

Writer's Agent Inquiries Welcome

As of today, there are 248 unique books—all written by Brian W. Kelly in this site. Since Kelly separated from Amazon, these books and their author are no longer published and Kelly is not represented currently by an author's agent but he is ready to sign up with one the sooner the better. There are 48 college football books and 26 professional football books on the site for the right agent. All are complete books and downloadable now for free until they are published again. The same goes for the eight Children's Books which are all very heartwarming. Some of these books are the exact type of story that you would see on GFAM or the Hallmark Channel. They are great reads. To inquire about representing Brian W. Kelly as his literary agent, send him a quick note at itsfreebooks@ptd.net and Brian will take it from there. Thank you
