Stolen Election?

Democrats say: “fair and just;” Republican cowards surrender to Democrats

The facts show that Democrats believe nothing unless CNN & all the liberal media outlets tell them it is so. Have you heard one true story about election fraud and corruption executed by the bad actors in the corrupt battle ground states of Arizona, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nevada, Georgia, & Wisconsin? Yes, I know the picture on the front-cover is not 2020. If you found that, you will enjoy the book.

Surely, unless you get your news from CNN, you know that in December, the State of Texas challenged results in Georgia, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Wisconsin because of corruption but the chicken-hearted high court scaredy-cats were too afraid of Antifa and BLM to take the case so they claimed that Texas did not have standing to bring the case. Bulldinky!

The four states that Texas sued clearly used unconstitutional means to steal the election for Biden and it affected every citizen of the US in every state. Moreover, if the Supremes took the case, they would have discovered enough fraud to overturn the elections in all four states giving Trump more than the 270 electoral votes as necessary for the win. The Supremes protected their own butts by making no decision. They punted leaving America in the lurch. We do not need chickens in the Supreme Court. We are better off with Turkeys than lily livered chickens.

Pennsylvania Republican lawmakers whose observers were excluded from observing after extensive analysis found “troubling” discrepancies. These were widely reported. Democrats were happy with the results and remained MIA in the foray. There were discrepancies between the numbers of total votes counted and total number of voters who voted in the 2020 election. This is an impossibility yet it stands. One must ask how the results could have been certified by Pennsylvania’s Governor Tom Wolf and Secretary of the Commonwealth Kathy Boockvar. Heck, they won. That explains it.

Attorney Sidney Powell explained what went down in PA on Election night. “The very night of the election many people saw something they had never seen before in the history of our elections. They saw votes being changed on the screen in front of them, going from President Trump to Mr. Biden. Life in America will never be the same if this goes without a stand. Biden is not the president.

The overriding recommendation in this book is for conservatives to use leftist playbooks and play like Biden is not the president. He is not our president. Then, every Republican in Congress and the Senate who turned his back on conservatives needs to be replaced in the primary. We need to replace RINOS with patriotic Americans. The time has come for America to create the American MAGA Party

I appreciate all the help I have received in putting this book together. as well as all of my other 263 other published books.

My printed acknowledgments had become so large that book readers "complained" about going through too many pages to get to page one of the text.

And, so to permit me more flexibility, I put my acknowledgment list online, and it continues to grow. Believe it or not, it once cost about a dollar more to print each book.

Thank you and God bless you all for your help.

Preface

Pennsylvania Republican lawmakers and those in all battleground states, whose observers were excluded from observing the vote count, after extensive analysis, found “troubling” discrepancies. That unfortunately is a big understatement. At least 74,000,000 plus Americans who have been paying attention know that the election was stolen by overzealous government employees who wanted to assure a Biden victory by all means possible. Many analysts say that with a fair vote count without Dominion voting machines, Trump’s total would have been far in excess of 80 million.

The problems were widely reported but nobody in the secret counting chambers manned mostly by Democrats who were pleased to pull off the ballot heist, seemed to care. May I repeat that Democrats had one objective—to defeat President Trump and so right or wrong, honest or dishonest, they were happy with the results. And, so, they remained MIA in the foray and they are MIA still today other than to seek impeachment. But, soon on January 20, it will be too late to use the 25th amendment or to initiate impeachment proceedings because, as hard as it is for me to say, Joe Biden will have been inaugurated as president.

The Democrats saw it as a miracle that there were more votes cast than the total number of voters who voted in the 2020. “No problem here.” And they saw no issue whenever a spare vote was found, that somehow, it was always a vote for Biden. Great luck!

There was no question that the results would be certified by Pennsylvania’s “honest” Governor Tom Wolf and their “honest” Secretary of the Commonwealth Kathy Boockvar. Heck, they won fair and square.

That explains it. Governor Wolf used the same logic to call off the PA lockdown on January 4, 2021. Reporters at Punxsutawney, PA were on site almost a month ahead of time when many of these honest pundits observed that Governor Wolf saw his shadow. Yes, the Wolf beat the groundhog to the punch in 2021 in Pennsylvania.

Chapter 1 What's It All About Alfie?

The Trump campaign and affiliates and unaligned legal helpers of America, subsequent to the election day debacle accepted and/or enlisted the help of litigation boutiques from around America to help the President reclaim his stolen win. There were individual attorneys, as well as a handful of small law firms. Most were already GOP favorites. Their mission was to find the fraud and file lawsuits in several ground zero battleground states. These were the states in which vote counts despite reality, somehow favored Joe Biden.

In some litigation, the Trump campaign also leaned on litigation support from Am Law 200 firm Porter Wright Morris & Arthur. But large law firms, in general, have not played a prominent role in representing Trump in post-Election Day litigation.

Those watching NewsMax, OAN, and listening to the finest in Talk Radio from Rush Limbaugh etc., suggested from the beginning that some of the most consequential litigation was to be focused on Pennsylvania. For example, campaign lawyers filed a U.S. Supreme Court motion to intervene in a dispute regarding the counting of absentee ballots received after Election Day. Notables such as Newt Gingrich weighed in suggesting that unobserved ballots should simply not be counted.

Listed as the counsel of record in the Supreme Court motion are Jay Alan Sekulow, of the Constitutional Litigation and Advocacy Group, and Consovoy McCarthy attorneys Patrick Strawbridge, William Consovoy and Thomas McCarthy. All are sharp as tacks and if they could ever find a court to hear their arguments, they would be likely to win the day based on the facts.

In the first dispute before the Supreme Court, Jones Day partner John Gore, former Trump-era principal deputy assistant attorney general in the U.S. Justice Department's civil rights division, represented the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, in its attempt to undo a Pennsylvania Supreme Court ruling about whether the extension of the deadline for mail-in ballots was legal.

Many of us remember Jay Sekulow as being well known for representing Trump in his first impeachment battle. The forays are not being fought pro-bono and that's why there are so many concurrent fund-raisers. For a while I know half of the emails in my in-box were requests to help finance this effort. Yes, I cared enough to donate as much as I could. How about you?

They needed the money. Lawyers do not come cheap. Sekulow's firm for one has received $660,000 from the Republican National Committee since October 2019, according to FEC records, and Consovoy McCarthy—the firm on the front lines of Republicans' preelection litigation—has billed Trump's campaign and the RNC for nearly $2.5 million since last October when they began to prepare for the inevitable. . Consovoy reportedly has a rate of $950 per hour so any funds that come in to help Trump are more than likely to be spent on the legal part of the stolen election effort.

While there are official lawyers contracted by the Trump team, many conservatives see Rudy Giuliani, the president's personal attorney as one of the key players in a public role in the scenario. Other great lawyers who care about the truth are Lin Wood, a great attorney who first attracted media attention when he took on the Richard Jewell case.

You may recall that Jewell was a security guard who was falsely accused in what became known as the Centennial Olympic Park bombing in Atlanta back in 1996. Wood's work on the case helped him become one of the most prestigious lawyers in the country.

Overnight after his success with the Jewell case, he went from being a run of the mill personal injury lawyer to a nationally known defamation lawyer. And, Lin Wood is not only good, as an attorney, just like Tony the Tiger, he's Great!

Sidney Powell & General Michael Flynn.

Most conservatives are familiar with the dirty deal given to General Michael Flynn, who was Trump's first choice for National Security Advisor. Sidney Powell worked successfully after hope was lost to have the justice Dept's charges dropped against Flinn.

Powell is a well-known Dallas defense lawyer who “rode into Washington” determined to exonerate retired Army Lt. Gen. Michael Flynn. Her forte is to unearth stashed evidence and prosecutorial misconduct in resolving cases for the benefit of her clients. She originally came to fame in the Enron scandal and afterwards, she wrote a book about how corrupt she believes the U.S. Justice Department actually is.

She is very well received by conservatives many of whom are like me and think like she does. Well Sidney is back in town again whether the Trump campaign wants her or not. Officially or unofficially, she is helping Trump and the team, like it or not, in resolving matters about the stolen election for the president.

I am impressed with Sidney Powell and so is General Michael Flinn. A good part of the facts in this book come from work done by Sidney Powell, who like many of us know that Trump had an election stolen from him in broad daylight. Regardless of the team of lawyers the president has officially working the case, many of us are very happy that Sidney Powell is also on the job. Go Sidney!

Chapter 2 Ninety Minutes with Sidney Powell

That's all it takes!

She is very good.

Sidney Powell is clearly one of the top lawyers in America but there are some lawyers on the Trump team who would prefer to not have her watchful eye on them. There are a number of conservatives who think with advice like theirs, Joe Biden will have four years of unimpeded bliss. My advice to them is to do your job and let Sidney Powell go on unimpeded to bring in a win for the president. Sometimes a rigged process cannot be undone. Keep reading.

It's tough to have a White House full of Never Trumpers, yet the president is stuck with a crew that he can't trust. So, he is often forced to do things for his own good rather than to please his staff.

Such was the rationale for a meeting at the White House a few Friday's ago in which President Trump seriously weighed appointing Sidney Powell, as his "man" on the scene to investigate voter fraud. His team was not so happy about that and they have leaked information about the meeting like as if Powell promotes conspiracy theories about rigged voting machines. Dah! And who thinks they were not rigged?

Unsolicited advice to the president—get rid of the staffers that are not on your side.

With the backlash from staff, it is still unclear as I write this and update it after January 6, if Mr. Trump will move ahead with such a plan. My advice is to take Powell, who has proven her worth far more than white house never-Trumper staffers and make good use of her talents.

Rudy Giuliani it is said, joined the discussion by phone initially, while Ms. Powell was at the White House for the meeting. As might be expected when somebody finds somebody more qualified being hired, the meeting became raucous and involved people shouting at each other at times, according to one of the people briefed on what took place.

Ms. Powell's client, retired Lt. Gen. Michael T. Flynn, the former national security adviser whom the president recently pardoned was also there supporting Powell for the post. This is according to two of the people briefed on the meeting. Some senior administration officials drifted in and out of the meeting. Perhaps their senior days should end soon.

Sidney Powell is about as good as the President can get to help his cause. When she engages, she wins. She does not quit.

She is almost alone in her independent quest to bolster the claims of election fraud with facts and affidavits. She knows and many conservatives have seen the proof that there was an algorithm developed by Democrats to switch votes in the Dominion machines from Trump to now President-elect Biden, soon President Biden.

Unfortunately for the Democrats, their plot was discovered because their algorithm broke down because of unprecedented strong support for Trump on election day. The cheaters did not know they would need to manufacture from thin air, so many extra votes due to the fact that Trump had skunked Biden in the real true election. But, there was no way to adjudicate the truth.

In order to make up for this error, Sidney Powell has the proof and has presented much of the proof along with Atty Lin Wood. The conclusion is that the Democrats manipulated the vote with mail-in ballots. In the battleground states of our nation, Democrat election workers across the country were knowingly or unknowingly involved in this fraud scheme. What happened in this election cannot happen by accident.

During the Trump stolen-election period from election day through January 20, a lot of one-time Trump allies switched sides also. They switched to Biden. This included Fox News and some hosts in particular such as Tucker Carlson who must have gotten word from the new owners to stop being favorable to Trump. So, he did.

Carlson is now on my S-list. He was one of the first to pick a fight with Sidney Powell claiming she had no evidence. After I checked out the show again, I joined conservatives who figured Tucker and Fox were no longer important to us. There is no evidence that we have seen to prove us wrong. And there is a lot of evidence to back up the switch in allegiance from Fox News to other networks and news outlets. My two choices are now NewsMax and AON. The other networks do not have the two liberal Murdoch sons guiding their slippery hands.

Some call it a new class of conservative outlets and networks that have raced each other to capture the attention of disgruntled Trump voters. That describes my own reaction to my observations of post-election Fox. They no longer needed Trump. I no longer needed them.

Most conservatives right after the election felt abandoned by traditional conservative news companies such as Fox and Tucker Carlson and it was not a good deal being censored by social media.

Fox News once owned conservatives because of their conservative programming but after the Murdock boys took over for dad, unexpected changes such as Donna Brazile appearing on the network shows began to cause conservatives to notice. It is true that there's a race unfolding among several conservative outlets who don't think Fox is pro-Trump enough. It isn't and Fox is paying dearly with diminished viewership. Fox is not the only game in town any more. My Fox viewership is down about 85%. Rather than watch turncoat Chris Wallace's pretend sincerity. Sorry Chris. Good-bye Chris.

