Lou Barletta Governor of Pennsylvania

Lou Barletta Governor of Pennsylvania

Lou Barletta has a unique approach to solving Pennsylvania's big Wolf problems

"Millions of Americans," declared Dallas megachurch pastor Robert Jeffries in 2017, "believe the election of President Trump represented God giving us all another chance—perhaps our last chance—to truly make America great again. Our job was to elect him once God showed us the way. We thank Our Lord to this day that we did.

You remember those bad times. Obama had no answer other than to say, "get used to the new norm!" e bad . The country was in a big funk. Trump promised to Make America Great Again. And for four years he kept his promises. The country prospered. Now, after January 20, from day one (Inauguration Day) , Joe Biden has haphazardly been rolling back the goodness--one day at a time. Each day has been worse than the day before. Biden quickly replaced Trump's good times with a funk of his own. Pennsylvania has been in trouble for all eight years of Governor Tom Wolf's two terms. We have seen Wolf, thinking and acting as if he were suffering from Joe Biden's problems.—cognitive induced erratic & tyrannical behavior.

To describe PA under Wolf, social essayist Albert Jay Nock once put it this way: Like all predatory or parasitic institutions, the first instinct of the state is that of self-preservation. Tyrants are thus self-sustaining. "All the state's enterprises are directed first toward preserving its own life and, second, toward increasing its own power and enlarging the scope of its own activity. That perfectly describes the Wolf Administration. Are we not rejoicing that he is term limited? The state under Wolf is ruining its own people in order to preserve itself—to extend its own authority. To tyrants like Tom Wolf, winning is everything—prevail, dominate, claim victory in every interaction by any means necessary. We have seen Wolf in action and it is not good. Lou Barletta is the opposite of Tom Wolf. He loves people and is for the people. That's how he will govern.

Wolfe fought like hell to keep his dominance over the people. But PA voters saw the tyrant for what he is. He could not hide. He is by nature as most Democrats—a hard core leftist Marxist All states with Democrat leaders such as Wolf are in big trouble and their people are suffering. We Pennsylvanians recently approved two ballot measures to curtail the governor's unconstitutional emergency powers. He spent taxpayer dollars fighting for himself. Since there is no Recall in PA, the people's ballot measure victory was in the same spirit as the Recall of California's Gavin Newsom. If PA had Referenda, Initiation & Recall, Wolfe would have not made it to term end. PA Governor Tom Wolf consistently let the people of PA down and his callousness literally killed many older people. His nursing home policy came right from the Andrew Cuomo Book of Tricks.

Power-drunk Wolf was so bad for Pennsylvania that the people demanded the legislature take him to court and have a special election to stop his unconstitutional lockdowns, which had crippled businesses and increased the unemployment rolls in the state. Throughout his two terms in office, Governor Tom Wolf has showcased his preference to act unilaterally with a consistent unwillingness to work with the people's state legislature.

The unprecedented power Wolf has wielded during the COVID-19 emergency, including ignoring election law, is just the latest example of how this man sidesteps the legislative process. PA is the laughing stock of the nation. Due to his fiscal track record and state lockdown policies, Governor Wolf currently ranks as one of the worst governors in the United States—Pennsylvania's worst governor ever. Not for long folks! He is term limited but we must be wary of the next Tom Wolfe

Lou Barletta is ready to take it all on and win for Pennsylvania and America. He alone is prepared and determined to straighten out the mess in the state. With his contacts in conservative media and CPAC, besides his deep public support, Barletta is by far the leading candidate regardless of Party—just what the doctor ordered for PA. He will reverse Wolf's regressive policies, foster job growth, and operated for the people, not himself. Continued on next page

Continued from prior page. Remember when everybody in the state was locked down, Wolf's family business operated full-time with impunity because he was the governor whose restrictions were second only to California

Americans want a country that is all-American with Americans in the driver's seat; and they want their guests to be invited to the table. No drop-in-guests from other countries allowed. That's the Barletta way. He made his mark as Mayor of Hazleton PA as tough on illegal immigration. He is at the ready to make PA #1.

You won't want to put this book down as you learn the ins & outs of the best solution possible for immigration, energy, Obamacare, sound COVID policies, public safety and Law & Order. To get all this we have to work hard to make Lou Barletta the next Governor of our state—the Commonwealth of PA. God sent him to help and he is ready to do just that. He will work for all Pennsylvanians to make the state rejoins the United States. Lou Barletta will Champion all the people of PA with his outstanding platform and policies. He means business and that is good for PA. Thank you for reading his story. Vote Barletta into office as your governor for PA in 2022..

Preface

A Pennsylvania Priority

Thank you for reading this book to learn about what a great governor Lou Barletta will be as soon as we elect him.

I

My name is Brian Kelly. I have been a registered Democrat all my life. But I have grown sick of Democrat leadership and their ignorance towards the common man and their disdain for our police so I am giving my full support to Lou Barletta.

I know people who were once staunch Democrats who changed parties because they want leaders who are proud of our great country, work towards America first policies and want to put a stop to the government overreach we have experienced this past year.

I am supporting Lou because he will stand up against the Marxist philosophies of the Left that wish to turn us into a welfare state.

My father was a Teamster working for the Stegmaier Brewery in Wilkes-Barre for 31 years. Democrats have forgotten about the little guy, while Lou has always made it a priority to pay attention to blue collar workers.

They rarely work anymore for the worker or the common man. We are the workers and we are regular people in Pennsylvania today and we must tell the Democrats that enough is enough.

Lou Barletta is a man from humble beginnings-- of the people and as governor, you can bet he will be for the people. We have to get him elected folks. That's why I ask you to join me in supporting Lou Barletta for Governor.

Sincerely,

Brian W. Kelly, Author

About the Author

Putting this book together to help Lou Barletta become the Governor of Pennsylvania has been a big treat for me.

He has an active information technology consultancy. He is the author of 286 books and numerous technical articles. Kelly has been a frequent speaker at COMMON, IBM conferences, and other technical conferences.

Chapter 1 Tough Road to the PA Governorship

A quick note from your author:

I formally ran for office twice and once I ran for the US Senate as a write-in candidate. When I say that running for any office is a grueling, tiring, busy, and difficult process, I know what I am talking about. There is always something to do. There is always someone who wants something from you. and did I say you are always tired. Yet, somehow, as a candidate, even on the bad days, you have to walk around with a smile on your face and a nice comment ready to come from your lips when you greet the next person.

Even if your purpose for running, like Lou Barletta's is altruistic so you can help your state by serving as Governor, and you want to be a worthy representative of the people, there are many who simply will not believe you. They will peg you as a blankety blank politician. Good people like Lou Barletta endure the issues though it is often a thankless journey. Let me be one of the first to say, "Thank you Lou for putting your hat in the ring. We need you badly.

So, here we are approaching the general election of 2022 and right now, just like God gave us Donald Trump, God has already interceded in the PA Gubernatorial election by answering our prayers for a great candidate—one who can win against the corrupt Democrat / Marxist machine. This year, God has given us all the opportunity for a credible, honest, people-oriented candidate. Yes, folks I am saying that for the governorship of Pennsylvania, God gave us Lou Barletta. Now, just like with Trump, it is up to all of us to assure that the former Congressman and former Mayor of Hazleton gets elected. Vote for Lou Barletta to help Pennsylvania. You will be helping yourself at the same time.

The side benefit of replacing Tom Wolf, besides having a great, competent, caring governor in Harrisburg, we get to remove a big pain in the lives of all PA citizens. Barletta's election will give us all a similar benefit to getting a bad tooth pulled. This bad tooth was abscessed and cavity-laden and it still stinks. It created a lot of pain for the Pennsylvania constituency because Tom Wolf, like a bad tooth, should have been pulled long ago.

Besides being generically good for Pennsylvania, Lou Barletta's experience with illegal interlopers in Hazleton will greatly help to solve the problem of unwelcome visitors to the state and the nation. Moreover, instead of deferring to Washington Democrats, Lou will be thorn in the face of The Washington-based National Democrat Administration, pressing the President and Congress for a solution that really solves the immigration problem and the border crisis.

Within his first few months in 2017, Trump's actions in office showed that Donald Trump was not only interested in solving the problem of unwanted border crossings. he actually ended the crisis of his times. He shut it down. This is the same philosophy Lou Barletta, known for his many immigration solutions in Hazleton PA as Mayor, will employ to save Pennsylvania and to save the country from this dangerous invasion.

Today many US citizens wonder out loud as to whether any political party is interested in a solution to the border crisis. Congresses of the past have been too content at having no solution as their solution. Democrats want everybody, including non-citizens to vote and before Trump, Republicans did not know what to do once they got power. That is why for years Republican lawmakers disappointed their conservative constituency along with most other Americans. Isn't it great that Donald Trump was our President, and he proved that the immigration issue was solvable by solving it, It helps to know that Donald Trump has always been a big Barletta supporter and vice versa, and of course he is supporting Lou Barletta in a big way.

With all the attacks from the Cancel Culture, BLM, ANTIFA, and other leftist Marxists, Americans in all political parties are fed up. Enough already! Normal Americans want a country that is all-American with Americans in the driver's seat; and they want their guests to be invited to the table. No drop-in-guests from other countries allowed. That's the Barletta way.

You won't want to put this solutions book down as you learn the ins & outs of the best solution possible for immigration, energy, Obamacare, sound COVID policies, as well as support for police, public safety and a return to Law & Order. To get all this we Pennsylvanians have to work hard so that Lou Barletta can work for all Pennsylvanians.

He will make the state one of the United States after eight years of Wolf trying to destroy the state and the country. Lou Barletta will Champion all the people of PA with his outstanding platform which addresses all areas. Thank you for reading his story in this book. Please vote for Barletta as your governor for Pennsylvania in 2022.

Chapter 2 The Corrupt Media Is Owned by Democrats

We get the kind of government that we elect.

Pennsylvania governor tells the world his state will keep welcoming refugees, including illegal immigrants.

In 2016, Steve Esack of the Allentown Morning Call” wrote an article about Pennsylvania under the Wolf Administration in which he asked if Pennsylvania is wired for corruption, or does it just seem that way?

The people of PA especially now as we are well into the second year of COVID19 response think the government of PA is corrupt and that it is very unresponsive to the needs of the people. Bad government seems to be a common malady in Pennsylvania. From Allentown to Reading to Harrisburg to Philadelphia, the FBI has active corruption investigations into the swirling world of campaign contributions, government contracts and political favors, court records, interviews and media reports show. An earlier state attorney general's office sting prosecuted by the Philly district attorney has led to six convictions and one pending trial so far.

One thing is clear according to Esack: :”They add to the perception that government is for sale because of Pennsylvania's loose campaign finance, lobbying and ethics laws.” The hopeless of PA, knowing it’s always been this way say have come to believe that even the term “PA Government Ethics” is an oxymoron.

Folks, in case you have not figured it out—why everything appears to be upside down, may I explain a few things, I have a revelation for you.

The media is LYING to you. They take what the Democrats say, enhance it and spew it back to the people as if it is fact-based. There is little truth in Pennsylvania. Lou Barletta is determined to change that.

The media is corrupt and dirty and the media no longer is operating for the good of America. They have actually joined the Democrat Party and the big tech part of the media is in direct cahoots. In fact, they take orders directly from Nancy Pelosi, Chuck Schumer, Tom Wolf, and the Democrat Party. It is not supposed to be this way in America and everybody knows it is a corrupt scenario but the Democrats have seized national power in a corrupt election and they are not about to give it up without some big-time cheating.

It’s been this way for a long time. For example back in 1995, Peter Vanderwicken of The Harvard Business Review saw it this way in his article titled “Why the News Is Not the Truth.”

The U.S. press, like the U.S. government, is a corrupt and troubled institution. Corrupt not so much in the sense that it accepts bribes but in a systemic sense. It fails to do what it claims to do, what it should do, and what society expects it to do.

The news media and the government are entwined in a vicious circle of mutual manipulation, mythmaking, and self-interest. Journalists need crises to dramatize news, and government officials need to appear to be responding to crises. Too often, the crises are not really crises but joint fabrications. The two institutions have become so ensnared in a symbiotic web of lies that the news media are unable to tell the public what is true and the government is unable to govern effectively.

This 1995 notion has blossomed into full-blown Fake News, which today is a major product of the liberal progressive Democrat Marxist-oriented media. Wokism and outright lying are the controlling methods of the consortium of media and government for slanting the reporting. If by chance, there is no news to slant, they will simply fabricate a story out of thin air from appropriate lies that fit their agenda. You know I am right.

They urge the public “ Don’t believe your own lying eyes.! Yes, the media and government working together try their hardest to shape opinion without facts. They will bully the public with clever and cute phrases such as “ Who are you going to trust, me or your lying eyes?”

Those watching the rise of the woke culture, BLM, and ANTIFA, and the denigration of law and order and the defunding of police know that with all this power Democrats are wielding, they have no problem shutting down the little guys from any dissent. Don’t bother complaining to a Democratic politician. They have no ears. God took them away from lack of use.

Democrat Politician – No Ears with which to hear the complaints

Even when they are dead wrong—which of course is most of the time, Democrats will argue their point until their opponents tire. Don't bother talking about crime, even if they had ears, the Demos would not spend a minute on it. They say that there is no crime and so Defund the Police.

Democrats are actually guilty as charged for increasing the crime rate. For example, The fraudulent nightly network newscasts have devoted ZERO time to crime. Democrat Mayor Lori Lightfoot of Chicago pays no attention to the news that does get leak out such as one day in Chicago:

18 people were killed Sunday, May 31, making it the single most violent day in Chicago in six decades, according to the University of Chicago Crime Lab. The lab's data doesn't go back further than 1961.

- ✓ A hardworking Chicago father killed just before 1 a.m.
- ✓ A West Side high school student murdered two hours later.
- ✓ A man killed amid South Side looting at a cellphone store at 12:30 p.m.

From 7 p.m. Friday, May 29, through 5 a.m. Monday, June 1, 25 people were killed in the city, with another 85 wounded by gunfire, according to data maintained by the Chicago Sun-Times.

The Democrats use these statistics ironically to prove that they need more social justice and less policing. Humph!

In the battle of defunding of police, the proponents say crime is diminished, even though crime is eating away at our cities and our country. You would never know that people are being harmed by a set of Red State leaders (PA for example) as the leftist Marxists who no longer object to being called Communists, continue to push their Defund the Police initiatives.

Most regular Democrats do not know or do not want to admit that this is happening because they get their supposedly “factual news” from CNN, MSNBC, Big Tech, and other media forms that are obsessed with bringing down the United States of America. I have witnessed regular people taking this news on faith. Yes, that is part of the big problem of finding the truth today in America. Healthy skepticism is necessary for the masses to truly be informed.

