babies qualify

The Pay-to-Go Program is also available to those who became citizens through the anchor baby loophole of the 14th amendment. When an Anchor child with parent chooses to join the Pay-to-Go Program, each anchor citizen child will receive a $50,000 stipend and each of his or her interloper parents will receive their own $20,000 for a total of $70,000 for a two-person family and $90,000 for a three-person family with one child. A family of four children with a mom or dad would receive $240,000. With mom and dad, the sum would be $240,000. This is very affordable for US citizens considering the lifetime cost of one anchor baby can be as much as $2 million or more.

DACA “children” also qualify

The program solves the problem for DACA children also. DACA children qualify for the full $20,000 stipend in the Pay-to-Go Program. Those in the DACA program also qualify for the Resident Visa Program if they want to stay in the US. As an additional DACA concession for the “Children” who opt for the Resident Visa, there will be no charge for the visa for the first five renewal years. DACA “children” will be vetted when they apply for a resident passport. Gang members, of course, will be deported without benefits.

Green card holders also qualify

Green card holders, about 15,000,000 are legal permanent residents (LPR). Some are awaiting their time so they can be citizens. Others have chosen to stay legal in America without being citizens. Many are on welfare costing the US $30,000 each. Resident Green Card holders can receive a $30,000 stipend and use the Pay-to-Go option to return home, or they can receive a $30,000 stipend to downgrade their status from LPR to Resident Visa. Since Resident Visa holders do not receive welfare, this would save as much as several hundred billion dollars if all those in LPR status switched to Resident Visas or returned home.

Green card program can be eliminated

Because many in the LPR program collect welfare as an entitlement, I would recommend that the US eliminate green cards completely. All those who qualify to be citizens can be granted a Resident Visa and all other things for them would be the same. However, they would not be able to collect welfare with a Temporary visitors’ visas. The US would save $Billions.

The evidence is on the table.

Nobody in their right mind wants life to continue with a shadow population who in many ways have been victimized similar to how slaves were victimized many years ago. The Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa are programs that provide a way out of the mess for both interlopers and regular Americans.

Greedy fat cat business persons and politicians at the highest levels created this mess for both factions. Consequently, the plan includes substantial fees and fines for those businesses who hired illegal interlopers instead of Americans. Being greedy will collectively cost the fat cats over $400 Billion in total and perhaps more.

Companies made a ton of money off the backs of Americans with lower wages while poor interlopers were living in squalor earning sub-minimum wages. American industry as represented by the Chamber of Commerce should show some remorse and voluntarily chip in to help solve this problem and back the Pay-to-Go and the Residence Visa Programs as winner ideas for all decent Americans and the long-suffering communities whose only solace today is the shadows of America.

Quick Comparison with the Gang of Eight

In 2013, you may recall that eight US Senators known as the Gang of Eight got a bill passed in the Senate that sold Americans down the river and would have given a ton of benefits to illegal aliens at taxpayer cost. The Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa Programs are both pro-American and they save taxpayers substantial dollars. It is nothing like the John McCain / Marco Rubio Gof8 sellout. The following quick comparison chart is shown to help us better understand the new Resident Visa recommendation by comparing it in the chart below with the Gang of Eight Program which was passed by the US Senate.

2013 Gang of Eight v Resident Visa

	G of 8	Resident Visa, PTG
Border secure	No	More technology
Jobs	Favors Interlopers	Favors Americans
Amnesty	Yes	No
Path to citizenship	Yes	No (almost same as today)
Permanent residents	Yes	Never, renewable visa
Voting	Yes	No, Never
Welfare benefits	Yes	No, Never
Freebies	Yes	No, Never
Anchor babies	Yes	No, stipends to return / change
Employer fees/fines	No	Yes -if one illegal employee
Reunification	33M in 10yrs	Not for Resident Visa Holders
Coerced-deportation	None	As needed for violations
Return to home country	No	Yes, with stipend
Must have healthcare	No	Yes
Must be employed	No	Yes
Must speak English in 2 yrs?	No	Yes
Oath of allegiance	No	Yes, after 1 year
Cost/debt accountability	No	Yes
Taxpayer Costs	$ 6Trillion	Zero
Payback plan	No	Yes
Accountability Database	No	Yes
Interloper fine	Yes	Yes
Employer fine	No	Yes (helps finance program)
Back taxes	No	Yes (vetting interviews)

Chapter 10 The Financial Impact of Illegal Immigration

There is general agreement amongst immigration experts that low-skilled migrants create a net fiscal deficit, creating more in government expenditures than they pay in taxes.

According to one study, current immigration policy imposes as much as

$300 BILLION

ANNUALLY IN NET FISCAL COSTS ON U.S. TAXPAYERS

Your author believes that the care of 60 million illegal residents are part of the taxpayers bill each year. The total may be well over $500 Billion.

We want America to stay America!

The Pay-to-Go program offers a unique approach to addressing the problem of having 60 million and perhaps even more illegal aliens residing in the US today. This number is overwhelming and it affects the financial stability of the country as much as it affects a number of social concerns as a group of foreigners are changing American culture either intentionally or by happenchance and perhaps both.

The new breed of resident—call them an uninvited- guest or interloper—as that is what they are, cares more about where they came from rather than the new country in which they now reside. They could care less about blending in and melting than they do about getting their fair share from America and staying out of the limelight.

Americans are beginning to readily identify the culture war as it is unfolding before our eyes. With 60 million new residents, all illegals are mostly of Latino heritage. So, the face of America is changing as is its culture. This new war helped to set the table for the Republican presidential nomination and it certainly helped shape the mood of the country for the general elections of 2016 as Donald Trump became our 45th President.

For years, elite establishment conservatives known as the Swamp by real conservatives, nationalists, and populists, ignored grassroots opposition to mass immigration. Those opposed to the Swamp saw Donald Trump as the only way to gain a victory for the cause of America-first. Republicans had forgotten about their own party base.

GOP primary voters after Obama were in revolt over immigration, and they spurned elected Republicans that they no longer could trust. Donald Trump emerged as the last man standing in a field of seventeen of the top rung candidates in the Republican Party. He made them all look like wimps. He then defeated liberal progressive Hillary Clinton for the presidency.

Regardless of where you stand on immigration, there is no doubt that the massive post-1965 immigration wave has transformed American society. For example, about 13 percent of the U.S. population is foreign-born. This is up from 4.7 percent in 1970. And this share is set to increase substantially in the years to come. If anything, this number understates the impact of immigration on American society.

Had the post-1965 immigration wave never come, the U.S. population would today be 252 million rather than 325 million. Along the way to today, the liberals decided that the formula for who comes in legally to America to be a candidate for citizenship had to change from European to what seems to be anything but European, plus a few Irish bartenders. For immigration, countries with predominately white residents have all-but been excluded for US green cards. How the liberals were able to pull that off continues as a conundrum.

Over the next 50 years, the demography experts at the Pew Research Center have calculated that new immigrants and their descendants will account for 88 percent of all population growth. My opinion is that we do not need them all. It's time to thin out the foreign-born population. That is why I created the Pay-to-Go program recommendation featured in this book. I'd like America to stay

American. Anybody not willing to melt in the melting pot should stay right where they are. Please do not come on down.

Part of the reason is that the birthrate among native-born Americans has fallen to unprecedented low levels, so immigration is a much bigger part of our demographic picture than it would be had the birthrates of the post-war decades persisted into the present. This confluence of falling birthrates and surging immigration explains why the cultural character of America is changing so rapidly—too rapidly.

Perhaps if Americans were making good money like when wages were proper, before the onslaught of illegal foreign nationals, Americans would be better able to afford big families again. Just saying!

This book has a lot of great facts in it plus the opportunity to gain some different perspectives. On the financial side, there are many areas in which illegal interlopers are costing taxpayers excessive amounts of money. Look at our national debt and the budget deficits and illegal immigration as well as legal immigration and you see the effect. And the cause. Coincidentally as the debt went up, so did the influx of illegal aliens now at 60 million and growing. How much more can we take? Not much!

As you will learn, the preponderance of illegal aliens, almost half of legal aliens, and almost all birthright citizens collect some form of welfare mostly by using fake IDs with somebody else's social security number. Some are clever enough to work and also collect unemployment using other-people's ID's.

Not having lots of money does not stop anybody from having large families and many of the new arrivals are immediately placed on welfare on the US taxpayer's dime. The larger the family, as we know, the greater the benefits. ID theft for anybody needing a buck for their families is not given a second thought.

There are lots of cultural and social areas, in which the major influx of illegal foreign nationals has had a major impact on American life. In these areas, illegal foreign nationals make heavy use of the welfare system.

Overall, the costs to America for illegal interlopers in all of the areas of service in which they participate, is between $500 Billion and $1 Trillion dollars. Think about the fact that there are more welfare programs available than you or I can memorize.

The US welfare system consists of 80+ low-income programs providing cash, food, housing, medical care, and social services to poor and lower income Americans. Illegal interlopers know how to use the system for their benefit. Bleeding heart Democrat progressives have provided another huge bonanza for illegal aliens who earn just a few dollars. A three-child family gets a tax-credit check from the government for $6300 each year on top of all of their welfare payments. The payment is a gift that comes out of the income tax system and does not count as welfare.

The financial impact of 60 million illegal interlopers

This is the short story

The best estimate you can find of US costs for illegal aliens on welfare is $30,000 for each illegal interloper each and every year. The Pay-to-Go program offers major league level stipends to three categories of foreign nationals. The categories are immediately below followed by the one-time recommended stipend amounts in addition to a free one-way return ticket home and some pocket money. Follows below::

At 30,000 cost per year, the categories & suggested stipend amount is as follows:

	Recommended Stipend
Normal illegal foreign nationals	$20,000
Legal foreign nationals on welfare	$30,000
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$50,000

At 30,000 cost per year, the one year cost and 1 year savings would be as follows:

	Cost	Savings (Cost - stipend)
Illegal foreign nationals	$30,000	$30,000-20,000 = 10,000
Legal foreign nationals	$30,000	$30,000-30,000 = 0
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$30,000	$30,000-50,000 = -20,000

At 30,000 cost per year, the five year cost and 5 year savings would be as follows:

	Cost	Savings (Cost - stipend)
Illegal foreign nationals	$150,000	$130,000
Legal foreign nationals	$150,000	$120,000
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$150,000	$100,000

At 30,000 cost per year, the twenty-year cost and 20 year savings would be as follows:

	Cost	Savings (Cost - stipend)
Illegal foreign nationals	$600,000	$580,000
Legal foreign nationals	$600,000	$570,000
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$600,000	$550,000

At 30,000 cost per year, the lifetime cost (60 years) and lifetime savings would be as follows:

	Cost	Savings (Cost - stipend)
Illegal foreign nationals	$1.8 million	1.78 million
Legal foreign nationals	$1.8 million	1.77 million
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$1.8 million	1.75 million

Of course, we all know that with inflation, the dollar numbers will be larger but the figures in the charts above are representatives of the savings for each illegal interloper who takes the Pay-to-Go stipend and returns home. The bottom line is that once we pay the stipends for these categories of stipend candidates, the net gain to America is between 1.75 and 1.8 million dollars per candidate over their lifetimes.

Let's just suppose that 2 million take the offer. The twenty-year savings would be as follows:

At 30,000 cost savings after year 1 / 2, the twenty-year savings for 2 million Pay-to-Go's is as follows:

	Savings
Illegal foreign nationals	$1,160,000,000,000
Legal foreign nationals	$1,140,000,000,000
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$1,100,999,050,000

At 30,000 cost savings after year 1 / 2, the twenty-year savings for 10 million Pay-to-Go's is as follows:

	Savings
Illegal foreign nationals	$5,800,000,080,000
Legal foreign nationals	$5,700,000,070,000
Birthright Citizens (Anchor Babies)	$5,500,000,050,000

As you can see there is a lot to save in the above two charts. Multiply the savings in the last chart above to find the lifetime savings (60 years) for 10 million acceptances of the Pay-to-Go offer. The US would be looking at over $15 Trillion in savings

Think about how difficult it would be for the US to handle all of the costs associated with illegal interlopers if the Congress fails to implement a Pay-to-Go program.

The fact is that with more and more illegals showing up at our doorsteps under the Biden Administration and with visa holders brazenly breaking our laws and refusing to go home and then applying and receiving welfare to boot, please think of the devastation that not acting now with the Pay-to-Go program will create for our progeny. Can America survive?

Chapter 11 Tell Me About Jobs & Millennials, etc.

Broad Support for Legal Status for Undocumented Immigrants; Millennials Favor Path to Citizenship

% who say immigrants now living in the U.S. illegally should ...

Note: "Don't know/Refused" responses not shown.

Source: Pew Research survey, Feb. 14-23, 2014

PEW RESEARCH CENTER

Illegal interlopers have become the replacement players

Illegal interlopers have become the replacement players for millennials and yet something inside of millennials keeps them from seeing the truth. They want more of it.

They have no problem knowing that it is old farts like their parents that are keeping the country and the economy moving while, despite their degrees, they remain unemployed.

Jobs affect the well-being of more than just millennials though the millennials are supposed to become the replacement players for those who have been keeping America prosperous for years. If not the millennials, who so far are not doing too well, perhaps America will have to wait until the following generation matures. But, then again there are others migrating legally and illegally from other countries ready to fill the bill.

Let's hope for some medical breakthroughs to help the country survive with old farts running things, while a competent future generation becomes ready.

The millennial generation, sometimes referred to as Generation Y, is well on its way to becoming a "lost generation" as many politicians continue to push for policies that will make millennials less and less significant to America's success.

Politicians are pushing for amnesty and massive increases in immigration levels. This of course puts the special interests of a narrow economic and political elite above the needs of the American people, especially millennials who wake up every day wanting a life of their own but not thinking they need to do anything extraordinary to achieve it.

Facing chronic unemployment and underemployment, millennials are their own worst enemies. They have been convinced by commie-pinko coffee-breath professors who never refuse to accept their salaries in ill-focused universities, that America is bad and capitalism is bad and success itself is bad.

It happened mostly in the past decade from 2010-on that the word woke (the colloquial, passively voiced past participle of wake) picked up the meaning of being 'politically and socially aware.' It started with BLM activists. However, now, after 2020, the term woke has increasingly come to be identified with members of the millennial generation. Millennials will be further behind those who exude success the more woke they become.

They are characterized as having rejected notions that one must work hard to gain the rewards of their efforts. They teach others in the mush brain generation to drink coffee and not to listen to anybody older than thirty unless of course, they are coffee-breath professors of the finest blends. The professors and now the millennials are very happy to damn those who engage positively in the US economy to help make their lives and the lives of their young families better for now and for the future. It is a self-dooming philosophy when compared with other generations. Some wonder if millennials have a fighting chance. With the influx of illegal and legal immigrants, millennials are pushed further behind as a number of businesses, sick of millennials seem to gravitate to the more needy immigrants as “replacement players” for millennials.

And thus, confronted with a future that is anything but bright, many millennials feel they should be forgiven for failing to establish stable careers, while shouldering sizeable student loan debts. Those who do not graduate from college face a labor market in which there are few available jobs paying a livable wage. They don’t ever seem to go back to challenge their coffee-breath liberal, anti-American professors whom they respect ad absurdum.