After the election, former conservative favorites like Breitbart, Drudge Report and Real Clear Politics and yes, Fox News, began to lose traffic share to Newsmax, OAN, and Gateway Pundit, according to data from web analytics company. These new entries are beginning to eat full lunches at the former favorite's expense.

Some real statistics include the fact that in recent weeks, Newsmax overtook Breitbart to become the most visited right-leaning news site. TV ratings for Newsmax TV have surged. NewsMax and OAN are not going away. Their— marquee host Greg Kelly recently has been drawing as many as 1 million viewers a night. All of this is happening while President Trump continues to urge followers to abandon Fox News. Most of us are listening. If Trump does not like Fox anymore, why should any of us?

Most conservatives—at least those who are not Never-Trumper White-House staffers, have found Sidney Powell to be one of the finest lawyers in America. Even Rush Limbaugh thinks the world of Atty Powell. On December 29, during a Tuesday radio interview on “The Rush Limbaugh Show” with Todd Herman, Attorney Sidney Powell described mounting evidence of alleged election fraud. She is the recognized expert on the subject. She had just submitted a 270 page dossier / folder of evidence to prove her point.

Herman asked Powell during the interview, “Imagine you find yourself in an elevator with five Supreme Court Justices, and it’s a long elevator ride. Say, you’ve got 90 seconds to convince them to actually hear your evidence. How would you proceed Atty Powell? Powell has the evidence. To remind you of her altercation with Tucker Carlson, even after Powell’s extensive expose, Carlson pulled the left’s most asked question: “Where is the evidence.” Tucker, you definitely don’t want my answer to your smart-Alek lefty question. .

Attorney Sidney Powell responded and the transcript from the show follows? She explained it in no uncertain terms. You want evidence -- follows in 9 seconds, here you go!

Sidney Powell in 90 seconds”

“The very night of the election many people saw something they had never seen before in the history of our elections. They saw votes being changed on the screen in front of them, going from President Trump to Mr. Biden. No kidding!

On top of that, the morning after the election, even that night, the voting stopped. [unprecedented in multiple states], They stopped counting in multiple districts at the same time before the vote got to 270 electors for President Trump. That’s never happened before in history.

The only time votes have ever stopped being counted in this country on election night was when the Broward County problem developed over the Hanging Chad’s in one county in FL. So for five states to stop counting on election night is absolutely unprecedented.

[Why would they stop counting?]

And they did it because the vote count for the electoral college was about to hit [+ go over] 270 for President Donald Trump, because of the massive outpouring of votes for him that night. By the next morning, multiple mathematicians had contacted me (Sidney Powell) and told me they knew the algorithm that had been run to change the votes.

It was that obvious to people with mathematical expertise. It is a mathematical impossibility for 100's of thousands of votes to show up in the middle of the night for Vice President Biden alone, and to have been injected into the system the way that they were.”

We have eye-witness testimony of countless people who saw votes coming in, in unsecured containers and improper means, and looking different the night of the election. These people have come forward at great personal risk to themselves and their families to provide thousands of affidavits of voting abnormalities and actual crimes that they witnessed happen on election night. The very fact that the other side is working so hard to hide all of this. Federal law requires transparency in our electoral process and our elections.

There is a federal statute that requires all the documents pertaining to elections to be maintained for 22 months following an election, for the very reason that it has to be completely auditable. A Federal Judge in October in Atlanta, found all kinds of problems with the Dominion system that GA bought and crammed down for everybody across the state to use. That's where the most problems have been, is in Georgia.

Witnesses have come forward, there was supposedly a water leak that they shut down voting for. That was an abject lie. We have video of witnesses pulling suspect ballots out from under a table after they ran off all the observers. Somebody told me that one of the people that did that has told government officials, how it happened and what happened.

But has that information been provided to the public? No. There is rampant voter fraud of all kinds. Federal violations of 5 years and more across the country by virtue of all the misconduct on election night.

The flipping of votes by Dominion is even advertised in their ability to do that, to run a fraction, to make a Biden vote count 1.26% and a Trump vote to only count 0.74%. They've done it before. They've done it in Venezuela. They done it in other foreign countries. They've done it in this country. We have evidence even that it was done in 2016 in California to benefit Hillary over Bernie [Sanders], and it's been done in other local elections and smaller elections different places.

This is the only time it's been this widespread, and the reason it didn't work this time, they've been able to shave these votes for a long time, but the reason it didn't work completely this time and they had to shut down in so many places was because so many Trump supporters poured out on the day of the election to vote for President Trump in what was a landslide victory, a historic victory, is because it broke the algorithm.

That's why they had to stop counting that night. That's why they had to bring in ballots and try to back-fill. And it still doesn't work, because there's still 100's of thousands more votes than there were voters to vote them. The math simply doesn't add up. And if they had nothing to hide, why aren't they providing transparency into the voting systems of the United States of America, the country that is founded upon the Rule of Law and is supposed to be above all this?

It is absolutely the most appalling criminal operation in the history of our country.

End of Sidney Powell's Ninety Minutes on Election Fraud prompted by Todd Herman

We have a lot more in this book starting in the next chapter about Sidney Powell's evidence.

As a North Carolina Native, growing up in the Triangle, Sidney Powell says that she never missed an episode of Perry Mason. Nor did I. Now she's starring in what many say is her own prime-time legal drama. But it has been way more than that.

On a Thursday in November after the election, Sidney Powell stood alongside former New York Mayor Rudy Giuliani. Together, they argued for 90 minutes that President Donald Trump had won the election in a landslide, only to have the results marred by fraud.

Anybody who has used their brain in 2020 knows that when it smells like a dead fish, it is probably a dead fish. This whole stinky fraudulent election is the fishiest smelling election of all time.

“ We are going to reclaim the United States of America for the people who vote for freedom,” said Atty Sidney Powell, part of what Giuliani calls Trump’s elite strike force team.

It ain’t over ‘til it is over and Trump is the acclaimed winner.

Even if he is not so declared, we all know he won by a landslide.

Defeat the Media and the Democrats is our new theme song!

Chapter 3 Watch to Whom You Hitch Your Horse

Tucker Carlson is feeling the heat from former Fox allegiants. He's getting barbs typically reserved for Humpty Dumpty at CNN— Traitor, Globalist, & Sellout. Why? Simple!

Because he sold out conservatives for a better payoff with the Murdoch twins. What else could it be. No apologies and he was belligerent to Sidney. If you had your horse hitched up to Fox and Tucker Carlson. Feel free to find a new hitching post.

Carlson threw Sidney Powell Under the Fox Bus!

Traitor. Globalist, & Sellout, etc. were not the worst of what Tucker Carlson was called when he put himself before his viewers by slamming Sidney Powell for no apparent reason. He diminished her work on bringing Trump his earned victory on National TV at a time when Trump was looking for all the help he could get. Thanks a lot smiling Tucker. The audience reaction ought to wipe away that cocky smile. It could not have come at a worse time as we were trying to figure who was for us and who was against us. Fox and Tucker Carlson were the big losers in my personal search.

Those weren't the insults reserved for a CNN or MSNBC anchor on Friday. No, Traitor, Globalist, and Sellout were the insults aimed at our one-time conservative media darling Tucker Carlson. In what feels like the most severe moment of backlash since his Fox News show premiered in 2016, Carlson rightfully has been dealing with criticism from guys like me on the right.

It was well over a month ago on a Thursday that Carlson angered most of his audience when he called out Sidney Powell, President Trump's attorney who has peddled the truth about the Democratic conspiracy to steal the election. Tucker did not deviate too far from the party line, opening his show with deference to the fraud claims presented by Rudy Giuliani.

That's what made him hard to figure out at first. He also offered up reasons his audience should trust him. He explained to his viewers that he had reached out to Powell for supporting evidence with an open mind. And he pointed out his coverage of the Russia probe and how he never rules anything out — even UFOs. He knew he was wrong and we were all looking for some support, not controversy.

Tucker eventually broke the news ever so softly to his viewers: He said that, despite his polite requests, Powell had not provided a shred of evidence to support her outlandish claims and had even told him to stop contacting her. He pretended to be hurt. Once he called her work outlandish he was finished by me. How is it that I never waived from Sidney and I do not have the facts that a huge network like Fox can provide. Fox abandoned Trump and Tucker Carlson followed. The president noticed for sure.

After weeks of showing evidence, Carlson claimed that she had failed to provide him with evidence, and she had also failed to support her claims to others in Trumpworld. He is full of himself and it.

Tucker Carlson is simply a Traitor, Globalist, and a Sellout I am not letting him off the hook. He created a controversy for his ratings. He deserves no accolades for his diatribe against Trump that he made off as if it was against Sidney Powell. No apology! Sorry Tucker. Good-bye. Pro-Trump internet personalities have criticized good ole Tucker for having the nerve to challenge Powell. Hmmmph! I don't think so.

Tucker Carlson was "insulting" and "rude." What was Sidney's sin? Support for Trump? Sorry Tucker – hope you learned your lesson.

Tucker Carlson the consummate skeptic

“What Powell was describing would amount to the single greatest crime in American history,” Carlson told his legions of viewers. “Millions of votes stolen in a day. Democracy destroyed... We invited Sidney Powell on the show. We would have given her the whole hour. We would have given her the entire week actually . . . But she never sent us any evidence despite requests, polite requests. When we kept pressing she got angry and told us to stop contacting her.”

Tucker, you are either for Trump or against him. What do you think the stolen election is—a joke-- that you can manipulate to get higher ratings by attacking a major Trump supporter. I see you clearly my boy! Call it a day my boy! You are done with me.

Chapter 4 Georgia Is a Double Battleground State

The Committee on Government Oversight in Georgia has general jurisdiction over state government programs and policies. Senator Bill Heath is Chairman. Marty Harbin is Vice Chairman.

The Georgia Senate conducted major hearings following persistent accusations among supporters of President Donald Trump and those Democrats simply trying to assure elections are conducted fairly in America. The cry was that all legal American votes should be counted and illegal votes cast aside.

Some Georgia state leaders have repeatedly rejected claims of issues in conducting the elections claiming there is no evidence of widespread fraud or any kind of concerted effort to manipulate Georgia's results. Yet, after the hearings it is now clear that something is dreadfully wrong in Georgia.

Georgia Sen. Jeff Mullis is one of many state senators who supported the Senate Government Oversight and Judiciary Subcommittee Hearings that first took place Thursday, December 3rd.

“Due to a number of alleged discrepancies brought to the legislature’s attention following the general election, I believe a thorough and robust review of our election procedures is necessary to avoid similar issues in the future,” said Sen. Mullis. “I believe these hearings will shed some light on potential inefficiencies in our elections system and highlight areas of possible future improvement. I plan on introducing legislation during the upcoming legislative session with the intent of improving our current elections process and ensuring that only legal votes are cast and counted.”

The Senate Committee on Government Oversight has general jurisdiction over state government programs and policies.

The Georgia Senate Government Oversight Committee held their first election hearings on December 3, where they evaluated the election process to ensure the integrity of Georgia’s voting process. Senator Bill Heath, serves as chairman of the committee. Heath is a Republican member of the Georgia State Senate serving since 2005. He served as the Senate Floor Leader for Governor Sonny Perdue. Prior to his election to the state senate, Heath served one two-year term in the Georgia House of Representatives.

Senator Heath kicked off the meeting and Senator Harbin got things moving with a nice prayer.

Since this was a public hearing, literary permissions are not required to quote from the transcripts. From my perspective, not much was accomplished in these hearings but they set the stage for the fireball session held on December 30, 2020

At 10:05 in the hearing Senator Heath gave his rationale for the hearings. A few paragraphs from the hearing transcripts are shown indented below .

I assure you if any abnormalities are found, we will ask swiftly and aggressively to find a remedy to better ensure sanctity at the ballot box. This committee appreciates your interest and concern regarding our election system. Our meeting notice stated that anyone with firsthand knowledge of problems with the election or fraudulent activity relative to the election may submit sworn written statements of fact/ there have been and continue to be many avenues in which you can share your concerns or experiences relative to the election.