You often can't even get even the current news from the corrupt media. Why? They don't want to spoil their agenda items. My friends do not talk about news because CNN or MSNBC does not give them news that is not approved by the Democrat Party. Why? Because in many cases it is not good for the Democrat's Communist cause. So they simply skip major happenings that make their side look bad.

We all know that the corrupt mainstream media does not want to talk about it because it will hurt the political narrative of these Communist Democrats. It is ridiculous but try to squeeze in any contrary opinion to the Democrat approved thought. It is a fruitless endeavor.

Why worry about Russia or China when our own propagandist media, working with the Democrat majority, is actually worse than if the Chinese or Russians provided all our news pre-written for us. Actually they do in more ways than you would believe. The corrupt media hates America. Get used to it. Get your own news somehow and then compare it to the garbage news you get from CNN and MSNBC et al.

It is ridiculous. It is common sense that a crime-free America would need law and order, and that the Democrat initiatives to defund the police could never work. The latest Democrat lie of course is that Republicans started the Defund the Police movement. Only somebody provided with a news blackout by CNN, MSNBC & the gang about the riots and the attacks on police would conclude this is true. But the Dems spew it anyway, hopefully you will believe them. Please don't! The country is at stake. Pennsylvania is at stake.

Because a lot of PA is rural, the crime stats place the state at #17 in crime. Most people when hearing that will say, "not where I live." n But then again there are a lot of big cities in the Keystone State and Tom Wolf was not known as Mr. Law and Order. If the Democrat leadership said jump, Wolf would say "How high!"

Linda Stein of the Delaware Valley Journal in July took a look at Philadelphia and others have examined Pittsburgh The news is not good in either place. Because Linda Stein wrote an extensive article about Philadelphia and not Pittsburgh, we can get through Pittsburgh in a jiffy though the news is not good.

The chance of becoming a victim of either violent or property crime in Pittsburgh is 1 in 28. That folks is terrible. Based on FBI crime data, Pittsburgh is not one of the safest communities in America. Relative to Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh has a crime rate that is higher than 97% of the state's cities and towns of all sizes. Watch out or as Tom Wolf would say. Come on down, the crime is low. Get out of town!

Less than two weeks ago Linda Stein concluded that if you're a 30-year-old Philadelphia native, you're living through the worst crime wave of your lifetime. Yes, this is 2021 and yes, it is Tom Wolf's Pennsylvania. Don't say Tom Wolf does not care. He clearly cares and he thinks police stink. Of course PA State Troopers have challenged him on his denigration of the police.

All you need to know is that the Governor made a big deal about June 19th which is a day set up in PA to make police look bad. Gov. Wolf declared Juneteenth as a special holiday for state employees. Meanwhile he has decided not to fund the State Police from the State's budget. Humph!

In his speech of celebrating June 19th, He went on to state Juneteenth is a celebration of the progress we have made as a nation towards equality and justice for all. Sadly, the continued death of African Americans at the hands of police and rise in violent attacks against Asian Americans are painful reminders that racism and intolerance are still with us today. This Juneteenth we have an opportunity to unite against injustice and create lasting change that will make Pennsylvania and our nation a better place for everyone.

David Kennedy, President of the Pennsylvania State Troopers Association, issued a statement Monday saying Governor Wolf insulted his officers in a letter to all state employees regarding Juneteenth. Kennedy responded to Wolf again Monday, stating that Wolf used a few examples of police brutality to insult all officers during National Police Week, which was recognized from May 8 to May 15. Governor Barletta respects the police and this treatment of police will end when we elect Lou Barletta governor in a little more than a year.

Linda Stein hammers the state and the city of Philadelphia with her statistics.

So far this year, homicides are up 33 percent. As of July 18, 304 people have been murdered in the city. Last year's total murders claimed 499 lives, up 40 percent from the previous year. This past weekend alone, at least three people died; 33 others were injured by gunfire.

The city is suffering the highest number of homicides since 1990, and it's being felt across the Delaware Valley.

Here are some comments from Linda's article:

"I have not gone into the city since September 2020," Sue Zanne Pileggi said on an Elkins Park Facebook page. "I work in West Philly. We were virtual all year. Presently I'm searching for a new job because I'm scared to go into city."

But murder doesn't stop at the city line, either. For example on July 10, assailants shot Philadelphia resident Layth Evans, 19, in a vehicle on the 100 block of Ardmore Avenue, outside a community center and swimming pool in Ardmore. Detectives said Evans was killed during a gun deal gone wrong.

Micah Colbert, 19, of Ardmore and Elijah Smith, 21, of Philadelphia, have been charged with homicide, according to the Montgomery County District Attorney's Office. A third man, Dorian Harris, 21, was charged with illegally transferring a firearm in the botched deal for a so-called "ghost gun," or gun without a serial number. Police found such a gun, which officials believe belonged to the victim, in the bedroom shared by Harris and Colbert.

"I am always concerned when border towns have issues," said Radnor Police Chief Chris Flanagan. "We must all be diligent."

"Also, communities should work with the police and share information and help each other to prevent situations," Flanagan added. "We should step up and work together if something happens, as well."

The police are feeling it, too.

Philadelphia Police Captain Matthew Gillespie of the 18th District (in University City), tweeted on Monday about a constituent—quoting a block captain

"We're scared. They keep getting locked up & then get right back out. We can't even go outside sometimes, it ain't right,"

Democrats for their own reasons will not admit that there is crime enough to warrant police protection.

The fact is that we need our police back. Our country should and can be safe. Lou Barletta will deliver for the people of Pennsylvania. Don't forget who the liars are and who want to destroy capitalism and the Constitution. They think that the more chaos they create the better chance they have of convincing the people they are right. A few less Democrats in Congress in 2022 would go a long way in saving our state and our country.

For anything good to happen, I am calling on YOU to step up and give Pennsylvania and America the resources so that we can SAVE AMERICA and RESTORE law and order. One way to assure this in PA is to elect Lou Barletta as our governor.

Don't believe everything that CNN and MSNBC provide and expect that their viewpoint is slanted and their news is always incomplete. Figure out trusted sources where you can get the real facts. s f

Larry Elder is the best choice now as California is poised to beat the regressive Democrats just like Pennsylvania. Lou Barletta as Governor of our state is ready to bring back the state from the regressive, tyrannical administration of Tom Wolf. It's about time.

In Pennsylvania, we are fortunate to have a great candidate, Lou Barletta, regardless of whether CNN or MSNBC and the gang choose to tell you the truth. Lou is one of the regular guys in PA. He is ready to take it all on and win for America and Pennsylvania. He alone is prepared and determined to straighten out the mess in the state, With his contacts in conservative media and CPAC, besides his deep popular support, Barletta is expected to be the leading conservative candidate—just what the doctor ordered for PA.

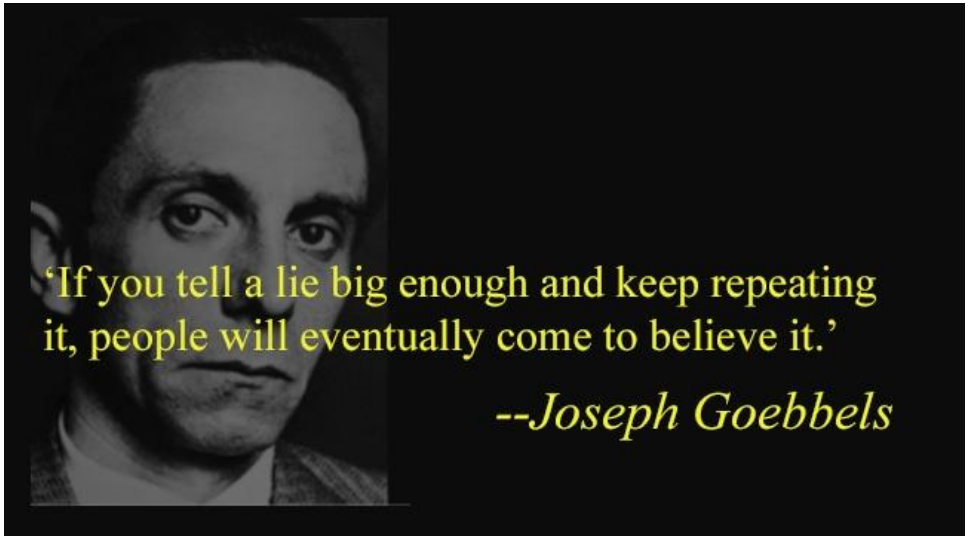

Lou Barletta is prepared to reverse Wolf's eight years of regressive policies, foster job growth, and operate for the people, not himself. Remember when everybody else was locked down, Wolf's family business operated with impunity because he was a tyrant governor whose restrictions were second only to California.

Like Larry Elder in California, Lou Barletta will keep his promises. Lou has made it clear that he is the best man to replace this tyrant, Tom Wolf. He is a native Pennsylvanian and he too has been grieving for what the Wolf Administration has done to the state. What is happening is a shameful sin.

Lou Barletta has something that neither Wolf nor any other potential Democrat candidate in 2022 has. It has been missing for the past eight years. It is called "Common Sense." This is sadly lacking, under this smug, corrupt governor. To unseat this tyrant, Lou needs your help and my help. He won't let us down." Would it not be great for us all to wake up and find Lou Barletta and his America-first policies doing for Pennsylvania that which Donald Trump did for the whole country. We need Lou Barletta Now!

If your favorite newspaper or favorite TV channel are not reporting the advantages of a Barletta governorship, please switch channels and subscribe to a different newspaper. Stay informed of what is happening. America is at stake.

Chapter 3 How to Assure You Are Reading the Truth

Democrats have learned this lesson from the Minister of Propaganda in the Third Reich quite well. Joseph Goebbels was the world expert on duping the citizens. See his quote above.

In this age of fake news, and with the media using their opinion instead of facts and then lying about facts and even making them up, it is tough to find honesty anywhere. But, just because it is tough to get to the truth does not mean that you or I have a ready excuse to accept such lies as if they are the truth. It is our responsibility to seek the truth and to not accept a lie as a substitute for the truth.

It is tough duty but it is every citizen's responsibility otherwise, we are destined for tyranny. It is not OK for government to lie to the people.

An even bigger mistake, however, is when we are not sure of a received message that may not be truthful and we send it to somebody else as if we think it is the truth. The receiver of your message trusts you implicitly and has no reason to check your facts. Thus, in this case you may have spread a falsehood simply by sending an unverified note to a friend. If your source is lying, that is one on you.

In English literature, and I suspect in literature classes across the world, good teachers teach students not to “beg the argument.” When writing convincing prose. A way to assure that you are not begging that somebody believe you is to show the source for your information. Quote a reputable somebody if possible . If you receive a message that begs you to believe the sender, don’t buy it.

Here are some of the things to look for when you are not sure if the person communicating with you using written or spoken words is being truthful.

1. Stalling tactics such as: “Did I do it? Of course not!”

Liars often repeat a question nearly verbatim as a stalling tactic to give themselves time to formulate an answer.

2. Skipping contractions: “I did not do it.”

Liars often instead of saying “I didn’t do it,” they’ll say, “I did not do it.”

3. Making sweeping statements: “I would never” or “I always.”

Rather than focusing on the details of a situation or giving specifics, liars dance around the truth by using overly generalized statements that are too mushy to be disproven.

4. Overemphasizing their trustworthiness: “To be honest.”

You may think these phrases will convince others of your reliability and you probably mean to bolster your integrity and accuracy, but this isn’t necessary if you’re being honest.

“To be honest”

“To tell you the truth”

“Believe me”

“Let me be clear”

“The fact is”

5. Hedging their statements: “As far as I recall.”

Liars often take a guarded tone when they’re trying to deceive others.

“As far as I recall”
 “If you really think about it”
 “What I remember is”
 “The way I see it”

Overuse of such hedged statements should certainly raise suspicion that a person isn't being totally upfront with what he or she knows.

6. Avoiding “I” statements.

Liars don't often reference themselves when making deceptive statements. They will avoid using pronouns like “I,” “mine” and “myself.” They may use the third person. For example they may say, “You don't bill hours that you didn't work,” instead of saying, “I don't bill hours I didn't work.” Or they'll say, “The vase got broken,” instead of “I broke the vase.” A lying CEO may overuse words like “we” and “our team” when they talk

7. Dodging a direct answer: “Do you really think I would do such a thing?”

Liars may also seek to avoid the truth by implying an answer, rather than giving a direct rebuttal. Examples: “Would I do such a thing?” or even “I wouldn't do such a thing,” rather than a straightforward “I didn't do it.” Another deception technique of liars is using unnecessary words in a statement. For example, “We didn't see her” might be said as “We didn't really see her.”

8. Going into defensive mode: “How can you doubt me?”

A liar will quickly jump into defensive mode when questioned, acting angry or hurt if others don't seem to buy what they're saying. They attack the person asking the questions by saying, “Don't you have something better to do than to waste my time with this stuff?” They're eager to counteract any perceived notion they could be to blame, and attempt to convince others they're telling the truth. They'll often ask, “Do you believe me?” to gauge how their lie is being received. People who are telling the truth tend to just assume they'll be believed and usually aren't offended if asked follow-up questions or for additional proof. Don't let someone's skepticism upset you -- that will just make things worse.

9. Deflecting and evading: “Don’t you have something better to do?”
Liars will do everything in their power to deflect attention away from themselves while maintaining the illusion of credibility. Watch for these

“Why do you want to know that?”

“That’s not important”

“Don’t you have something better to do?”

“What are you talking about?”

Remember: If someone appears to be trying to evade the truth, they probably are.

10. Embellishing insignificant details while avoiding important ones.

Liars are eager to convince you they are telling the truth so they add to the details making their story less believable. If you suspect you are talking to or reading a piece by a liar, you can more easily catch a person in a lie because you can jot down details of the story you are being told and then ask questions about those details later to see if they’re still the same.

2016 was a great year for stories with different viewpoints. It was a good thing to have multiple opinions about a matter. There were no big tech companies punishing those on either side of an issue for having contrary opinions. Even the press in 2016 were too timid than to try lying every day. Try getting the truth past the big tech censors now in 2021. A lot has changed since 2016 and not for the good.

Take for example in 2016 when Wynne Davis of NPR wrote an article titled: “Fake Or Real? How To Self-Check The News And Get The Facts.” There are lessons to learn even now by reading this five year old piece. In it for example, she teaches us that fake news stories can have real-life consequences. Remember nobody said ever that that knowing whether what you read is true or false is not an easy task even if the writer trying to convince you thinks it is easy for them. or

There is no question that in 2016, the stories were a lot more docile than today. These stories in 2016, got a lot of attention. There were headlines claiming Pope Francis endorsed Donald Trump in November's election and another web site shared misleading stories and quotes out of context. There were sites such as the DC Gazette in which stories were abundant about people who allegedly investigated the Clinton family being found dead, the stories would go viral and some people believe them. Again, these stories were not true in any way but they were reported as if they were.