In studying this phenomenon, it helps to know that between 2003 and 2012, the number of unemployed 18 to 34-year old’s increased 37 percent, up to 5.7 million. Why? Well, we know that robots did not take their jobs at McDonalds and in carwashes, and in low-paying entry level positions in businesses of all kinds—at least yet.

In fact, the only reason this number is not higher is that during the same period, 3.3 million 18- to 34-year-olds simply dropped out of the labor force. Willing illegal foreign nationals gladly took their jobs, and more are ready to trip the border wires to get here.

The labor participation rate for American-born teenagers continues at an historic low, down a third, since high school dropouts, who do work, struggle to make ends meet. When the Census Bureau collects stats, even they found that the average high school dropout has minimal expectations. They know that they can expect to earn just $20,241 per year in a good year.

Besides a very low average annual salary, dropouts also face a much higher unemployment rate than the national average. Dropouts can expect little in the form of rewards. It is this group, high school dropouts, who face the major competition for jobs most directly from illegal aliens. To prove the point, from 2007 to 2013, the number of unemployed native-born persons without a high school diploma increased by 18.7 percent while the number of unemployed foreign-born persons decreased by 24.8 percent.

What does this mean? Try this on...during the “recovery” following the Great Recession, employers continued to favor illegal alien labor sources despite millions of less-educated Americans who were unemployed. True, but not good for Americans and there were no Congresspersons who became advocates for Americans, despite these nasty statistics favoring the illegal sector of our population.

Illegal aliens take any job that offers any opportunity

We all know that illegal aliens come to the United States to take jobs that offer them greater opportunity. They do not care if the jobs are already held by millennials or seniors or those Americans in-between. The interlopers are often welcomed by greedy U.S. employers who are able to hire them for wages substantially lower than they would have to pay U.S. employees.

Though such employment is illegal under a law enacted in 1986, more and more employers have chosen to ignore the law and hire illegal workers in the underground “shadow” economy. Their profits grow huge the more laws they break. In the Obama Administration, these employers may have even been invited to the White House for special honors. History shows that the former President had little regard for normal working Americans.

Many employers are happy to accept fake employment documents and hire the illegal workers as if they were legal. Because there is no requirement to verify documents presented by workers, employers can easily evade true compliance.

The illegal alien employees are mostly persons who snuck into the country—nearly all Mexicans or Central Americans who enter from Mexico. There is also illegal entry across the northern border with Canada, with apprehensions by the Border Patrol of more than 6,000 aliens in 2010.

How to become an illegal alien?

The easiest way to become an illegal alien is to arrive with a legal visa and simply stay when it expires. A significant portion of the illegal alien population began as legal visa holders. At the turn of the 21st century, 'overstayers' were estimated variously at between one-third and 40 percent of the illegal alien population.

In 2007 this changed, giving the edge to the overstayers. It has continued to go up. Two-thirds of those who joined the illegal alien population in 2017 did so by entering with a valid visa and then overstaying their period of admission.

There are too many defenders of illegal aliens—ethnic advocacy groups, employer groups, and church-based groups. They don't see the damage they do as they care only for the foreign nationals and they choose not to see the American side.

Perhaps if all these “good people,” advocated for better wages and working conditions for illegal interlopers, they would be helping them a lot more than messing with immigration officials. Why such social justice minded good people think they are helping interlopers when they must know they live in squalor with fifteen others in a three-bedroom shack—is a puzzlement indeed to those of us who advocate for American citizens.

The “good people” often assert that illegal aliens only take jobs unwanted by U.S. workers. This is patently false because they are working in jobs in which U.S. workers are also employed—in construction, agricultural harvesting, or as service professions.

If the hiring of illegal alien workers is prevalent in a particular sector of the economy, as has become the case in seasonal crop agriculture, the willingness of foreign workers to accept sub-minimum wages because of their illegal status acts to depress wages and working conditions for all employees in that occupation. It is not a good deal for Americans and it is not a good deal for illegal interlopers.

This illegal hiring makes employment in that sector less attractive to U.S. workers who sometimes have other options. Illegal aliens who take the poor-paying jobs have a difficult time making ends meet in those professions.

The result is a form of circular logic. The more that illegal aliens are able to take jobs in a sector of the economy, the less attractive the jobs in that sector become to U.S. workers, because they depress the wages. Soon after winning over labor, and knowing it, the greedy employer boldly offers nothing but sub-minimum wages to any employee and nothing close to what had been the prevailing wage.

The circular logic adds a greater appearance of validity to the lie that only illegal aliens are willing to take jobs in that sector. Only by enforcing the immigration law against the employment of illegal alien workers can this spiral to the bottom be broken and employers forced to restore wages and working conditions to levels that will attract U.S. employees and legal foreign workers.

Of course, the Pay-to-Go program and the Resident Visa Program can serve as great equalizers for Americans if Congress has the guts to implement such positive programs.

Chapter 12 The Jobs Impact of Illegal Aliens on Black Americans

U.S. COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS

— The Impact of Illegal Immigration on the — Wages and Employment Opportunities of Black Workers

BRIEFING
REPORT

AUGUST 2010

Effects on Blacks worse than Whites

The jobs effects of illegal immigration is worse on Black employees. There are many who are prepared to give illegal interlopers as minorities, a bigger break than they would be willing to give for similar perpetrations by American citizens—black or white. Unfortunately, some of the biggest losers when this mindset is in play are other minorities, such as hard-working Black American employees.

President Trump when he was making his mind known on the border wall showed his concern for black Americans and their employment opportunities. So, when he made his case for the border wall, he offered the following: “America proudly welcomes millions of lawful immigrants who enrich our society and contribute to our nation, but all Americans are hurt by uncontrolled illegal migration. It strains public resources and drives down jobs and wages. Among those hardest hit are African Americans and Hispanic Americans.” It is true and the former president worked hard to make it better.

Going back a few more years, The United States Commission on Civil Rights put out a report on April 4, 2008 titled: The Impact of Illegal Immigration on the Wages and Employment Opportunities of Black Workers. The Commission collected the evidence for economic loss and job opportunity costs to black workers attributable to illegal immigration. The panelists also described non-economic factors contributing to the depression of black wages and employment rates.

Based on the facts discovered for this report, the Commission noted that the number of illegal workers has tended to increase the supply of low-skilled, low-wage labor. Evidence for the negative effects of wage competition against Black Americans ranged from modest to significant, according to the experts who testified. It is safe to stay that the conditions which prompted the report still exist in 2021.

Even those who viewed the effects as modest overall still found significant effects in occupations such as meatpacking and construction. The wages in these industries have become so depressed because illegal foreign nationals will almost work for nothing, that black opportunities no longer include wages commensurate with the middle class. Check out the fine essay below by Ian Smith:

BY IAN M. SMITH —08/29/16 03:00 PM EDT

Ian M. Smith, for The Hill, on August 29, 2016 discussed the negative effects of illegal immigrants on black employability:

Thank you IAN for this short report.

Aamplifiewrote:

In 1994, the majority of blacks in California voted for prop 187; the citizen referendum that ended public benefits to illegal aliens before it was overturned by a federal court judge. Those voters weren't stupid. As the Atlantic observed at the time, "even if these communities (blacks and Hispanics) make common political cause, do they have any choice about economic competition?" "The almost total absence", the magazine wrote, "of black gardeners, busboys, chambermaids, nannies, janitors, and construction workers in a city with a notoriously large pool of unemployed, unskilled black people leaps to the eye." Things haven't got any better since.

In the fifty years since our current mass immigration system was created, the black experience has been one of continued shattered hope. Studying census-data from around 1965 (when immigration became dramatically expanded) to 2000, economist Gordon Hanson found that a 10 percent immigrant-induced increase in the labor supply is associated with a 4 percent reduction in both the black wage and employment rates. Between 1980 and 2000, immigration accounted for about 40 percent of the overall 18 percent decline in black employment rates as well as half the 20-percentage point increase in the incarceration rate of black high school dropouts. Similar findings have been found by economists Andrew Sum, George Borjas, and Harry Holzer.

Immigration's negative trickle-down effect on black America doesn't end there. Immigration economist Vernon Briggs has written a lot on how the worsening situation for black laborers, mostly males, passes onto their households and affects the entire social structure of black society. Today, almost half of black women ages 25-44 are not married compared to 15 percent of white women; a fact, he writes, that's no doubt partly due to the increasing difficulty black men have in finding a traditional standard of living in an overcrowded labor market.

Such concentration also puts stress on urban schools. Per-pupil spending decreases greatly as bilingual programs and special education classes for underprepared Latin American students work to divert resources. Then there's affirmative action. With the Hispanic population (including illegal aliens) soon to double that of blacks the slots available to the latter in set-aside programs, colleges, and public employment must shrink. It's as if the beginning of our modern mass immigration system in 1965 evaporated the pent-up gains from the civil rights struggle.

FAIR (Federation for American Immigration Reform) sums up the plight of black workers and others who have been negatively affected by illegal immigration. Americans are not second class citizens of the world. Americans deserve decent jobs and decent wages. They did not ask politicians to create unfair competition using imported foreign workers, who are so afraid of their situation that they permit themselves to be exploited to the point of indentured servitude.

There is no question that we need real immigration reform to stop the massive influx of foreign workers from harming the living standard of our most vulnerable citizens. The Pay-to-Go program and the Resident Visa Program are designed to help even the score and then tilt the balance in favor of US citizens, whether black or white, yellow or red.

Meatpacking has always been a terrible industry in which to work. The raw materials in many cases are live animals and the finished product is always dead and often frozen. What happens in-between can turn even a strong-man's stomach.

As the US was figuring out what it was as a country, people had to eat, and meat was a great source of protein as it still is. Entrepreneurs in the meatpacking industry were never interested in giving away the store in wages and so they always sought the cheapest labor possible.

Other than freed slaves in the late 19th century, the original slaughterhouse workers were largely recent immigrants of Irish, German, and Scandinavian background. Not only were they required to slaughter and dismember enormous numbers of animals each day, the rest of the working conditions were also very poor.

The employees were exposed to poor environmental conditions, including leaks of contaminated water, liquid waste and sewage across the floors. The shops were poorly lit and the rooms were cold. Injuries and illnesses were commonplace among workers. It often did not get better when the workers went home. Most lived in slums next to the slaughterhouses.

They were ripe for unionization but it did not come for another 50 years. In the early 1880s, workers called for higher wages and better working conditions. The bosses would have none of it. and the owners used their ethnic differences to maintain control. It was easy to find recent immigrants who were willing to work such as vulnerable Poles, Serbs, Croatians, Slovaks, and other recent Southern and Eastern European immigrants all wanted to be employed for any amount.

Eventually, these mostly white workers were able to organize and go on strike in 1894. Instead of giving in at the time, slaughterhouse owners began recruiting African-American workers to break the strike.

The slaughterhouse was always a place of blood and stench and danger and it was like that for most of the 19th century. But it was mostly a local thing with butchers commanding top dollar as skilled craftsmen. The idea of large meatpacking houses did not take hold until after 1860 because it was almost impossible to ship meats across the country unrefrigerated. Once the refrigerated railcar was invented, things changed and the meatpacking industry quickly came into being and the entrepreneurs were in charge of everything.

Unions eventually came to meatpacking but not right away. It was not until the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) organized the workers. The National Labor Relations Act in 1935 also helped in improving working conditions for slaughterhouse workers, but it never got really good—the nature of the job.

In 1909, only 1% of the meatpacking workforce was black but as white workers demanded more and more, especially higher and higher wages, black workers took up the slack until 1929 when 30% of the meatpackers were black. By the time illegal alien workers began to dominate the industry, black workers had become the dominant force, and they too unionized and forced the hands of the meatpacker owners to pay a middle class wage.

Unfortunately, Americans, born black or white in America, know that wages as a whole in America have gone down substantially for many years, as the scum of the entrepreneurial class have preferred to hire illegal foreign nationals as workers for slave wages to maximize profits rather than sharing a bit of their bounty with those who helped produce it.

In the meatpacking industry, once dominated by unionized black workers as noted—people who had worked their way out of poverty and well into the middle class over the years—once earned as much as $20.00 per hour in the late 1980's. Blacks in meatpacking had great lives with great salaries.

Blacks more than anybody became the victims of liberal interpretations of our immigration laws. They saw their average wages fall to just over $9.00 per hour as non-union illegal foreign national workers took over their jobs and in fact the illegals agreed to move from Chicago and other big cities to places where nobody but illegal workers lived. It served the company's profit picture to create cheap housing for workers in new towns they created by their midwestern meatpacking plants.

How did this happen. When companies moved from the big cities and built "worker cities," most regular Americans chose not to move. This action did not help black or white workers. If big business people were honest about what happened, they would say that lowering the wages and hiring illegal workers did not help the employees and it was not intended to do so. It sure helped the bottom line of the profiteers, however. The average wage in meatpacking, now dominated by illegal aliens, is substantially less than in other manufacturing areas.

Case Farms, for example, built its business by recruiting immigrant workers, some of the world's most vulnerable, from Guatemala. They are still forced to endure conditions, at times illegal conditions, that few Americans would put up with. Big companies have gotten really bold in trying to squeeze out more profits on the backs of hard-luck immigrants whose wages keep going down. Blacks and whites are mostly out of meatpacking due to the malleability of illegal foreign workers.

Tyson Foods Inc., the nation's largest meat producer and processor, was indicted way back in 2001 with six employees on charges that it conspired to smuggle illegal immigrants across the Mexican border to work in its processing plants. How many do you think were successful? Big Business and the Democratic Party love illegal residents even if it hurts the interloper and those citizens who the Democrats are counting as yes votes.

Bringing in poor, uneducated, people from south of the border, often criminals, who feed from our welfare system, taking tax dollars from those with minimal incomes, assures the Democrat politicians of the illegal's votes for a long time once they are in America. Who pays for these illegal aliens?

It is the working slobs such as you and me, who happen to pay taxes, who pay for them. Black employees who made big wages in meatpacking paid for them by having to give up their nice jobs. Yes, there is no coming back for these poor black folks who twenty-years ago were once making $20.00 an hour in a meatpacking job and now with no union protection from illegal workers, if they chose to stay employed would have to work in a non-union shop for $8.00 or $9.00 per hour in the same job if they could get it.

Mostly black Americans, who labored for the big wages in the meatpacking industry of yore, had a choice to work for $8.00 or $9.00 per hour if they did not complain. They did not have the option, however, to keep the $20.00 per hour wage that they had won in prior union negotiations. The unions were gone.

Their other choice was not to work in meatpacking. Nobody in government was protecting the American wage v the illegal foreign national wage. Nobody even talked about the fact that under the covers of the flag, such nasty labor arbitrage with foreigners was occurring.

American businesses love paying the smallest wage possible and since illegal foreign nationals work for peanuts, there has been a perfect marriage of needs.

In summary, illegal immigration has had a disproportionately negative effect on the wages and employment levels of blacks, particularly black males. The huge number of illegal immigrants ensures that there is a continual surplus of low-skilled labor, thus preventing black wages from rising. Not only do illegal immigrants compete for jobs with African-Americans, but that competition drives down wages for all of the jobs that are available.

The US needs no more immigration until wages come back to a level that normal Americans will accept.

