LETS GO United States of America!

Why Trump?

You Already Know... But, I Will Tell You Anyway

Donald Trump is the only candidate for president who offers Americans a breath of fresh air from the stodgy, bossy, establishment elites in both the Democratic and Republican Party. Trump is against the status quo of rich donors controlling the government for their personal benefit.

Donald J. Trump is a Nationalist with great values. Look at the goodness he instilled into his own children. He is not a liberal fool or a progressive socialist who hates America. He is simply for America and Americans First. The corrupt mainstream press controlled by the Democratic Party won't give Donald Trump an inch. If Mr. Trump happened to be crossing the street and he stepped off a curb and crushed a newly fallen fully formed beautiful blue Robin Egg, the press would hang him for being anti-bird, anti-animal, and uncaring. Meanwhile Hillary can get four Americans with mothers and fathers back home killed in Benghazi and these same life-lovers will not even cover the story. Something is wrong and you know what it is. We all need Donald Trump and Mike Pence to bring America back to reality and truth.

The country's issues include oppressive taxation; legal and illegal immigrants stealing the best jobs; regulations choking businesses; huge debt and deficits shackling our capital resources; a government Obamacare system that adds taxes and makes health worse; and corporate offshoring, which creates a weaker nation. Hillary Clinton will change none of this because she supports Barack H. Obama's policies which created the whole mess in the first place. Additionally, we have a massive energy dependency on our enemies. We redistribute wealth from producers to non-producers. We permit a huge, growing, inefficient government to operate which continually lies, taxes too much and spends more than it has. Our government has become enemy # 1 of the people. A good plan, endorsed by Mr. Trump, along with good leaders such as Donald Trump & Mike Pence can still save US from Obama perdition.

Preface:

Well, I know that I am voting for Donald Trump because he represents a big change from establishment elitist politics and he has great ideas for solving the issues facing America today. I am glad that you are planning to read this book so you too can understand why Donald Trump is not just a default choice for President.

He is a great man and will make a great president for you, me, and all those who love America. He knows business and we can expect a great economy soon after his inauguration. Trump also understands foreign relations and is a tough American so we can count on not being pushed around in foreign affairs or delicate negotiations. Trump is a winner all the way around and America needs someone who believes we can win.

The weaknesses of the Republican Party came out in spades in the Primary Season. Can you imagine having to look at the likes of Jeb Bush or John Kasich or Lindsey Graham for four or eight more years? They are all RINOs. Donald Trump does not even pretend to be one of them and he told them and all the establishment elites where to go. I like that. These RINOs and their Marxist friends across the aisle are destroying America for their own benefit.

Donald Trump is the GOP nominee and he is running against a person that some call a withered fascist--Hillary Clinton. There are many like me who feel that we cannot afford a liar in the White House. I am all in for Donald J. Trump.

I certainly like and admire Trump. Watching his children in action at the GOP convention and the chemistry within the family, I got the full sense of what a fine man and a fine dad he is. We need a businessman and a great negotiator to compete in the world, not somebody like the current president who finds business as a necessary evil. Barack Obama has chosen to have nothing to do with sound business principles in running our economy. Hillary Clinton is more of the same Obama turned up a notch.

Obama would love all Americans to give up their freedoms and I am convinced he would like America to no longer be #1 in the world. Trump is for America and Americans First. He is a Nationalist running as a Republican because it made business sense to not go third party.

Hillary is more socialistic and Marxist and even more radical than Obama. For example, Hillary is not too keen on freedom. She likes her freedom for sure but not yours. She is working on eliminating the Bill of Rights and has already earmarked # 1 and #2 for removal.

Yes, we are at the point where a presidential candidate's position of not being actively opposed to the Bill of Rights is a key selling point for their candidacy.

The GOP today is so full of losers and babies who won't even keep their vows made in the pledge to support the Party's own nominee. Are they for Hillary? No wonder Obama ran the country like an Emperor with no interference from the GOP. They quake at the sight of Obama. Trump doesn't quake at anything.

For this ole conservative Democrat, the Republicans for years—even when my dad and I voted together before he died, always seemed to be better choices than the far left whacko Democrats. Yet, after Reagan, they were still bad choices and weak men. Donald Trump has a lot of Reagan toughness and goodness in him. He has a great plan for America and in this book we answer definitively your question of "Why Trump?" First of all, he is the best choice. Second, he is honest. Third, he will keep his word and make America great again in ways in which Americans will all be so pleased. Trump is destined to be a great President.

This book offers a number of unique solutions, some by Trump and some add-ons to the Trump way. They are all part of saving America from economic ruin. You won't believe how much America needs this book until you have gone through the problems and solutions as outlined in the many convention speeches that are included between the covers of this book. We all need Donald Trump and Mike Pence to bring America back.

America has more than one economic issue for sure, but it still is the best place to live on earth. Our nation is full to the brim with economic issues. When tackled one by one, they all can be solved. This book shows how to solve the problems that prevent many people in American from having a good life. Donald Trump and Mike Pence have a mission to make life better for all Americans

I sure hope you enjoy this book and I hope that it inspires you to take action. I hope it helps you look at things differently. A great book that can serve as a companion to this if you want more facts than in this short book on Why Trump? It is called Saving America the Trump Way and it is available at all fine booksellers. Our future president has a host of innovative items as defined by Donald Trump that are all brought forth to Make America great Again! I hope you digest Trump's entire plan, be willing to adopt it, and add to it your own positive notions for building a better America.

Together, we can help make the US a far better country. First of course, we must elect Donald Trump as our president.

Chapter 1 Trump is the Answer

Love or hate?

You either love Donald Trump or you hate him. There is no in-between. I happen to love Trump for the right reasons. I find him to be a gift from God to the American people in our time of great need. After all the weak, wimpy, wobbly conservative leaders, groomed by establishment elitism, who offered little recognition or solution for the concerns of the people; Donald J. Trump, my candidate for president is a breath of fresh air.

Thank you Donald J. Trump for doing the United States a big favor by taking on corruption in both political parties as well as the media. You are doing just fine and my friends and relatives appreciate your taking a hiatus from your wonderful storybook life and using your time to help us. We sure need it.

Though some felt that you were not a viable candidate at the beginning, I was not among their ranks. I saw you grow from day one, when you were introduced to the piranha at the first Republican primary debate. You did very well but nobody would acknowledge you because you are the biggest threat to all of the establishment elites in both parties that has ever existed. You are especially not liked by the corrupt press because you call them out on their dishonesty.

You have taken the Republican electorate by storm and I love watching you climbing higher and higher in the polls. You have also won over many Democrats including some in my own family, who switched to Republican so they could vote for you in the PA primary.

2 Why Trump?

Though the Constitution Party, the Green Party, and the Libertarian Party, and other parties have their own sponsored candidates in the General Election, the importance of this election is well understood by the citizen. Our country is at stake. Thus, I would expect that many from these parties will vote against the status quo to make America great again.

I happen to be a lifelong Democrat who is sick of the Democrat Party and the apologetic corrupt press being against America. At first it seemed unintentional. Now I see it part of a plan to indoctrinate the American people into believing that socialism and communism and Marxist principles are better than American values. For America to remain strong the Democrats and Hillary Clinton must be defeated. All citizens are needed for us to make this happen.

Congratulations are in order for Donald Trump who is a new guy in a tough political scenario. Despite his lack of funding and lack of support, he was able to overtaking all the Republicans including the whiners and the long-time establishment elites who take every dollar the donors can give them to buy their support.

How about that great convention and the first class rebuttals to the status quo anti-American speeches during Hillary's convention week. It was heartening to see the Republican campaign rubbing a little Trump moxie onto the major coronation that was supposed to take place at the end of July. The reluctant endorsement by Bernie Sanders and the Debbie Wasserman Schultz firing showed that the Democrats are the Party of chicanery, deceit, and downright cheating. It is nauseating how far to the dark side of the Force, Democratic leadership has gone.

Was it not a wonderful sight for the Trump family to participate in the convention and the campaign for the good of America? It was a pleasure hearing from Melania, Tiffany, Donald Jr., Eric, and Ivanka. What talent!

Please allow a digression for a brief discussion of family talent and how families can do great things together.

My father was one of five Kelly brothers – Ed, Pat, Joe, Mike, & Phil, who were all high-school basketball greats in the 1940's. They played up and down the Wilkes-Barre Wyoming Valley and won their share of many great games against organized teams. Nobody sat on the bench.

It reminds me of the five talent laden Trumps at the convention. It was overwhelming. There is nobody warming the Trump bench because they are all out winning the game—just like the Kelly boys. As an American worried about America, I am appreciative for the Donald Trump candidacy for lending the Five Trumps to the people of the United States during this ever so important campaign for America. Again, it is both heartwarming and very refreshing.

We need every one of the Trump soldiers, especially their leader, who is about to be our president. There is so much corruption, mostly hate-filled biased media speech that Mr. Trump, Mike Pence, and the whole Trump team cannot afford to have anybody out of the contest for long. The Trump campaign can expect bad stuff to continue--low blows, untruths, unkind assaults, and whatever vile actions the establishment elites, the Democrats, and the corrupt fourth estate choose to unleash.

So, we need all the Trumps, Mike Pence, the Trump campaign team, and we the people at home to continue the fight against the forces of the dark side. Don't believe them. Their purpose is deceit. The truth is a foreign notion to the Hillary people. When Donald Trump wins. All Americans will win. My sincere thanks to the Trumps et al for taking on the rot in America.

The intellectuals of the 18th and 19th centuries , especially Edmund Burke, gave us the notion of Fourth Estate (the press and all other media) as a civil watchdog to keep an eye on those in power. It is very clear from the writing of Thomas Paine and others, who pointed out and also acted upon the idea that we may have just cause to overthrow the state if it is seen to be no longer acting in our interests. This is not trivial

The founders were not thinking "hunting," when they explicitly added the Second Amendment to the Bill of Right. Their reasoning is what really drives Americans to actively defend the second amendment. Though hunting with rifles is important, it is not hunting that is the root cause of the drive by patriotic Americans to protect the founders' intention of second Amendment.

There is the possibility and perhaps there is even a likelihood that sometime in the future, scoundrels would take over the government and would need to be dealt a blow that only an armed citizenry could deliver. Finding the very scoundrels who have been driving our country to perdition to be trying as hard as they can to take our guns away make this notion ever more frightening and real.

Today, governments such as ours that make the claim to be acting in the "public interest" must face daily scrutiny of their actions. This is a necessary duty of an alert public in a democratic republic. The government must be called to account when overstepping the bounds of what citizens will support, or when taking actions that are clearly not in our interests.

There was a time when the public could rely on journalists and the news media to do this job on our behalf. This separation between the people and the state becomes more important when the economic interests of the powerful establishment elites so frequently dominate society. In our modern world, the interest of "the nation," can be deduced to be no more than the collective interest of those who wield political and economic power. That of course in 2016 has given rise to the silent revolution that we are now experiencing as the voice of the people has been all but snuffed out by the powerful. The people are mad as hell and are not going to take it anymore.

Today, the state is the executive branch of the ruling class. And, more and more these "rulers," have stopped believing in a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. President Obama who claims to have been a Constitutional Law Professor has been attacking the constitution and has taken many unlawful actions of which most are aware. The Constitution is under assault and we all know that this is the document that gives the people all of its rights. We the people are not willing to settle for a government of the government, by the government and for the government. Unfortunately, today it would be difficult to tell.

The news media – as the tribune of “the people” – has a major role as the fourth estate to constantly be on guard and alert to actions of the state, particularly when those actions may harm the interests of citizens. In recent years, the fourth estate has mostly been absent, serving as a wing of the Democratic Party. I know in a Trump Administration, this will end. It is vital to the interests of American citizens that it end quickly.

Because our foes are Donald Trump's foes, while the Trump and Pence campaign even now in the post-convention season continues to gain momentum, the Trump haters on both sides of the political spectrum – the Bush supporters and Clinton Supporters, have gotten more vicious. In response, the people of America, aligned with the values brought forth in the Trump campaign may seem more rabid because there simply is no room to lose this battle against the dark forces, who for their own selfish interests are determined to keep the country weak.

We are no longer willing to take it anymore, hoping the establishment will find its way. Donald Trump has given us a true hope that our America can once again be God's Country or as noted by President Reagan, a Shining City upon a Hill. The times from the recent past when there were glimmers from empty promises that were never fulfilled are over. Americans today are demanding a responsive government as promised by Donald Trump and Mike Pence.

That is why so many of us have joined with Donald Trump and the Trump family and the Trump campaign. We loyal supporters trust that Donald Trump will keep his word as have presidents of the past such as John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Ronald Wilson Reagan. I can see that the Five Trumps playing on the first team at the convention believe in the Trump candidacy and they believe in America and they believe in Americans. It is America's turn now to believe in the whole Trump family.

We the people have simply gotten sick of everything for the Republican big shots. We are very tired of the establishment elites such as the George Bushes, Jeb Bush, Carl Rove, Britt Hume, the US Chamber of Commerce, and the many donors who think they can buy America simply by buying its weak, whiny, and wimpy politicians.

Meanwhile Democrats are brewing up one falsehood after another for the corrupt press to spread on an unwary accepting public. Their objective is to finish off the Trump team by telling enough lies that the people finally believe them and acquiesce. This will not happen this time! Democrat constituents saw the vile of the dishonest Democratic Party leaders and Hillary Clinton when they destroyed Bernie Sanders in a conspiracy of lies and double-dealing.

A small establishment elite has been running the Republican Party for so long, and rigging the game against the people for so long, that they got caught flat-footed when their old tricks and their "ram it quietly down their throats," tactics simply did not work this time. That is because Donald Trump, the antitheses of the establishment had already entered the arena, and he proceeded to knock the elites over one by one.

The rise of Trump has been a tidal wave. In their deluded minds, the establishment actually thought they could steal the nomination from Donald Trump and that their strategy would work just the same as it did against Ron Paul in 2012. But Trump has a constituency, which includes you and yours truly that would not stand for it.

I am reminded of Japanese Naval Marshal General Isoroku Yamamoto who, after Pearl Harbor confessed: "I fear all we have done is to awaken a sleeping giant and filled him with a terrible resolve." The attempts of the establishment elites to derail the Trump Campaign were thwarted by a fed-up public. We the public are sick of Republican broken promises. We have lost trust in the Party elite leaders and the donors who no longer care about the people.

Yes, Donald Trump has managed to awaken the silent majority of Americans who previously either did not care or simply did not bother to vote. Some in the past just shrugged their shoulders and accepted that the system is rigged and that all of the little men in the world—all of us insignificant citizens of America, could not have an impact under any circumstances. Trump is the difference. The people are about to get our power back.

Today Donald J. Trump has become a leader for the non-elites. He is for the non-establishment brand of citizen, who simply depends on honest representatives to keep our democratic republic operating smoothly. He is the perfect alternative to candidates who do the bidding of Bushs and Clintons and their ilk, who somehow have become richer and richer while the ordinary people have become poorer and poorer. He is the perfect alternative for leaders who have permitted America herself to be turned into a debt-ridden shadow of its once great self.

Unfortunately, because of elitist propaganda from both Republicans and Democrat members of the establishment, in full cahoots with the corrupt main stream media, the fourth estate, full of journalists that have forgotten American History,

8 Why Trump?

Americans are turned off against those willing and eager to promulgate hatred against Donald Trump.

Unfortunately, because there are some voters who do not have a high information threshold, the Democrats and the Bushes are continuing to drive promote their negative message through the dishonest press. Some have accepted the bias towards candidate Donald Trump as if it is true. It is not. That is why I wrote this book. Why Trump? Trump will be one of America's best presidents ever.

Because of the many who are inundated with negative Trump messages every day, who find it difficult to see the truth, Trump supporters must not be quiet when we are in a group. Instead, like apostles and good disciples of a message to save America, we must refute the lies that are circulating every day. The ham handed efforts of the Soros crowd to smear Mr. Trump as a racist must be shown to be the lies they are.

Many of our neighbors are finding it increasingly difficult to even notice that the democratic foundation of our nation as well as American Sovereignty is being destroyed by the very people who had been conspiring to stop Trump's nomination. They are giving up America and easing us towards their socialist / communist New World Order.

We who pay attention must be prepared for the assault and do better in helping our friends and neighbors see through the lies. We are making progress for sure as people who would never even use the word Republican in public, have done the unthinkable. They have changed parties so they could vote for Trump in the primary. Let's keep at it. Trump for president in November!

Chapter 2 Trump Is the Answer to What?

Many want Donald J. Trump to be President

I secretly smile when I think about the prospects of Donald J. Trump becoming the 45th President of the United States of America. I smile each time I write about it actually happening.

Today, my party, the Democratic Party has abandoned the working class and it is now the party of the fringe. I am not on the fringe. The Party of the fringe has a leader on the fringe right now and he has set my country back so far that it will take a strong man like Donald Trump to bring America back. Donald Trump is the solution. As many have said before me, Hillary Clinton is Obama's third term.

Every solution is intended to address a problem. Barack Hussein Obama and the prospects of a third term via Hillary is the problem, which the coming Trump presidency is ready to solve. Of course federal law prohibits a third term for President Obama and so he has designated an heir to the "American Throne."

As expected, the heir is an American who supports Obama 100%. She has just received the Democratic Party's nomination after just a little smidge of cheating with the establishment to assure the "Bern" was not the nominee. Thus when we go through additional facts about Obama below, please consider that Hillary will be worse than eight more years of Obama.

I received this email unexpectedly in 2016. It is about a note that writer Sylvia Thompson wrote about our current president's legacy and what he has done to us to achieve it. Let me present that email to you right now. I will clean it up a bit to make it more readable but if anybody wants the original which will look almost the same. I would be happy to send it to you

10 Why Trump?

Sylvia Thompson knows Barack Obama

I looked this email up on Snopes but did not find it. However, I found Sylvia's web site link so I have provided the full link to her site so you can enjoy more of her work. Thank you Sylvia.

<http://www.renewamerica.com/columns/sthompson/151026>

Here is the email:

It begins with a quote from an unknown person in the email chain

"She is "right on". I have been saying Impeach Him for the last year."

Subject: Sylvia Thompson WOW

Sylvia Thompson on Obama's "legacy".

Sylvia Thompson is a black conservative writer whose aim is to counter the liberal spin on issues pertaining to race and culture. Ms. Thompson is a copy editor by trade currently residing in Tennessee

THIS IS WHAT SHE HAS TO SAY:

To the many gullible souls out there who truly think that Barack Hussein Obama is "legacy building" in his all-out assault on America, I implore you to bow out of the conversation because you are not seeing clearly. [Don't forget to think Hillary too! as you read Sylvia's commentary.]

The term legacy carries positive connotations of something bequeath that is to the receiver's benefit. Everything that Barack Hussein Obama does is calculated to destroy America, which he despises. This man no more cares about legacy than he fears being properly prosecuted by the white political leaders whose responsibility it is to remove him from office.

Sylvia Thompson on Obama's "legacy"

I focus on white leaders, because whites are still in the majority and they fill the majority of political offices. If the majority of political operatives were of some other ethnicity, I would lodge my complaint against that group. Ethnicity is an issue only because Obama is half-black and he uses that fact to intimidate guilt-conflicted white people. Otherwise, he would have been impeached and likely in prison for treason by now.

Barack Hussein Obama's sole aim has been, since he first entered politics and continues as he winds down this presidency, the complete destruction of America as it was founded.

It is an insult to the intelligence of all Americans who must listen to elitist pundits on Fox news and elsewhere, and political drones in either party endeavor to make Obama's behavior fit a pattern of normalcy. Attributing his destructive policies to "legacy building" is either self-delusion on the part of the people who make that claim or cowardliness.

This is my take.

Obama's nuclear deal with Iran has nothing to do with legacy but rather to enable a Muslim nation to wage nuclear war with America and Israel the two nations that he most despises.

Does anyone wonder why Russians praise Vladimir Putin despite what the rest of the world might think of him? Putin cares about his country, that's why.

Obama despises the American military because traditionally it has been a mainstay of America's strength, and our strength infuriates him. [Both Obama and Hillary are disciples of Rules for Radicals author and radical Saul Alinsky. Hillary is the greatest Alinsky fan living today as she met the author and was also a great friend.]

Imposition of a polluting homosexual, anti-Christian agenda upon the military ranks destroys unit cohesion and literally terrorizes male members with the prospect of sodomy rape. Such rapes have increased since the forcing of open homosexuality in the ranks, against the will of a majority of members I might add. Couple that with an infiltration of women, for whom all standards of strength must be reduced, and Obama attains his goal of emasculating and demoralizing the forces.

He could not care less about a legacy of making the forces more diverse. Besides, President Truman diversified the military as much as it should be when he integrated it. Obama's objective is its destruction. [Where does Hillary stand? Answer-- Right with Obama. She told us all!]

Obama reopened relations with Cuba because Cuba is Communist. Legacy is not his concern here either, but rather to scuttle America's attempts to keep Communist influence out of the Americas. That Cuba has major issues with human rights does not matter. Like his Marxist African father before him, he despises the West and all that it represents.

Obama lawlessly declares open borders and amnesty for illegal aliens, because he wants to overrun America with third-world people who bring little more than dependency with them. This tactic not only does not ensure a legacy, but rather it guarantees the eventual conversion of America itself into third-world status, if it is allowed to continue.

Bill Clinton started the travesty of increasing the numbers of third-world immigrants at the expense of culturally more suited immigrants from European and European-influenced nations, but Obama has taken the trend to lawless, destructive extremes. He is fully aware that many of these invaders have no intention of assimilating.

It is only the outcry of a majority of Americans that holds back this hateful invasion scheme, and Donald Trump's entry onto the political scene to oppose that scheme is a saving grace for our nation.

These are but a few instances of behavior that display the loathsome character of Barack Hussein Obama. And he is allowed to roam freely through the American landscape poisoning and polluting as he goes, sure in the realization that no one will stop him because he is "black."

14 Why Trump?

The day that we no longer have to hear the prattle about his "legacy building" will not be soon enough for me.

Many, many Americans are thoroughly fed up with Barack Obama and the spineless crop of political leaders who ignore his criminality. It is yet unknown whether Republicans will ever garner the backbone to become a true opposition party and hold him accountable. Promising signs are the House conservatives' getting rid of establishment types John Boehner and Kevin McCarthy as House Speaker and Speaker hopeful, respectively, and Donald Trump's entry into the 2016 presidential race with enough money and testicular fortitude to tell the Establishment and the Left where to shove it.

Should these positive trends not continue and the 2016 election cycle yield no movement to counter all the harm that Barack Obama has done to this nation, I think there will be massive disruption. Those folks in the National Rifle Association ads currently running on television seem very serious to me, and that is a good thing.

--- end-of email ---

Let's look at a more current example of the problem for which the Trump solution is intended. Let's look at what Hillary's thoughts are without Obama.

<http://prospect.org/article/what-hillary-clinton%E2%80%99s-agenda>

The facts and many of the thoughts that I share and do not share about Hillary Clinton below were derived from this great expose by Paul Starr from prospect.org. Paul Starr is a bleeding heart liberal and is not interested in America succeeding and so he loves Hillary Clinton.

What Is Hillary Clinton's Agenda?

She's had so much to say on so many issues that voters may not know what she wants to accomplish.

Whether voters love or hate Trump, they can name a few big things he says he would do as president: build a wall on the Mexican border, round up and deport illegal immigrants, ban Muslims from coming to America, and redo trade deals. Similarly, Democratic primary voters this year were able to identify Bernie Sanders with a few major promises: break up the banks, make public college free, and pass what he calls "Medicare for all."

Despite Clinton's ample detail—her website covers more than 30 different issue areas, each with bullet points about specifics—voters would probably be hard-pressed to come up with three or four big ideas they identify with her. Although it is hardly a weakness of a presidential candidate to be prepared for the scope of the job, her campaign has not had a clarifying focus on a few big themes or proposals that instantly communicate what she wants to do.

The strategy that Clinton has adopted thus far this year may be partly to blame. Seeking to rally diverse constituencies, she has framed her candidacy in broad, progressive terms, often saying she wants to break down "all the barriers" facing people—not just economic barriers, but also those based on race, gender, sexual orientation, and other sources of disadvantage.

She also says she wants to build on Barack Obama's presidency, and since Obama has previously supported much of what she favors, those ideas do not have her own stamp—at least not yet.

In contrast to Sanders, she has repeatedly said she doesn't want to make unrealistic promises, and against both Sanders and Trump, she has cast herself as the candidate of responsibility and refused to call for huge programs or huge tax cuts that would balloon the federal deficit. In another presidential year, she might get credit for good judgment; this year, she gets criticized [by Democrats] for lacking imagination.

Focusing Clinton's Economic Agenda

The economy and jobs usually top the list of voter concerns, so let's begin there. Although Clinton's approach to economic issues isn't embodied in one or two signature policies, her agenda does have a thematic unity, summed up in a phrase she often uses, "giving working families a raise."

[I've got to ask—from whom, American taxpayers?]

A higher minimum wage is an unambiguous expression of that theme. In the Democratic primaries, the clash between Clinton and Sanders over the size of a minimum-wage increase obscured their agreement on a big jump. Raising the federal minimum from $7.25 to $12—the level Clinton has endorsed—would be the single largest increase in the history of the minimum wage in either percentage or absolute terms. (She also supports efforts in states and municipalities to raise their minimum wages to $15.) Clinton should be able to draw a sharp contrast on the issue with Trump, who has said that wages in America are "too high," though in his customary style, he has also casually suggested he could support a minimum-wage increase, as if a Republican Congress would send him one.

[My wife and I recently began agreeing on everything political. She hates lying and has found Hillary's release from charges to be an affront to Democracy. She hates the four deaths in Benghazi and Pat Smith being aggrieved that no help came from a lying Hillary for her son. We have two sons. But, ironically, she thinks the most egregious misconduct of the potential president was Bill Clinton and Loretta Lynch getting together at an airport tarmac in their private planes to discuss their grandkids. Then a few days later the grandkids had suggested no FBI charges would be filed. She sees the ultimate in corruption as do more people than ever who today are finally are sick of being pushed around by government hacks and cheats.]

Several other elements fit into Clinton's overall theme, each of which articulates to other elements in her campaign. Like Obama, who increased infrastructure spending as part of the economic-recovery program soon after taking office, Clinton says that during her first 100 days she will call upon Congress to boost investments, [which in English means increase spending!]

Here, it is worth taking a moment to consider Clinton's revenue and tax-fairness proposals in light of what Obama has done. Although you might never know it from discussion among progressives, the Obama years have seen a major shift in tax burdens from lower- and middle-income people to [anybody who is not on welfare. Obama began to use the IRS collection system to provide tax returns to people with no jobs. Nice deal if you can get it. These returns to those who pay no taxes come at the expense of taxpayers getting smaller returns. In other words, Obama has begun to use the IRS as another source of welfare for citizens and non-citizens. After all, it is sometimes difficult for illegal aliens to get welfare from stubborn states. But, the IRS can just cut a check paid by those who work.]

Clinton's proposals move in the same progressive direction [as Obama's], raising taxes on top incomes and providing relief to the less affluent. [Meanwhile those on fixed incomes such a Social Security will see the same paucity of below-cost of living increases to those over 62 years of age. Additionally, the elderly will get to pay the price of everybody else's minimum wage increases without getting a raise themselves.]

18 Why Trump?

Besides paying for infrastructure investments, [promises never kept by Obama], much of the tax revenue Clinton proposes to raise would go to purposes that bear out her theme of “giving working families a raise.” [Yet her own minimal personal charitable donations will not increase even though she is a multi-millionaire.]

[Democrats do not like the Trump tax plan because it wants to cut taxes so that companies can become more successful and taxpayers will have more take-home pay. Democrats want to take the income of anybody who works and use it to give big refunds to illegal immigrants as well as the non-working, who are couch-potato-centric.]

In the contest over economic policy, Trump benefits from [being] ... a business genius.

Trump offers a ... muscular, nationalist alternative. He promises to get factories humming [by making companies who have offshored jobs pay the cost of the Americans left behind. Trump also wants to undo job crippling environmental and other regulations, and he wants to boost production of fossil fuels, including coal so that no American will ever freeze in winter and so the cost of gas stays low.]

End of Paul Starr notes

Hillary cannot wait until President Obama gives her another great idea! She seems to have none of her own. Do you think that might be why the current president, unlike president's before him that could not wait to get home, will instead live in the Washington D.C. Area?

What about the missing emails for the most trustworthy woman in America?

In Doral, Florida on July 27, in the middle of the Democratic Convention, with tongue in cheek, Donald J. Trump, who never follows PC protocol implied that Russian intelligence services more than likely had successfully hacked Hillary Clinton's email. Mr. Trump encouraged the Russians to publish their findings whatever they may be, so that the citizens of America can have a look at Hillary's emails.

Trump noted that the US now has a lame FBI who cannot find her emails after several years. If the Ruskis have them, what a coup. . If the Ruskis have them, then they know definitively of Hillary's misdeeds. Since it is highly unlikely that we will ever find the emails from corrupt pro-Hillary American sources, if the Ruskis have the emails, Trump urged them to give us all a look at them. There was no tyranny or corruption involved in Trump's rib busting.

Trump and most of America believe that the information in the 30,000 deleted emails would have been enough to hang Hillary for treason and so they needed to be destroyed.

