Donald Trump Governor of California

After the Newsom recall, the former president is the perfect candidate to turn California back into one of the United States

“Millions of Americans.” declared Dallas megachurch pastor Robert Jeffries in 2017, “believe the election of President Trump represented God giving us another chance—perhaps our last chance—to truly make America great again. Our job was to elect him once God showed us the way. We thank Our Lord to this day that we did. We do love Trump!

Think about the most messed up state in the nation. The state of the state of California reminds us of the condition of the country when Trump took over for Obama in 2017. The Trump White House was surprised that there was silverware and other items remaining in the residence after what happened when the last Democrat (Clinton) left the White House

Supporters often recount the good things Donald Trump did for America in his four years and feel he could really help out the Golden State. It may seem like a joke but it is not. While he is preparing for a presidential run in 2024, Donald J. Trump has almost four years to straighten out the mess in California. And I mean mess, starting with Pelosi’s San Francisco. Between 2011 and 2018 San Fran experienced a massive increase in reported incidents of human feces found on public streets. San Fran is not the only city. Residents would relish a return to more natural days when it was just bird poop and Seagull drippings that were their worst fears when walking.

Besides cleaning up the city as we know the poop would have no chance with Trump in control, think about the problem with Silicon Valley – Facebook, Twitter, Google, Apple, etc. With California as each of their HQ state, what a great job Trump could do fighting these tyrants without even relying on the Federal Government.

Richard Grenell, a fierce ally of former President Donald Trump and a fixture in MAGA politics, would also be great for the job too and he is thinking about it. When the bid to recall Governor Newsom goes forward, I can see a lieutenant governor role initially for Grenell for a couple years and then Trump can step down making Grenell, a great man in his own right, the logical Governor of California. That would be win / win.

Many of us believe that Donald Trump got elected because a higher power whispered in the individual ears of millions of Americans. The voice said that together in this election, we could all make a difference, and Donald Trump would become that difference. The people trusted this self-made billionaire to do what was best for America and not the bidding of slimy politicians or political donors and hacks.

Donald Trump was the only candidate for president who offered Americans a breath of fresh air from the stodgy, bossy, establishment elites in both the Democratic and Republican Parties. Would it not be great to wake up and find him doing for California what he did for the whole country for four years.

Preface:

There are many of us who, after crying out for relief for our country for eight years, believe in our hearts that God's answer to America is Donald Trump. The people have learned to love this President as God's gift. It was up to US again to make sure we made the most of God's great gift. More than enough of us voted again for Donald J. Trump for Term # 2 but let's just say that America had a bad storm arising at the time.

God always has a plan. The notion of a temporary plan for the state of California makes a lot of sense and Californians would be smart to take God up on his offer.

I knew that I was voting for Donald Trump as soon as he broke through the pack of Republicans and began his showdowns with his real opponent, Hillary Clinton. Joe Biden became the new Hillary Clinton. Like many Democrats who are effectively out of the Party, I had had enough of Obama and the Clintons, and Vice President Biden. Most Americans feel the same. With Donald Trump back in control of America's largest state, it would be a great warmer-upper for 2024. Thank you Lord for the opportunity

As noted in this book's description, "Millions of Americans." declared Dallas megachurch pastor Robert Jeffries in 2017," believe the election of President Trump represented God giving us another chance perhaps our last chance to truly make America great again." Our job was to elect him once God showed us the way. We thank Our Lord to this day that we did. We do love Trump!

Think about the most messed up state in the nation. The state of the state of California reminds us of the condition of the country when Trump took over for Obama in 2017. The Trump White House was surprised that there was silverware and other items remaining in the residence after what happened when the last Democrat (Clinton) left the White House

Supporters often recount the good things Donald Trump did for America in his four years and feel he could really help out the Golden State. It is a natural. It may seem like a joke but it is not. While he is preparing for a presidential run in 2024, Donald J.

Trump has almost four years to straighten out the mess in California. And I mean mess, starting with Pelosi's San Francisco.

Between 2011 and 2018 San Francisco experienced a massive increase in reported incidents of human feces found on public streets. San Fran is not the only city. Residents would relish a return to more natural days when it was just bird poop and Seagull droppings that were their worst fears when walking. No kidding!

Besides cleaning up the City and the rest of the state, for we know the poop would have no chance with Trump in control, think about the problem with Silicon Valley Facebook, Twitter, Google, Apple, etc. With California as each of their HQ state, what a great job Trump could do fighting these tyrants without even having to rely on the Federal Government.

Richard Grenell, a fierce ally of former President Donald Trump and a fixture in MAGA politics, would also be great for the job too and he is thinking about it. When the bid to recall Governor Newsom goes forward, I can see a lieutenant governor role initially for Grenell for a couple years and then Trump can step down making Grenell, a great man in his own right, the logical Governor of California. That would be win / win.

Many of us believe that Donald Trump got elected because a higher power whispered in the individual ears of millions of Americans. The voice said that together in this election, we could all make a difference, and Donald Trump would become that difference. The people trusted this self-made billionaire to do what was best for America and not the bidding of slimy politicians or political donors and hacks. He people were not disappointed.

Donald Trump was the only candidate for president who offered Americans a breath of fresh air from the stodgy, bossy, establishment elites in both the Democratic and Republican Parties. Would it not be great to wake up and find him doing for California what he did for the whole country for the last four years.

At the end of the day, when the dust had settled, and the battle was over, the last man standing won. Donald Trump won the 2016 and the 2020 election despite all odds. In many ways he got elected because he was the last man standing between an Obama-like American hell-hole and a return to the Promised Land of our founders. Joe Biden knows the secret of bringing back that Obama-like American hell hole and he promises to bring it back to an unsuspecting public. Hopefully we will object as a nation.

We once asked What would America be like with Joe Biden in charge? Now we are living through that nightmare. Hopefully God will speed it up.

Many are unaware that Joe Biden had been in two other presidential campaigns in which he won the vice presidency thanks to his promised loyalty to Barack Obama. During their first campaign for the White House, the Obama-Biden ticket “firmly” promised that “no family making less than $250,000 a year would see any form of a tax increase.” Within a year America noticed that the Affordable Care Act included a tax increase, aka a tax penalty for failing to purchase health insurance, paid primarily by people earning less than $50,000 annually.

Though that levy is gone thanks to Trump, who knows what crazy Joe will do now that he finally got his hand. The ACA still includes a poorly implemented tax on medium-size and large employers that don’t offer health insurance to most of their workers. I estimate that this penalty, when enforced by Joe Biden will cost low-income families an average of about $700 a year.

This includes those whose employers aren’t penalized. The penalty’s effect on job availability would make its cost felt by a wide swath of workers. No taxes turned out to be the first broadcast of Fake News. Joe Biden promises even more in the form of $3.00 to $5.00 and up gasoline at the pump.

Today Mr. Biden is taking an unveiled approach to advancing the “clean energy revolution and environmental justice” outlined in his platform. Instead of using a carbon tax, which would use market forces to reduce the economic damage but also obviously violate his tax pledge, he would apply the force of regulation. He aims, for example, to eliminate emissions for passenger vehicles, which would make buying a new car thousands of dollars more expensive. As President Trump is apt to explain, regulations are “stealth taxation, especially on the poor.” Biden will get any extra dime that you may have. He’s already taken millions of jobs from Americans.

We have to bring the master back in 2024 but it would be a shot in the arm for us all to have a new Governator in the spirit and packaging of Donald J. Trump.

Donald Trump saved the US from Hillary and he is the only candidate we have who was ready to protect the people from Joe Biden. Elections sure do have consequences.

Trump is a tough American, so we can count on not being pushed around in foreign affairs or delicate negotiations in 2024. Having him in Sacramento for a few years before he makes his hallowed comeback would be a great start and it would give all Americans the confidence we need that things will be better.

America needs Donald Trump—a businessman and a great negotiator to compete in the world, not somebody like the former president or Vice President who unfortunately for the country found business as a necessary unpleasant evil.

The GOP today is still full of losers and babies who won’t even keep their vows made in the pledge to support the Party’s own nominee. No wonder the prior president and the current Biden incarnation were both treated as emperors. Their sad agenda receives no interference from the wimpy GOP. The scaredy-cat RINOS quaked at the sight of Obama. They’ve gotten too comfortable being lazy louts and so far, we have to primary them because we can’t trust them. You know who I mean. To me, they are all losers—especially the Bushes, Romney, and Marco Rubio, Billy Kristol, George Will, and to many more who are brave enough to damn Trump but not brave enough to fight the Democrats. Trump doesn’t quake at anything. In fact, he makes me proud to be an American

I sure hope you enjoy this book and I hope that it inspires you to continue to take action. Let’s all hope hears the California call. I hope the book in some ways helps you look at things differently.

Together, with the help of Californians, we can help make that state a better state and make the US a far better country. We should smile as we accomplished our first and best objective. We elected Donald Trump as our president once. Now, we must support his hard work, elect him for an interim governorship and we need to give him a Congress without Nancy Pelosi and Chuck Schumer and without Mitch McConnell so he can help America even more. Only the voters can get those wicked people out of Trump's way by electing representatives from the Republican Party who will work with the President in for the second time, making America Great Again.

Chapter 1 Donald Trump Is a Gift to All Americans!

Evangelicals Ask God for his help

Deborah Stidom posted this short prayer several months ago to show her love for our former president. It was on facebook.com/WeLovePresidentDonaldJTrump/:

“Heavenly father we pray your healing hands be placed over our President & First Lady so that their bodies overcome this awful disease. We thank you.”

Many of us who were up late on Thursday October 1 into Friday, got the shocking news that our president who we love and respect, and who we believe we need to fight the forces of evil in our country had been stricken mid-week with covid-19, the dreaded coronavirus. It was a late night for many of us waiting anxiously for any tidbit of news that all was going to be OK.

With medical personnel and White House personnel putting their own spin on how the president was faring, it was tough to know what was accurate. Getting a glimpse of the president walking to and getting on Marine 1 on Friday of that week and seeing his first hospital tweet were the best reassurances for the public that all was going to be well though the ride along the way might be bumpy.

It was reported that a weary Trump, having been stricken by COVID-19, feverish and fatigued from the ordeal, was flown to Walter Reed military hospital Friday night where he was given the best care possible.

Heading for Walter Reed Hospital for Treatment in a suit

The lasting scoop is that President Trump had been given Remdesivir and he had been injected with an experimental cocktail which was a combination drug while being treated at the White House prior to embarking to the military hospital. Thank God Nancy Pelosi and Gavin Newsom and Andrew Cuomo were not in charge of his care

The President had a tough day for sure on Friday beginning from when he learned for sure on Thursday after testing positive. Some said it was a day of being jerked around, after months of leading the country through the pandemic and trying to assure the public that it would not mean doom for America.

With the great Rush Limbaugh having passed just this week, we know that our fears were justified. After all, though he appeared otherwise, President Trump was after all, like us all, a mere mortal. But a special one for sure.

After having downplayed the effects of the threat of the virus, and ready to give the American people the benefit of the doubt, rather than pulling a Biden and blue state governors locking the country down, the president now is reevaluating his own scheduled campaign events. All this just a month before he suffered through the biggest election in modern times—you remember that on November 3, 2020—the Stolen Election. .

The president had at the time first engaged the virus that had killed a half million Americans, and which hit others in his orbit as well. We had the confidence that he would win his battle because God sent him to us for more than just a four year term. Yes, we know that we have to wait four more years for him to make a fair and honest comeback but we have the greatest of expectations for the interim—Donald Trump needs to take the time before 2024 to become the Governor of California

It sounds silly until you think about it for awhile. Who better to replace the ineffective hypocritical Gavin Newsome. Before the campaign for the presidency in 2024, think of all the good the president can do for America and for the country in the biggest state and the union—the Golden State. In reverse order of Ronald Reagan who was governor of California first and then president, Donald Trump is a natural leader who may be the only person in America who could turn the country around and then turn around its biggest state and then make the country great again in 2024.

It is a shame that the US has such a corrupt press who are funded by a traitor, George Soros and others such as Bill Gates and Big Tech other bleeding heart liberal progressives who care not an iota for regular Americans. With all the good Trump will be able to do after the recall in 2021, by the time 2022 and 2024 come around, the people of the Golden State will be thankful for his leadership and will have the confidence in him as a national leader. Yes, Virginia, I think California is in play in 2022 and in 2024.

Back to the President's bout with COVID. His Saturday recovery was more of the same as the Walter Reed team gave a positive outlook. However, the White House was more ambivalent, cautioning that the next 72 hours would tell us all a lot. His supporters and believe me the whole country full of more than 80,000 of them who were about to vote in the next several weeks then, were very concerned for the then President's well-being.

The White House earlier had noted that the President was expected to stay just a few days at Walter Reed National Military Medical Center. Again the news was contradictory as other sources suggested the President's condition dictated the change in venue.