Chapter 13 A Perfect Plan to Solve a Big Problem

Perfection is tough to achieve

“In order to form a more perfect union...,” starts the Preamble of the US Constitution. What does this mean? Well, the Constitution followed the Articles of Confederation which was an agreement among the thirteen colonies to work together but the government as formed was imperfect. So, in the preamble the founders admitted they had tried other forms of creating the union of states but this time, they wanted it to be “more perfect” than any previous attempt.

Many probably know that over the last ten years, I wrote eleven other books dealing with the topic of illegal immigration and the resultant problem of having millions of interlopers as residents in the United States. Some of the book titles are as follows:

- ✓ Taxation Without Representation
- ✓ Americans Need Not Apply
- ✓ No Amnesty! No Way!

- ✓ The Lifetime Guest Plan
- ✓ The Annual Guest Plan
- ✓ 60 Million Illegal Aliens in America!!!
- ✓ Pay-to-Go
- ✓ Legalizing Illegal Aliens with Resident Visas

This book is my twelfth try at building a more perfect plan to deal with what today adds up to just about 60,000,000 uninvited visitors which by definition are interlopers. Each time, as I wrote the next book, I took my improved ideas and I created a better solution but it was still not quite perfect. This time, with the America-First Immigration book which highlights both the Resident Visa Program and the Pay to Go Program, as a tag team solution, it is my best effort yet. I am sure it is still not quite perfect but it is more perfect than anything else that anybody else is proposing.

Though our immigration laws have been strong for a long time, it is obvious that our lax immigration enforcement over the last twenty years created confusion as to the real meaning of our laws. It also brought us the problem of people living in the shadows, and this problem is now festering. Donald Trump slowed the flow with his policies and the wall but Joe Bidon immediately turned the spigot on full blast and America and Americans are feeling pain at the border again. Of course life is also not too pleasant for the millions of interlopers.

One of the big problems in coming up with an acceptable solution is that political ideologies continue to clash over what is fair and right and acceptable. Some want outright legalization and citizenship while others want the letter of the law followed including mass deportations. The laws on the books are simply being ignored by public officials. I would like to suggest that those who believe the border should open up and anybody who chooses should just come on down, ought to try that at home first.

Keep your garage door, front door, back door, Sun Room door, and your basement's Bilco door wide open when it is not raining. Put a sign on the house and the doors:

We Welcome Uninvited Guests.

To top it off, try to have a meal on the table ready at all times for any of the expected drop-ins. Another sign can say:

Sleepovers for free; bring in your stuff

That would also help show your friendliness. See how that works out for your family before you decide you would like to impose such a policy on the rest of the country.

President Obama will be remembered as the biggest immigration lawbreaker of all-time. President Trump was listening to what is needed but he could not finish the job. President Biden does not seem to care either way. No kidding!

He has put no solution for new interlopers or for 60 million interlopers already residing in our cities. He knows if Trump would like it; it must be eliminated.

Building a wall was a great idea and it should have been completed but even that is not going to solve the problem of having 60 million illegal residents costing taxpayers between $500 billion to $1 trillion per year.

The 60,000,000 solution

Over time, I kept researching and thinking and researching and thinking and finally it came to me. What if we made a deal with the interlopers and the American people that worked well for both? If we could get the politicians who are trying to attract voters out of the way, we might be able to solve the conundrum. I bet both constituencies, Americans and interlopers could agree to a real solution and be OK with it!

Of course, our politicians would have to be convinced. After reading this book, you will be prepared to understand this is the solution and hopefully, you will do your part to help in the effort to make this plan into a reality. Call your Congressman and Senators.

In this book, I have already introduced the essence of the America-First Immigration and its components—Pay to-Go and Resident Visa—. There is a lot of goodness in this plan that makes Americans very pleased. The plans are good for Americans and they are also a fair deal and in fact, a very good deal for interlopers. These plans should become part of the law of the land quickly. Then, the problem with 60,000,000 shadow aliens in America is solved. Can you imagine. No more shadows? No more of a lot of bad things!

As long as the Resident Visa Holder is well behaved, and we Americans get to define what that means, they will have a right to live in America and hold a job for which an American citizen is not competing. They may keep the jobs they already have.

Resident Visa Holders will be 100% out of the shadows and will live like you and me within our neighborhoods, paying for housing and paying local taxes as we do. Their kids will go to school and they will also pay school taxes like you and me.

In order to be approved for their status of Resident Visa Holder, they first would have to obtain a special resident passport. They must promise not to be a burden (defined as costing taxpayers) or they will be asked to voluntarily return home. The government will help in their return home and in fact will offer substantial assistance of twenty thousand dollars or so for those who agree to go and not come back. That is the essence of the Pay to Go plan.

It will not cost American taxpayers a dime for Resident Visa Holders for social services such as education, healthcare or general living. The plan includes no free lunch, aka, no charity. Iron clad identification databases and ID cards with biometrics will be issued and those without such identification will be deported immediately once the program is in full force. With such a generous program available, there should be no reason why interlopers would continue in the shadows.

By law, EMTALA emergency hospital care must be provided to all residents, but these services are not intended to be free. A Resident Visa Holder who receives such benefits can make arrangements through the Accountability system (discussed in later chapters) to pay the fee for their services back to the US Treasury over an extended period if need be. They must not cost taxpayers a dime.

After an interloper in illegal alien status gains a passport from the Post Office or through any other acceptable government agency, they may then apply for their Resident Visa. The normal fee applies for a passport and for a visa as it always has for other visas. The Resident Visa fees will be the same or very similar to other visas. Any additional costs in this process other than the listed fees will also be borne by the interloper. The days of the free-lunch on American taxpayers are gone.

When the plan is in full force, it will include an Accountability System with a record for each interloper. This will establish a record and keep track of financial transactions paid for by the US government, and it will keep a running balance of how much each interloper owes America for the services they have taken from American Taxpayers. No cash payments shall be made although there may be reasons why a limited loan program might be instituted.

The amount to pay back for an interloper will include welfare and healthcare costs from over the years and anything else deemed by officials needing to be repaid. The amount will be determined in the vetting interviews.

In addition to this accounting, those who cannot immediately pay fines and certain fees can have them added to their "account." Resident Visa Holders who work out a deal with officials to not be deported, will be expected to pay a small percentage of this account each year based on need, before their annual visa will be renewed.

A record of the stipends given to those participating in the Pay-to-Go Program will also be accounted. Nothing provided to former interlopers is free. Everything is either paid immediately by the interloper or it is charged to the Accountability System in which reasonable but minimal payments will be expected.

To net it out, once the legislation is passed, Resident Visa Holders can begin their freedom in the US tomorrow by getting a special passport at the usual cost. The one-time interloper will temporarily be deemed legal and will not be deported. Most Americans get their passports today at one of many Post Offices in the country and this passport procedure will either be the same or very similar. After the passport, the next step is the Resident Visa application.

When all illegal interlopers have their passports, US officials will know and will have records describing all of the former illegal foreign national residents in the country. Nobody will be hidden. This will have major value to our overall immigration enforcement efforts. At that point, an aspirant for the Resident Visa will become legal. They then must apply for the Resident Visa and be approved or agree to return home if they are not approved.

Those illegal interlopers who choose not to get a Resident Visa have the option of signing up for the Pay-to-Go Return Program and will receive their return home expenses including transportation to their home country as well as a nice stipend by volunteering to return home through the program. They will not be permitted to return to the US.

Americans believe the influx of illegal foreign nationals hurts them and from my own observations, we Americans are 100% correct. The tables were turned in this program with American citizens now holding all the TRUMP cards. But now, with Biden the same problems are back and are much more substantial. Nobody really knows if Biden is working on a solution.

Other than that the interlopers who get the visas will not ever be able to vote, this plan ought to please President Biden. It is politically astute and Biden would get credit for solving the big one!

To gain their Resident Visa status, interlopers would have to agree to all the stipulations of the program such as to not vote in any election in the US for any office -- local, municipality, state, or federal. Unless they return to their home country, and begin a process like all others from that country, they would never be able to become a citizen of the US.

Jumping the line would not be permitted. However, if their home country, through its normal procedures in conjunction with the US Consular Office agrees to list them on their list for American Citizenship, after making the trip home, they will be able to return to the US using their Resident Visa.

There is no registration per se for the program. Getting the special passport is tantamount to a registration. The Visa lasts for a year and is renewable each year thereafter. An illegal interloper would have just one year to acquire their specially designated passport. The passport costs the same as one for Americans traveling abroad. Once they have the passport, they are legal and they would be expected to apply for their Resident Visa within a short period such as say, three months.

Most US non-immigration or worker visas have a short time scope, such as three to six months. The Resident Visa, however is designed to be one year in duration. Unlike other visas, it will be renewable annually. For the first five years of the program, the renewal will be in person and will cost $100.00 or the typical cost for a visa, depending on what the government suggests.

Every five years, the Resident Visa Holder would be required to have their photo refreshed just as those re-applying for driver's licenses.

This Resident Visa is not to be thought of as a Guest Worker Visa, such as H-1B, as the recipient is not expected to be hired for any type of work under the auspices of the program. The key point here is that just like worker visas, the Resident Visa Holders are not citizens and they are not permanent residents and they have none of the rights which accrue to citizens.

They not only can hold jobs, they must have a job in order to stay in good status. They are temporary visitors whose Visa type enables them to apply for renewal of their right of residence for one year at a time. As residents only, they have no other rights such as those of today's green-card holder or US Citizen.

In essence, the Resident Visa provides these folks with an opportunity to be treated as visitors of America. They are not American Citizens or $\frac{1}{4}$ citizens, or $\frac{1}{2}$ citizens and they have none of the rights of citizens.

They are simply temporary visitors and should not expect special treatment. Once approved, they have a special right granted by the citizens of the US to remain in the US as long as they are up-to-date on their Visa renewals and accountability repayments. Plus, of course, they must be well-behaved.

Resident Visa Holders will have no special privileges. American Citizens have all the privileges of citizens in their own country / state, including first-option employment.

There are other advanced notions in the plan that may help US officials deal better with the ongoing issue of people wanting to crash into America uninvited for various purposes.

For example, The Resident Visa Program should never cost the US more than if the plan were not in force. Illegal foreign nationals who are granted a Resident Visa are not permitted to ever become a burden, financial or otherwise upon the citizenry of the USA.

In prior chapters, you read an introduction to a very inclusive plan intended for the benefit of Americans. This Chapter adds detail to the description. Subsequent chapters fine tune the program even further. Though the plan benefits Americans for sure, nonetheless it accommodates over 60,000,000 illegal foreign interlopers, simply because America is a kind nation, and Americans have big hearts.

There is no reason for Americans to pay for visitors, wanted, or unwanted. The tax burden for such interlopers has been very large for taxpayers for many years. The free lunch is over for all but those who choose to take a nice handout and return home from America and not return.

This is a much better deal than the Gang of 8

You may be aware that a group of Senators in 2013 created a monstrous anti-American solution to the same problem solved by the Resident Visa. They did not have the notion of Pay-to-Go in any part of their plan.

I took a hard look at this plan known as the Gang of Eight plan. I also looked at existing law, and other notions about how to solve the nation's problem with illegal residents. I found that none addressed all of the issues that having 60 million illegal foreign nationals in residence brought to America.

When I read the Gang of Eight plan (Rubio, Schumer, Flake, and McCain) in 2013, it was easy to notice that it looked a lot like it was purposely designed to kill America. It did not solve the problem at hand.

With the Gang of Eight plan, no jobs would have been left for Americans; newly unemployed Americans would have to pay for newly minted citizens. Voting in national elections seemed OK for the Gang of 8, as it was not ruled out; 33 million more foreign nationals would be invited. The deal would cost over $6 trillion.

It was a terrible deal for the country. I looked at all of the things that Americans did not like and then looked at what the illegal interlopers liked about living in America. I figured out a way to permit well-behaved interlopers to stay in America with those wanting to go home to take a huge stipend (Pay-to-Go). Having interlopers tucked aside and out of the shadows, would give Americans priority in all ways.

These plans that we have been discussing—Pay-to Go and Resident Visa Plan will work well and will solve the problem while taking a huge financial burden off the backs of Americans.

Now, we all need to make sure Congress gets this done.

Chapter 14 Gang of Eight Compared to Resident Visa Plan

Gang of Eight not as citizen friendly as Resident Visa

We have already discussed the Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa Program in enough detail for understanding its basic precepts and benefits. In this chapter, we compare this innovative notion with the Senate's Gang of Eight fiasco, which Marco Rubio and company tried to ram down our throats in 2013.

So that you know who the treasonous eight scoundrels are who sold all Americans down the river, here is the list. Note there are four Democrats and four RINOS. Eventually, good Americans have to remove these RINOS and all Democrats from the US Senate. They sure do not think like we do.:

- Sen. Michael Bennet, D-CO
- Sen. Richard J. Durbin, D-IL
- Sen. Jeff Flake, R-AZ
- Sen. Lindsey Graham, R-SC
- Sen. John McCain, R-AZ

- Sen. Bob Menendez, D-NJ
- Sen. Marco Rubio, R-FL
- Sen. Chuck Schumer, D-NY

Remember those names. All eight of them are scoundrels. You may recall that in 2013, many of us learned about the Gang of Eight Senators' plan for immigration amnesty for all interlopers. It would have made the Resident Visa Program theoretically unnecessary but it would have gotten us into a deeper mess than we already were in.

Those Americans who think—were not pleased. Low Information Voters accepted it immediately as a good thing. The Marco Rubio Plan was extremely generous to interlopers and very costly to US taxpayers. It was not a fair deal for citizens of the US. Even Rubio's bank account could not have covered all the added expense.

You are going to love the Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa Program. These are 100% America-first solutions to the problem of having 60 million illegal interlopers living in the shadows. That is a lot of shadows. I'd like to take these folks out of the shadows and do something that will both help them and help Americans.

Why would the liberals—Democrats and Republicans in the US Senate do something like this Gang of Eight perpetration? First of all, it was not an accident. It is exactly what they wanted. It still is what they want. It was not forced upon them. Secondly, I am convinced that these rich Senators in the House of Lords are so removed from the people at large, they are out of touch and have no idea what is happening in the country.

All Senators should be fired, especially those who did not support our four-year President Donald J. Trump. When Obama had yet to be replaced, I suggested both houses of Congress should be sent home until further notice. They could not or would not put forth good immigration legislation on behalf of the people, claiming Obama would veto it. Well, Obama is gone. Long live President Donald J. Trump.

Trump put policies in place to curtail the fire-hose flow of humanity via the migrant caravans. But the Dominion Voting machines spoke and Biden was declared the victor in 2020. Don't you still miss Trump, especially with the Pipeline, the Border, and Afghanistan. If there was not a Dem Congress, Biden would have been expelled a long time ago. Don't you think?

When Trump's immigration policies etc. were implemented, they worked. That is why so many thought it was foolhardy for newly inaugurated President Biden to cast this great work for America into the garbage can simply because he did not like anything that had Trump's fingerprints on it. Now look at the mess we have at the border, and we have a similar mess in Afghanistan. And we have the legacy of a stolen election.

President Biden can decide to do the right thing if he chooses. He simply chooses 100% of the time to do the wrong thing and he hurts America with his decisions. Immigration is one of his most blatant failures. Maybe if he did the right thing, if he can figure out what is right, many Americans would forgive him. Maybe not!