Senator Gooch: (49:52)

But I live in a very conservative, Republican dense area in north Georgia. I represent about 200,000 constituents in north Georgia, Forsyth, Dawson, Lumpkin, White, Union, Fan, and Gilmer and Pickens. I sit around the table at numerous places and have breakfast with bus drivers and contractors, construction workers, school teachers, common everyday citizens of Georgia. And then I also go to Republican Party meetings and so forth. So I'm going to try to build the statement based on a consensus of what I'm hearing. From the people that I represent, we have totally lost confidence in our system, in our election system this year.

Senator Gooch: (50:41)

Maybe that's not a fair statement and I'm not directing that to you or...

Ryan Germany: (50:46)

I mean, if that's how they feel, that's how they feel.

Senator Gooch: (02:03:12)

And we just elected the most powerful position in the world, the world leader, the President of the United States. If I go to vote, which I always do, I vote in person almost every time, I have to show a photo ID, which is usually my Georgia driver's license has a photo ID. I hand it to the person that's working there. A fourth of these ballots that were just cast weren't verified by anyone except the person at the registrar's office, without very little training, little to no professional training.

We just elected the most powerful person in the world. If I go buy land in my hometown, I had to have a notary public to notarize my signature. Any other business documents that you sign, most of the time, have to be notarized or witnessed. How can we certify this election-

Speaker 3: (02:04:02)

As they're witnessed, how can we certify this election this week knowing that a fourth of the ballots haven't been verified by professionals or even audited? You said earlier, I believe to Senator Dolezal, none of your people have done any checks on those signature verifications. How do we certify this election this week?

Speaker 4: (02:04:23)

So I agree with your assessment. I think, overall point that photo ID is a good way to verify people. There was a lot of sort of fear about it when we went to photo ID for in-person voting. I think what we've found is it doesn't restrict access. It doesn't decrease turnout. It's just a good way of checking and it helps increase confidence in the process. In 2005, when we moved to photo ID, this body on a party line vote went to no excuse absentee voting that did not require ID. So that's our law. So that's how we certify it because it followed the law.

Senator Heath: (02:06:47)

And I'll be glad to funnel those questions to the Secretary as well if that's beneficial to you. Will you just step out and be sure if you can find her? So we do have a hard cutoff at 12:30. So this room can be sanitized for the next committee meeting, but I don't think that we have actually got an elections official from Fulton County, but due to their workload. So all I would say is that in your questions, maybe you need to keep in mind they may not be prepared to answer. Okay, Ms. Corbitt-Dominguez, if you will, you can take the microphone. I think along with you, you've got Richard Anderson, the County Manager and Rob Pitts, the Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

Senator Heath: (02:08:53)

Like I said, we may be able to have another meeting, or if that information needs to be provided to me, I can distribute it to the committee. But with that, I'll recognize you if you will, because I may have botched your name and your title. Just identify yourself.

There were tidbits of information but most of it was the rambling stuff such as above. It was clear that Georgia was fraught with problems. That concludes what I wrote about the Dec. 3 hearings.

Here are a few comments from the end of the article on the web site. These are representative comments. The public is fed up.

There are hoards of evidence of election fraud, malfeasance etc. However, the media and the Dems with some RINO assist, deny it exists at all. And that's all it takes, in this political/social atmosphere, combined with media blackout, to put Biden in the White House.

If the Fulton County Board of Elections will not allow “the forensic examination to be conducted,” then an armed militia unit needs to immediately confront the Board... and – at whatever cost – insure that the examination does indeed occur. All future elections, nationwide, depend upon it.

SCOTUS (CJ: John Roberts) has already rejected the Texas suit, which was valid, as there WAS standing, because there was provable damages. All legitimate votes were affected by the fraudulently obtained outcome. Even a Chief Justice can be removed from office (unless we enter a feudal state).

It seems that the majority of government department heads, and way too many politicians are fighting to protect the system they thrive in . . . And America, both its heritage and its future, be damned.

On December 30 at another hearing by the same group, there were real fireworks in Georgia

You won't regret reading the following:

The Georgia Senate has taken the election discrepancies seriously. After grouping to hold hearings a month after the elections, they really got their act together on the day before New Year's Eve with a slew of expert witnesses. The one I was impressed the most with was a gentleman named Jovann Hutton Pulitzer . He is a true expert in scanning technology and is responsible for the scanning software on all our cell phones. He has over 200 patents and he can tell a fake ballot from a real one. He made his expertise known on December 30 and elicited a ton of questions from the Senators.

U.S.A. --(AmmoLand.com)-

“On 30 December 2020, Jovan Hutton Pulitzer gave a presentation to the Georgia State Senate Judiciary Subcommittee, on how he and his company can detect many types of election fraud with a simple, easy examination of the physical ballots. He said they merely run the ballots through forensic machines designed to detect physical signatures of the ballots. Pulitzer is a pattern recognition expert holding over 200 patents.” He said he could find all the fraudulent ballots that would never be found by eye.

He is quite the expert. His patents are used on 12 billion handheld devices around the world.” He is as impressive in person as his technology credentials are magnanimous.

His point in his presentation is that nobody should care about handwritten signatures. It is a guessing game to verify them. Machine audited ballots are 100% accurate. He told the Senators “machs nichs.” The signatures are not on the ballots. He gave an enlightening presentation showing how the physical nature of a ballot changes over time from when it is sent out, signed, returned scanned, etc. Each time is signature appears differently to the scanner.

Clearly if Georgia or any state wanted to prove or disprove fraud, they would use the method he prescribed. He demonstrated how his methods would-be able to detect at a 100% rate the physical signatures of folding, printing, marking and codes that exist on the paper used for the ballot

He convinced the Senators that every physical process done to a ballot leaves marks. Those minuscule marks, often invisible to the human eye, are the physical signatures Mr. Pulitzer is talking about. A Pulitzer style physical forensic audit of the paper ballots completely circumvents the election software. In other words, it tells a story without needing the Dominion machine software.

Here's how the Pulitzer technique finds bad ballots and assures good ballots:

1. His method examines the folds on the paper ballot.
2. At the beginning of the process, these ballots were folded by machine, and each valid one was folded identically.
3. Pulitzer can post facto run the ballots through a device, and it will spit out the ballots that weren't folded by an official machine.
4. If they slipped fake ballots in, his system would pick it up at once. No human eyeballs are required.

Mr. Pulitzer gave a great presentation and he answered questions afterward. The following is one of his best answers. He discussed how his process can tell you, with 100% accuracy:

- How many ballots were printed by what machine.
- How many ballots were mailed.
- How many ballots were filled out by machine.
- How many ballots were counted more than once.
- How many ballots were scanned more than once.
- What candidates were marked on all the ballots in the categories above.
- What ballots went through adjudication

Why would Democrats say no? Because the election handler's default was to simply award Biden the victory regardless of whether there was an issue or provable fraud.

One of the slides in Mr. Pulitzer's presentation shows a quote from a Fulton County Election official, saying 106,000 of 113,130 votes were adjudicated. In other words, the voting machine software could not determine to whom the ballot was cast. Who needs voting machines when they do not work?

What should this mean to the average joe. Nothing! However, this means that the percentage needing human intervention to determine the ballot was an astounding 93.67% adjudication rate. The machine could not figure out the ballot 93.67% of the time so "experts" in the country got to guess at the intent of the voter.

We're talking about dots on pieces of paper so how would a human be able to tell better than a machine. Well, the expert says the machine was broken and should have been taken offline and replaced with a machine that worked.

Typical rates and rates in the past in Georgia for example were in the neighborhood of 1% to 2% -- not 90% and certainly not 93% and certainly not 93.67%.

What would be the norm? A 2% reading would be high. Pulitzer told the Senators that the high adjudication rate shows the machines were not working as they should have been and the machines should have been replaced before finishing their job.

The machines were not doing the job as promised. He said that the Georgia rate shows similarities with high adjudication rates in Michigan and Nevada, two other states that will be proven to have attempted one way or another to steal the election for Vice President Biden. Was it an accident? If it were an accident why did everything adjudicate to Mr. Biden's favor. Was there a steal in play?

Georgia officials had been talking about how difficult it would be to check the ballot signatures. Not so for the Pulitzer process. Mr. Pulitzer in fact answered a Senator's question by saying that his process can do the forensic analysis quickly and cheaply for all paper ballots. In fact, he promised to do the work for free for Georgia to prove that their election was very inaccurate. He did not need the money as his patents give him enough money to live well without ever working another day in his life. Check me out!

Let me repeat that. Mr. Pulitzer volunteered to the Senators to do the forensic evaluation of the paper ballots for free. He has donated his time, expertise, equipment, and company assets. There is a man who cares. I wish you could have seen his presentation. He says he does not care who wins. He simply wants to ensure an accurate count is made, so this never happens again. He says, without faith in the election process, we do not have a country.

While Jovan Hutton Pulitzer was giving his testimony to the subcommittee, more information came in. Voting was ongoing in the runoff elections for Senators in Georgia. There is a Twitter video of what Pulitzer had to report.

Twitter link about ability to hack into the Georgia machines live.

Was Pulitzer able to hack into the DOMINION machines in Georgia live?

WE ARE IN.

“At this very moment at a polling location in the county, NOT ONLY do we now have access through the devices to the POLL PAD, to the system, but WE ARE IN.”

Georgia hearing reveals LIVE, real-time hacking of Dominion Voting

Here is a partial transcript of what Pulitzer reported at that time:

“At this very moment, at a polling locating in the County, not only do we now have access to the devices, to the poll pad, the system, but we are in. And it is not supposed to have wifi, and that is not supposed to be able to happen, So we've documented now, its communicating two ways, in real time, mean it is receiving data and sending data, should never happen, shouldn't be wifi, we've now documented it in real time, so we can shut down the data. But that is going on right there where everyone is voting. And, I just wanted to get it into the record."

The subcommittee was impressed with Mr. Pulitzer's testimony. They voted to request that the Fulton County Board of elections allow examination of the paper ballots. This is a transcript of the request/resolution of the subcommittee:

"That the Fulton County Board of Elections would make the absentee ballots cast in Fulton County, on the November 3 election, before the November 3rd election, be made available to be inspected by the Chealy Group, through the process that Mr. Pulitzer outlined earlier today."

The vote was unanimous and affirmative.

The Georgia State Senate Judiciary Subcommittee does not control any police. It is not clear that if more votes by the full committee or the Senate are required. It is not clear if the Fulton County Board of Elections will allow the forensic examination to be conducted.

The methods portrayed by Mr. Pulitzer are convincing. They offer a simple way to detect several different kinds of election tampering. They are not absolute. They would not detect, for example, double voting with fraudulently obtained ballots, phantom voting, or voting by illegal voters. However, they would do much to restore confidence in the election process.

Will the Fulton County Board of Elections fight this attempt to show transparency in the election process?

If past history is any indicator, this group of officials will lawyer up and create legal excuses not to allow the examination. They appear to be crooked but they may just be convinced by ignorance that they are right in their obstinance. Not allowing the examination, however, does make them appear to be guilty. They do not seem to care. They think the windage is on their side, whatever that means, Because of all this stupidity, America has the wrong president for the next four years. I sure hope a lot of people are in jail for more than four years as we cannot give them another four years to make their attacks undetectible.

Chapter 5 President Trump's Nov 4 Georgia Rally

Here are some facts that I gleaned from President Trump's Rally on January 4 for the two Georgia Senate Candidate. Unfortunately even for the Georgia Runoff, the steal was on and both candidates lost.

The President thought as most Republicans and conservatives thought that Mike Pence, Trump's on-time loyal VP would come through for the American people. Trump said a few things at the rally about how he was counting on P

"We're not gonna let it happen over the past. And I hope Mike Pence comes through for us, I have to tell you. I hope that our great Vice-President, our great Vice-President comes through for us. He's a great guy. Of course, if he doesn't come through, I won't like him quite as much. No, Mike is a great guy.

He's a, he's a wonderful man and a smart man, and a man that I like a lot, but he's gonna have a lot to say about it, and he -- You know, one thing with him, you're gonna get straight shots. He's gonna call it straight. Over the past few weeks, we've demonstrated that we won the election in a landslide.

Well, Trump and then Mitch McConnell both took their daggers out and put them through Trump's heart and the collective heart of conservative America. They better not have political aspirations because for guys like me, they are finished.