One thing that remained true was that President Trump would take advantage of the suite of medicines that had been set up by Dr. Ronnie Jackson at the hospital for Trump and his White House team.. It had been previously set up and equipped to allow him to handle his White House official duties in what might be called a remote White House.

Jackson knew how to make the President well and he did. He was a great pick. By the way not everybody knows that Jackson, that's Ronny Lynn Jackson (born May 4, 1967) is an American physician, politician, and retired United States Navy rear admiral who since November 3 is now the U.S. representative for Texas's 13th congressional district..

You gotta love this president. He faced all this in his usual style—bold and brave, while suffering as all victims of this virus do, from the COVID. When he walked out of the White House Friday evening, he was wearing a mask to protect his entourage. Positive as always, he gave a big thumbs-up to onlookers, including reporters, but he did not take questions before boarding Marine One.

Face coverings were the order of the day as members of the aircrew, Secret Service agents and his White House staff all wore face coverings to protect themselves from the “covid infected” president onboard the helicopter.

President Trump, always thoughtful of his role as commander in chief, made a parting video before leaving for Walter Reed. In the video the president said: “I think I’m doing very well, but we’re going to make sure that things work out. There had been a lot of news talk during the day on Friday about the 25th amendment and the succession of power "Regardless of the speculation, the president opted to remain the full president with all authority intact.

For many, Donald J. Trump, especially with all of the claptrap he had endured from those who could not accept his presidency, remains the hero who beat the Democrats at every turn and every trick,. We will never forget the phony Mueller Report, and the disingenuous impeachments. For those of us scoring at home, the president remains our hero. He beats his adversaries even after they throw their best at him.

Like others in life, the President can be cheated and we know that he was cheated without the benefit of a Supreme Court hearing. Joe Biden a terrible president in just a month in office. Seems to want to undo all of the good done by this president as a political challenge and not for the good of the country. The people have to communicate continually to their representatives to make sure Biden does not destroy the whole country but there will be a lot of repair needed in 2024.

I cannot think of a better thing for the former president to do over the next four years than to more than mark his time in California rescuing the politicians in the Golden State from themselves while providing a great service to the state and the country. The Newsom recall election is the perfect opportunity to get that job done. My own thinking is that Almighty God is a Trump supporter. I for one am very glad that he (Trump) came along. Aren't you? I am going to stop this chapter right now and reprint an email in chapter 3 that I sent out during the fall campaign to remind my friends and relatives about my perception of Mr. Trump before the escalator and before the 2016 election.

Chapter 2 The First Corrupt Election Scenario

Candidate Trump was not destined to win the second time—YET!

Besides God saying it would be like that, there were a lot of reasons that Trump pulled off his first victory. It is tough to differentiate direct intervention from the gifts God gave to “The Donald” at birth. Either way, Trump is blessed by God to deliver to the people. God gave him a temporary set back on his way to the 2020 election victory and the President again will endure and emerge as God’s emissary for the next four years from 2025 through 2028..

On his way to being President again, Trump himself does not know the extent of God’s total plan. I do not think that as of this moment in February, 2021, as he is recovering from the redirection in his life that at first seems like a total loss, Donald J. Trump has not worked it all out yet. I do not think that it has yet been revealed to Mr. Trump that God's plan for the next four years may very well take him on a major California detour.

Well, how do I know it then if Trump has not yet learned it? Maybe you don't believe it. I don't think my family believes it yet but I do believe that Rush Limbaugh RIP and myself are part of God's plan for Donald J. Trump for the next four years. Where did the idea come from?

A few weeks before he stopped being on his show, Rush Limbaugh took a call from a caller who offered what may be the essence of Trump's future. This caller showed certainty in his conviction that Trump's best course of action for the next four years would be to run in the California recall election of Gavin Newsom and of course he would win.

I listened intensely and at first I thought it was foolhardy. But the guy continued reminding Rush that over 100 people would be competing for prize in California and they would all be permitted to run. He explained how important name recognition is in winning a recall election in California and cited how the Guvernator won with just 46% of the vote v Gray Davis. You don't need a majority and Trump will win because of Name Recognition.

You may recall that Arnold Schwarzenegger won the historic California recall election on October 8, 2003 and Gray Davis did not come close. It was like it is today with Newsom in that there is a tide of voter anger. It was enough to topple Gray Davis just 11 months after the Democrat had been reelected governor. Newsome has about a year left but the anger is so great again that he is about to get ousted.

This might mess up the plans of a number of Republicans in the Golden State whose hats are already prepared to be headed into the recall ring. Even now, California Republicans eager to recall Democratic Gov. Gavin Newsom could see their chances eroded by longstanding friction between the party's conservative and moderate wings, which only has intensified in the aftermath of Donald Trump's presidency.

Even Rush Limbaugh accepted that Trump's running in the recall election would more than likely result in his winning all the California marbles. There would be no reason for a rift having any say in who wins.

The rift had been on open display in the gubernatorial candidacy of former San Diego Mayor Kevin Faulconer, a Republican centrist who has been endorsed by legislative leaders while being attacked as "liberal" by conservatives in his home county. He has no chance if Trump is in the contest.

The head of the state Republican Party, Jessica Millan Patterson, is being challenged at a GOP convention this weekend by longtime conservative activist Steve Frank, who says the state party is attempting to silence conservative voices. Folks, it is California, if you want to win, you better have a great plan. Trump as the candidate would be the best plan ever.

Some are calling the post recall battle as “California’s version of the national battle for the soul and the future of the Republican Party,” While Trump lost California by more than 5 million votes last November, the state GOP has been emboldened by the prospect of a recall election aimed at Newsom, after picking off four congressional seats from Democrats. But “just when the Republican Party in California is showing signs of life, as usual it is deciding to cannibalize itself.” Trump would stop the Republican flesh eating and provide a candidate who can deliver a real victory.

Recently Karl Rove, not a friend of Donald Trump urged party members to find a way through their differences in California. You know with a RINO like Rove in the act, California would not be headed conservative under any part of a Rove plan. Have we not learned that? .

A proposed rule change at the convention would have allowed the party’s executive committee of about 100 people to endorse a recall candidate, or hand the decision to an even smaller group, rather than the full delegation of about 1,400 members. It was withdrawn after being criticized as a power grab. Trump being in the game puts an end to the committee deciding anything. Look at how the committee has turned the State over to Democrats.

I was eager to hear more from Rush Limbaugh about a Trump California candidacy, but his illness got the best of him. Now if Trump can get past his RINO advisors, he can get spiritual help in the recall election from both God and Rush Limbaugh. My part will be to simply spread the word and this book is my best vehicle. I expect it to take about four days to complete and then it will be available to the nation but more important than that, it will be available to the people of California. To give them a chance for the future.

Everybody agrees that with a potential recall election approaching, the GOP needs a “a strong, unified Republican vision. It won’t work on any plane, to have a party boss try to shove a RINO candidate down the throats of Republicans and Democrats. Lots of Democrats would vote for Trump as the Governor of California.

The pundits are saying that for long-suffering California Republicans, party infighting could divide their ranks and make it more challenging to oust Newsom because Newsom will be a candidate in the recall and he comes with supporters. . Meanwhile, they say if no consensus pick emerges as a GOP favorite to replace Gavin Newsom, multiple candidates from the committee would tend to fracture the party’s base.

When and if Trump enters the foray, it’s game over. Even the Democrats suffering from Newsom lockdowns and the crazy Biden policies are ready to throw out liberal progressives for some sound leadership.

Newsom and company, aka the liberal Dems, are the party of “The whole kind of defund the (police) movement and identity politics and all the goofiness that’s coming from the hard left of the Democratic Party doesn’t make a lot of sense.”

It does not make sense to working-class Americans, Carl Rove said. On this one time, Rove is correct. I would not trust Rove, however in his support of Trump. He is a nothing but a Mitch McConnell in waiting. Whatever he is for, I am against.

Chapter 3 Trump Came after 8 Years of a Sour Stomach

Mitt Romney was a bad candidate. Look at him today and that statement needs no explanation. His shenanigans recently make conservatives believe that he would be a very poor president. We might not have noticed much of a difference if he got elected as he stands for nothing other than his own advancement in life. George Bush Jr was not so great a president. I might say that I like Obama better than Romney but upon reflection, I need a little more time on that decision.

As a Democrat, when Barack Obama beat “Milk Toast” Mitt Romney in 2008’s presidential election, though I voted for Romney, I was not too terribly upset that Obama had won his first term. Like everybody else I knew little about him, but he seemed to be quite eloquent in his speech and did not appear to have a race axe to grind. Boy, was I wrong!

The two-year Senator from Illinois had not distinguished himself in his political career either positively or negatively and being a Community Organizer registered a who-cares on the importance scale. Mr. Obama had not distinguished himself, either. He could talk up a storm and he seemed like he would be a man in office who would preside fairly over America. He was a good bulsh—er.

I was not concerned initially. I did wonder however. What the heck is a community organizer? Now I know and the definition itself was a harbinger of negative things to come.

Though from my eyes at the time, but I am white, did not observe any blatant racism problem in the country for Obama to solve, I felt that the Obama presidency would really be post-racial.

Like I said, Obama was not my choice but I was encouraged at his idea of a post-racial America. I figured finally the race war of the 1860's was behind us. The Negro slaves won that one with the help of the Union Army as I recall. Obama won this one with the help of the Democratic Party.

I was happy that our go at life at the turn of the 21st century was not like when we had those nasty race riots back in the 1960's when I was a kid. Things had gotten lots better in America. I was pleased that with a man, half white and half black, who identified as a "black" president, also understood the white world. With the stuff he got from his mother's side, we could finally put all of the ill-will about race from the past behind us. Surely there would be good times ahead. I really believed that.

My biggest surprise was that a "black man" would be so obviously biased on behalf of the black population. I knew that God had not told him to be that way. I was shocked to find President Obama to be one-sided in favor of blacks. My first glimpse of the President's innate bias was well on display when on July 16, 2009, when Harvard University professor Henry Louis Gates Jr., was arrested at his Cambridge, Massachusetts, home by local police officer Sgt. James Crowley. It got worse after that.

We had Obamacare and a crushed economy. We never recovered from the great recession. Life was on its way almost preparing the country for needing a good leader. I was surprised that Obama won a second term. Things kept getting worse and America's leadership in the world was on trial.

I soon learned that whites had little chance in the new post-racial Obama presidency. I looked in the mirror and a white guy was staring back at me. From my eyes, race relations were Obama's first failure as president. I quickly learned that I could not trust him to do the right thing for America. I was very disappointed for eight years as from my eyes things in general, not just race, got worse, not better. Yet unlike Hillary Clinton and her coterie, I accepted his presidency and wished him well to the extent our goals were in sync.

After having a sour stomach for eight years, when Hillary Clinton promised four more years of Obama, when she chose to take her turn as president. I knew that I would do whatever I could to help somebody else become president no matter who it might be. I had had my fill. But, I never rioted or suggested that President Obama be impeached.

Donald Trump was not my favorite in the beginning, but he soon became my favorite as I learned that he would not be pushed around by anybody. I like to recall my reaction to Trump when I finally understood him as a breath of fresh air. I was beginning to think that the age of reasonable, human presidents had ended with Reagan.

To support him in his candidacy, in addition to sending in some checks and attending rallies, I wrote at least ten books and a number of letters to the editor in support of the Trump presidency. I gave my books away to anybody who wanted one and brought them to biker rallies such as one held above Scranton, PA in Dalton. The bikers liked my books. The price was surely right.

At this rally sponsored by Chris Cox and the Bikers for Trump, I put a bunch of books out for the taking to help the cause. My most popular Trump for president book was about 240 pages and it was titled Why Trump? Another book called, "We Love Trump." Came several books after God Gave US Donald Trump !!!" It is one of a number of follow-ups to that very popular book. By the way, my last Trump book from September 2020 is titled, "Trump Assured 2020 Victory." In this book I outlined a sure way for the President to assure his reelection. Of course I had not expected the election to be stolen"

In 2016, to show how I really felt about the Trump candidacy and to help others see things differently than what appeared to be the original and continuing drive-by-media thinking, I sent a letter to the local paper, The Citizens' Voice. I titled it God gave us Donald Trump. This letter is shown earlier in this book.

It is short and crisp and I learn something each time I read the letter I sent. After that little piece ran in the Citizens' Voice, nobody had to guess which candidate I was endorsing.

Like many others, I welcomed a change to times in which America was heralded and not put down. I longed for a period in which the Democratic Party and its minions would not parade around the world apologizing for America and Americans.

As I saw Donald Trump, mostly on the US stage, giving his speeches and rallies and talking about making America great again, I was very encouraged. Believing him, was like believing the Gospel, the word of God, according to one of the four evangelists. I still smile each time I wake up and the period of Trump had been going on since November 8, 2016. Of course, we had terrible stolen election that took place on November 3 and afterwards in a number of states.