Today the reader or viewer must be aware that everything in media is not necessarily the truth. Those of us who consume news need to find our own ways of determining if what they're saying and what we are reading is true. Davis offers a few suggestions for what to do. They are tough to implement but eventually you can get better at it.

For conservatives, the task may be easier than for progressive Marxists. Why, Well, my opinion is that the normal spots where conservatives get their news are honest at least more honest than the liberal sites. Now, the liberal pundits that run the polling companies would argue that CNN is the most trusted news network. I believe that, most liberal progressives trust CNN and might even trust the network with their lives. From my own evaluations, CNN is overrated by its viewers. It would take a lot to believe that your trusted network is telling lies.

Unfortunately from my own observations, CNN is actually the least trustworthy network. It goes down further when we consider that it totally skips reporting on subjects that hurt its liberal progressive agenda. Consequently CNN Viewers do not get all the news. They think for example the there is no problem at the border. I have too many friends who “heard it on CNN,” or did not hear that on CNN, demanding that it can't be news then.

CNN viewers especially but a good portion of people trust implicitly the news that they get from their trusted sources—regardless of whether their source is trustworthy.

So, part of the problem is that most news consumers inherently believe what they hear. They don't question it. That is not too smart especially in these lying times. People must have at least a fundamental sense of media literacy. Unfortunately studies attempting to figure out how serious the problem of media duping the public actually is—is that many people simply don't have the proper sense to doubt the news. So they accept it because it looks true.

Alexios Matzarlis, director of the International Fact-Checking Network at Poynter, as cited in the Davis article suggests that we look at how the fact-checkers verify their truth. They are the experts in truth finding. He says they have a process for each claim they deal with.

Admittedly that places the burden of truth or lie determination on the reader or viewer and that makes reading or viewing media offerings as more of a work effort. It is simply not as much fun or pleasurable as it would be if the reader could be assured that the piece is true. Nobody including Matzarlis suggest that normal readers or viewers research at the level of the pros but he presents what the pros go through to show it is no small task to be able to discern the truth in a lying world.

To assure you are reading the truth the experts suggest, try to isolate a claim that has something in it that can be objectively verified. The suggestion is to seek the best primary sources in that topic. Find whether they match or refute or prove the claim being made, and then present with all limitations the data and what the data says about the claim being made.

Folks, that is admittedly a tough task and most readers will say “to hell with it.” That's why without proof that they are right, some people choose to believe CNN and other people choose to believe MSNBC. It is lots easier and regular people are not inclined to go through hoops to do the work to determine if what each article or report that is available to read or view is actually true. No thank you. Thus most CNN and MSNBC aficionados are flying blind on facts. Nonetheless they believe what they hear is true and what they don't hear is unimportant.

That does not mean readers should not try to determine the proof if they can. However, it is acknowledged that everybody cannot work through the verification process in the way the experts would but there are simpler ways. One of these tips from the experts is to pay attention to the Internet domain or the URL. First of all if you can find out, is it typically associated with chicanery?

This is a good tip and it is usable. It is also simple for those that know the lay of the land on the Internet. Here is an example. Established news organizations such as NBC (nbc.com) usually own their domains and they have a standard look and feel with which over time you gain familiarity.

Sites with such endings like .com.co however or .com.ru should make you raise your eyebrows and tip you off that you need to dig around more to see if they can be trusted. The point is that even with simple methods the truth is often hard to find today. For example, abcnews.com is definitely a legitimate news source, but abcnews.com.co is not, despite its similar appearance.

Another type is to Read the "About Us" section on a web site for proof of legitimacy. Most legitimate sites want to tell you about themselves. If it looks fishy, exit immediately.

Another good tip is to look at the quoted material within a story. When somebody is teaching fact-based truths they do not want to beg the argument so they will use many quotes. Check out the quotes for legitimacy.

Look at who said what in the quotes. If the author is Mickey Mouse, you know the site is fake. If it is Elmer Afferbattus, maybe you also know whether he or she is legitimate. Look him up. Maybe it is or is not legitimate. A google search will reveal a lot.

A couple more tips include checking the comments section. First of all is there a Comments Section?. What do they look like. Do they look real?

While verifying make sure you check the images used in the piece. Are the images unique to the article and fit in perfectly or do you have to stretch? Have you seen the images in any other articles that are unrelated?

Another tool you have in your truth verification activity is to answer this question: “Is this a satire piece or is it intended to be real. So first determine if it is satire. Know if you are reading a satirical article then remember the following Satirical publications do exist and they too serve a purpose. But they should be clearly labeled so you know that the hyperboles and exaggerations are intentional, and are not necessarily the truth. Such mechanisms do serve a purpose, and are OK if clearly labeled as exaggerated and humorous by the writers and owners of the documents.

Davis suggests that some of the more well-known satirical sites such as The Onion and ClickHole use satire to talk about current events. If people don't understand that, they might share these articles after reading them in the literal sense. If you are guilty of this you may be spreading fake news unintentionally.

If this happens or if you see your friends sharing blatantly fake news, be a friend and kindly tell them it is not real. If you inform via an email do not copy the word or you will anger the person who sent it to you and they will be more inclined to fight you.

Don't shy away from these conversations even if they might be uncomfortable. As said, everyone has to help fix the fake news problem. But one thing we have learned in this little exercise. It does not make reading more pleasurable at all but it is no fun to believe fake news either. Next week it would be embarrassing to learn that what you believe is all wrong. Don't blame anybody else but yourself. In this article you have been warned. It is up to you to determine what is true and what is not.

It is not necessarily an easy task.

The bottom line is that you must use common sense. Don't believe everything you encounter. Keep a healthy skepticism. If you are a CNN or an MSNBC buff, check out what is being said on Fox, AON, or Newsmax and vice versa. Just don't believe everything all the time.

It may not make finding the truth very enjoyable but remember that Edgar Allen Poe wrestled with this issue. He was a smart man: His counsel is worth your time:

“Believe nothing you hear, and only one half that you see.”

Chapter 4 Lou Barletta--Of the People and For the People

Here we are citizens in a truly exceptional country. Yet, even here in America all is not perfect. And, though this country as a whole is exceptional, individually, we are not necessarily exceptional. Lou Barletta recognizes that and is ready to help make Pennsylvania become a better place to live.

Tom Wolf made the citizens of Pennsylvania think the state had left the Union. Lou Barletta is about to welcome Pennsylvania back into the Union again.

People are still asking: “Where did all the hate come from?” It seems like it is just in the past few years that the odor of hate in America is strong enough (if you’ll pardon me) to knock a buzzard off a “feces” wagon. To use a big word to describe it. It is palpable.

Can we do anything about it? Well, one thing is for sure, if “we the people” as a group do not smarten up, things will get a lot worse and they may never get better again. Somehow Americans have consistently been electing inferior representatives without doing the due diligence necessary to assure these knaves want to serve the people rather than serve themselves. Tom Wolf is an example that comes to mind.

When I say be careful, I mean it. Do not vote for any Tom Wolf or any Democrat in the next election. The Democrats are going through a sick period. They do not believe in police, people arming themselves for home defense, border security, energy independence, lower taxes, strong defense via military readiness, life for babies, fair elections, and even freedom of speech.

Tom Wolf is nothing like Lou Barletta.

WHO HAS THE POWER TO OVERRIDE WOLF'S VETO OF VOTER ID?

YOU DO!

Better than that, Tom Wolfe is term limited and is definitely gone in 2022. Pennsylvania's automatically gets rid of this tyrant eight years too late. Now we all have to make sure that we do not elect another Tom Wolf or a Wolf in sheep's clothing. By the way, any Democrat is a Wolf in sheep's clothing. I predict that it won't be until 2026 that it will be safe to vote for a Democrat again anywhere in the country. As you know from all their power grabs, they are sick and are against US freedoms. It would not be a stretch to suggest they do not like freedom loving people.

So the best way to avoid a big mistake is to permit the Democrats to get over their sick period and vote for a change this year in the person of Lou Barletta. You'll be glad you did. It won't be safe to vote Democrat again until 2026. As a Democrat myself, I know. I can't believe the things they are proposing and the things they have already done to weaken America. We need to get rid of them all to teach them a lesson that the people not the politicians run the country. Thank you on that folks Two words is all we need to know for 2022 and the PA

Governorship. Those words are Lou Barletta. Voting for Barletta for Governor is never having to say you're sorry. t

Don't be tempted, there are a ton of Democrats ready to take Tom Wolf's spot and they espouse the same anti-American beliefs as the new Democrat leader Maxine Waters. Good ole Maxine, wants leftist thugs to bully conservatives and Democrats who do not think like her-- in restaurants and other public spaces.

Resist the urge. Democrats, right now at least are sick with power and the need to implement Communist policies destined to destroy America. I know you already know that. Don't listen to their lies.

The Democrats all pay homage to Maxine Waters and AOC, and to Chuck Schumer and Nancy Pelosi. A new Democrat to replace Wolf will not help matters for the people of Pennsylvania. They all speak the same sick anti-freedom, anti-Constitution anti-Bill of Rights rant. Lou Barletta, like most Americans wants an America in which the people practice the old Christian maxim of "love thy neighbor." Barletta thinks we must stop the hate and get the work done for the people. That's why Lou signed up for the job.

Like the very effective 45th President of the United States, Barletta loves America. Donald Trump loves Lou Barletta because he is a great leader and a great American. Barletta agrees that one of the best things that has happened recently in America is that God intervened and gave us all another chance. He sent his beloved Son over two thousand years ago and though that helped the world, just recently, God saw that things do not stay right in mankind for too many years at a time.

This time, as we all know, he found a playboy rogue out in the fields of fun and prosperity in America and he let this rogue know that he had a big job for him. Donald Trump, who did not need God's job offer as life was treating him pretty, pretty good already, chose to accept the offer and he ran for President of the US and now he has reached the end of his term and it was a great term. And, like he promised, he'll be back.

Before the 45th President comes back as the 47th, it is up to us to not blow this opportunity to do the right thing for God and Pennsylvania.

We must stop the hate even before 2024, We can stop the hate in PA in 2022. How? We must elect Lou Barletta as our 48th governor in the State of Pennsylvania. As you know by now, Lou Barletta is for the Trump agenda and he intends to make Pennsylvania great again. Meanwhile Democrats for governor are all on the Democrat hate team.

As you have probably noticed, so far in this book, your author, Brian Kelly, takes a solid look at Lou Barletta and his campaign platform. To help make Barletta and his mission to help Pennsylvania regain prominence in the nation a success, Lou has the most aggressive set of campaign goals for the state since Bob Casey Sr. He says that PA did not get sick overnight but the Barletta platform will cure Pennsylvania and return the state to greatness by the end of his term. His second term will be gravy.

Many in Pennsylvania already know that Lou Barletta has always been a champion of the people. He was Mayor of Hazleton, a small city in the Northeast part of the state. At the time, Hazleton's Hispanic population was surging. He argued that many of the recent arrivals were in the country illegally, bringing drugs, crime, and gangs to his city of 25,000 and overwhelming police, schools, and hospitals.

Barletta thus is the perfect candidate to bring the governor's office into the fight against illegal immigration, as a way to protect American workers' jobs and wages.

“As the mayor, I was sued for wanting to enforce federal laws, and now we have mayors who literally are thumbing their nose and have created sanctuary cities, inviting literally people who were in the country illegally to those towns,” Barletta said. “That would not happen if I'm governor.”

Hopefully you are already enjoying this book while learning a lot about Lou Barletta and his plans for the betterment of Pennsylvania. You are going to love this book. Few books are a must-read but Lou Barletta Governor of Pennsylvania is a book you want to have, to read about the great methods Barletta will use to solve our problems.

We expect that this campaign style book will quickly appear at the top of the state's most read list. If we do not gain back the greatness of our Pennsylvania and our America, with the right people representing us, we may again be stuck with a knave such as Josh Shapiro, a Nancy Pelosi disciple, and we know that means nothing good will happen for Pennsylvania through another four year election cycle. Let's solve the problems now with Lou Barletta while we still have a great leader at the top of the country.

Chapter 5 Who is Lou Barletta?

Running for Governor of Pennsylvania is the best thing Lou Barletta can do for his state.

As a kid, Lou hated politics. He grew up working in his family's road construction business but dreamed of playing centerfield for the New York Yankees. The first in his family to attend college, Lou took a break from studying Elementary Education at Bloomsburg State College (now Bloomsburg University) to try out for the Cincinnati Reds, but was sent home when the coaches figured out that he could not hit a curve ball. He could run like the dickens though. Lou has fun recounting his baseball stories. No regrets!

Lou returned to school before re-joining his family in road construction. One day, Lou got a card in the mail advertising a kit for striping parking lots. For $29.95, Lou and his wife, Mary Grace, sent away for the materials and started a small line-painting business. In five years, they turned that little company into the largest of its kind in Pennsylvania, and when they sold the company, it was the sixth largest of its kind in the nation. Lou Barletta understands Pennsylvania businesses.

Frustrated with the direction that local politicians were taking his hometown of Hazleton, Lou successfully ran for City Council before being elected mayor in 1999, in a city where Democrats significantly outnumbered Republicans.

As mayor, Lou inherited a $1.2 million budget deficit. In two years, he turned that shortfall into a $500,000 surplus. In 2004, the White House appointed Lou to represent the United States on the United Nations Advisory Committee of Local Authorities, and in 2008, the Pennsylvania State Mayor's Association voted Lou Barletta as Pennsylvania's Mayor of the Year.

Lou gained national attention in 2006 when he drafted, introduced, and signed the first local ordinance in the nation cracking down on illegal immigration. Lou's law has served as a blueprint for other communities across the United States facing problems with illegal immigration. He is determined to help Pennsylvania with its job opportunities by making sure Americans get the jobs.

In 2010, Lou defeated a 28-year incumbent Democrat to represent Pennsylvania's 11th Congressional District. Lou served on the House

Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, where he was Chairman of the Subcommittee on Economic Development, Public Buildings, and Emergency Management.

In this capacity, he saved the taxpayers nearly $4 billion by cutting waste and reducing the size of federal real estate. When he was with the Committee on Education and the Workforce, where he was nationally recognized for his bipartisan work in support of afterschool programs; and as an active participant on the Homeland Security Committee, he continued to lead the fight to secure our borders and enforce our immigration laws.

A father of four daughters and proud grandfather of eight grandkids, Lou is running to become the 48th governor of the State of Pennsylvania. Lou's intention is to help make sure that the same Pennsylvania Dream and American Dream is alive for the next generations.

More on Lou Barletta

As noted on the first page of this chapter, when Congressman Lou Barletta was the age of the St. Joseph School students where he spoke while on the campaign trail, he had a dream to play center field for the New York Yankees. Lou does not make a big deal out of the fact that he almost made it to the big-leagues as they were called then, but he did, nonetheless. He was quite a ball player, known for his speed on the bases and his glove. He was not a bad hitter either even though he jokes about the curve ball doing him in.