Goofy liberal grey ladies such as the New York Times, a biased news source at best, is positing that Trump's little bit of humor was actually him pleading to a foreign adversary to conduct cyberespionage against a former secretary of state. Hah! The NYT has no sense of humor. How absurd!

If the Justice Department, even with a list of offenses a mile long produced by the FBI, will not take action because there is not enough evidence of her intentions, while General Petraeus was fried for much less, then perhaps the Ruskis, who do not have to answer to Obama, nor would they, might have some answers to the dilemmas we have had in being able to discern the truth. If the Ruskis already have the emails, then they already know the real truth. Maybe Hillary can just press that big red RESET button and everything will be OK.

“Russia, if you’re listening, I hope you’re able to find the 30,000 emails that are missing,” Mr. Trump said during a news conference here in an apparent reference to Mrs. Clinton’s deleted emails. “I think you will probably be rewarded mightily by our press.”

Trump's comments came amid questions about the hacking of the Democratic National Committee’s computer servers, which American intelligence agencies have told the White House they have “high confidence” was the work of the Russian government.

So, now political correctness which our corrupt press espouses, says that Trump cannot have some fun with the opposition. Maybe if the Democrats and Hillary told the truth every now and then, Mr. Trump would not have to resort to jokes or innuendo to make his points.

Trump is not the only one calling Hillary out for her lies. Many pundits and email authors have written tens of thousands of memos and articles as well as great soundbites to help Americans. Though some Americans may be disinterested in the truth, the intent of the information barrage from blogs and various sources is to force the uninformed to bump into the truth about Hillary Clinton by accident.

If all Americans paid more attention to those who have been ripping us off, Donald Trump would not even be on the suspect's list. How have your last eight years been? For most of the country, they have been the worst of any president, including Jimmy Carter. Hillary is getting ready to give us all eight more years of Gehenna—just like Obama. Only you can say no! For the sake of America, please say no! The only way to effectively say no is to vote for Donald Trump for President and Mike Pence for Vice President.

Most Americans really want a nice country in which the police are protecting the people and not walking around with targets on their backs. They want a country in which Americans are hired first for every job and that foreign nationals are treated as foreigners, not as special guests. Americans want a government that respects the wishes of the founders expressed in the Constitution, and we all want a government that defers to the will of the people rather than its own personal needs.

Chapter 3 Hillary Clinton: Real or Fake Scandals?

What difference does Benghazi make?

In this chapter, we intend to cover and close our discussion of the Secretary of State's misdeeds and lies. To many, though her actions and denials are very serious for deciding a new president, it is like a tea re-brewed many times before consumed. We could write a whole book about it but we will spare you.

So, in this chapter, we provide necessary insights as well as the full announcement of Director James Comey's report on Hillary's email scandal. Before we get there, however, we will examine Mrs. Clinton's role via snippets of the $7 million dollar Benghazi Report which just came forth in June 2016. We know it took over two years to produce. Unfortunately it looks like a whitewash as it has little substance. One would believe by reading in it that Mrs. Clinton had a minimal role.

Donald Trump was among other Republicans who saw the circus acts deployed in all of the Benghazi shenanigans designed to get Hillary off the hook. He knew there would be no justice. There was no justice from the FBI or the Justice Department.

When a witness decides not to cooperate and the witness is a potential US president, all too-often any commission report is a cover-up. The President of the US is a powerful position and one which can exact much retribution on the participants of any commission's findings when they do not provide the equivalent of an exoneration. The June 2016 Benghazi Report has more than proven this to a wary, untrusting public. "Hillary got off!" is how many will view this.

Trump saw it for what it was and wanted it resolved. He aggressively pushed the theory that like the antithesis of her campaign ad when she ran against Obama, Hillary in essence slept through a 3 AM phone call on the night of the attacks. Trump and many others believe that her inaction led directly to the death of four Americans so that President Obama would be untarnished in his reelection bid.

Many Americans who listened to the eye witnesses believe the same thing. Yet, nothing in the "bibartisan" report corroborates this account. Despite the whitewashed report, there is little that will change Trump's and many other Republicans' narrative of what actually happened.

The report also shows evidence that goes against the official government story provided at the time by the administration. We all remember the video. They put the maker of the video behind bars. He may still be there even though many see him as a pawn in a big play and he is much more innocent than Hillary.

The US government initially claimed the attack on the diplomatic compound in Benghazi was the result of a "spontaneous protest" over an anti-Islamic film. You may recall that Susan Rice was called out for lying on five different Sunday Talk shows on September 16, 2012, when she reported that the video sparked demonstrations across the Muslim world after it was uploaded to YouTube earlier in 2011. But according to the report, that version of events was not part of any of the eyewitness accounts.

In fact, the administration according to the report was watching the attack on closed circuit TV. "Obama Administration officials, including the Secretary of State, learned almost in real time that the attack in Benghazi was a terrorist attack," Republican Representative Jim Jordan said in a statement upon the release of the report. "Rather than tell the American people the truth, the administration told one story privately and a different story publicly."

Some might say that unlike General Petraeus who acknowledged his failings, Hillary has never, ever, made a mistake in fact or in judgment. She escaped both the Benghazi scandal and the email scandal both about the same time in 2016 and now she is free to be the President—if only the voters agree with her arguments.

Unlike these two major scandals of course Hillary's false account of her Bosnia trip in 2008 did not cause any congressional investigations. At the time she was the First Lady and not in charge of anything. We all remember these words of First Lady Hillary Clinton when she, just like Peter Jennings, made herself a hero enduring sniper fire while visiting enemy territory:

"I remember landing under sniper fire. There was supposed to be some kind of a greeting ceremony at the airport, but instead we just ran with our heads down to get into the vehicles to get to our base."

What's a few lies among friends? What difference does it make?

The Benghazi report closes out the Benghazi scandal and we believe it will be the final result of the two-year investigation led by Republicans. The Benghazi incident in which four Americans died ostensibly because of negligence by the Secretary of State has dogged Clinton both on and off the campaign trail.

In October, 2015, Mrs. Clinton finally testified before the Benghazi panel in a hearing lasting almost 11 hours. Her testimony brought no definitive conclusions on what role she played, if any, in contributing to the attack. When James Comey gave his report on July 5, 2016, Hillary was off the hook for both scandals.

During the Republican Convention on Monday Night, July 18, Pat Smith, got the last word:

It was an emotionally raw speech. You could feel the continuing pain of the grieving mother. Pat Smith, the mother of an American Foreign Service official Sean Smith, killed in Benghazi, would have written the Benghazi report a lot differently.

She gave her insights from the incident to the massive crowd in Cleveland and on national TV. She claimed that Hillary Clinton lied to her even at her son's flag draped coffin ceremony. Mrs. Smith's reward to Mrs. Clinton for lying to her was that she put forth in no uncertain terms her belief that Donald Trump would improve national security when elected president.

In a tearful voice, Mrs. Smith said: "I blame Hillary Clinton personally for the death of my son... How could she do this to me? How could she do this to any American family? Donald Trump is everything Hillary Clinton is not."

Mrs. Pat Smith's full remarks at the RNC are provided below. This is followed in this chapter by the Comey FBI announcement in full.

Mrs Pat Smith on Benghazi

"My son Sean was one of four brave Americans killed during the 2012 terrorist attack at Benghazi.

Sean was a wonderful son and father to my two amazing grandchildren, Samantha and Nathan, now 10 and 11.

He was proud to serve his country with the United States Foreign Service. The last time I talked to Sean, the night before the terrorist attack, he told me, "Mom, I am going to die."

All security had been pulled from the embassy, he explained. And when he asked why, he never received a response.

Nobody listened. Nobody seemed to care.

The very next day, he was murdered by radical Islamic terrorists.

To this day, I don't even know why a computer guy like Sean was sent to Benghazi.

That night, we lost sons, brothers, fathers, and husbands.

We lost four brave Americans who made the ultimate sacrifice for the country they chose to serve. And, the American people lost the truth.

For all of this loss, for all of this grief, for all of the cynicism the tragedy in Benghazi has wrought upon America, I blame Hillary Clinton.

I blame Hillary Clinton personally for the death of my son.

In an email to her daughter shortly after the attack, Hillary Clinton blamed it on terrorism.

But when I saw Hillary Clinton at Sean's coffin ceremony, just days later, she looked me squarely in the eye and told me a video was responsible.

Since then, I have repeatedly asked Hillary Clinton to explain to me the real reason why my son is dead.

I'm still waiting.

Whenever I called the State Department, no one would speak to me because they say I am 'not a member of the immediate family.'

Sean is my son.

Hillary Clinton is a woman, a mother and a grandmother of two.
I am a woman, a mother and a grandmother of two.

How could she do this to me? How could she do this to any American family? Donald Trump is everything Hillary Clinton is not.

He is blunt, direct, and strong.

He speaks his mind, and his heart.

And, when it comes to the threat posed by radical Islamic terrorism, he will not hesitate to kill the terrorists who threaten American lives.

He will make America stronger, not weaker. This entire campaign comes down to a single question.

If Hillary Clinton ... can't give us the truth ... why should we give her the presidency?"

Pat Smith

Corrupt Press Personally Attacks Mrs. Pat Smith

Ironically the same corrupt press, living well off the scraps in the Democratic Party's pocket, chose to damn Donald Trump for defending himself against the vicious attacks of the Muslim couple at the convention had no problem damning Pat Smith for discussing her disgust with Hillary Clinton for letting her son
Sean Die without US protection.

The two parents of the slain soldier were asked by the DNC to take the microphone to deliver a stirring rebuke of Hillary Clinton's opponent, Donald Trump. This was to make up for Pat Smith giving Hillary a gig haircut and a major call-out for lying about her son's death.

Khizr Khan and Ghazala Khan lost their son, Captain Humayun Khan, when the younger Khan died while protecting his Army unit in Iraq in 2004. Clinton had previously delivered a stirring remembrance of the younger Khan, a video of which was played at the D.N.C. Clinton is getting Nobody, including Donald Trump offered anything but praise for the heroism of their son, Humayun, who gave his life fighting radical Muslim Jihadists.

Donald Trump was pounced on by the corrupt press for his inarticulate comments about the couple's performance at the DNC. Trump saw the irony though the press would not discuss it. Consider that Donald Trump has taken the strongest position about how to eliminate ISIS and radical Islamic terrorists. Why then, would Khizr Khan have a beef with Donald Trump, who is against the very same type of radical jihadists who killed their son?

Why would Khizr and Ghazala be supporting Hillary Clinton who has a much more hands-off approach to those who killed his son? How did the Khan's happen to be called upon to speak at the 2016 convention, twelve years after their son's death in a war that Donald Trump was against and Hillary Clinton voted for?

The press now say that Donald Trump stuck his foot in his mouth by suggesting that Ghazala Khan did not speak at the convention because women are seen by many as second class citizens in Sharia Law. After this short explanation of women's rights see if Chis Matthews from MSNBC would ever be able to run for the Presidency.

Marital Rights

To give you an idea on what Mr. Trump was getting at by objecting to Mrs. Khan's lack of a role at the convention, it may help to see the Clarion Project's interpretation of a number of sharia laws and practices. There are few reasons why Muslim men should complain.

Although various opinions exist regarding Islamic marriage laws, the following Sharia constants remain:

- ✓ A man is entitled to up to four wives, but a woman may only have one husband. In Western societies, a man typically only takes one wife.
- ✓ The husband (or his family) pays a “bride price” or “dower” (mahr, which is money or property paid to the bride) which she is entitled to keep. This “mahr” is in exchange for sexual submission (tamkin). Sexual submission is traditionally regarded as unconditional consent for the remainder of the marriage.
- ✓ A man can divorce his wife by making a declaration (talaq) in front of an Islamic judge irrespective of the woman's consent. Even her presence is not required. For a woman to divorce a man (khula), his consent is required.
- ✓ The husband is responsible for the financial upkeep of home (nafaqa).
- ✓ “Temporary marriage” (even for less than a half an hour) is allowed by some scholars, others regard it as a form of prostitution.
- ✓ Etc. <http://www.clarionproject.org/understanding-islamism/womens-rights-under-sharia>

Chris Matthews – A Fool on Live TV

From the moment that Pat Smith concluded her Monday night speech at the Republican National Convention (RNC) about how her son was murdered in the 2012 Benghazi terror attack, MSNBC seemed to have direct marching orders to annihilate, demean, and smear Mrs. Smith despite her dead son, simply because she had the nerve to attack Hillary Clinton's veracity and complicity in her son Sean's death.

It seems that Pat Smith's heartfelt and true comments about what really happened were 100% opposed to the Hillary narrative of the truth. So the progressives had to create a story that damned Pat Smith for having the guts to take on Hillary. The corrupt press works for the Democratic Party against the American public. Are they paid by the taxpayers?

The assembled cast of liberals were very confused at what Chris Matthews called a "gross accusation." How dare she? They believed the grieving teary eyed mother who had lost her son had ruined" their entire night of watching the Republican convention.

Chris Matthews who they say invented the term double standard chose not to come to Donald Trump's aid as he should have in the Khizr Khan episode after the Democratic Convention. Matthews knew that anything he said would be disingenuous after the hateful comments he made about the mother of slain American hero Sean Smith. Yet, his network, MSNBC had no problem damning Mr. Trump just for questioning the Khans on their motivation to come out against him. Why when Hillary voted for the war that killed their son, did they line up against Trump?

Is Chris Matthews a worthy man? You decide. When you hear what he said, can you imagine if the Democrats had a mother such as Pat Smith speaking—a mother who had lost a child due to Trump's negligence, and a Fox news correspondent made these same comments? The progressive liberal media would have had a field day. Probably they would have that anchor fired and shamed into oblivion. But it is OK for Chis Matthews to damn Patricia Smith, who is as much a grieving parent as the parents of Captain Humayun Khan. Double Standard Democrats!

The crowd at the Republican National Convention were struggling to regain their composure after Pat Smith's heartfelt stirring speech about her opinion of Hillary Clinton in the death of her son, Sean. Despite the emotion-filled room, MSNBC's Chris Matthews could not contain himself as he felt compelled to mock her speech on worldwide live TV. Matthews embarked on rambling commentary totally lambasting Smith's speech and attacking her personally. In many ways, like his mentor Hillary, Matthews said. What difference does it make? Hen he said,

"I don't understand why the Republicans would choose to put this on prime-time television when they have such wonderful stories of American heroism to speak to the American people. I think it was wrong,"

To make it even worse Matthews then said, "I don't care what that woman up there, the mother, has felt." Can you imagine that this heartless slug, Chris Matthews was not finished?

"Her emotions are her own. But for the country in choosing a leader, it's wrong to have someone get up there and tell a lie about Hillary Clinton. It's not true. It's logically not true. I think it's wrong that they ruined their evening with this"

His diatribe prompted immediate calls for a boycott of his MSNBC show on social media. Meanwhile he and his fellow MSNBC cohorts are trying to make a big deal out of Trump's comments which were nowhere near the vile attack of Matthews on pat Smith.

The good news is that the American people objected immediately to Matthews almost to a voice. The unsympathetic Matthews, a major spokesman for MSNBC and the Left, suffered an intense backlash for his comments about the grieving Benghazi victim mother, Patricia Smith.

After Pat Smith was crying delivering a speech about her slain son at the hands of Muslim terrorists, the best the MSNBC host could say was they Smith had “ruined” the first night of the convention. Then, because only he knows all, he spoke definitively as though he were an eyewitness to the four deaths and all the shenanigans at the Benghazi compound and at the Washington Situation room. Matthews proclaimed for the world to know that "Hillary Clinton was not at all to blame for the deaths in Benghazi." Haven't we all had enough of MSNBC and their corrupt news staff?

Comey challenges truthfulness of Clinton's email defenses

Politico's Nick Gass wrote a short piece titled "Comey challenges truthfulness of Clinton's email defenses." I read it and it is very damaging to Hillary and it has the perfect title. FBI Director James Comey confirmed on July 5, 2016 that Hillary Clinton will not be going to jail though many, such as General Petraeus have been punished far more severely for far less serious infractions. Comey said an awful lot even though he did not choose to indict the former Secretary of State for her unlawful actions.

For example, Comey noted that a number of Hillary Clinton's statements and explanations about her email server to the House Benghazi Committee and to the public last October were simply not true. He learned this as a result of the evidence brought forth in the bureau's investigation about whether Hillary mishandled classified information. Many remember the Gowdy-led Benghazi hearings. The FBI Director had an exchange with Trey Gowdy about the hearings.

During an extended exchange with Rep. Trey Gowdy (R-S.C.), Director Comey affirmed that the FBI's investigation did find information marked classified on her server even after Hillary had said that she had neither sent nor received any items marked classified.

"That is not true," Comey said. "There were a small number of portion markings on, I think, three of the documents."

Asked whether Clinton's testimony that she did not email "any classified material to anyone on my email" and "there is no classified material" was true, Comey responded, "No, there was classified material emailed."

"Secretary Clinton said she used one device. Was that true?" Gowdy asked. Comey answered: "She used multiple devices during the four years of her term as secretary of state."

Gowdy asked whether it was true that Clinton, as she said, returned all work-related emails to the State Department.

"No, we found work-related emails, thousands that were not returned," Comey said.

"Secretary Clinton said neither she nor anyone else deleted work-related emails from her personal account. Was that true?" Gowdy asked.

Comey responded: "That's a harder one to answer. We found traces of work-related emails in, on devices or in slack space. Whether they were deleted or whether when a server changed out something happened to them, there is no doubt that the work-related emails that were removed electronically from the email system."

Gowdy asked whether Clintons' lawyers read every one of her emails as she had said.

Comey replied, "No."

"In interest of time, because I have a plane to catch tomorrow afternoon, I'm not going to go through anymore of the false statements but I am going to ask you put on your old hat. False exculpatory statements, they are used for what?" Gowdy inquired.

Comey responded, "Either for the substantive prosecution or for evidence of intent in a criminal prosecution."

"Exactly. Intent and consciousness of guilt, right? Is that right?" Gowdy asked.

"Consciousness of guilt and intent. In your old job you would prove intent as you just referenced by showing the jury evidence of a complex scheme that was designed for the very purpose of concealing the public record, and you would be arguing in addition to concealment the destruction that you and I just talked about, or certainly the failure to preserve. Would you argue all that under heading of content--intent. You would also be arguing the pervasiveness of the scheme, when it started, when it ended and number of emails, whether they were originally classified or up-classified, you would argue all of that under the heading of intent. You would also probably under common scheme or plan argue the burn bags of daily calendar entries or the missing daily calendar entries as a common scheme or plan to conceal. Two days ago, director, you said a reasonable person should have known a private email is no place to send and receive classified information. You're right."

"An average person does know not to do that. This is no average person," Gowdy said. "This is a former first lady, a former United States senator, and a former secretary of state that the president now contends is the most competent, qualified person to be president since Jefferson. He didn't say that in '08 but he says it now. She affirmatively rejected efforts to give her a state.gov account. She kept these private emails for almost two years and only turned them over to Congress because we found out she had a private email account."

He continued, "So you have a rogue email system set up before she took the oath of office. Thousands of what we now know to be classified emails, some of which were classified at the time. One of her more frequent email comrades was in fact hacked, and you don't know whether or not she was. And this scheme took place over a long period of time and resulted in the destruction of public records yet you say there is insufficient evidence of intent."

Gowdy continued : "You say careless but not intentionally. You and I both know intent is really difficult to prove. Very rarely do defendants announce, 'On this date I intend to break this criminal code section. Just to put everyone on notice, I am going to break the law on this date.' It never happens that way. You have to do it with circumstantial evidence, or if you're Congress and you realize how difficult it is to prove specific intent, you will formulate a statute that allows for gross negligence."

Remarking that his time had expired, Gowdy said he still feared that there was no precedent for criminal prosecution for future cases similar to Clinton.

"And my real fear is this, this is what Chairman Chaffetz touched upon, this double tracked justice system rightly or wrongly perceived this country, that if you are a private in the Army and you email yourself classified information, you will be kicked out but if you are Hillary Clinton and you seek a promotion to commander-in-chief, you will not be," Gowdy concluded. "So what I hope you can do today is help the average person, the reasonable person you made reference to, the reasonable person understand, why she appears to be treated differently than the rest of us would be."

Was Petraeus treated as well as Hillary?

Hillary Clinton and David Petraeus both shared secret emails. Both were accused of misusing their classified emails. Petraeus came clean, admitting mistakes, while Hillary could never seem to admit a mistake or tell the whole truth. Moreover, it kept getting worse until that fateful meeting on the tarmac when Bill Clinton and Loretta Lynch exchanged well-wishes and shortly thereafter, FBI Director James Comey, who works for Loretta Lynch cleared her of charges. My wife shared with me that she smelled a skunk after that meeting.

Like Hillary, General Petraeus was a presidential hopeful during his email dalliance. In fact, at one point Petraeus was a strong GOP candidate and many believe he would have fared well in this year's Republican Primary campaign and election? But then, he committed an unforgivable sin. He could not turn himself into Hillary Clinton, nor would he try. Since he was not Hillary Clinton when he shared classified information, he had to accept his fate.

Unlike Hillary Clinton, though he had publicly admitted his flaws, when he was called upon by Congress to discuss Middle East matters, amazingly unlike the former Secretary of State, the General did not offer typical hubris, misdirection, or blame shifting. Instead he thought it was important to again show true remorse for his actions Petraeus ... called the 'serious mistake' he made one that 'brought discredit on me and pain to those closest to me.' He called the error a breach of trust and of 'the values to which I had been committed through my life.'" He was punished. He was discredited; resigned from his CIA Director position; faced probation, and paid a six-figure fine.

Hillary Clinton, the former New York Senator and Secretary of State, has been the anti-Petraeus. Though her failings were far more serious than the General's she still claims that she never did anything wrong and her actions were allowed. She lost nothing.

The fact is that when classified information gets in the hands of our enemies and rivals, bad things happen to our beleaguered intelligence forces. Sometimes, it even leads to their capture, and the possible deaths, of our agents and their sources. Is there any excuse for putting them in more harm than they already face?

General Petraeus understands that it is wrong. He gets it. But somehow, as hard as it is to believe, Hillary still blames Republicans for her troubles. It is clear she still doesn't get it.

Statement by FBI Director James B. Comey on the Investigation of Secretary Hillary Clinton's Use of a Personal E-Mail System

Remarks prepared for delivery at press briefing.

"Good morning. I'm here to give you an update on the FBI's investigation of Secretary Clinton's use of a personal e-mail system during her time as Secretary of State.

After a tremendous amount of work over the last year, the FBI is completing its investigation and referring the case to the Department of Justice for a prosecutive decision. What I would like to do today is tell you three things: what we did; what we found; and what we are recommending to the Department of Justice.

This will be an unusual statement in at least a couple ways. First, I am going to include more detail about our process than I ordinarily would, because I think the American people deserve those details in a case of intense public interest. Second, I have not coordinated or reviewed this statement in any way with the Department of Justice or any other part of the government. They do not know what I am about to say.

I want to start by thanking the FBI employees who did remarkable work in this case. Once you have a better sense of how much we have done, you will understand why I am so grateful and proud of their efforts.

So, first, what we have done:

The investigation began as a referral from the Intelligence Community Inspector General in connection with Secretary Clinton's use of a personal e-mail server during her time as Secretary of State. The referral focused on whether classified information was transmitted on that personal system.

Our investigation looked at whether there is evidence classified information was improperly stored or transmitted on that personal system, in violation of a federal statute making it a felony to mishandle classified information either intentionally or in a grossly negligent way, or a second statute making it a misdemeanor to knowingly remove classified information from appropriate systems or storage facilities.

Consistent with our counterintelligence responsibilities, we have also investigated to determine whether there is evidence of computer intrusion in connection with the personal e-mail server by any foreign power, or other hostile actors.

I have so far used the singular term, "e-mail server," in describing the referral that began our investigation. It turns out to have been more complicated than that. Secretary Clinton used several different servers and administrators of those servers during her four years at the State Department, and used numerous mobile devices to view and send e-mail on that personal domain. As new servers and equipment were employed, older servers were taken out of service, stored, and decommissioned in various ways. Piecing all of that back together—to gain as full an understanding as possible of the ways in which personal e-mail was used for government work—has been a painstaking undertaking, requiring thousands of hours of effort.

For example, when one of Secretary Clinton's original personal servers was decommissioned in 2013, the e-mail software was removed. Doing that didn't remove the e-mail content, but it was like removing the frame from a huge finished jigsaw puzzle and dumping the pieces on the floor. The effect was that millions of e-mail fragments end up unsorted in the server's unused—or "slack"—space. We searched through all of it to see what was there, and what parts of the puzzle could be put back together.

FBI investigators have also read all of the approximately 30,000 e-mails provided by Secretary Clinton to the State Department in December 2014. Where an e-mail was assessed as possibly containing classified information, the FBI referred the e-mail to any U.S. government agency that was a likely "owner" of information in the e-mail, so that agency could make a determination as to whether the e-mail contained classified information at the time it was sent or received, or whether there was reason to classify the e-mail now, even if its content was not classified at the time it was sent (that is the process sometimes referred to as "up-classifying").

From the group of 30,000 e-mails returned to the State Department, 110 e-mails in 52 e-mail chains have been determined by the owning agency to contain classified information at the time they were sent or received. Eight of those chains contained information that was Top Secret at the time they were sent; 36 chains contained Secret information at the time; and eight contained Confidential information, which is the lowest level of classification. Separate from those, about 2,000 additional e-mails were "up-classified" to make them Confidential; the information in those had not been classified at the time the e-mails were sent.

The FBI also discovered several thousand work-related e-mails that were not in the group of 30,000 that were returned by Secretary Clinton to State in 2014. We found those additional e-mails in a variety of ways. Some had been deleted over the years and we found traces of them on devices that supported or were connected to the private e-mail domain. Others we found by reviewing the archived government e-mail accounts of people who had been government employees at the same time as Secretary Clinton, including high-ranking officials at other agencies, people with whom a Secretary of State might naturally correspond.

This helped us recover work-related e-mails that were not among the 30,000 produced to State. Still others we recovered from the laborious review of the millions of e-mail fragments dumped into the slack space of the server decommissioned in 2013.

With respect to the thousands of e-mails we found that were not among those produced to State, agencies have concluded that three of those were classified at the time they were sent or received, one at the Secret level and two at the Confidential level. There were no additional Top Secret e-mails found. Finally, none of those we found have since been “up-classified.”

I should add here that we found no evidence that any of the additional work-related e-mails were intentionally deleted in an effort to conceal them. Our assessment is that, like many e-mail users, Secretary Clinton periodically deleted e-mails or e-mails were purged from the system when devices were changed. Because she was not using a government account—or even a commercial account like Gmail—there was no archiving at all of her e-mails, so it is not surprising that we discovered e-mails that were not on Secretary Clinton’s system in 2014, when she produced the 30,000 e-mails to the State Department.

It could also be that some of the additional work-related e-mails we recovered were among those deleted as “personal” by Secretary Clinton’s lawyers when they reviewed and sorted her e-mails for production in 2014.

The lawyers doing the sorting for Secretary Clinton in 2014 did not individually read the content of all of her e-mails, as we did for those available to us; instead, they relied on header information and used search terms to try to find all work-related e-mails among the reportedly more than 60,000 total e-mails remaining on Secretary Clinton's personal system in 2014. It is highly likely their search terms missed some work-related e-mails, and that we later found them, for example, in the mailboxes of other officials or in the slack space of a server.

It is also likely that there are other work-related e-mails that they did not produce to State and that we did not find elsewhere, and that are now gone because they deleted all e-mails they did not return to State, and the lawyers cleaned their devices in such a way as to preclude complete forensic recovery.

We have conducted interviews and done technical examination to attempt to understand how that sorting was done by her attorneys. Although we do not have complete visibility because we are not able to fully reconstruct the electronic record of that sorting, we believe our investigation has been sufficient to give us reasonable confidence there was no intentional misconduct in connection with that sorting effort.

And, of course, in addition to our technical work, we interviewed many people, from those involved in setting up and maintaining the various iterations of Secretary Clinton's personal server, to staff members with whom she corresponded on e-mail, to those involved in the e-mail production to State, and finally, Secretary Clinton herself.

Last, we have done extensive work to understand what indications there might be of compromise by hostile actors in connection with the personal e-mail operation.

That's what we have done. Now let me tell you what we found:

Although we did not find clear evidence that Secretary Clinton or her colleagues intended to violate laws governing the handling of classified information, there is evidence that they were extremely careless in their handling of very sensitive, highly classified information.

For example, seven e-mail chains concern matters that were classified at the Top Secret/Special Access Program level when they were sent and received. These chains involved Secretary Clinton both sending e-mails about those matters and receiving e-mails from others about the same matters. There is evidence to support a conclusion that any reasonable person in Secretary Clinton's position, or in the position of those government employees with whom she was corresponding about these matters, should have known that an unclassified system was no place for that conversation. In addition to this highly sensitive information, we also found information that was properly classified as Secret by the U.S. Intelligence Community at the time it was discussed on e-mail (that is, excluding the later "up-classified" e-mails).

None of these e-mails should have been on any kind of unclassified system, but their presence is especially concerning because all of these e-mails were housed on unclassified personal servers not even supported by full-time security staff, like those found at Departments and Agencies of the U.S. Government—or even with a commercial service like Gmail.