I wrote a book about it and then added two more chapters after it was initially published. The book is shown below titled Stolen Election. Chapter 13 was written to show that VP Pence really had a choice and Chapter 14 was written to reflect Peter Navarro's Volume 3 titled Yes, Trump Won.

See the book(s) on Amazon in the form shown on the next page. The Supreme Court wimped about on America and I gave them a tongue lashing in my new hit book, SCOTUS Eliminated. Who needs a Supreme Court that won't take important cases.

Now I ask God on behalf of all Americans to make our president receptive to taking the next four years to get stronger. By being the greatest governor since Reagan in California, may God give our best president ever the strength to again face the evil in our times and prevail. I will help as much as I can. He can keep his executive skills sharpened by making California a real part of the country again. How about you? California is too pretty and too prosperous to leave its fate to anybody else. And, then just a few years later, Trump is our President again.

Most real people do what they do, believing they will be OK and their families will always be OK. The Democrats in power and the intelligent regular people Democrats who I know, stick by CNN not admitting they hear lies all the time. They believe every word and they argue without facts that their slimy party is more important than the country—aka, the USA.

They actually present a case that the people who want babies to live and who do not lie about current events are the bad guys. CNN told them to hate Trump with no rationale. Ask them why they hate Trump so much and then test their lies if they give an answer.

Chapter 4 Is There Too Much Hate in America?

I think we really need Trump Love:

In a book about Trump-rescuing California from itself, Governor Newsom has not shown much love for anybody other than himself. What about love? I thought I would begin with a little about something that for a long-time was much easier to find than love. I am talking about pure unadulterated Trump Hate.

Such hate was well known in California and throughout the nation for the preachers of the gospel according to CNN. Most preachers and ministers and priests who are tuned in against the CNN gospel would call CNN's preaching, lies.

I think about America's issues all the time and Trump HATE was a bad issue for a long time. Even with him out of office, the corrupt media keeps the embers alive so they have a straw man Trump, though temporarily, to keep the people upset at a man that may have done more for them than CNN would permit them to believe. I was and am so concerned about too much hate in US life especially v Trump. That I wrote a book about that topic in November 2019 less than two years ago.

My sister-in law hated Republicans and then, out of nowhere switched to Republican in 2015 so that she could vote for Trump in the primary in PA with no impediments. She breathes the same fumes as all of us Trump supporters since that time. Only the Democrats whose dads said never vote for a Republican can ever accept the guano Democrats are now spewing out at Americans.

Here is the cover of a book trying to stop hate and the title:

The well-wish of well-wishes for a safe recovery from COVID comes from a former Obama Staffer: “I Hope He Dies!” I am not kidding.

She tweeted and then deleted this short rant after Trump's COVID Diagnosis. In this book we covered Trump's brush with death and COVID.

Sweet???

Hard as it is to believe a staff member to former President Barack Obama deleted a tweet about a year ago that suggested that she hoped President Donald Trump died after he announced that he had tested positive for the novel coronavirus. Her name is Zara Rahim. That my friends is hate, do you agree?

Others did likewise but those of us believe their wishes are against God's command of love. This young "lady" worked in the Office of Digital Strategy for Obama, as well as serving as the national spokeswoman for Hillary Clinton in her 2016 presidential campaign. She added this preamble:

"It's been against my moral identity to tweet this for the past four years, but, I hope he dies," This was the content of Rahim's since-deleted tweet." What a sweet-heart???

That's all she wrote. We're all thankful for that!

Speak your mind but let others speak theirs!

Chapter 5 God Gave the People Donald J. Trump to Lead

Does God make mistakes?

If not God, then who gave the people Donald J. Trump

God has always had a lot planned for President Trump but he had to let Trump get rid of his teenage moxie first, just like he gives us that chance. Remember he without sin should throw the first stone. God invented confession for Catholics because he knew he had made humans with imperfections. If God knows we are not perfect that is why he grants forgiveness. Everybody knows what bad is, right! Unless you are so dumb to not know that, you should stay in lockdown for the rest of your life.

God decided when he gave COVID-19 to President Trump, that he would also make him better. After having made the president well from the virus in a very short time, we are all looking for God to step in again to guide the big Trump ship to victory after victory with no more stolen elections to set us back.

We prayed that God would make our president well and he did exactly that in record time. Now, we need the Lord to direct the president towards his next set of accomplishments—a victory in California and then a victory as the 47th president of the United States.

Only those who choose not to see, cannot see what is happening today with all the hate for this man from the left and all the love from the right!. Would God prefer love or hate for one of his creatures?

So, today I went back to the Wilkes-Barre Citizen's Voice Newspaper Archives and I found the letter to the editor that I had sent in two months before the 2016 election. I am glad God heard my prayer. I asked God to hear my prayers again in 2020 along with all the people's prayers as the president's health needed God's touch.

And, then of course we needed the Lord to bring us another four years of Donald J. Trump. We will get that, but God permitted villains to disrupt the truth in the election of November 3. God will not sit by idly next time. I think God wants Trump to be Governor of California to show he is an altruist and a friend of the Lord. . Let's consider what may be His plan.

Perhaps you will enjoy this email as much as I enjoyed rereading it. Those who stand still when they have the chance to act in God's favor often regret their inaction. I am tickled and proud of myself that despite seemingly popular sentiments, I was inspired to write this brief piece and send it in so others could read it.

If I could only open some hearts along the way, perhaps we could diffuse some of the hate from the Democrats and the far left. Are they not the same today? After all, we are all Americans and thus we should all be for everything that is the best for America.

Here is the note with a few comments [] that I sent:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR / PUBLISHED:
SEPTEMBER 11, 2016 WILKES-BARRE CITIZENS
Voice

There are many billionaires who want things their way on taxes and they figure they will benefit if their lobbyists get to the right politician. Donald Trump is actually running for office as a billionaire. He does not need a job. Yet, he is investing a lot of time in America. He does not need it. But, if he is successful, his kids will grow up in America and he wants it to be the finest country of any possible country ever. Bravo, Donald Trump.

Mr. Trump wants it to be like the America as founded by honest founders. We the people love the president for many reasons, foremost of them is that Donald Trump is intrinsically honest. He may round up on some issues in his favor and like St. Paul, he may boast a bit, but he is not corrupt. He wants his kids to love him and respect him just like you want your kids to think well of you.

We are only on Earth for a short time. Why should we not do our best? I love that Donald Trump, a billionaire who needs me like a hole in the head, thinks I matter. He thinks you matter. He thinks America matters. He thinks God matters. He is right on all points. Unlike you and me, he has the means and the opportunity to really show God and his family what a good man he really is.

We had been waiting for you, Mr. Trump, since Ronald Reagan left us.

[Now we are waiting for you again—this time to get well (when the president had the COVID) so you can resume.]

God gave us Donald Trump. [I am convinced that it is again up to us to make him our president for a second term. We did not know how bad the Bushes and Mitt Romney were until they went into their recent crying tantrums because they lost. We just know that they were not too good when they had the power].

Donald Trump is bombastic, arrogant when he knows he is right, and he is often inartful in his speech when he is upset. However, he, like my father, is a very good man. I welcome the opportunity to cast my vote for him. I thank God for the opportunity.

Chapter 6 Now, Once Defeated, Does God See Trump as His Best Answer

Love or hate?

Donald Trump is able and ready to take all that California has got and even more.

It is a fact that you either loved Donald Trump when he ran for President in 2016 and 2020 or you hated him. In many ways such general feelings have not changed. There was no in-between then and there is no in-between now. Having the president infected with COVID-19, the love for Trump for a while grew even stronger and Trump appeared even more tender than we already knew he was.

Rudy Giuliani hit it out of the park as he described the Trump public's reaction to the president's illness. He said that "Trump did all he could for the people for three years, and now the people through their prayers and their vigils are doing their best to pay back the president for his care for them and the country." Amen!

I have sent some solutions in my over thirty Trump books to the President and I do not recall him ever taking me up on one of my ideas. Being the Governor of California is not an original idea of mine as discussed. Blame Rush Limbaugh in heaven for keeping the notion stuck in my mind. Like they once said about Mattel toys, If Donald Trump were to run for Governor of California in the Gavin Newsom Recall Election, he would win by a landslide and help California and the whole Country in so doing—and that would be swell. Wouldn't it?

Donald Trump was a special president because when all is said and done, without corrupt media input, he is a special person.

Now, to show what I mean, let me tell you this little heartwarming story. For those who know Trump, they say it is typical of the president. Trump's Chief of staff was with him on Friday October 2 in his hospital suite after the president checked in. The president saw the crowd outside Walter Reid with their MAGA and other pro-Trump signs. He was touched by the loyalty and the love the people were showing outside the hospital while he is sick. It is a tough call but the President wanted to do something they would like in return for the love.

Wanting to express his gratitude, the President asked Chief of Staff, Mark Meadows to hand out presidential chocolates to this growing group gathered outside the hospital. There was footage on Fox which showed the Trump loyalists outside Walter Reed National Military Medical Center, where Trump is being treated. They wanted to show the president they love him and to show their support for their sick president.

I saw this played out on the Laura Ingraham show on Fox Friday night and it touched me, Laura said that Trump had found out about the group's devotion and had sent Meadows to hand out chocolates, courtesy of the commander-in-chief. How about that?

Trump is no Obama. If you love America, even if you may have trusted Obama, with no good reason, few were ready for four more Obama years with Hillary Clinton as his new name. God protected us from that bad fate.

There's no doubt that Donald Trump has said many things that pundits think would be political suicide for any other Republican candidate. Ironically whenever Trump is Trump, when he makes a tweet back when he was a bonafide Twitter client, or he made one of his "shocking statements," the pundits often on both the left and the right would predict that he's finished because of it. A lot of jealousy and hate there, don't you think?

But, God loves Donald Trump and saves him every time. The pundits are dead wrong every time. Trump appears to be almost totally bulletproof. He's got great spirits watching out for his well-being. When the Republicans, the Democrats and the Supreme Court ganged up on him after the past election, God saved his help. Why? I think God thinks the people will appreciate Mr. Trump more in 2024. Plus, I really think God wants him to take the California gig.

If you do not love Trump and Democrats are mostly in that category, the only thing that might be more perplexing than the psychology of Donald Trump is the psychology of his supporters. In supporters' eyes, "The Donald" can do no wrong. He is actually a good man. Even Trump himself seems to be astonished by this phenomenon.

Despite this nonpareil about tweets etc., the nasty, corrupt press pays no attention to things that are just plain nice that Trump does all the time. The passing out of chocolates is one of those things. I'll bet that the receivers of the presidential candies keep them forever as souvenirs even if they have sweet tooth's.

If you never figured that out, or if you are now flirting with the new Winfrey on the block to become the popular president then I regret that you, my friend, are a part of the problem, not the solution. It is a problem that America and Americans must solve before this country can ever be great again on a consistent basis. Trump and God got us here, but can Americans handle its success?

Maybe God wants us all to keep a sharp eye on the Democrats for four years so they do not ruin the country. Will we have thrown it away on the Winfrey du jour (Hillary or Biden) in the future? Please say “no!”

Can you imagine how successful the anti-American deep state would have been with Mrs. Clinton as president? There would have been no glimpse of recovery. There would have been no greatness. I thank God, every time I realize that Donald Trump became the President of my United States of America and what he did for us all. We miss him more than ever as Biden sure knows how to mess up America.

After his four full and great years, like many Americans, I still happen to love our President for the right reasons. I regret he is not still in office but I have begun to see the opportunity for him to be the best since Reagan in California topped off with a presidential win in 2024 and four years of benefitting from the California experiment.

As I noted in my prior editorial, I find Donald J. Trump to be a gift from God to the American people in our time of great need. We still need him Lord God. Thank you for suggesting some interim time in California showing the people there what real leadership means close-hand. Thank you for hearing our prayers and making him well from his bout with COVID so he can continue your work.

After all the weak, wimpy, wobbly conservative leaders, groomed by establishment elitism, who offered little recognition or solutions for the concerns of the American citizens; Donald J. Trump, my eternal candidate for governor and president and yours if you are like me, has been a deep breath of fresh air. Among the Republican electorate, his approval rating is a chart-topping 90% plus. Hey, I approve, and I am a reluctant Democrat.

Thank you, Donald J. Trump for doing the United States a big favor by taking on corruption in both political parties as well as the media. You are doing just fine and my friends and relatives appreciate your taking a hiatus from your wonderful storybook life and using your time to help us. We sure need it.

Supporters cheer as President Donald Trump speaks in Great Falls, Mont., on July 5. Among Republicans, his job approval rating stands at 88%. PHOTO: JOSHUA ROBERTS/REUTERS

Though some felt when he ran in 2016 that he was not a viable candidate at the beginning, I was not among their ranks. I saw you grow from day one, when you were introduced to the piranha at the first Republican primary debate. You did very well but nobody would acknowledge you because you were and continue to be the biggest threat to all of the establishment elites, in both parties, that has ever existed.