“When I became a senior in high school, I began to think of another plan, so I went to college to teach elementary school,” Lou once said. That changed his life more than baseball ever could. In college, he met his wife who teaches elementary students. Two of their four daughters are also elementary teachers.

“Teaching is important to me and to my household,” he said, speaking at a local school while on the trail in 2015. While in college, he had an opportunity to try out for the Cincinnati Reds. He told his dad he wanted to leave school with his father telling him “not to be afraid to do something you want to do” despite Barletta being the first one in his family to go to college. It was a big deal to get a tryout with the pros

He left Bloomsburg University and went to Florida for tryouts involving 65 players. Barletta tells the story that he didn't practice as hard as he should have, and he didn't give it his all, believing he would be picked for the team.

"I didn't hit a curve ball that well. They didn't take me," he said. To this day, Lou says he could not hit a curve ball. I would say on that day perhaps his eye was not as good whacking the curve balls, but you don't even get to try out for the Major Leagues if you are not among the best in the country. God had other plans for Lou Barletta just like in recent times, God had other plans for Donald J. Trump, Jr.

The disappointment, however, like all life lessons, made Lou Barletta more determined afterward to always give 100 percent in whatever he did.

Lou says: "Back home, I started my own business and started to see government at home. The mayor and council were arguing all the time. I went to the people in the office and asked them why they couldn't get along. I ran for city council and won. I decided I could do more as Mayor so I ran for Mayor and won." Lou Barletta served as Hazleton's Mayor for 11 years. If he had not moved to take a Congressional seat, he could have been Hazleton's mayor for another forty years. That's how good he was and how much he was appreciated.

He enjoyed helping the people so much that the gubernatorial candidate sold his business because being Mayor was a full-time job. He said he started his business — Interstate Road Marking with his wife — with $29 and an idea, as we discussed on the first page of this chapter. What a guy!

Barletta was like The Little Engine that Could and he faced life with grit and determination and would not be beaten. He ran unsuccessfully for Congress twice but won the election the third time. Your author was very pleased to be among the many who supported him in his first Washington victory. I am back again.

Lou Barletta is like the spider observed by Robert the Bruce in the story often told. Stuck in a cave, Robert the Bruce watched the spider weave her web. Six times she tried to throw her thread from one edge of the cave wall to another. Six times her thread fell short. "Poor thing!" said Robert the Bruce. "You, too, know what it's like to fail six times in a row." But the spider did not lose hope.

With still more care, she made ready to try for a seventh time. Robert the Bruce almost forgot his own troubles trying to escape the cave, as he watched, fascinated. She swung herself out upon the slender line. Would she fail again? No! The thread was carried safely to the cave wall and fastened there and the web was made.

Lou Barletta is also like Donald Trump. He likes to win. Let's all help him win the election for Pennsylvania Governor so he can help all of Pennsylvania. We sure need a good man in that important job

Lou Barletta is the perfect person to be our Governor. He believes "If you try for something and don't get it, don't feel bad as long as you tried hard." he told the students at St. Joseph's (Danville) in a recent speech.

Our former Congressman loves serving the people and he hopes to help even more people across the state as Governor Barletta. “It’s such a privilege representing the people back home,” said Barletta who, when quoted was in his third two-year term.

Lou Barletta is still in shape. He still plays baseball in recent years after not having picked up a glove since he was 21.

Barletta normally plays in the annual fundraising game played by Congress. It is the Republicans versus Democrats at the Washington Nationals’ Stadium every year. “We practice for two months at 6 a.m.,” Lou said.

During a question and answer session, he told students he has met the President and also met former President Bush who appointed him for four years as this country’s representative when he was mayor to a local government board where he met mayors from around the world. “Most of the mayors talked about having clean drinking water,” Barletta said.

Barletta had played on the GOP team every year since he got to Congress in 2011. Admitting that he could not see the ball as well in his last year as when he was younger, he decided to sit the game out. Instead, he was home getting ready for work when he learned about the shooting that left Steve Scalise, his friend and colleague critically wounded. Again baseball was not as important as the life of a good friend.

When the Congressman was not in Washington, D.C., he traveled throughout the 17th district, (now much of it is District 8). The stretch to Washington is 220 miles. He drove it all the time. I have had phone conference calls with him as he drove to Washington for his week’s work.

For helping the learning process of the students, The Danville school presented Lou Barletta with items to make him an official Tiger. “That’s what the name of my team was in junior high,” Barletta said.

Lou Barletta is a friend of mine, I am proud to say, and I would also tell you all that he is the right kind of man to have as a friend. He will do wonders for Pennsylvania as our Governor.

Knowing where Lou Barletta stands on most issues that matter for Pennsylvanians, Brian Kelly, your author, had no second thoughts when he told his family and friends that Lou Barletta is our guy and that finally with Tom Wolf gone, good things can again come to the people of Pennsylvania. Lou did not win against Bob Casey whose name is the most important thing that he brings to the Senate. It is tough to beat a guy who has the same name as his father, Governor Bob Casey. But, I am very pleased that Lou is back again to help the people of PA as our Governor.

Pennsylvanians, because of Tom Wolf have more issues than we should. Barletta likes the Trump model which is the Ron DeSantis (FL) model, which is the Greg Abbott (TX) model Like these great governors and our great 45th president, Lou Barletta is determined to solve the issues of Pennsylvania today that will have the most positive impact on the citizens of our state—Americans.

He will also contribute to forming solutions and helping with the national issues. As you know, these issues are more critical today as President Biden has cancelled much of the great Trump accomplishments.

You remember the list more than likely because the issues are back in spades. They include Obamacare, Social Security Cost of Living, Millennials and Student Loans, Resident Visas, and perhaps even paying illegal interlopers to go back to their home country. All of these Barletta suggestions would save American taxpayers over a half-trillion dollars each year. I expect that most Americans and most Pennsylvanians love such unique solutions. No Congressman and no Governor in the US offers a platform as bold as this. A Democrat Governor would only be able to dream about something so positive for America.

Chapter 6 Lou Barletta On the Issues

2022 Factors in the Barletta Gubernatorial Platform

Rebuild the Economy

Tom Wolf's response to the coronavirus was disastrous. It put the state of PA in the hole that will take a long time to fill back.

Lou Barletta will undo the economic damage caused by Gov. Tom Wolf's unprecedented poor response to the coronavirus epidemic. Wolf crushed the state's small businesses with shutdowns, killing thousands of jobs. His most egregious offense killed thousands of elderly Pennsylvanians in nursing homes.

Though the biased Democrat DOJ decided to drop the case, there is no doubt that Wolf Ordered Pennsylvania Nursing homes to take seniors back who were still COVID positive and were released from a hospital. The order forced the migration of thousands of sick people from the hospital back into the nursing home, even knowing the nursing homes could not properly take care of them. It was a death sentence for thousands of Pennsylvania seniors.” COVID positive patients by the thousands infected other nursing home patients and caused their ultimate demise. One other thing was at the same time Pennsylvania under Wolf botched the vaccine rollout.

There is no larger business in PA than the organization of the state government itself. Lou Barletta is a successful business man and knows how to run a business organization such as the humungous state of Pennsylvania. He is a self-made man in that he founded a pavement marking business with an initial investment of $29.95 and within five years had built his enterprise into the largest of its kind in Pennsylvania and it was the 6th largest in the country when Barletta chose to go into Politics full-time as Mayor of Hazleton .

Having lived the dream of starting up his own small business, Barletta as governor will be a shot in the arm for PA businesses. He will return power to the entrepreneurs of Pennsylvania. He understands that government’s best role often can be to get out of the way and let private citizens create jobs and grow the economy. That means keeping taxes low and reducing regulations to free Pennsylvanians to thrive.

Unleash Pennsylvania’s Natural Resources

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is blessed to sit atop a massive expanse of natural resources which has always been a key driver of our economy. Barletta will be a champion of the production of coal, oil, and natural gas, which are industries targeted by liberals intent on taking those jobs away from our citizens. Thousands of well-paying union jobs have vanished because of regulations, freezes, and bans, and Barletta will fight to restore our energy sector prominence. Barletta will also promote the extraction of rare earth minerals. Americans will have a place to work.

Combat Illegal Immigration

As Mayor of Hazleton, Barletta learned firsthand that immigration is not solely a federal issue – it matters who holds office in states as well. He was the first mayor in the country to pass a local ordinance. Lou Barletta is America first and that means Pennsylvanian and American jobs always first. Lou has and will always stand up against illegal immigration. He has been promptly sued by the ACLU and knows how to respond.

As a member of Congress, Lou Barletta fought every day to protect our borders and strengthen our laws. As Governor, Barletta will maintain his strong stance against illegal immigration, as a public safety issue, as job protection for Pennsylvania workers, and as a public health issue.

Support Law Enforcement Officers

As a former mayor of Hazleton, PA, in charge of public safety (Fire EMS & Police) Barletta learned well that our local and state law enforcement officers are the greatest assets our communities have to offer. He will always honor and support the men and women in blue – those brave citizens who put their own lives on the line to protect their neighbors. Barletta will always fully fund law enforcement's needs and as Governor will oppose any efforts to defund the police. At the same time, he will also strongly support firefighters and first responders, who also give of themselves to protect and defend their communities.

Strengthen Election Security

The election of 2020 taught us that changes to election rules, put in place using the coronavirus pandemic as an excuse, caused delays, chaos, uncertainty, and widespread mistrust in our electoral process. We experienced the worst election ever in Pennsylvania history with the major suspicion of fraud at the polls and counting areas. Many say the election was stolen in Pennsylvania.

We Pennsylvanians must know that the integrity of our elections is sound and that Lou Barletta will take action to restore public trust. Fraud and unverified electors will be stopped at the gate.

Rebuild PA Infrastructure

As a former chairman of a subcommittee of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee in the U.S. House of Representatives, Barletta fully understands Pennsylvania's needs. Our roads and bridges are in dire need of repair and refurbishing and have been neglected by Gov. Wolf's administration. As Governor, Barletta will lead a rebuilding of our infrastructure, creating good union jobs in the process.

Barletta has particular expertise in pre-disaster mitigation, having authored legislation signed by President Trump which reformed disaster preparedness and reduced the impact of natural disasters. As a mayor and member of Congress, Barletta saw the devastating effects of brutal storms and flooding and knows that pre-disaster mitigation is key. Emphasis on planning, elevating or hardening structures, and building flood walls can save lives and billions of dollars in property damage. As Governor, Barletta will bring the same approach to Harrisburg.

Combat Illegal Immigration

Pennsylvania is the linchpin of our democracy. It is the Keystone State for that very reason. As many already know, a keystone is a wedge-shaped piece at the crown of an arch that locks the other pieces in place; it is a stone on which the associated stones depend for support. Geographically, Pennsylvania's central location along the arch of the 13 original states calls to mind a keystone. Politically, Pennsylvania played a vital role in holding together the states of the newly formed Union. Our state is critical to reestablishing the United States after eight years of Wolf and less than a year of Biden.

As Mayor of Hazleton, Lou Barletta learned firsthand that immigration is not solely a federal issue, It matters in all states, and some may say, especially in Pennsylvania because illegal immigrants in the shadows, work for pennies and steal American jobs. And, so, fellow Pennsylvanians, it matters who holds office in states as well. The Governor is the linchpin of the state government. If he is weak the state is weak. We saw that in the Wolf administration,

As previously stated, Lou Barletta was the first mayor in the country to pass a local ordinance standing up against illegal immigration and was promptly sued by the ACLU. As a member of Congress, he fought every day to protect our borders and strengthen our laws. As Governor, Barletta will maintain his strong stance against illegal immigration, as a public safety issue, as job protection for Pennsylvania workers, and as a public health issue.

Support Law Enforcement Officers

As a former mayor of Hazleton, PA, Barletta knows that our local and state law enforcement officers are the greatest assets our communities have to offer. If we are not safe, we can have no freedom. He will always honor and support the men and women in blue – those brave citizens who put their own lives on the line to protect their neighbors. Barletta will always fully fund law enforcement’s needs and as Governor will oppose any efforts to defund the police. At the same time, he will also strongly support firefighters and first responders, who also give of themselves to protect and defend their communities.

Strengthen Election Security

The election of 2020 was a travesty. Many still doubt its results. The election was caught on tape in many municipalities and it was clearly fraught taught us that changes to election rules, put in place using the coronavirus pandemic as an excuse, caused delays, chaos, uncertainty, and widespread mistrust in our electoral process. It enabled fraud and shenanigans caught on the cameras of all TV networks. Tom Wolf worked with cronies in the PA Supreme court to change the rules against the PA Constitution. Barletta will reverse this and he will enable fairness in our election process. Pennsylvanians must know that the integrity of our elections is sound and that Governor Lou Barletta will take the proper action to restore public trust.

Rebuild PA Infrastructure

Like Johnny Cash who sang about being everywhere, Lou Barletta held many key jobs in the federal government when he was a four-term Congressman from the Keystone State. In essence he was everywhere and helped the process while learning the ropes.

As a former chairman of a subcommittee of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee in the U.S. House of Representatives, Barletta fully understands Pennsylvania's needs. Our roads and bridges are in dire need of repair and refurbishing and have been neglected by Gov. Wolf's administration. You can tell when traveling that you have reached Pennsylvania and recently the experience is not good. As Governor, Barletta will lead a rebuilding of our infrastructure, creating good union jobs and a safer infrastructure in the process.

Barletta has particular expertise in pre-disaster mitigation, having authored legislation signed by President Trump which reformed disaster preparedness and reduced the impact of natural disasters. As a mayor and member of Congress, Barletta saw the devastating effects of brutal storms and flooding and knows that pre-disaster mitigation is key. Emphasis on planning, elevating or hardening structures, and building flood walls can save lives and billions of dollars in property damage. As Governor, Barletta will bring the same approach to Harrisburg.

Support Public Education

As the father of two public school teachers, Barletta knows the importance of quality education for our children. He knows that the people, not the Teachers Unions should control the quality of education in the state and he will assure that Pennsylvania students have the best education which will give them their best shot in life.

As a member of the U.S. House Committee on Education and Labor, Lou was credited with saving the federal funding for after school programs, which had been slated for elimination. Pennsylvania students have been negatively affected by Gov. Wolf's one size fit all decisions this past year shutting down schools. As Governor he will continue to be a champion for high quality public schools, for school choice, including Charter schools for those who until now had no choice, and for the greater involvement of parents and teachers in decisions affecting their children. Barletta will also continue to pursue partnerships with schools and private businesses to create opportunities so that graduates are not forced to leave home to find employment.

Eliminate Waste

When he was mayor of Hazleton and when he was a member of Congress, Barletta earned the reputation as someone who maximizes efficiency and saves taxpayers money. As chairman of a subcommittee of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, Barletta was able to save taxpayers $4.4 billion through better management of federal real estate and office space leases. That is real money that the taxpayers did not have to go broke finding. As Governor, Barletta will bring the same scrutiny to state spending to ensure that every public dollar is spent wisely.