Trump knows that more than 75 million people voted for him. In fact if you count the Dominion switched votes to Biden, it was probably more like 85 million. Either way, it was the most of any incumbent president in the history of our country. Using the 75 million number, Pump won over 11 million, close to 12 million more votes than 2016, one of the largest, actually the single largest increase in the history of our country. No person that won, went to a second term or went through an election where he got nearly 12 million votes.

Trump added

No, it never happened before, never happened before. We made historic gains among African-Americans, Hispanic-Americans, Asian-Americans, and we won the largest share of non-white vote of any Republican president in 60 years. We also won 18 out of 19 bellwether counties. Now when you win just a few bellwether counties, you always win the election.

Tonight our mission here in Georgia is to make sure the radical left cannot rob you of your voice and your votes in Washington. You can't lose -- these two people, and I really know them well. They're the most respected people. They're great people and they really do have a voice, and they love their state and they love their country.

The continuation of the steal caused both to lose their first round without a recount.

The Democrats have been trying to steal the White House for four years before the . November 3 election. They hope to be successful this time. Trump exclaimed that we could not let them. You just can't let them -- steal the U.S. Senate. You can't let it happen. You can't let it happen. He noted that David and Kelly were running against the most extreme liberal candidates in the history of Georgia, probably in the history of our country. He was talking about Jon Ossoff and Raphael Warnock.

At the rally, President Trump went through the mechanics of the steal.

We were up 293,000 votes in Michigan. 112,000 votes in Washington. In Wisconsin. We were way up. 356,000 votes in Georgia. 356,000. And 700,000 votes in Pennsylvania. It was -- over. I should've run up to the podium and said, "Thank you very much for this wonderful victory." Then maybe they wouldn't have had time to close those booths, right? The counting rooms. And do what they did. But then it all started to disappear. Since the election, we have put forth indisputable evidence documenting the rampant fraud, which will be announced on Wednesday, as you know.

And we were leading all of them by a lot until, like a miracle, it started to quickly disappear. Right here in Georgia there were tens of thousands of illegal votes cast and counted. You know that. And here are just a few examples. Watch this bit tomorrow [for the GA runoff election]. We're up 10,315. Ballots were cast by individuals whose name and date of birth matches a Georgia resident who died in 2020 prior to the election and your wacky Secretary of State said, "two people." "Two people and the Governor."

Who knows

How many people are on that list, but it's a lot of people. 205,006 ballots were cast -- Why individuals whose name and date of birth matches an incarcerated felon in a Georgia prison? Maybe they aren't all there, but they did a lot of work... 4502 illegal ballots were cast by individuals who do not appear on the state's voter rolls.

Well, that's sort of strange. 18,325 illegal ballots were cast by individuals who registered to vote using an address listed as vacant according to the Postal Service. At least 86,880 ballots were cast by people whose registrations were illegally backdated. Oh, I can't believe that happened. 66,000 votes -- You all have to understand, we're down by a little more than 11,000, so every one of these is determinative. 66,000 votes in Georgia were cast by people under the legal voting age.

At least 15,000 ballots were cast by individuals who moved out of this state prior to the November 3rd election. Now, maybe they moved back in. I don't know. I mean, I can't tell. They moved out. Ah, let's go back. Usually, it takes a little time, right? You know. We moved out. Let's go back, darling. Georgia's absentee ballot rejection rate went from an average of 3% in 2016 and then went down very low to almost zero.

Now, ah, think of it. Almost zero. If you multiply that out, and this is with many, many more ballots pouring in, went to almost zero. 48 out of 159 counties in Georgia rejected no ballots at all. These absentee ballot rejection rates prove that the tens of thousands of illegitimate ballots were counted.

There were more absentee ballots in 2020 than ever before by far, but magically, far fewer ballots were rejected. This alone is more than enough to swing the election to us. This one thing. I'm going over individual, in all of the swing states. Now, they'll check this out, and that's fine, and, but you take a look at it.

Officials egregiously violated state laws in order to solicit, facilitate, and promote cheating and theft on a scale never seen before. These crooked and incompetent officials suspended signature verification. I said, "I want you to go to Fulton County to check the signatures because hundreds of thousands of ballots came in.

I want you to check the signature to see if it compares to somebody that lived there two years, four years, or six years ago." They don't want to do it. The Secretary of State and your incompetent governor, although he thinks I've been a great president. They illegally flooded their states with absentee ballots, and they deployed hundreds of illicit ballot dropboxes in corrupt Democrat-run cities, among many other flagrant violations of law.

They put these dropboxes there, and in a number of cases, they'd be gone for three days. They'd take them up, and they'd, where are they? Where are they? They were gone. Georgia's secretary of state agreed to a litigation settlement, which is something that nobody's ever seen one like this. I want, I want to just tell you that Stacey Abrams took him to the cleaners.

That drastically and illegally changed the state's election procedures. They never got the mandated approval from your state legislature, who by the way, you have some great people in your legislature, some great, great people who agree with what we're saying, and even more so. But think of it. They never got the approval.

President Trump reminded the onlookers of how it is supposed to work. By law, he said, under the US Constitution, you can't just do these deals and not get the approval. It is not OK! And your secretary of state, or whoever it was, made this horrible consent decree [with Stacie Abrams]. This got rid of so much safety. The president referred to what happened as "a disgraceful thing." And it was only approved by your local, uh, politicians, not the state legislatures.

And local judges. You can't do that. You have to have your state legislatures do it. That's true with all states. Tens of thousands of votes are missing. We go all over the world telling people how to run their elections, and we don't even know how to run ours. The most unhappy person right now anywhere in the United States is Hillary Clinton because she's asking -- The Democrat Party, why the hell didn't you do this for me? [Audience chants "Lock her up"] True.

Why didn't you do it for me? Why the hell didn't you -- You notice how quiet she's been? I shouldn't have said that. Now tonight, she'll -- But you notice how quiet? She's furious because she said, "Don't forget. I won Michigan by 10,000 votes." We did much better, as I said, this time. Much, much better.

But I won Michigan from her by 10,000 votes. I won Wisconsin by a small -- You know? I mean, they could've done that one and not get caught. We caught 'em. We caught 'em. And I say to people like Mike Lee that are here and Lindsey. I say if they got approved and verified, they used the word verified, votes that are fraudulent, and then we find out after 'cause you can't do it that quickly.

It doesn't go that quickly. It's a lot of work and a lot of votes and a lot of people. And then we find out that there were frauds. Like in one state where you had let's say you lost by 25,000 votes, they verify it, and that's supposed to be the end.

But shortly thereafter, we find out that we actually won the state by 250,000 votes.

... The president recounted that In Wisconsin, over 90,000 ballots were illegally harvested. You just cannot do that. You are not allowed to. It was effected by these so-called human drop boxes.

And over 500 illegal unmanned drop boxes were put out statewide. In addition, over 170,000 absentee votes were counted that are blatantly illegal under Wisconsin law and should never have been included in the tally. By the way, I lost. It -- it was razor thin. There's 170,000 votes. The margin in Wisconsin is only 20,000 votes, so this issue alone would've won that state for us many times over.

We were leading at 10:00 in the evening by a lot. In Pennsylvania, there were 205,000 more ballots cast than there were voters. How do you get around that [Inaudible]? Which remains completely unexplained. You have great senators and representatives there and nobody can explain it. But think of that. And in other places too.

You had more ballots than you had voters. You had more votes, think of it, than you had voters by a lot. In addition, Democrat State Supreme Court judges and Democrat Secretary of State effectively abolished the signature verification process right here. They counted ballots cast after deadlines and they allowed ballots to be illegally fixed in Democrat-controlled areas.

Another point of fact is that there is an unexplained 400,000 vote discrepancy between the number of mail-in ballots in Pennsylvania sent out reported on November 2nd, 2020 and the number reported on November 4th. They can't explain it. 400,000 previously unreported mail-in ballots magically appeared. The officials could not explain it. And all of a sudden they just happened to find 400,000. President Trump commented:

That's a lot of people. Amazing. And the Pennsylvania Legislature is not happy. Pennsylvania also had an estimated 8,000 dead voters, 55,000 ballots received back before they were even sent. How about that? The ballots were received but they weren't sent yet. "Oh, uh, get 'em out fast, please." Many more with no mail date and 14,000 ballots illegally cast by out-of-state voters.

Those are numbers and those are numbers we got from them so they can't say, "Oh, the numbers aren't so good." In Clark County, Nevada, over 130,000 ballots -- This is far -- Just so you know all these numbers, these are far more than we need, were processed on machines where the signature matching threshold was intentionally lowered to a level that you could sign your name Santa Claus and it wouldn't pick it up.

Didn't pick up anything. More than 42,000 people in Nevada double voted. That's more than we needed by far. In Ar -- Arizona more than 36,000 votes were cast by non-citizens. And there were 11,000 more ballots than there were voters. Seems to be a trait, doesn't it? This was like at the Super Bowl where you have 15 cameras and they say, "Camera number 4, you're on.

In Michigan, according to one analyst, over 35,000 ballots listed no address. Over 13 ballots were cast by non-residents, and an estimated 17,000 ballots were cast by dead people. Some dead people, by the way, also requested an application. It's true. Those are the ones that really bother me.

They not only vote, but they request an application, that's a double. In addition, there is the highly troubling matter of Dominion voting machines. And I want you to watch this very carefully tomorrow, everybody. You have to watch it carefully. I want to read you from a letter from Georgia State Senator William Ligon.

A highly respected official, Senator Ligon wrote: . "Dear Mr. President: As Chairman of the Georgia Senate Judiciary Committee on Elections, I request that you immediately send an outside team of cyber experts to investigate potential hacking and other irregularities associated with Dominion Voting Systems scanners, ballot marking devices, ballot's, polling pads used in the 2020 General Election in Georgia."

The President complained that you don't hear this from your Georgia Secretary of State and you don't hear this from your Governor He added:

And you do have a great legislature, I have to tell you. But the Governor won't let them hold a session to de-certify. "On December 30, 2020 the committee held a hearing investigating potential fraud and other irregularities during Georgia's 2020 General Election. The committee first unanimously approved a report dated December 17, 2020 discussing a myriad of voting irregularities and potential fraud in Georgia 2020 General Election discussed in an earlier hearing held on December 3. Notably, the committee stated in the executive summary that the November 3rd, 2020, General Election was chaotic and reported results must be viewed as untrustworthy." They are untrustworthy, despite the line of crap that you hear from these people that represent you.

I don't know where they come from? "The committee then heard," and this is from one of your most highly respected political representatives, "The committee then heard additional testimony concerning voting irregularities during the 2020 General Election including testimony and a real-time test demonstrating serious irregularities with Dominion's voting machines.

Three events discussed at this hearing stand out and require a forensic order of the Dominion voting machines in Georgia to be immediately conducted." The Governor will not let us do it. We've been asking him now since November 4th, the day after the election. He won't let us do it. Why won't he let us do it?

There's only one reason I can think of. First, the Dominion voting machines employed in Fulton County," that's the home of Stacey had an astounding 93.67 error rate. Ninety-three point six seven error rate in the scanning of ballots requiring a review panel to adjudicate or determine the voter's intent." So they're going to a voter intent, "What did the voter mean by this vote?" Somebody votes for Trump, "Ah, you know, I think that voter meant something other.

He doesn't want Trump, let's just switch it around." Think of that, they're trying to determine the voter's intent in over 106,000 ballots out of a total of 113,000 ballots. This is from your representative, highly respected, "The national average for such an error rate is far less than 1.2%," so that was 93%. "The source of this astronomical error rate must be identified to determine if these machines were set up or designated to allow for a third party to disregard the actual ballot cast by the registered voter." This is what I have.

This guy's sitting there -- "Well, can you connect into the machines?" "Yes." "How do you do that?" Within about 25 seconds he controlled the internet. Former Vice President Biden led Georgia by only 11,779 votes. Every one of the things I told you about, almost, is more votes than what we're talking about.

The crime that was committed in this state is immeasurable. An immediate forensic audit of an appropriate sampling of Dominion's voting machines and related equipment is critical to determine the level of illegal fraudulent ballots improperly counted in Georgia during the 2020 General Election, and during tomorrow's race.