You are especially not liked by the corrupt press because you call them out for their dishonesty. Thank you, President Trump.

This mortal man has taken the Republican electorate by storm (now over 90%) and I love watching Donald J. Trump climb higher and higher in the polls, even though they are not often reported as honestly as his numbers should reflect. President Trump remembers that when he ran for office in 2016, Hillary Clinton. was always deemed the favorite by the corrupt media. This was fake news then and there is lots of fake news again with Joe Biden's poll numbers. He had bad numbers but won because of cheating in about ten states. What a shame. We can't let that ever happen again.

Now, they have Joe Biden topping the president in the stolen election and in fake polls beforehand. It was not and is not true. Trump supporters are a bit cautious of having their homes burned down or their cars keyed and so we are not as ostentatious as the Dems and the rest of the lefties about rubbing it in.

On your way to a great victory in 2016, you also won over many Democrats including a number in my own family—long time progressives who had finally had enough of liberal lies. President Trump, here you are doing it again and when God takes the COVID-19 chains off your back, you attracted even more supporters.

There was a cast of evil on the election and the perfect storm of non-support from the truth. RINO Republicans, Democrats and a gutless Supreme court set us back but we're coming back and I sure hope California is on our road back with President Trump as the leader of the least probable state in the Union. If we can take California, we can do anything.

I know Democrats that switched to Republican, so they could vote for President Trump in 2016 in the PA primary. They are still doing it. They are all very smart people, especially my wonderful sister-in-law, Diane who never gave an inch to Republicans before Trump. She became a Trumpster.

It took a while for a lot of Democrats, such as I, to know that today's Democratic leaders are really progressives who care little about the American people and that includes most regular Democrats. It is a slow conversion to conservatism as I have found with many of my liberal progressive friends. Joe Biden's ineptness and anti-American decisions are making it a lot easier for conservatives to convince former hard-corps Dems.

Buried in the disapproval rating are some real conservatives, nationalists, and populists who believed that the elite Republicans who later were identified as the SWAMP and the NEVER-Trumpers, could never be trusted. Some, like the Bushes, we had one time trusted enough to give them governorships and presidencies but God helped us recently understand that the Bush's were always for the elite and they all but lied to all the people about important American issues such as immigration. We did not know it then but wondered why no action on immigration in eight Bush years? Democrats are corrupt while Republicans lie consistently to their base.

What a disappointment for me and many. The whining Bushes became babies about Trump's rough way of dealing with them as political foes. They are now Never Trumpers of the highest order, meaning they have no regard for the American people who voted for them or President Trump. I lost my respect for the Bushes and even John McCain when they all readily exchanged their love of America for selfish retribution.

Along with a number of one-time favorites of conservatives, these guys had always been against conservatives but had lied and played along for political gain. Here is a list of some of the most notorious of these "outlaws" without mentioning the Bushes again. Many, who still hold elected office have gotten quiet or have recanted their negative allegiance.

President Trump has more than proven himself and of course for self-preservation, many came back into the fold. However, there are many more, such as those in the short list below and on the next page who have not come back and many have become dirty Democrats to spite Trump. Why the Democratic Party would even want such people is a conundrum. I put a question mark on some maybes.

Jennifer Rubin
David Frum
Ana Navarro
Bill Kristol
Brit Hume?
Michael Chertoff,
Michael Mukasey
Colin Powell
Tom Ridge,
John Kasich
Mitt Romney
John McCain
Jeff Flake
Joe Scarborough
J.C. Watts
Max Boot,
Steve Schmidt
George Will
Leon Wolf
Glenn Beck?
Stephen Hayes
Etc.

As far as I am concerned, these guys are all either buffoons or goofs. They all have one thing in common. As kids when they owned the ball and when they did not get their way, they took their ball and went home, not a one of them had paid for the ball and none of them were ever paperboys. The scent of privilege wafts in the air as I recite their names.

I read where a New York Times columnist declared that the anti-Trump movement is a failure. Brooks lines up with the Never Trumpers and he says that “We have persuaded no one.... We have not hindered him.... We have not dislodged him.... We have not contained him.” He went on to suggest that the “Trump’s takeover of the Republican Party is complete. Eighty-nine percent of Republicans have a positive impression of the man.” It’s more than that!

The new Republicans minus guys like George Will who quit the Party over Trump is a party that is almost 100% united for the good of America. Some negative people would say that Trump supporters are all in accord with a supposed Trump agenda of “antipathy toward Muslims, immigrants, atheists, and gays and lesbians, and racial resentment and concerns about discrimination against whites.” I think these guys are getting their news from MSNBC. God sure keeps his sunlight from their thoughts.

But this is typical of Democrats and the drive-by media. When the truth does not work for them, they conjure up some lies and blend it with some fake news to keep their daily soap opera rolling.

By the way, I wondered what had happened to the cocky know-it-all George Will. He talked his way right out of Fox News right after he left the Republican Party. Donald Trump heard he was gone and fired out a twitter:

“George Will, one of the most overrated political pundits (who lost his way long ago), has left the Republican Party. He's made many bad calls”

I figured Will out a while ago. I had thought his brain got so big that it created head trauma. Instead if you can imagine the Will caricature with an enlarged head—that is really the problem. His head had gotten so big that he had a hard time getting into most regular sized rooms and it has impinged on the size of his brain (scrunched it to become a mini brain) to the point that an average Green Giant Pea now exceeds the diameter of his cranium. Who knows how long G. Will will be able to rant anti-Trump hate sounds from a brain that is less than the size of a pea?

OK, enough of the ad hominem attacks from me. But then again if we think about it, all of the Trump attacks are ad hominem and the press, even the great George Will never complains when Trump is attacked.

God knew and still knows the country is at stake

Though the Constitution Party, the Green Party, and the Libertarian Party, and other parties had their own sponsored candidates in the General Election, the importance of the 2016 election was well understood by ordinary citizens. Our country was at stake. It still is for another four years if we let Biden have his way in a role he cannot fill. I expected that many from these parties would vote against the status quo to make America great again. Trump had and still has the only message that resonated with the bulk of the American people. Think about that interim side-trip to California folks.

I happen to be a lifelong Democrat who has been sick of the Democrat Party for at least the last thirty years. I have similar sentiments for the apologetic corrupt anti-American press. At first it seemed unintentional. Now I see it as part of a plan to indoctrinate the American people into believing that socialism and communism and Marxist principles are better than American values.

For America to remain strong, the Democrats and Hillary Clinton needed to be defeated in 2016. They were. Now, the Democrats in Congress and Joe Biden's initiatives must be defeated. Otherwise the changed world we experience will not be like the America we expect it to be.

All citizens were needed and are needed again for us to make this happen. We did it and we must do it again. It starts again in California very soon. God helped us all see his light and we did it. God gave us Donald Trump and we must do what need be done to get him back in office. Being Governor of California needs to be part of that plan. Then, in 2024 the presidency will be a shoe-in.

The reluctant Hillary endorsement in 2016 by Bernie Sanders and the Debbie Wasserman Schultz firing showed that the Democrats were the Party of chicanery, deceit, and downright cheating. Bernie endorsed Biden in a marriage made in hell but Biden has reneged already on this promises. God always knew it but now all Americans know it too.

It is nauseating how far to the dark side of the Force that Democratic leadership has gone. Why can we not, despite all our searching, find an honest Democratic Leader who really loves America? Joe Biden from Scranton is not that man. How could his brothers and sisters and sons have become millionaires if the chicanery was not more important than honesty?

Was it not a wonderful sight for the Trump family to participate in the two conventions and the campaign for the good of America? It was a pleasure hearing from Melania, Tiffany, Donald Jr., Eric, and Ivanka. What talent! What a family? Even Ronald Reagan had detractors in his family. Why does Trump's family think he is OK? Maybe because he is!

Why does God think Trump is OK? Maybe because he is. But, he surely is not perfect. Who is? I don't think being Governor of California is penance, I think it is opportunity and we can all help in getting it done. Talk it up. We do not have much time.

Please allow a digression for a brief discussion of family talent and how families such as the Trump family can do great things together.

America has great potential. It's in there!

My father was one of six Kelly brothers – Martin, Ed, Pat, Joe, Mike, & Phil. They were born from about 1910 to 1925. They were all high-school basketball greats in the 1930's and 1940's. Later in their twenties, the younger five of the brothers played up and down the Wilkes-Barre Wyoming Valley and won their share of many great games against other organized teams. Nobody sat on the bench. There were only five Kelly brothers who played the sport and the bench was always cold.

The Kelly brothers reminded me of the five talent laden Trumps at the conventions. It was overwhelming. There was nobody warming the Trump bench because they were all out winning the game—just like the Kelly boys.

As an American worried about America, I am appreciative for God encouraging the Donald Trump candidacy and for lending the Five Trumps to the people of the United States during his ever so important campaign for America. Again, it is both heartwarming and very refreshing. It is just one of many reasons why Trump won the presidency in 2016 and in 2020, and why God’s favor still rests upon him as he goes for another four years for the people after his hiatus in California.

We need every one of the Trump soldiers, especially their leader, who thankfully became our president. We now know how great Making America Great can be.

The Trump campaign expected bad stuff to continue--low blows, untruths, unkind assaults, and whatever vile actions the establishment elites, the Democrats, and the corrupt media, undeserving of being called the “fourth estate” choose to unleash. The press chose not to represent America or Americans but instead represented the lowest of life’s== in the Democratic Party and they all loved creating fake news.

So, in the final analysis of why God helped Donald Trump win the presidency, and why he is preparing to do it again in 2024, it was because God knew only HE could marshal together all the Trumps, Mike Pence, the Trump campaign team, and we the people at home. God and then Donald Trump needed everybody to continue the fight against the forces of the dark side. We now know that Mike Pence cannot be trusted but Ron DeSantis will make a great Vice President and he will glide into the presidency in 2028.

It was very important. Trump not only needed them all, with God's help, he got all the Trumps, Mike Pence most of the time, the Trump campaign team, and all of us at home. We continue to this day to fight against the forces of the dark side, the Obama resistance, and the residue of the pre and post Barr corrupt Justice Department.

Believers did not believe the fake news. Their purpose was deceit. The truth has always been a foreign notion to the Hillary people. Biden carries the same credo. When Donald Trump won, all Americans won. My sincere thanks to the Trumps for taking on the rot in the Washington DC Swamp area of America to bring America and Americans a big 2016 victory.

I still have my smile. Nobody can wipe it away.

It is ready to grow with the new California Governor, Donald J. Trump, God willing, followed by another four years of President Donald J. Trump.

Chapter 7 Big Tech Takedown by Governor Trump

Let's start by asking who is Big Tech?

	Google	Facebook	Apple	Twitter	Amazon	Microsoft
Name				×
Gender			×	×	×
Birthday			×	×	×
Phone Number
Email Address

Big Tech is a commonly used term that refers to the major technology firms that to some have gotten too big for their britches. Some polish this up to read “which have inordinate influence” That sure is an understatement. Heck, Big Tech had the outright gall to censor President Donald Trump. When Trump becomes governor of California, they will be crying about that decision.

The list of Big Techies includes Twitter, Facebook, Apple, Google, Amazon, and some even throw in Microsoft for good measure. Having put in 23 years with IBM, I am sure Big Blue is disappointed that they are not included in when people think of Big Tech. After all, IBM started it all. And, yes, I wrote a book about that years ago. It is huge and it took me a long time to finish it. It is well worth the read.

Most of Big Tech of today were teenie-weenie tech companies that were part of the miracle of Little Tech v IBM. Here is the book on the next page. It is still available on Amazon because it is still current.

Doug McIntyre, writing for Wall St. Technology nets it out real good: IBM lacks all the critical measures of big tech success. Its cloud operation is relatively small, and cloud computing is at the core of the stock price improvement of most of its rivals. It has no highly consumer-focused products or services like Microsoft's Windows, Apple's iPhone or Amazon's e-commerce products...

IBM's problem is that it has no convincing case that it can ever return to the top tier of American tech companies. In fact, its chance to do that lessens with each reported quarter.

This is the story of how IBM helped today's technology millionaires and billionaires gain vast fortunes. This edition of the book is as current as the second edition. However, it has less pages because a section not in the original was added to the second edition. This edition is your best bet to learn the essence of the book without

What happened? The book tells you that one day, the government sued IBM and took away its marketing might and fight.

My book tells you how IBM became the best and how it lost it all. The survivors in tech should thank IBM every day for their $billions. IBM is politically correct, however. That explains why their management is not in any way effective. The company would gain by bringing in Donald J. Trump as a business consultant.