Protect Life

Everybody loves a baby as it is a natural feeling for most. But there are some who would just as soon snuff out the life of child in the womb even before their first breath and some advocate eliminating already born children who may have been abortion survivors. We intrinsically know this is wrong. Lou Barletta is a protector of the most vulnerable people among us, the unborn.

Each year that Barletta served as Congressman, he earned a 100% rating by the National Right to Life Committee. In 2018, Lou Barletta was endorsed by the Pennsylvania Pro-Life Federation. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been and will remain at the forefront of the pro-life movement. As Governor, Barletta will be a strong voice for protecting the unborn and defunding radical organizations like Planned Parenthood, that prey on women experiencing crisis pregnancies to profit off ending the lives of their children.

Safeguard the Second Amendment

Pennsylvanians have the inherent right to keep and bear arms. Though concerned about putting food on the table, the founders did not include Amendment #2 for the benefit of hunters only. In totalitarian states formed in the 20th century, we know that the first people's right taken over by government was healthcare and then they came looking for the guns and disarmed the people so they could not even whimper against their Communist government.

With many Democrat leaders teaching and preaching authoritarianism, one aspect of American Marxist, socialism, and Communism, we need the second amendment to check the powers of the Democrats at the door before they destroy America and turn the country Communist. You see it in the changes as proposed by the Democrat-led Congress. It is a shame but it is real. That's why we need a strong 2nd Amendment Governor like Lou Barletta to protect the people of Pennsylvania.

Lou Barletta will never cease protecting that right to bear arms to help keep our government in check. As a Congressman, Barletta received an "A" rating from the National Rifle Association and championed the Concealed Carry Reciprocity Act. As Governor, Lou Barletta will always protect lawful gun owners from government bureaucrats who seek to dismantle our constitutionally protected 2nd amendment rights. America would not be America without the Constitution and the Bill of rights (the first ten amendments)

Stand Up for Veterans

The ultimate protectors of American freedoms are our brave men and women who serve in our Armed Forces. These heroic sons, daughters, parents, and neighbors are the bulwark against those adversaries who seek to destroy our ideals and our security. Too often our servicemen return home to find that they cannot get the support they need. Lou Barletta stands with our veterans and will never allow them to be deprioritized. Barletta was proud to support the Veteran's Choice Act and The Veterans Educational Assistance Act while in Congress and will continue to fight for our veterans as Governor.

Besides being a deep patriot himself, Barletta is not into Wokism and does not approve of using the military as a testing ground for off-the-wall disruptive social policies. Woke troops (extremists) do not belong in the military. Unfortunately our liberal progressive too-woke Secretary of Defense recently demonstrated that he does not feel war and winning battles is as important as political correctness in the military. Barletta will do his best to keep the federal government where it should be while it provides real safeguards for the security of the citizens.

The experiment with Woke Generals and a very Woke Secretary of Defense has not gone unnoticed by some patriot Congresspersons (and there are not many of those in our confused Congress.) Sen. Tom Cotton, R-Ark., for example, says that he has a ton of stories that show the military has gone too far with what another service member called "fake wokeness." In a memo from Cotton to the Senate Armed Services Committee obtained by Defense One, the senator includes 28 written complaints from troops. The troops want to fight wars and do not want to be taught how to be polite in combat preparations or situations.

In July 2021, for example two weeks before I wrote this book, two Republican lawmakers not only complained about the misuse of the military for social experimentation, they acted. The misuse of the troops is by none other than the Secretary of Defense Lloyd J. Austin

III. Yes, folks he is a Biden Democrat. See what happens when the sick, leftist Democrats gain power.

To combat what is going on, these two launched a whistleblower site to gather complaints from troops about “anti-American indoctrination seeping into parts of our military.” That is how Sen. Tom Cotton, R-Ark., described it during his testimony in the Senate Armed Services Committee hearing. Cotton is a military guy. He is a former Army infantry captain. He is not for a polite military in which soldiers ask enemy combatants if it is OK before they shoot them dead in battle. The site was set up with the partnership of Rep. Dan Crenshaw, R-Texas, a retired SEAL lieutenant commander.

Among the many submissions already in, one anonymous Marine wrote that his unit’s “mandatory military history training was replaced with training on police brutality, white privilege and systemic racism,” Cotton said. Who needs that? The Marine said the troops don’t buy it. “He reported several officers are now leaving this unit citing that training.”

If the Defense Secretary keeps it up, it will be just he and a few woke Democrats serving in the military. Think about that. They will not serve Americans well. The role of the military is to protect the country, not to be an avant-garde area of a government in which Wokisms can triumph.

Chapter 7 Lou Barletta is Very Optimistic About Pennsylvania

National Issues

Lou thinks he is going to win because he knows he is the best candidate. He also knows the opposition. Any Republican as noted would be better for Pennsylvanians than a Tom Wolf-style sick Woke Democrat with Marxist / Communist tendencies.

Lou is the best man we have for 2022, and he has the best experience of all in the field of candidates that want to make Pennsylvania Great Again. He is expecting Donald Trump's endorsement some time soon. There is a long time until the election so we have to remember why in November 2022, Wolf Democrats are bad for Pennsylvania and America. They have failed Pennsylvania and Pennsylvanians and they do not deserve our vote.

In the last chapter, we provided the meat of the Barletta platform. Your big reasons for why Lou deserves your vote are in the last chapter. But, there are more and in this chapter we show you even more.

BARLETTA'S ADDITIONAL NOTES ON ISSUES

Defense

Since coming to Congress, I have been committed to protecting the men and women serving our country and the many military installations in Pennsylvania, such as the Carlisle Barracks, Naval Support Activity Mechanicsburg, Army War College, and Tobyhanna Army Depot.

Economy & Spending

Our nation faces a serious debt problem. Democrats are spending like drunken sailors. There is no question that the federal government is on an unsustainable spending spree. If we are serious about achieving long-term fiscal responsibility, we must address fiscal accountability. We must target government spending.

Education

In today's increasingly global economy, American students need the skills necessary to succeed. This might be one of the greatest challenge—to support state and local governments in providing a quality, well-rounded education to all our nation's students. Critical Race theory is a negative for America

Adopting Critical Race theory means that a school board or government entity has rejected Martin Luther King Jr.'s ideas, on freedom for all—free at last and that somebody must take the blame for racism—typically white males. Advocates of this terrible way of looking at the world stoke divisiveness and discrimination. Lou Barletta is against such divisive practices.

An examination of CRT's ideas shows its counterproductive effects. An objective look will cause it to be rejected by fair minded people, all the time.

In our lifetimes, there has been a sea change in race relations. In the late 1940's and early 1950's. when I was a tyke, the U.S. Army was integrated by President Harry Truman. In 1954 the Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Board of Education that racial segregation in schools was unconstitutional, and President Dwight Eisenhower enforced it in Little Rock in 1957.

The great Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his “I Have a Dream” speech in 1963 at the March on Washington; in 1965, civil rights icon John Lewis, as a young Black man, helped lead the Selma-to-Montgomery marches over the Edmund Pettus Bridge, and the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and 1965 ended voting discrimination and Jim Crow laws. The US has been making up and improving race relations all the time Lou Barletta and I have lived. Things got so good in racial relations with the help of many white voters, In 2008 a Black man, Barack Obama, was elected president of the United States and then re-elected. That is not a racist country. Nobody can deny that.

Lou believes there is no person in America who can deny that our country has made very significant progress in racial fairness and equality in the past 70 years? No, he is not naïve and so he is well aware that there are still racists in our country? It is not perfect but it is the most perfect country in the world. Read the Constitution and the Bill of Rights to fully understand what I am talking about Absolutely! but racists are fewer in number than ever, and people of color have more opportunity in our country than ever. We all know that So why Critical Race Theory? The left has to make hay and lying is part of their weaponry.

A growing Black middle and professional class is testament to the advances the country has made. Critical Race Theory is an anachronism as it solves problems best solved by the preaching and teaching of MLK. America is still considered the land of opportunity, which is why so many people around the world want to live here. Parents do not want their children blamed for something that is on the way to a great solution. Martin Luther King's methods are the best. So we can say that Lou Chooses MLK v CRT.

Energy

Pennsylvania has always led America's production of energy. As the second largest electricity producing state in the country, if not overregulated—and I sure won't be the one to inhibit energy growth, Pennsylvania's industries and workers should continue to fuel our country's energy needs.

Gun Rights

The Founding Fathers wrote the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to enshrine the pre-existing right of individuals to keep and bear arms. It states: "A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed."

Health Care

I am committed to preserving and protecting our nation's and Pennsylvania's healthcare system. I understand the challenges many Pennsylvanians – and all Americans – face when it comes to receiving healthcare benefits for themselves and their families.

Immigration

There should not and cannot be a plan to offer amnesty to the millions of illegal aliens present until we secure the borders. As a member of the House Homeland Security Committee, which has broad jurisdiction over border security, protecting the country from terrorist attacks, responding to disasters, and protecting national infrastructure, I will be a loud voice to fix our broken borders and immigration system. President Biden has committed in my opinion, impeachable sins by unconstitutionally not protecting our borders and by knowingly permitting sick illegal immigrants with COVID-19 to travel unimpeded wherever they choose in America. That is unconscionable and it is why we had a resurgence of the pandemic across the country.

Jobs

From my first day in office, I have been focused on getting Americans back to work. Local unemployment rates in Pennsylvania's 11th Congressional District have remained higher than state and national averages for far too long. I will change that.

Transportation

Roads, bridges, and other transportation infrastructure in Pennsylvania, and across the country, not only connect our communities, but also create the economic engines that transport the goods and services produced by our U.S. businesses, farms, and factories. U.S. products have long benefitted from transportation cost advantages that give our goods and services a competitive edge in the global marketplace.

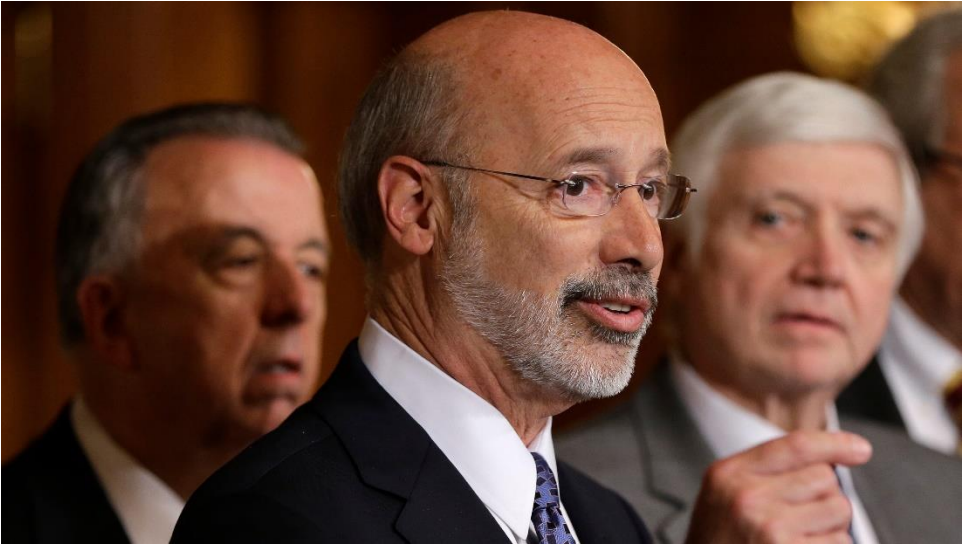

Veterans

Our nation's veterans have provided an invaluable service to our country. However, their unwavering dedication and bravery to defend our liberty often comes with great sacrifices. I will continue to work diligently to ensure that our veterans receive the benefits they deserve and I will work so that the Marxist Communists will not weaken the military with politically correct mandates.

PRO-LIFE

Lou Barletta is pro-life and will protect the sanctity of life. Period.

Chapter 8 The Final Word: Barletta for Governor

Current Two-Term Governor Tom Wolf – Leaving with a sad legacy

It is done folks. Phase 1 of the new Pennsylvania recovery has begun. On May 17, Lou Barletta threw his hat in the ring for Governor of Pennsylvania. It was done quietly without much ado but when it hit the media, it was received by the people with much appreciation. There are those of us who know that Lou Barletta has a lot to offer his home state of Pennsylvania. He will be great Governor for the Keystone State

Then-U.S. Rep. Lou Barletta (R., Pa.) in 2018 Senate Campaign --Gene J. Puskar / A

I have to say that there are two red states now that have a great shot at going blue. I just finished a book about Larry Elder, another man with a Trump/Barletta spirit. Elder is preparing to defeat Gavin Newsom the tyrant who made California the most sluggish state in the Country.

Newsom is even worse than Wolf.

To repeat folks because I like to say it. Former Rep. Lou Barletta, a Trump ally, after giving it a lot of thought in the first half of 2021, announced on May 17, his plans to run next year for Governor of Pennsylvania, a presidential battleground state that has flipped between Democrats and Republicans.

Since he announced, Barletta has been staffing and gearing up for D-day in November 2022. Remember that if we are taking turns with Democrats, with Wolf in charge, Democrats surely made a mess out of their turn. So it is now Barletta's turn to navigate the ship of state and he will not mess it up. We are lucky to have him. Keep praying for him..

Barletta has an easy target by running against one of the most ineffective governors in the nation – Tom Wolf. Despite this folks, take nothing for granted as sick Democrats will beg, borrow, and steal and of course they will lie through their teeth to win. Barletta declared his candidacy and immediately he took aim at Democratic Gov. Tom Wolf for how he handled the Covid-19 pandemic and many other failed Democratic policies. I could not be more pleased.

“We need to take back our commonwealth, we need to take back our livelihoods from the insiders in Harrisburg that have no idea the harm their lockdowns have done,” Barletta said. If they actually understand the harm they , it makes it even worse. It actually would make the chicanery Democrats foisted on Pennsylvania citizens a more intentional travesty—but a travesty nonetheless.

Barletta, a young 65 years of age who looks like he could suit up for the Cincinnati Reds tomorrow, said that Pennsylvania’s COVID response was “disastrous” because of Wolf’s leadership. I lived through it and so did Lou Barletta. It was terrible and people died and those that lived were miserable because of his inept leadership.

The People Like Lou Barletta

He said the governor “squeezed our small business owners and put hardworking Pennsylvanians on the unemployment line” and “kept our kids out of school for far too long.”

The former congressman left Congress after a failed bid for the Senate in 2018 against incumbent Democratic Sen. Bob Casey. Casey still runs on his father's name. His dead was a great PA governor. Barletta served in the U.S. House for four consecutive terms beginning in 2011.

How powerful is the Casey name? The Allentown Morning Call Newspaper explains that phenomenon to the public every couple of years. Their article named the names and noted that the names in some cases are more powerful than the people behind the names.