Former Defense Secretary under President Obama in January 2014 said he thinks Joe Biden hasn't stopped being wrong for 40 years.

"I think he has been wrong on nearly every major foreign policy and national security issue over the past four decades," former Defense Secretary Robert Gates says of Vice President Joe Biden in his book released around the same time. People fear for America and fear what Biden's next mistakes will be. Will America survive Joe Biden?

My book is not a hit piece on President Biden or Obama. Biden's bad decisions happen to be hurting America right now and like Secretary Gates suggested, he has not been good for the country in all of his official years. It would surely be good for the country if he implemented Pay to Go and The Resident Visa Program.

I don't want to be a cynic but that is why I don't expect it to happen while he is president. It would be good but I don't see him doing the right thing. I am sorry but I feel that way!

We all know that more than any other nation in history, the United States has welcomed immigrants in search of a better life. That is why so many citizens got here over the many years from our founding—and even before—while the colonies were being settled.

For their own reasons, the millions of people who regularly enter the US illegally intentionally choose to violate the core principle of the rule of law in the US, and in fact, they mock and belittle the legal naturalization process. They, as illegal interlopers make demands of our kind and generous host country as if they have an entitlement to free services. Not all of course but enough for at least some people to notice.

You may recall that on September 18, 2017, DACA protesters shouted down one of their own, Nancy Pelosi who had agreed to meet with them. Pelosi was obviously shaken up by the crude interruptions and unruly behavior when ironically, she was on the protesters' side. DACA-supporting protesters stole the show from Pelosi, who tried multiple times unsuccessfully to restore order but instead had to exit through a rear door for her own safety when she was outshouted by the crowd.

Pelosi was patient for about 30 minutes during a ceaseless protest. It was no use. She walked out the back door of the building, followed by Reps. Barbara Lee, D-Oakland, and Jared Huffman, D-San Rafael, who were also at the event.

Tucker Carlson of Fox had more compassion for Nancy Pelosi than the DACA recipients and illegal aliens, who were a part of a group of protesters. They were demanding more than Pelosi and the others were willing to give.

Carlson hit the nail on the head in terms of the ingrates in the illegal alien community. They were most disrespectful to a person who has given them just about everything they ever could have asked for. Carlson said DACA protesters showed a "lack of gratitude" for Pelosi and the United States taxpayer, and said that they have no right to demand anything. Carlson made sense. He said that if this situation was occurring in any other country, the citizenry and government would tell the illegal immigrants to "hit the road."

Illegal aliens come to America and want more rights than the citizens of the country. Americans are fed up with it. Pelosi was fed up with it after just thirty minutes. Nonetheless, a continued large-scale influx of new people arrive, without any plan for effective assimilation. In other words, the interlopers want America's benefits but they do not want to adapt in any way to America's culture. Being a good American does not seem to be part of the illegal culture.

It is not just the illegals. I found it difficult to believe that only 40% of green card holders (with permanent resident visas), make the transition to citizenship. They find it comfortable just to stay in the country, collect benefits, and give back nothing. This has occurred over the last 30 years. Today's permanent legal foreign nationals never swear allegiance to America.

As part of the recommendations, once the Resident Visa is adopted, there is little need to continue a green card program in which such a high percentage of permanent residents choose not to make the final step to citizenship. Many others would love the opportunity. Once current green cards expire, the permanent resident green-card-holder should get off welfare and apply for a Resident Visa if they merely want to stay in America.

For their own reasons, too many in green card status do not really want to become Americans. They do want to be treated as Americans for benefits and all good things with all due rights, but they are happy holding allegiance to their home countries. The American people are fed up with this nonsense, almost as much as we are fed up with illegal interlopers who are on the American dole.

America, once a melting pot!

America long ago became known as the melting pot for people wanting a new place to live and raise a family. In the early days, immigrants left behind their old ways and they became Americans by choice; and they were proud to become Americans. As they say, they melted in. The identity of the pot from which they emerged said: "AMERICAN."

My father was born 106 years ago in 1915 in America, from a pair of Irish immigrants. He loved America and taught me to love this country. As an example, he would get upset if and when I wore an Irish Sweatshirt. He felt I was bragging about being Irish. He cautioned me, his middle son, that I was an American, not an Irishman. Today's illegal interlopers and many green card holders choose not to identify with America. Yet, in many cases, we provide for their every need.

Unfortunately, for Americans, many interlopers and foreign nationals carry resentment and disdain for our country once they get here. Their negative feelings are exacerbated by an unkind Marxist-leaning media and a Marxist Democrat Party that would rather be typing up the news and making decisions in Soviet Russia than in America.

We know the truth by its absence in what is called the main stream media. Today they openly love communism as reflected by their reporting. It is obvious that no matter how many communist hammers & sickles or images of Marx, Mao, and other communists, the violent Antifa radicals display in their protests in America, the Fake News media continue to present them as idealistic "anti-fascists." When in fact, they are fascists. Many Americans fall for it and do not believe their own eyes and ears, but they do believe the gospel as preached by the corrupt media such as CNN & MSNBC.

Only today because of their four-year disgusting narrative to discredit President Trump, do the Democrats claim they no longer like the Russians. I believe nothing the media says. I am a Democrat by Party but today's Democrats have no idea who they really are. They left me behind years ago with their unpatriotic ways. They surely do not represent main stream America. And, I am beginning to believe that Democratic leaders would not recognize the truth if they tripped over it.

I met another neighbor on a walk today in my neighborhood just today. She is a recent widow. Like others I have communicated with recently, she said she is still registered as a Democrat but she is fed up with them Any thing that makes sense she said, they are against and all the wacko stuff and anti-patriotism and cancel culture and downing of historic statues, they are for. She has had enough and is about ready to make the change.

All of these negatives threaten social cohesion and America's civic culture and our sense of common identity. We are not a diverse country. We are a country of diverse peoples with a common purpose and union. E Pluribus Unum. An especially annoying aspect of today's distortion of immigration is that when immigrants, in legal or illegal status are assimilated into the welfare state rather than into a society of opportunity.

President Teddy Roosevelt gave a speech, that is much needed for today, in 1915. In his speech, he provided this admonition: "The one absolutely certain way of bringing this nation to ruin would be to permit it to become a tangle of squabbling nationalities ... A hyphenated American is not an American at all."

We are Americans, not a motley crew of diverse entities with no purpose or no national identity. Remembering we are Americans today is very important regardless of what you might hear from the corrupt media or your friendly crooked politician.

Meaningful reform v charade of eight.

2016 was another bloodbath, as conservatives and nationalists-those who believe in America-first, showed how fed up they were with those who have been shown to be RINOS. They demanded change by voting their minds, and they got it.

Democrat voters always have moved the country further left to Marxism than most Americans in both parties think is good. In the 2016 general election, even Democrats and most Conservatives and Nationalists decided that enough was enough. President Donald Trump kicked butt as he was the only Republican that the people (Democrats and Republicans) trusted to execute a pro-America strategy rather than go for a Marxist progressive approach.

Gang of Eight Charade

Instead of offering a meaningful reform, such as a real US immigration fix, which would have included Pay-to-Go and a Resident Visa, the corrupt Gang of Eight Senators offered and passed a charade in 2013. Their Bill did not address the intricacies of America's immigration challenges. Instead the Senators offered a magic wand approach to Marxism, hoping to add to the misery of Americans and the poor interlopers caught in the middle.

They pretended that they were solving everything in one colossal bill, with the Democrat Party 100% behind their outlandish overture. Democrats were all ready to take undeserved bows. Yet the Democrats, my party (I am a professed DINO), chose not to do a thing to help regular Americans.

If I convince you that the Bill was bad, please know that it was actually worse than bad. This Bill, S. 744, would have granted immediate amnesty to the estimated 11 million illegal aliens (40 million to 60 million in my estimates) in the country and it "promised" that in the "future," the border would be made secure. Promises when dealing with big liars, are never fulfilled.

You may remember the Secure Fence Act, another lie that was passed 283–138 on September 14, 2006 in the House and on September 29, 2006 in the US Senate. President Bush signed the Secure Fence Act, requiring 700 additional miles of double chain-link and barbed-wire fences with lights and camera poles. But Republican Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, authored an amendment that DHS would not be required "to install fencing." The Democrat-controlled Congress passed it. In eleven years just 30 miles of the fence has been built. Congress lies and then deceives the American people with fake news.

The Gang of Eight Bill also granted broad new powers to the scandal-ridden Obama Administration and its tab to taxpayers was estimated at $6.3 trillion. Who's got that kind of money? To me, million as a number still is big and billion is 1000 times bigger. Trillion is 1000 times bigger than a billion.

1,000,000,000,000,000

Americans said "no" as quickly as the G-of-8 Bill was passed in the US Senate. Yet, the Senators chose not to listen to the country. Instead they decided to convince us they were right. They fired off paid ads in the form of propaganda in attempts to sell the Bill to the people as something good for Americans, while the House leadership were still debating the legislation.

Americans wholeheartedly rejected it and the House unexpectedly held its ground. In the fall of 2014 the people went ahead and rejected many of the Bill's proponents and sent them packing. Marco Rubio survived to run for President but his betrayal is forever imprinted on the frontal lobes of conservatives and nationalists.

Congress now works for Congress; not the people

The Senate Bill imposed $trillions of additional exorbitant costs on the people, and it was filled with political trade-offs and misguided policies. It offered a continuation of benefits (freebies) to all immigrants; participation in social security; no priority of jobs for Americans; a path to voting and citizenship; and a number of other unsavory aspects. It was as if it were written by a foreign power hoping to overthrow the USA from within.

It seemed to many that the US government was trying to bribe the unwelcome interlopers into accepting a sweet deal that with enough chicanery would be welcomed by an ignorant majority of Americans. Americans, however, woke up, and rose to the front of the opposition and proved in this instance that we are not dumb!

And, so, this Gang of Eight Bill was rejected and with good cause. Beware however, as Americans, that our Senators are not on our side in this battle. We must call them to task on their actions on immigration. They are not free agents. They are supposed to be representatives of the people of the US, accountable to us and not beholden to foreign entities.

Initiative, Referendum, Recall, & Impeachment

With a Republican Congress in 2017, that did not support the President, it was clear that the people needed some additional tools of democracy in order to assure that legislators do what is expected. Republicans even balked at the border wall, infrastructure, the budget, and the Obamacare repeal. Republicans literally stunk out the Congress and made life miserable for a great President—Donald Trump.

It sure would be nice if we the people could use Initiative, Referendum, and Recall at the National level to assure that the will of the people was the mission of our representatives. These tools would make it so that If they did not execute the peoples' will, we could create our own legislation, put petitions on ballots, and in fact we could recall their sorry selves back home and put them out of office without having to wait for elections.

Few conservatives would not agree that Democratic leadership in the last twenty years at the federal level has morphed into the Marxist Party. In this Party remake, individual initiative and survival of the fittest no longer matter.

At the municipal level, the people, Democrats and Republicans have not adopted this hard-left Marxist philosophy and simply want our representatives to be trustworthy and do what is right for us.

In fact, unfortunately for the health of America, most people do not pay enough attention to government. However, never before in our history since the revolution has vigilance to the actions of public servants ever been more necessary. Politicians of today will take your wallet from your front pocket, stare you in the face, and blame the guy next to you.

Then, they will try to talk you into believing that you did not see what you clearly observed. They will put it on the News as news, though it is fake. There is little value for honesty or the truth in today's Democrat Party. RINO Republicans are worse because they fake it and do not choose to do the people's work.

We get the government we deserve

We get the government we deserve. It is not the people; it is our leaders who have betrayed us on issue after issue. But, it is we the people who must hold the leaders accountable. We must pay attention. The founders told us that is our job. We are too trusting. It would be nice if the press were honest but that does not take us off the hook. It is our job to make them honest and to elect only honest politicians.

We should not be asking politicians for special favors for it emboldens them. If we send them home for good, they cannot hurt us again.

The Marxist-leaning Democratic leadership of today would reject JFK if he appeared as a candidate against Hillary Clinton, the “lady” who was heir apparent in the Democrat Party to replace President Obama. I thank God that it was Donald Trump who took over peaceably on January 20, 2017. I know and most honest people know that the Democrats stole the 2020 election. I worry about that and I support all efforts to assure it cannot happen again.

In the beginning of this chapter, I promised we would look at Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa Program and see how it compares to the traitorous Gang of Eight Senate-endorsed program. In the below section, and in the accompanying chart, we can see the utter guano that Marco Rubio and the Gang of Eight tried to force feed Americans.

I contrast Chuck Schumer, the late John McCain, and Rubio’s Gang of Eight Bill with the Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa Plans. It shows that certain Senators have a different agenda than we do. When their time comes to be reelected, I hope their states cast them out. That would mean that the free voters in their states know the bums and they vote against them.

In our cursory analysis so far, you may not have been sure that the Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa were a good deal for you. So, this comparison / summation is designed to open your eyes. If you were ambivalent on the sincerity of the Gang of Eight plan before, these facts should convince you that there was a sellout of Americans in play in 2013, spearheaded by the US Senate. A stodgy group of tired old farts, who no longer care about America, have turned against the people. John McCain had a leadership position among these traitors. There were times when McCain was not the great American he was purported to be.

Thankfully, Americans stopped them this time, and we stopped the Democrats and Hillary Clinton in November 2016. They were prepared to give us more unlawful, unchecked migrations and unvetted refugees—but we the people picked Donald Trump instead. We picked him a second time but dishonest fraudsters stole that from us. Never again!

Fortunately, forever, President Obama, the one-time Energizer Bunny, who refused to die many times from the first-time Sarah Palin finished him off in the VP debate, will no longer be around to reject the will of the people by breaking the Constitution. Obama's goal had been to provide the interlopers the freebies they wanted without asking for congressional approval. When he was president, he did little for America and Americans.

This lawless behavior brought about the beginning of the ruination of our country. Since the 2016 elections, many loyal Americans are counted new blessings. I think many of us if invited would have attended the past President's (Obama's) farewell party. After all, we were hoping we could have made it happen four years sooner.

So that we know where we would be if Mrs. Clinton, and the Gang of Eight, including wimpy Republicans like John McCain, Jeff Flake, Lyndsey Graham, and Marco Rubio, had their way, we now compare the Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa (Resident Visa) Program with the Guano Plan of the G-of-8. It is absolutely a necessary step. We cannot forget who sold us out.

The Gang of Eight didn't play it straight

Americans throughout 2013 heard the constant drumbeat about the Gang of Eight's Amnesty program. Before we wrap up this book with more reasons for the Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa, let's compare bullet by bullet, the Gang of Eight plan (G of 8) with the Resident Visa plan. The bullets are self-explanatory. This may be a real eye-opener for some—especially those who think Rubio and company are on our side.