Separately, it is important to say something about the marking of classified information. Only a very small number of the e-mails containing classified information bore markings indicating the presence of classified information. But even if information is not marked "classified" in an e-mail, participants who know or should know that the subject matter is classified are still obligated to protect it.

While not the focus of our investigation, we also developed evidence that the security culture of the State Department in general, and with respect to use of unclassified e-mail systems in particular, was generally lacking in the kind of care for classified information found elsewhere in the government.

With respect to potential computer intrusion by hostile actors, we did not find direct evidence that Secretary Clinton's personal e-mail domain, in its various configurations since 2009, was successfully hacked. But, given the nature of the system and of the actors potentially involved, we assess that we would be unlikely to see such direct evidence. We do assess that hostile actors gained access to the private commercial e-mail accounts of people with whom Secretary Clinton was in regular contact from her personal account. We also assess that Secretary Clinton's use of a personal e-mail domain was both known by a large number of people and readily apparent. She also used her personal e-mail extensively while outside the United States, including sending and receiving work-related e-mails in the territory of sophisticated adversaries. Given that combination of factors, we assess it is possible that hostile actors gained access to Secretary Clinton's personal e-mail account.

So that's what we found. Finally, with respect to our recommendation to the Department of Justice:

In our system, the prosecutors make the decisions about whether charges are appropriate based on evidence the FBI has helped collect. Although we don't normally make public our recommendations to the prosecutors, we frequently make recommendations and engage in productive conversations with prosecutors about what resolution may be appropriate, given the evidence. In this case, given the importance of the matter, I think unusual transparency is in order.

Although there is evidence of potential violations of the statutes regarding the handling of classified information, our judgment is that no reasonable prosecutor would bring such a case. Prosecutors necessarily weigh a number of factors before bringing charges. There are obvious considerations, like the strength of the evidence, especially regarding intent. Responsible decisions also consider the context of a person's actions, and how similar situations have been handled in the past.

In looking back at our investigations into mishandling or removal of classified information, we cannot find a case that would support bringing criminal charges on these facts. All the cases prosecuted involved some combination of: clearly intentional and willful mishandling of classified information; or vast quantities of materials exposed in such a way as to support an inference of intentional misconduct; or indications of disloyalty to the United States; or efforts to obstruct justice. We do not see those things here.

To be clear, this is not to suggest that in similar circumstances, a person who engaged in this activity would face no consequences. To the contrary, those individuals are often subject to security or administrative sanctions. But that is not what we are deciding now.

As a result, although the Department of Justice makes final decisions on matters like this, we are expressing to Justice our view that no charges are appropriate in this case.

I know there will be intense public debate in the wake of this recommendation, as there was throughout this investigation. What I can assure the American people is that this investigation was done competently, honestly, and independently. No outside influence of any kind was brought to bear.

I know there were many opinions expressed by people who were not part of the investigation—including people in government—but none of that mattered to us. Opinions are irrelevant, and they were all uninformed by insight into our investigation, because we did the investigation the right way. Only facts matter, and the FBI found them here in an entirely apolitical and professional way. I couldn't be prouder to be part of this organization.

Hillary and Trump Email

I received this email after I had basically finished the outline and the first draft of this book. It is intended to be serious, thought provoking and somewhat funny. The scenario depicted is a bar in which Hillary and Trump are having a conversation and they are trying to determine which scandal it was in which the media were tearing Hillary apart. Enjoy. I know Trump supporters will get the message. Following this email, this chapter will end.

Chapter 4 What is Donald Trump?

Can everybody be right or everybody be wrong about Trump?

I have such a wonderful group of email friends that I never feel alone. Over the years, we of like mind have gotten to know each other well so that rather than just ideological arguments which go no place, we send each other emails that help substantiate the conservative position. I, of course am a conservative Democrat and more than likely I am the only Democrat on the list.

If you like me are for Trump even if you cannot come up with a catch-phrase to tell it all in a sound bite, think of this next email as a continuous sound bite designed to tell us all we need about What is a Donald Trump. I did not write any of this email unless it is a comment in brackets []. I hope you like it. It is just what the doctor ordered:

Sent: 1/28/2016 10:06:38 A.M. Eastern Standard Time
 Subj: OMG- a 'Keeper'- "What Is Donald Trump?" (So well written & FUNNY too!)

I did a search on 'truthorfiction.com' (I don't trust snopes) for the author Don Frederick & there's one by that name who writes for Bloomberg, but couldn't find this particular column. --- It's great, whether he wrote it or not.

The author (Don Frederick) is the political correspondent for Bloomberg and wrote extensively about Obama even before he was elected and he did it with facts and more facts.

"Who is Donald Trump?" The better question may be, "What is Donald Trump?"

The answer: A giant middle finger from average Americans to the political and media establishment.

Some Trump supporters are like the 60s white girls who dated black guys just to annoy their parents. But most Trump supporters have simply had it with the Demosocialists and the "Republicans in Name Only."

They know there isn't a dime's worth of difference between Hillary Rodham and Jeb Bush, and only a few cents worth between Rodham and the other GOP candidates.

Ben Carson is not an "establishment" candidate, but the Clinton machine would pulverize Carson, and the somewhat rebellious Ted Cruz will (justifiably so) be tied up with natural born citizen lawsuits (as might Marco Rubio).

The Trump supporters figure they may as well have some fun tossing Molotov cocktails at Wall Street and Georgetown while they watch the nation collapse. Besides, lightning might strike, Trump might get elected, and he might actually fix a few things. Stranger things have happened. (The nation elected a Marxist in 2008 and Bruce Jenner now wears designer dresses.)

Millions of conservatives are justifiably furious. They gave the Republicans control of the House in 2010 and control of the Senate in 2014 and have seen them govern no differently than Nancy Pelosi and Harry Reid. Yet those same voters are supposed to trust the GOP in 2016? Why? Trump did not come from out of nowhere. His candidacy was created by the last six years of Republican failures.

No reasonable person can believe that any of the establishment candidates will slash federal spending, rein in the Federal Reserve, cut burdensome business regulations, reform the tax code, or eliminate useless federal departments (the Departments of Education, Housing and Urban Development, Energy, etc.). Even Ronald Reagan was unable to eliminate the Department of Education. (Of course, getting shot at tends to make a person less of a risk-taker.)

No reasonable person can believe that any of the nation's major problems will be solved by Rodham, Bush, and the other dishers of donkey fazoo now eagerly eating corn in Iowa and pancakes in New Hampshire.

Many Americans, and especially Trump supporters, have had it with:

- ✓ Anyone named Bush
- ✓ Anyone named Clinton
- ✓ Anyone who's held political office
- ✓ Political correctness
- ✓ Illegal immigration
- ✓ Massive unemployment
- ✓ Phony "official" unemployment and inflation figures
- ✓ Welfare waste and fraud
- ✓ People faking disabilities to go on the dole
- ✓ VA waiting lists
- ✓ TSA airport groping
- ✓ ObamaCare
- ✓ The Federal Reserve's money-printing schemes
- ✓ Wall Street crooks like Jon Corzine
- ✓ Michelle Obama's vacations
- ✓ Michelle Obama's food police
- ✓ Barack Obama's golf
- ✓ Barack Obama's arrogant and condescending lectures
- ✓ Barack Obama's criticism/hatred of America
- ✓ Valerie Jarrett

- ✓ "Holiday trees"
- ✓ Hollywood hypocrites
- ✓ Global warming nonsense
- ✓ Cop killers
- ✓ Gun confiscation threats
- ✓ Stagnant wages
- ✓ Chevy Volts
- ✓ Clock boy
- ✓ Pajama boy
- ✓ Mattress girl
- ✓ Boys in girls' bathrooms
- ✓ Whiny, spoiled college students who can't even place the Civil War in the correct century

...and that's just the short list.

Trump supporters believe that no Democrat wants to address these issues, and that few Republicans have the courage to address these issues. They certainly know that none of the establishment candidates are better than barely listening to them, and Trump is their way of saying, "Screw you, Hillary Rodham Rove Bush!"

The more the talking head political pundits insult the Trump supporters, the more supporters he gains. (The only pundits who seem to understand what is going on are Democrats Doug Schoen and Pat Caddell and Republican John LeBoutillier. All the others argue that the voters will eventually "come to their senses" and support an establishment candidate.)

But America does not need a tune-up at the same old garage. It needs a new engine installed by experts--and neither Rodham nor Bush are mechanics with the skills or experience to install it. Hillary Rodham is not a mechanic; she merely manages a garage her philandering husband abandoned. Jeb Bush is not a mechanic; he merely inherited a garage. Granted, Trump is also not a mechanic, but he knows where to find the best ones to work in his garage. He won't hire his brother-in-law or someone to whom he owes a favor; he will hire someone who lives and breathes cars.

"How dare they revolt!" the "elites" are bellowing. Well, the citizens are daring to revolt, and the RINOs had better get used to it. "But Trump will hand the election to Clinton!" That is what the Karl Rove-types want people to believe, just as the leftist media eagerly shoved "Maverick" McCain down GOP throats in 2008--knowing he would lose to Obama.

But even if Trump loses and Rodham wins, she would not be dramatically different than Bush or most of his fellow candidates. They would be nothing more than caretakers, not working to restore America's greatness but merely presiding over the collapse of a massively in-debt nation. A nation can perhaps survive open borders; a nation can perhaps survive a generous welfare system. But no nation can survive both--and there is little evidence that the establishment candidates of either party understand that. The United States cannot forever continue on the path it is on. At some point it will be destroyed by its debt.

Yes, Trump speaks like a bull wanders through a china shop, but the truth is that the borders do need to be sealed; we cannot afford to feed, house, and clothe 200,000 Syrian immigrants for decades (even if we get inordinately lucky and none of them are ISIS infiltrators or Syed Farook wannabes); the world is at war with radical Islamists; all the world's glaciers are not melting; and Rosie O'Donnell is a fat pig.

Is Trump the perfect candidate? Of course not. Neither was Ronald Reagan. But unless we close our borders and restrict immigration, all the other issues are irrelevant. One terrorist blowing up a bridge or a tunnel could kill thousands. One jihadist poisoning a city's water supply could kill tens of thousands. One electromagnetic pulse attack from a single Iranian nuclear device could kill tens of millions. Faced with those possibilities, most Americans probably don't care that Trump relied on eminent domain to grab up a final quarter acre of property for a hotel, or that he boils the blood of the Muslim Brotherhood thugs running the Council on American-Islamic Relations.

While Attorney General Loretta Lynch's greatest fear is someone giving a Muslim a dirty look, most Americans are more worried about being gunned down at a shopping mall by a crazed lunatic who treats his prayer mat better than his three wives and who thinks 72 virgins are waiting for him in paradise.

The establishment is frightened to death that Trump will win, but not because they believe he will harm the nation. They are afraid he will upset their taxpayer-subsidized apple carts. While Obama threatens to veto legislation that spends too little, they worry that Trump will veto legislation that spends too much.

You can be certain that if an establishment candidate wins in November 2016, his or her cabinet positions will be filled with the same people we've seen before. The washed-up has-beens of the Clinton and Bush administrations will be back in charge. The hacks from Goldman Sachs will continue to call the shots. Whether it is Bush's Karl Rove or Clinton's John Podesta who makes the decisions in the White House will matter little. If the establishment wins, America loses.

Immigration Concerns and Solutions

Moving to the immigration front and leaving the prior email behind for you to chew upon well, let's finish this chapter by squeezing in a few items regarding immigration in bullet form and then text form. You have seen all these notions but perhaps not all together at once. This is the immigration issue in a nutshell followed by the solution for the 60 million foreign interlopers in the US today.

What do Americans want?

- ✓ No amnesty
- ✓ No citizenship
- ✓ No voting ever!
- ✓ Jobs first for Americans!
- ✓ No employer cost advantage for hiring interlopers
- ✓ Freebies? No free rides for illegal foreigners
- ✓ Mandatory registration -- no shadows -- we must know who they are
- ✓ Americans get all the breaks
- ✓ No more misguided love"
- ✓ Eliminate need for terms illegal and undocumented
- ✓ Programs that pay for themselves
- ✓ Lifetime guests from other countries pay back all benefits
- ✓ Solution for anchor citizens

What do interlopers want?

- ✓ A safe place to live
- ✓ No fear and no hiding
- ✓ No more shadow living
- ✓ Opportunity to have a job
- ✓ Opportunity to keep jobs held
- ✓ No wage less than minimum wage
- ✓ A life without persecution or danger

Few think this problem is solvable: I do! I created the lifetime guest plan and have written about it extensively.

The Lifetime Guest Plan (LGP)

- ✓ Stern and sane, pro-American
- ✓ Compassionate plan
- ✓ Serves both citizens and interlopers alike
- ✓ No more shadows
- ✓ No fear and no hiding
- ✓ Americans are no longer last
- ✓ Americans no longer pick up the tab

US has 20 million to 60 million interlopers.
My bet is 60M.

- ✓ From around the world.
- ✓ Not necessarily bad people.
- ✓ Take US education & healthcare & never give back
- ✓ Take US jobs – work cheap
- ✓ Taxpayers pay for Congress's munificence
- ✓ Republicans & US business: Want cheap wages
- ✓ Democrats: Want new Dem voters
- ✓ Congress does nothing; POTUS makes it worse
- ✓ If Congress wants a cheap solution: Cost of Lifetime Guest Program (LGP) is zero
- ✓ LGP turns worthy dependent illegal foreign nationals into paying lifetime guests.
- ✓ Those not granted guest status > registration are deported. No country would want them.
- ✓ Guests don't have any intrinsic US rights
- ✓ They get any specific privileges as grants by citizens.
- ✓ Guests are guests and nothing more.
- ✓ Guests must always behave as guests.

"A guest is a person who is invited to visit the home or office or country or take part in a function organized by another." This plan is for the 60 million interlopers already in America; not designed to permit future interlopers. No guests are uninvited.

What is an interloper is a valid concern as is the question, why do we have 60 million interlopers in the US today?

FYI: An interloper is a person who becomes involved in a place or situation where they are not wanted or are considered not to belong. Interloper is not a synonym for undocumented immigrant but most illegal aliens can rightfully be called interlopers. My message is not one of guilt for Americans but it is one that hopefully will help those who know they are interlopers to begin to love America and do what is necessary to get on the right side of American law.

No more shadows; No more freebies; No more costs for Taxpayers

Can a Trump lifetime guest plan help Americans?

- ✓ Lifetime Guest Plan registers all interlopers.
- ✓ All applicants for registration accepted.
- ✓ Application methodology: Using computer intelligence
- ✓ Most LGP Yes / No decisions made on the spot at venue such as post office.
- ✓ May be granted additional time while application appealed
- ✓ Appeal may be initiated by registrant or US official
- ✓ Registrant provides address and demographics
- ✓ Fingerprints, retina scans etc.
- ✓ Registration free for short period at Post Offices / Fed Buildings etc.
- ✓ Registrants may then be granted lifetime guest status
- ✓ $100 per year dues forever; renewable annually.

Immigration is not the only issue but it is very important and for those willing to listen to Trump, it is easily solvable!

Chapter 5 Why Vote For Trump?

Don't take your country for granted

The United States is in imminent danger and we need a comprehensive, yet workable solution to bring us back on the right economic track so that American businesses do so well that they can put the Apply Inside signs back outside.

The reason there are no real middle class jobs is because the economy is bad. It is not working. Why is it not working? This government is ideologically driven and its policies and regulations have businesses afraid to invest in America. The government is the chief problem and so far, the government has chosen not to get out of the way. But, it must, or that's all she wrote for America! Government philosophies must change for America to have a chance. Donald Trump will paint it all fresh with a new paint brush and great paint!

One way to change government philosophies is for the same people who created the problem to change their ways. That rarely happens. Another way to change government philosophies is to change governments. We get to do that at the federal level every two to four years. Once every four years, we get to change Presidents. This time we must change the presidency to one that makes Donald J. Trump our CEO.

Only Trump has the guts to fire all the representatives that have given up America for Obama. Only Trump can and only Trump will save America for us and for those who live long after us. Yes, that includes our kids.

Thank you for running Mr. Trump!

Great things sometimes come in email

Like you, I have received many things in the mail without attribution that I wanted to believe so much that I passed them on without checking anywhere. I do not particularly like Snopes as it almost always from my observations gives the liberal socialist progressive viewpoint like as if a Democrat activist did the analysis.

Rarely do they call anything I check out true and most often things that are very believable are called false without what I consider a proper explanation. Nonetheless, I use Snopes myself as a conservative Democrat to see what the other side thinks about given matters.

By the way, in addition to email, I also found a written piece on <https://reclaimourrepublic.wordpress.com>. The full URL is <https://reclaimourrepublic.wordpress.com/2016/06/02/video-honestly-why-would-anyone-vote-for-trump-press-covers-trump-inaccurately/>

VIDEO Honestly, Why Would Anyone Vote For Trump? – Press covers Trump inaccurately

I for one and my whole family love the fact that Donald Trump is running for office and we wish him and his family well in this most arduous task. I thank Fred L. Anderson for this great email. It was proudly signed Fred L. Anderson. I could not find it on Snopes which I believe means that Snopes could find no material to denigrate the piece or the author.

The email is printed as received with emphasis asterisks removed. The paragraph immediately below, preceding the email, is from a retired lawyer. I adjusted it very slightly to mute a few words that might appear objectionable. The essence of what was said is still in the below paragraph.

Believing fervently that anyone in the phone book would make a better president than either the disgusting creature whom the Dems will nominate or the guy who many liberals think is a narcissistic empty suit, I am trying to see Trump in a better light than that cast by the parrots collectively comprising the national media. I found the attached piece, sent to me by a Naples, Florida, retiree, encouraging in that regard, and would commend it to your attention.

Here is the rest of the Email/Article:

Honestly, Why you should vote for Trump? – Press covers Trump inaccurately

A few days ago someone I don't know asked this question ... and a mutual friend (knowing I am a Trump supporter), tagged me and asked me to answer the question. Here is my reply:

I am a Trump supporter for several reasons. I believe that our country is at a critical tipping point and we don't have another presidential term to figure this out.

Health care costs are out of control, our labor participation rate is at a 50 year low, we have no borders, jobs are leaving by the thousands, the debt service on our national debt is nearing a point we cannot pay it.

The average person hasn't had an increase in pay in 12 years. Over half the black men in our country are out of work. We are more divided than I can ever remember and I'm over 60 years old. We are at the brink of losing our country.

On top of that we spend money we don't have fighting wars we shouldn't be in, and cannot win. We pay over a hundred other countries billions of dollars a year and our military are the policemen for the world. We must fix this mess ASAP.

Now, before I give you my reasons, I need to share my perspective. I am an evangelical Christian but I don't believe it is the role of government to legislate morality. I am a service connected disabled veteran having served in the US Army as a paratrooper.

I started my second career as an auto mechanic and worked my way up to owning 12 auto repair franchises. I then sold them and began a new career in real estate, building my own company to over 150 agents.*

Then in 2003 I invented a technology that put me on CNN and I began selling that software to real estate agents internationally. I've written 14 books, thousands of trade articles and have trained over 1,000,000 real estate agents in specific professional skills.

I've employed over a thousand people during that time, and until a month ago have been a registered democrat. Okay, now that you know where I'm coming from, here are my reasons:*

First, his resume. Of everyone running for president, Trump is the only one who has ever employed anyone. He is the only one who has any experience in international trade. He is the only one who understands the impact of our tax laws and government regulation on companies and jobs.

Trump has made a fortune turning around failed companies. He's worked complicated deals all over the world, negotiating with governments, labor unions, and international financiers. These skills are not learned overnight and we don't have time for another life-long politician and attorney to get up to speed.

Second is his character. He is tough as nails. His children are pretty awesome. You can tell a lot about somebody by their kids. He is brutally honest as opposed to being politically correct. His employees and his ex-employees have nothing but praise for him. Even his ex-wives have nothing bad to say about him. Check it out.

Third is his success. He has built hundreds of successful businesses. One of his companies declared bankruptcy (chapter 11 or reorganization) four separate times before ultimately saving the company. All creditors were paid and jobs were saved. Bottom line is he is just a very good businessman.

Fourth is that he is a great negotiator. In fact, he wrote the book on negotiation -- The Art of the Deal, an international best-seller. If we are to save this country we need someone who can work with people of differing opinions. Congress is grid locked. We need to work new trade agreements with other nations. We need to renegotiate treaties.

Fifth, Trump is a nationalist and not a globalist. He believes that our country comes first. We need to enforce our borders and the rule of law. He believes it is not our job to defend the whole world. He believes that if we do help countries with their defense, we should be paid for it.

Sixth, he has great instincts. He predicted the rise of Osama bin Laden. He predicted a terror attack on a major US city. He opposed the war in Iraq although every other candidate but Bernie Sanders was in favor of the war. He opposed it because it would destabilize the Middle East. He got out of the gaming industry before it crashed. Great instincts.

Seventh, he is a natural leader. Even those who don't like him are following his lead. He has single-handedly set the agenda for this election cycle. He is respected internationally as well as in our nation. He oozes leadership.

Eighth, he is a great communicator and persuader. He is a master at using the media to advance his narrative. He totally understands the media. He built the most successful reality show in the history of television. These are skills he will need if he is to turn this country around.

Ninth, I have studied him. I read his first book in 1987 and realized he was a brilliant businessman. I've watched hundreds of hours of speeches, media interviews, read thousands of articles about him, several of his books, and studied his successes and his failures. He is the real deal. I challenge anyone to study him and not support him.*

Finally, I have to look at what motivates him. Most politicians are motivated by money and/or power. Trump already has both. He has a history of being a patriot, from his military high school, to now. He has a huge ego, like every other candidate running. The difference is he is honest about his.*

I think he sees our nation at a critical place and he knows that he has the unique skill set to fix the problems. If he does, he will go down in history as being one of the greatest presidents ever.

If you understand him, you know that his legacy is important to him (his name on all his buildings and companies). I even believe he is funding his own campaign so he won't owe favors or loyalties to special interests. When you evaluate his motivations you can't help but admire him.*

I remembered one more reason. Everyone is about to blow a gasket over him. The establishment Republican Party hates him and has actually been actively trying to take down their own front runner. The establishment Democrat Party hates him because they know he will crush Hillary in the election, and the establishment media hates him because he totally controls the news cycle and they cannot control him. Even the donor class hates him because he cannot be bought. If all these people who I cannot stand hate him, that only makes me love him more.

You know who loves him? The regular people in this country. The ones who work their asses off every day and haven't had a pay raise in over a decade. The ones who pay the taxes and watch as their jobs get shipped overseas or across the border. The ones who see their property values going down because corrupt

Big Banking blew up the housing market. The ones whose retirement is in jeopardy because social security has been raided and their 401Ks have been decimated by corrupt Wall Street.

Think about this: We've had politicians running our country for way too many years and look at the results. Isn't it time we give a business person the opportunity to show the way a country should be run.....like a business, because that's what our country is!*

Chapter 6 Trump's Deduced Political Platform

Read your email for insights

The person who sent me this email, my good friend Eppy Harding, surely loves me as this email is very insightful. It is yet another great email which provides valuable sagacity into how Donald J. Trump would serve as our president. I received this set of platform points unattributed to the original author in February. I checked it out as best I could and sent it on to my other email friends. I have reproduced it in its entirety for your reading pleasure and edification. I hope you enjoy it below. Donald Trump is quite a guy and this is his platform as deduced by the unknown writer

THIS IS DONALD TRUMP'S POLITICAL PLATFORM

1.) Trump believes that America should not intervene militarily in other country's problems without being compensated for doing so. If America is going to risk the lives of our soldiers and incur the expense of going to war, then the nations we help must be willing to pay for our help. Using the Iraq War as an example, he cites the huge monetary expense to American taxpayers (over $1.5 trillion, and possibly much more depending on what sources are used to determine the cost) in addition to the cost in human life. He suggests that Iraq should have been required to give us enough of their oil to pay for the expenses we incurred. He includes in those expenses the medical costs for our military and $5 million for each family that lost a loved one in the war and $2 million for each family of soldiers who received severe injuries.

2.) Speaking of the military, Trump wants America to have a strong military again. He believes the single most important function of the federal government is national defense. He has said he wants to find the General Patton or General MacArthur that could lead our military buildup back to the strength it needs to be. While he hasn't said it directly that I know of, Trump's attitude about America and about winning tells me he'd most likely be quick to eliminate rules of engagement that handicap our military in battle. Clearly Trump is a "win at all costs" kind of guy, and I'm sure that would apply to our national defense and security, too.

3.) Trump wants a strong foreign policy and believes that it must include 7 core principles:

- ✓ American interests come first. Always. No apologies.
- ✓ Maximum firepower and military preparedness.
- ✓ Only go to war to win.
- ✓ Stay loyal to your friends and suspicious of your enemies.
- ✓ Keep the technological sword razor sharp.
- ✓ See the unseen. Prepare for threats before they materialize.
- ✓ Respect and support our present and past warriors.

4.) Trump believes that terrorists who are captured should be treated as military combatants, not as criminals like the Obama administration treats them.

5.) Trump makes the point that China's manipulation of their currency has given them unfair advantage in our trade dealings with them. He says we must tax their imports to offset their currency manipulation, which will cause American companies to be competitive again and drive manufacturing back to America and create jobs here. Although he sees China as the biggest offender, he believes that America should protect itself from all foreign efforts to take our jobs and manufacturing. For example, Ford is building a plant in Mexico and Trump suggests that every part or vehicle Ford makes in Mexico be taxed 35% if they want to bring it into the U. S., which would cause companies like Ford to no longer be competitive using their Mexican operations and move manufacturing back to the U. S., once again creating jobs here.

6.) Trump wants passage of NOPEC legislation (No Oil Producing and Exporting Cartels Act NOPEC S.394), which would allow the government to sue OPEC for violating antitrust laws. According to Trump, that would break up the cartel. He also wants to unleash our energy companies to drill domestically thereby increasing domestic production creating jobs and driving domestic costs of oil and gas down while reducing dependence on foreign oil.

7.) Trump believes a secure border is critical for both security and prosperity in America . He wants to build a wall to stop illegals from entering. He wants to put real controls on immigration. (And he says he'll get Mexico to pay for the wall, which many have scoffed at, but given his business successes I wouldn't put it past him.) He also wants to enforce our immigration laws and provide no path to citizenship for illegals.

8.) Trump wants a radical change to the tax system to not only make it better for average Americans, but also to encourage businesses to stay here and foreign businesses to move here. The resulting influx of money to our nation would do wonders for our economy. He wants to make America the place to do business. He also wants to lower the death tax and the taxes on capital gains and dividends. This would put more than $1.6 trillion back into the economy and help rebuild the 1.5 million jobs we've lost to the current tax system. He also wants to charge companies who outsource jobs overseas a 20% tax, but for those willing to move jobs back to America they would not be taxed. And for citizens he has a tax plan that would allow Americans to keep more of what they earn and spark economic growth. He wants to change the personal income tax to:

- Up to $30,000 taxed at 1%
- From $30,000 to $100,000 taxed at 5%
- From $100,000 to $1,000,000 taxed at 10%
- $1,000,000 and above taxed at 15%

9.) Trump wants Obamacare repealed. He says it's a "job-killing, health care-destroying monstrosity" that "can't be reformed, salvaged, or fixed." He believes in allowing real competition in the health insurance marketplace to allow competition to drive prices down. He also believes in tort reform to get rid of defensive medicine and lower costs.

10.) Trump wants spending reforms in Washington , acknowledging that America spends far more than it receives in revenue. He has said he believes that if we don't stop increasing the national debt once it hits $24 trillion it will be impossible to save this country.

11.) Even though he says we need to cut spending, he does not want to harm those on Medicare, Medicaid, or Social Security. He believes that the citizens have faithfully paid in to the system to have these services available and that the American government has an obligation to fulfill its end of the bargain and provide those benefits. Therefore, he wants to build the economy up so that we have the revenue to pay those costs without cutting the benefits to the recipients. He disagrees with Democrats who think raising taxes is the answer and says that when you do that you stifle the economy. On the other hand, when you lower taxes and create an environment to help businesses they will grow, hire more workers, and those new workers will be paying taxes that become more tax revenue for the government.

12.) Trump also wants reform of the welfare state saying that America needs “a safety net, not a hammock.” He believes in a welfare to work program that would help reduce the welfare roles and encourage people to get back to work. And he wants a crackdown on entitlement fraud. [My way of saying this is that Trump wants to help the helpless but he does not want to help make people helpless.]

13.) Trump believes climate change is a hoax. {emails that were hacked prove they are lying to benefit their ideological agenda}

14.) Trump opposes Common Core [Notion that Education should be controlled by Feds] .

15.) Trump is pro-life, although he allows for an exception due to rape, incest, or the life of the mother.

16.) Trump is pro 2nd Amendment rights.

17.) Trump's view on same-sex marriage is that marriage is between a man and a woman, but he also believes that this is a states' rights issue, not a federal issue.

18.) Trump supports the death penalty.
Trump believes that there is a lack of common sense, innovative thinking in Washington (Hmmm looks like he believes in horse sense!). He says it's about seeing the unseen and that's the kind of thinking we need to turn this country around. He tells a personal story to illustrate the point:

“When I opened Trump National Golf Club at Rancho Palos Verdes in Los Angeles, I was immediately told that I would need to build a new and costly ballroom. The current ballroom was gorgeous, but it only sat 200 people and we were losing business because people needed a larger space for their events. Building a new ballroom would take years to get approval and permits (since it's on the Pacific Ocean), and cost about $5 million. I took one look at the ballroom and saw immediately what needed to be done. The problem wasn't the size of the room, it was the size of the chairs.