The president read another letter

Let me also quickly read a letter from Mark Finchem, chairman of the Arizona House -- a very respected man -- Federal Relations Committee. "Dear Mister President, Subsequent to the election, members of the legislature were inundated with complaints from constituents relating to the intensity of the General Election, and the integrity" -- More important than anything else -- "And the accuracy of canvassed results. In many instances, constituents reported that their earlier in-person ballots may not have been correctly processed or tabulated by Maricopa County officials. Members of the legislature have conducted two public hearings in recent weeks, during which significant evidence of fraudulent and illegal voting in Arizona has been demonstrated, through expert and eyewitness testimony." For example in Pima County, and Maricopa County, it appears that 143,000 illegal votes were actually injected into the ballot system.

The president made a great speech from his heart. The election clearly was stolen. Mitch McConnell and the other Republican RINOS should not be given the opportunity to represent conservatives again.

Think of that! No, but think of this. Also, and, I, I, -- you know, the press won't report this. They're probably turning off -- "Oh, we don't like this." They don't like this. They don't want to talk about numbers. They talked about my phone call. They don't like my phone call. Everyone loved my phone call.

They don't like talking about numbers, 'cause nobody knew the numbers were so egregious. Also, an expert mathematician concluded that the only explanation for the actual voting results in Arizona is that 100%, think of this, 130% of democrats voted for candidate Biden. And a negative 30% voted for President Trump.

Now, think of that. In order to get to the numbers, 130% of the voters -- that's a little tough to get, okay? -- had to vote for him; and minus 30 had to vote for me. And that gets you to 100% and nobody has 100% voting. For all of these people who think it's too late Does that mean that we're forced to approve a fraudulent election or an election with massive irregularities.

Why don't our politicians care?

Chapter 6 The Immaculate Deception— Analysis by Dr. Peter Navarro

Even if Americans who perhaps have or have not paid attention to the mechanics of the Democrat's steal, do not agree in total, there is a spot in which everyone should agree. Where everyone ought to agree is that a thorough investigation is needed to ensure public faith in the integrity of future elections.

To that end, renowned economist and White House trade adviser Peter Navarro conducted a forensic analysis of reported election irregularities and he condensed his findings into a 35-page report.

Be advised please that no distilled or condensed report on the election steal is easy to write. I learned that in this exercise. Nonetheless, Mr. Navarro proceeded to collate allegations in battleground states — ranging from outright voter fraud and ballot mishandling to statistical anomalies and dumb mistakes. His points are contained in 50 lawsuits and judicial rulings, thousands of affidavits and declarations, and testimony from various battleground state hearings.

Peter Navarro does not mince words in his two reports. He concluded that “patterns of election irregularities are so consistent across the six battleground states that they suggest a coordinated strategy to, if not steal the election, strategically game the election process in such a way as to . . . unfairly tilt the playing field in favor of the Biden-Harris ticket.” For Americans of both major parties, that is not good news.

Six Key Dimensions of Election Irregularities

Executive Summary

This report assesses the fairness and integrity of the 2020 Presidential Election by examining six dimensions of alleged election irregularities across six key battleground states. Evidence used to conduct this assessment includes more than 50 lawsuits and judicial rulings, thousands of affidavits and declarations,1 testimony in a variety of state venues, published analyses by think tanks and legal centers, videos and photos, public comments, and extensive press coverage.

The matrix below indicates that significant irregularities occurred across all six battleground states and across all six dimensions of election irregularities. This finding lends credence to the claim that the election may well have been stolen from President Donald J. Trump.

From the findings of this report, it is possible to infer what may well have been a coordinated strategy to effectively stack the election deck against the Trump-Pence ticket. Indeed, the observed patterns of election irregularities are so consistent across the six battleground states that they suggest a coordinated strategy to, if not steal the election outright, strategically game the election process in such a way as to “stuff the ballot box” and unfairly tilt the playing field in favor of the Biden-Harris ticket.

Topline findings of this report include:

The weight of evidence and patterns of irregularities are such that it is irresponsible for anyone – especially the mainstream media – to claim there is “no evidence” of fraud or irregularities.

The ballots in question because of the identified election irregularities are more than sufficient to swing the outcome in favor of President Trump should even a relatively small portion of these ballots be ruled illegal.

All six battleground states exhibit most, or all, six dimensions of election irregularities. However, each state has a unique mix of issues that might be considered “most important.” To put this another way, all battleground states are characterized by the same or similar election irregularities; but, like Tolstoy's unhappy families, each battleground state is different in its own election irregularity way.

This was theft by a thousand cuts across six dimensions and six battleground states rather than any one single "silver bullet" election irregularity.

In refusing to investigate a growing number of legitimate grievances, the anti-Trump media and censoring social media are complicit in shielding the American public from the truth. This is a dangerous game that simultaneously undermines the credibility of the media and the stability of our political system and Republic.

Those journalists, pundits, and political leaders now participating in what has become a Biden Whitewash should acknowledge the six dimensions of election irregularities and conduct the appropriate investigations to determine the truth about the 2020 election. If this is not done before Inauguration Day, we risk putting into power an illegitimate and illegal president lacking the support of a large segment of the American people.

The failure to aggressively and fully investigate the six dimensions of election irregularities assessed in this report is a signal failure not just of our anti-Trump mainstream media and censoring social media but also of both our legislative and judicial branches.

Republican governors in Arizona and Georgia together with Republican majorities in both chambers of the State Legislatures of five of the six battleground states—Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin – have had both the power and the opportunity to investigate the six dimensions of election irregularities presented in this report. Yet, wilting under intense political pressure, these politicians have failed in their Constitutional duties and responsibilities to do so—and thereby failed both their states and this nation as well as their party.

Both State courts and Federal courts, including the Supreme Court, have failed the American people in refusing to appropriately adjudicate the election irregularities that have come before them. Their failures pose a great risk to the American Republic.

If these election irregularities are not fully investigated prior to Inauguration Day and thereby effectively allowed to stand, this nation runs the very real risk of never being able to have a fair presidential election again – with the down-ballot Senate races scheduled for January 5 in Georgia an initial test case of this looming risk. Post note: The Republicans lost Georgia Senate on January 5, as many believe because the same shenanigans were executed by the Democrats to assure a win.

I. Introduction to the report

At the stroke of midnight on Election Day, President Donald J. Trump appeared well on his way to winning a second term. He was already a lock to win both Florida and Ohio; and no Republican has ever won a presidential election without winning Ohio while only two Democrats have won the presidency without winning Florida.

At the same time, the Trump-Pence ticket had substantial and seemingly insurmountable leads in Georgia, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Wisconsin. If these leads held, these four key battleground states would have propelled President Trump to a decisive 294 to 244 victory in the Electoral College.

Shortly after midnight, however, as a flood of mail-in and absentee ballots began entering the count, the Trump red tide of victory began turning Joe Biden blue. As these mail-in and absentee ballots were tabulated, the President's large leads in Georgia, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Wisconsin simply vanished into thin Biden leads.

At midnight on the evening of November 3, and as illustrated in Table 1, President Trump was ahead by more than 110,000 votes in Wisconsin and more than 290,000 votes in Michigan. In Georgia, his lead was a whopping 356,945; and he led in Pennsylvania by more than half a million votes. By November 7, however, these wide Trump leads would turn into razor thin Biden leads—11,779 votes in Georgia, 20,682 votes in Wisconsin, 81,660 votes in Pennsylvania, and 154,188 votes in Michigan.

There was an equally interesting story unfolding in Arizona and Nevada. While Joe Biden was ahead in these two additional battleground states on election night – by just over 30,000 votes in Nevada and less than 150,000 votes in Arizona – internal Trump Campaign polls predicted the President would close these gaps once all the votes were counted. Of course, this never happened.

In the wake of this astonishing reversal of Trump fortune, a national firestorm has erupted over the fairness and integrity of one of the most sacrosanct institutions in America – our presidential election system. Critics on the Right and within the Republican Party – including President Trump himself – have charged that the election was stolen. They have backed up these damning charges with more than 50 lawsuits, 4 thousands of supporting affidavits and declarations, and seemingly incriminating videos, photos, and first-hand accounts of all manner of chicanery.

Critics on the Left and within the Democrat Party have, on the other hand, dismissed these charges as the sour grapes of a whining loser. Some of these critics have completely denied any fraud, misconduct or malfeasance altogether. Others have acknowledged that while some election irregularities may have existed, they strenuously insist that these irregularities are not significant enough to overturn the election.

There is a similar Battle Royale raging between large anti-Trump segments of the so-called “mainstream” media and alternative conservative news outlets. Across the anti-Trump mainstream media diaspora—which includes most prominently print publications like the New York Times and Washington Post and cable TV networks like CNN and MSNBC—a loud chorus of voices has been demanding that President Trump concede the election.

These same anti-Trump voices have been equally quick to denounce or discredit anyone—especially anyone within their own circle – that dares to investigate what may well turn out to be THE biggest political scandal in American history. Social media outlets like Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube likewise have been actively and relentlessly censoring anyone who dares to call the results of the election into question.

In contrast, alternative news outlets, primarily associated with the American conservative movement, have provided extensive, in-depth coverage of the many issues of fraud, misconduct, and other irregularities that are coming to light. From Steve Bannon’s War Room Pandemic and John Solomon’s Just the News to Raheem Kassam’s National Pulse, to Newsmax, and One America News Network, Americans hungry for facts and breaking developments have been able to find such critical information only by following this alternative coverage.

That the American public is not buying what the Democrat Party and the anti-Trump media and social media are selling is evident in public opinion polls. For example, according to a recent Rasmussen poll: “Sixty-two percent (62%) of Republicans say it is ‘Very Likely the Democrats stole the election’” while 28% of Independents and 17% of Democrats share that view.

If, in fact, compelling evidence comes to light proving the election was indeed stolen after a fait accompli Biden inauguration, we as a country run the very real risk that the very center of our great American union will not hold.

To put this another way, if the greatest democracy in world history cannot conduct a free and fair election, and if much of the mainstream media of this country won’t even fully investigate what is becoming a growing mountain of evidence calling into question the election result, there is little chance that our democracy and this Republic will survive as we know it. It is therefore critical that we get to the bottom of this matter. That is the purpose of this report. Obviously, the sooner the better.

II. Six Dimensions of Election Irregularities across Six Battleground States

This report assesses the fairness and integrity of the 2020 presidential election across six key battleground states where the Democrat candidate Joe Biden holds a slim lead, and the results continue to be hotly contested.

As documented in the extensive endnotes, the evidence used to conduct this assessment includes more than 50 lawsuits and judicial rulings, thousands of affidavits and declarations, testimony presented in a variety of state venues, published reports and analyses by think tanks and legal centers, videos and photos, public comments and first-hand accounts, and extensive press coverage.

From a review and analysis of this evidence, six major dimensions of alleged election irregularities have been identified and assessed on a state-by-state basis across six key battleground states: Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. These six dimensions include outright voter fraud, ballot mishandling, contestable process fouls, Equal Protection Clause violations, voting machine irregularities, and significant statistical anomalies.

The matrix in Table 2 provides an overview of the presence or absence of each of the six dimensions of alleged election irregularities in each of the six battleground states.

Column 1 lists each of the six dimensions along with the alleged Biden victory margin and the possible illegal ballots due to election irregularities. Columns 2 through 7 in the matrix then indicate the presence or absence of the election irregularities in any given state.

Note that a checkmark in matrix cell indicates there is widespread evidence in a given state for a particular dimension of election irregularity while a star indicates there is at least some evidence.

Table 2: 2020 Alleged Election Irregularities across the Six Battleground States

Possible Illegal Ballots	>100,000	>400,000	Unknown	>100,000	>600,000	>200,000

✓ = Wide-Spread Evidence * = Some Evidence

Two key points stand out immediately from the matrix. First, significant irregularities appear to be ubiquitous across the six battleground states. Only Arizona is free of any apparent widespread ballot mishandling while only Pennsylvania lacks significant statistical anomalies. The rest of the matrix in Table 2 is a sea of checkmarks and occasional stars.

Second, if one compares the alleged Biden victory margin in Column 7 of the figure with the possible illegal ballots in Column 8, it should be clear that the number of possible illegal ballots dwarfs the alleged Biden victory margin in five of the six states.

For example, the alleged Biden victory margin in Nevada is 33,596 votes yet the number of ballots in question is more than three times that. In Arizona, which has the narrowest alleged Biden victory margin at 10,457 votes, there are nearly 10 times that number of possible illegal ballots; and the ratio of the alleged Biden vote lead to possible illegal ballots is even higher for Georgia.

Only Michigan is the exception to the rule. This is not because it is likely to be a true exception but simply because there remains insufficient estimates of how the various types of irregularities in Michigan translate into possible illegal votes.