2013 Gang of Eight v Resident Visa

	G of 8	Resident Visa
Border secure	No	Yes
Jobs	Favors Interloper	Favors Americans
Amnesty	Yes	No
Path to citizenship	Yes	No (almost same as today)
Permanent residents	Yes	Never, renewable visa
Voting	Yes	No, Never
Welfare benefits	Yes	No, Never
Freebies	Yes	No, Never
Anchor babies	Yes	No, stipends to depart
Employer fees/fines	No	Yes -if one employee
Reunification	33M in 10yrs	Not for Resident Visa Holders
Coerced-deportation	None	As needed for violations
Self-return to home	No	Pay nice stipend
Must have healthcare	No	Yes
Must be employed	No	Yes
Must speak English in 2 yrs?	No	Yes
Oath of allegiance	No	Yes, after 1 year
Cost/debt accountability	No	Yes
Taxpayer Costs	$ 6Trillion	Zero
Payback plan	No	Yes
Accountability Database	No	Yes
Interloper fine	Yes	Yes
Employer fine	No	Yes (help finance program)
Back taxes	No	Yes (interview)

Chapter 15 Review of the Resident Visa Program

How does the Resident Visa Plan actually work?

The one undeniable aspect of the Resident Visa Plan is that it would relieve the US taxpayer of a huge, unsustainable annual cost burden. The raw cost of services at all government levels to support illegal aliens is approaching $500 Billion per year. But, the American taxpayer pays more than just their share of the cost. It affects their income also.

The National Academy of Sciences found that, on average, immigration causes the wages of competing American workers to go down by 5.2 percent. Immigration redistributes approximately $500 Billion in wages from American workers to employers of low-wage immigrants. It helps businesses but not regular Americans who simply can no longer afford liberal plans to pay the full freight for illegal interlopers. Add all the wage and job losses together and you get the $500 Billion.

When the Resident Visa plan is implemented, all of these costs are gone after just one year. Those who return to the home country cost nothing (Pay to Go) and those who agree to forego benefits in order to gain the Resident Visa and come out of the shadows will cost nothing. The impact on regular Americans will be about $1 Trillion counting the cost savings and the new job and higher wage opportunities.

When any President gets their copy of this book, containing the Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa Plans, the implementation will not be far off. So, if you ever have the opportunity, please slip President Biden a copy of this book. I will mail him one but too many people get to filter his mail for me to be sure he will ever see a copy.

When I researched typical passport costs, they are about $120.00 and when I researched typical Visa costs, the cost is about $160.00, Since most visas are not annually renewable as is the Resident Visa, I would expect the cost of an annual renewal of a Resident Visa would be between $100.00 and $200.00 depending on what it costs the government to implement. Since this is not a full proposal for a Congressional Bill, there are no guarantees on what other levies Congress would place within their legislation.

The Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa Plans are both process driven. Nothing is by chance. The Resident Visa process begins as you would expect. All 60 million illegal interlopers would be given six months to get a passport. By getting their special passport, they would have in essence signed up (registered) as an illegal alien with the United States Government. At this point, they are legal, and there are no more shadows. Their next step is that they must apply for the Resident Visa.

Once the six month period for gaining passports is over, all interlopers by US decree will have a changed status and the status quo will have changed. Either the former illegal aliens will have gained legal passports or the illegal aliens would continue to be illegal aliens because they chose to take no action regarding their passport. If they do not take our generous offer, they would become the #1 targets of coerced deportation from the United States or of course, they could sign up for Pay-to-Go.

The first step in the Resident Visa process for an illegal alien is not very complicated. An illegal alien must first get a special resident passport within six months at various government sites, typically post offices, across the country. This process collects necessary information from the applicant and typically would result in the granting of the passport, which is delivered in the mail. Nothing in the passport process, however, happens overnight.

Once a former illegal alien gains their special passport, they are enabled to apply for a Return Home Stipend or a Resident Visa.

The Pay-to-Go Program is fairly straight forward as the candidate simply brings forth their passport and signs up for the particular stipend for which they are entitled and their departure is scheduled. They get a free ticket to their home country, some pocket change, and a voucher for a big fat stipend. The stipend will be delivered to them by a bank in their home country.

The Resident Visa Program will require two types of personal interviews. One will assure demographic data is complete and the other will assess the fees, fines, and any debt payback for years of collecting welfare using fake-id's. When approved, the Resident Visa will be granted, the computer records will be created, and the visa holder will receive their ID card.

I see three potential types of beneficiaries who may participate in both the Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa Programs. In Pay-to-Go, of course, the individual at US taxpayer expense will be provided with the customary travel fares and dinners / lunches that are appropriate and scheduled by the US Customs Office. In other words, the departee will pay nothing out of pocket to arrive in his / her home country. Additionally, a stipend voucher will be given.

Th program is designed for the 60 million illegal interlopers residing in the country. However, the Pay-to-Go Program can save the US another ton of funds if it is also used to attract green card holders on welfare, and anchor babies on welfare.

The green card holders and anchor citizens can choose to stay in their current status or sign up for a Resident Visa or Pay-to-Go. So, they can stay in America or return to their home countries with stipends. There would no longer be a cost of their welfare for the US.

The three categories are as follows:

1. Current interlopers
2. Legal green card holders on welfare
3. Anchor babies at any age, including children supervised by a legal or illegal parent.

The recommended stipend for each of the three categories is as follows:

- | | |
|--|----------|
| 1. Current Interlopers | $20,000 |
| 2. Legal Green Card Holders on Welfare | $30,000 |
| 3. Anchor Babies or Adults | $50,000 |

Anybody opting for a stipend for Pay-to-Go in any of the above categories would be prohibited without special petition from ever returning to the United States for any reason. Any debt accrued that is accounted for in the Accountability system (next chapter) would be collected prior to any request for readmission to be examined.

Other uses for this program to make a point

No new system should be designed with just one objective when there are so many clearly similar objectives known at the time of design. For example, I see six distinct sets of people data including a catch-all that should be part of the same system design. They are as follows:

1. 60 million illegal interlopers who are in country today
2. Illegal visa over stayers
3. Legal visa holders
4. Green card holders and other legal residents
5. Anchor babies even if over 21 yrs. of age
6. Other foreigners in the US

I place other at the bottom of the list as a catch-all. I am sure that there are some off the wall cases of foreigners such as diplomats etc. that do not demand a separate system.

The 60 million interlopers

Before I continue, may I remind you again that my concern in this book is not border security; it is not E-verify; it is not the visa system; and it is not green card holders or anchor citizens. My objective is to come up with a system design that is durable and I have done that. It solves the problem of the 60 million illegal interlopers in this country today. It happens that the design can be used to help the US better handle green card holders and birthright citizens if they ever become a priority.

We are a smart enough country that we should have solved this years ago but we obviously have not had officials with a will to do so. This is another reason I thank the Lord for a man so able and willing to pitch in as President Trump was and probably will be again in the future. Hopefully President Biden will also see the good in these programs.

With a Pay-to-Go Program and a Resident Visa system operational, there may be other opportunities for synergy by creating a base computer system that will solve the problem for all types of permanent resident or temporary resident foreigners or illegal-entry foreigners residing in this country at this time and perhaps times in the future. Let's review the financial impact of the programs.

Suppose there were 5 million interlopers receiving the Pay-to-Go stipend, what would be the numbers? It would cost $100 billion to implement in the first year. That would be 5 million times the $20,000 stipend amount— $5M \times 20K = $100 \text{ Billion}$ as the one-year cost of the stipends.

Since supporting illegal aliens cost $30,000 per person per year, we multiply this by the 5 million interlopers to get the total cost $5M \times 30K = $150 \text{ Billion}$. This would have been the cost but since the 5 million will have left the country, this is the savings after year one.

The gross savings is thus $150 Billion. When we subtract the stipend cost for 5 million interlopers returning to the home country. We have a net cost savings of $50 Billion in year one to accommodate the “Pay to Go” for 5 million former interlopers. .

In subsequent years, since there would be no cost for the already paid stipends, each year would bring another $150 billion per year in savings for the same 5 million former interlopers . Since sixty million is twelve times 5 million and since the estimate is 60 million interlopers. Can you imagine the cost savings if all interlopers took the Pay-to-Go? To get this amount, we multiply $12 \times $150\text{Billion} = \1.8 Trillion savings per year for all 60 million interlopers.

The stipend would cost the US about $100 billion to implement but it would all come back by not having to pay annual benefits. It would all be reclaimed in the second year of the program and every year thereafter.

The short view of the program is that after gaining the passport Pay-to-Go, the new registrant signs on the dotted line and agrees to abide by the terms of the program, including no lawsuits. The first half of the payment occurs when the interloper reaches the home country and within 6 months of the first payment, he or she collects the second payment to complete the stipend amount.

Accept the Pay-to-Go or Apply for the Resident Visa

The Pay-to-Go plan is very generous in its desire for unhappy illegal interlopers to go back to their home countries and reestablish their lives. As such, after registration, the US will provide a special credit card that can be used only by the interloper and only for authorized travel to their home country. The stipend will be available at the interlopers’ bank in the home country upon his/her return.

All interlopers with passports for the Resident Visa, who after vetting are approved and not deemed to be bad guys can sign up and pay the fee for the Resident Visa. This enables them to stay in the US under the terms of the visa. This visa may be renewed annually. As noted, after year 1, an oath of allegiance must be taken to get the first renewal, and after year two, the Resident Visa holder must pass a literacy test and an English test in order to be accepted for renewal for the third year.

Other special conditions may be included by US officials in the event time expires at any stage of the process, and the registrant has neglected the call and has simply chosen not to move forward to complete the process. Those who do not pass either the English test or the literacy test may opt for extensions in order to pass the tests. If they choose not to take the extensions, they would automatically be enrolled in the Pay-to-Go Program. If they fail to arrive in their home country under the program, they will receive no stipend and will be deported in the customary fashion.

Is the Pay-to-Go Program acceptance automatic?

Yes, it is automatic. There is no reason to deny such interlopers their opportunity to go home at this time. So, if they apply, they will be accepted.

Is the Resident Visa program acceptance automatic?

No, it is not automatic. Besides the casual passport interview and data collection, two additional interviews are required. They both may occur at the time of the visit to the official station. The first is a general vetting about worthiness to be part of the program. The second is to determine finances and debts that may be deemed payable to the US under the accountability system.

Even the gang of 8 program had a $2,000 fine imposed for the illegal entry. Whatever fees or fines are determined by officials will be assessed for those qualifying for the Resident Visa during the finance interview. The payments can be made over time using the accountability system so as to not be extremely burdensome. The accountability system is explained in the next chapter.

Two Resident Visa interviews (aka double vetting)

Interlopers, who choose to gain a Resident Visa would go through a process that includes obtaining a special passport and they would undergo several vetting interviews to prove their worthiness in America and to American citizens.

During the interviews, the applicants agree to a number of stipulations that permit them to get out of the shadows permanently and begin to enjoy all benefits of holding a Resident Visa as a temporary visitor of the United States of America. The shadows will be eliminated and Sanctuary Cities will be gone once the Resident Visa is in force.

The interviews will be extensive though much of the information may be collected online at the applicant's choosing and during the passport processing. The precepts of the "deal" are clear. Among all other detailed stipulations, the applicant also agrees to pay an annual renewal fee in addition to whatever fines, fees, & taxes are determined by US officials.

In order to be admitted, the applicant agrees to be "well-behaved." The idea of "well-behaved" is a notion that is to be defined each year by the immigration service of the US. The applicant also agrees to hold a job; to obtain his or her own healthcare insurance; and to never vote while being in Resident Visa status. They also agree that they understand that for new jobs, American citizens have priority always.

Additionally, the applicant promises to take no freebies ever from the US, States, or Municipal Governments. In other words, they agree never to take benefits from the US ever again—especially in healthcare, education, and cash payments.

They agree that they will not ever claim federal child credit to gain unwarranted tax refunds as has been frequently done in the past. Only US citizens can receive benefits from any of the US systems, including the IRS. Most importantly they promise to stay clean and be good residents of America.

In case you may think that tax credit fraud is uncommon and would be chump change if we stopped it, think again. In 2011, your friendly IRS sent more than $46 million in tax refunds to 23,994 “unauthorized” alien workers who all listed the same address in Atlanta, Ga. Can you imagine how widespread this type of fraud actually is. This was uncovered in an audit report by the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA).

Those applying for a Pay-to-Go stipend or a Resident Visa, are not obligated to agree to any of the stipulations which are put forth. However, if they decide not to abide by all the stipulations, by way of their applications, by default, they have agreed to self deport with no stipend.

In this full process, there will be fines and fees up front besides the passport and visa fees depending on what government officials feel need to be collected. If such amounts cannot be paid immediately, they may be “charged” to the accountability system. Besides fines, etc. taken on account if the applicant has no resources, the Resident Visa Holder must pay out of pocket an estimated $100.00 to $200.00 renewal fee for each year of approval.

Their financial database record called an Electronic Accountability Record (EAR) and smart card information will be updated with each on-site renewal and major change to demographics. If they abide by the rules and renew their status every year, they can live in the US forever, without fear of deportation. But, they must renew their application sometimes in person every year.

Otherwise, they have chosen to ignore our generous hand, and deportation either via the Pay-to-Go Program or via self-deportation is the only option available. It is a simple plan; a simple process; that is fair to all. It solves the problem of as many as 60 million interlopers for good. You have just read about the essence of the program. The Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa plans are such good ideas that they can help in other areas to assure the US gets all the benefits.

Children

Children, must also register for one of the two new programs. They too must get passports and be approved. Anybody 18 years of age or older is considered an adult.

The Pay-to-Go and the Resident Visa programs solve the problem for DACA children also. As a DACA concession, the Resident Visa will be no charge for the first five years. Those in the DACA program also qualify for the Pay-to-Go Program if they do not want to stay in the US.

Summary of benefits:

- No more shadows
- No more freebies
- No more illegal voting
- No more job priority for interlopers
- No more sanctuary cities
- No more path to citizenship without starting at home country
- No more cost to Taxpayer

Pay-to-Go Program and the Resident Visa Plan Summary

In summary, the major points in the PG/RV plan are as follows:

- Addresses all American concerns on America's side
- Resident Visa gives right to reside in America and hold jobs
- No freebies; no voting; no citizenship; jobs for citizens^{1st}
- All applicants first must obtain special passport
- Then either Pay-to-Go or Resident Visa
- Can take a stipend and return to home country
- Pay-to Go paid in home country
- All applicants for Pay-to-Go accepted.
- Can choose to obtain a Resident Visa
- Requires 2 vetting interviews; pay fees, fines.

- Interview 1 – demographics; Interview 2 – financial
- All interloper debt kept in Electronic Accountability Record
- Debt collected slowly over time
- Must get special passport in one year
- Must pay any assessed fines, costs, back taxes

Program participants are on temporary visas and are not eligible as benefit recipients

Temporary visas in the US by law provide no benefits for visitors. Foreign visitors to the U.S. must have travel insurance with coverage for emergency medical emergencies and evacuations prior to their trip. This would not change with the new programs. This will affect those interlopers who are using fake-id to receive medical care today. This loophole will be eliminated.