They say that in Pennsylvania politics, candidates with brand names win elections. That's why Lou Barletta's US Senate loss to Casey was expected and it did not hurt Barletta's career one bit.

In PA commerce, it's U.S. Steel, Mellon Bank, Gulf Oil, Mack Truck, H.J. Heinz, Piper Cub, Crayola crayons, and Hershey Foods . Milton S. Hershey could win an election in Pennsylvania today. Some may know that the chocolatier has been gone since October 13, 1945 when he passed away at 88 years of Age.

In politics, the big name is Casey from the Northeast and others such as Fisher, Flaherty, Hafer, Rendell, Thornburgh, Scranton, Schweiker, and Specter from other areas of the state. These are Pennsylvania political name brands all.

With Bob Casey Sr. having been trying to get elected and later being one of the greatest in PA history, by the middle of the 1970s, the Casey name had become worth its weight in gold as a political commodity.

Try this story on. Get ready for a chuckle.

Casey's name was valuable enough that in 1976 an obscure Cambria County official, named Robert E. Casey, ran for State Treasurer against the endorsed candidate of the Democrat Party. The Democrat was well known but did not have enough to come close to the powerful Casey name. Mr. E. Casey spent just $1,000 dollars and he coasted to a primary victory and killed it in the general election that fall. That's why Barletta is not feeling the sting after losing to Casey for the US Senate in PA.

For those readers who like this PA names story, you can read more at <https://www.mcall.com/news/mc-xpm-2001-05-22-3356849-story.html>

Lou Barletta hit the ground running in his run for Harrisburg's top spot. He knows name familiarity is important and does not want to waste any time. "We need to take back our natural resources from the elites and turn on the energy powerhouse that Pennsylvania can be," Barletta said. "We need to take back our streets from the extremists who want to abolish our police and turn our neighborhoods into sanctuaries for illegal immigrants.

We need to take back our elections from career politicians in Harrisburg, Democrat and Republican who oppose the mail in ballots system that injected chaos into our elections and destroyed voter confidence."

Barletta is so far the most high-profile Republican to announce a bid in the governor's race. You won't be disappointed. Tom Wolf was bad while in his prime and believe it or not, he got worse. Wolf is term limited and cannot run for re-election.

Pennsylvania's Attorney General, Josh Shapiro, is expected to be the leading Democrat contender. Citizens of PA, who looked closely at last year's elections up and down the tickets—not just President, were very disappointed that AG Josh Shapiro, who will be running it looks, against Barletta, as a Democrat decided to choose politics instead of fairness when he argued that there was no incidence of fraud or he would have been right on it. And, Josh, you are not a politician, right?

Certainly if there were some fraud, my team would be on it. immediately or our law enforcement partners would be on it immediately, Shapiro said.

Do the People Trust Shapiro?

"I've seen a lot of tweets about it, I've seen a lot of public statements about it, but we've seen absolutely no evidence of it."

Thanks Josh for your impartial comments. Then again, it would not be the first time I saw a Democrat lie for political gain. A Democrat typically covers for a Democrat. That's PA politics.

Part II

Additional Anecdotes and Supportive National Stories for the

Lou Barletta Gubernatorial Candidacy

Chapter 9 Lou Barletta: As Good As It Gets

Lou Barletta is certainly about as good as you could get as a candidate for public office. He would be a breath of fresh air and simply a great Governor for the state of Pennsylvania. Most people know of him as the combative Mayor who fought for the people against a surge of illegal immigration to give Hazletonians their city back. Barletta was not fooled when the census of Hazleton doubled with an elderly population not of birthing age.

Others know him as a four-term Congressman who served admirably, and would have been reelected for life if he had not done Trump a favor and ran for the US Senate v the Casey name. It is tough not to be impressed with Lou Barletta and all of his many talents.

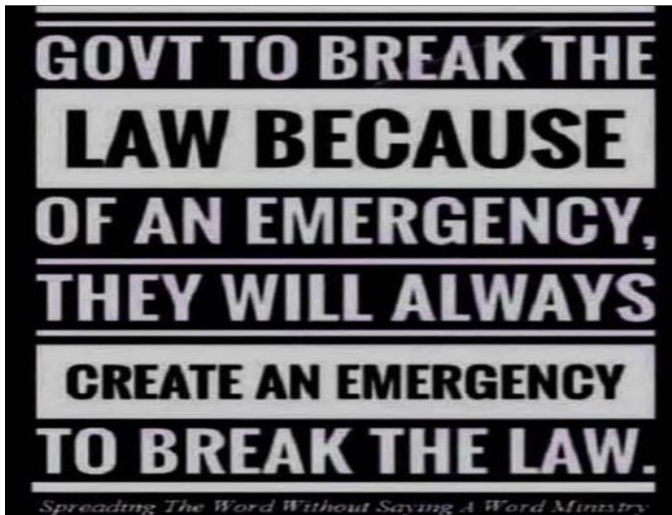

His likeable personality and his powerful capabilities in critical areas have not gone unnoticed by the powerful elements of the Pennsylvania Swamp. The Democrats have identified him as their number one threat to the election of a Democrat to replace the ignominious Tom Wolf as Governor. For Pennsylvanians, this should be a signal that Barletta would be a great addition as the leader of the Keystone State. Let's not miss the opportunity to gain great leadership in the 2022 elections.

Barletta was an early entry in the PA gubernatorial contest and he was in with plenty of time to spare time before, after a great amount of thought, he finally made up his mind to run. His paperwork was completed and it was submitted and he was ready to announce and he did on May 17, 2021.

Lou Barletta is like you and I--of regular hard-working parents with no elitist bones in his body. After he made his mark and grew his own founded business, he decided to give back and help Pennsylvania. So he ran and won a Hazleton Council seat where he learned that he needed the authority to direct better the things necessary to make the right changes for the City.

So, as a young man, he ran for Mayor of his city and won. Since Rahm Emanuel was Obama's chief of staff, Democrats have believed that they should never let an emergency or crisis go to waste.

"You never let a serious crisis go to waste." Emanuel explains his thinking. "And what I mean by that it's an opportunity to do things you think you could not do before. We the people see the Democrats crying Wolf (pardon the pun) in declaring so many emergencies. The sign on the next page explains their rationale. The Dems simply love emergencies so much they create them as necessary to achieve their political goals.

Yes, folks if there were no emergencies or crisis, from experience we know that the Dems would invent one. After living in a Pennsylvania set back ages by Governor Tom Wolf, would you ever again consider trusting a Democrat politician with your safety—especially now when they want to pay for security for themselves while defunding the police and leaving their constituents helpless against crime. Something is wrong with that picture. Don't you think?

The rest of us must show our lack of support for the “bull” that government officials in charge throw at us to satisfy their crooked, sick agendas. Don't support them and for God's sake never vote for any of it. Stay away from sick Democrats in November 2022. You'll be glad you did.

Remember:

Lou Barletta for Governor of Pennsylvania

Chapter 10 Lou Barletta Is a Gift to All Americans!

Evangelicals Ask God for his help when Trump had COVID

Besides believing in Pennsylvania and America Mr. Barletta also believes in God and deflects a lot of credit for his accomplishments to the Hand of the almighty. Lou Barletta has always been and still is a Trump supporter Likewise, Donald Trump has always been and still is a Lou Barletta supporter. Lou loves this below prayer for Trump, which was posted shortly after he caught the deadly COVID virus.

Behind the scenes, when he was sick with COVID, the then President requested and received help in the form of many prayers. God was on his side and He was also on the side of the First Lady. Both survived and today are no worse for the experience. The then-President Trump not only survived, he got over his illness in record time and resumed his work on the important matters of the country.

Deborah Stidom posted this short prayer at the time of Trump's illness so that all of us could pray with her for the President's recovery. It showed her love for our former president. It was on facebook.com/WeLovePresidentDonaldJTrump:

“Heavenly father we pray your healing hands be placed over our President & First Lady so that their bodies overcome this awful disease. We thank you.”

It worked, the Trumps survived.

Lou Barletta does not have COVID and from all reports has not had the virus. He is working full-time to win the nomination and the governorship.

Other than Donald Trump himself, nobody would serve the people of Pennsylvania any better than Lou Barletta. Who better to replace the ineffective and hypocritical Tom Wolf, whose strange and sick marching orders still come directly from Nancy Pelosi.

in 2022, in your heart, you already know that Lou Barletta is the best choice as Pennsylvania's governor. Lou Barletta and Donald Trump are political friends. Barletta is actually a Trump-like persona. He is sharp, courageous and he is all American. He is just what Pennsylvania needs for its recovery from the Democrat authoritarianism of Tom Wolfe.

Like others in life—you and I if we speak against them—the former President quickly became a Democrat target and he was cheated out of his serenity by the constant blaring of the fake issues of the day and the manufactured problems such as Russia, Russia, Russia and the Mueller investigation. Did I mention the two impeachment attempts?

When Democrats amass power, they turn up their cheating machine, which is always at the ready. They are very good at it with lots of experience. I am not telling you anything new. They will, for example, lie to your face to prove that you don't need police. Then they will blame their idea of eliminating police from America s on the Republicans. What's a little blame shifting? Don't believe their lies.

When Trump was in office, he did not believe them but he was constantly barraged and attacked by Democrat bullies throughout his whole term of office. They were cleverly in league with the media. In four years, Trump did not get a moment's peace. They continually hounded him because they were out to get him—no other reason – despite what the purported purpose may have been. It was always a grudge match.

There was no other cause. They are vicious. They will be coming for Lou Barletta soon. Dear people of Pennsylvania, please do not believe them because they lie and lie again to help convince you of their sincerity. .

We have witnessed how the former president was cheated without even the benefit of a Supreme Court hearing. We learned in the first 100 days of his new presidency that Joe Biden is a terrible president. What an agenda. "Do the opposite of Trump!" How's that working out for America—not too well!

It has been just seven months for Biden in office. The press and the White House are covering up for all of Biden's gaffe's and the country is in the worst shape it has been since James Buchanan, Lincoln's predecessor, who is generally considered to be the worst president ever for his poor leadership in the build-up to the Civil War.

Democrats are very interested in controlling Pennsylvania so expect them to be coming after Lou Barletta with both barrels if they can find a candidate. Wait until you see the puff pieces from the press on whoever is the Democrat candidate for governor. Try not to get too sick and do not believe a word.

To add to the Buchanan story, remember he was a Democrat and that says a lot. It took Lincoln, a conservative Republican to correct what Buchanan had wrought on the country. Buchanan was a Democrat, well endowed with legal knowledge and experience in government. Like most Democrats who gain power, he lacked the soundness of judgment and he lacked a conciliatory personality to deal effectively with the slavery crisis and failed to avert the American Civil War (1861–65). Sounds a lot like Wolf, Schumer, and Pelosi, doesn't it.

Having Biden as president is a big albatross on the country. It is like asking the leader of the free world, whoever it may be, a to wear a blindfold and a hearing block and to tie his arms behind his back and then go about their business.

It may even be worse than that.

When Biden makes mistakes and he makes dozens of mistakes every day, they are doozies. Because of Biden's cognitive and other disabilities, he should step down for the good of America. He cannot function and it shows when he is asked to speak extemporaneously. .

Even Trump haters now miss Trump's decisions and his decisiveness. For all of his weaknesses, as echoed constantly by the corrupt media, effective decision making was not one of them. Putting Biden on the world stage is a detriment to the security of the nation. Tom Wolf killed thousands in nursing homes by ineffective leadership. At least he appeared to have his senses in check.

Unlike Biden, Tom Wolf at least made his many errors in judgment with full cognition. With Wolf, the last thing the people would need is for him to find a term limit loophole and for him to be "baaaaaack." When Wolf is finally gone, Lou Barletta is the best person to stop all the bad stuff in PA for all of us. Lou Barletta will save Pennsylvania from Democrats that had set out to destroy the state and the country simultaneously and they darn near did.

The tricks do not always work

After a short while, Obama began to give me a sour stomach. I tried all the cures but it would not go away. I have a feeling the Democrat's Barletta attacks will do the same. The Democrats first volley v Lou Barletta has been fired. They are already badmouthing him. He is a great candidate despite Democrat leadership fearing him as the best opportunity to put a Republican in the governor's office.

I can already see the heightened accentuation of anything close to negative so they can blow it up into a potential issue. For example every article on the Barletta candidacy repeats that Barletta lost to the Casey name. When the facts are not on their side, you know that they will create the facts they need from thin air to further darken what they say about Barletta. That is their game. Be aware and do not believe them.

They also did bad stuff to Trump and Mitt Romney, who most conservatives once liked at one time. It is all they know. The people of Pennsylvania are not stupid. They saw what Wolf did to the state and I am sure the voters are not ready to rust another Democrat until they drop their notions of Critical Race Theory, Defund the Police, the Green New Deal and Forever Election Corruption. .

Mitt Romney in the end was a bad candidate. Look at him today and that statement needs no explanation. His shenanigans in the recent past reinforce most conservative's belief that he would have been a very poor president. We were spared but had to endure Obama for an extra four years. A better candidate would have defeated Obama.

We might not have noticed much of a difference if he got elected as Romney stands for nothing other than his own advancement in life. George Bush Jr was not so great a president. I might say that I liked Obama better than Romney but upon reflection, I need a little more time to think about that.

As a Democrat, when Barack Obama beat "Milk Toast" Mitt Romney in 2008's presidential election, though I voted for Romney, I was not too terribly upset that Obama had won his first term. Like everybody else, I knew little about Obama, but he seemed to be quite eloquent in his speech and did not appear to have a racial axe to grind.

He talked about a post racial period. Boy, was I wrong! Obama was a closet racist. He won't admit it himself. The 44th President did not care for whitey so his harping about White Supremacy with Biden now in charge is no surprise.

Lou Barletta not only looks squeaky clean; he is squeaky clean but for the same kind of mistakes you and I make every day. If you begin to hear raunchy stories or bad slants on Barletta in the fake news media, remember that when the Democrats cannot find anything, they create the “news”. We call it fake news. They are relentless.

Before ascending to the presidency, the two-year Senator from Illinois had not distinguished himself in his political career either positively or negatively. Moreover, being a Community Organizer registered a who-cares on the importance scale.

Mr. Obama could talk up a storm and he did, but overall, he seemed like he would be an apolitical man in office who would preside fairly over America. He was a good bull thrower and he threw a lot of it. He got a lot of TV time—so much that he gave the public Obama fatigue. Soon he got caught up in racism and keeping whites in their places, and he too fell into the Democrat routine of lying when necessary or just for the heck of it.

I was not concerned initially. I did wonder however. What the heck is a community organizer? Now I know and the definition itself was a harbinger of negative things to come.

From my eyes at the time before his nomination, but I am white, I did not observe any blatant racism problem in the country for Obama to solve. I felt that the Obama presidency would really be post-racial. He fooled me. He fooled all of us. He was the master of chicanery and doublespeak.