They were huge, heavy, and unwieldy. We didn't need a bigger ballroom, we needed smaller chairs! So I had them replaced with high-end, smaller chairs. I then had our people sell the old chairs and got more money for them than the cost of the new chairs. In the end, the ballroom went from seating 200 people to seating 320 people. Our visitors got the space they desired, and I spared everyone the hassle of years of construction and $5 million of expense. It's amazing what you can accomplish with a little common sense."

On top of his saving years of construction and $5 million in expenses, he also was able to keep the ballroom open for business during the time it would have been under remodeling, which allowed him to continue to make money on the space instead of losing that revenue during construction time.

Donald Trump's entire life has been made up of success and winning. He's been accused of bankruptcies, but that's not true. He's never filed personal bankruptcy. He's bought companies and legally used bankruptcy laws to restructure their debt, just as businesses do all the time. But he's never been bankrupt personally.

He's a fighter that clearly loves America and would fight for our nation.

Trump says, "I love America. And when you love something, you protect it passionately - fiercely, even." We never hear that from Democrats or even from most Republicans. Donald Trump is saying things that desperately need to be said but no other candidate has shown the fortitude to stand up and say them.

Looking over this list of what he wants for America I see a very necessary set of goals that are long past due. Before we criticize someone because the media does, maybe we should seriously consider what he has to offer.

(Most of the information on Trump's positions and plans for America come from his 2011 book, Time To Get Tough)

Here is a little piece that you may like.

Donald Trump is a special guy who sometimes shoots his mouth off in a way that some people do not understand. I understand as I do the same thing. I have learned over the years that I am not perfect and so even to my beloved sisters I have had to apologize for being crass or crude—who cares which. They forgive me and I move on still capable of fighting the fights that must be fought.

Who is going to tell Donald Trump that he has messed up with anybody? I know the answer. It is his family. I met most of them during the RNC while watching their speeches, and I am impressed with genuine Trump love. It is a thing that is not always genuine in all families. In the Trump family I think it is.

It is not because the Trumps are perfect. It is because love demands love and respect and forgiveness. Donald Trump always deferred to his dad because he loved him. Yet, he is not the only guy in Trumpville to have a say. Everybody including Barron gets to offer their corrections to Donald Trump, the one we know; and from what I see, he accepts them graciously.

Let's go back when Trump purchased and rebuilt Mar-A-Lago, the grand mansion and estate in Palm Beach, Florida. You may know that he got into a dispute with the city fathers who are well known for being strict on zoning regulations.

Mr. Trump put up a 50-foot flag pole even though 30 feet is the maximum allowed to not be overly patriotic and offend other nationalities.

The city imposed a $1,000 per day fine while Trump and city officials argued back and forth. Finally, when the fine had reached a total of $120,000 Trump proposed a solution. He would donate that amount to veteran's organizations, would move the flag to a different spot in front of the mansion, and would only use a 30 foot flagpole.

The city agreed.

So Trump brought in the company that does his golf course construction, had them build a 20-foot high beautiful grassy hill, and he put the 30-foot flag pole on top of that hill.

Now, would you rather have Trump negotiating an Iranian deal, or any deal for that matter or would you rather have Hillary....? How about all the fuss over the American Flag. I love the flag and unlike many politicians of today, Donald Trump pledges his allegiance as I do and you do. Did you notice the lack of flags at the DNC?

Did you notice that when they were forced by protocol to pledge, the Democrats, recognizing their constituency did not want to be embarrassed, put the pledge of allegiance on the teleprompter.

This is what common core education has brought to America. People no longer know the Pledge of Allegiance. I know it and you know it and everybody who loves America should know it. Amen!

Chapter 8 Law & Order—Trump or Hillary

For me, I'll take Trump!

Republican nominee Donald Trump speaks directly and unequivocally to America's police officers and law enforcement:

"We must maintain law and order at the highest level or we will cease to have a country," Trump stressed while speaking at The Westin Virginia Beach Town Center. "I am the law and order candidate." The audience knew he was on message and was for them and they literally erupted in applause and cheers. "

Watching Hillary Clinton talk about law and order is like feeling like a white guy with the bullets entering your back as her raspy voice talks about being nicer to the black and other minority communities while getting rid of your guns. She is weak, ineffective, pompous, pandering and based on her Bosnia heroine act under sniper fire, the Benghazi atrocities, and the email scandal, she is either a liar or she is grossly incompetent. OK, I hear you. You got me...it's both.

Donald Trump wonders how Hillary can claim to be law and order oriented when in fact, she came a hair close to being in jail simply for being crooked Hillary and getting caught in what appeared to be a criminal enterprise. Trump said Clinton's conduct with her email use and private server was "willful, intentional and unlawful." He said that "she was fully aware of her guilt. She knew it. She's probably the most surprised person that she was able to get away with it." He said that the behavior of the Democratic nominee was calculated, deliberate, premeditated misconduct followed by a cover up that included false statements and lies to Congress, the media and the American people.”

He added the icing on the cake by stating that “Clearly, Hillary Clinton thinks she’s above the law. Come November, the American people will show her that she is not above the law.”

Trump then noted the difference on law and order between the two: “Not only am I the law and order candidate, but also the “candidate of compassion.” Trump stated that his administration “will protect all Americans... everyone deserves to walk about their communities feeling safe, adding, without safety, we have nothing. It’s the job of the next president to make America safe again for everyone.”

Trump protects your back while Hillary is on your back

Obama, Loretta Lynch, and Hillary Clinton have been on the backs of police departments in all major cities to take it easier on the black community—or else lose funding. Right or wrong the message to the police from the Federal Government has been to lay off so that black lives can matter by not being shot dead by police for no apparent reason. The cause and effect from police being reprimanded by the feds and prosecuted whenever a black person is shot or harmed in any way by police (properly or improperly) is that crime is up and murders are up big time.

Here is some rhetoric right from the horse's mouth: CNS News reported that at the debate in Charleston, SC, Former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said that “there needs to be a concerted effort to address the systemic racism in our criminal justice system.”

"Well, sadly it's reality. And it has been heartbreaking and incredibly outraging to see the constant stories of young men like Walter Scott, as you said, who have been killed by police officers. There needs to be a concerted effort to address the systemic racism in our criminal justice system. And that requires a very clear agenda for retraining police officers, looking at ways to end racial profiling, finding more ways to really bring the disparities that stalk our country into high relief."

"One out of three African American men may well end up going to prison. That's the statistic." [Point of fact, this is a Clinton lie. It is nowhere close to that.]

[To me this is race baiting. Who makes a comment like this one below?]

"I want people here to think what we would be doing if it was one out of three white men. And very often, the black men are arrested, convicted and incarcerated for offenses that do not lead to the same results for white men. So we have a very serious problem that we can no longer ignore."

Tell me what you think? Why does Hillary Clinton get away with making statements as ridiculous as the so called systemic problem of police shooting black people? These comments she makes on a regular basis are never backed up with statistics or facts. The media allows her to do this all the time, and never challenges her to support these wild inaccurate statements with the facts. Of course we all know Hillary never lets the facts interrupt her great narratives.

Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton are both huge fans of power so I will simply use Hillary to make my point. She believes power is a good thing. And there is no such thing as too much of a good thing.

Hillary wants the power to effectively repeal deportation laws. She wants the power to hire terrorists and bring in their friends from Syria. She wants the power to determine foreign elections. She wants the power to determine what we teach, what we eat and how many bullets we can own.

Now, according to al.com, Obama, backed by Hillary Clinton wants to control the local police. Over a year ago. Obama's Department of Justice announced the six cities that would serve as national pilot sites of a $4.7 million National Initiative for Building Community Trust and Justice.

The first six selected cities are Ft. Worth, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, Stockton, Birmingham and Gary, Indiana. As of today, they tell me there are thirty five cities, including Phoenix already indoctrinated with the federal slant on police conduct.

Birmingham officials expressed delight in the takeover by Holder. "We are truly honored that DOJ would select Birmingham as one of six national pilot sites," said Birmingham police Chief A.C. Roper. I bet!

Comic Relief

Stanstaaf made comment on the Internet about 6 months ago. Perhaps it can serve as a mood changer.

A woman in a hot air balloon realized she was lost. She lowered altitude and spotted a man in a boat below. She shouted to him, "Excuse me, can you help me? I promised a friend I would meet him an hour ago, but I don't know where I am."

The man consulted his portable GPS and replied, "You're in a hot air balloon approximately 30 feet above a ground elevation of 2,346 feet above sea level. You are 31 degrees, 14.97 minutes north latitude and 100 degrees, 49.09 minutes west longitude."

She rolled her eyes and said, "You must be a Republican."

"I am," replied the man. "How did you know?"

"Well," answered the balloonist, "everything you told me is technically correct, but I have no idea what to make of your information, and I'm still lost. Frankly, you've not been much help to me."

The man smiled and responded, "You must be a Democrat."

"I am," replied the balloonist. "But how did you know?"

"Well," said the man, "You don't know where you are or where you're going. You've risen to where you are due to a large quantity of hot air. You've made a promise that you have no idea how to keep, and now you expect ME to solve your problem.

You're in EXACTLY the same position you were in before we met, but somehow, now, it's MY fault. and there you have it!

Back to Trump speaking to the Vets

Right before Donald Trump began to talk about veterans issues at the same event, regarding his plan to reform Veterans Affairs (VA), Trump brought up the attack on the police in Dallas from the prior week. You may recall that five police officers were murdered during an anti-police street protest.

To bring you back up to date on that situation, there was a heavily armed sniper who gunned down police officers in downtown Dallas. This left five of them dead. This was no accident. The sniper specifically set out to kill as many white officers as he could, He was a military veteran who had served in Afghanistan. He had a major arsenal in his home that included ammunition and bomb-making materials.

This was to be a demonstration against the fatal police shootings of black men in Minnesota and Louisiana and the march was intended to be peaceful. It was focused on violence committed by police officers who were in a scene of chaos and bloodshed aimed against them.

The sniper shooting thus was the type of retaliatory violence that many people have feared from two years of protests about black shootings and deaths such as Freddy Gray around the country. This is forcing yet another wrenching shift in debates over race and criminal justice that already has our nation deeply divided. In the streets, many in the white community believe that these shootings of officers have to do with Obama and Hillary favoring the criminals over the police.

“Our police officers run into danger every single day,” but often are “under relentless criticism,” Trump stated, as he defended law enforcement. “I want our nation’s police to know that we thank you from the bottom of our heart... we support you and we will always stand with you.” Trump vowed to the police, adding that after the attack in Dallas, “Our whole nation is in mourning.” We sure are but we can do lots better to assure safety and peace than by forcing the DOJ on local departments.

Trump explained that "Law enforcement separates civilization from total chaos...The police are needed the most where crime is the highest." It is only a matter of black and white if the President and Hillary and Loretta Lynch say it is. Most Americans find crime reprehensible and are pleased that the police find the bad guys, white and black alike and they put these criminals away. Barack Obama and Hillary sure seem to favor the criminal element over law enforcement. They want to release criminals so officers have to arrest them again. And, thus there is no question that Donald Trump is the Law and Order Candidate.

When talking to the veterans, Trump compared the backlash police are facing to the backlash Vietnam veterans faced in the past, saying, "For too many police today, that is their daily reality." He then went on to call veterans a group who "represent the very best of America. He noted that he intends to keep all his promises to veterans including their protection. You defend America and America will defend you. But that promise has been broken by our politicians."

"Hillary Clinton recently said of the VA scandal that it has not been as wide spread as it has been made out to be...she's been part of this rigged system for a long time. Perhaps it's easy for politicians to lose touch with reality, they've lost touch with real people because they're being paid by big donors. The disconnect in America is deep. There are two Americas: the ruling class and the groups it favors, and then everyone else."

Trump offered to the veterans that if elected, he will conduct an investigation immediately that will reveal even more corruption within the VA. "Fixing this corruption will be one of my many and highest priorities. Every veteran will get timely access to top quality medical care," rump promised that Veterans will have “the right to choose their doctor and clinics...“We must extend this right to all veterans,” Mr. Trump stressed.

Clearly I am a Trump supporter and I want Donald Trump to be our next president for eight years. As a Democrat, I watch my party closely and it has gotten disgusting that there is no high ground. I feel that even four years of a Hillary Clinton presidency would kill our country.

In fact, the Democratic Party is so far left and for whatever reason, so anti-white today that I pray mostly all Democrats are defeated in November. We tried anti-white for eight years with the first post-racial president and it has only gotten worse and it is simply because of poor leadership all around.

During this meeting with veterans, Donald Trump described himself as a law-and-order Republican running against a weak and ineffective Democrat who can't be trusted to keep America safe. I do believe this as I have seen it.

Mr. Trump chose not to address head on the topic of race as he condemned critics of law enforcement in a carefully worded speech that protested police shootings of African Americans. Police shootings simply are wrong. But the topic of race cannot be broached single-handedly as the corrupt media will use it against Mr. Trump for the benefit of their Democrat agenda. Yet, the problem cannot be solved without addressing the root cause.

Nobody wants this. Nobody wants what is going on between blacks and whites and between blacks and police. It may help to know that Americans generally overestimate, to a significant degree, the percentage of the U.S. population that is either black or Hispanic. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 12.3% of the U.S. population is black, and 12.5% is Hispanic. Additionally, it is recorded that 12% of the police population is black.

Thus, it appears that the black police population matches the black percentage overall. Consequently the notion of black people killing police officers because they are police simply does not make sense.

Intrinsically, we know that all lives matter, period. I happen to be white and I know my life matters to me as do the lives of my family and my friends some of whom are black. I know that black lives matter as do brown lives and the lives of those of all colors and creeds. And of course blue lives matter because they are people too.

So, let me repeat, nobody wants what is going on between blacks and whites and between blacks and the police. But it cannot be made better until all of us decide that it is worth it. Until we decide that, I fear Americans in the near future will be taking sides and the conflict will get even worse.

I would like to see Donald Trump, Hillary Clinton, and Barack Obama get together and come up with something that calls murder, murder and makes sure that we all know that all lives matter.

Murder is wrong no matter who gets murdered. Black, police, or white. If we can convince the race baiters such as Jesse Jackson and Al Sharpton to join other black reverends and white reverends and police commissioners and all come up with a way to tone down the rhetoric then instead of creating a Hatfield and McCoy battle among the races and the police that will never end, we can begin what we thought we had done when mostly white people elected President Obama to lead our country. None of us expected to get racial strife out of the deal. We can do much better.

Hopefully our leaders from the president to the candidates to the reverends must get together now, as soon as possible thinking of a solution regardless of what is going on in the campaigns. Additionally, I would advise the president and the candidates to not make remarks that favor one race over another or which favor criminals over the police. Let this thing calm down.

Meanwhile let the election go on. I am for Donald Trump, and others are for Hillary Clinton regardless of the status of police shootings. For me, Donald Trump is the Law and Order President, period. Why? Because he cares about America!

Trump and Hillary will continue to battle each other as Hillary got her best fifty shots at trump on Thursday July 28 at the DNC. We know that none of those fifty Trump mentioning's were plaudits or kudos for sure. And so, we expect the Trump Artillery to be back in use today and for the rest of the campaign

Trump said just the other day that Hillary Clinton can add the title "secretary of the status quo" to her political résumé, while acknowledging himself as "the law and order candidate." Trump also said that "We need to clean up the corruption in government, and Hillary Clinton will never be able to do it. She's incompetent and has proven time and time again that she doesn't have what it takes. Doesn't have it," Trump said. "Crooked Hillary Clinton, sadly, is the secretary of the status quo, and wherever Hillary Clinton goes, corruption and scandal follow. Just look at her life."

Trump criticized the FBI's decision not to recommend charges against Clinton over the email scandal, Trump called the former secretary of state's actions "willful, intentional and unlawful." Trump also accused Clinton of attempting to cover up her guilt by deleting emails and said "she's probably the most surprised person that she was able to get away with it...Hard to believe what's going on with our country...The fact that she got away with all of this could be her single most impressive accomplishment. To me it is. It's her greatest accomplishment."

NJ Gov. Chris Christie, a former prosecutor, also took his shots while praising law enforcement: "We need a president who will once again put law and order at the top of the priority of the presidency in this country... "Our police officers, the men and women who stand each day to protect us need to understand that the president of the united states and his administration will give them the benefit of the doubt, not always believe that what they've done is somehow wrong.”

Police use of excessive force

I was surprised as I researched law and order to find a handbook titled POLICE USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE, A CONCILIATION HANDBOOK FOR THE POLICE and THE COMMUNITY. In many ways, this is a more local version of the national meetings I suggest with Obama, Trump, Clinton, Rev. Jackson, Rev. Sharpton and others. And, so overall, this may be a good idea. But, I am suspicious. It is my nature.

The problem I see is that if the Federal Government via the Justice Department outlines mandates for cities and municipalities then we lose our federalism and state's rights and this huge behemoth central government becomes all powerful. I am 100% against that and so is Donald Trump.

Thirty five or more cities since Ferguson have been indoctrinated by the Department of Justice (DOJ) with visits from Eric Holder and now Loretta Lynch. In fact, the decisive meeting between Loretta Lynch and former President Clinton took place conveniently on the tarmac in Phoenix as Loretta Lynch was doing an inspection of their police department.

Americans who believe in the tenth amendment and the part of the constitution that lists the only powers besides the amendments given to the government do not like interference of the feds in state's issues. For those who like to do research, these are in Constitution Article I: The Legislative Branch — The Enumerated Powers (Section 8). All other powers are granted entirely to the people.

To make sure boneheaded officials in the future got the message clearly, besides Article I of the Constitution, the founders also gave us the tenth amendment. In short, The Tenth Amendment, or Amendment X of the United States Constitution is the section of the Bill of Rights that basically says that any power that is not given to the federal government is given to the people or the states. Therefore, Barack Obama, Hillary Clinton, Eric Holder and Loretta Lynch and their successors by national law should stay out of local police offices.

And, so here is this document which spooks me. It was last updated in 2002 and in it is the definition of something called the Community Relations Service

The Community Relations Service (CRS) is a U.S. Department of Justice agency created by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to help resolve community racial conflict through non-coercive, third party intervention. CRS is called upon to assist communities to resolve disputes arising from alleged police use of excessive force. As a result, agency conciliators have developed extensive experience with the issues involved in those incidents.

When the parties request, CRS conducts formal negotiations to determine whether the differences between the police and the community can be resolved. In addition to formal negotiations, CRS provides a wide range of informal assistance that attempts to keep communications open among the affected parties and to facilitate a mutually acceptable resolution of the conflict. CRS offers its services either upon request or on its own initiative, when is threat of disruption to peaceful community relations.

In the recent cases in which thirty-five cities have had to make changes to their operations, it is my understanding that it was demanded by the DOJ with the stick being no funding for police operations. This is wrong according to our constitution. Keep the feds out of the states and cities. The preface of this document ends with this statement. I agree with the statement but I worry about a federal government that has gone extra-constitutional.

There still is a large gulf between how the criminal justice system is viewed by Black and White Americans. There is no other area where the potential for misunderstanding can have such dangerous consequences.

Before we wrap up this chapter so that you do not think I am the only one with major concerns about where the candidates' line up on law and order, police and sniper incidents, it helps to know this is a topic of discussion of all media other than the corrupt mainstream media.

Fox's Andrea Tantaros for example, recently charged President Barack Obama and the Democratic Party with “taking the side of criminals instead of having the backs of cops.” In Baltimore, nearly a dozen federal agents joined the police department’s homicide unit after 45 people were killed last month, breaking a Baltimore record set in 1972. Five people were shot in Brooklyn in addition to 22 shootings in New York City over a recent weekend.

There has been a 10 percent rise in murders in New York City through July 27, 2016 compared to the same timeframe in 2014. Police are in fact concerned they will be punished for doing their jobs. Tantaros warned her audience that New York may be on a “high speed coaster” back to the 1970s. This was a period of high crime for Manhattan.

Mayor Rudy Giuliani Speech at the RNC

Former New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani gave an energetic speech at the Republican convention Monday, arguing that Donald Trump would make America safer. He will. Speaking as a friend of Trump’s for many years, Giuliani offered that the real estate mogul had helped out in New York and elsewhere without taking credit.

“This is a man with a big heart,” America's Mayor said. “Every time New York City suffered a tragedy, Donald Trump was there to help. And he did it anonymously.”

He also drew a parallel with his own efforts as mayor to Trump's proposals.

“It's time to make America one again,” he said. “I know it can be done because I did it by changing New York City from “the crime capital of America” to according to the FBI the safest large city in America. What I did for New York City, Donald Trump will do for America.”

Here is most of the Mayor's speech as prepared for delivery:

I am here to speak to you about how to make America safe.

The vast majority of Americans today do not feel safe. They fear for their children and they fear for themselves.

They fear for our police officers who are being targeted.

We pray for our police officers in Dallas and Baton Rouge and their families; And we say thank you to the Cleveland Police Department for protecting us and all police officers protecting all of us.

We also reach out with understanding and compassion to those who have lost loved ones because of police shootings unjustified and justified.

It's time to make America safe again.

It's time to make America one again.

I know it can be done because I did it by changing New York City from “the crime capital of America” to according to the FBI the safest large city in America.

What I did for New York City, Donald Trump will do for America.

I have known Donald Trump for almost 30 years. And he has created and accomplished great things. But beyond that this is a man with a big heart.

Every time New York City suffered a tragedy, Donald Trump was there to help.

And he did it anonymously. (I bet that's a surprise)

You deserve to know this personal side about our next President. He has been a great father, father-in-law, grandfather and friend to me and my family.

He will keep us safe and help us achieve and embrace our greatness. In the last seven months, there have been five major Islamic extremist terrorist attacks on us and our allies. We must not be afraid to define our enemy.

It is Islamic extremist terrorism. I did not say all of Islam. I said Islamic extremist terrorism.

Donald Trump has said the first step in defeating our enemies is to identify them properly and see the connections between them.

To defeat Islamic extremist terrorism we must put them on defense. If they are at war against us—which they have declared—we must commit ourselves to unconditional victory against them.

It was Hillary Clinton who advocated for the overthrow of Qaddafi in Libya. Now Libya is in chaos. Hillary Clinton is accountable for this and much more.

Her dereliction of duty and failure to keep her people safe played a major role in the horrific Islamic terrorist murders on September 11-12, 2012 in Benghazi which claimed the lives of four brave Americans; our Ambassador J. Christopher Stevens, U.S. Foreign Service Officer Sean Smith, and CIA agents Tyrone S. Woods, and Glen Doherty.

And Clinton, and the Obama administration, for political reasons lied about the purpose of the attacks including her lying directly to the families of those who were killed.

Hillary Clinton's answer to Congress about the death of these four brave Americans because of her failures as Secretary of State was "what difference at this point does it make?"

Anyone who can say that it makes no difference how or why people serving America are killed, should not be entrusted with the awesome responsibility to protect them and us and should not be allowed to be our Commander in Chief.

Who would trust her to protect them? I do not. Do you? Donald Trump will change all of that. In short he will lead by leading, not by following.

She is in favor of taking in Syrian refugees even though the Islamic state has told us they are going to put their operatives in these groups so they can carry out terrorist acts against us and our allies.

We can't afford to repeat the mistakes of the past.

Hillary Clinton's experience is the basis for her campaign. Well, Hillary Clinton's experience is exactly the reason she should not be our president.

There is no more time for us left to revive our great country. No more time to repeat our mistakes of the past.

Washington needs a complete turnaround and Donald Trump is the agent of change and he will be the leader of the change we need.

He will make America, like the president I worked for Ronald Reagan, once again be the shining City on the Hill.

Vote for Donald Trump for a safer America and for an America headed in a different direction: Greatness! God Bless the United States of America.

Rudy Giuliani is America's Mayor and before that he was a US Attorney and then Reagan's Assistant Attorney General; US Attorney for the Southern District, Giuliani is a tough guy. He gained 4,152 convictions (against only 25 reversals) distinguish him as one of the most effective U.S. Attorneys in American history.

In 1993, he became Mayor of New York City and on 9/11 he became America's Mayor. It was a treat hearing him speak at the RNC. What power! I wish Mayor Giuliani well and I am ever so happy that my candidate for President is friends with this great man and great prosecutor. Looks to me like America's Mayor thinks that Hillary is Guilty!

Chris Christie was a US prosecutor appointed the day before 9/11. He is now the Republican governor of New Jersey. He is well known as a great speaker and a combative style and for being popular with Republicans throughout the country.

During his tenure as head of the state, Christie's long-running battle with powerful and relatively popular teachers' unions mobilized strong opposition to many of his policies, but he has won national acclaim for his ability to move legislation forward and to win over constituents.

In 2015, Christie announced that he was running for the Republican presidential nomination, only to drop out of the race in early 2016. Christie also thinks that Hillary is Guilty!

QUOTES

“[My mother] told me that love without respect was always fleeting, but that respect could grow into real and lasting love. Now, of course, she was talking about women. But I have learned over time that it applies just as much to leadership. In fact, I think that advice applies to America more than ever today.”

—Chris Christie

NJ Governor and Prosecutor Chris Christie Speaks at RNC

CLEVELAND— New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie spoke to the Republican National Convention Tuesday night in Cleveland.

Here's the prepared text of the governor's speech:

"I am here tonight not only as the Governor of New Jersey, but also as Donald Trump's friend for the last fourteen years.

We are about to be led by not only a strong leader but by a caring, genuine and decent person.

I am proud to say that the voice of the people of our nation is being heard in this hall and those voices want Donald Trump to be the next President of the United States. But this election is not just about Donald Trump.

It is also about his Democratic opponent, Hillary Rodham Clinton.

In the past few weeks we have seen this Justice Department refuse to prosecute her.

Over the last eight years, we have seen this Administration refuse to hold her accountable for her dismal record as Secretary of State.

Well, tonight, as a former federal prosecutor, I welcome the opportunity to hold her accountable for her performance and her character.

We must present those facts to you, a jury of her peers, both in this hall and in living rooms around our nation.

Governor Chris Christie attacks Hillary Clinton

Since the Justice Department refuses to allow you to render a verdict, let's present the case now, on the facts, against Hillary Clinton. She was America's chief diplomat. Look around at the violence and danger in our world today every region of the world has been infected with her flawed judgment.

But let me be specific so you can render your verdict. In North Africa, she was the chief engineer of our disastrous overthrow of Qaddafi in Libya.

Libya today after Hillary Clinton's grand strategy? Libya's economy in ruins, death and violence in the streets and ISIS now dominating the country.

Hillary Clinton, as a failure for ruining Libya and creating a nest for terrorist activity by ISIS guilty or not guilty? In Nigeria, Hillary Clinton amazingly fought for two years to keep an Al-Qaeda affiliate off the terrorist watch list.

What happened because of this reckless action by the candidate who is the self proclaimed champion of women around the world? These terrorists abducted hundreds of innocent young girls two years ago.

These schoolgirls are still missing today.

What was the solution from the Obama/Clinton team? A hashtag campaign! Hillary Clinton, as an apologist for an Al-Qaeda affiliate in Nigeria resulting in the capture of innocent young women guilty or not guilty? She fights for the wrong people.

She doesn't fight for us. She doesn't get the real threats America faces. In China, Hillary Clinton praised the Chinese government for buying our debt to finance President Obama's bloated stimulus plan.

So desperate for Chinese cash, she promised to oppose the Buy American provision in the stimulus bill in exchange for the cash to finance his huge expansion of government spending.

Hillary Clinton, putting big government spending financed by the Chinese ahead of jobs for middle class Americans guilty or not guilty? In Syria, she called President Assad a "reformer" and a "different kind of leader".

*With 400,000 now dead ... think about that.
Four.
Hundred.
Thousand. Dead.*

At the hands of the man Hillary defended.

We must ask this question: Hillary Clinton, as an awful judge of the character of a dictator-butcher in the Middle East guilty or not guilty? In Iran, she led the negotiations that brought about the worst nuclear deal in history.

Let me be clear: America and the world are measurably less safe and less respected because of the Iran deal Hillary helped cut.

Period. After she launched those negotiations, she became the biggest cheerleader for it at the end.

A deal that will lead to a nuclear Iran, an Israel that will be less safe and secure and much more dangerous Middle East.

Hillary Clinton, as an inept negotiator of the worst nuclear arms deal in American history guilty or not guilty? In Russia, she went to the Kremlin on her very first visit and gave them the symbolic reset button.

The button should have read, "delete." She is very good at that because she deleted in four years what it took 40 years to build. The next year, she said our goal was to strengthen Russia.

Strengthen an adversary led by a dictator who dreams of reassembling the old Soviet empire? What a dangerous lack of judgment.

Once again, as a flawed evaluator of dictators and failed strategist who has permitted Russia back in as a major player in the Middle East is Hillary Clinton guilty or not guilty? In Cuba, Hillary Clinton supported concessions to the Castro brothers and got almost nothing in return for ending the embargo.

She supported a deal that didn't even require this murderous regime to return a cop killer, JoAnne Chesimard, to face justice.

Chesimard murdered a New Jersey State Trooper in cold blood, fled to Cuba and lives there to this very day.