To qualify for the programs, before an applicant signs on the dotted line for their special Pay to Go or Resident Visa passport, they must agree to a number of provisos. By signing, they accept each and every proviso and future added provisos. They cannot pick and choose. They are not citizens and do not have the rights of citizens. Use of fake id will again be a crime in the US. The taxpayers of the US as citizens are the masters. These provisos include the following:

- Fake ID not permitted
- Speak English in 2 years
- English test each renewal
- Participants have no citizenship rights
- A child resident must get a Resident Visa
- Guests may have children in US but must agree their offspring are not anchor citizens. They are automatic Resident Visa Holders.
- Program is at pleasure of Congress & President
- Must renew status once a year.
- Must permit Photo ID & databases to be updated
- Must pay annual fee & something towards debt.
- This is not an amnesty program.
- Debt is accountable and payable via Accountability System (next chapter)
- Debt does not require immediate deportation
- No US family reunification provisions for green cards

- When green cards expired, LPR transfers to Resident Visa. Last chance for citizenship via green card
- US will assist with family reunification in home country
- Special program for former Anchor Babies and former Green Card holders
- Anchor Babies & Green Card Holders qualify for voluntary Pay-to-Go & Resident Visa Program can
- Visa holders cannot vote
- Visa holders May keep jobs at minimum wage or more
- For new jobs, American Citizens have preference
- Requires strict enforcement of all current laws
- Obama immigration amnesties repealed
- Other stipulations as defined by Congress and President Trump

Chapter 16 Financial Accountability System

All loans require pay back

When a good friend or relative asks for a couple bucks to help her get through a crisis, if you are like me, you give her what she needs to the extent you can afford it and you ask how else you can help. It is part of what good people do. There is no moral obligation to help anybody other than your own good will.

When we look at the moral obligation to help, a lot of people cite the possible analogy for illegal immigration using the unwanted house guest as the test case. The term for uninvited guest that we use in this book is interloper. The analogy goes like this.

Imagine a stranger shows up to your home and decides to come in and he does and he makes himself comfortable. Surely, you have the right to demand he leave, and he is obligated to follow your rules. Implicitly we know that it would be absurd for the unwanted houseguest to claim that he did not consent to the “whatever rules” you had for your property. and, therefore, he or she was under no obligation to obey your rules.

Quite similarly, illegal immigration is a violation of the decisions and rules of the residents of a nation regarding who can come and who can stay. That makes sense. The obligation does not stem from consent; rather, it stems from the pre-existing rights of the residents and citizens of the host nation. An immigrant is morally obligated to respect their rights to decide who can come and who can stay. At this point there are those of us who would say, "Case Closed!"

That seems reasonable. Some would say, however, that the above consideration does not give the residents of a host nation an absolute right to deny entry to anyone for any reason. I ask what overriding law then supersedes their implicit right to be left alone? I can't think of any. Can you.

A counter argument might be that if a person faces likely serious harm or death in their home country, then they have a right to emigrate to safety. Likewise, a person at your door begging for entry to escape a serial killer on the loose deserves to be let in. There are those that take this further and suggest that the interloper should have nothing held against him if he broke into your house against your will to escape the serial killer.

Those who think this way would conclude by suggesting that the considerations of the interloper, at least, establish the importance that nations respect the human rights of refugees to enter their countries for reasons of safety. Does that override a person's right to be Lord over their own home?

What if the host has major legitimate fears as to what the interloper might do if admitted? So, there are two sides to every story. Is there a moral or ethical or legal obligation to be forced to help another person under all circumstances. I say no. But, a good person would take these considerations seriously and might opt to help even though there is no moral obligation. Do these arguments hurt your head? They hurt mine. A world with no absolutes is a tough world to understand and to live within.

Of course the unwanted house guest analogy for illegal immigration may also have other problems, as there are notable dissimilarities between the two situations. A person's private home is quite different from large multi-ethnic democracies such as the United States, and people emigrate for all sorts of reasons that have no counterpart in the unwanted house guest hypothetical. So, when the door is closed or there is a fence is it to be ignored or can it be ignored. It is true that houseguests don't show up at your house to find decent paying stable jobs, nor do houseguests come to your house because some of their family members are already living there. Of course, economic and familial reasons are often part of the decision to emigrate to the United States.

If the United States had in its charter the establishment of no-man's lands where anybody could take up residence more or less like the homesteaders in the old West that would clear matters up a little. But, the US Constitution, the law of the land, respects the right of private property and private property has its own right.

James Kimmons writing on September 10, 2020, for thebalancesmb.com discusses what the bundle of legal rights may be of a real estate owner. There seems to be an implication that such rights come with the ownership of the property. Real estate owners have a traditional "bundle of legal rights" that transfers to them along with the property when they purchase it. This bundle include the rights to possess the property, to control it, to exclude others from it, and to dispose of it. If Kimmons were God, he might say all other considerations are null and void.

Even though somebody else may argue that coming up with fair policies surrounding immigration is extremely difficult. Simple solutions are not likely to work for all. If they don't work, what is the remedy. Kimmons would have us believe that the US owns the property, not the interloper. Find your own country!

Some argue that basing immigration policy off simple assumptions, such as the view that illegal immigration is always an immoral decision is just as bad as a property owner not sharing. There is no obligation to share. A nuanced understanding of the relationship between legal obligation and moral obligation will assuredly help us develop more responsive and fair-minded policies concerning who we let into the United States and how we approach those undocumented residents already here. To me, if we have no law such as ownership rights, then everything is arbitrary and an arbitrary anything leads to chaos regardless of how sound somebody's arguments may be.

So, let's say you as the interloper force yourself to the dinner table and eat a nice meal and maybe you do that for a few days and then you leave. Do you have any obligation when you are not in a bad way to restore the host to a whole condition by paying them back?

After all, you too may be in the same situation in the future. When you do this, do you simply withdraw from your account and add it to hers? Is that the last time you expect to ever see the amount of the help even if she wins the Lottery the next day? Do you have any claim to what you have given her? Do you and she know there is a debt due when her conditions are more positive?

Other than for close family matters, which are often unaccountable, most friends help friends as much as possible financially but the amounts given are expressed or implied loans, and both parties know a payback is expected if things get better. Everybody hopes for the best but a good friend knows that it may take a long time for a payback to occur. In the main, there are no huge gifts from one to another. Yes, eventually loans may be forgiven but by the choice of the lender not the borrower.

There is an old saying that is reflected in the song, Robinson Crusoe, sung by Al Jolson. When he described his pal, Friday, to show that he was a good man, in the song, Crusoe noted that "He did not borrow or lend." You remember in Shakespeare's Hamlet, 1602, Polonius said: "Neither a borrower nor a lender be..." Borrowing and lending are tricky deals among friends and often result in the friendship disappearing and the kind lender never being paid back. In the big financial institutions, you know as a borrower, you must pay every last penny plus interest.

How is it then, that the government is able to send huge amounts of dollars and in-kind contributions to citizens and even non-citizens for their welfare and support? From the taxpayers through the government, there are many who receive cash payments, rent subsidies, medical payments, etc. Are these gifts?

Would you believe that the government does not keep track of any of this? Why? Good question! The answer is because our government is inept. There is no database anywhere keeping track of anything. Yet, the government has given away untold $Trillions of unaccountable benefits. To whom. How much? When? Why? It is safe to say that nobody in the government knows and worse than that, nobody cares because we the people permit it by reelecting the people who pass such insane laws.

Does government actually give gifts?

Are there government gift-giving provisos in the Constitution? No, there are none. Rugged individualism (and the early Patriots were tough folks) demands individuals take care of their own needs. Are any benefits that anybody receives from government without payment to be thought of as “gifts” from the government? No, that would be unconstitutional as the government is not permitted to take anything from Harry to give to Jack or Josephine.

Who is the government that can’t do this yet does it anyway? Are the gifts really from congresspersons as the receiver may believe? Are the gifts from the President as the receiver may believe? Who is it that is giving all these gifts?

Hard as it may be for taxpayers to believe, the gifts received by those selected by government are directly from the taxpayers. Government has no money or assets of its own. Since it is your money and not the government’s money, the government has decided to not even bother remembering to whom they gave what. Nobody in the government, after the huge gifts are sent out every week, accounts as to the amount of the gifts, or who received the gifts. They never suggest that the “gifts” are to be paid back because just like real gifts, they do not have to be paid back. There are no payment for gift collectors in the US government.

Do any of us think this a good system for America?

And, so suppose just a day after a $2,500 government gift in the form of a check or a direct deposit goes to Joe Dokes, Mr. Dokes also receives notification from the Powerball Lottery that his ship came in for $361,000,000. Would you expect Joe Dokes to choose not to contact the Lottery Commission to gain the payment proceeds? Would anybody expect Dokes to say, “Thanks but no thanks.” I think nobody would expect anybody to not take the cash..

Do you think the government that just gave Dokes $2500 the day before would be looking for that money back? Nope! They do not even know Dokes got the $2500. They therefore do not care that Dokes is now rich. In fact, you can bet that nobody in government crosschecks Lottery winners against welfare recipients. Therefore, next month, Dokes more than likely will again be $2500 richer.

Even if a Big Four auditing firm in the course of checking the US Treasury accounts receivable had full access to all the records, they would not find any entry indicating that Joe Dokes owes the government one of many $2,500 repayments. Why? Because it was a gift! At least the government accounts it as a gift, expecting and receiving no repayment.

Now, if we chose to call these amounts helping loans instead of gifts, with no corresponding change in accounting (still no tracking), I would bet a small percentage, but at least a few people nonetheless, would try to pay back the amount to the government when extremely better times came about?

Why do we treat them as gifts? The recipient certainly did not earn a gift or a benefit as they have with Social Security, Medicare, or Unemployment, which are more or less contributory. I do not even want to know the answer. I am sure that it is tough enough being a great politician giving one taxpayer gift after another to one voter after another to ever suggest that the indebted voter might actually ever be compelled to repay the gift!

Who gets the gifts?

Who knows? There is no list? If the government does not know to whom they give the gifts or the values of the gifts, then collection or a requested repayment is impossible. We do know that there are over eighty different welfare schemes that give gifts to recipients on a regular basis. All of the “programs” have names and none of them, other than student loans, demand repayment.

The apparent givers of the gifts, the politicians, can never be blamed, since nobody will ever be asking and therefore, nobody will be asked for a loan repayment. The real giver of the gift, the taxpayers effectively have no say or we would be clamoring for accountability. We should be and it would OK if we began to clamor right now!

Welfare and medical services and 79 other US benefits are simply free for the taking, and they are killing US. You bet they are. Not one dime has ever been accounted for or collected on taxpayers' behalf. Yet, we as a country are $28.43 trillion in debt as of July 2021. Who designed this system? Politicians. It is how they get reelected.

Here are just a few of the 80 + programs:

- ✓ Medicaid
- ✓ EITC and Child Tax Credit
- ✓ SNAP
- ✓ SSI
- ✓ Housing Assistance
- ✓ Pell Grants
- ✓ TANF
- ✓ Child Nutrition
- ✓ Head Start
- ✓ Employment & Training
- ✓ WIC
- ✓ Child Care
- ✓ LIHEAP

Politicians actually believe money grows on trees.

There is no accountability because Congress wants it that way. Congress wants to be duly recognized by the receivers of the largesse as the grand giver. They want people to feel indebted to them, though it is not them, it is you and I, the American taxpayers who fork out the dole received by interlopers, former interlopers, and others with no accountability.

They get to buy votes with taxpayer dollars with no repayment required. No government "gift" should be an eternal gift. Government should not be permitted to give "gifts." Find gifts in any articles of the Constitution or the Bill of Rights, or even a mention of gifts from government in the Federalist Papers. You won't! It was not how our country was founded.

Illegal foreign nationals and many others, with no chance or desire of ever making a payback, get gifts from the taxpayers via Congress all the time. It keeps the Treasury department quite busy assuring all the gifts are given on-time. Who is being played for a fool here? When the receiver is an illegal foreign national, they more than likely have been instructed by other illegal foreign interlopers to take the money and run, and don't worry...be happy! They know that the US will have no idea who they are.

The Resident Visa Plan solves this problem for good. We track immigrant / interloper / guest debts. That is why this plan will be hard to get introduced or passed in Congress without Americans getting involved. Of course, the plan would work even if the accountability were taken away so let's not forget that. But, it helps to remember that Congress loves giving away your money!

Cost Accountability

Accountability for Resident Visa Holder debt is a major feature of the Resident Visa Plan. However, it would help all of America if it became a part of all US welfare plans eventually. I am not talking about earned things like Social Security, Medicare, and Unemployment Compensation. Anything that helps anybody think that not working is the preferred action to assure benefits is on my target list. It should be on your target list also.

And, so with regard to the Resident Visa Plan, any aspirant who becomes a visa holder can stay in the US until asked to leave for some violation of the requirement to be well-behaved. They are on their own financially just like you and me. By law (if passed appropriately) as visitors on a resident visa, they are prohibited from taking from the US welfare system.

When Resident Visa Holders who really try to keep up with their payments to taxpayers—run into issues in repayment, I would recommend that they should not be treated too harshly at first. As soon as they are back on top, they should be required to get back on the payment track as soon as possible.

Their financial transactions leading to debt to the US Treasury, under the plan, would all be captured in what I would call an Electronic Accountability Record (EAR) in the US Accountability database. This database would be proof enough that the days of the free lunch are over. There would be no amnesty. There would be no welfare state just for having been an illegal foreign national with a Resident Visa. If this legislation is enacted, those days are gone. Everything is accounted.

Eventually, former interlopers would have to pay this back or figure out the best way to leave the country.

Keeping an accounting of illegal interloper debt is as great a start for this program and for the United States as is registering and granting passports to the 60 million interlopers for the first time for the normal $120.00 in fees. Once debt is accounted, it can then be collected, even if it is piecemeal.

Attempts to collect need to be made that are not too harassing to citizens or newly minted Resident Visa holders to assure payment or partial payments on a regular payment plan. Over a proper amount of time, Resident Visa Holders must pay back all accrued debt on their record and any future debt they may be permitted to accrue. Heirs and assigns should be required to pay some portion of an inherited estate to reduce the debt balance of a deceased.

Access to database records

Each record in the Resident Visa database as well as the accountability database would be accessible via multiple access keys. These would include by ID #, somewhat like a Social Security #; by name; by address; by fingerprints, by retina scan, etc. Of course, the ID should not be a social security number. The Resident Visa and all other access keys would be encoded magnetically in the ID card in the same fashion as card numbers are recorded in charge cards.

A bar code, an RFID chip, fingerprint, retina, and facial scans would also be recorded from the vetting interviews and they would all be verifiable. They would come into play from the point of the registration (passport) process and the guest photo ID card. Any of these ID features would be able to be used to access data in the Resident Visa or ACCT databases for those with authority to do so.

The data could be fetched therefore via biometrics or a verified ID, name, address, etc. Since a resident visa holder could be identified by a finger print, they could never snooker the US system into thinking they are a dead guy or somebody else whose ID they may have stolen. Driver's licenses in all states should also be encoded with the ID so that its presentation as required in certain authorization schemes would be the same as citizens.

Americans do not want to be messed with!

Reality says that in a US in which most people do not want to deport the poor souls living in the shadows, how do we get the "shadow people" to begin paying US back for what they have taken over the years? First of all, the Resident Visa is optional. It gives a former illegal interloper the legal right to stay in the US. If during the special passport application, an illegal interloper does not agree to pay their fine or any debt as determined by the US Agent doing the vetting, they may self deport, be deported by coercion, or they may sign up for the Pay-to-Go program.

Americans are not happy about the authorized theft of taxpayer dollars in the form of gifts that have been granted over the years by the prior POTUSes and the Congress.