Clearly, based on this matrix, the American people deserve a definitive answer as to whether this election was stolen from Donald J. Trump. Absent a thorough investigation prior to Inauguration Day, a cloud and a stain will hang over what will be perceived by many Americans as an illegitimate Biden administration.

The next six sections of this report examine in more detail each of the six dimensions of alleged election irregularities.

III. Outright Voter Fraud

Outright voter fraud ranges from the large-scale manufacturing of fake ballots, bribery, and dead voters to ballots cast by ineligible voters such as felons and illegal aliens, ballots counted multiple times, and illegal out-of-state voters. Table 3 provides an overview across the six battleground states of the various types of outright voter fraud that have been alleged to be present.

Table 3: Outright Voter Fraud in the 2020 Presidential Election

✓ = Wide-Spread Evidence * = Some Evidence

From the figure, we see that different types of fraud may be present in all six states. Let's more precisely define each of these different types of fraud using examples that are designed to be illustrative rather than exhaustive.

Bribery

In a voter fraud context, bribery refers to the corrupt solicitation, acceptance, or transfer of value in exchange for official action, such as voter registration or voting for a preferred candidate. At least in Nevada, there is a slam dunk case that such bribery occurred.

What is so stunning about the Nevada case is the brazen disregard for our federal bribery laws. In the Silver State, in an effort orchestrated by the Biden campaign, Native Americans appear to have traded their votes not for pieces of silver but rather for Visa gift cards, jewelry, and other “swag.” According to the Epoch Times, such vote buying schemes also may have occurred in eight other states, including Arizona and Wisconsin.

Fake Ballot Manufacturing and Destruction of Legally Cast Real Ballots

Fake ballot manufacturing involves the fraudulent production of ballots on behalf of a candidate; and one of the most disturbing examples of possible fake ballot manufacturing involves a truck driver who has alleged in a sworn affidavit that he picked up large crates of ballots in New York and delivered them to a polling location in Pennsylvania. There may be well over 100,000 ballots involved, enough fake ballots alone to have swung the election to Biden in the Keystone State.

Likewise in Pennsylvania, there is both a Declaration and a photo that suggests a poll worker used an unsecured USB flash drive to dump an unusually large cache of votes onto vote tabulation machines. The resultant tabulations did not correlate with the mail-in ballots scanned into the machines.

Arguably the most flagrant example of possible fake ballot manufacturing on behalf of Joe Biden may have occurred at the State Farm Arena in Atlanta, Georgia. The possible perpetrators were caught in flagrante delicto on surveillance video.

In one version of this story, poll watchers and observers as well as the media were asked to leave in the middle of the night after a suspicious water leak. Once the room was cleared, several election officials pulled out large boxes of ballots from underneath a draped table. They then proceeded to tabulate a quantity of fake manufactured ballots estimated to be in the range of tens of thousands. Note that a large surge in Biden votes following the tabulation of these ballots can be clearly observed after these votes were processed.

Despite what appears to be damning evidence of a possible crime, a spate of stories appeared across the anti-Trump media diaspora dismissing any concerns. According to these whitewash stories, these were regular and authorized ballot boxes, observers in the media were not asked to leave but simply left on their own, and it is perfectly acceptable to count ballots in the absence of observers. Or so the spin goes.

Of course, this is precisely the kind of incident that should be fully investigated both by Georgia's Attorney General as well as by the Federal Department of Justice. Yet it remains unclear as to whether such investigations are underway or if they will ever be undertaken. Surely, the Democrats will not attempt if they gain power to discover a truth that will cause harm to their candidate. Meanwhile, the videotape itself, absent an adequate explanation, has contributed to the current climate of skepticism by everybody but solid Democrats who accept no contravening input surrounding the fairness and integrity of the election.

Finally, as an example of the possible destruction of legally cast real ballots there is this allegation from a court case filed in the United States District Court for the District of Arizona: Plaintiffs claim that over 75,000 absentee ballots were reported as unreturned when they were actually returned. These absentee ballots were then either lost or destroyed (consistent with allegations of Trump ballot destruction) and/or were replaced with blank ballots filled out by election workers or other third parties. Hard to believe but true, nonetheless.

Indefinitely Confined Voter Abuses

Indefinitely confined voters are those voters unable to vote in person because of old age or some disability. There are two types of possible abuses associated with such indefinitely confined voters.

The first kind of abuse involves exploiting the elderly or the infirm by effectively hijacking their identities and votes. For example, in Georgia, the family of an elderly man in a nursing home facility discovered that a mail-in ballot had been requested and submitted under his voter registration identity, yet it was done without his consent. In a similar situation in Pennsylvania, two parents and their daughter who has Downs Syndrome went to vote in person and discovered that a mail-in ballot had both been requested and submitted for the daughter without her consent.

The second kind of indefinitely confined voter abuse is far more consequential, at least in the state of Wisconsin. The key allegation here in several court filings is that “bad-faith voters” registering as “indefinitely confined” intentionally broke “Wisconsin election law to circumvent election integrity photo identification requirements.” In a nutshell, they were able to vote without showing a voter identification photo and therefore underwent a far less rigorous I.D. check than would otherwise have been conducted.

This abuse happened, according to one press account, after “clerks in Dane and Milwaukee counties offered illegal advice that encouraged individuals to use indefinite confinement as a way to ignore the state’s photo I.D. requirement.” The Trump side has called this correctly an open invitation to fraud; and stories and pictures abound of Wisconsin voters who registered as indefinitely confined but were seen also attending weddings, riding their bikes, going on vacation, and otherwise be anything but confined.²⁴

Here is what is most important about this particular type of election fraud: In the wake of the expanded definition of indefinitely confined voters – a definition ruled legally incorrect by the Wisconsin Supreme Court – the number of indefinitely confined voters surged from just under 70,000 voters in 2019 to over 200,000 in 2020.²⁶ This 130,000 vote increment of new indefinitely confined voters is more than five times the Biden victory margin in Wisconsin. Is anybody suggesting that Democrats cheated to achieve their success. You figure it out!

Ineligible Voters and Voters Who Voted in Multiple States

Ineligible voters include felons deemed ineligible, underage citizens, nonregistered voters, illegal aliens, illegal out-of-state voters, and voters illegally using a post office box as an address.

In a court filing by the Trump campaign legal team, lead counsel Ray Smith provided a list of more than 70,000 allegedly ineligible voters casting ballots in Georgia in the 2020 election. Also in Georgia, over 20,000 people appear to have filed a Notice of Changed Address form to the Georgia state government or had other indications of moving out of state. Yet, these clearly ineligible out-of-state voters appeared to have remained on the voter rolls and voted in the 2020 election. If Democrats run the election process and their guy is winning, how can there be an issue?

As additional data points regarding ineligible out-of-state voters, there are these: Between 80 and 100 self-proclaimed Black Lives Matter-affiliated members from other states who have admitted to having voted in Pennsylvania. “perhaps they did not mean to abuse the law.”

As for those voters who vote in multiple states, one lawsuit claims that roughly 15,000 mail-in or absentee ballots were received in Nevada from voters who were known to have voted in other states. It is useful to note here that in Nevada, poll workers allegedly were not consistent in their procedures when checking voters in to vote about whether they accepted California or Nevada Voter Identification as proof of eligibility to register to vote. Ahem!

Dead Voters and Ghost Voters

According to widespread evidence, there was a surprising number of ballots cast across several key battleground states by deceased voters, sparking one wag to quip, in reference to a classic Bruce Willis movie, this was the “Sixth Sense” election – I see dead people voting.

Here is some information for the readers but not in the report: “Rising news in Hollywood: Bruce Willis on the “The Tonight Show with Jimmy Fallon” showed up to the show in a “Make America Great Again” ball cap and a blonde wig underneath. He is not the only one declaring his support. Anthony Mackie from CAPTAIN AMERICA stated in an interview he would vote for Trump. Hollywood typically doesn't endorse Republican candidates, making this news all the more interesting. You bet folks. Democrats cheat lie, and steal to win. Republicans are wimps and do not even challenge Democrat's obvious lies"

After death, did prior Democrat voters switch to Republican so their cast votes for Biden would be more believable?

In Pennsylvania, for example, a statistical analysis conducted by the Trump Campaign matching voter rolls to public obituaries found what appears to be over 8,000 confirmed dead voters successfully casting mail-in ballots.

In Georgia—underscoring the critical role any given category of election irregularities might play in determining the outcome – the estimated number of alleged deceased individuals casting votes almost exactly equals the Biden victory margin.

Amazing!

In Michigan, according to one first-hand account offered in a declaration, computer operators at a polling location in Detroit were manually adding the names and addresses of thousands of ballots to vote tabulation systems with voters who had birth dates in 1900. And in Nevada, a widower since 2017 saw that his deceased wife had successfully cast a mail-in ballot on November 2, 2020, three and a half years after her death.

"Surely," he asked if he could meet her so he could confront her on voting in an irregular way. Why would he contest that the mortuary had not done its job?

It may be useful to note here that dead voters played a critical role in stealing the election from Richard Nixon, a theft orchestrated by Mayor Richard Daley and his Chicago political machine. According to one report "more than 3,000 votes [were] cast in the names of individuals who were dead, and more than 31,000 individuals voted twice in different locations in the city."

President Kennedy's victory margin in Illinois was less than 9,000 votes. For some reason our elected representatives are too chicken-hearted and lily-livered to make determinations for the people.

On the Ghost Voter front, a "Ghost Voter" is a voter who requests and submits a ballot under the name of a voter who no longer resides at the address where that voter was registered. In Georgia for example, it is alleged that over 20,000 absentee or early voters – almost twice the Biden victory margin – cast their ballots after having moved out of state.³⁶ In Nevada, a poll worker reported that there were as many as 50 ballots per day being delivered to homes vacated by their former residents.

Counting Ballots Multiple Times

Counting ballots multiple times occurs most egregiously when batches of ballots are repeatedly rescanned and re-tabulated in electronic voting machines. It can also happen when the same person votes multiple times within the same day. Evidence of these particular kinds of "ballot stuffing" are present across all six battleground states.

For example, in Wisconsin, poll workers were observed running ballots through tabulation machines more than once. In Wayne County, Michigan, Republican poll watchers observed canvassers re-scanning batches of ballots through vote tabulation machines up to 3 to 4 times.

In Pennsylvania, a poll worker observed a woman vote twice in the same day by changing her appearance. Another poll worker observed people in voting lines in one corner of a polling location voting, and then coming to another polling location at the other side of the building to vote.⁴¹ Still another poll worker witnessed a woman voting twice at voting machines on Election Day.

IV. Ballot Mishandling

Ballot mishandling represents the second major dimension of alleged election irregularities in the 2020 presidential election. As Table 4 illustrates, this is a multifaceted problem across the battleground states. Let's work our way through this figure starting with the failure to properly check the identification of voters.

Table 4: Ballot Mishandling in the Battleground States

	ARIZONA	GEORGIA	MICHIGAN	NEVADA	PENNSYLVANIA	WISCONSIN
No Voter I.D. Check			*	*		✓
Signature Match Check Abuses		✓		✓	✓

Broken Chain of Custody & Unauthorized Ballot Handling or Movements		✓	✓	✓	✓	✓

✓ = Wide-Spread Evidence * = Some Evidence

No Voter I.D. Check

It is critical for the integrity of any election for poll workers to properly verify a voter's identity and registration when that voter comes in to cast an in-person ballot. However, there is at least some evidence of a lack of adequate voter ID check across several of the battleground states.

For example, in Michigan, the chairperson of a polling location permitted an individual to vote without presenting voter identification and another with only a photocopy of a driver's license.

In Nevada, poll workers were instructed to advise people who wanted to register to vote and did not have proper Nevada IDs or Driver's Licenses to do the following: These unregistered voters could go outside into the parking lot and make an appointment with the Department of Motor Vehicles as late as January 2021 to obtain a Nevada Driver's License as proof of their identity. They could then bring in confirmation of their DMV appointment in either paper or digital form; and that would be sufficient to allow them to be registered.

Signature Matching Abuses

It is equally critical that ballot counters legally verify mail-in and absentee ballots by checking if the signatures on the outer envelopes match the voters' registration records. Note, however, that a variety of signature matching abuses represent a major issue in Nevada, Pennsylvania, and especially in Georgia.