That's why IBM is not considered Big Tech. The Big Tech companies would laugh if I snuck IBM in among them. IBM is a paper tiger. No fight. Big Tech would eat your lunch even if they knew it would kill you. That's the difference. Bit Tech needs to be put down like wild dog. Making Donald Trump Governor Of California, Big Tech's unimpeded bas for operations would get that job done.

The Congress had brought in the Big Tech Tyrants on numerous occasions but the Congress v Big Tech is like a toothless tiger. Worse than that, if you had the right tools to check out the campaign supporters or the consulting contracts of our esteemed legislators, I am convinced that you would find all the big tech guys on most of the Congress's list to the tune of millions of dollars. If you heard me say that our Congress is on the take to Big Tech, I would deny that but it is what it is.

There are some in Congress who live on their salaries and are not diving and swimming off their yachts in their spare time. The list of good members of Congress however, is diminishing as more sign up for the Big Tech Gravy Graft Train. Don't say I said that; or I will deny it. Humph!

One of the good guys in Congress who is definitely on the people's side is Rep. Andy Biggs, R-Ariz. He has often criticized Big Tech's ability to suppress voices it disagrees with. He recently condemned Big Tech acts such as blacklisting Trump and de-platforming the right-leaning social media site Parler as nothing less than "dictatorial" efforts to suppress speech.

The conservative congressman is quoted as saying that he feared such gestures by Amazon, Apple, Google, Facebook, and Twitter would lead to more "bitterness" in public discourse. No kidding. Who do they think they are?

Tucker Carlson who lost a lot of conservative friends over Sidney Powell is working his way back into grace. He sees it 20-20. He recently said Big Business & Big Tech, and the Big important Democrats under Biden are fully aligned and they are ready and able to crush all dissent.

TUCKER CARLSON: BIG BUSINESS, BIG TECH
AND THE DEMOCRATS ARE FULLY ALIGNED AND READY TO CRUSH DISSENT

Here is a final quote from one of my favorites, Andy Biggs: "First of all, I condemn the [Capitol] violence. That was outrageous, and it was horrible, frankly. I have every confidence that those individuals are going to be apprehended and prosecuted. But [Senator Chuck Schumer] is asking for a declaration that they are domestic terrorists. He wants it done immediately to prevent them from getting on airplanes. I'm not sure that's the wisest thing. Certainly, we need to get after these people, arrest them, and prosecute them, and that would be appropriate .. You have a book deal from Josh Hawley being cancelled. That's part of the cancel culture. If you really want to bring unity and cool down the simmering embers that are burning right now, you don't pour more gas on the fire. That's what I think these people are trying to do ...

“When you start suppressing speech, first of all, it's dictatorial. Second, it violates our constitutional right. But the third thing I would say is it causes people to go underground, and as people go underground .. you get more conspiracy type theories involved. It gets injected with more hatred. It gets injected with more bitterness

The way they're doing this, they're going to prevent discussions that make us all progress and solve issues. Instead, they're going to foment more problems, more discord by doing this. My opinion, they're trying to create a single party system, and that's wrong.”

So, what is the solution? If I did not have Trump as Governor as my ultimate solution I would hope that the Feds would do something but think they are on the take either ideologically or through campaign donations. I don't trust Merrick Garland. I don't trust Bill Barr. Why cant we find honest people anymore. I do trust Governor Trump to solve the problem.

Before Trump takes over as Governor, consider these solutions: Big Tech needs to be broken up. A true and honest DOJ led by a patriotic American which we know Biden will not support, must expand its antitrust lawsuits to include not only google but Facebook, Twitter and Amazon and all of the rest as well.

Why do the people know what to do and the Congress does not? Break up all those companies, just like the oil, railroad and phone companies of the past. They cause more harm than good. Get rid of all the wimps in Congress that do not care about the people.

Over time we have learned that 99.9% of Trump supporters did not storm the Capitol, yet they are being treated as if they did. The Democrats with their big media and Big Tech crooked allies are a formidable force. If they were reasonable, they would realize that if you disenfranchise 74 million people you will ultimately create 2 different Americas.

Maybe that is an OK solution. The Democrats would not be armed. There are not a lot of Army bases in New York City but they exist all over Fly-Over Country. It seems that with Biden wanting to take our guns, that may be where we are headed. That's Ok with me. My only regret is that getting there will most likely be a violent process. Who wants that?

Do you want to know why Big Tech is shutting down conservatives? It is a simple answer. These liberal minded and Soros funded social media platforms enjoy the protection afforded by Democratic Legislators. When the fact-checking sources contracted by them have documented ties with the Democratic Party, they've breached the blanket coverage clause entitled for privately held companies.

Supposedly the public using Twitter, etc. as their "independent" news source. How can this work when this social media platform limits, flags, censors, labels, or bans conservative-minded users and related content. Come on Joe! What we really have is essentially a state run media here in the United States.

Are the Democrats willing to even say this is a Republic based on a Democracy? With all the guano we are getting, it is tough to believe that Democrats have any concern for the Constitution, which runs our Republic.

Are we no longer residing in a Democratic Republic, folks. Only the Republic of China can be proud of what we have become. I blame CNN and the other lying media outlets. People are trained to believe the News but not the Fake News and that is the Rub. China and the bought and paid for politicians have shown us the way. If we choose to deny this truth, admitted to by the Biden regime, we are kidding ourselves. We must Wake Up differently than the woke crowd.

To net it out folks, the fact is that Big Tech companies such as Twitter, FB, Amazon, and Google are political machines working hard to destroy the conservatives to push on the liberalism agenda. A new people supported platform needs to be created by our side, Its job is to nourish the free speech. 90 millions of Trump's Twitter followers would join them and would then enjoy freedom to express their patriotic America-first ideas, thoughts, concerns, and emotions

We intrinsically know that is correct and the reason that Big Tech chose to influence the election in favor of Biden is that Trump was hard on China. Big Tech wants favorable treatment from China for one simple reason. Money—unless Hunter Biden sucked it all out of China already. The fact is that Big Tech chose China over America. Simple as that. For the Democrats, as long as there is a United States with a Constitution, there can be no New World Order otherwise known as globalism.

I don't really blame the Democrat electorate, though most of the Dems who love Biden IMHO whom I have observed first-hand are blockheads, they have been brainwashed 24/7 by CNN and MSNBC et al which serve the spiked Kool-Aid from the MSM every day.

Casual inspectors (regular Americans) of the MSM such as CNN et al, cannot stay watching these airwaves for too long so long that they too get infected from the disease being spewed every minute of every day. Check out the MSM folks but at your own risk. They lie. That is why President Trump referred to them as the Fake News Media.

Let me leave you with this thought I got from a commenter:

First they came for the conservatives, and I did not speak out— Because I was not a conservative. Then they came for the police, and I did not speak out— Because I was not a policeman. Then they came for the socialists, and I did not speak out—Because I was not a socialist. Then they came for me, a politician —and there was no one left to speak for me.

To be honest, I'm tired of every conservative prefacing every comment with "Of course I denounce the Capitol violence...." Look at what is happening to the country and our political system! Of course people are getting desperate. The same debate occurred prior to the Revolution - "let's be non-violent and petition the King one more time." But thankfully, there were the Patrick Henry's of the world who would rather die than end up a slave.

At some point, with the accelerating attempts by Bog Tech and others to make conservatism a non-acceptable ideology, and to further marginalize those who believe in it, we may all be faced with a similar decision. Do we want to be the 21st Century version of the 1930's Jewish population under Hitler? The perennial question there is "Why for the love of God did they not fight back?!?"

Democrats are America's party of National Socialism. In Nazi Germany, only the Nazi party was legal. Similarly, the Democrats goal is a single-party totalitarian state.

One thing for sure. The Democrats are not for free speech. Have you heard even one of them speak out against the Big Tech censorship of conservatives? Not only are they not for free speech, they want to take it away. They are harassing Ted Cruz to resign because he exposes them for it. This is how the Nazis took over Germany. And the Dem electorate seems completely oblivious. Must the spiked Kool-Aid that the MSM serves up 24/7 be the only drink for conservatives?

Of course if we can wait, Big Tech is eventually going to get taught the big lesson. You know, the one that Ma Bell learned over twenty years ago. Somehow arrogance never really learns. Democrats are using the Big Tech folks as proxies to control and manipulate our information highway to a one way street for them only.

Americans know that Trump has never called for violence nor does he support riots or violence. Harris and the Democrat squad explicitly incited BLM/Antifa uprising last summer. Big Techs, although a non-government entity, violate Trump and his supporters right of free speech, while allowing Iran and other enemies to post hate and threat speeches to Americans. We know intrinsically this is prohibited by our Constitution

When Twitter and Facebook decided to ban President Donald Trump, censor The New York Post, and start erasing other people and institutions from their platforms, they started down a path which will have enormous consequences for them and for America. When Google, Amazon and Apple joined in taking down Parler, a conservative social media platform, they reached critical mass in proving that an oligarchical cabal was potentially seeking to control public dialogue for all Americans. Watch out. Trump becoming the ruler of California would be a great first step in solving that problem.

Even the American Civil Liberties Union, normally an opponent of conservatives, felt moved to have its senior legislative counsel Kate Ruane issue a statement that Big Tech using its power to remove political speech is a concern for all Americans, saying: “We understand the desire to permanently suspend him now, but it should concern everyone when companies like Facebook and Twitter wield the unchecked power to remove people from platforms that have become indispensable for the speech of billions—especially when political realities make those decisions easier for the perpetrators.

Certainly, what Big Tech is doing re: censorship is legal for now, but they may be awakening the sleeping giant. Most people will realize that they may be next and, generally, people on both sides don't like someone else filtering their news.

Conservatives say Big Tech companies, pressured by liberals, are using the Capitol attack to justify the unfair censorship of Republicans and the removal of platforms like Parler.

Peter Navarro, Trump's top trade adviser, told the Washington Examiner that most Big Tech companies have been aggressively moderating certain violent content "as a way of building goodwill, with the Biden administration and Democrats on the Hill, in the hopes of fending off what, until recently, had been a bipartisan challenge to their collusive oligopoly."

Navarro claims that the combined powers of Big Tech companies, primarily Twitter, Facebook, Amazon, and Google, represent a "collusive oligopoly" that is weakening the First Amendment through content moderation.

Although most conservatives disagreed strongly with the Capitol attack last week and acknowledge the role some Republicans played in encouraging it, many see a double standard in how the content created by liberals and conservatives is censored by the Big Tech gatekeepers.

"The abiding fact is that these platforms have been noticeably silent over the past six months of incredible violence perpetrated by Black Lives Matter and antifa," Navarro said.

Conservatives said that if an individual or organization was aligned with a liberal agenda, then it was likely to face much less scrutiny from the tech gatekeepers.

Navarro, who is one of Trump's staunchest defenders after the Capitol attack, said Facebook and Congress, the president and the Justice Department need to tell the bullies that their rule over the virtual and retail playground is over.

Newsom and the Big Techies

In a published interview, California Governor Gavin Newsom said big tech companies in his state could soon be "steamrolled" through federal regulations. Significant changes could impact them at the federal and state levels, according to Axios.

"Are they going to lead in that conversation and engage in it? Or are they going to get completely steamrolled? By current pace, they are going to get steamrolled," Newsom said.

At the same time, Newsom stands behind a so-called data dividend concept that makes tech platforms pay those who live in California for money they make by selling their personal information. According to the report, the current governor did not know how large those amounts should be. "Your data is being monetized every single nanosecond," Newsom noted. "And, to the extent it's been monetized and it's yours, I think in some way, shape or form, you should be rewarded."

Newsom must be on the take from Big Tech so he has to watch his Ps and Qs. Thus, he did not address whether Facebook and Google should be split into smaller pieces, per the wishes of Democratic U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Warren of Massachusetts and others. He did, however, call out Facebook for not taking down a video of House Speaker Nancy Pelosi from its platform. Newsom wanted to spare his relative Nancy the trouble of complaining “It’s just fake – it’s made up. It’s doctored. It’s done for political purposes,” he said. How does he know?

The news comes as Warren introduced a plan to break up large tech firms such as Amazon and Facebook in an effort that could limit the growth of Silicon Valley. Warren wrote in a blog post in March 2020 that “today’s big tech companies have too much power – too much power over our economy, our society and our democracy.” Somebody will shut her up because she is off script.

Warren nonetheless continued: “They’ve bulldozed competition, used our private information for profit and tilted the playing field against everyone else. And in the process, they have hurt small businesses and stifled innovation.” She went on to explain that almost half of all eCommerce goes through Amazon, while more than 70 percent of all web traffic is through sites owned or operated by Facebook or Google.

At a different scale, we could decisively move away from Amazon, Google and Microsoft’s control over cloud computing and imagine computing as a basic 21st-century utility. Initiatives such as the European Union’s Open Science Cloud demonstrate one model for providing a publicly funded and operated cloud infrastructure.