What if we came up with a standard way of paying back US taxpayers for those interlopers who eventually become Resident Visa Holders? What would it look like? What would the standard required payback actually look like? Let's take a shot at building the scenario in simple terms:

The standard payback:

- Must pay 5 to 10% of debt or 10% of income each year
- Requirement to renew as a Resident Visa Holder.

- Can gain special repayment waivers for hardships during annual interviews.
- Additional processing cost- waivers added to record
- To repeat: No free lunch!

Let's review some of the jobs notions for the Resident Visa.

Resident Visa favors Americans for jobs!

The list on the following page summarizes the impact of The Resident Visa Plan on Jobs:

- Pre-Resident Visa --Favors Interloper; cheap wages
- Post Resident Visa -- Favors Americans, not mean spirited
- Resident Visa = Jobs much more available for Americans
- Resident Visa = Visa holders may keep current jobs
- Resident Visa = Citizens prioritized v Visa holders for new jobs

Do Americans feel taken?

Americans are not dummies. We just have been lulled over a number of years of good government that such good government would continue. It has not continued. In fact, today's style of government is unacceptable for honest Americans. Who in the US can be pleased with this system of government given to us today by corrupt, arrogant, and greedy politicians?

In the notion of no freebies, as a requirement of the Resident Visa, a corollary, is that every Resident Visa Holder pays for everything. Let's honestly ask ourselves: "If not them, then whom?"

Place yourself in the role of a visa holder, recently freed from the shadow of deportation. If you are a Resident Visa Holder, having once broken into the USA, and now, having broken away from your days as an interloper, should you not be pleased?

If you are not pleased, should you expect that somebody who you have never met will step up and say they will pay all your expenses because you would like to live in America, expense free? Sorry, unless you find such a person, it would be best to appreciate your new freedom. Your expenses are on you, however—nobody else.

Government will not pay for you once you get your Resident Visa. It may be tough to reconcile but the new plan says that any financial burden incurred by you will not be paid by US taxpayers—even if we once paid for those with fake ID's in the past, when many more people were in the shadows.

Sunshine with no shadows

Celebrate the Sun. The Resident Visa Plan is a sunshine plan. Enjoy your tan. There are no shadows. Everything is in the open. Just do not ask American taxpayers to pay anything for your sustenance.

Charitable organizations such as the Salvation Army, Catholic Social Services, Jewish Charities of America, National Association of Free and Charitable Clinics. Shriners and St. Jude's Hospital to name a few, as well as many others are ready to help Americans or Resident Visa Holders who need help with all types of issues. Government will not make payments to Resident Visa Holders under the Resident Visa. Period!

Here is a list of a few important notions that will help make this plan work for interloper and American taxpayer alike

- Visa Holders live and work freely in the US
- Visa Holders must be employed
- Visa Holders must have healthcare
- Citizens will no longer pay for EMTALA
 - Emergency Medical Treatment & Active Labor Act
- Resident Visa may use EMTALA as all US citizens but must pay for it, when billed, just as a citizen.
- EMTALA and all such emergency debt may be added to the visa holder's accountability record

- Obamacare or its replacement w/o subsidies must be made available for resident visa holders to purchase... no freebies and no subsidies.
- Jobs for Americans first; Visa holders may keep current jobs; No voting ever with a visa, No welfare.

The accountability database will contain an Electronic Accountability Record (EAR), similar to an Electronic Health Record (EHR), or an Electronic Medical Record (EMR). This is a unique idea for a government that likes to give one person's dollars to another without ever keeping track of how much was given to whom. Today, regardless of the service, there is never a request for a payback of taxpayer dollars. This changes with the Resident Visa Program. Accountability will be foremost and built into the program.

Payback

Politicians like to gain favor by spending Mary's dollars to give five different Joe's a break. They buy votes with all of our dollars. They rarely have sympathy for those they help. They hold them accountable for no payback—just a lifelong silent commitment to keep the villain politicians in office for having provided the favors. Even Mary and Joe who benefit, think the system is corrupt.

This corrupt system kills us domestically as it is the norm in our welfare system and it is killing us on the immigration front. It not only costs taxpayers as much as $500 billion per year, it serves as a huge magnet for the world to ignore our borders, and simply "come on down!"

Once the incentive for freebies is gone, only the productive members of any other society will try to come to America. The quality of our new citizens and our guests will increase. If they do not like America, their applications for residence or Resident Visa status will be rejected because we do not like people who do not like our country.

Valid in Health Information Technology Systems Also!

Today in the Health Information Technology realm, computerized database systems already can accommodate Electronic Medical Records (EMRs) and Electronic Health Records (EHRs). Even in the domestic health industry with so many payments coming from government in the form of welfare for health purposes and EMTALA,

I would propose a new record type called the Electronic Accountability Record (EAR). But that is not the focus of this book. I have mentioned it multiple times as the Resident Visa cannot exist well for very long without an EAR system.

Let's define the three databases which we have been lightly discussing since we began this book adventure. Two are currently used in all Health Management Software in doctors' offices and in hospitals, clinics and pharmacies. The third is being proposed in this book to accommodate those Resident Visa Holders who simply cannot pay off a huge debt in a short period of time.

- EMR Electronic Medical Record – Doctors or health services provider's local database patient record
- EHR Electronic Health Record – Doctors or providers sharable database patient record kept in a national database [in the sky!]
- EAR Electronic Accountability Record—Doctors or providers' sharable database and / or an immigration database of financial data used to capture and store all paid and unpaid charges & payments [in the sky!]

There would be an EAR record today if the Resident Visa were implemented. Its data would be housed within the Accountability database which would be in synch with the Resident Visa Holder Program.

The US medical system has no such financial database because everything is free if it is sponsored by government. That means it is paid by taxpayers who have no say.

Should there be accountability to the taxpayers?

Before we modify the US Visa Systems to accommodate a financial accountability system for Resident Visa Holders, rather than deport everybody who owes the US a dime, and never collect anything, we need a software system that some might refer to as a software package. I would vote that it would run un the best computer system ever—The AS/400, aka, The All-Everything Machine,

The All-Everything Machine
The Story of IBM's Finest Computer System
Second Edition 2016

BRIAN W. KELLY

This is a story IBM is unable to tell!

Look inside ↴

Paperback from Other Sellers

$13.95

Buy new: $13.95

In Stock. ✓prime

FREE delivery: Sunday, Sep 12

Ships from and sold by Amazon.com. Details

There is no better kept secret in the computer industry than the All-Everything Machine. Most people simply have not heard about it. Another secret is that from "time immemorial," IBM has made the finest, most architecturally elegant, most usable, most productive, and most affordable computer system. That system is in its fifth incarnation as of mid 2016, and its 30-year old advanced underpinnings provide the greatest business value in the industry. That's an awful long time for any company to keep such a secret but don't expect IBM to

🔒 <https://www.amazon.com//dp/0996245472> Buy Now

More Buying Choices New & Used (5) from $13.95

4 New from $13.95 | 1 Used from $14.73

See All Buying Options

We must have a way to assure that we can capture the amounts due to the US Treasury or other government treasuries such as those in states, counties, and municipalities. Why should the services provided to any illegal foreign national not be on his or her record so that one day, the fees for those services can be re-paid?

The best example to show the value of a financial accountability notion being built into all government systems is the case of a lottery winner. Let's say she has been on government care and cash all her life. With no accountability system as the one we are proposing, even Uncle Sam would have no idea how much was spent on her care and feeding before she won the lottery.

How many dollars or in-kind welfare are received?

And so, when their ship comes in, even lottery winners know there is no need to pay back anything to the fine taxpayers who helped get them through the tough times in their lives. They know that the taxpayers did not keep track of anything, and there is never a need to pay anything back... Nothing.... Ever...per year or per ever?

You may have read about cases in which the converse is true however. What about a massive lottery winner, who continues to collect their government benefits and they never look back and they never pay anything back. Worse than that, they never think of telling the government to shut off their benefits because they are now OK!

Intrinsically, we all know this is wrong. However, I would never suggest that when a positive life changing event occurs that government step in and ruin the parade completely. Does the lottery win make the new millionaire an elite? Possibly, but so what? I see no problem in raining on say half of the parade for big lottery winners, who owe society for their personal care over many years. But not all!

Why should a future lottery winner at a minimum not have to pay back what he or she has received in benefits over the years? They will not be inclined to ever pay them back unless we, the givers keep track of our "gifts." Lottery winners are not the only ones who should pay back.

Is everything free?

All receivers should pay back something for what they received when they needed help the most. Why should they not want to?

Government until today has implicitly told them it was a gift from their neighborhood politician. Hopefully, the President Trump Administration will correct this misimpression of justice.

By the way, to repeat, in this instance, I would limit the government's take to 50% of lottery winnings to pay back lifestyles paid by taxpayers even if the winner owed more. There is a reason for this.

Who would ever play the lottery, theoretically beneficial to poor Americans, if all the proceeds went to our wasteful government officials?

Additionally, people recovering from disabilities that put them on the dole. As they recover, and as their fortunes change, it would not be bad for them to be asked to pay back something—let's say on a yearly basis to ease the strain on taxpayers. I think if we only asked them by name, they would help the rest of the unfortunate. Of course, it is vital to have all names and records.

So, the bottom line is that an Accountability database whatever you choose to label it, should be built to track unpaid taxes, expenses—all debts owed in the Resident Visa Holder process. It does not matter if it was OK or not OK debt; earned or unearned; paid or unpaid. The day has come for debts to the people to be repaid.

The Resident Visa renewal on-site appearance can be used to assure that all former interloper debt is paid. The fee each year must be paid and not put on account. There are no excuses. Either the visa holder makes full payment or an approved partial payment of their Accountability balance, or they would be put on a USCIS approved payment plan. Or, of course, there is always voluntary deportation.

If former interlopers refuse to pay what the agents think is a proper amount or if they refuse to pay anything at all towards their fines, and back taxes, they are candidates for a deportation that must happen. It must be a risky proposition for the former interloper in order to assure their compliance and payment. – Of course, payments can be made as small as necessary to assure that something is paid every year.

Additional charges may be assessed by the interviewers based on the behavior of the interviewee.

For example, if the aspirant gives a hard-working USCIS agent or a stand-in from the Post Office a hard time when calculating debt, taxes, etc., Why should that not cost the aspirant an extra fine?

The cost for any extra interview time should be paid by the aspirant at an appropriate cost rate. The computer program may advise the interviewer that an additional fee needs to be collected right then and there.

In every instance in which an aspirant or a Resident Visa holder indiscriminately and inappropriately takes more interviewer time than deemed appropriate, their Accountability record should absorb an extra charge or they should pay the charge immediately at the discretion of the agent.

These records would be kept to assuring payback over time. And, so, in the long run, there are no costs to the US taxpayer.

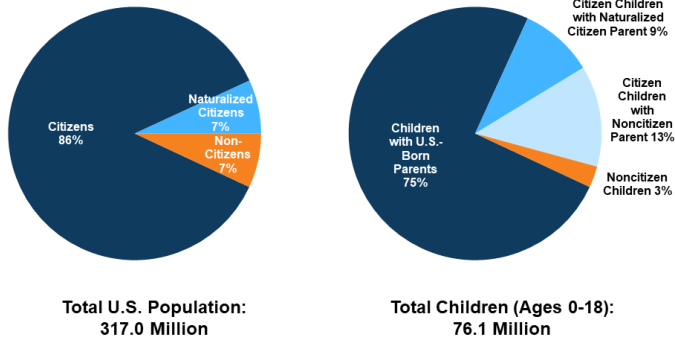

The database records of registrants should “never” be deleted. I would think that a record deletion should need proof of death for at least 50 years in the grave. The US objective is to collect for all debts from the debtor or the beneficiary of the debts.

Taxpayers want a nice fair deal for interlopers that does not involve the taxpayer having to pay a dime. That is the purpose of this book. If Resident Visa status individuals want to take advantage of American taxpayers in ways not shown in this book, this scribe suggests the Resident Visa holder pays the toll and then some.

Chapter 17 Summary and Conclusions

Immigrants and Children of Immigrants as a Share of the Total U.S. Population, 2017

Source: Kaiser Family Foundation analysis of 2017 American Community Survey (ACS), 1-Year Estimates.

The Resident Visa Plan and Millions of Illegal Foreign Nationals

This is the solution for all of the 60 million illegal residents in America today. The Resident Visa Plan takes interlopers out of the shadows and makes Americans the citizen kings and citizen queens of our own country once again. It defines terms under which Americans gain by accepting illegal interlopers into a special visa program. For this, they pay for a passport and a visa, and each year, they pay an annual visa renewal fee.

Having a Resident Visa would take a former illegal alien out of the shadows and legalize them so they can lead a normal life in normal neighborhoods in the United States. For well-behaved, approved Resident Visa Holders, this provides a mechanism where they can stay in America for life as temporary residents one year at a time. The implementation of this plan makes the US a sovereign country again, never again to be attacked by border jumpers and visa overstayers.

This is not amnesty; but it is legalization. The Resident Visa Holders will pay a fine and pay back some of the debt they owe from taking benefits for years from the US welfare system. It is the best approach to deal with 60 million illegal foreign nationals living in the US. Today, they live clandestine lives in shadows and sanctuary cities in our country.

Temporary Visa Holders can keep their current jobs but they never get to vote in any election; are not eligible for benefits; never become citizens; and they never get hired for a job before an American citizen.

In essence this plan eliminates the shadows as well as the need for sanctuary cities. It eliminates all freebies as well as illegal voting. It provides job priority for Americans instead of interlopers. It grants no path to citizenship but it permits resident visa holders to go back to their home country to sign up for citizenship according to their country's rules. At the same time, it brings the cost of supporting illegal foreign nationals to zero. In fact, after this program is implemented there will be no more illegal foreign nationals.

Deportations will be minimized but will occur as an enforcement mechanism and for interlopers who come after this program is commenced. Those illegal interlopers who choose not to gain a Resident Visa or who are not approved after vetting, will be offered a Pay-to-Go option which will provide travel expenses and a large stipend to leave the country and return home.

A look at the numbers shows that the cost to Americans is approaching $1 Trillion in terms of welfare, Job-loss, and wage depression. This plan solves all of that. It makes big financial sense for America; helps America keep its unique identity, and it puts Americans on top again where we belong.

Other Books by Brian W. Kelly: (amazon.com, and Kindle)

America-First Immigration Innovative solutions which save $Trillions. Learn how!

Should We Cancel Student Debt ? What should the Biden Administration do about it?

What about Seniors??? Seniors have been "screwed" on SS Solution is a big Govt check

Hydroxychloroquine; Much Maligned Super Drug

Hydroxychloroquine; Worthless! Worthless! Worthless!

Lou Barletta Governor of California. Perfect candidate for Pennsylvania

Larry Elder Governor of California. Perfect candidate for California

WineDiets.Com Renews: The Wine Diet Includes three wine diets & an alcohol-free diet

Katie Kelly & Her Miracle Voice Singer, Songwriter, Musician and Producer

Beating Big Tech Monopolies! Just like when the Trustbusters beat the robber-barons in 1900s

The Great Story of Florida Gators Football Beginning of football to the Coach Dan Mullen's era

The Great Story of LSU Football The beginning of football to the Ed Orgeron era

The Great Story of Clemson Football Starts at the first football game to the Dabo Swinney era

The Great Story of Alabama Football From the first college football game to Alabama's last TD u

The Great Story of Notre Dame Football The beginning of football to coach Brian Kelly's last game

The Great Story of Penn State Football From the beginning of football to the last James Franklin game

Great Moments in College Football From the beginning of football to the 2020 post season.