In Georgia, contrary to state law, the Secretary of State entered into a Consent Decree with the Democrat Party that weakened signature matching to just one verification instead of two. This illegal weakening of the signature match test has called into question more than 1.2 million mail-in ballots cast in Georgia.

Georgia is not the only state where signature match check abuses have surfaced. Nevada law requires that persons – not machines – review all signatures and ballots. Yet the Clark County Registrar of Voters used a defective signature matching computer system called Agilis to conduct such checks.

As will be discussed further below, this problem of machines replacing humans contrary to Nevada state law was compounded by the fact that the Agilis system has an unacceptably low accuracy rate, making it easier for illegal ballots to slip through its screen.

Signature match abuses also surfaced in Wisconsin where mandatory voter information certifications for mail-in ballots were reduced and/or eliminated, again contrary to state law. As noted in one lawsuit, this change “undermined the authority of the state legislature, reduced the security and integrity of the election by making it easier to engage in mail-in ballot fraud and created another standard-less rule in conflict with the clear terms of the Wisconsin Election Code, preventing uniform treatment of absentee ballots throughout the State.”

“Naked Ballots” Lacking Outer Envelope

A naked ballot is a mail-in or absentee ballot lacking an outer envelope with the voter’s signature on it. It is illegal to accept the naked ballot as the outer envelope provides the only way to verify a voter’s identity.

The illegal acceptance of naked ballots appears to be particularly acute in Pennsylvania as a result of ill-advised “guidance” issued by the Secretary of State – a registered Democrat⁵⁰—that such naked ballots be counted.

This issuance of such guidance, in violation of state law, appears to be a blatant attempt by a Democrat politician to boost the count for Joe Biden as it was clear that Democrats would be voting disproportionately higher through mail-in ballots. This incident is especially egregious because when the Pennsylvania Supreme Court rejected this guidance, the Secretary of State refused to issue new guidance directing election officials to NOT count non-compliant mail-in or absentee ballots.

Broken Chain of Custody & Unauthorized Ballot Handling or Movements

The maintenance of a proper chain of custody for ballots cast is the linchpin of fair elections. Chain of custody is broken when a ballot is fraudulently transferred, controlled, or moved without adequate supervision or oversight.

While chain of custody issues can apply to all ballots, the risk of a broken chain of custody is obviously higher for mail-in and absentee ballots. This is because the ballots have to go through more hands.

In the 2020 presidential election, the increased use—often illegal use—of unsupervised drop boxes arguably has enhanced the risk of a broken chain of custody. So, too, has the increased practice of so-called “ballot harvesting” whereby third parties pick up ballots from voters and deliver them to drop boxes or directly to election officials.

Both drop boxes and ballot harvesting provide opportunities for bad actors to insert fraudulent ballots into the election process. That this is a very serious matter is evident in this observation by BlackBoxVoting.org: “ In court cases, chain of custody violations can result in refusal to admit evidence or even throwing a case out. In elections, chain of custody violations can result in ‘incurable uncertainty’ and court orders to redo elections .” (emphasis added)

As an example of the drop box problem, in Pennsylvania, ballots were illegally dumped into drop boxes at the Nazareth ballot drop center in violation of state law. Likewise in Pennsylvania, a man caught on videotape and photos came out of an unmarked Jeep extracting ballots from an unsupervised ballot drop-box to bring them into a ballot counting center. That same man was observed to come back with an empty ballot container to place in the unsupervised drop box.

In Wisconsin, the state’s Election Committee illegally positioned five hundred drop boxes for collection of absentee ballots across the state. However, these drop boxes were disproportionately located in urban areas which tend to have much higher Democrat registration, thereby favoring the candidacy of Joe Biden. Note: Any use of a drop box in Wisconsin is illegal by statute. Therefore, the votes cast through them cannot be legally counted in any certified election result.

As an example of ballot harvesting – in this case at the front end of the process–25,000 ballots were requested from nursing home residents in Pennsylvania at the same time.

As additional examples of a possible broken chain of custody, there are these: Large bins of absentee ballots arrived at the Central Counting Location in Wisconsin with already opened envelopes, meaning that ballots could have been tampered with. They were nonetheless counted.

Also in Wisconsin, an election worker was observed moving bags of blank ballots into a vehicle and then driving off without supervision. There is also the previously referenced case whereby a truck driver has offered a firsthand account of moving large quantities of fake manufactured ballots from New York to Pennsylvania. As a final note on the unauthorized handling or movement of ballots, there is the problem of illegal ballot counters. These are persons who not legally permitted and/or certified to be counting ballots.

In one curious case, an individual who worked as an official photographer for Kamala Harris' campaign in 2019 was alleged to be involved in scanning ballots in Floyd County, Georgia. Ballot counters cannot have any ties to candidates in a presidential election.

Ballots Accepted Without Postmarks and Backdating of Ballots

Across all of the battleground states, it is against state law for poll workers to count either mail-in or absentee ballots that lack postmarks. It is also illegal to backdate ballots so that they may be considered as having met the election deadline for the receipt and counting of such ballots. There is some evidence of these irregularities in several of the battleground states.

For example, in Wisconsin, according to one Declaration, employees of the United States Postal Service (USPS) in Milwaukee were repeatedly instructed by two managers to backdate late arriving ballots so they could still be counted. In addition, the USPS was alleged to have backdated as many as 100,000 ballots in Wisconsin.

Similarly, in Detroit, Michigan, as noted in a court case, poll workers were instructing ballot counters to backdate absentee ballots so they could be counted. One poll watcher also observed ballots in Michigan being run through vote tabulation machines without postmarks on them.

V. Contestable Process Fouls

Contestable process fouls represent the third dimension of election irregularities in the 2020 presidential election. The various forms such process fouls can take are illustrated in Table 5 across the six battleground states.

Abuses of Poll Watchers and Observers

Central to the fairness and integrity of any election is the processes by which observers monitor the receipt, opening, and counting of the ballots. You can see in the Table 5 that poll watcher and observer abuses were present across all six battleground states.

In Georgia, Michigan, and Pennsylvania, poll watchers and observers were denied entry to ballot counting centers by Judges of Elections and other poll workers. This was despite presenting proper certification and identification.

In Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, and Pennsylvania, Republican poll watchers were also forced inside confined areas, thereby limiting their view. In some cases, this confinement was enforced by local law enforcement.

Across these four battleground states, Republican poll watchers were also directed to stand at unreasonably lengthy distances from ballot counters. In Michigan—arguably the “first among equals” when it comes to observer abuses—poll workers put up poster boards on the windows of the room where ballots were being processed and counted so as to block the view. In Pennsylvania, tens of thousands of ballots were processed in back rooms where poll observers were prohibited from being able to observe at all.

This is an extremely serious matter because it is these poll watchers and observers who represent the frontline defenders of a fair election process. Their job is to make sure all ballots are handled properly and tabulated accordingly. They seek to answer questions like: Is there a signature match process being conducted? Does each ballot have an outer envelope or is it a naked ballot? Are ballots being run more than once through the tabulation machines?

When poll watchers or observers are barred from viewing or forced to view from unacceptably large distances, these watchdogs cannot accurately answer these questions. They, therefore, cannot fulfill their critical watchdog function. Mail-In Ballot and Absentee Ballot Rules Violated Contrary to State Law

In Georgia, more than 300,000 individuals were permitted to vote who had applied for an absentee ballot more than 180 days prior to the Election Day. This is a clear violation of state law. In both Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, Democrat election officials acted unilaterally to accept both mail-in and absentee ballots after Election Day. State Republicans have argued this is contrary to state law.

In Pennsylvania, absentee and mail-in ballots were accepted up to three days after Election Day. On November 7th, in anticipation of a legal challenge, the United States Supreme Court ordered that the approximately 10,000 absentee and mail-in ballots that had arrived past November 3rd be separated from ballots that had arrived on Election Day.⁷⁷ This direction notwithstanding, a poll watcher reported on November 7th that, in Delaware County, ballots received the previous night were not being separated from ballots received on Election Day, contrary to state law.

Wisconsin state law does not permit early voting. Nonetheless, city officials in the Democrat stronghold of Madison, Wisconsin assisted in the creation of more than 200 “Democracy in the Park” illegal polling places.

These faux polling places were promoted and supported by the Biden campaign. They provided witnesses for absentee ballots and acted in every way like legal polling places. Moreover, they received ballots outside of the limited 14-day period preceding an election that is authorized by statute for in-person or absentee balloting. These were clear violations of state law.

Voters Not Properly Registered Allowed to Vote

One of the jobs of poll workers is to ensure that in-person voters are legally registered and are who they say they are. Across at least three of the six battleground states – Georgia, Nevada, and Wisconsin – this job may not have been effectively done.

In Wisconsin, for example, officials refused to allow poll watchers to challenge the qualifications of people applying to vote or require proof of such persons' qualifications.⁸⁰ In Georgia, more than 2,000 individuals appear to have voted who were not listed in the State's records as having been registered to vote.

In Pennsylvania, a poll watcher observed poll workers taking individuals whose names did not appear in voter registration books back into a separate area that was unobserved by any poll watchers. There, these apparently unregistered voters met with a Judge of Elections who allegedly told them: "you go back in, tell them this is your name, and you can vote."

Illegal Campaigning at Poll Locations

Poll workers are supposed to remain politically neutral. When a poll worker displays bias for one political candidate over another at a polling location, this is contrary to state law. Unfortunately, this law appears to have been repeatedly violated in Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

For example, in Pennsylvania, poll workers were wearing paraphernalia from a group called "Voter Protection." This is a 100% Democrat-funded Political Action Committee dedicated to Democrat redistricting in Pennsylvania; and the wearing of its paraphernalia constitutes illegal campaigning at the polls.

In a similar type of illegal campaigning in Michigan, poll workers were allowed to wear Black Lives Matter shirts and were seen carrying tote bags of President Obama paraphernalia.⁸⁴ In addition, poll workers with Biden and Obama campaign shirts on were allowed on the ballot counting floor.⁸⁵

In Wisconsin, representatives from the Biden campaign were outside with clipboards talking to voters on their way in to vote. They were clearly inside the prohibited perimeter for electioneering. Poll workers did nothing to address this illegal campaigning despite the objections of observers.

Ballots Cured by Poll Workers or Voters Contrary to Law

Under prescribed circumstances, both poll workers and voters may fix ballots with mistakes or discrepancies. This process is known as “ballot curing.”

In nineteen states, poll workers must notify voters if there are errors or discrepancies on their ballots and allow them to “cure” or correct any errors so their votes will count. However, in states that do not allow curing, ballots with discrepancies such as missing or mismatched signatures must be discarded.

In Pennsylvania, and contrary to state law, poll workers were trained to allow voters to cure or “correct” their ballots. According to one court filing, Democrat-controlled counties in Pennsylvania participated in pre-canvass activities prior to Election Day “by reviewing received mail-in ballots for deficiencies.”⁹⁰ Such discrepancies included “lacking the inner secrecy envelope or lacking a signature of the elector on the outer declaration envelope.” Voters were then notified so that they could cure their ballots – a clear violation of state law.

Numerous other examples of illegally cured ballots abound. For example, in Wisconsin, tens of thousands of ballots were observed to be corrected or cured despite election observer objections.

In Pennsylvania, poll workers sorted approximately 4,500 ballots with various errors into bins. Poll workers then re-filled out the 4,500 ballots so that they could be read by tabulation machines, an action contrary to state law.

In Michigan, poll workers altered the dates on the outer envelopes of the ballots so that they would be able to count them.⁹⁴ Michigan poll workers also filled out blank ballots to “correct” mail-in and absentee ballots according to what they believed the “voter had intended.”

VI. Equal Protection Clause Violations

The Equal Protection Clause is part of the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and a fundamental pillar of the American Republic. This Equal Protection Clause mandates that no State may deny its citizens equal protection of its governing laws.⁹⁶

Table 6 illustrates three major alleged violations of the Equal Protection Clause in the 2020 presidential election. As the table illustrates, each violation was observed to occur across all six battleground states.

Table 6: Equal Protection Clause Violations in the Six Battleground States

Differential & Partisan Poll Watcher Treatment	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓

✓ = Wide-Spread Evidence * = Some Evidence

Higher Standards of Certification & I.D. Verification Applied to In-Person Voters

The first alleged violation focuses on the application of higher standards of certification and voter identification for in-person voters than mail-in and absentee ballot voters. In effect, these higher standards disproportionately benefited the candidacy of Joe Biden because President Trump had a much higher percentage of in-person voters than mail-in and absentee voters. Indeed, mail-in and absentee ballots were largely skewed for Joe Biden across the country by ratios as high as 3 out of 4 votes in some states.