There's no reason why governments shouldn't provide citizens with free access to a public cloud that ensures privacy, security, energy efficiency and equal access for all. Our digital infrastructures should not be left in the hands of profit-seeking monopolies, but instead run democratically for the common good. Amen!

Something needs to be done to rein in the increasing economic and political power of big tech, and fast. But the instinctual liberal belief in the value of competition will exacerbate rather than solve the problems. We need to think bigger if we are to take back control of our digital lives.

A lot of these thoughts are original by Nick Srnicek, a lecturer in digital economy at King's College London and the author of Platform Capitalism

If you believe America is engaged in a life-or-death battle over its identity, in which the past looks golden keep looking. How does the future looks? Well, Biden's America looks like it has been painted by the Democratic elites for the elites and the rich, regardless of the impact on blue-collar lives or the middle class. Mr Trump would sound like he's on our side because he is.

If you have not figured out Biden's America by now, H.L Menchen explained ahead of time where Biden came from:

On some great and glorious day the plain folks of the land will reach their heart's desire at last, and the White House will be adorned by a downright moron. H. L. Menchen

"I love you too. Who said that?" Trump said in a joking manner while pointing to the crowd at a campaign rally. "Who said that?"

If you believe the forces driving the unwelcome changes are the media and immigration, then Mr Trump's 2016 Arizona speech may still be music to your ears. Trump and the people are in accord.

Think of who out there agrees with Trump? Well for starters, it is at least half of Republicans and more than likely because Republicans do not brag about Trump for lots of personal reasons, nonetheless a significant portion—well over 30% of them want all immigrants living in the U.S. illegally to be deported. For many it is to keep their jobs, for others it is to assure living wages, and for still others because they did not ask for another mouth to feed. There is an even higher percentage of Americans (72 percent) that favor some path to a legal status after a long period of time. The Americans that I know who favor

Trump don't like him because of the research by the Pew Research Center, which gives their research a leftist slant and rounds up on the illegal immigrant side. That is exactly what Trump and the people do not want.

Long before Trump entered into the political arena, for example, in the 2013 immigration debate, House Republicans pushed legalization of illegals but not citizenship. After two weeks of flirting with possibly coming around to that House GOP position, Trump has moved firmly to their right in a country that is growing decreasingly white and increasingly Latino.

Latinos to some are surprisingly pro Trump. Not surprising to me because legal Latinos, just like legal Irish make good US citizens. There is a healthy coalition of Republican Latinos in the battleground state of Arizona who believed having Trump for a second term would guarantee their concerns for the country are addressed and conservative social values centered on the economy and faith are protected and maintained. They voted for him but their votes were stolen by the machine.

Latinos do not want illegal immigrants from any country taking their jobs either. They want the opportunity to continue with their personal American Dreams—that is why they came to this country as immigrants. Those who came in the 1990's after the Reagan amnesty were not happy being illegal and they chose to become American citizens. Some run for public office such as a lady who took her oath in 1991 and is now running for a position on the County Board of Supervisors. They worked to become citizens because they love America and they think that is what all immigrants must do.

Chapter 8 The US has No Honest Press!

Having fired so many people on the Apprentice, Donald Trump knows the media in the US does not consist of a bunch of choir boys. He found that it was worse than even he imagined. It was as if the Deep State had arisen from the depths of the dismal swamp of Washington just to torment him because Hillary in 2016, their favorite, had lost. They have persisted for the last four years in a full alliance with the Democratic Party.

Because he is a smart man, Trump saw the cabal of his political enemies as what they are. Foremost in his sights were the men who led the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the National Security Agency, and the Central Intelligence Agency. They ran a cryptocracy that was and somehow even with him as the boss, still operated under the cover of the founders' constitutionally established government. Yet, they continued to engage in an immense conspiracy, a dark force seeking to destroy him. Though his supporters do not accept the flummery, there are too many Americans who do.

Trump and the bulk of his supporters and God for sure see the FBI's lawmen as subversive crooks and the CIA's spooks as similar to Nazi stormtroopers. All the worst that he could imagine, they have already done to him and anybody in his campaign and his family—anybody that they got close enough to torment.

The President in his day rightfully believed that they had tapped his phones, placed spies in his midst, and sabotaged him from long before his inauguration. And, of course they are all joined in cahoots with a corrupt press; and, more dangerously, they were seemingly joined by their love of the “most honest man in the world,” Robert S. Mueller III, the FBI director from 2001 to 2013.

Mueller became the special counsel overseeing the criminal investigations of Trump and his cohorts. He is a man who acted as if he had dementia but had been given the power to take apart the Trump presidency and perhaps put him in jail ala Martha Stewart. Mueller who some say was once Republican, hired all Democrats to bring Trump down. Yet, in the end, he could not get the goods on the president but he took quiet pleasure in tormenting the president and his team nonetheless.

While I wake up most days during his term smiling that the President still was still on duty, working on my behalf, he woke up knowing there were those who would love to eliminate him from earth if they could. I am so glad that Donald Trump is a smart and strong man. So are many in America and with his recent illness the love for Trump was shown immensely. Perhaps he should take the time off that being Governor of California can give him. He can get a break and still help America.

Four years ago, we heard the chant “Lock her up!” but recently, especially in the late 2020 rallies because the people now really know and understand the president, they have actually stunned Trump. He was speechless the first time he heard his supporters chant “We Love You.” He heard this eventually at Rallies in NC & MI. It brought the president who is also a human being to tears.

Watching these rallies, even before he was infected with COVID, the president appeared to be caught off guard as the crowd chanted “We Love You!” It was amazing, He appeared his usual humble and he was sincerely appreciative of the gesture. This could be one of the best rally moments ever. I would say so.

Do we have a Fourth Estate today?

The intellectuals of the 18th and 19th centuries, especially Edmund Burke, gave us the notion of a Fourth Estate (the press and all other media) as a civil watchdog to keep an eye on those in power. It is very clear from the writing of Thomas Paine and others, who pointed out and also acted upon the idea, that we may have just cause to overthrow the state if it is seen to be no longer acting in our interests.

This is not trivial. For its own reasons, the press in the US has abdicated its role as the Fourth Estate. The natives are not yet restless enough to overthrow the government, but some think we were pretty close during the Obama Times. Now with Biden messing with the Constitution, and wanting more than anything to take the guns, who knows what the future holds? Will we have another King George-like moment in our history

Not everybody knows that the founders were not thinking "hunting," when they explicitly added the Second Amendment to the Bill of Right. Their reasoning was and still is what really drives Americans to actively defend the second amendment. Though hunting with rifles is important, it is not hunting that is the root cause of the drive by patriotic Americans to protect the founders' intention of second Amendment.

There is the possibility and perhaps there is even a likelihood that at some time in the future, scoundrels would take over the government and would need to be dealt a blow that only an armed citizenry could deliver. Has that already happened? We may be inclined to ask this when we see all the formal dishonesty and deceit in the media and in the Democratic Party, especially the far left. How far can citizens be pushed?

The media today from all we can see, would be on the side of the scoundrels so it may not be as easy to defend as the founder's envisioned. In their worst day scenario, the founders would never have envisioned the Fourth Estate going bad on America.

Finding that the very scoundrels who have been driving our country to perdition are also trying as hard as they can to take our guns away, make this notion ever more frightening and real. This is just another of many reasons why Trump was elected.

Today, governments such as ours that make the claim to be acting in the “public interest” must face daily scrutiny of their actions. This is a necessary duty of an alert public in a democratic republic.

The government must be called to account when overstepping the bounds of what citizens will support, or when taking actions that are clearly not in our interests. Today the press, unfortunately is in deep cahoots with the Democratic Party. It is as if the organizations merged at some time in the last ten years. r

There was a time when the public could rely on journalists and the news media to do the Fourth Estate stuff on our behalf. This separation between the people and the state becomes more important when the economic interests of the powerful establishment elites so frequently dominate society. People do not like to be pushed around and the way the Dems have loved their control in the middle of the pandemic is not good for liberty and freedom or our democratic republic.

In our modern world, the interest of “the nation,” can be deduced to be no more than the collective interest of those who wield political and economic power. That of course in 2016 gave rise to the silent revolution that put Donald Trump in office. We continue to experience this today as residue of the prior administration operating as the deep state as they have been interfering with a full and clean transition of power. Some worry that the voice of the people has been all but snuffed out by the powerful including Big Tech. The people are mad as hell and are not going to take it anymore. Donald Trump's first presidency is proof of that. When election fraud is eliminated, we will see Trump as president again.

Today, the state is the executive branch of the ruling class. And, more and more these "rulers," have stopped believing in a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Former president Obama claimed to have been a Constitutional Law Professor. Yet he attacked the Constitution daily by taking many unlawful actions of which most are aware. Many believe he is behind a lot of the issues President Trump faced while in office.

Remnants of his administration continued their attempts to assault The Constitution, the one document that gives the people all of the rights in America. This is another big reason why Trump got elected. We the people are no longer willing to settle for a government of the government, by the government and for the government. Unfortunately, for eight years before Trump, it would have been difficult to tell. That is why those who follow what's happening expect the people to rally again for Trump for another four years.

The news media – as the tribune of “the people” – has a major role as the Fourth Estate to constantly be on guard and alert to actions of the state, particularly when those actions may harm the interests of citizens. In recent years, the Fourth Estate has mostly been absent, serving as a wing of the Democratic Party. Since the onset of the Trump Administration, the Fourth Estate has actually disappeared. President Trump nonetheless gets his messages out by talking on social media directly to the people. He will do so with or without an honest press.

It would be nice if the press and the corrupt Democratic Party were not joined at the hip today. If it were not for a portion of Fox News, OANN, and Newsmax, and National Radio programs, and of course for the President's Tweets, and shows such as Rush Limbaugh RIP, Sean Hannity, Laura Ingraham, and Michael Savage (Who knows??) there would be little truth available in America today.

As of January, 2021 you will no longer hear Michael Savage on any radio station

Rush Limbaugh recently passed away leaving a huge hole for conservatives. Few know what really happened to Michael Savage. The story is than on September 30, 2020, Savage announced that Cumulus Media and Westwood One withdrew the terrestrial radio show from syndication on January 1, 2021, leaving only the podcast; he also stated he was under a gag order as to why the change was being made. Could it have been Big Tech

Though the Fourth Estate for over 200 years was vital to the interests of American citizens, somehow, we have been able to do fine without them from Trump's inauguration in 2017 and we will continue as long as the Fourth Estate sees fit to abandon the people.

Because our foes are Donald Trump's foes, while the Trump and Pence campaign gained momentum before its victory in November 2016, emboldened Trump haters on both sides of the political spectrum – the Bush supporters and Clinton Supporters—got more vicious. You've seen them in action.

In response, the people of America, aligned with the values brought forth in the Trump campaign fought back because there simply was no room to lose this battle against the dark forces, who for their own selfish interests were determined to keep the country weak. And so, we have yet another reason for the 2016 Trump victory and another reason for the 2020 steal. .

From the moment the TEA Party was born, and even now that the TEA is not as visible, Americans have been unwilling to take it anymore. While wishing and hoping that the official establishment would find its way and begin to represent the people in the way that got them elected, Donald Trump gave us a true hope that we could do it without the establishment.

Trump helped Americans once again feel that America is God's Country or as President Reagan would call it, a Shining City upon a Hill. The times from the recent past when there were glimmers from empty promises that were never fulfilled are over. Americans demanded and got a responsive government as promised by Donald Trump and Mike Pence. Yes, this too is a big reason why Trump got elected and why the process will be repeated in 2020.

Too bad our Congress has not gotten that full message yet. There was some weeping and gnashing of teeth as RINOS Never Trumpers take off for home after the 2018 elections. It is not nice to withhold support from President Trump. Unfortunately, it helped the Democrats take over the House. We saw the disregard Pelosi's House had for most of America. We must send Nancy and her gang packing in 2020.

It is the reason why so many of us joined with Donald Trump and the Trump family and the Trump campaign to get rid of the wretched establishment swamp. With Trump's clear and refreshing messages about making America great again, we became his loyal supporters. We elected Trump because we trust him.

We continue to believe that Donald Trump will keep his word as have presidents of the past such as John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Ronald Wilson Reagan. I can still see the Five Trumps playing on the first team at both conventions, all believing in the Trump candidacy and in America and Americans. When it was America's turn to believe in the whole Trump family, we elected Donald J. Trump as our president. We are still smiling.

We the people have simply gotten sick of everything being for the Republican big shots. We are tired of the establishment elites such as the George Bushes, Jeb Bush, Carl Rove, Brit Hume, the US Chamber of Commerce, and the many donors who think they can buy America simply by buying its weak, whiny, and wimpy politicians.