Great Players in Tampa Bay Buccaneers Football From the beginning of football through the Bruce Ariens era

Super Bowl & NFL Championship Seasons: The Tampa Bay Buccaneers First championship to Super B

Great Coaches in Tampa Bay Buccaneers Football Begins continues through the Bruce Ariens era.

Great Moments in Tampa Bay Buccaneers Football Begins beginning of Football to Bruce Ariens era.

Donald Trump Governor of California After the Newsom recall, Trump is the perfect candidate

Ron DeSantis: The Best United States Governor To Governors what Trump is to Presidents—The Best!

Mike v Trump: Mike Grant takes on Donald Trump; Brian Kelly takes on Mike Grant;

SCOTUS Eliminated No country needs a Supreme Court that refuses to hear critical cases!

The Corruption in the WB Area School District A Story about toxic corruption and other stinky things

Stolen Election ??? Democrats say: "fair and just;" Republicans surrender to Democrats

The Ten Commandments of Calipered Kinematically Aligned Total Knee Arthroplasty Color

The Ten Commandments of Calipered Kinematically Aligned Total Knee Arthroplasty B/W

About Alexa! Tell me how!

Chronicle of Inept Governance & Corrective Actions board from hell big question: better way?

Hey Alexa Create me my own personal musical paradise Unpublished with new book

FTC Case: LetsGoPublish.com v Amazon Fourth Edition big bully censored nine books

FTC Case: LetsGoPublish.com v Amazon Third Edition big bully censored nine books

FTC Case: LetsGoPublish.com v Amazon Second Edition big bully censored nine books

The President Donald J. Trump Book Catalog Color Version by Brian Kelly & Lets Go Publish!

The President Donald J. Trump Book Catalog B/W Version by Brian Kelly & Lets Go Publish!

FTC Case: LetsGoPublish.com v Amazon Original case bully censored nine books

What America Wins if Biden Wins Everything!!!!!! The answer is really nothing.

What America Loses if Trump Loses None of the 1000s of Trump wins for starters

What America Wins When Trump Wins Trump already gave the country more benefits and blessings

We Love Trump! Don't you? The President given to the people by God as the answer to our prayers

Amazon: The Biggest Bully in Town bully blocked eight books in 2020 by most published author

Trump Assured 2020 Victory President needs these two prongs for his platform for landslide

2020 Republican Convention—Speeches Blocked by Amazon Includes memento free Link

2020 RNC Convention Full Speech Transcripts Blocked by Amazon Memento of the 87 best

COVID-19 Mask, Yes? Or No? It's Everybody's Recommended Solution!!!

LSU Tigers Championship Seasons Starts at beginning of LSU Football to the National Championship

Great Coaches in LSU Football Book starts with the first LSU coach; goes to Orgeron Championship

Great Players in LSU Football Begins with 1893 QB Ruffin G Pleasant to 2019 QB Burrow

America for Millennials! A growing # of disintegrationists want to tear US down

Great Moments in LSU Football Book starts at start of Football to the Ed Orgeron Championship.

The Constitution's Role in a Return to Normalcy Can the Constitution Survive?

The Constitution vs. The Virus Simultaneous attack coronavirus and US governors

One, Two, Three, Pooph!!! Reopen Country Now! Return to normalcy is just around the corner.

Reopen America Now Return to Normalcy

Enough is Enough! Re Re: Covid, We are not children. We're adults. We'll make the right decisions.

How to Write Your 1st Book & Publish it Using Amazon KDP You can do it

REMDESIVIR A Ray of Hope

When Will America Reopen for Business? This author's opinion includes voices of experts

HydroxyChloroquine: The Game Changer

Super Bowl & NFL Championship Seasons The KC Chiefs From the 1st to Super Bowl LIV

Great Coaches in Kansas City Chiefs Football First Coach era to Andy Reid Era

Great Players in Kansas City Chiefs Football From the AFL to Andy Reid Era
 Reopen America Now! How to Shut-Down Corona Virus & Return to Normalcy!
 Why is Everybody Moving to the Villages? You can afford a home in the Villages
 CORONAVIRUS The Cause & the Cure. Many solutions—but which ones will work?
 Great Moments in Kansas City Chiefs Football. From the beginning to the Andy Reid Era
 How the Philadelphia Eagles Lost Its Karma. This is the one place that tells the story Cancel All Student Debt Now! Good for America, Good for the Economy.
 Social Security Screw Job!!! Scandal: Seniors Intentionally Screwed by US Government
 Trump Hate They hate Trump Supporters; Trump; & God—in that order
 Christmas Wings for Brian A heartwarming story of a boy whose shoulders kept growing Merry Christmas to Wilkes-Barre 50 Ways” for Mayor George Brown to Create a Better City.
 Air Force Football Championship Seasons From AF Championship to Coach Calhoun’s latest team
 Syracuse Football Championship Seasons beginning of SU championships; goes to Dino Babers Era
 Navy Football Championship Seasons 1st Navy Championships to the Ken Niumatalolo Era
 Army Football Championship Seasons Beginning of Football championships to Jeff Monken Era
 Florida Gators Championship Seasons Beginning of Football through championships to Dan Mullen era
 Alabama’s Championship Seasons Beginning of Football past the 2017/2018 National Championship
 Clemson Tigers Championship Seasons Beginning of Football to the Clemson National Championships
 Penn State’s Championship Seasons PSU’s first championship to the James Franklin era
 Notre Dame’s Championship Seasons Before Knute Rockne and past Lou Holtz’s 1988 undisputed title
 Super Bowls & Championship Seasons: The New York Giants Many championships of the Giants.
 Super Bowls & Championship Seasons: New England Patriots Many championships of the Patriots.
 Super Bowls & Championship Seasons: The Pittsburgh Steelers Many championship of the Steelers
 Super Bowls & Championship Seasons: The Philadelphia Eagles Many championships of the Eagles.
 The Big Toxic School Wilkes-Barre Area’s Tale of Corruption, Deception, Taxation & Tyranny
 Great Players in New York Giants Football Begins with great players of 1925 to the Saquon Barqley era.
 Great Coaches in New York Giants Football Begins with Bob Folwell 1925 and to Pat Shurmur in 2019.
 Great Moments in New York Giants Football Beginning of Football to the Pat Shurmur era.
 Hasta La Vista California Give California its independence.
 IT’s ALL OVER! Mueller: NO COLLUSION!”—Top Dems going to jail for the hoax!
 Democrat Secret for Power & Winning Elections Open borders adds millions of new Democrat Voters
 Hope for Wilkes-Barre—John Q. Doe—Next Mayor of Wilkes-Barre
 The John Doe Plan & WB Plan will help create a better city!
 Great Moments in New England Patriots Football Second Edition
 This book begins at the beginning of Football and goes to the Bill Belichick era.
 The Cowardly Congress Corrupt US Congress is against America and Americans.
 Great Players in Air Force Football From the beginning to the current season Great Coaches in Air Force Football From the beginning to Coach Troy Calhoun Help for Mayor George and Next Mayor of Wilkes-Barre How to vote for the next Mayor Council
 Ghost of Wilkes-Barre Future: Spirit’s advice for residents how to pick the next Mayor and Council
 Great Players in Air Force Football: Air Force’s best players of all time
 Great Coaches in Air Force Football: From Coach 1 to Coach Troy Calhoun
 Great Moments in Air Force Football: From day 1 to today
 Great Players in Navy Football: Navy’s best including Bellino & Staubach
 Great Coaches in Navy Football: From Coach 1 to Coach #39 Ken Niumatalolo
 Great Moments in Navy Football: From day 1 to coach Ken Niumatalolo 1
 No Tree! No Toys! No Toot! Heartwarming story. Christmas gone while 19 month old napped
 How to End DACA, Sanctuary Cities, & Resident Illegal Aliens . best solution remove shadowsAmerica.
 Government Must Stop Ripping Off Seniors’ Social Security!: Hey buddy, seniors can’t spare a dime?
 Special Report: Solving America’s Student Debt Crisis!: The only real solution to the $1.52 Trillion debt
 The Winning Political Platform for America Unique winning approach to solve big problems in America.
 Lou Barletta v Bob Casey for US Senate Barletta’s unique approach to solve big problems in America.
 John Chrin v Matt Cartwright for Congress Chrin has a unique approach to solve big problems in America.
 The Cure for Hate !!! Can the cure be any worse than this disease that is crippling America?
 Andrew Cuomo’s Time to Go? He Was Never that Great!": Cuomo says America never that great White People Are Bad! Bad! Bad! Whoever thought a popular slogan in 2018 It’s OK to be White!
 The Fake News Media Is Also Corrupt !!!: Fake press / media today is not worthy to be 4th Estate.
 God Gave US Donald Trump? Trump was sent from God as the people’s answer Millennials Say America Was Never That Great": Too many pleased days of political chumps not over!
 It’s Time for The John Q. Doe Party... Don’t you think? By Elephants.
 Great Players in Florida Gators Football... Tim Tebow and a ton of other great players Great Coaches in Florida Gators Football... The best coaches in Gator history.
 The Constitution by Hamilton, Jefferson, Madison, et al. The Real Constitution
 The Constitution Companion. Will help you learn and understand the Constitution
 Great Coaches in Clemson Football The best Clemson Coaches right to Dabo Swinney

Great Players in Clemson Football The best Clemson players in history Winning Back America. America's been stolen and can be won back completely
 The Founding of America... Great book to pick up a lot of great facts Defeating America's Career Politicians. The scoundrels need to go.
 Midnight Mass by Jack Lammers... You remember what it was like Great story
 The Bike by Jack Lammers... Great heartwarming Story by Jack Wipe Out All Student Loan Debt--Now! Watch the economy go boom!
 No Free Lunch Pay Back Welfare! Why not pay it back?
 Deport All Millennials Now!!! Why they deserve to be deported and/or saved
 DELETE the EPA, Please! The worst decisions to hurt America
 Taxation Without Representation 4th Edition Should we throw the TEA overboard again?
 Four Great Political Essays by Thomas Dawson
 Top Ten Political Books for 2018... Cliffnotes Version of 10 Political Books
 Top Six Patriotic Books for 2018... Cliffnotes version of 6 Patriotic Book
 Why Trump Got Elected!.. It's great to hear about a great milestone in America!
 The Day the Free Press Died. Corrupt Press Lives on!
 Solved (Immigration) The best solutions for 2018
 Solved II (Obamacare, Social Security, Student Debt) Check it out; They're solved.
 Great Moments in Pittsburgh Steelers Football... Six Super Bowls and more.
 Great Players in Pittsburgh Steelers Football ,,Chuck Noll, Bill Cowher, Mike Tomlin, etc.
 Great Coaches in New England Patriots Football,, Bill Belichick the one and only plus others
 Great Players in New England Patriots Football... Tom Brady, Drew Bledsoe et al.
 Great Coaches in Philadelphia Eagles Football..Andy Reid, Doug Pederson & Lots more Great Players in Philadelphia Eagles Football Great players such as Sonny Jurgenson
 Great Coaches in Syracuse Football All the greats including Ben Schwartzwalder
 Great Players in Syracuse Football. Highlights best players such as Jim Brown & Donovan McNabb
 Millennials are People Too !!! Give US millennials help to live American Dream
 Brian Kelly for the United States Senate from PA: Fresh Face for US Senate
 The Candidate's Bible. Don't pray for your campaign without this bible
 Rush Limbaugh's Platform for Americans... Rush will love it
 Sean Hannity's Platform for Americans... Sean will love it
 Donald Trump's New Platform for Americans. Make Trump unbeatable in 2020
 Tariffs Are Good for America! One of the best tools a president can have Great Coaches in Pittsburgh Steelers Football Sixteen of the best coaches ever to coach in pro football.
 Great Moments in New England Patriots Football Great football moments from Boston to New England
 Great Moments in Philadelphia Eagles Football. The best from the Eagles from the beginning of football.
 Great Moments in Syracuse Football The great moments, coaches & players in Syracuse Football Boost Social Security Now! Hey Buddy Can You Spare a Dime?
 The Birth of American Football. From the first college game in 1869 to the last Super Bowl Obamacare: A One-Line Repeal Congress must get this done.
 A Wilkes-Barre Christmas Story A wonderful town makes Christmas all the better
 A Boy, A Bike, A Train, and a Christmas Miracle A Christmas story that will melt your heart
 Pay-to-Go America-First Immigration Fix
 Legalizing Illegal Aliens Via Resident Visas Americans-first plan saves $Trillions. Learn how!
 60 Million Illegal Aliens in America!!! A simple, America-first solution.
 The Bill of Rights By Founder James Madison Refresh your knowledge of the specific rights for all Great Players in Army Football Great Army Football played by great players..
 Great Coaches in Army Football Army's coaches are all great.
 Great Moments in Army Football Army Football at its best.
 Great Moments in Florida Gators Football Gators Football from the start. This is the book.
 Great Moments in Clemson Football CU Football at its best. This is the book.
 Great Moments in Florida Gators Football Gators Football from the start. This is the book.
 The Constitution Companion. A Guide to Reading and Comprehending the Constitution
 The Constitution by Hamilton, Jefferson, & Madison - Big type and in English
 PATERNO: The Dark Days After Win # 409. Sky began to fall within days of win # 409.
 JoePa 409 Victories: Say No More! Winningest Division I-A football coach ever American College Football: The Beginning From before day one football was played.
 Great Coaches in Alabama Football Challenging the coaches of every other program!
 Great Coaches in Penn State Football the Best Coaches in PSU's football program
 Great Players in Penn State Football The best players in PSU's football program
 Great Players in Notre Dame Football The best players in ND's football program
 Great Coaches in Notre Dame Football The best coaches in any football program Great Players in Alabama Football from Quarterbacks to offensive Linemen Greats!
 Great Moments in Alabama Football AU Football from the start. This is the book.
 Great Moments in Penn State Football PSU Football, start--games, coaches, players,

Great Moments in Notre Dame Football ND Football, start, games, coaches, players
Cross Country with the Parents A great trip from East Coast to West with the kids
Seniors, Social Security & the Minimum Wage. Things seniors need to know.
How to Write Your First Book and Publish It with CreateSpace. You too can be an author.
The US Immigration Fix--It's all in here. Finally, an answer.
I had a Dream IBM Could be #1 Again The title is self-explanatory
WineDiets.Com Presents The Wine Diet Learn how to lose weight while having fun.
Wilkes-Barre, PA; Return to Glory Wilkes-Barre City's return to glory
Geoffrey Parsons' Epoch... The Land of Fair Play Better than the original.
The Bill of Rights 4 Dummies! This is the best book to learn about your rights.
Sol Bloom's Epoch ...Story of the Constitution The best book to learn the Constitution
America 4 Dummies! All Americans should read to learn about this great country.
The Electoral College 4 Dummies! How does it really work?
The All-Everything Machine Story about IBM's finest computer server.
Thank You IBM! This book explains how IBM was beaten in the computer marketplace by neophytes

Amazon.com/author/brianwkelly

Brian W. Kelly has written 287 books including this book.

Thanks again for buying this one.