Like I said, Obama was not my choice but I was encouraged at his idea of a post-racial America. I figured finally the race war of the 1860’s was behind us. The Negro slaves won that one with the help of the Union Army as I recall. Obama won this one with the help of the Democrat Party and a wimpy Mitt Romney..

I was happy that our go at life at the turn of the 21st century was not like when we had those nasty race riots back in the 1960's when I was a kid. Things had gotten lots better in America. I was pleased that with a man, half white and half black, who identified as a "black" president, also understood the white world.

With the stuff he got from his mother's side, we could finally put all of the ill-will about race from the past behind us. Surely there would be good times ahead. I really believed that. Wrong! Buzz! Wrong!

My biggest surprise was that a "black man" would be so obviously biased on behalf of the black population. Obama was not good for black America and he set the US back a bit on race relations with that one. I knew that God had not told him to be that way. I was shocked to find President Obama to be so obviously one-sided in favor of blacks. He never admitted hating whitey but his rounding errors were always in that direction.

My first glimpse of the President's innate bias was well on display when on July 16, 2009, Harvard University professor Henry Louis Gates Jr. was arrested at his Cambridge, Massachusetts, home by local police officer Sgt. James Crowley. It got worse after that. Even the Beer Summit did not change me back to thinking he was really post-racial. I had him pegged from then on as a racial bigot.

We had Obamacare and a crushed economy. We never recovered from the great recession. Life was on its way almost preparing the country for needing a good leader. I was surprised that Obama won a second term. Things kept getting worse and America's leadership in the world was on trial.

I soon learned that whites had little chance in the new "post-racial" Obama presidency. I looked in the mirror and a white guy was staring back at me. From my eyes, race relations were Obama's first failure as president. I quickly learned that I could not trust him to do the right thing for America. I was very disappointed for eight years when I realized he was just another lying politician.

From my eyes, things in general, not just race, got worse, not better. Yet unlike Hillary Clinton and her coterie, I accepted his presidency and wished him well to the extent our goals were in sync.

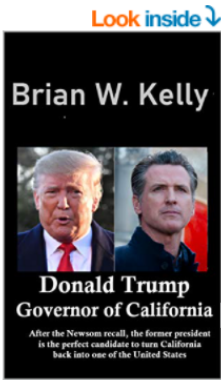

After having a sour stomach for eight years, when Hillary Clinton promised four more years of Obama, when she chose to take her turn as president, the pain in my gut came back. I knew that I would do whatever I could to help somebody else become president no matter who it might be. I had had my fill. But, I never rioted or suggested that President Obama be impeached. Democrats never miss an opportunity to hurt somebody when they table turns.

Donald Trump was not my favorite in the beginning, but he soon became my favorite as I learned that he would not be pushed around by anybody. I like to recall my reaction to Trump when I finally understood him as a breath of fresh air. I was beginning to think that the age of reasonable, human presidents had ended with Reagan.

To support him in his candidacy, in addition to sending in some checks and attending rallies, I wrote at least ten books and a number of letters to the editor in support of the Trump presidency. I gave my books away to anybody who wanted one and brought them to biker rallies such as the one held above Scranton, in Dalton PA. The bikers liked my books. The price was surely right.

At this rally sponsored by Chris Cox and the Bikers for Trump, I put a bunch of books out for the taking to help the cause. My most popular Trump for president book was about 240 pages and it was titled Why Trump? Another book called, "We Love Trump," came several books after God Gave US Donald Trump !!!"

It is one of a number of follow-ups to that very popular book. By the way, my last Trump book from September 2020 is titled, "Trump Assured 2020 Victory." In this book I outlined a sure way for the President to get reelected. Then of course I wrote the precursor book to this book titled, Donald J Trump: Governor of California. Of course I had not expected his presidential election to be stolen"

In 2016, to show how I really felt about the Trump candidacy and to help others see things differently than what appeared to be the original and continuing drive-by-media thinking, I sent a letter to the local paper, The Citizens' Voice. I titled it God gave us Donald Trump. This letter is shown on my web site.

It is short and crisp and I learn something each time I read the letter I sent. After that little piece ran in the Citizens' Voice, nobody had to guess which candidate I was endorsing.

Like many others, I welcomed a change to times in which America was heralded and not put down. I longed for a period in which the Democrat Party and its minions would not parade around the world apologizing for America and Americans. Trump brought those longings to fruition. No apologies for America – America first!

As I saw Donald Trump, mostly on the US stage, giving his speeches and rallies and talking about making America great again, I was very encouraged. Believing him, was like believing the Gospel, the word of God, according to one of the four evangelists. For four years, I smiled each time I woke up and the period of Trump went on from November 8, 2016.

Of course, we had a terrible stolen election in which the state of PA was a key player. It took place on November 3, 2020 and afterwards in a number of states there was turmoil. Lou Barletta as governor of our state will add respect and discipline so that the Keystone State will never again be part of another stolen election. You'll see! .e

I wrote a book about it and then added two more chapters after it was initially published. The book is shown below titled Stolen Election. Chapter 13 was written to show that VP Pence really had a choice and Chapter 14 was written to reflect Peter Navarro's Volume 3 titled Yes, Trump Won.

See the book(s) on Amazon in the form shown below. The Supreme Court wimped about on America and I gave them a tongue lashing in my new hit book, SCOTUS ELIMINATUS. Who needs a Supreme Court that won't take important cases.

Now I ask God on behalf of all Americans to make our former president receptive to taking the next four years to get stronger.

I will help as much as I can. He could have kept his executive skills sharpened by making California a real part of the country again. But, I am not worried because his replacement, Larry Elder has similar skills and will do a fine job. Lou Barletta is destined for the same great things in Pennsylvania.

How do you feel? Pennsylvania is too important and too prosperous to leave its fate to anybody else. Lou Barletta is my man on the scene and I am sticking to my guns, And, then just a year from now, we will get a conservative Congress and in a few more years, Trump will be our President again.

Most real people do what they do, believing they will be OK and their families will always be OK. The Democrats in power and the intelligent regular people Democrats who I know, stick by CNN. That means unfortunately, that they get no news and lies when they hear from CNN.

They realize it I think, at least unconsciously, but they do not admit that they hear lies all the time. They believe every word and they argue without facts that their slimy Party is more important than the country—aka, the USA.

They actually present a case that the people who want babies to live and who do not lie about current events are the bad guys. CNN told them to hate Trump with no rationale. Ask them why they hate Trump so much and then test their lies if they even give you an answer.

Pennsylvania has a way out in September. The way out has a name. Lou Barletta. .

Chapter 12 Is There Too Much Hate in America?

America could really use a dose of Trump Love:

In a book about Lou Barletta, rescuing Pennsylvania from current itself, we can quickly conclude that the Democrat Party has not shown much love for anybody other than itself. What about love? I thought I would begin with a little something that for a long-time was much easier to find than love. I am talking about pure unadulterated Trump Hate. In the articles written about Barletta so far, the hate has already begun to flow at him and will soon be coming at him full force from Democrat Marxists and their cohorts in the media in the Keystone state. Pennsylvania's 20 electoral votes are so important to the Democrats winning America, Barletta can expect his share of jabs from the national press.

Such hate is well known in Pennsylvania, California, and throughout the nation for the preachers of the gospel according to CNN. Most real preachers and ministers and priests who are tuned in against the CNN gospel would call CNN's preaching, lies. They are mostly bold-faced unequivocal lies.

I think about America's issues all the time and Trump HATE has been a bad issue for a very long time—from the moment Trump came down the escalator. Barletta hate is just starting and more will be coming soon but like Trump, Lou Barletta, himself must ignore the perpetrators. He has the spirit, like Trump, to persevere. He knows what he wants for Pennsylvania is exactly the right medicine. It is in fact, the only cure for Pennsylvania and Lou Barletta is the right Medicine Man. t

We all know that even now, with Trump out of office, the corrupt media keeps the embers alive so they have a straw man in the form of Trump, though temporarily, to help them keep the people upset. Despite their venom, this man, Donald J. Trump has done more for them than lying CNN would ever permit them to believe.

When the Dems stoke up the fire on Lou Barletta, it will seem like déjà vu because it will be a repeat of their attacks on the former president. Like the former chief executive, Lou Barletta can handle the heat. He is built for it.

Hate is way too pervasive in the US today because of the corrupt one-sided Democrat-aligned media. They have aligned with the Democrats and do not present a fair picture. The Dem controlled government now has a set of thugs in big tech to which they are affixed and aligned. It's like they have their own unpaid army which soon will be released in full force against candidate Lou Barletta along with the normal media. If Lou's word begins to reach the people of PA, Mr. Barletta can expect to be de-platformed any day now. Watch that prediction.

I was so concerned about too much hate in US life especially v Trump that I wrote a book about that topic in November 2019, a little less than two years ago. See Amazon's ad for it on the next page.

My sister-in law Diane Ashford Kelly, a very smart lady saw the reality. For years, she did not care for Republicans even though she married one. Then, out of nowhere, she switched to Republican in 2015. Why?

She had had enough. She listened to Donald Trump and she wanted to be part of the Make America Great Again movement. She said she wanted to be able to vote for Trump in the Republican primary in PA with no impediments. She breathes the same fumes as all of us Trump supporters since that time.

IMHO, Only the Democrats whose dads said never vote for a Republican choose today to accept with no reservations the guano for news and facts that Democrats are now spewing out daily at Americans with a different point of view. That's all that it takes—a different point of view.

Trump Hate:

By
Brian W. Kelly

They Hate Trump Supporters;
Trump; & God—In That Order.

The people have had enough!

The hateful impeachment of Donald Trump began long before he was elected. The left wants him gone, period. Trump hammers back at the political establishment & they hate him for his success.

Here is the cover of the book I wrote hoping to stop or diminish the hate in America. Here is the book's URL at Amazon followed by its subtitle:

They Hate Trump Supporters; Trump; & God—In That Order.

To show the animus to Trump, the well-wish of well-wishes for his safe recovery from COVID last year came from a former Obama Staffer: “I Hope He Dies!” I am not kidding. She tweeted and then deleted this short rant after Trump's positive COVID Diagnosis. In this book we cover Trump's brush with death and COVID.

Here is the Trump Hate book's URL:

<https://www.amazon.com//dp/B081BCW9BC>

That's all she wrote. We're all thankful for that!

Sweet??? Now, that is a lot of hate. Ironically the former Party of the people, my party, the Democrats are now the Party of Hate. You can bet that they are whipping up a batch of hatebrew just for Larry Elder.

Hard as it is to believe a staff member to former President Barack Obama deleted that tweet (shown above) about a year ago, after suggesting that she hoped President Donald Trump died shortly after his announcement that he had tested positive for the novel coronavirus. Her name is Zara Rahim. That my friends is hate, do you agree?

Others did likewise but those of us who have some goodness in our hearts, believe their wishes are against God's command of love. This young "lady" worked in the Office of Digital Strategy for Obama, as well as serving as the national spokeswoman for Hillary Clinton in her 2016 presidential campaign. She added this preamble:

"It's been against my moral identity to tweet this for the past four years, but, I hope he dies," This was the content of Rahim's since-deleted tweet." What a sweet-heart???

Speak your mind but let others speak theirs!

They're really sick folks!

Lou Barletta for Governor of Pennsylvania.

Chapter 13 God Gave the People Trump & Barletta to Lead

Trump & Barletta Share the Podium

Does God make mistakes?

If not God, then who gave the people Donald J. Trump

Who is now giving the people of Pennsylvania Lou Barletta?

It sure ‘n heck ain’t the devil.

God has always had a lot planned for President Trump but he had to let Trump get rid of his teenage moxie first, just like he gives us all that chance. Democrats think Trump still has not gotten rid of all his teenage moxie but what do they know? Remember he without sin should throw the first stone. It is amazing how few rocks would be thrown if today's haters practiced some sobriety on the hate front.

God invented confession for Catholics because he knew he had made humans with imperfections. Since God knows we are not perfect that is why he grants forgiveness. Everybody knows what bad is, right? If you are too dumb to not know that, I would recommend going to a lockdown state somehow someplace for the rest of your life.

God decided when he gave COVID-19 to President Trump, that he would also make him better—and soon. After having made the president well from the virus in a very short time, we were all looking for God to step in again to guide the big Trump ship to victory after victory with no more stolen elections to set us back. That is in our future. But it did not happen in 2020. Be careful in PA because the corrupt residue is still in office. Republicans all must pay attention to the wily Democrats or be beaten again through fraud and cheating.

Here is a little something to remember. God is not Mr. Instantaneous. Everything in due time. This too shall pass. One day America will be healed but not without the participation of the good people of the country. Right now, Pennsylvania and even California must do their part in the process. Drop the hate. Let's all get on the Larry Elder train and let's win one for the great people of the Golden State. After we take that Ride, let's hop on the Lou Barletta train to freedom for the Keystone State. No more lockdowns! If you think you can't, you are always right. If you think you can; you may very well find success at the next corner.

We prayed that God would make our president well in 2020 and he did exactly that in record time. Now, we need the Lord to direct another emissary, Lou Barletta, towards a different set of accomplishments—a victory in Pennsylvania in 2022 and then assistance in returning the Keystone State to its rightful place as a vital part of the United States of America--again. Meanwhile, God is preparing Donald Trump for his ultimate win—a victory as the 47th president of the United States.

Only those who choose not to see, cannot see what is happening today with all the hate for this man. Soon they will come after Lou Barletta. Barletta is a lot like Trump. For example, he is against critical race theory and he is for Trump-style border security and he thinks the left's push for acceptance of the white supremacy notion is an even greater evil than most of their ridiculous ideology. But he thinks white supremacy is going nowhere because it is not true and because the people are sick of being duped by Democrats.

Regular white people, who are now the targets for the far left slanders by being labeled White Supremacists, know they are just regular people without such negative bias. They won't be duped just because they are white. There is no reason at all for a white person minding his or her business to feel guilt.

Speaking of being duped, folks, do not let the Marxists on the far left and Democratic Party leaders speak for you. The left hates America. They hate your independent, unauthorized thoughts. None of their venom makes sense to regular people. The love in America today comes from the right!. Take your pick. Would God prefer love or hate for one of his creatures?

So, today for the halibut and a refresher on what I had written in 2016, I went back to the Wilkes-Barre Citizen's Voice Newspaper Archives and I found my most favorite letter to the editor that I had sent two months before the 2016 election. I am glad God heard my prayer. I am going to have to come up with another letter to the editor to support Lou Barletta's gubernatorial campaign.

I asked God to hear my prayers again in 2020 along with all the people's prayers as the president's health needed God's touch. God answers prayers in his own time. The fact that Biden is the president does not mean our prayers have not been answered along the way, even though we have seen minimal action yet. Remember it was God Who invented time.

And, so, of course we need the Lord to bring us another four years of Donald J. Trump at the national level as soon as possible. That will be much more accomplishable with Lou Barletta leading one of the largest states in the nation through its needed recovery.