Meanwhile we see the Democrats of today brewing up one falsehood after another for the corrupt press to spread on an unwary accepting public that is too full of low information voters. Their objective right from the beginning has been to finish off the Trump team by telling enough lies that the people would finally believe them and acquiesce. They underrated those of us that see through their chicanery.

This will not happen this time! Democrat constituents saw the vile of the dishonest Democratic Party leaders and Hillary Clinton when they destroyed Bernie Sanders in a conspiracy of lies and double-dealing. More and more Democrats left the Party to vote for Donald Trump in primaries across the country and then, they stuck with Trump as the only salvation for the country right through the general election to today. That's why Trump got elected and why he will be inaugurated again in 2021. For now, we have to find some fresh honest Republicans to replace those Democrats in Congress as well as a number of stodgy swamp Republicans.

A small establishment elite had been running the Republican Party for far too long. They rigged the game against the people and were accustomed to things going their way. The beauty of the Trump election was that these RINOs got caught flat-footed when their old tricks and their "ram it quietly down their throats," tactics simply did not work on Americans this time.

Why? It was because Donald Trump, the antitheses of the establishment had already entered the arena, and he proceeded to knock the elites over one by one. Along the way he convinced the majority of Americans in a majority of the states that he was the real deal. And, so, we elected him President. The Trump honesty continues to be refreshing despite him being under attack by the most dishonest political class in US history. When he recovers from COVID soon, he will again lead America towards a better life for all. V

The rise of Trump was nothing less than a tidal wave. In their deluded minds, the establishment actually thought they could steal the nomination from Donald Trump and that their strategy would work just the same as it did against Ron Paul in 2012. But Trump has a constituency, which includes you and yours truly. that would not stand for it. And, so, he got elected in 2016 as a people's favorite.

I am reminded of Japanese Naval Marshal General Isoroku Yamamoto who, after Pearl Harbor confessed: "I fear all we have done is to awaken a sleeping giant and filled him with a terrible resolve." The attempts of the establishment elites to derail the Trump Campaign were thwarted by a fed-up public.

We wanted Trump, period! We the public had gotten very sick of Republican broken promises. We lost trust in the Party elite leaders and the donors who no longer care about the people. And, with firm resolve we won the presidential election for Donald Trump. We know we need to stock the Congress with Trump supporters in 2020 and that will happen.

Yes, Donald Trump did manage to awaken the silent majority of Americans who previously either did not care or simply did not bother to vote. Some in the past just shrugged their shoulders and accepted that the system was rigged and that all of the little men in the world—all of us insignificant citizens of America, could not make an impact under any circumstances. Trump is the difference. The people rose up and are taking our power back. That is why Trump got elected and why he will be back for four more in 2021.

Trump has always been for the non-establishment brand of citizen, who simply depends on honest representatives to keep our democratic republic operating smoothly. He is the perfect alternative to candidates who do the bidding of Bush's and Clintons and their ilk, who somehow have become richer and richer while the ordinary people have become poorer and poorer. Donald J. Trump became the perfect alternative for leaders who had permitted America herself to be turned into a debt-ridden shadow of its once great self.

Unfortunately, because of elitist propaganda from both Republicans and Democrat members of the establishment, in full cahoots with the corrupt main-stream media, the fourth estate, full of journalists that have forgotten American History, the American public chose a quiet revolt. We hear it all and are disgusted and we are lined up against those still willing and eager to put forth their hatred against Donald Trump like as if it is the common opinion.

We voted for Donald Trump against all those lies and the daily soap opera and we are ready to support him against all odds.

Chapter 9 America's President Should Run for California Governor

Ron DeSantis is a powerful man with a powerful physique. He needs it with all of the arrows he needs to fend off from jealous blue state politicians and the main-stream media. Because he serves the people like Donald J. Trump, rare officials for sure, and because he makes all Democrats look silly if not plain old bad, the main-stream corrupt press hates him almost as much as they hate Trump. I like to say that Ron DeSantis, the well-loved Governor of Florida, by most Floridians, will one day be president of the United States of America.

Governor DeSantis passes all positive expectations with an Outstanding Exceeds grade. In many ways he is firm like President Trump, He uses his own mind to make major decisions, and he is for the people. How can you not like him. He is like a younger Trump. Gavin Newsom on the other end of the country in Callyfornia, is just the opposite.

Whereas in almost all counties in Florida, the state is open and thriving, kids are in school, and masks are optional, Gavin Newsom's California is closed. Kids cannot attend school because Teacher Unions support Newsom and besides that there is one silly regulation after another with which small businesses must cope. Oh, he takes care of Big tech out there and they reward him with their loyalty.

I heard someone say just the other day that Newsom's regulations make so much sense that they appear to have been crafted by a body part and they appear to come directly from a well-used spot in the center of his two back pockets if you get my drift. OK, I said it. You got me.

Newsom is the guy that issued a no inside dining law and then was caught within days eating inside at a fancy restaurant with $1000 a plate entrées. Photos obtained by a station in Los Angeles show the governor in the company of multiple lobbyists and raise questions about how truthful Newsom was in claiming his dinner was outdoors. What's a little lying to save your butt?

Besides no school for kids and hypocrisy in dining laws, California has nothing to offer the modern public. Whereas Florida hosted the Super Bowl with fans in the stands, Newsom forced the Rose Bowl out of California and the game was played in Texas where life is almost as good as in Florida. What rule that he imposed did this? No fans were allowed. Are you kidding me?

While Floridians were open for the Thanksgiving Day festivities and home dinners and hugs, they were also open for Christmas. Californians had to get out the videos from the prior Turkey Day. Now, the only ones praying to the God of meatless meals were the Turkeys and they got their wish. Newsom cracked down on the holidays with a few regulations directly from you know where. Try these on and see if they fit your family—especially in the Northeast with this year's great weather.

- “All gatherings must be held outside.”
- “Gatherings that include more than 3 households are prohibited.”
- “As much as possible, any food or beverages at outdoor gatherings must be in single-serve disposable containers. If providing single-serve containers is not possible, food and beverages must be served by a person who washes or sanitizes their hands frequently, and wears a face covering.”

They say there was a run on miniature Turkeys after this last regulation was squeezed out but there was no positive verification .

California Governor Gavin Newsom tightened COVID-19 Restrictions on many different occasions. In a Yo-yo approach following the wind and his whims, Newsom ran the state like a toy. In 40 counties, he squeezed the life out of the businesses and the people.

His big league comments are even trite: “We Are Now Moving Backwards Not Forwards.” In early November, Newsom's regulation machine was hard at work. Despite his many splendored lockdowns, nothing has helped his numbers. Meanwhile Floridians and Georgians and Texans were enjoying plain old freedom, a politically incorrect outmoded, overrated notion according to Democrat officials across the state and the country..

Yes, Mr. Regulation, Gavin Newsom himself, announced more restrictions on freedom. He noted that despite his best efforts, the number of COVID-19 cases had doubled in the one week, with 10,968 new cases on Monday. He said that was the fastest rate of rise the state had seen during the pandemic. He did not suggest it had anything to do with his no school, stay inside your homes, and lockdown orders.

He said that there had been a 48% increase in hospital beds occupied by coronavirus patients in the past two weeks alone. The number of ICU patients with COVID-19 had risen 38% over the same period. Newsom: “We are now seeing community spread throughout the state of California.” Lockdowns don’t work Mr. Newsom!

The governor revealed that the acceleration of counties moving back through the state’s tiered reopening system that was foreshadowed by California’s Health and Human Services Secretary, Dr, Mark Ghaly was being implemented. “This is no longer a marathon,” said

Newsom, “this is a sprint.” Clever verbiage. Hopefully their PR guy is getting paid all he or she deserves

Meanwhile Ron DeSantis in Florida has not only helped make America great again. How did he do that? He has made Florida great again by enacting principles that favor the people of Florida even when the corrupt press is against him. He knows how to fight and he wins like President Trump. Now that Newsom is being recalled, he has few friends.

On a Monday just a few weeks ago in February 2021, the California Governor, Gavin Newsom showed up a half an hour late to his own party. He was scheduled to speak about Covid-19 at a news conference at 11:30 am,. He didn't appear until noon. That's unlike the governor, but this is an unusual time for him.

Newsom is the secondary reason we wrote this book and of course the first reason is our desire to have Donald Trump replace him in California. The people are doing well enough themselves on the recall and they already have enough votes to recall him.

We have surely explained in this book that the boyish looking and acting governor is the target of a statewide recall effort, and activists working to put his removal to a vote say that they have garnered over 1.5 million of the estimated 1.5 million signatures needed. They will be happy when they get about 2 million signatures as an adequate safety margin

The buzzards are already circling around Newsom with the scent of his demise in the wind. They hope to get a piece of the carcass. For example on the same Monday in February, a new Republican challenger, businessman John Cox, who Newsom beat handily in the last election, declared his intention to challenge the governor in the proposed recall election when it qualifies for the ballot.

Fox also noted that Newsom has just a year left in his first term and Cox says that he will run against him even if he makes it through the recall and he chooses to seek a second term in 2022. Don't worry folks about Trump taking over. Newsom is gonzo. The decision is all Trump's. Would it not be great? Daily Trump rallies in Sacramento! How about that?

I really don't think we will have to worry about Newsom running for President any time soon.

Ron DeSantis President or Vice President

I think that under all circumstances, the Governor of Florida should run for state reelection in 2022.

So that there is no mistake about my preference for president in 2024. It is Donald J. Trump, hands down. My preference for vice president in 2024 is Ron DeSantis. I have not heard many offer this as a thought; but I would bet the leaders of the DeSantis supporters would love getting their guy into the second chair in the US Government. He would simply have to wait through Trump's last term and then would be the chosen candidate in 2028.

Yes, folks, this is a great deal for the people. It would be just four years from then that VP DeSantis could and would ascend to the first chair. He would be elected President in 2028.

How could he lose other than a stolen election? Moreover, with four years as VP, DeSantis would be the logical choice for the next eight years after that—giving the Republicans or the Patriot Party or the American Party or whatever conservatives are calling themselves by then, the top prize.

That means , twelve full years of conservatives running the country without a Democrat having a prayer. All we have to do is go with Trump and DeSantis and get the RINOS out of the House and US Senate. The Democrats under Biden seem to be making that easy for us.

Donald Trump has not announced his future plans but perhaps when CPAC convenes in a few days, he will give us more than a clue. Matt Gaetz R-Fl pulled no punches in suggesting that DeSantis could run for president in 2024 if Trump is out of the picture. Though we would all welcome Governor DeSantis to the presidential table, most of us are hoping for Trump's continued good health and energy and an assurance of clean elections so that we could make him the 45th and also the 47th President of the US.

Matt Gaetz, R-FL thinks the world of his governor. There is no doubt about that. He should. He is joined by many Floridians in his admiration. Gaetz made the remarks Sunday (February) during one of his interviews on Fox News in which the governor responded to reports of President Biden's administration potentially implementing travel restrictions around Florida due to the state's [low] coronavirus cases. Biden hates all strong and successful Republicans.

It's time for another H.L. Mencken quote: "The most dangerous man to any government is the man who is able to think things out... without regard to the prevailing superstitions and taboos. Almost inevitably he comes to the conclusion that the government he lives under is dishonest, insane, intolerable."

OK, one more to describe our times:

"The whole aim of practical politics is to keep the populace alarmed (and hence clamorous to be led to safety) by menacing it with an endless series of hobgoblins, all of them imaginary." You may read more great quotes such as this at //www.brainyquote.com/authors/h-l-mencken-quotes

Press secretary Jen Psaki (Socky) , is quickly gaining importance enough as Biden's voice that soon she will have an indisputable nickname which I heard today. Well, she nonetheless ameliorated the press and Floridians telling them that no final decisions had been made. DeSantis did not take it lying down.

In Trump fashion, he immediately sent a volley back at Biden telling Fox host Maria Bartiromo that such a move by the Biden administration would be "unconstitutional" and a "political attack against Florida." Biden should not be messing with the Governor of Florida as he is well outmatched.

Gaetz later in the same day told Fox that he was “proud” of DeSantis, adding that “the truth is that the Biden folks know that if Donald Trump is not the candidate in 2024, the leader of our movement will be Ron DeSantis.” No argument here for sure.

Gaetz said that “people see that in Florida, businesses are opening, unemployment is dropping, home buying is increasing, and that type of prosperity is very attractive to people who are having to endure lockdowns in other parts of America.” For example, in Pennsylvania with a major league decrease in COVID-cases, I still cannot find a bar with a barstool available. Governor Wolf has taken the stools off the legal list. Who told him he could do that? DeSantis is the opposite. Freedom, Freedom, Freedom. Let me decide. O

Trump will deliver his first lengthy address since leaving the White House in front of CPAC at the Hyatt on February 28, the last day of the conference and the first day of my Florida vacation. A GOP spokesman said: "he'll be talking about the future of the Republican Party and the conservative movement."