How do you live with your own conscience when you reward a domestic terrorist with continued safety and betray the family of fallen police officer waiting for decades for justice for his murder? Hillary Clinton as coddler of the brutal Castro brothers and betrayer of the family of fallen Trooper Werner Foerster guilty or not guilty?

Finally, here at home, in one of her first decisions as Secretary of State, she set up a private e-mail server in her basement in violation of our national security.

Let's face it: Hillary Clinton cared more about protecting her own secrets than she did about protecting America's secrets.

Then she lied about it over and over again.

She said there was no marked classified information on her server.

The FBI Director said that was untrue.

She said that she did not email any classified information. The FBI Director said that was untrue.

She said all work related emails were sent back to the State Department.

The FBI Director said that was untrue.

As to Hillary Clinton, putting herself ahead of America guilty or not guilty? Hillary Clinton, lying to the American people about her selfish, awful judgment guilty or not guilty? Time after time the facts, and just the facts, lead you to the same verdict both around the world and at home.

In Libya and Nigeria guilty.

In China and Syria guilty.

In Iran and Russia and Cuba guilty.

And here at home on risking America's secrets to keep her own and lying to cover it all up guilty. Her focus group tested persona, with no genuineness to be found, is a sham meant to obscure all the facts and leave you able to vote for her. We cannot promote someone to Commander-in-Chief who has made the world a more violent and dangerous place with every bad judgment she has made.

We cannot make the Chief Law Enforcement Officer of the United States someone who has risked America's secrets and lied about this to Congress and the American people.

We didn't disqualify Hillary Clinton to be President of the United States the facts of her life and career disqualifies her. We in this hall agree with all of this.

But I want to talk to all of you at home, in your living rooms. You are the ones who will decide this election. We have an alternative.

We have a man who is unafraid.

We have a man who wants to lead us.

We have a man who understands the frustrations and the aspirations of our fellow citizens.

We have a man who judges people based on their performance regardless of your gender, race, ethnic or religious background. We do not need to settle for less.

We cannot reward incompetence and deceit. We need to demand more than what Hillary Clinton offers for America.

We know exactly what four years of Hillary Clinton will bring: all the failures of the Obama years, but with less charm and more lies. It is our obligation to stop Hillary Clinton now and never let her within 10 miles of the White House again.

It is time to come together and make sure that Donald Trump is our next President.

I am proud to be part of this team.

Now let's go win this thing."

Chapter 9 Illegal & Legal Immigration Solutions

Hillary contributes to election vote for illegal foreign nationals

Americans are mad as hell about immigration.

There have been five decisions in recent days, and the last one in Kansas gives illegal foreign nationals the ability to vote in that state's November election despite it being against the law.

A North Carolina decision, just three months before Election Day, gives Democrat Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign a big boost by removing potential voting barriers to those who think having and carrying a valid ID card is too much trouble. Ironically, the constituency that is pro no-ID seem to all be Democratic-leaning voters of various races.

Judges matter for sure as the Democrats have been stacking the court with those of like mind for some time. In this case, it was a three-judge panel of Democrat judges of the 4th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va. They not only ruled against the people but they gave the state's Republicans a big haircut, charging them with racism in passing a law that required ID cards.

“Because of race, the legislature enacted one of the largest restrictions of the franchise in modern North Carolina history,” Judge Diana Gribbon Motz wrote for the panel, who happen to be all Democratic appointees. “We can only conclude that the North Carolina General Assembly enacted the challenged provisions of the law with discriminatory intent.”

Could it be that instead of discriminatory intent, the legislature wanted to assure that people from other states were not voting; dead people were not voting; and that illegal foreign nationals were not voting in NC elections? Could this law have been to assure democracy and not to minimize anybody's rights?

If IDs are too cumbersome to get and to carry then why does the government demand identification for social security, passports, train travel, airline travel, driving privileges, proof of student identity in public universities, etc.? If ID cards are unfair to a major block of citizens, should not all requirements for ID be eliminated and not just for voting? Or perhaps is this a Democrat ploy to illegally get more voters to vote Democrat without them being questioned not matter whether they are foreign nationals or have been dead for twenty years.

Last week, there was another affront to the voter ID law as ruled by the 5th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans. This Democrat oriented court ordered Texas state officials to take steps to help minority voters disproportionately affected by that state's voter identification requirement. Of course the fix will also aid illegals, who are also a minority, to be able to vote more easily in national and local elections.

Maybe this new minority will be able to stack the election deck and actually take control over the government of some US towns. All they need is enough bodies from other locales – other countries, other states, other counties. Is Identification a good thing to keep things honest or is it simply too high a cost for legitimacy?

And just this week in Wisconsin, a federal judge effectively prohibited that state from requiring voters to have photo identification when they vote. Of course, it is the trend and how could it hurt anything. It surely will help the Democratic Party and Hillary Clinton. Has Hillary voiced an opinion about voter IDs yet?

The Obama Administration which Hillary supports 100% is against IDs except for government functions other than voting. Hillary is supportive of all Obama Administration policies. Therefore Hillary is against requirements for voter identification.

If nobody needs IDs for government stuff, does that mean the same guy could visit every county in the state and receive one welfare check per county? If it does not mean that then what does it mean?

Civil rights groups continually say that identification laws put an undue burden on poor and minority voters, who may not have valid photo IDs or would encounter difficulties obtaining one.

Why not put a photo id machine in the voting place and if the person can vote, then they can get their id card at the same time! Take their fingerprints and/or their retina imprint also so they can't get a second card. It is ironic that voters not having ids are smart enough to vote Democrat, leading critics to allege that laws that take away ID requirements are intended to help Democrat candidates.

I guess we could consider California as another of the states that do not require voter ID's thereby bringing the total so far to six. Governor Jerry Brown just sold out the American vote in California by signing his version of the Motor Voter Act.

Somehow these poor folks who cannot make it in to get a voter id are now able to register to vote along with every other "eligible" California citizen who goes to get a driver's license or renews a license at the Department of Motor Vehicles. Ask yourself: Why?

When they show up for the drivers license, there is no ID requirement. Is this not a formula for corruption? Surely nobody would pay for two or more driver's licenses just to help the Democratic Party. Yet, we have learned that ideology trumps honesty.

It somehow gives permission to government officials to be dishonest. I forgot to say that this new California order took place after Moonbeam Brown had made all illegal aliens eligible for driver's licenses. Eleven states allow illegal aliens to get driver's licenses. In California, just get a license and then click on the spot that says I want to vote in America.

Finally, just yesterday as I am writing this, a county judge in Kansas ruled that the state must count potentially thousands of votes in state and local races from people who've registered without providing citizenship documents. This ruling came down on Friday, July 29, 2016.

Would it not make a lot of Democrats happy if Donald Trump lost because of this even though he had record voters hitting the Trump button? I am sure this would be OK with the Democrats and they would smile if they found that the total number of voters in November was greater than the total number eligible to vote. Just sayin'!

Maybe the Republican elites were right. Maybe Trump cannot get elected, but not because of disheartened establishment elites. It would be because the election game is rigged for the Democrats and Republicans simply are not fighters.

Donald Trump's Popular Immigration Plan

Donald Trump crashed into the Republican race for President with a great border plan that was met with immediate resistance from his Republican opponents. Yet the people loved it. His plan has basically two components:

1. Build a wall for which Mexico will pay
2. Deport all illegal foreign nationals

There are lots of reasons why this will work even though it has become the pivotal political issue between the two countries and the Donald Trump hot button issue in the 2016 presidential election. Why is this so? One major reason is simply that illegal Mexican (and other) illegal foreign nationals use it to traffic in drugs, guns, and persons.

Mexico is poor; the U.S. is rich but getting poorer and is in major debt thanks to illegal foreign nationals interloping in the US. Perceived economic opportunities encourage a near constant (over 100 million over the decades) flow of migrants into the United States. Some of these have already become citizens.

Besides those who just want to live in the US, terrorists can easily do the same. To date, Democrats believe it cannot be stopped and Barack Obama has done everything that he can to subvert the work of border agents in keeping America safe from an outright invasion.

About 60 million illegal immigrants now reside in the U.S., or 20 percent of our nation's population. Prove me wrong! Mexicans account for over half of the unauthorized immigrants, according to a recent Pew survey. According to official statistics, most of the others come from Central America.

More than seven percent of all K-12 students now have at least one unauthorized immigrant parent. The problem goes on and on, unabated. Donald Trump plans to remove the un from unabated. As Donald Trump puts it, the problem is: "A nation without borders is not a nation."

Security experts say "Tightening border security is not an option, but a necessity." The wall may cost as much as $20 billion or more. Who cares? As Trump has firmly stated, repeatedly on numerous occasions, "Mexico will pay for the Wall."

There are lots of obvious ways to pay for the wall but the one I like the best is that we get the check up front. Then we go about increasing revenue from Mexico until the wall is actually paid for by the revenue (remember we have the money first).

1. We impound all remittance payments to Mexico and Central America derived from illegal wages.
2. We increase all visa fees to all Mexicans
3. We increase fees on all border crossing cards and worker visas from Mexico.
4. We impose a temporary and special tariff on Mexican goods at all ports of entry.
5. We commence a special tax of $30 per barrel on all Mexican oil & gas imported to the U.S.

The wall will be paid for up front and then we give Mexico its money back from the fees we exact.

Besides the wall, the U.S. must also assure other measures including: the immediate return to their home countries of all criminal aliens, no more catch-and-release of all those apprehended in the future, closing down all sanctuary cities, enhancing penalties for overstaying on a visitor visa, pausing all new green cards for foreign workers, ending birthright citizenship, and hiring many more ICE employees to enforce our laws. We can count on Donald Trump to do all of that.

Donald Trump is very concerned about the border and he is aware of the problems with the 60 million interlopers in our country. His deportation plan places them back in their home countries. Then, there are jobs for Americans and we no longer have to pay for the uninvited guests who choose not to try to assimilate and who take our generosity for granted without as much as a "thank you."

25. Voted YES on permitting Guest Workers to jump the line for a path to citizenship.
26. Hillary Sponsored bill covering child resident aliens (not US kids) under Medicaid.
27. Hillary Sponsored bill funding social services (welfare) for noncitizens.

By checking out this list in detail—a list that can be even longer, you can conclude that what you get with Hillary is the probability that illegal foreign nationals will become the owners of America; take your job while you pay them welfare; have their kids become automatic citizens so their parents can get welfare. If you are OK with that and I suspect most of us are not then, you need not read one more sentence of this book. Hillary Clinton will give away all of America to anybody who will help her be elected. In your heart, you know I am right.

Some alternatives to deportation

I have written five books on all of the major immigration topics. One of my published works, which is titled Taxation without Representation touches a number of issues besides immigration that are also very important to Americans. The five books are as follows:

- Taxation without Representation
- Americans Need not Apply
- No Amnesty! No Way!

- The Lifetime Guest Plan
- The US Immigration Fix

These books are available all over the world including BookHawkers.com, Amazon, and Kindle for downloading. In the first three books, I look at the many problems caused by illegal foreign nationals and their demands on the resources of our country. Once I had fully defined this problem and recorded it in the three books, I worked on building a solution. The last two books report on the solution to the problem, and you can bet the solution is not amnesty!

Trump's plan to deport those here illegally and to build a wall to keep interlopers out is a great and simple idea to make happen. I did my own financial analysis of deportation and it will save us a tremendous amount. We will save money on deportation even if we provide stipends rather than support the numbers of interlopers who take advantage of US welfare and systems for cash, food, and healthcare.

Moreover, I devised a plan by which we can remove willing birthright citizens and save even more. Many of these new baby citizens have parents who are still illegal. The voluntary plan would remove the parents and their citizen children from the country and provide family reunification funding in their home country.

The families would receive massive stipends—as much as several hundred thousand dollars. It would enable those who return home to start successful businesses in their home countries. It would be voluntary and all dollars needed would be subsidized by US taxpayers. The program would be completely paid for by the savings from not having to support welfare guests for twenty years to a lifetime.

You may rightfully ask if Trump's plan really solves the problem, why would I put together another plan?

Trump's plan does not address the possibility of solving the problem without deportation. Polls reflect conclusions that as many as 70% of Americans do not want a massive deportation because they think it is cruel. I think the surveys are way off but I cannot prove it. Deporting 60 million interlopers would be a task but it is doable and it would save us massive billions of dollars and help our economy. But, it surely would be perceived as unkind.

Let's reduce the number from 70% to just 30% of Americans. So we're saying that 30% of our citizens more than likely do not have the stomach for mass deportations. Is it possible that there may be a better way than creating such chaos and disruption in the country? That was my premise when I developed a detailed that solved the problem with no coerced deportations. That plan is the major focus of both later books—The Lifetime Guest Plan and The US Immigration Fix. The latter takes the lifetime guest plan several steps further.

The essence of the plan is that there is a required but free registration and an ID card for all interlopers wishing to be "lifetime guests." All interlopers will be known within six months. Those not taking advantage of the plan who do not register will be deported for real.

In order to stay in America as a guest for a lifetime, during the registration, the interlopers would be required to agree to a number of pro-American stipulations. The first is that as soon as they are vetted for lifetime guest status, they pay an annual fee in person each year of at least $100.00. The fee covers the expenses of the program and assures the interlopers want to be in America. Such guests must take a specially designed oath of allegiance and agree to learn English within several years.

The benefit to interlopers is that they get out of the shadows and are lifetime guests as long as they pay their dues as guests, have their own healthcare, and take no welfare money or benefits from the taxpayers; do not even attempt to vote; and remain well-behaved. Americans are then assured that they will not vote and that American citizens get all jobs first.

Employers who for years have been employing interlopers will also pay some fees to help support the program. All details are fully explained in the US Immigration Fix which includes a snapshot of the Lifetime Guest Plan. It is a winner for America. Donald Trump has the specifics but has not made a decision yet.

In the section below, for your edification, I compare the Lifetime Guest Plan with the gang of eight Marco Rubio / Chuck Schumer / Hillary Clinton US Senate plan from several years back. In this way, you can see how superior it is and how well it could work for America and Americans first.

Gang of 8 v Lifetime Guest Plan

The Gang of Eight US Senate Plan was built by liberals and RINOs to provide amnesty and an easy path to citizenship for interlopers. It was speculated that soon, the former interlopers would be voting in US elections. It provided nothing for Americans. Americans who pay attention to the shenanigans of our legislators were not pleased. The amnesty was extremely generous to interlopers and very costly to US taxpayers. It was not a fair deal for citizens of the US.

Why would the Senate do this? I am convinced that Senators are like the old English Lords. They are so removed from the people at large, living in gated communities that they are out of touch and have no idea with what is happening in the country. All Senators should be fired. Perhaps, until Obama is replaced by Donald Trump, both houses of Congress should be sent home until further notice to take a rest. Perhaps, we can send them home with Hillary's Russian Reset button.

We all know that more than any other nation in history, the United States has welcomed immigrants in search of a better life.

That is how many citizens got here over the many years from our founding—and even before—while the colonies were being settled.

For their own reasons, the millions of people who regularly enter the US illegally intentionally choose to violate the core principle of the rule of law in the US, and in fact, they mock and belittle the legal naturalization process. They, as illegal interlopers make demands of our kind and generous country as if they have an entitlement to free services. They have no such entitlement.

Thus, there is continued large-scale illegal immigration without an effective assimilation. In other words, the illegal foreign national interlopers want America's benefits but they do not want to adapt in any way to America's culture. Many stay in green-card status because they really do not want to take the citizenship oath nor do they ever want to become taxpaying American citizens.

With as little as 40% of green card holders making the transition to citizenship, today's foreign nationals must find something wrong with America to not choose to make the step to citizenship. Why?

It seems that they do not really want to be Americans. They do want to be treated as Americans for benefits and all good things with all due rights, but they are happy holding allegiance to their home countries. The American people are fed up with this.

America, once a melting pot!

America long ago became known as the melting pot for people wanting a new place to live and raise a family. In the early days, immigrants left behind their old ways and they became Americans by choice; and they were proud to become Americans. As they say, they melted in.

My father, born 100 years ago in 1915 in America, from a pair of Irish immigrants, for example, would immediately get upset if and when I would wear an Irish Sweatshirt. He felt I was bragging about being Irish. He cautioned me, his middle son, that I was an American, not an Irish man. Today's illegal interlopers and many green card holders choose not to identify with America. Yet, in many cases, we provide for their every need.

Unfortunately, for Americans, many interlopers and foreign nationals carry resentment and disdain for our country once they get here. Their negative feelings are exacerbated by an unkind press that would rather be typing up the news in Soviet Russia than in America.

All of these negatives threaten social cohesion and America's civic culture and our sense of common identity. We are not a diverse country. We are a country of diverse peoples with a common purpose and union. An especially annoying aspect of today's distortion of immigration is that immigrants, in legal or illegal status are assimilated into the welfare state rather than into a society of opportunity.

The Senate forgot about real Americans

American citizens, as well as current and future immigrants to America, deserve better. When the US Senate in April 2013, introduced what they called the Border Security, Economic Opportunity, and Immigration Modernization Act, it was a sham, and the Senators knew it was a sham.

They cowered to President Obama, and they felt that with the immense power held by President Obama, the Democratic majority could ram this unjustifiable act upon the American people, who largely opposed it.

Thankfully, we have regular elections as more than ever we see both the Democrat and Republican leaders colluding to help foreigners at the expense of the citizens of this country. Regular Americans from both parties are waking up at election time to the fact that our leaders are not working on our behalf, and we have begun to vote them out of office by name.

It has already begun as liberals and RINOs are falling from grace quickly. Just this year, the wife of MSNBC host Chris Matthews lost her bid for Congress in one of the most expensive primary race in the country. She lost big in her bid to secure the Democratic nomination for Maryland's 8th Congressional District. In fact, she was beaten into third place. Matthews spent $2.5million in her attempt to win. Over $79,000 of that money came from guests who donated to her campaign before or after appearing on her husband Chris Matthews' show Hardball. Perhaps the public is getting sick of MSNBC, a network that is very pleased to back crooked politicians.

Meaningful reform v charade of eight.

2016 will continue to be a bloodbath for establishment elitists. Conservatives are fed up with those who have been shown to be RINOS, as well as Democrats whose votes move the country further left to Marxism than most Americans in both parties think is good for the country.

Instead of offering a meaningful reform, such as the Lifetime Guest Plan, the subject of this book, the Gang of Eight Senators offered a charade. The act did not address the intricacies of America's immigration challenges.

Instead the Democrat and RINO controlled Senate offered a magic wand approach trying to pretend they were solving everything in one colossal bill, with the Democratic Party ready to take undeserved bows.

This bill, S. 744, would have granted immediate amnesty to the estimated 11 million illegal aliens (30 million to 60 million in my estimate) in the country and "promised" that in the future the border would be made secure. The Bill also granted broad new powers to the scandal-ridden Obama Administration and it would cost taxpayers an estimated $6.3 trillion.

Americans said "no" as quickly as the bill was passed in the US Senate. Yet, the Senators chose not to listen to the country. Instead they decided to convince us they were right. They fired off paid ads in the form of propaganda in attempts to sell the Bill to the people as something good for Americans, while the House leadership contemplated the Bill. Americans rejected it and the House unexpectedly held its ground. In the fall of 2014 the people went ahead and rejected many of the Bill's proponents. They were fired from Congress and they were sent packing.

Congress now works for Congress; not the people

The Senate Bill imposed $trillions of additional exorbitant costs on the people, and it was filled with political trade-offs and misguided policies. It offered a continuation of benefits (freebies) to all immigrants; participation in social security; no priority of jobs for Americans; a path to voting and citizenship; and a number of other unsavory aspects. It was as if it were written by a foreign power hoping to overthrow the USA from within.

It seemed to many that the US government was trying to bribe the unwelcome interlopers into accepting a sweet deal that with enough chicanery would be welcomed by an ignorant majority of Americans. Americans, however, woke up, and rose to the front of the opposition and proved in this instance that we are not dumb!

And, so, this gang of eight bill has been rejected and with good cause. Beware however, as Americans that our Senators, unlike Donald Trump, are not on our side in this battle. We must call them to task on their actions on immigration. They are not free agents. They are supposed to be representatives of the people of the US, accountable to us and not beholden to foreign entities.

Initiative, Referendum, Recall, & Impeachment

It sure would be nice if we were able to use Initiative, Referendum, and Recall at the National level to assure that the will of the people was the mission of our representatives. If they would choose not execute the peoples' will, we could then be able to recall them from office.

Few conservatives would not agree that Democratic leadership in the last twenty years at the federal level has morphed into the Marxist Party. In this Party remake, individual initiative and survival of the fittest no longer matter.

At the municipal level, the people, Democrats and Republicans have not adopted this hard left Marxist philosophy and simply want our representatives to be trustworthy and do what is right for us.

Unfortunately for the health of America, most people do not pay enough attention to government. However, never before in our history has vigilance to the actions of public servants ever been more necessary. Politicians of today will take your wallet from your front pocket, stare you in the face, remove the cash and valuables, and then blame the guy next to you. Then, they will try to talk you into believing that you did not see what you clearly observed. There is little value for honesty or the truth.

We get the government we deserve

We get the government we deserve. It is not the people; it is our leaders who have betrayed us on issue after issue. But, it is we the people who must hold the leaders accountable. We should not be asking them for special favors for it emboldens them. If we send them home for good, they cannot hurt us again. Donald Trump is a regular honest citizen like you and I who has never been corrupted by the glamor of politics. He is in a position to save America from the low-life's who now serve as our representatives.

The Marxist-leaning Democratic leadership of today would reject JFK if he appeared as a candidate against Hillary Clinton, the dominant successor candidate to replace President Obama. That is because the Democratic Party, which claims to be the party of the people only when it is convenient, is no longer for the common American. They just have not told us yet. We are the John and Jane Doe's out here on the streets trying to live. Our important representatives have left us in their dust and they have moved on to more important matters than the people they "serve."

The leaders of the Party take no blame for their antiquated Marxist policies, even as more and more of their citizen members have no jobs, and while the remainder are eking life out with depressed wages and little hope.

Democratic leaders are simply looking for votes from illegal foreign nationals. They do not put forth candidates who care about the people—the citizens of the United States of America. If you tell yourself the truth every day, you will agree.

Is any of this good?

As a Democrat it disturbs me that my party is trying to dilute US culture and get the new foreign voters to include themselves as virtual Democrats in waiting. This movement is not designed to help America or Americans. And, so, we the people have little hope until we throw out the whole Congress, bring in Donald Trump as President, and start over.

In lockstep with the Democrats, establishment elitist Republicans also want the vote of the interlopers more than they want to provide proper representation for their constituency.

Neither Party is for the people today. And on the notion of illegal immigration, both major political parties are operating against the will of the people. This will happen until the people begin to pay attention more regularly to the actions of our officials.

In the below chart, I contrast the Gang of Eight Bill with the Lifetime Guest Plan. It shows that our Senators have a different agenda than we do.

If you were not sure that the Lifetime Guest Plan was a good deal for you before, this analysis should open your eyes. If you were ambivalent on the Gang of Eight plan before, these facts should convince you that there was a sellout of Americans in play in 2013, spearheaded by the US Senate. A stodgy group of tired old tired men, who no longer care about America, turned against the people.

Thankfully, Americans stopped them this time. Unfortunately, President Obama, the Energizer Bunny, continues to reject the will of the people and he is now breaking the Constitution. Obama's goal is to give the interlopers the freebies they want without asking for congressional approval. This lawless behavior is leading to the ruination of our country.

The Gang of Eight didn't play it straight

Americans throughout 2013 heard the constant drumbeat about the Gang of Eight's Amnesty program. Before you choose to learn more about the Lifetime Guest Plan, let's compare bullet by bullet, the Gang of Eight plan (G of 8) with the Lifetime Guest Plan (LGP).

Chapter 10 The Major Convention Speeches

What a great group of Americans

On day 1 at the Republican National Convention, we the people witnessed speeches from congressmen, former military members, the potential future first lady and the mother of one of the victims of Benghazi. Days 2 to three to four were just as exciting. This chapter is intended to be the second last chapter of this book.

It contains in fact, the text of a number of the complete speeches of the Republican convention brought to life with just a little bit of Kelly chutzpah thrown in for good measure. Besides some chutzpah, I hope to offer some bracketed [add-on text] to some of what was said by some of the best conservative speakers in the United States.

Most non-Trump supporters, had already been primed by the major networks such as CBS, NBC, and ABC and of course CNN and MSNBC not to expect much from the Republican Convention, and of course not to believe an inch of what was discussed.

Could the message have been such as this: "After all, dear Democrats, these candidates and speakers on TV tonight and the next three nights are Republicans, and none of them can be trusted." Amen on my idea that the press, the fourth estate in American politics may be worthy of the people's trust today. Not a word was spoken before the press already had its Tuesday headlines. Thank you dear corrupt press / media. Tell me again why you are relevant to regular people in America?

So, we the unwashed conservatives, who chose to not watch ½ conservative Fox News on convention night were required to get the full scoop the next day from the most conservative man in America, Rush Limbaugh.

Limbaugh has a scent scenter that can find a lie through his olfactory senses in seconds. I suspect it is a blessing and a curse. However, even he, the great Rushi cannot tell a lie ever. His loyal constituency would call and badger him about it and ruin his next day program. No politician has such a constraint. Their lies live on in infamy Biographical information of each of the speakers was provided by the Republican National Committee. After the benediction from Thursday Night, we will begin the formal speeches with Melania Trump.

Benediction Thursday July 21—Pastor Mark Burns

Hello, Republicans! I'm Pastor Mark Burns from the great state of South Carolina! I'm gonna pray and I'm gonna give the benediction. And you know why? Because we are electing a man in Donald Trump who believes in the name of Jesus Christ. And Republicans, we got to be united, because our enemy is not other Republicans – but is Hillary Clinton and the Democratic Party.

Let's pray together. Father God, in the name of Jesus, Lord, we're so thankful for the life of Donald Trump. We're thankful that you are guiding him, that you are giving him the words to unite this party, this country, that we together can defeat the liberal Democratic Party, to keep us divided and not united. Because we are the United States of America, and we are the conservative party under God.

To defeat every attack that comes against us, protect the life of Donald Trump. Give him the words, give him the peace, give him the power and authority to be the next president of the United States of America. In Jesus' name—if you believe it, shout "Amen!"

Here is the full text of her speech

FULL TRANSCRIPT: Melania Trump, Monday Night 2016

Thank you very much. Thank you. You have all been very kind to Donald and me, to our young son Barron, and to our whole family. It's a very nice welcome and we're excited to be with you at this historic convention.

I am so proud of your choice for president of the United States, my husband, Donald J. Trump. And I can assure you, he is moved by this great honor. The 2016 Republican primaries were fierce and started with many candidates, 17 to be exact, and I know that Donald agrees with me when I mention how talented all of them are. They deserve respect and gratitude from all of us.

However, when it comes to my husband, I will say that I am definitely biased, and for good reason. I have been with Donald for 18 years and I have been aware of his love for this country since we first met. He never had a hidden agenda when it comes to his patriotism, because, like me, he loves this country so much.

I was born in Slovenia, a small, beautiful and then-Communist country in Central Europe. My sister Ines, who is an incredible woman and a friend, and I were raised by my wonderful parents. My elegant and hard-working mother Amalia introduced me to fashion and beauty. My father Viktor instilled in me a passion for business and travel. Their integrity, compassion and intelligence reflect to this day on me and for my love of family and America.

From a young age, my parents impressed on me the values that you work hard for what you want in life: that your word is your bond and you do what you say and keep your promise; that you treat people with respect. They taught and showed me values and morals in their daily life. That is a lesson that I continue to pass along to our son, and we need to pass those lessons on to the many generations to follow. Because we want our children in this nation to know that the only limit to your achievements is the strength of your dreams and your willingness to work for them.

I am fortunate for my heritage, but also for where it brought me today. I traveled the world while working hard in the incredible arena of fashion. After living and working in Milan and Paris, I arrived in New York City 20 years ago, and I saw both the joys and the hardships of daily life.

On July 28th, 2006, I was very proud to become a citizen of the United States – the greatest privilege on planet Earth. I cannot, or will not, take the freedoms this country offers for granted. But these freedoms have come with a price so many times. The sacrifices made by our veterans are reminders to us of this. I would like to take this moment to recognize an amazing veteran, the great Senator Bob Dole. And let us thank all of our veterans in the arena today, and those across our great country. We are all truly blessed to be here. That will never change.

I can tell you with certainty that my husband has been concerned about our country for as long as I have known him. With all of my heart, I know that he will make a great and lasting difference.

Donald has a deep and unbounding determination and a never-give-up attitude. I have seen him fight for years to get a project done – or even started – and he does not give up! If you want someone to fight for you and your country, I can assure you, he is the 'guy'. He will never, ever, give up. And, most importantly, he will never, ever, let you down.

Donald is, and always has been, an amazing leader. Now, he will go to work for you. His achievements speak for themselves, and his performance throughout the primary campaign proved that he knows how to win. He also knows how to remain focused on improving our country – on keeping it safe and secure.

He is tough when he has to be but he is also kind and fair and caring. This kindness is not always noted, but it is there for all to see. That is one reason I fell in love with him to begin with.