We will get both Trump and Barletta because we will persevere in our efforts to win. Yes, God works in strange ways from our perspective sometimes. God is good but he did permit villains to disrupt the truth in the election of November 3, 2020. But we will see that was only a temporary setback.

God will not sit by idly next time. I believe that God wants Trump to be the President but he would have been fine with a Trump temporary stop at the Governor's mansion at 526 H St, Sacramento, CA 95814. Larry Elder is now filling in for the Trump mission in California.

Lou Barletta, like Trump is an altruist and a friend of the Lord. Lou has inherited God's wish for a clean and prosperous Pennsylvania. God has now entrusted this task to Lou Barletta. Let's make the most of the opportunity and elect Lou as the Governor of Pennsylvania. Now, let's each consider what may be the plan of The Lord.

Perhaps you will enjoy this email to the paper as much as I enjoyed writing it and then rereading it. Those who stand still when they have the chance to act in God's favor often regret their inaction. I am tickled and proud of myself that despite seemingly popular sentiments, I was inspired to write this brief piece in 2016 and I send it along now so others can read it. It applies to Lou Barletta in Pennsylvania also just as it was written in 2016 for Trump.

If I could only open some hearts along the way, perhaps we could diffuse some of the hate from the Democrats and the far left. Are they not the same today? After all, we are all Americans and thus we should all be for everything that is best for America.

Here is the note that I sent:

LETTER TO THE EDITOR / PUBLISHED: SEPTEMBER 11, 2016
WB CITIZENS Voice

There are many billionaires who want things their way on taxes and they figure they will benefit if their lobbyists get to the right politician. Donald Trump is actually running for office as a billionaire. He does not need a job. Yet, he is investing a lot of time in America. He does not need it. But, if he is successful, his kids will grow up in America and he wants it to be the finest country of any possible country ever. Bravo, Donald Trump.

Mr. Trump wants it to be like the America as founded by honest founders. Donald Trump is intrinsically honest. He may round up on some issues in his favor but he is not corrupt. He wants his kids to love him and respect him just like you want your kids to think of you.

We are only on Earth for a short time. Why should we not do our best? I love that Donald Trump, a billionaire who needs me like a hole in the head, thinks I matter. He thinks you matter. He thinks America matters. He thinks God matters. He is right on all points. Unlike you and me, he has the means and the opportunity to really show God and his family what a good man he really is.

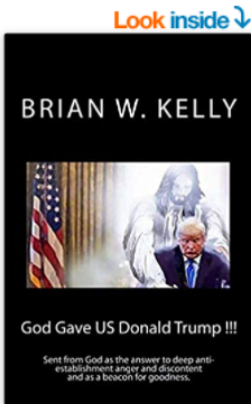

We have been waiting for you, Mr. Trump, since Ronald Reagan left us. God gave us Donald Trump. I am convinced that it is up to us to make him our president. We did not know how bad the Bushes were until they went into their recent crying tantrum because they lost. We just know that they were not too good when they had the power. Donald Trump is bombastic, arrogant when he knows he is right, and he is often inartful in his speech when he is upset. However, he, like my father, is a very good man.

I welcome the opportunity to cast my vote for him. I thank God for the opportunity.

Brian W. Kelly

Here are few pictures that I think capture the moment when God decided that Trump was his man. I am also showing the cover of the book titled God Gave Us Donald Trump so you get the true feeling of how convinced I was that God was definitely in play in the 2016 election.

Chapter 14 The Best Governor in the United States

After Lou Barletta gets elected and has a term under his belt as Pennsylvania governor, and after Larry Elder does the same in California, the story might change. But right now, it is clear that Ron DeSantis is the best governor in America.

Ron DeSantis is also a good man and that sole intrinsic quality guides him in his many victories for the good of the people. Ron DeSantis is also a powerful man with a powerful physique but he does not flaunt it. He is a military patriot. He is still a great athlete who played top level ball for an Ivy League school. Moreover, everything I see points to Mr. DeSantis as a great father. That I expect is the badge of honor he enjoys the most.

Ron DeSantis needs all of his strength to do his job. Governor DeSantis fends off arrows continually from jealous blue state politicians and the main-stream media. They can't beat him in deeds so they try besmirching him with their angry deceitful lying words but words alone will not take him out. The American public is not about to cancel Ron DeSantis.

Because he serves the people in the fashion of Donald J. Trump, a rare official for sure, and because he makes all Democrats look silly if not plain old bad, the main-stream corrupt press hates him almost as much as they hate Trump. Soon they will be showing their hate and major disdain for Lou Barletta, the leading candidate for governor in PA. They have already shown hate for Larry Elder another potentially new governor who is favored in California's Recall Election. They tried to deny Elder the right to run in the Recall Election but a fair California Judge shot their attempts down.

Can you imagine all the positive things that Tom Wolf, Joe Biden Nancy Pelosi, Chuck Schumer, and others could do if they took their minds off the hate for a while and concentrated on doing good for the people who trust them to do their best for them?

I like to say that Ron DeSantis, the well-loved Governor of Florida by most Floridians, will one day be president of the United States of America. Look for DeSantis in 2028. Would he not make a great VP in 2024? Lou Barletta will be a two-term governor before he turns his eyes onto the national scene again. Watch for Barletta for something if he thinks he can help the people in 2030.

I have already discussed the other two. DeSantis is one of the two other new good guys heading for their respective governor's mansions. They are destined to be as good as governors as Ron DeSantis using the Trump-proven methodology. I am of course speaking about Lou Barletta of Pennsylvania and Larry Elder of California.

Lou Barletta's grades as governor of Pennsylvania and Larry Elder's grades as governor of California will certainly be similar to Ron DeSantis's grades as governor of Florida. DeSantis passes all positive expectations with an Outstanding Exceeds grade. In many ways he is firm like President Trump, He uses his own mind to make major decisions, and he is for the people. How can you not like him.

He is like a younger Trump. Larry Elder will govern California as Ron DeSantis governs Florida. Lou Barletta will likewise govern Pennsylvania as Ron DeSantis governs Florida. The US is going to have some great governors for sure.

Whereas in almost all counties in Florida, the state is open and thriving, kids are in school, and masks are optional, Gavin Newsom's California is closed. Most schooling in PA has been conducted at home on Zoom. Barletta believes in the best education possible and will have all the schools open. He wants kids in the classroom regardless of what the Teachers' Unions want. Taxpayers do not pay taxes to support the teachers' union. Taxpayers are for the children, period.

Kids cannot attend school in California right now because Teacher Unions support Newsom and his Critical Race Theory crap. In Pennsylvania the school districts listen to the governor. Lou Barletta will make education a priority and not permit our children to languish as Tom Wolf has ordered.

Besides that, Wolf and Newsom have implemented one silly regulation after another with which small businesses must cope. Many cannot come back after COVID because in many ways, Newsom still has California in a lockdown and Wolf has not made it completely OK in PA to get out of lockdown mode. How about masks for two year old's? How about wearing masks at restaurants?

Tom Wolf is more like Newsom than DeSantis. In March 2020 for example he issued a sweeping shutdown order to tens of thousands of non-life-sustaining businesses, decreeing they must close their physical locations by 8 p.m. to slow the spread of the coronavirus or face enforcement by state police and other government agencies. How does a business survive with rules such as that? Wolf does not care. Barletta does. Care.

Wolf was slow to let up on his lockdowns and many of the businesses he closed will never reopen. Lou Barletta will be a DeSantis disciple regarding assuring the success of PA businesses.

Oh, Newsom definitely gets his share of the booty from big tech and he takes care of them back. Tom Wolf covers his tracks and never complains about big tech, Big tech rewards its friends like Marxist's Newsom and Wolf while spitting on conservative thought and they de-platform free thinkers who see the Marxist progressive orthodoxy for what it is—the death of America.

Ron DeSantis took on Big Tech in Florida and so far he is winning. Because Big Tech is headquartered in California, Governor Elder will have more of an opportunity to thwart the corrupt practices of these billionaire monopolistic oligarchs. Barletta will enact legislation similar to DeSantis' curbs on big tech as deployed in Florida. DeSantis is a good model from which he, Elder, and Barletta are destined to be brothers of a common cause – eliminate the bad effects of big tech censorship and let freedom reign.

Ron DeSantis was at CPAC recently but VP Pence was not there and I am happy about that. From my perspective Pence is not welcome among conservatives after messing with the battleground states despite their pleas during the stolen election.

Stolen Election?: Democrats say: “fair and just;” Republican cowards surrender to Democrats

Paperback – January 12, 2021

by Brian W Kelly (Author)

The facts show that Democrats believe nothing unless CNN & all the liberal media outlets tells them it is so. Have you heard one true story about election fraud and corruption executed by the bad actors in the corrupt battle ground states of Arizona, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nevada, Georgia, & Wisconsin? Yes, I know the picture on the front-cover is not 2020. If you found that, you will enjoy the book. Surely, unless you get your news from CNN, you know that in December, the State of Read more

Folks, we all feel a lot differently than last year. Why? Because under Biden, this is a different country without Trump at the helm and it is not different in a good way. Reports are that 55% of the people do not like how things are going under Biden. Even stolen elections! Democrats prohibit public discussions of the election fraud and they use big tech as the enforcer thugs to get their way. See the Amazon ads for my latest books above and below. See the Amazon ads for my book on Ron DeSantis—best governor in the nation below.

Here we are working on the one-year anniversary of the most corrupt election of all time. We now know that we are stuck with an inept Congress made powerful by voiceless (by choice) RINO Republicans. Conservatives and those like us who believe in personal values—you and I—are talking about how to stop Biden from ruining the country. Heck if Biden knew how to stop himself from ruining America, he might even do it himself. But he has no clue. And I am not so optimistic to think he or his administration would care even if they were awake. Or is it WOKE!

Ron DeSantis: The Best United States Governor: Ron DeSantis is to Governors what Donald Trump is to Presidents—The Best! Paperback – February 21, 2021

by Brian W Kelly (Author)

amazon.com/dp/1951562534

Ron DeSantis is to Governors what Donald Trump is to Presidents—The Best! Some say Governor Ron DeSantis is the best governor ever. Others admit he is the best current governor in the United States of America. Why? Like Trump, DeSantis has more than delivered on the promises that he made to Floridians upon taking office in January, 2018. He tackles the issues that are important to Floridians and the well-being of the state, and does it

Unfortunately spirit is not as high as it should be in the Republican ranks because the RINO Republicans in Congress, but for a few, are not even making a peep about disagreeing with EO (Executive Order) Joe.

Mitch McConnell has re-positioned himself as the guy everybody thought he always was—a piece of guano. Trump had given the Turtle a nice facelift, dressed him up and gave his wife a job but Mitch scraped off the makeup to find his true Democrat RINO skin underneath. He then lashed out at real conservatives who support our last real president.

Why would Mitch McConnell do such a thing. Yes, I have the answer. He is the soulless reincarnation of a new form of a Tin Man. Mitch has a heart because he needs it to pump blood to stay alive, but he has no soul because lousy people can get by without a soul until they die. Mitch McConnell is a stinking lousy person. There, I said it.

Crowds shout “We Love You” at Presidential Rally

Like many of you, I love President Trump and I liked him better when he was officially in office. The next election for President is a bit more than three years away, but I think when we solve the election problems in the battleground states and everywhere else, Florida's governor, should run for President only if President Trump decides not to run on his own. It helps to repeat that message.

We are not dead. We are very alive and Governor DeSantis is a prime mover in our efforts to gain the top spot again. He would be a great VEEP and I heard the job is available. See what I think of the supreme Court on the next page:

SCOTUS ELIMINATUS!: No country needs a Supreme Court that refuses to hear critical cases! Eliminate SCOTUS ASAP!

Paperback – January 28, 2021

by Brian W Kelly (Author)

amazon.com/dp/1951562518

Many just recently came to the conclusion that we really do not need a do-nothing Supreme Court. Save budget $$ now & send them home. The Supremes may have been afflicted by a Big Tech

As I already pointed out, DeSantis would be a great VEEP. From my perspective Pence is too risky to trust. I don't even want him at CPAC. I can't stand looking at him. He was not there when we needed him. He had his chance. The facts Pence used fir somebody's narrative but they were not good for him, Trump, or the country.

See my book, Stolen Election. There is an Amazon ad a few pages back for it. Pence failed us as VP. Who needs him now? Ron DeSantis would be a great one term VEEP and then he would definitely be our elected president.

Heck, the Supreme Court was petrified to take the cases because as Chief Justice Roberts tells us He did not want radicals marching on the homes of the Supreme Court Justices. If we knew who bullied Roberts into submission, we could impeach him. Now we simply would be happy with him stepping down.

Roberts is missing the intestinal fortitude of Lou Barletta, Larry Elder, & Ron DeSantis. That is a certainty

Chapter 15 Lou Barletta for Governor of Pennsylvania

A Pennsylvania Priority

Thank you for reading this book to learn about what a great governor Lou Barletta will be as soon as we elect him.

My name is Brian Kelly. I have been your guide / author through your journey to learn about how Lou Barletta will make Pennsylvania a state of, by, and for the people.

I have been a registered Democrat all my life. But I have grown sick of Democrat leadership and their ignorance towards the common man and their disdain for our police so I am giving my full support to Lou Barletta.

You and I both know people who were once staunch Democrats, who changed parties because they want leaders who are proud of our great country, work towards America first policies and want to put a stop to the government overreach we have experienced this past year.

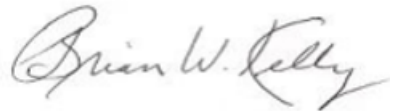

I am supporting Lou because he will stand up against the Marxist philosophies of the Left that wish to turn us into a welfare state.

My father was a Teamster working for the Stegmaier Brewery in Wilkes-Barre for 31 years. Before he passed away, he and I both remembered when the Democrats were the party of the people. No longer! They have forgotten about the little guy, while Lou has always made it a priority to pay attention to blue collar workers.

They rarely work anymore for the worker or the common man. We are the workers and we are regular people in Pennsylvania today and we must tell the Democrat Leadership that enough is enough. The way that we do that is to keep them out of office.

Lou Barletta is a man from humble beginnings-- of the people and as governor, you can bet he will be for the people. We have to get him elected folks. That's why I ask you to join me in supporting Lou Barletta for Governor.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Brian W. Kelly". The ink is dark and the signature is fluid and legible.

Lou Barletta Enters Pennsylvania GOP Stakes for Governor. Best Wishes to Lou!!!

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE TRAIL

Lou enjoyed speaking to the PA Republican Caucus of County Commissioners in Hershey this past week (8/6/2021). As a former mayor, Lou understands the frustrations when local officials' concerns fall on deaf ears. Lou looks forward to working closely with County Commissioners across PA when he becomes governor!

If you're not having fun on the campaign trail, is it really a true grassroots campaign?