"Also look for the 45th President to take on 46 Biden's disastrous amnesty etc.

Ron DeSantis will be at CPAC also, but VP Pence will not. Be there and I am happy about that. From my perspective Pence is not welcome among conservatives after messing with the battleground states despite their pleas during the stolen election.

DeSantis last week attacked the media for what he argued was a double standard with how large marches for social justice were covered as opposed to celebrations in Tampa following the Buccaneers' Super Bowl win. DeSantis refuses to be pushed around, even by the feisty lockdown Mayor of Tampa.

His remarks came following concerns from local health officials and Tampa's mayor over videos circulated on social media showing hundreds of fans without masks crowded together in streets and bars immediately after the game. The lockdown press definitely does not like freedom. Why democrats cast their fate to these buffoons is a conundrum indeed. Can the Cat in the Hat solve such a dilemma? Possible if somebody can prove that the Cat is honest! (Whoops – is the word honest now politically incorrect?)

DeSantis also faced unwarranted criticism in the second month of 2021 after a photo of him at the Super Bowl without a mask circulated on the internet, to which the GOP governor shot back: "But how the hell am I going to be able to drink a beer with a mask on? Come on. I had to watch the Bucs win." Good for you Mr. Governor.

The facts show that Democrats believe nothing unless CNN & all the liberal media outlets tells them it is so. Ron DeSantis: The Best United States Governor: Ron DeSantis is to Governors what Donald Trump is to Presidents—The Best! Paperback – February 21, 2021

by Brian W Kelly (Author)

amazon.com/dp/1951562534

Ron DeSantis is to Governors what Donald Trump is to Presidents—The Best!Some say Governor Ron DeSantis is the best governor ever. Others admit he is the best current governor in the United States of America. Why? Like Trump, DeSantis has more than delivered on the promises that he made to Floridians upon taking office in January, 2018. He tackles the issues that are important to Floridians and the well being of the state, and does it

Here we are working on our fourth month after the most corrupt election of all time. We now know that we are stuck with an inept Congress made powerful by voiceless RINO Republicans. Conservatives like you and I are talking about how to stop Biden from ruining the country. Heck if Biden knew how to stop himself from ruining America, he might do it himself. But he has no clue. And I am not so optimistic to think he or his administration would care even if they were awake. Or is it WOKE!

Unfortunately spirit is not as high as it should be in the Republican ranks because the RINO Republicans in Congress, but for a few, are not even making a peep about disagreeing with EO (Executive Order) Joe. Mitch McConnell has re-positioned himself as the guy everybody thought he always was—a piece of guano. Trump had given the Turtle a nice facelift, dressed him up and gave his wife a job but Mitch scraped off the makeup to find his true Democrat RINO skin underneath. He then lashed out at real conservatives who support our last real president.

Why would Mitch McConnell do such a thing. Yes, I have the answer. He is the soulless reincarnation of a new form of a Tin man. Mitch has a heart because he needs it to pump blood to stay alive, but he has no soul because lousy people can get by without a soul until they die. Mitch McConnell is a stinking lousy person.

Crowds shout “We Love You” at Presidential Rally

Like many of you, I love President Trump and I liked him better when he was officially in office. The next election for President is a bit more than three years away, but I think when we solve the election problems in the battleground states and everywhere else, Florida's governor, should run only if President Trump decides not to run on his own. It helps to repeat that message. We are not dead. We are very alive and Governor DeSantis is a prime mover in our efforts to gain the top spot again. See what I think of the supreme Court below:

Many just recently came to the conclusion that we really do not need a do-nothing Supreme Court. Save budget $$ now & send them home. The Supremes may have been afflicted by a Big Tech

As I pointed out, DeSantis would be a great VEEP. From my perspective Pence is too risky to trust. I don't even want him at CPAC. He was not there when we needed him. He had his chance.

See my book, Stolen Election—Amazon ad above—for the facts on Pence's choices. Pence failed us as VP. Who needs him now? Ron DeSantis would be a great one term VEEP and then he would definitely be our elected president.

I have a far out thought that makes sense

It is the essence of this book. I introduced it in my Ron DeSantis book shown above.

What should Donald Trump do in the meantime? I mean before we can elect him again to office in 2024? Well, I have the perfect answer. I hope you like it.

The first time you hear this it sounds silly but soon afterwards, it sounds great if you repeat it to yourself a few times. Trump has more than two and half years to decide whether to run in this foreign land which is still a state. What other things that he is contemplating can have as much bang for the few bucks necessary.

Donald J. Trump handled 50 states worth of business for four years. What if he chose to govern one very important state without a major investment as a candidate for two and a half or three and a half years. It sure would keep him politically sharp and fresh as a daisy. Please consider this proposition.

What if Donald Trump decided to become the Governor of California? Of course I mean after Gavin Newsom gets his recall (walking papers). One thing for sure, even in California, name recognition counts. Trump would get elected because that's how recall elections work. It is all about name recognition. That is how Arnold Schwarzenegger got elected in 2003 with 48% of the votes when Gray Davis was recalled. .

Think of the major impact that a conservative force such as President Trump could have in California for a country and a state that both deserve a break. Besides, California needs great leadership. Our guy, Donald J. Trump, who we love and who we would not suggest getting stuck in the mire, can be back in the saddle again and with no impact or a very positive impact on his presidential run in 2024. He has the temperament and the leadership qualities to straighten out California blind-folded. He can then decide to run for president again in 2024 if he chooses to do so. By then, he would have another great record posted in California.

How did this opportunity come about?

Gavin Newsom's recall is almost assured as I write this paragraph more than 2/3 of the way through February 2021. A recall in the nation's most populous state would become a marquee contest with national implications. It would be watched closely as a barometer of the public mood heading toward the 2022 elections, when a closely divided Congress again will be in play.

I am not talking about it much in this book but don't forget about primarying RINOs, and anybody who did not support our guy, Donald J. Trump. We must win back the House and the Senate in 2022. There is a good chance that will happen because there are a total of 55% or more American who do not like what the Democrats are doing to the country. How could they? The people are finally sick of Democrats.

The new Governor of California in 2022 will have a year under his belt and can do some effective campaigning in California and other key states for House and Senate seats.

California voters had it worse than the rest of the country with a know-nothing governor. Californians are weary of restrictions that have cut them off from jobs, classrooms and friends, combined with anxiety from the continuing threat of the coronavirus.

This is a formula that is expected to create a volatile mix at the ballot box. Newsom is on the edge of the diving board and just a few more recall votes and he is off the board. He is also in the process of weathering a public drubbing for dining out with friends and lobbyists at a San Francisco Bay Area restaurant last fall, while telling residents to stay home. Just a little hypocrisy among friends?

While younger voters lean to the political left, that doesn't mean they reflexively vote Democratic. For example, many young Bernie Sanders followers didn't support presidential candidate Hillary Clinton in 2016. They are looking for a candidate who "speaks to them and seeks to involve them in a campaign."

If the recall qualifies, an election likely will occur in late summer or fall 2021. The good news for Republican hopefuls is that there were cautionary signs in the November election that the state might not be as rigidly Democratic as registration numbers suggest. Of course Republicans would have to stop a California-style steal. By that time, the people of California will be so disgusted with Newsom and Biden that they will assure a clean election.

Name Recognition; Name Recognition...

When the recall election takes place, things will seem strange. First of all, anybody can run. There's no limit on the number of candidates who can run to replace an official on a recall ballot. And whoever gets the most votes wins—even without a majority. So it's entirely possible that someone could be elected in a recall while winning less than half the votes. That person can be Donald Trump, a Republican just like it was once Arnold Schwarzenegger, a Republican won in 2003 with 48% of the vote.

Like I said a few times but repeat again just for effect. That's actually is what happened in 2003, when then-Gov. Gray Davis was recalled by 55% of voters. More than 100 people ran to replace him, carving up the votes and allowing action movie star Arnold Schwarzenegger to win with 48.6% support. Trump would come to such an election with the absolute most name recognition in the country and would carry the state. Would that not be great?

Why should Trump put his hat into the ring? Being Governor of California for President Trump would be sweet revenge for the guy Big Tech calls "The big bad orange man." After being shut down by big tech social media, he would have the power and could wield it to shut down Big Tech in Silicon Valley forever. Not having a favorable government in Sacramento would disable Big Tech. Trump could split them up into parts manageable by even a Biden Administration until Trump became president again.

He could do lots of other great things in California for the state and for the country as a whole. For example, he could make the Golden State a clean state again where the state plant would no longer be human FECES. I might even try to become a Cal resident myself just to vote for Trump for Governor. Think about it.

Don't blame me but I buy it 100%

While Rush (RIP) was taking calls a couple weeks ago before he went off the air, he took a call from a guy who suggested that Trump try to become the Recall Governor because it is a name recognition contest and Trump would do quite well in that scenario. Since then, I have been chewing on his words. The late great Maha Rushie did not dismiss the innovative thinking in the caller's suggestion.

Let's save Ron DeSantis (who definitely one day will be elected President of these United States) for after we exhaust the notion of what happens between now and 2024. California has a big play in the deal.

If Trump is ready to be a real sport and he has a little spare time on his hands, there are a lot of folks who believe that he or even one of his kids after a short required California residency would have enough name recognition to win the governorship in the recall election. A Trump could turn the Golden State around to become part of America again. I prefer Donald J. Trump. It would create the perfect storm for Democrats, and it would surely mess with Biden's head.

Why? Well, consider that there will be a ton of candidates to replace Newsom. Most of them will have such popular names as Joe S. the Rag Man and Joe Regular and Sally Plain. I think even Joe S. has a chance in the recall election but somebody named Donald Trump would win in a landslide. Then, our wonderful president could again become our president in 2024 if he decided not to stay in the Golden State.

It was just months ago that the notion that a liberal progressive favorite like Newsom could or would be ousted by voters in such a heavily Democratic state seemed farcical. These would be the same Democrats who put him in office in a landslide two years ago would – an impossibility? But politics is me first and when the people are upset, anything can happen, and allies can become opponents overnight.

Of course there was the pandemic and Newsom made many confounding decisions on vaccines and reopening businesses and schools to which otherwise reasonable people, on either side of the ideological stream would have objected in normal times. Well, they objected so strongly that Newsom will be recalled by numbers that will be high enough to bring him down even before this book hits the stands. The people are joining together – Republicans and Democrats to make the first-term Democrat Gavin Newsom, a poor leader to all, look vulnerable.

This is not a book about California's Governor per se, but as we showed in the early part of this chapter, he is the very opposite of Governor DeSantis. Californians have noticed the difference. At the very least Californians want teachers in the classroom—something which Florida has and has had and something which Trump would have demanded and would demand wherever he were to become a principal player.

Newsom, who is a member of the Pelosi California Oligarchy, saw his popularity tumbling when he forgot about the fact that his constituency is made up of American people who are not asking to have their lives destroyed by political hacks. When Newsom upset his base, they reacted and so now there is a recall election that appears on track to qualify for being on the California ballot.

Somebody has to win the recall election. More than likely it will not be Newsom because most of the people hate his decisions and his hypocrisy. California voters have become very weary of restrictions that have cut them off from jobs, classrooms and friends, combined with anxiety from the continuing threat of the coronavirus.

Pundits and experts conclude that this explosion of temperaments could create a volatile mix at the ballot box. Newsom also has been put down by even friendly press for his public drubbing when he dined to the finest with friends and lobbyists at a San Francisco Bay Area restaurant last fall, after admonishing residents to stay home

If there is a winning formula for Newsom, so far, it has not appeared. There is now an ever-expanding fraud scandal at the state unemployment agency from his leadership during the pandemic. It is under even closer scrutiny and is receiving lots of negative PR.

The reason Newsom is on the block is very simple. The electorate is very angry and very frustrated. They get nothing from Newsom and so they are being driven by emotion, not facts – even though the facts are not so good either.

His advisors remember well when former Democratic Gov. Gray Davis was ousted in a 2003 recall election and replaced by Republican Arnold Schwarzenegger. Newsom has reason to worry and Trump has reason to take the reins as it would give him a chance to make things right in 1/50th of America while Biden was destroying the other 49/50.

Republicans have not won a statewide race in heavily Democratic California since 2006, but the party senses shifting ground. Candidates for Newsom's seat are already lining up, hoping to tap into the forefront of the angst over Newsom's pandemic rules that have reordered everyday life for nearly 40 million people. Few Californians find Newsom a revered word.

Before Newsom, Californians were looking for the truth. What they got was a scenario in which California had become the land of broken promises. It is what it is.

It's notable that the former president's reported interest is in the runoff of the Newsom election after the recall is approved. He is not as interested in the signature gathering process. This may mean that our President Trump may be interested in endorsing a candidate for governor, so I say how about endorsing himself or one of the Trump children?