Donald is intensely loyal. To family, friends, employees, country. He has the utmost respect for his parents, Mary and Fred, to his sisters Maryanne and Elizabeth, to his brother Robert and to the memory of his late brother Fred. His children have been cared for and mentored to the extent that even his adversaries admit they are an amazing testament to who he is as a man and a father. There is a great deal of love in the Trump family. That is our bond, and that is our strength.

Yes, Donald thinks big, which is especially important when considering the presidency of the United States. No room for small thinking. No room for small results. Donald gets things done.

Our country is underperforming and needs new leadership. Leadership is also what the world needs. Donald wants our country to move forward in the most positive of ways. Everyone wants change. Donald is the only one that can deliver it. We should not be satisfied with stagnation.

Donald wants prosperity for all Americans. We need new programs to help the poor and opportunities to challenge the young. There has to be a plan for growth – only then we'll see earnest resolve.

My husband's experience exemplifies growth and the successful passage of opportunity to the next generation. His success indicates inclusion rather than division. My husband offers a new direction, welcoming change, prosperity and greater cooperation among peoples and nations.

Donald intends to represent all the people, not just some of the people. That includes Christians and Jews and Muslims, it includes Hispanics and African-Americans and Asians, and the poor and the middle class. Throughout his career, Donald has successfully worked with people of many faiths and with many nations.

Like no one else, I have seen the talent, the energy, the tenacity, the resourceful mind and the simple goodness of heart that God gave Donald Trump. Now is the time to use those gifts as never before, for purposes far greater than ever before. And he will do this better than anyone else can, and it won't even be close.

Everything depends on it, for our cause and for our country. People are counting on him – all the millions of you who have touched us so much with your kindness and your confidence. You have turned this unlikely campaign into a movement that is still gaining in strength and number. The primary season, and its toughness, is behind us. Let's all come together in a national campaign like no other!

The race will be hard-fought, all the way to November. There will be good times and hard times and unexpected turns – it would not be a Trump contest without excitement and drama.

But through it all, my husband will remain focused on only one thing: this beautiful country, that he loves so much.

If I am honored to serve as first lady, I will use that wonderful privilege to try to help people in our country who need it the most. One of the many causes dear to my heart is helping children and women. You judge a society by how it treats its citizens. We must do our best to ensure that every child can live in comfort and security, with the best possible education.

As citizens of this great nation, it is kindness, love and compassion for each other that will bring us together – and keep us together.

These are the values Donald and I will bring to the White House. My husband is ready to lead this great nation. He is ready to fight, every day, to give our children the better future they deserve. Ladies and gentlemen, Donald J. Trump is ready to serve and lead this country as the next president of the United States. Thank you, God bless you, and God bless America.

Scott BAIO RNC Speech Monday Night

Former television star Scott Baio expressed to the crowd at the 2016 Republican National Convention that Donald Trump is the man who can help America improve from tough times.

Baio, who starred in Happy Days and Charles in Charge, called Trump, "a man who knows how to get things done."

In his speech, Baio expressed what he thinks it means to be an American.

Baio was one of the first speakers on Monday, a night when the theme of the RNC was "Make America Safe Again." He referred to Hillary Clinton as, "a woman who somehow feels that she's entitled to the presidency, that she's somehow owed it."

The 55-year-old actor, perhaps best known for his role on the sitcom Happy Days, began his remarks by thanking the veterans who have served in the United States military, in keeping with the evening's theme of "Make America Safe Again."

Among the messages he delivered, Baio echoed one of Trump's most consistent phrases.

"Let's make America great again. But let's make America—America again,"

"I can't tell you how much of an honor it is to stand up here and talk about a man that I trust with the lives of my family and the health of our country," Baio said.

Convention on Monday evening in Cleveland. For the record, here's a transcript of what Scott Baio had to say. I had seen him on Fox earlier in the day and he was thrilled to have the honor of speaking at the convention. Here he goes:

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you so much. Tonight's theme is "Making America Safe," so I want to thank all the brave men and women who serve our country, including retired Lt. Col. Charles Kettles, who just this morning received the Medal of Honor for his heroism in Vietnam.

And I want to thank Mr. Trump for asking to be here tonight. I can't tell you how much of an honor it is to stand up here and talk about a man that I trust with the lives of my family and the health of our country.

America: The greatest country God ever created.

Now, America is an easy place to get to.

But for you first-time voters, it's important for you to know what it means to be an American. It doesn't mean getting free stuff. It means sacrificing. Winning. Losing. Failing. Succeeding. And sometimes doing the things you don't want to do — including the hard work — in order to get where you want to be. And that's what it means to be an American.

But folks, our country right now is in a very bad spot. You can feel it. And you can see it everywhere. There's no stability. Nothing seems right. And all the things that we hold dear are being attacked every single day. We cannot go down this road anymore.

We need to stop.

We need Donald Trump to fix this.

Is Donald Trump a messiah? No. He's just a man — a man who wants to give back to his country: America — the country that has given him everything. A country that has also given all of us so much. And now it's time to give back to her.

We have a choice in November. We can go for Hillary Clinton, who wants to continue the same policies that are wrecking this country. Policies that make us unsafe. A woman who somehow that feels she's entitled to the presidency — that she's somehow owed it. Or we can go for Donald Trump, a man doing this from the goodness of his heart and genuinely wants to help. A man who knows how to get things done. A man who says what he means, and means what he says.

Hillary Clinton wants to be president for Hillary Clinton. Donald Trump wants to be president for all of us.

So, of course, let's make America great again. But let's make America America again.

*Thank you all so much.
God bless. Go Trump.*

Themed "Make America Work Again," night two of the Republican National Convention featured 19 speakers, including former GOP presidential hopefuls, members of the House and Senate, a golfer, an actor, and two of Donald Trump's children. These speakers addressed our country's current economic state, which has experienced what the GOP's official convention website refers to as "anemic economic growth."

The overall goal for Tuesday's speeches was to defend Trump's "solid record" and "experience" and how his status as a businessman will, well, make America work again. One of Trump's children, Tiffany Trump, hasn't been especially vocal about her father's candidacy, and definitely not to the extent that her half-siblings have. But a transcript of Tiffany Trump's Republican National Convention speech shows she's more than ready to take on the challenge.

Though she's said her mother Marla Maples raised her "as ... a single mom," Trump has stayed connected with her father's children, attending Ivanka Trump's wedding and wishing younger brother Barron a happy birthday on Instagram. Trump also posted a birthday Instagram for her father with the caption: "Happy Birthday dad! I love you!" She's also appeared with the family on multiple occasions, from CNN to The Today Show.

On Tuesday night, Trump spoke of her father and even mentioned that she was a newbie to the political convention circuit. (Although her nerves didn't show.)

The 22-year-old Tiffany graduated from the University of Pennsylvania this past May, securing degrees in sociology and urban studies. Trump wasn't raised a New Yorker as half-siblings Ivanka, Barron, Eric, and Donald Trump, Jr. have, but was raised by her mother in Los Angeles. The GOP's official convention website describes Trump as "a fashion model, singer, and influential presence on social media." This "social media" credit nods to Trump's 160,000 Instagram followers.

Trump's boyfriend Ross Mechanic, a registered Democrat, sat beside her on the first night of the convention. But if the two held contrary views to Trump's famously bombastic father, none of that showed — in fact, Trump's remarks proved that she was ready to stand by her father no matter what.

Thank you all so much.

It's so amazing to be with you tonight and say a few words about my father and your nominee for president. Please excuse me if I'm a little nervous. When I graduated college a couple of months ago, I never expected to be here tonight addressing the nation. I've given a few speeches in front of classrooms of students, but never in an arena with more than ten million people watching. But, like my father, I never back down from challenges, so here I am, a little new to the convention scene but incredibly honored and very confident in the good man that America is coming to know.

It's often said that with enough effort and determination you can do whatever you put your mind to. But saying those words and living them are different things, and my father has lived them. It's one of his defining qualities and I've seen it in action all of my life. Whatever he does, he gives his all and does it well. His desire for excellence is contagious.

He possesses a unique gift for bringing that trait out in others, starting with those closest to him. He's always helped me be the best version of myself by encouragement and by example. He motivates me to work my hardest and to always stay true to who I am and what I believe. That's what he does: he draws out the talent and drive in people so that they can achieve their full potential. That's a great quality to have in a father and better yet in the president of the United States.

As a recent college graduate, many of my accomplishments are still to come. But my dad takes such pride in all that I've done so far, no matter how big or how small. I still keep all of my report cards, some dating back to kindergarten, because I like to look back and see the sweet notes he wrote on each and every one of them. Contrary to what you might expect from someone who places an emphasis on results, my dad's comments referred often to the sentiments expressed by my teachers, about how I acted in and out of the classroom, just not even focusing on the letter grades themselves. Donald Trump has never done anything halfway, least of all as a parent. My father always asked about my family in Georgia to make sure that they are healthy and safe. My uncle served in Vietnam and my 97-year-old grandfather served in World War II.

I believe the measure of a person is revealed in their darkest times. For me, the measure of a parent is based on how they support and bolster you when you're down. A few years ago, someone very dear to me passed away and the first call I got, as I knew I would, came from my father. Without his unwavering support and care for me during such a challenging time, I don't know how I would have made it through.

As far too many know, it is the small, loving acts that help an enormous amount in times of grief. My father is good with advice, as you might guess, but he keeps it short, and the takeaway is usually the same: to help us find our own way, and our own gifts. If you do what you love, hold nothing back, and never let fear of failure get in the way, then you've pretty much figured out the Trump formula.

My dad is a natural-born encourager, the last person who will ever tell you to lower your sights or give up your dream. I always look forward to introducing him to my friends, especially the ones with pre-conceived notions because they meet a man with natural charm and no facade. In person, my father is so friendly, so considerate, so funny, and so real. My friends walk away with a glimpse of all that he is and all that he means to me of the strong, protective, kind, and endearing man I am so proud to call my father.

I never pictured myself saying all of this to a packed arena, but I am grateful and fortunate for the chance. I have admired my father all of my life, and I love him with all my heart. God bless you, and thank you.

Day Two RNC

Day Two of the Republican National Convention kicked off on Tuesday night with the theme "Make America Work Again."

The platform is one in a series of events that are meant to speak to the ways GOP presidential nominee Donald Trump plans to "Make America Great Again."

His son Donald Jr. spoke on this evening, and the transcript of Donald Trump Jr.'s RNC speech shows how Trump plans to help Americans get back to work in 2016. Trump Jr. works with his father's organization as a construction manager, so the topic of the speech seemed fitting.

The RNC described the second night of the Trump-themed convention as one dedicated to Trump's success as a "businessman with a solid record of creating jobs."

The description also suggested that Trump has "the experience we need to get America's economy up and running ... and get Americans working again."

Donald Trump Jr. RNC Speech Tuesday

Here's the transcript of Trump Jr.'s RNC speech on his father's initiative to "Make America Work Again" and all the issues he has with Clinton:

Good evening. I'm Donald Trump Jr. Thank you. I'm the father of five young children, from two-year-old Chloe to Kai who just turned nine. I'm the husband to Vanessa, an amazing wife and mother, and the son of a great man. I'm an American, and tonight I want to talk to you about the country we live in; the country our children will grow up in. To my generation, this is the most important election of our lifetime, one that will determine the future of our country and, in turn, the future of the world.

For too long, our country has ignored its problems, punting them down the road for future generations to deal with. In business, I was trained by my father to make the tough investments and decisions today to ensure a better future for tomorrow. We've actually started to believe that solving our great problems is an impossible task, and that's why we need to elect a man who has a track record of accomplishing the impossible.

For the first time, parents no longer think that their kids will be as well of as we were. We've lost the confidence in our leaders and the faith in our institutions. But remember one thing: we're still Americans, we're still one country, and we're going to get it all back. We're going to get it back better than ever before. I know we'll get it back because I know my father.

I know we'll get it back because I know my father. I know that when people tell him it can't be done that guarantees that he gets it done. I know that when someone tells him that something is impossible, that's what triggers him into action.

When people told him it was impossible for a boy from Queens to go to Manhattan and take on developers in the big city, rather than give up he changed the skyline of New York.

I've seen it time and time again, that look in his eyes when someone says it can't be done. I saw that look a little over a year ago when he was told he couldn't possibly succeed in politics. Yes, he did.

For my father, impossible is just the starting point. That's how he approaches business projects, that's how he approaches life, whether it's teaching his granddaughter how to swing a golf club, or tackling the toughest negotiations, he's always fully committed.

That's why the person who had never run for office before stood on the stage 11 months ago in this very arena with 16 professional politicians and this week that same man will stand before you as our party's nominee for the president of the United States of America.

As a proud son and family member, it was one of the great honors of my life to be able to put him over the top in the delegate count earlier today.

His unrelenting determination is why he's going to become our next president and why I know that when my father says he can fix the country he means it.

You want to know what kind of president he'll be? Let me tell you how he ran his businesses, and I know because I was there with him by his side on job sites, in conference rooms from the time I could walk.

He didn't hide out behind some desk in an executive suite, he spent his career with regular Americans. He hung out with the guys on construction sites pouring concrete and hanging sheetrock. He listened to them and he valued their opinions as much and often more than the guys from Harvard and Wharton locked away in offices away from the real work.

He's recognized the talent and the drive that all Americans have. He's promoted people based on their character, their street smarts and their work ethic, not simply paper or credentials. To this day, many of the top executives in our company are individuals that started out in positions that were blue collar, but he saw something in them and he pushed them to succeed.

His true gift as a leader is that he sees the potential in people that they don't even see in themselves...

...The potential that other executives would overlook because their resumes don't include the names of fancy colleges and degrees.

I know he values those workers and those qualities in people because those are the individuals he had my siblings and me work under when we started out. That he would trust his own children's formative years to these men and women says all you need to know about Donald Trump.

We didn't learn from MBAs, we learned from people who had doctorates in common sense.

Guys like Vinnie Stellio, who taught us how to drive heavy equipment, operate tractors and chainsaws, who worked his way through the ranks to become a trusted adviser of my father. It's why we're the only children of billionaires as comfortable in a D10 Caterpillar as we are in our own cars.

My father knew that those were the guys and gals that would teach us the dignity of hard work from a very young age. He knows that at that heart of the American dream is the idea that whoever we are, wherever we're from we can get ahead, where everyone can prosper together.

The other party also tells us they believe in the American dream, they say we should worry about economic inequality and immobility. You know what? They're right. But they don't tell you that it was their policies that caused the problem and it was their policies that have no accountability.

They gave us the worst immigration system in the world, one that imports immobility, one that drives down employment and wages for Hispanic Americans, for African Americans and for everyone, an immigration system that favors illegals over those trying to go through the process legally and, at times, even over law-abiding citizens.

It was Bernie Sanders himself who warned that a large tide of new workers keeps wages low and poverty high.

The other party gave us public schools that far too often fail our students, especially those who have no options. Growing up, my siblings and I we were truly fortunate to have choices and options that others don't have. We want all Americans to have those same opportunities.

Our schools used to be an elevator to the middle class, now they're stalled on the ground floor. They're like Soviet-era department stores that are run for the benefit of the clerks and not the customers, for the teachers and the administrators and not the students. You know why other countries do better on K through 12? They let parents choose where to send their own children to school. That's called competition. It's called the free market. And it's what the other party fears.

They fear it because they're more concerned about protecting the jobs of tenured teachers than serving the students in desperate need of a good education.

They want to run everything top-down from Washington. They tell us they're the experts and they know what's best.

The other party gave us a regulatory state on steroids. Dodd-Frank was a thousand pages long and it's already spun off 22,000 pages in regulations.

Imagine trying to digest all that before you even open your doors for business. That doesn't help consumers. What it does is destroy small business in favor of big businesses who can afford the vast number of lawyers and accountants needed to comply. Dodd-Frank is consumer protection for billionaires.

We've produced the thickest network of patronage and influence of any country at any time in world history. It's composed of a self-satisfied people at the top, our new aristocrats. We can't live that way any longer, it's too risky.

Let me talk a little bit about risks. The other party is the party of risk. I've spent time with many great Americans who have served this country in the military, and they know what's at stake. When we have weak leaders in positions of power, Americans risking their lives for our freedoms are less safe.

You know, almost daily I get a call or a text from a real American hero. His name is Mark Geist and I'm proud to call him a friend.

Mark was part of the security team at the annex on our grounds at the consulate in Benghazi. Mark was one of the men who received frantic phone calls from his buddies at the compound, calls that pleaded for help, calls that he and his team tried to answer. But calls didn't save all his friends because Secretary Clinton's State Department had ignored their requests for help, both on the night in question and even in the weeks and months leading up to the attack.

It was a tragedy and one that would be repeated were she to win the election. Ask Mark who's fit to lead, who has the judgment to lead, who will take that call at 3:00 in the morning? Or better yet, ask yourselves, if you were in Mark's shoes that night, who would you rather call?

Let me tell you something about risk. If Hillary Clinton were elected, she'd be the first president who couldn't pass a basic background check. It's incredible.

Hillary Clinton is a risk Americans can't afford to take. She says she'll issue executive orders to take away Americans' guns. She wants to appoint judges who will abolish the Second Amendment.

Just look at how effective those laws have been in inner-city Chicago, a city with the toughest gun laws in our nation, where 70 people were murdered last month alone and where over 3,400 American lives have been lost since this administration took office in 2009.

You know why those laws fail? Because criminals by definition don't follow laws. Rather than prosecuting real criminals, she would strip hardworking, law-abiding citizens of their rights to protect themselves and their families. She'll throw every possible obstacle in the path of safe, reliable, affordable energy produced in America, by Americans, for American businesses and families. Rather than being energy independent, our country will be forced to remain beholden to her buddies in the Middle East.

Those are risks we can't afford to take. And when we win, we're not going to have to.

There's so much work to do. We will not accept the current state of our country because it's too hard to change. That's not the America I know. We're going to unleash the creative spirit and energy of all Americans. We're going to make our schools the best in the world for every single American of every single ethnicity and background.

We're going to put Americans first, all Americans, not a special class of crony elites at the top of the heap.

We're going to elect a president who will work with everyone to pass legislation that will make our country great again, a president who will give us a tax code that will free the American economy and end special loopholes for the wealthy, a president who will give us an immigration law that protects American citizens and gives them jobs, a president who will repeal and replace "Obamacare" without leaving our most vulnerable citizens without health care and who will do it without destroying Medicare for seniors, as Hillary Clinton has proposed.

A president who knows we can't simply delete our problems, but that we have to tackle them head on. A president who won't allow PC culture to put the safety and well-being of our children and our loved ones at stake. A president who won't bow and pander to nations that shudder at the very thought of America's existence. A president more concerned with the safety and comfort of his fellow Americans than the feelings of those hostile nations abroad who, if given the option, would wipe America off the face of this earth.

A president not beholden to special interests, foreign and domestic, and one who funded his entire primary run out of his own pocket just to prove it. A president who will secure and defend the borders of the United States and who will appoint judges who believe that freedom requires a limited government.

A president who won't use the highest office in the land as a path to personal enrichment.

A president who's actually created real jobs, who has actually signed the front of a paycheck, and who doesn't just talk about it in theory. A president who has real people's families and livelihoods dependent on his success and the success of his company for decades.

A president who speaks his mind, and not just when it behooves him to do so, who doesn't have to run a focus group or use data analytics to be able to form a simple opinion. Who says what needs to be said and not just what you want to hear. A president who will unleash the greatness in our nation and in all of us, who will give the hardworking men and women who have built this great country a voice once again.

That president can only be my mentor, my best friend, my father, Donald Trump.

And when we elect him, we'll have done all that. We'll have made America great again, greater than ever before.

Thank you, and God bless.

Reince Priebus Speech at RNC Tuesday

Thank you.

To the people of Cleveland, we say thank you for your hospitality. And to my wife Sally, and my son Jack and my daughter Grace, I love you. Thank you for everything you do for me.

I stand before this Convention tonight as the Chairman of a Party that is carrying the torch of liberty.

We are the Party of the open door.

To some people...and some presidents...America is just another country. To Republicans, America is the greatest nation on earth.

We don't apologize for America. We celebrate America.

At every level, Republicans stand for aspiration and achievement.

We stand for peace and prosperity.

We stand for freedom and fairness.

These values have inspired people the world-over, ever since we won our freedom over two centuries ago.

These values fueled the sacrifices for freedom at Gettysburg and Normandy and Fallujah.

These values spurred the fight for equality in Birmingham and Selma.

It is clear the Republican Party is the only party willing to fight for these values and lead America to greatness in the 21st century.

You see, the dirty little secret Democrats don't want you to know is that they are the party of the same old thing.

Next week they're going to trot out the same old Democrats with the same old message running the same old candidate.

We are the party of new ideas in a world changing faster than ever before.

Democrats depend on super delegates and bureaucrats to sneak their agenda through the backdoor.

We are the party of the grassroots. We honor what the voters say.

Democrats want to put labor union bosses in charge of our schools, limit our choices, and feed our kids a steady diet of their left-wing propaganda.

We know every child matters and the classroom is not an assembly line. It's time to give the power back to parents, embrace school choice, and equip our children with the skills they need for college, career, and life.

Democrats want healthcare choices in the hands of politicians.

We want healthcare choices in the hands of patients.

Democrats want Washington to impose a one-size-fits-all policy on everybody.

We say an independent people deserves individual solutions.

What separates Republicans from Democrats is our belief in better.

We believe in better schools. A better healthcare system.

A better economy which rewards hard work, no matter where or when you punch the clock.

And most of all, we believe in a better chance at the American Dream for everyone.

The Republican Party will not stop until that becomes a reality.

And that's why we need to stop Hillary Clinton.

A Clinton presidency only means more debt, more ObamaCare, and more hard-working families never seeing a raise.

If Hillary Clinton is given the chance, she'll stack the Supreme Court with activist left-wing judges who will treat the Constitution like a doormat. You can kiss your gun rights goodbye if she ever finds her way into the White House.

In foreign policy, a Clinton presidency means forgetting our friends and enabling our enemies.

Just look, just look at her disastrous Iran nuclear deal, which lined the pockets of the world's number one state sponsor of terrorism with your money, while abandoning our greatest ally in the Middle East, the nation of Israel.

It was on her watch ISIS began to spread its wings of evil over the Middle East.

And she has spent the last 16 months looking in the eyes of the American people and lying about how she recklessly jeopardized the American people and our national security with her secret email server.

She lied. And she lied over and over and over. She lied! She lied.

Perhaps, perhaps, perhaps worst of all, perhaps worst of all, Hillary Clinton has perfected the art of politics for personal gain.

She reads ethics rules as carefully as Americans read their junk mail.

Just look at her track record.

She used her post as Secretary of State to grease the wheels for Democrat lobbyists, special interests, and political insiders connected to the corrupt Clinton Machine.

Her family foundation took millions of dollars in donations from countries notorious for human rights abuses and funneling money to radical Islamic terrorists.

For Hillary Clinton, the Oval Office is just another cash cow.

Well, I have one word for all this hypocrisy and corruption. Enough.

Americans have had enough of a government that plays favorites to the well-connected.

They've had enough of the Clintons' excuses, cronyism and cover ups.

They've had enough of the corrupt deals.

Americans have had enough!

This election, this election is our chance to stop it, and Donald Trump is the right man to lead that charge.

You all know he's brought millions of new voters into our Party because he's listening to Americans who are anxious about a country which has lost its way.

Donald Trump wants to bring jobs back from overseas and hold companies who want to send them abroad accountable.

He's finally going to stop illegal immigration and make sure our government puts American citizens first.

Working families are the lifeblood of our country, and we can't thrive as a nation unless they are thriving. A lot of them haven't seen a bigger paycheck in a long time.

Donald Trump wants to make sure you can pay the mortgage, put gas in the car, and buy new clothes for the first day of school.

Donald Trump is committed to hitting terrorists hard and making the safety of every man, woman, and child in America his number one priority.

No more negotiating with terrorists. If they want to take us down, we're gonna take them down.

And, he will protect the Second Amendment, and every other right guaranteed in the Constitution, by approving and appointing conservative justices to the Supreme Court.

And importantly, he's going to protect the lives of the unborn.

So I have a message to America: hold on. Help is coming.

With Donald Trump and Mike Pence, America is ready for a comeback after almost a decade of Clinton-Obama failures.

I want to close by telling you a little-known story of American greatness.

William Nudesen was a Danish immigrant who started out working in a shipyard and living in a boardinghouse. He knew America promised limitless opportunity, and was determined to make the most of it. He developed his talents for industrial engineering and worked his way up at General Motors. By 1937, he had become the President of the company.

In 1940, the government asked him to get America's factories on a wartime footing. Instead of cars and trucks, America's great manufacturers were now proudly making tanks and planes. For this enormous responsibility, Nudesen was paid $1 per year.

He didn't do it for the money. He was motivated by a duty to keep America free from tyranny. He set aside the job of leading one of the largest companies in America so he could help save the world.

At the end of the war, a war department official told him, "You have never done anything for yourself, only for your country. You have never spared yourself."

Like William Nudesen, we cannot spare ourselves either.

Economic freedom. Belief in the American Dream. A strong defense. Putting country first.

Those values are under assault from Hillary Clinton and the rest of the Democrat party.

Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness is not just a tagline for a bumper sticker.

It is our American legacy, and it is our responsibility to save it and strengthen it for our children and grandchildren.

Listen, God didn't put us here by accident. This is our moment to set a new course for an America as strong and confident as we've ever been.

Let's stand united as Republicans!

Let's stop Hillary Clinton!

Let's get to work, expand our Republican majorities, and elect Donald Trump president!

Thank you, and God Bless America!

Ben Carson RNC Speech at Convention Tuesday

Before his speech, Carson called for Republicans to put aside their differences and focus on one thing: winning the election. In an interview with The Tennessean, Carson was unequivocal in his drive to see the bigger picture:

My main thought is that we've got to get people to understand what the stakes are in this election so that they can put their petty differences behind them and concentrate on making sure that we win because the consequences of not winning are not four or eight years of Hillary Clinton.

Carson also struck a sympathetic tone towards accusations that Melania Trump copied parts of Michelle Obama's speech at the 2008 Democratic National Convention, saying that if Melania did indeed lift from the First Lady, she did so based on "shared values" that transcend party lines.

Read the full transcript of Carson's speech here:

Thank you, thank you, thank you everyone.

I want to thank you all for that very warm welcome. I have to start out by saying one very important thing: I'm not politically correct. And I hate political correctness because it's antithetical to the founding principles of this country and the secular progressives use it to make people sit down and shut up while they change everything. It's time for us to stand up and shout out about what we believe in.

You know, I devoted my career to studying and operating on the human brain. This remarkable organ defines our humanity. It gives us the ability to not only feel and observe, but to reason. When we elect a president, we need to use that power of reasoning to look at their history, their character, what kind of people they really are. It's all the difference in the world for us. And it is gonna be so critical right now. We must resist the temptation to take the easy way out and to passively accept what is fed to us by the political elite and the media because they don't know what they're talking about and they have an agenda.

We must also be wary of the narrative that's being advanced by some in our own party, the notion that a Hillary Clinton administration wouldn't be that bad, that the effects would only be temporary. That it would only last for four and at most eight years. They're not using their God-given brain to think about what they're saying, because it won't be four or eight years, because she will be appointing people who will have an effect on us for generations and America may never recover from that. That's what we have to be thinking about.

Interestingly enough, we have to start thinking about what would Hillary Clinton do if she was, in fact, president. She would appoint Supreme Court justices, she would appoint federal judges, and that would have a deleterious effect on what happens for generations to come. Not only that, but she would continue with a system that denigrates the educates of our young people, puts them in a place where they're never going to be able to get a job, where they're always going to be dependent and where they can therefore be cultivated for their votes. This is not what America is all about, this kind of deception. And this is what we the people have the necessary obligation to fight.

One of the things that I have learned about Hillary Clinton is that one of her heroes, her mentors, was Saul Alinsky. Her senior thesis was about Saul Alinsky. This was someone that she greatly admired and that affected all of her philosophies subsequently.

Now, interestingly enough, let me tell you something about Saul Alinsky.

He wrote a book called "Rules for Radicals." On the dedication page, it acknowledges Lucifer, the original radical who gained his own kingdom. Now think about that. This is a nation where our founding document, the Declaration of Independence, talks about certain inalienable rights that come from our creator. This is a nation where our Pledge of Allegiance says we are "one nation, under God."

This is a nation where every coin in our pocket and every bill in our wallet says "In God We Trust." So are we willing to elect someone as president who has as their role model somebody who acknowledges Lucifer? Think about that.

The secular progressive agenda is antithetical to the principles of the founding of this nation. If we continue to allow them to take God out of our lives, God will remove himself from us, we will not be blessed and our nation will go down the tubes and we will be responsible for that. We don't want that to happen.

Now Donald Trump, he understands this fairly well, he understands that the blessings of this nation come with the responsibility to ensure that they are available to all, not just the privileged few.

This is exemplified by his willingness to take on the establishment against all odds. It is evident in his passion for the American worker, it is found in his desire to put his considerable skills to work on behalf of American interests and not his self-interest. I'm proud to support Donald Trump, an extraordinary businessman, the right leader for a time such as this.

But you know what? It is not about Donald Trump. It is not about me. It is about we, the people, and Thomas Jefferson said that we would reach this point because we the people would not be paying attention and it would allow the government to grow, to expand, and to metastasize and to try to rule us. But he said before we turn into something else, we the people would recognize what was going on, what we were about to lose, and we would rise up and we would take control of our nation and I say now is the time for us to rise up and take America back.

Pam Bondi Speech at RNC Wednesday

Florida Attorney General Pam Bondi spoke to the Republican National Convention at the Quicken Loans Arena in Cleveland on Wednesday night. This is a transcript of her speech.

New York, aren't you proud? Florida, I love you. I love you.

November 8th is a day of reckoning for all those who have abused their power.

It's the day when we the people will take back our government. From Washington bureaucrats playing doctor with our health care. To a resident who's been playing fast and loose with our constitutional rights and Russian roulette with our borders.

November 8th, is when America feels safe again, because that's when America wins again.

Because winning this election means reclaiming something to which I've dedicated my entire career: the rule of law.

Laws that make our neighborhoods safe. Laws that make our economy strong. Laws that apply equally to everyone.

And Louisiana, now more than ever, laws that back our law enforcement. They have our backs. And Donald Trump will have your backs.

But today, these laws are under siege by a president determined to ignore laws he doesn't like, and by a former secretary of state who believes the laws don't apply to her.

And by the way, she deserves no security clearance. How do you become president of the United States when you have no security clearance? This lawlessness must stop. Right here. Right now.

Donald Trump will stop it.

Lock her up, I love that. Stay with me.

Donald is going to roll back Obama's unconstitutional executive orders. Hang on ...

Donald is going to roll back Obama's unconstitutional orders.

He will enforce immigration laws to keep us safe, while allowing legal immigrants to bless this nation with their talents and their dreams. And California, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Donald Trump will take control of our borders, because we must stop the influx of cocaine and heroin coming into our country and my state, killing our kids.

Oh, and then there's this. Hillary believes our enemies — this is unreal — Hillary believes our enemies deserve our respect and empathy. Donald Trump believes terrorists deserve to die.

Hillary will stack the Supreme Court with liberal justices who will allow government to continue its rampage against our individual rights, with utter contempt for our Second Amendment.

I know Donald. And I am proud to know Donald. He will appoint conservative justices who will defend, rather than rewrite, our Constitution.

I have one question for all of you here today. Are you ready to send ISIS a message that we are really coming after them?

When Donald Trump is president, he will.

So America, on November 8th, remember this:

If you believe in limited government...

If you believe in our historic constitutional rights...

If you believe in the rule of law...

If you believe it's time for America to start acting like America again...

There is only one choice in this election: Donald Trump.

America's for Trump. And so am I.

God bless America, and God bless the Trump family.

Eric Trump (Donald's Son) at RNC Wednesday

Although the theme of day three of the Republican National Convention is "Make America First Again," presidential nominee Donald Trump's second son was not the first of his adult children to address the Cleveland crowd with an impassioned, supportive speech for his father. Following older brother Donald Trump, Jr.'s, rousing criticism and Democratic values and younger half sister Tiffany Trump's anecdotes about the caring side her father showed her while she was growing up Tuesday evening, a transcript of Eric Trump's RNC speech shows that he's similarly fired up about his father's campaign. And as the vice president of The Trump Organization, Eric Trump certainly has valuable insight into his father's business and leadership qualities.

After critics called out Donald Trump's wife, Melania Trump, for delivering a speech that was suspiciously similar to the one Michelle Obama gave at the Democratic National Convention in 2008, Eric Trump announced before his speech that instead of using speechwriters, he wrote the speech entirely by himself.

"I think sometimes when you write from the heart, and I'll certainly deliver it from the heart, the product will be what it will be," he said on Good Morning America, according to ABC News. "But it will be certainly sincere and full of love and full of emotion and that's how it's supposed to be."

And it was. In talking about Trump's business acumen and altruism, Trump reiterated his family members' assertions that Trump is an effective business man who's dedicated to the success of those who work for and with him.

Wow. Wow. Good evening, Cleveland. Wow. It is such an an honor to be here for a man I love so, so, so so much. That's my father.

Thirteen months ago, my father sat my family down and told us the time had come. He could no longer sit idly by and watch our beloved country, the country that had given our family so much success, so much opportunity, crumble before our very eyes. He confirmed to us that he was prepared to announce his candidacy for president of the United States. He made sure to acknowledge that ours would not be an easy path, that we should prepare ourselves for what was to come. That we'd quickly learn who our true friends were.

Without hesitation, we each committed our unwavering support, but this time, none of us could have predicted what lay ahead. The records he would break, the stadiums he would fill, the movement he would start. Today my father stands before you with the most primary votes of any Republican candidate in the history of our nation.

He shattered voter registration records across the country. He has defied the predictions of every single political pundit and turned traditional debates into must-see TV. He has inspired multiple generations, including my own, millennials like myself who have so little faith in politicians that they no longer even consider public service to be a noble career.

A year ago, my father was a businessman, but like many Americans, he simply could no longer stand to see what was happening to our great country. He could no longer stand to see special interest dollars dictate an incompetent foreign policy that puts foreign countries before our very own. He could no longer tolerate an inept administration that considers giving $150 billion to Iran for releasing five radical Islamic terrorists a successful negotiation. He could no longer bear witness to our continued second amendment attacks.

He could no longer stand to see the word 'Christmas' stripped from public use, or the Pledge of Allegiance removed from our schools in an effort to be politically correct.

So my father made the courageous decision to set aside a company to which he has dedicated his entire life, to set aside a global brand that he has made synonymous with success, with quality, with uncompromising... just the best. At a time when people at the pinnacle of their career like my father would have held fast to a lifestyle that has truly become the epitome of the American dream, my father instead chose to give that dream back to the people it had eluded for so long.

As daunting of a journey as he knew it would be, for him, he knew it was the easiest decision in the world. After all, who better to implement a common sense business approach to this country? Who better to apply practical solutions to the impractical decision-making of an administration that has bred a $19 trillion debt, one that goes up by $32,000 a second and over $2 billion a day?

Who better to implement common sense tax reductions for one of the highest-taxed nations in the world, allowing our citizens the chance to keep more of what they earn, as opposed to having it squandered away by our inefficient government? Who better to negotiate the return of countless American manufacturers, like Nabisco and Ford and Carrier, and so many others, back to the United States where they began, than a man who has single-handedly employed tens and tens and tens of thousands of people around the country?

It's time for a president with common sense. It's time for a president who understands the art of a deal and appreciates the value of a dollar: our tax dollars. It's time for the president who has always been the one to sign the front of a check, not the back. Throughout my father's career, he has been repeatedly called on by government to step in, save delayed, shuttered, and grossly over-budget public projects, everything from the exterior of Grand Central Terminal in New York to the iconic old post office in Washington, D.C., just to name a few.

Back in 1986, the city of New York tried to refurbish a simple ice skating rink in Central Park. The project dragged on for six years and blew up to over $13 million, $5 million over an already-inflated budget. That's when my father, who overlooked this disastrous construction site from his office window each and every day, decided he had to step in. Disgusted by government incompetence and ineptitude, he invested $2 million of his own money in order to complete the project. What had taken the city over half a decade to botch, my father completed in less than six months, two months ahead of schedule and over a million dollars under budget.

It's time for a president who can make America great again, ahead of budget, and ahead of schedule, too. My father has revitalized run down neighborhoods, shaped skylines across the country, and turned dreams into reality his entire career. It's what he does; it's who he is.

Oprah Winfrey once famously asked my father if he envisioned running for the presidency of the United States. His answer? 'Only if it got so bad that I had no choice.' 'Only if it got so bad that I had no choice.'

Well, ladies and gentlemen, that day has come. As I travel the world that my dad built, and the greatest golf courses and hotels and real estate projects, I see the unmistakable look in his eyes. I see in his eyes the indignity and frustration of a domestic infrastructure back at home that is in complete disarray and no longer on par with so many other developed nations.

I see in his eyes the sadness of innocent lives lost, like those of Kate Steinle and Jamiel Shaw and so many others cut short by illegal immigrants in sanctuary cities, victims of a revolving door of government ineptitude and corruption that leaves innocent Americans defenseless.

I see in his eyes the humiliation of an education system ranked 30th in the world. I see in his eyes the disgrace of a nearly $400 billion trade imbalance with China, the $60 billion trade imbalance with Mexico, and the continued destabilization of the Middle East, which has cost our nation trillions and trillions of dollars and thousands and thousands of lives.

But today I see in his eyes a man who truly loves his country, who is proud of his country, and who wants his country to be great again.

I want to thank my father over there for the life that he's provided me, for the life that he's provided my family, and the life that he's provided all of our employees around the world.

I want to thank my father for the life that he's enabled me to provide for my future children as my beautiful wife Lara and I start thinking about that amazing chapter of our lives.

To that end, I often think about the legacy I wish to leave my children, and to me, there are few things that I hold closer to my heart than charity. For me, it's the essence of who we are as human beings. It's the barometer by which we will be measured for our time here on earth.

As Martin Luther King, Jr., once said, 'Life's most persistent and urgent question is what are you doing for others?' When at 22 years old I founded the Eric Trump Foundation, to benefit St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, an incredible, incredible organization. I run my foundation based on the principles my father taught me: honesty, integrity, and values. I expect other charities to be run by the same moral code, not serve as conduit for personal enrichment, and not become a beacon of corruption and scandal.

To whom much is given, much will be required. This is the very belief that compelled my father to make this great sacrifice, to run for the most powerful yet unforgiving office in the world. There is no greater calling, there is no more selfless an act.

To the unemployed voter sitting at home watching me right now, wondering how you're going to make your next mortgage payment, or rent payment, my father is running for you.

To the veteran tuning into this speech from his or her hospital, who has been ignored and disrespected by an ungrateful system for far too long, my father is running for you.

To the schoolteacher forced to walk through metal detectors each and every day into an underfunded school, my father is running for you.

To the laborer who is watching me right now, forced out of job by undocumented workers, illegal immigrants, my father is running for you.

To the oil and gas industry worker denied a job because of radical regulations from a radical EPA, my father is running for you.

To single mothers, to families with special needs children, to middle class families who can no longer afford medical benefits sufficient to cover their everyday needs, my father is running for you.

This November, I ask you to be true to yourself and vote for the candidate who you know is running for the right reasons. Vote for the candidate who has never been a politician. Vote for the candidate who has never received a paycheck from our government.

Vote for the candidate who can't be bought, sold, purchased, bribed, coerced, intimidated, or steered from the path that is right and just and true. And quite frankly, friends, vote for the one candidate who does not need this job.

Never have I been more proud to be a Trump. Never have I been more proud to be my father's son. I'm incredibly honored to be part of this journey on which he's invited me, Don, Ivanka, Tiffany, Melania, my beautiful wife Lara, our entire family, to play such an integral part.

Dad, you have once again taught us by example, you are my hero, you are my best friend, you are the next president of the United States. God bless America.

Newt Gingrich at RNC Wednesday

Former Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich spoke at the Republican National Convention Wednesday evening, introduced by his wife, Callista Gingrich. Here are his remarks as prepared:

And thank you, Callista. You know, she makes documentary films, and writes a best-selling children's series on American history. In addition, she sings in the Basilica Choir, and plays the French horn in the Fairfax Band. I am amazed at her achievements. Tonight I want to speak about a subject that has dominated my thinking for decades: How do we keep America safe?

In addition, she sings in the Basilica Choir, and plays the French horn in the Fairfax Band. I am amazed at her achievements.

Tonight I want to speak about a subject that has dominated my thinking for decades: How do we keep America safe?

There have been many fascinating things to watch about the extraordinary, historic rise of Donald Trump.

But the most significant has been Donald Trump's courage to tell some important truths about our national security.

For example:

- ✓ We are at War.
- ✓ We are at War with Radical Islamists.
- ✓ They are determined to kill us.
- ✓ They are stronger than we admit.
- ✓ And there is NO substitute for victory.

In contrast to Donald Trump, our national security and foreign policy elites, led by Hillary Clinton, are incapable of speaking with such honesty.

While they lie about the threat, we need to tell the truth about the danger.

If our enemies had their way, not a single woman in this room could define her future.

If our enemies had their way, gays, lesbians and transgender citizens would be put to death as they are today in the Islamic State and Iran.

If our enemies had their way, every person on earth would be subject to conversion by the sword and to a cruel and violent system of law.

There would be no individual liberty.

There would be no equality.

There would be no freedom.

If you doubt we are at war...

If you doubt that this threat is as real as I say...

Let me refresh your memory:

On Monday, an Afghan refugee in Germany used an axe and knives to slash and wound train passengers while shouting "Allahu Akbar."

Last week, ISIS claimed responsibility after a Tunisian man drove a cargo truck into a crowd in Nice, France. He murdered 84 people, including at least 10 children and three Americans, and injured over 300 others.

Two weeks ago, almost 300 people were killed and more than 200 were wounded in bombing attacks in Baghdad.

Two days before that, radical Islamists in Bangladesh killed 20 hostages, including 3 American college students.

A few days before that, at the Istanbul airport in Turkey, ISIS attackers armed with guns and bombs killed 44 people and injured hundreds more.

Last month, a radical Islamist in Paris stalked a French police officer to his home, where he murdered the officer and tortured his wife to death in front of their three-year-old son, while streaming it all on social media.

He was pondering whether to kill the three-year-old when he was killed by police.

Two days before that, an attacker pledging allegiance to ISIS killed 49 people in an Orlando nightclub and wounded dozens more.

All this in just the past 37 days.

We cannot let ourselves grow numb to these accumulating atrocities.

One analysis estimated that since January of 2015, some 30,000 people have been killed at the hands of terrorists.

Donald Trump is right!

We are at war with radical Islamists, we are losing the war, and we must change course to win the war.

Let me be very clear, because I know the news media will do their best to distort this.

We have nothing to fear from the vast majority of Muslims in the United States, or around the world.

The vast majority are peaceful. They are often the victims of the violence themselves.

They are people we would be happy to have as our friends and neighbors.

The challenge is, when even a small percentage of a billion, six hundred million people support violence against those who disagree with them, that is still a giant recruiting base.

For example, Pew Research finds that just 9 percent of Muslims in Pakistan view ISIS favorably.

Unfortunately, 9 percent is 16 million people.

And that's just one country.

So the truth is, although we are losing the war with radical Islamists, we have been very lucky.

The danger we face is much worse than the horrors that happened in Germany on New Year's Eve, when twelve-hundred women were assaulted.

It's worse than what's happening in France, where there are stabbings of Jews in the streets and the nation's security chief warned recently that France is "on the brink of civil war."

It's worse than what's happening in Israel, where average citizens fear for their lives whenever they leave their homes.

The danger is even worse than September 11th, when 19 hijackers murdered almost 3,000 Americans.

The worst case scenario is losing an American city to terrorists armed with weapons of mass destruction.

Instead of losing 3,000 people in one morning, we could lose more than 300,000.

Instead of losing 2 great buildings, we could lose block after block after block to a nuclear event.

That's not just my view. Back in January of 2001, the Hart Rudman Commission warned that terrorists, "will acquire weapons of mass destruction... and some will use them.

Americans will likely die on American soil, possibly in large numbers."

15 years later, the dangers are even greater.

In a world where Pakistan has nuclear weapons... where North Korea has nuclear weapons... and where Iran--the world's leading state sponsor of terrorism--is close to having nuclear weapons... this, a catastrophic attack on innocent Americans, is a very real threat.

Which brings us to the heart of the matter.

We are sleepwalking through history as though this is All About Politics.

It is not.

It is about our safety and our survival as a country.

We cannot keep in place the people and the systems that have brought us to this point and that LIE to us every single day about the threat.

That is why every American should be terrified at the prospect of a Hillary Clinton presidency.

Hillary Clinton has been right at the center of this dishonesty. We know this administration and its allies lied to us about the Iran nuclear deal. We know it because they openly bragged about it to the New York Times.

We know that Hillary Clinton lied to us knowingly about the terror attack on our Benghazi consulate.

We know that Hillary Clinton and President Obama lie to the American people when they say they can safely screen the Syrian refugees. They cannot. And yet Hillary wants to increase the number by 500 percent.

So when you hear about Hillary's dishonesty, or the emails, or taking millions from the Saudis and other Middle Eastern dictatorships--remember: this is not about politics.

The cost of Hillary's dishonesty could be the loss of America as we know it.

The first step forward to safety is electing a leader who will be truthful with the American people about the realities we face.

Only then will we understand, support, and demand the strategies required to confront this threat.

And because safety and security are the preconditions for our freedom and prosperity, it is also the first step toward rebuilding the America we love.

Donald Trump understands this.

And that's why he will rebuild our military-- because he knows that a strong military is the best way to ensure peace.

Donald Trump will secure our borders-- because there is no such thing as a nation without a border.

Donald Trump will enforce our immigration laws. He will end the policy of deliberate non-enforcement and will end the abuse of our visa programs--to protect Americans workers, and their wages.

Donald Trump will take care of our veterans by holding bureaucrats at the Veterans Administration accountable. He will fire those responsible for the waiting lists, and will give veterans more choices about their care.

With Donald Trump's leadership, no bureaucrat will get between a veteran and their doctor.

Donald Trump will get America building again.

He will blow apart the ridiculous regulations and requirements that drive up infrastructure costs and drag out the timeline to get anything built.

The Trump Infrastructure program will make us once again the most competitive economy in the world.

Donald Trump will rebuild our education system, and give every parent of every income and every ethnic background a choice about where their children go to school.

And Donald Trump will help us rebuild and strengthen our communities.

Here again, the first step is safety-- the basis for strong families, and good jobs, and vibrant neighborhoods.

That means restoring law and order.

Donald Trump will show zero tolerance for people calling for the death of police officers.

Think about this. If anyone publicly threatens the life of the President of the United States, the Secret Service is on them in an instant.

Our law enforcement officers deserve the same respect.

And of course, if individual officers are found to have violated someone's rights, they must be held accountable under the law. America is based on the rule of law.

We are one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

That is what has allowed us to absorb more people from more backgrounds than any nation in history.

Nobody is above the law. And nobody is too small to deserve its protection.

Donald Trump won our party's nomination because he is willing to tell the truth about the things that matter most.

He has a great running mate in Mike Pence.

They will put our safety first, and they will defend America first.

We can be proud to stand with them.

So tonight, the challenge for everyone in this hall, and everyone--Republican, Democrat, or Independent--who is watching at home and knows we cannot continue on our current course...

...Is to rise above our factions, and rise above the politics we've inherited;

to ignore the lies of the news media and the old order;

to reject the suicidal dishonesty of Hillary Clinton and her establishment allies;

and to stand with Donald Trump and Mike Pence for what we know is true:

We can make America safe again;

We can make America work again;

We can make America first again;

And together, we can make America great again -- for all Americans.

Thank you and God Bless the United States of America.

[I was in awe on Wednesday watching Newt Gingrich deliver this speech. You have to love America and trust that your candidate loves America to deliver a speech as well as Newt delivered this one. Democrats called it hatemongering but then again, they try to hide the truth from their minions so that they can help them continue being dependent on the government.

Thank you Newt Gingrich. You would have been a worthy Vice President. I sure hope you have a great role in the Trump Administration as I know you would work for me, my friends, family, and all Americans. That would feel so good. Thank you again!]

Mike Pence's RNC Speech Wednesday

Pence can surely hold his own

People all over the United States are tuning into the Republican National Convention, as the party officially nominates Donald Trump for president. But Republicans are also coming out of the convention with an official vice presidential nominee, Gov. Mike Pence of Indiana, and no one is quite sure how he'll do alongside his controversial running mate. However, if the transcript of Mike Pence's Republican National Convention speech is any indication, he'll likely be more than able to pull his own weight.

Many on the left have been freaking out since his nomination because of, among other things, his rigid anti-LGBT and anti-women stances. During his time as governor of Indiana, he pushed a "religious freedom" law that permitted discrimination against the LGBT residents of his state, closed down one community's only HIV testing center, and backed abortion restrictions that even many pro-lifers thought went too far. Also, he hates Mulan! (And the idea of women serving in the military.) Doesn't that just make everything seem so much worse?

However, he is a favorite of many in the Republican establishment, and a much more traditional candidate than Trump, bringing some "normalcy" to the ticket — although if you watch the bizarre 60 Minutes interview with the two of them, where Trump hardly lets Pence get a word in, it becomes clear that "normalcy" may not be something this campaign will ever achieve.

Republican Vice Presidential candidate, Indiana Gov. Mike Pence (R) spoke with World War II veteran and former Sen. Bob Dole (R-KS) on the first day of the Republican National Convention on July 18, 2016 at the Quicken Loans Arena in Cleveland, Ohio. An estimated 50,000 people showed up in Cleveland, including hundreds of protesters and members of the media. The police did such a great job, the protesters were hardly noticed. The four-day Republican National Convention kicked off on July 18. Pence spoke on July 20.

Check out a full transcript of Pence's RNC speech below to see why the governor is such a big draw for so many in the Republican Party (and perhaps you will feel a little more or less worried about the future of the 2016 campaign). Donald Trump Rules. Sorry, I could not help squeezing that in!

Here is Governor Spence:

Mr. Chairman, delegates, friends and my fellow Americans: Thank you from the bottom of my heart. I am deeply humbled by your confidence and on behalf of my family, here and gone, I accept your nomination to run and serve as Vice President of the United States of America.

And let me thank Speaker Paul Ryan for that gracious welcome. Paul, you're a true friend and a great American leader. Paul knows it well, and he knows the introduction I prefer is just a little bit shorter: I'm a Christian, a conservative, and a Republican — in that order.

You know, I'm new to this campaign. And honestly, I never thought I'd be standing here. I thought I'd be spending this evening with all my friends in the great state of Indiana. Yet there I was, a few days ago in New York City, with a man who won 37 states; who faced 16 talented opponents and outlasted every one of them; and along the way, brought millions of new voters into the Republican Party.

He is a man known for having a large personality, a colorful style, and lots of charisma. I think he was just looking for some balance on the ticket.

For those of you who don't know me — which is most of you — I grew up on the front row of the American dream. My grandfather immigrated to this country. I was raised in a small town in southern Indiana, in a big family with a cornfield in the backyard. Although we weren't really a political family, the heroes of my youth were President John F. Kennedy and the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

When I was young, I watched my mom and dad build everything that matters. A family, a business, a good name. I was raised to believe in hard work, in faith, and family. My dad was a combat veteran in Korea. My dad ran gas stations in our small town and was a great father. If dad were here with us today, I have a feeling he would enjoy this moment, and would probably be pretty surprised.

But it is such a joy for me to tell you that my mother is here. Would you join me in welcoming the light of my life, my mom, Nancy?

You know, growing up, I actually started in politics in the other party, until I heard the voice and the ideals of the 40th president, and I signed onto the Reagan Revolution. But the best thing that ever happened to me, even counting tonight, is that 31 years ago, I married the girl of my dreams — a schoolteacher and artist. She is everything to me. Would you welcome my wonderful wife, Karen Pence?

And regardless of any title I will ever hold, the most important job I will ever have is spelled D-A-D. Karen and I are blessed. We are blessed to be the parents of the three greatest kids in the world: A writer named Charlie, a college student named Audrey, and a Second Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps, Michael J. Pence. I'm so proud of you guys.

If you know anything about Hoosiers, you know we like to suit up and compete. We play to win. That is why I joined this campaign in a heartbeat. You have nominated a man for president who never quits, who never backs down — a fighter, and a winner. Until now, he has had to do it all by himself, against all odds. But this week, with this united party, come November 8, I know we will elect Donald Trump to be the 45th President of the United States of America.

We will win because we are running on the issues facing this country, and because we are leveling with the American people about the stakes and the choice. The American people are tired of being told. They're tired of being told that this is as good as it gets. Tired of hearing politicians in both parties tell us that we will get to that tomorrow while we pile a mountain range of debt on our children and grandchildren. As Ronald Reagan used to say, we're tired of being told that a little intellectual elite in a far distant capital can plan our lives better for us than we can plan them for ourselves.

In the end, this election comes down to just two names on the ballot. So let's resolve here and now that Hillary Clinton will never become President of the United States of America. Hillary Clinton essentially offers a third Obama term. The role is perfect for her. She championed Obamacare because years earlier she had all but invented it. The national debt has nearly doubled in these eight years, and her only answer is to keep borrowing and spending. Like the president, she thinks that the path to a growing economy is more taxes and more regulation and more government.

They tell us this economy is the best that we can do. It's nowhere near the best that we can do. It's just the best that they can do. Let me tell you, I know firsthand that it does not have to be like this. In my home state of Indiana, we prove every day that you can build a growing economy on balanced budgets, low taxes, even while making record investments in education and roads and healthcare.

You know, Indiana is a state that works because conservative principles work every time you put them into practice. The nation suffers under the weight of $19 trillion in national debt, we in Indiana have a $2 billion surplus. The highest credit rating in the nation, even though we've cut taxes every year since I became governor four years ago. We have fewer state employees than when I took office, and businesses large and small have created nearly 150,000 new jobs. That is what you can do with commonsense Republican leadership, and that is exactly what the no-nonsense leadership of Donald Trump will bring to the White House.

Donald Trump gets it. He's the genuine article. He is a doer in a game usually reserved for talkers. When Donald Trump does his talking, he doesn't tiptoe around the thousand new rules of political correctness. He is his own man. Distinctly American. And where else would an independent spirit like that find a following than in the land of the free and the home of the brave?

The funny thing is, the party in power seems helpless to figure out the nominee. The media has the same problem. They all keep telling each other that the usual methods will work against him. They keep thinking that they've done him in, only to wake up the next morning and find that Donald Trump is still standing and stronger than ever before.

The man just doesn't quit. He is tough. He perseveres. He has gone about as far as you can go in business, but he has never turned his back on the working men and women who serve and protect us at home and abroad. It has been a heartbreaking time for the women and men in our law enforcement community. In this time of great testing for them, let's let them know here and now, all across this country, we will always stand with those who stand on the thin blue line of law enforcement in America.

Now, while Donald Trump was taking my measure as a possible running mate, I did some observing myself. I have seen the way he deals with people who work for him at every level. I've seen the way they feel about working for him. I grant you, he can be a little rough with politicians on stage, and I bet we see that again.

But I have seen this good man up close. His utter lack of pretense, his respect for the people who work for him, and his devotion to his family. If you still doubt what I'm saying, as we say back home, you can't fake good kids. How about his amazing children? Aren't they something? These are the true measures of our nominee. Chosen by the voters as the right man for these times. This is the outsider, my running mate — turned a longshot campaign into a movement.

Over in the other party, the idea was to present the exact opposite of a political outsider. The exact opposite of a calculating truth-teller. On that score, you have to hand it to the Democratic establishment — they outdid themselves this time.

At the very moment when America is crying out for something new and different, the other party has answered with a stale agenda and the most predictable of names. People in both parties are restless for change, ready to break free from old patterns in Washington, and Democrats are about to anoint someone who represents everything this country is tired of. You know, Hillary Clinton wants a better title. And I would too if I was already America's secretary of the status quo.

The choice could not be more clear: Americans can elect someone who literally personifies the field establishment in Washington D.C., or we can choose a leader who will fight every day to make America great again. It is change versus status quo, and my fellow Republicans when Donald Trump becomes President of the United States, the change will be huge.

For years we have had fundamental problems in America that get talked to death in Washington D.C., but they never get solved. They even get worse.

We've seen entire stretches of our country the written off by bad economic policies in ways that are deeply unfair. We see relentless mandates from the executive branch. It seems like no aspect of our lives is too small for the present administration to supervise, and no provision of the Constitution is too large for them to ignore.

Meanwhile, we have seen borders that go unrespected, a military that has been diminished, and promise after ringing promise to our veterans promptly forgotten. Then Donald Trump came along and started saying what practically everybody was thinking anyway, that our leaders need to be stronger.

Under Donald Trump, our deals will be stronger. Under Donald Trump, our deals will be smarter, our soldiers will have what they need, and our veterans will have what they earned.

The good news is that it will not be nearly enough. Not against a candidate who captures the attention of the country the way Donald Trump has. Issue by issue, he and I will take our case to the voters. Pointing out the failures of the Obama/Clinton agenda and showing a better way, we will win the hearts and minds of the American people with an agenda for a stronger and more prosperous America.

Now, Washington D.C. thinks it's only a narrow range of voters who will give Donald Trump a serious look, but I can tell you firsthand, there are a lot of Americans who feel like Democratic politicians taking them for granted. It is union members who don't want a president who promises to put a lot of coal miners and coal companies out of business. Those miners want an American energy policy, and they know that Donald Trump digs coal.

It is African-Americans who remember generations of hollow promises about safe streets and better schools, and they know Donald Trump will fight for equal opportunity, and he loves educational choice. It is Hispanic Americans who respect the law, who want jobs and opportunities for their families, who know that Donald Trump will uphold the law and get this economy moving for every American.

You know, the party of Lincoln was founded on equality and opportunity. During these difficult days, it will be our party in our agenda opens the doors for every American to succeed and prosper in this land. In so many ways, the Democratic Party has abandoned those they used to protect. Maybe they've become too entrenched in power. So comfortable at times that they lose patience with the normal legislative process. It's so much simpler to impose their values by executive order or court action, and make no mistake about it: Hillary Clinton has big ideas along those lines.

As this election approaches, every American should know that while we are filling the presidency for the next four years, this election will define the Supreme Court for the next 40. We all had better think very, very carefully about what this means for our Constitution and limited government. Elect Hillary Clinton, and you better get used to being subject to unelected judges, using unaccountable power to take unconstitutional actions.

For the sake of the rule of law, for the sake of the sanctity of life, for the sake of our Second Amendment, and for the sake of all our other God-given liberties, we must ensure that the next president appointing justices to the Supreme Court is Donald Trump.

And Hillary Clinton's record on foreign affairs is even worse. It was Hillary Clinton who helped undo all the games of the troops urge. A staggering failure of judgment that set ice is loose. It was Hillary Clinton who instigated the president's disastrous agreement with the radical people of their own. It was Hillary Clinton who left Americans in harm's way in Benghazi. Then she said, "What difference at this point does it make?"

As the proud father of a United States Marine, let me say from my heart: Anyone who said that, anyone who did that should be disqualified from ever serving as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States of America.

Seven and a half years of Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton's policies have weakened Americas place in the world. Terrorist attacks at home and abroad, grim and heartbreaking scenes from France just a few weeks ago, and the attempted coup in Turkey all attest to a world spinning apart. History teaches that weakness arouses evil. Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama's foreign-policy of leading from behind, moving red lines, feigning resets with Russia, and the rise, rule, and reign of ISIS are a testament to the truth of history.

We cannot have four more years apologizing to our enemies and abandoning our friends. America needs to be strong for the world to be safe, and on the world stage, Donald Trump will lead from strength.

Donald Trump will rebuild our military and stand with our allies. Donald Trump will confront radical Islamic terrorism at its source and destroy the enemy of our freedom. If the world does nothing else, it will notice: America stands with Israel.

If you looked at the calendar this morning, you may have noticed, the presidency of Barack Obama ends exactly six months from today. This much is certain of the Obama years: They are not ending well. There seem to be so many things that divide us, so few great purposes that unite us as they once did. It is at moments like this, moments when politics fail, but I believe we do well to remember what unites us far exceeds anything that sets us apart in America. That we are, as we have always been, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Should I have the awesome privilege to serve as your vice president, I promise to keep faith with that conviction, to pray daily for a wise and discerning heart, for who is able to govern this great people without it?

My fellow Americans, I believe we have come to another rendezvous with destiny and I have faith, faith in the boundless capacities of the American people, and faith that God can still heal our land.

But we have a choice to make. This is another time for choosing. If you want a president who will protect this nation, confront radical Islamic terrorism, and rid the world of ISIS; if you want a president who will restore law and order to this country and give law enforcement the support and resources they deserve; if you want a president who will cut taxes grow our economy and squeeze every nickel out of the federal bureaucracy; if you want a president who will build strong borders and enforce our laws, and if you want to president who will upend the status quo in Washington D.C. and appoint justices to the Supreme Court who will uphold the Constitution; we have one choice – and that man is ready. This team is ready. Our party is ready. And when we elect Donald Trump the 45th President of the United States, together we will make America great again.

Thank you, and God bless you, and God bless the United States of America.

[Don't you just love it when good people, great patriots, willing to work for we the people, go ahead and end their speeches thanking God and the United States. Me too!]

Ivanka Trump RNC Speech Thursday

Ivanka Trump introduced her father at the Republican national convention Thursday, arguing that he is “color blind and gender neutral” and arguing he would fight for women’s issues.

“As President, my father will change the labor laws that were put into place at a time when women were not a significant portion of the workforce,” she said. “And he will focus on making quality childcare affordable and accessible for all.”

Read Ivanka’s remarks as delivered below:

Good evening. Thank you. One year ago, I introduced my father when he declared his candidacy. In his own way, and through his own sheer force of will, he sacrificed greatly to enter the political arena as an outsider.

And he prevailed against a field of 16 very talented competitors.

For more than a year, Donald Trump has been the people's champion, and tonight he's the people's nominee.

Like many of my fellow millenials, I do not consider myself categorically Republican or Democrat. More than party affiliation, I vote on based on what I believe is right, for my family and for my country. Sometimes it's a tough choice. That is not the case this time. As the proud daughter of your nominee, I am here to tell you that this is the moment and Donald Trump is the person to make America great again.

Real change, the kind we have not seen in decades is only going to come from outside the system. And it's only going to come from a man who's spent his entire life doing what others said could not be done. My father is a fighter. When the primaries got tough and they were tough, he did what any great leader does. He dug deeper, worked harder, got better and became stronger.

I have seen him fight for his family. I have seen him fight for his employees. I have seen him fight for his company. And now, I am seeing him fight for our country. It's been the story of his life and more recently the spirit of his campaign. It's also a prelude to reaching the goal that unites us all. When this party and better still this country knows what it is like to win again.

If it's possible to be famous and yet not really well done, that describes the father who raised me. In the same office in Trump Tower, where we now work together, I remember playing on the floor by my father's desk, constructing miniature buildings with Legos and Erector sets, while he did the same with concrete steel and glass.

My father taught my siblings and me the importance of positive values and a strong ethical compass. He showed us how to be resilient, how to deal with challenges and how to strive for excellence in all that we do. He taught us that there's nothing that we cannot accomplish, if we marry vision and passion with an enduring work ethic.

One of my father's greatest talents is the ability to see potential in people, before they see it in themselves. It was like that for us to growing up. He taught us that potential vanishes into nothing without effort.

And like him, we each had a responsibility to work, not just for ourselves but for the betterment of the world around us. Over the years, on too many occasions to count, I saw my father tear stories out of the newspaper about people whom he had never met, who were facing some injustice or hardship.

He'd write a note to his assistant, in a signature black felt tip pen, and request that the person be found and invited to Trump Tower to meet with him. He would talk to them and then draw upon his extensive network to find them a job or get them a break. And they would leave his office, as people so often do after having been with Donald Trump, feeling that life could be great again.

Throughout my entire life, I have witnessed his empathy and generosity towards other, especially those who are suffering. It is just his way of being in your corner when you're down. My father not only has the strength and ability necessary to be our next President, but also the kindness and compassion that will enable him to be the leader that this country needs.

My father has a sense of fairness that touches every conviction he's held. I worked alongside of him for now more than a decade now at the Trump Organization and I've seen how he operates as a leader. Making important decisions that shape careers and that change lives.

I've learned a lot about the world from walking construction jobs by his side. When run properly, construction sites are true meritocracies. Competence in the building trades is easy to spot and incompetence is impossible to hide.

These sites are also incredible melting pots, gathering people from all walks of life and uniting them to work towards a single mission. There have always been men of all background and ethnicities on my father's job sites. And long before it was common place, you also saw women.

My father values talent. He recognizes real knowledge and skill when he finds it. He is color blind and gender neutral. He hires the best person for the job, period.

Words and promises, no matter visionary they sound will only get you so far. In our business, you're not a builder, unless you've got a building to show for it, or in my father's case, city skylines. Most people strive their entire lives to achieve great success in a single industry.

My father has succeeded in many on the highest level and on a global scale. One of the reasons he has thrived as an entrepreneur is because he listens to everyone. Billionaire executives don't usually ask the people doing the work for their opinion of the work. My father is an exception.

TRUMP: On every one of his projects, you'll see him talking to the super, the painter, the engineers, the electricians, he'll ask them for their feedback, if they think something should be done differently, or could be done better. When Donald Trump is in charge, all that counts is ability, effort and excellence.

This has long been the philosophy at the Trump Organization. At my father's company, there are more female than male executives. Women are paid equally for the work that we do and when a woman becomes a mother, she is supported, not shut out.

Women represent 46 percent of the total U.S. labor force, and 40 percent of American households have female primary breadwinners. In 2014, women made 83 cents for every dollar made by a man. Single women without children earn 94 cents for each dollar earned by a man, whereas married mothers made only 77 cents. As researchers have noted, gender is no longer the factor creating the greatest wage discrepancy in this country, motherhood is.

As President, my father will change the labor laws that were put into place at a time when women were not a significant portion of the workforce. And he will focus on making quality childcare affordable and accessible for all.

As a mother myself, of three young children, I know how hard it is to work while raising a family. And I also know that I'm far more fortunate than most. American families need relief. Policies that allow women with children to thrive should not be novelties, they should be the norm. Politicians talk about wage equality, but my father has made it a practice at his company throughout his entire career.

He will fight for equal pay for equal work, and I will fight for this too, right alongside of him.

Americans today need an economy that permits people to rise again. A Trump Presidency will turn the economy around and restore the great American tradition of giving each new generation hope for brighter opportunities than those of the generation that came before. In Donald Trump, you have a candidate who knows the difference between wanting something done and making it happen.

When my father says that he will build a tower, keep an eye on the skyline. Floor by floor a soaring structure will appear, usually record setting in its height and iconic in its design.

Real people are hired to do real work. Vision becomes reality. When my father says that he will make America great again, he will deliver.

We have a chance this year, to reclaim our heritage as a country that dreams big and makes the impossible happen. Fortunately, Donald Trump is incapable of thinking small. When I was a child, my father always told me, Ivanka if you're going to be thinking anyway, you might as well think big. As President, my father will take on the bold and worthy fights. He will be unafraid to set lofty goals and he will be relentless in his determination to achieve them.

To people all over America, I say, when you have my father in your corner, you will never again have to worry about being let down. He will fight for you all the time, all the way, every time.

Maybe it's the developer in him, but Donald Trump cannot stand to see empty main streets and boarded up factories. He can't bear the injustice of college graduates who are crippled by student debt, and mothers who can't afford of the childcare required to return to work to better the lives of their families. Other politicians see these hardships, see the unfairness of it all, and they say I feel for you. Only my father will say, I'll fight for you.

The hard working men and women of this country identify with my father. He is tough and he is persevering. He is honest and he is real. He's an optimist and he's a relentless believer in America and all of her potential. He loves his family and he loves his country with his heart and his soul.

Politicians ask to be judged by their promises, not their results. I ask you to judge my father by his results. Judge his values by those he's instilled in his children. Judge his competency by the towers he's built, the companies he's founded, and the tens of thousands of jobs he's created.

He is the single most qualified serve as chief executive of an $18 trillion economy. My father will call upon the best and brightest people from all spheres of industry and both side of the aisle. A new set of thinkers, to face our countries existing and future problems with fresh perspective and brave new solutions. Come January 17, all things will be possible again. We can hope and dream and think big again. No one has more faith in the American people than my father. He will be your greatest, your truest and your most loyal champion.

This is the fighter, the doer that you have chosen as your nominee, in ways no one expected, this moment in the life of our country has defined a mission and given it to an extraordinary man.

He is ready to see it all the way through, to speak to every man and every woman, of every background, in every part of this great country. To earn your trust and to earn your vote.

He earned that and much more from me a long time ago. I've loved and respected him, my entire life. And I could not be more proud tonight, to present to you and to all of America, my father and our next President, Donald J. Trump.

Chapter 11 Donald Trump Next US President—RNC Speech

Donald Trump At His Absolute Best!

Remarks transcribed as prepared for delivery according to a draft obtained by POLITICO Thursday July 21 afternoon.

Friends, delegates and fellow Americans: I humbly and gratefully accept your nomination for the presidency of the United States.

Together, we will lead our party back to the White House, and we will lead our country back to safety, prosperity, and peace.

We will be a country of generosity and warmth. But we will also be a country of law and order.

Our Convention occurs at a moment of crisis for our nation. The attacks on our police, and the terrorism in our cities, threaten our very way of life. Any politician who does not grasp this danger is not fit to lead our country.

Americans watching this address tonight have seen the recent images of violence in our streets and the chaos in our communities. Many have witnessed this violence personally, some have even been its victims.

I have a message for all of you: the crime and violence that today afflicts our nation will soon come to an end. Beginning on January 20th 2017, safety will be restored.

The most basic duty of government is to defend the lives of its own citizens. Any government that fails to do so is a government unworthy to lead.

It is finally time for a straightforward assessment of the state of our nation.

I will present the facts plainly and honestly. We cannot afford to be so politically correct anymore.

So if you want to hear the corporate spin, the carefully-crafted lies, and the media myths the Democrats are holding their convention next week.

But here, at our convention, there will be no lies. We will honor the American people with the truth, and nothing else.

Decades of progress made in bringing down crime are now being reversed by this Administration's rollback of criminal enforcement.

Homicides last year increased by 17% in America's fifty largest cities. That's the largest increase in 25 years. In our nation's capital, killings have risen by 50 percent. They are up nearly 60% in nearby Baltimore.

In the President's hometown of Chicago, more than 2,000 have been the victims of shootings this year alone. And more than 3,600 have been killed in the Chicago area since he took office.

The number of police officers killed in the line of duty has risen by almost 50% compared to this point last year. Nearly 180,000 illegal immigrants with criminal records, ordered deported from our country, are tonight roaming free to threaten peaceful citizens.

The number of new illegal immigrant families who have crossed the border so far this year already exceeds the entire total from 2015. They are being released by the tens of thousands into our communities with no regard for the impact on public safety or resources.

One such border-crosser was released and made his way to Nebraska. There, he ended the life of an innocent young girl named Sarah Root. She was 21 years-old, and was killed the day after graduating from college with a 4.0 Grade Point Average. Her killer was then released a second time, and he is now a fugitive from the law.

I've met Sarah's beautiful family. But to this Administration, their amazing daughter was just one more American life that wasn't worth protecting. One more child to sacrifice on the altar of open borders. What about our economy?

Again, I will tell you the plain facts that have been edited out of your nightly news and your morning newspaper: Nearly Four in 10 African-American children are living in poverty, while 58% of African American youth are not employed. 2 million more Latinos are in poverty today than when the President took his oath of office less than eight years ago. Another 14 million people have left the workforce entirely.

Household incomes are down more than $4,000 since the year 2000. Our manufacturing trade deficit has reached an all-time high – nearly $800 billion in a single year. The budget is no better.

President Obama has doubled our national debt to more than $19 trillion, and growing. Yet, what do we have to show for it? Our roads and bridges are falling apart, our airports are in Third World condition, and forty-three million Americans are on food stamps.

Now let us consider the state of affairs abroad.

Not only have our citizens endured domestic disaster, but they have lived through one international humiliation after another. We all remember the images of our sailors being forced to their knees by their Iranian captors at gunpoint.

This was just prior to the signing of the Iran deal, which gave back to Iran $150 billion and gave us nothing – it will go down in history as one of the worst deals ever made. Another humiliation came when president Obama drew a red line in Syria – and the whole world knew it meant nothing.

In Libya, our consulate – the symbol of American prestige around the globe – was brought down in flames. America is far less safe – and the world is far less stable – than when Obama made the decision to put Hillary Clinton in charge of America’s foreign policy.

I am certain it is a decision he truly regrets. Her bad instincts and her bad judgment – something pointed out by Bernie Sanders – are what caused the disasters unfolding today. Let’s review the record. In 2009, pre-Hillary, ISIS was not even on the map.

Libya was cooperating. Egypt was peaceful. Iraq was seeing a reduction in violence. Iran was being choked by sanctions. Syria was under control. After four years of Hillary Clinton, what do we have? ISIS has spread across the region, and the world. Libya is in ruins, and our Ambassador and his staff were left helpless to die at the hands of savage killers. Egypt was turned over to the radical Muslim brotherhood, forcing the military to retake control. Iraq is in chaos.

Iran is on the path to nuclear weapons. Syria is engulfed in a civil war and a refugee crisis that now threatens the West. After fifteen years of wars in the Middle East, after trillions of dollars spent and thousands of lives lost, the situation is worse than it has ever been before.

This is the legacy of Hillary Clinton: death, destruction and weakness.

But Hillary Clinton’s legacy does not have to be America’s legacy. The problems we face now – poverty and violence at home, war and destruction abroad – will last only as long as we continue relying on the same politicians who created them. A change in leadership is required to change these outcomes. Tonight, I will share with you my plan of action for America.

The most important difference between our plan and that of our opponents, is that our plan will put America First. Americanism, not globalism, will be our credo. As long as we are led by politicians who will not put America First, then we can be assured that other nations will not treat America with respect. This will all change in 2017.

The American People will come first once again. My plan will begin with safety at home – which means safe neighborhoods, secure borders, and protection from terrorism. There can be no prosperity without law and order. On the economy, I will outline reforms to add millions of new jobs and trillions in new wealth that can be used to rebuild America.

A number of these reforms that I will outline tonight will be opposed by some of our nation's most powerful special interests. That is because these interests have rigged our political and economic system for their exclusive benefit.

Big business, elite media and major donors are lining up behind the campaign of my opponent because they know she will keep our rigged system in place. They are throwing money at her because they have total control over everything she does. She is their puppet, and they pull the strings.

That is why Hillary Clinton's message is that things will never change. My message is that things have to change – and they have to change right now. Every day I wake up determined to deliver for the people I have met all across this nation that have been neglected, ignored, and abandoned.

I have visited the laid-off factory workers, and the communities crushed by our horrible and unfair trade deals. These are the forgotten men and women of our country. People who work hard but no longer have a voice.

I AM YOUR VOICE.

I have embraced crying mothers who have lost their children because our politicians put their personal agendas before the national good. I have no patience for injustice, no tolerance for government incompetence, no sympathy for leaders who fail their citizens.

When innocent people suffer, because our political system lacks the will, or the courage, or the basic decency to enforce our laws – or worse still, has sold out to some corporate lobbyist for cash – I am not able to look the other way.

And when a Secretary of State illegally stores her emails on a private server, deletes 33,000 of them so the authorities can't see her crime, puts our country at risk, lies about it in every different form and faces no consequence – I know that corruption has reached a level like never before.

When the FBI Director says that the Secretary of State was “extremely careless” and “negligent,” in handling our classified secrets, I also know that these terms are minor compared to what she actually did. They were just used to save her from facing justice for her terrible crimes.

In fact, her single greatest accomplishment may be committing such an egregious crime and getting away with it – especially when others have paid so dearly. When that same Secretary of State rakes in millions of dollars trading access and favors to special interests and foreign powers I know the time for action has come.

I have joined the political arena so that the powerful can no longer beat up on people that cannot defend themselves. Nobody knows the system better than me, which is why I alone can fix it. I have seen firsthand how the system is rigged against our citizens, just like it was rigged against Bernie Sanders – he never had a chance.

But his supporters will join our movement, because we will fix his biggest issue: trade. Millions of Democrats will join our movement because we are going to fix the system so it works for all Americans. In this cause, I am proud to have at my side the next Vice President of the United States: Governor Mike Pence of Indiana.

We will bring the same economic success to America that Mike brought to Indiana. He is a man of character and accomplishment. He is the right man for the job. The first task for our new Administration will be to liberate our citizens from the crime and terrorism and lawlessness that threatens their communities.

America was shocked to its core when our police officers in Dallas were brutally executed. In the days after Dallas, we have seen continued threats and violence against our law enforcement officials. Law officers have been shot or killed in recent days in Georgia, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas, Michigan and Tennessee.

On Sunday, more police were gunned down in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Three were killed, and four were badly injured. An attack on law enforcement is an attack on all Americans. I have a message to every last person threatening the peace on our streets and the safety of our police: when I take the oath of office next year, I will restore law and order our country.

I will work with, and appoint, the best prosecutors and law enforcement officials in the country to get the job done. In this race for the White House, I am the Law and Order candidate. The irresponsible rhetoric of our President, who has used the pulpit of the presidency to divide us by race and color, has made America a more dangerous environment for everyone.

This Administration has failed America's inner cities. It's failed them on education. It's failed them on jobs. It's failed them on crime. It's failed them at every level. When I am President, I will work to ensure that all of our kids are treated equally, and protected equally.

Every action I take, I will ask myself: does this make life better for young Americans in Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Ferguson who have as much of a right to live out their dreams as any other child America?

To make life safe in America, we must also address the growing threats we face from outside America: we are going to defeat the barbarians of ISIS. Once again, France is the victim of brutal Islamic terrorism.

Men, women and children viciously mowed down. Lives ruined. Families ripped apart. A nation in mourning.

The damage and devastation that can be inflicted by Islamic radicals has been over and over – at the World Trade Center, at an office party in San Bernardino, at the Boston Marathon, and a military recruiting center in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Only weeks ago, in Orlando, Florida, 49 wonderful Americans were savagely murdered by an Islamic terrorist. This time, the terrorist targeted our LGBT community. As your President, I will do everything in my power to protect our LGBT citizens from the violence and oppression of a hateful foreign ideology. To protect us from terrorism, we need to focus on three things.

We must have the best intelligence gathering operation in the world. We must abandon the failed policy of nation building and regime change that Hillary Clinton pushed in Iraq, Libya, Egypt and Syria. Instead, we must work with all of our allies who share our goal of destroying ISIS and stamping out Islamic terror.

This includes working with our greatest ally in the region, the State of Israel. Lastly, we must immediately suspend immigration from any nation that has been compromised by terrorism until such time as proven vetting mechanisms have been put in place.

My opponent has called for a radical 550% increase in Syrian refugees on top of existing massive refugee flows coming into our country under President Obama. She proposes this despite the fact that there's no way to screen these refugees in order to find out who they are or where they come from. I only want to admit individuals into our country who will support our values and love our people.

Anyone who endorses violence, hatred or oppression is not welcome in our country and never will be.

Decades of record immigration have produced lower wages and higher unemployment for our citizens, especially for African-American and Latino workers. We are going to have an immigration system that works, but one that works for the American people.

On Monday, we heard from three parents whose children were killed by illegal immigrants Mary Ann Mendoza, Sabine Durden, and Jamiel Shaw. They are just three brave representatives of many thousands. Of all my travels in this country, nothing has affected me more deeply than the time I have spent with the mothers and fathers who have lost their children to violence spilling across our border.

These families have no special interests to represent them. There are no demonstrators to protest on their behalf. My opponent will never meet with them, or share in their pain. Instead, my opponent wants Sanctuary Cities. But where was sanctuary for Kate Steinle? Where was Sanctuary for the children of Mary Ann, Sabine and Jamiel? Where was sanctuary for all the other Americans who have been so brutally murdered, and who have suffered so horribly?

These wounded American families have been alone. But they are alone no longer. Tonight, this candidate and this whole nation stand in their corner to support them, to send them our love, and to pledge in their honor that we will save countless more families from suffering the same awful fate.

We are going to build a great border wall to stop illegal immigration, to stop the gangs and the violence, and to stop the drugs from pouring into our communities. I have been honored to receive the endorsement of America's Border Patrol Agents, and will work directly with them to protect the integrity of our lawful immigration system.

By ending catch-and-release on the border, we will stop the cycle of human smuggling and violence. Illegal border crossings will go down. Peace will be restored. By enforcing the rules for the millions who overstay their visas, our laws will finally receive the respect they deserve.

Tonight, I want every American whose demands for immigration security have been denied – and every politician who has denied them – to listen very closely to the words I am about to say.

On January 21st of 2017, the day after I take the oath of office, Americans will finally wake up in a country where the laws of the United States are enforced. We are going to be considerate and compassionate to everyone.

But my greatest compassion will be for our own struggling citizens. My plan is the exact opposite of the radical and dangerous immigration policy of Hillary Clinton. Americans want relief from uncontrolled immigration. Communities want relief.

Yet Hillary Clinton is proposing mass amnesty, mass immigration, and mass lawlessness. Her plan will overwhelm your schools and hospitals, further reduce your jobs and wages, and make it harder for recent immigrants to escape from poverty.

I have a different vision for our workers. It begins with a new, fair trade policy that protects our jobs and stands up to countries that cheat. It's been a signature message of my campaign from day one, and it will be a signature feature of my presidency from the moment I take the oath of office.

I have made billions of dollars in business making deals – now I’m going to make our country rich again. I am going to turn our bad trade agreements into great ones.

America has lost nearly-one third of its manufacturing jobs since 1997, following the enactment of disastrous trade deals supported by Bill and Hillary Clinton.

Remember, it was Bill Clinton who signed NAFTA, one of the worst economic deals ever made by our country.

Never again.

I am going to bring our jobs back to Ohio and to America – and I am not going to let companies move to other countries, firing their employees along the way, without consequences.

My opponent, on the other hand, has supported virtually every trade agreement that has been destroying our middle class. She supported NAFTA, and she supported China’s entrance into the World Trade Organization – another one of her husband’s colossal mistakes.

She supported the job killing trade deal with South Korea. She has supported the Trans-Pacific Partnership. The TPP will not only destroy our manufacturing, but it will make America subject to the rulings of foreign governments. I pledge to never sign any trade agreement that hurts our workers, or that diminishes our freedom and independence.

Instead, I will make individual deals with individual countries.

No longer will we enter into these massive deals, with many countries, that are thousands of pages long – and which no one from our country even reads or understands. We are going to enforce all trade violations, including through the use of taxes and tariffs, against any country that cheats.

This includes stopping China's outrageous theft of intellectual property, along with their illegal product dumping, and their devastating currency manipulation. Our horrible trade agreements with China and many others, will be totally renegotiated. That includes renegotiating NAFTA to get a much better deal for America – and we'll walk away if we don't get the deal that we want. We are going to start building and making things again.

Next comes the reform of our tax laws, regulations and energy rules. While Hillary Clinton plans a massive tax increase, I have proposed the largest tax reduction of any candidate who has declared for the presidential race this year – Democrat or Republican. Middle-income Americans will experience profound relief, and taxes will be simplified for everyone.

America is one of the highest-taxed nations in the world. Reducing taxes will cause new companies and new jobs to come roaring back into our country. Then we are going to deal with the issue of regulation, one of the greatest job-killers of them all. Excessive regulation is costing our country as much as $2 trillion a year, and we will end it. We are going to lift the restrictions on the production of American energy. This will produce more than $20 trillion in job creating economic activity over the next four decades.

My opponent, on the other hand, wants to put the great miners and steel workers of our country out of work – that will never happen when I am President. With these new economic policies, trillions of dollars will start flowing into our country.

This new wealth will improve the quality of life for all Americans – We will build the roads, highways, bridges, tunnels, airports, and the railways of tomorrow. This, in turn, will create millions more jobs. We will rescue kids from failing schools by helping their parents send them to a safe school of their choice.

My opponent would rather protect education bureaucrats than serve American children. We will repeal and replace disastrous Obamacare. You will be able to choose your own doctor again. And we will fix TSA at the airports! We will completely rebuild our depleted military, and the countries that we protect, at a massive loss, will be asked to pay their fair share.

We will take care of our great Veterans like they have never been taken care of before.

My opponent dismissed the VA scandal as being not widespread – one more sign of how out of touch she really is. We are going to ask every Department Head in government to provide a list of wasteful spending projects that we can eliminate in my first 100 days. The politicians have talked about it, I'm going to do it. We are also going to appoint justices to the United States Supreme Court who will uphold our laws and our Constitution.

The replacement for Justice Scalia will be a person of similar views and principles. This will be one of the most important issues decided by this election. My opponent wants to essentially abolish the 2nd amendment. I, on the other hand, received the early and strong endorsement of the National Rifle Association and will protect the right of all Americans to keep their families safe.

At this moment, I would like to thank the evangelical community who have been so good to me and so supportive. You have so much to contribute to our politics, yet our laws prevent you from speaking your minds from your own pulpits.

An amendment, pushed by Lyndon Johnson, many years ago, threatens religious institutions with a loss of their tax-exempt status if they openly advocate their political views.

I am going to work very hard to repeal that language and protect free speech for all Americans. We can accomplish these great things, and so much else – all we need to do is start believing in ourselves and in our country again. It is time to show the whole world that America Is Back – bigger, and better and stronger than ever before.

In this journey, I'm so lucky to have at my side my wife Melania and my wonderful children, Don, Ivanka, Eric, Tiffany, and Barron: you will always be my greatest source of pride and joy. My Dad, Fred Trump, was the smartest and hardest working man I ever knew. I wonder sometimes what he'd say if he were here to see this tonight.

It's because of him that I learned, from my youngest age, to respect the dignity of work and the dignity of working people. He was a guy most comfortable in the company of bricklayers, carpenters, and electricians and I have a lot of that in me also. Then there's my mother, Mary. She was strong, but also warm and fair-minded. She was a truly great mother. She was also one of the most honest and charitable people I have ever known, and a great judge of character.

To my sisters Mary Anne and Elizabeth, my brother Robert and my late brother Fred, I will always give you my love you are most special to me. I have loved my life in business.

But now, my sole and exclusive mission is to go to work for our country – to go to work for all of you. It's time to deliver a victory for the American people. But to do that, we must break free from the petty politics of the past.

America is a nation of believers, dreamers, and strivers that is being led by a group of censors, critics, and cynics.

Remember: all of the people telling you that you can't have the country you want, are the same people telling you that I wouldn't be standing here tonight. No longer can we rely on those elites in media, and politics, who will say anything to keep a rigged system in place.

Instead, we must choose to Believe in America. History is watching us now.

It's waiting to see if we will rise to the occasion, and if we will show the whole world that America is still free and independent and strong.

My opponent asks her supporters to recite a three-word loyalty pledge. It reads: "I'm With Her". I choose to recite a different pledge.

My pledge reads: "I'M WITH YOU – THE AMERICAN PEOPLE."

I am your voice.

So to every parent who dreams for their child, and every child who dreams for their future, I say these words to you tonight: I'm With You, and I will fight for you, and I will win for you.

To all Americans tonight, in all our cities and towns, I make this promise: We Will Make America Strong Again.

We Will Make America Proud Again.

We Will Make America Safe Again.

And We Will Make America Great Again.

THANK YOU.