Note here that much of the alleged fraud and ballot mishandling focused on mail-in voters and absentee ballots. Therefore, the lower the level of scrutiny of these voters, the more illegal votes for Joe Biden relative to Donald Trump could slip in. It should likewise be noted here that this particular violation of the Equal Protection Clause was further enabled by poll watchers being denied meaningful observation.

Perhaps the most egregious examples of this particular violation of the Equal Protection clause occurred in Georgia and Michigan. Georgia, for example, requires ID for voting in-person and Michigan will only allow provisional voting without an ID. However, in both Georgia and Michigan, a valid ID is not required to vote by mail so long as the person has already registered in a previous election.

These procedures are ripe for fraud. In fact, there is evidence that election fraudsters targeted voters who had voted in past elections but not voted in more recent ones. These fraudsters could then cast ballots on behalf of these infrequent voters with little likelihood they would be caught. Numerous affidavits, however, detail persons arriving to vote at polls only to be informed that records indicate they had already voted. At least fourteen such affidavits have been made by Georgians.

As a further example, in Wisconsin, mail-in ballots were accepted without witness signatures placed properly in the allocated envelope location.⁹⁸ A comparable process for in-person voting would have resulted in the invalidation of the vote.

Different Standards of Ballot Curing

As a second major violation of the Equal Protection Clause, likewise observed across all six battleground states, different standards for correcting mistakes on ballots (ballot curing) were applied across different jurisdictions within the states. Often, jurisdictions with predominantly Democrat registration were more expansive about allowing the curing of ballots than jurisdictions with predominantly Republican registration.

In Pennsylvania, there was a clear difference between how ballots were – or were not – cured in Republican counties versus Democrat counties. When Pennsylvania’s Secretary of State Kathy Boockvar issued illegal guidance authorizing counties to cure ballots, this illegal guidance was not followed in at least eight different Republican counties.⁹⁹ Meanwhile, ballots were cured in Democrat counties under this illegal guidance.

In Arizona, there likewise was a clear difference between how in-person voters were treated versus mail-in ballots. On the one hand, mail-in voters had up to 5 days to “cure” or “fix” invalid mail-in ballots sent prior to Election Day. On the other hand, in-person voters in Maricopa County, for example, had to deal with poll workers who did not know how to work electronic voting machines properly. This resulted in thousands of in-person votes being marked incorrectly and disregarded rather than cured.¹⁰²

Differential and Partisan Poll Watcher Treatment

In most states, political party candidates and ballot issue committees are able to appoint poll watchers and observers to oversee the ballot counting process. Such poll watchers and observers must be registered voters and present certification to the Judge of Elections in order to be able to fulfill their duties at a polling location.

Such certified poll watchers should be free to observe at appropriate distances regardless of their party affiliation. Yet in key Democrat strongholds, e.g., Dane County in Wisconsin and Wayne County in Michigan, which yielded high Biden vote counts, Republican poll watchers and observers were frequently subject to different treatment ranging from denial of entry to polling places to harassment and intimidation.

For example, in Georgia, a certified poll watcher witnessed other poll workers at a polling location discussing how they should not speak to her due to her party affiliation. In Pennsylvania, a Republican poll watcher was harassed and removed from the polling location due to his party affiliation.¹⁰⁶ In Wisconsin, a Republican poll watcher was prevented from observing due to the fact that polling locations were not allowing Republicans in.

Note the synergy here between the problem of the process foul involved with denying access to certified poll watchers (discussed in the previous section) and the violation of the Equal Protection Clause such conduct entails when such denial, harassment, and intimidation differs by party affiliation.

VII. 2020 Election Voting Machine Irregularities

Perhaps no device illustrates that technology is a double-edged sword than the machines and associated software that have come to be used to tabulate votes across all 50 states. Types of voting equipment include optical scanners used to process paper ballots, direct recording electronic systems which voters can use to directly input their choices, and various marking devices to produce human-readable ballots.

Two main types of voting machine irregularities have been alleged in the 2020 presidential election. As Table 7 illustrates, these types of irregularities include large-scale voting machine inaccuracies together with inexplicable vote switching and vote surges, often in favor Joe Biden.

Table 7: 2020 Voting Machine Irregularities

Large-Scale Voting Machine Inaccuracies	✓		✓	✓

Large-Scale Voting Machine Inaccuracies

Much has been made about the shadowy genesis of a company called Dominion which provides voting machines and equipment to 28 states. According to critics, Dominion's roots may be traced to an effort by the Venezuelan dictator Hugo Chavez to rig his sham elections. Dominion is also alleged to have ties to the Clinton Foundation, while the Smartmatic software used in the Dominion machines is alleged to have links to the shadowy anti-Trump globalist financier George Soros.

The controversy swirling over Dominion and Smartmatic notwithstanding, one of the biggest problems with machine inaccuracies may be traced to a company called Agilis. Nevada election officials in Clark County, a Democrat stronghold in Nevada, used Agilis signature verification machines to check over 130,000 mail-in ballot signatures.

According to a court case filed in the First Judicial District Court in Carson City, the Agilis machines used a "lower image quality than suggested by the manufacturer." Clark County Election Department officials also lowered the accuracy rate below the manufacturer's recommendations, making the whole verification process unreliable.

In a test run, it was proven that, at the manufacturer's setting, the Agilis machine already had a high tolerance for inaccuracies — as high as 50% non-matching. In other words, half of the ballots that might be moved through the machine would be impossible to verify; and Clark County officials lowered that threshold even further.

As a final comment on this case, there is also the broader legal matter that the Agilis machines were used to "entirely replace signature verification by election personnel." This is contrary to Nevada state law.

As noted in a court case: "In violation of Nevada law, the Clark County Election Department allows the Agilis machine to solely verify 30% of the signatures accompanying the mail-in ballots without ever having humans inspect those signatures." A similar problem has been alleged in a court filing in Arizona with a software known as the Novus 6.0.0.0. In cases where ballots were too damaged or illegible to be read by vote tabulation machines, Novus was used in an attempt to cure or restore the ballots. The system would do so by trying to read the applicable scans of the original rejected ballots. However, as noted in a court case filed by Kelli

Ward, Chairwoman of the Arizona Republican Party: “the software was highly inaccurate, and it often flipped the vote.”

Inexplicable Vote Switching and Vote Surges In Favor of Biden

As a further complication to the Novus software problem in Arizona referenced above, the software was not only highly inaccurate. According to observers, and as an example of inexplicable vote switching, “the software would erroneously prefill ‘Biden’ twice as often as it did ‘Trump.’”

At least one instance of a large and inexplicable vote switching and vote surge in favor of Joe Biden took place in Antrim County, Michigan – and it is associated with the controversial aforementioned Dominion-Smartmatic voting machine hardware-software combo. In this Republican stronghold, 6,000 votes were initially, and incorrectly, counted for Joe Biden. The resulting vote totals were contrary to voter registration and historical patterns and therefore raised eyebrows. When a check was done, it was discovered that the 6,000 votes were actually for Donald J. Trump.

A subsequent forensic audit of the Antrim County vote tabulation found that the Dominion system had an astonishing error rate of 68 percent. By way of comparison, the Federal Election Committee requires that election systems must have an error rate no larger than 0.0008 percent.

Perhaps even more troubling given concerns over hackers and Dominion’s alleged ties to bad foreign actors, the records that would have allowed the detection of remote internet access went missing from the Antrim County system. This was in direct violation of Michigan state law, which requires retention of voting records for 22 months -- such information was in place for previous election years, but not this election. At the very least, the results of this audit indicates the need for further investigation of the Dominion system across other states in the country.

In Georgia, there were numerous "glitches" with the Dominion machines where the results would change. The most notable of these changes was a 20,000 vote surge for Biden and 1,000 vote decrease for Trump.

VIII. Statistical Anomalies in the Six Battleground States The 2020 presidential election appears to feature at least four types of statistical anomalies that raise troubling questions. Table 8 illustrates the incidence of these statistical anomalies across the six battleground states. As you can see from the table, Wisconsin and Georgia are characterized by the highest degree of statistical anomalies, with three of the four anomalies present. Nevada and Arizona show two anomalies present while Michigan has at least one. Let’s take a more granular look now at each of these types of statistical anomalies.

Dramatic Changes in Mail-in and Absentee Ballot Rejection Rates from Previous Elections

It is routine across the 50 states for mail-in-and absentee ballots to be rejected for any number of reasons. These reasons may include: the lack of a signature or adequate signature match, a late arrival past a deadline, the lack of an external envelope that verifies voter-identification (a naked ballot), or if voters provide inaccurate or incomplete information on the ballots.

In the 2020 presidential race, Joe Biden received a disproportionately high percentage of the mail- in and absentee ballots. Perhaps not coincidentally, we saw a dramatic fall in rejection rates in Pennsylvania, Nevada, and especially Georgia.

For example, in Nevada, the overall rejection rate dropped from 1.6%¹²⁷ in 2016 to 0.58% in 2020. In Pennsylvania, the 2016 rejection rate of 1.0% dropped to virtually nothing at 0.28%. The biggest fall in the overall absentee ballot rejection rate came, however, in Georgia. Its rejection rate fell from 6.8%¹³¹ in 2016 to a mere 0.34% in 2020.

These dramatically lower rejection rates point to a conscious effort by Democrat election officials across these key battleground states to subject mail-in and absentee ballots to a lower level of scrutiny. That this kind of government conduct and gaming of our election system may have contributed to tipping the scales in favor of Joe Biden can be illustrated in this simple calculation: In the 2020 race, Georgia election officials received 1,320,154 mail-in and absentee ballots. If these ballots had been rejected at the 2016 rate of 6.8% instead of the 2020 rate of 0.34%, there would have been 81,321 ballots rejected instead of the 4,489 ballots that were actually rejected.

Under the conservative assumption that 60% of these mail-in and absentee ballots went to Joe Biden, this dramatic fall in the rejection rate provided Joe Biden with an additional 16,264 votes. That's more than the margin of the alleged Biden victory in Georgia. Excessively High Voter Turnout (at times exceeding 100%).

When there are more ballots cast than registered or eligible voters, fraud has likely taken place. During the 2020 presidential election, excessively high voter turnout occurred across all six swing states.

In analyzing this problem, it is important to distinguish between states that have same-day registration and those that don't. States with same-day registration can plausibly have voter turnout that is higher than 100%. However, is impossible for that to happen in states without same-day registration without fraud having taken place.

Consider, then, Arizona which does not allow same-day voter registration. According to testimony from an MIT-trained mathematician, Candidate Biden may have received a weighted 130% total of Democrat votes in Maricopa County to help him win the state due to an algorithm programmed into the Dominion voting machines used there.

Although Michigan does allow same-voter registration, voter turnout was still abnormally high. Here again, the Dominion voting system has been implicated. To wit:

Cybersecurity executive and former NASA analyst, Russ Ramsland, testified that in Wayne County, Michigan, where Dominion Voting Systems equipment was used, 46 out of 47 precincts in the county displayed greater than a 96% voter turnout. 25 out of those precincts showed a 100% voter turnout.¹³⁵

Wisconsin, which also allows same-day voter registration, also reported abnormally high voter turnout when compared to 2016 numbers. For example, Milwaukee reported a record 84% voter turnout during the 2020 presidential election versus 75% in 2016.¹³⁶ Of the city's 327 voting wards, 90 reported a turnout of greater than 90%.

Statistically Improbable Vote Totals Based on Party Registration and Historical Patterns

The 2020 presidential election was characterized by strong partisan voting patterns consistent with historical patterns. As a rule, heavily Republican jurisdictions voted heavily for President Trump and heavily Democrat jurisdictions voted heavily for Joe Biden.

In some cases, however, there were instances where these partisan and historical patterns were violated. It is precisely in such instances where either outright fraud or machine inaccuracies or manipulations are most likely to be operative. As one example of such statistically improbable vote totals, there are the results in Arizona's Fifth Congressional District. In one precinct in the suburb of Queen Creek, the vote percent for President Trump dropped dramatically relative to 2016, from 67.4 to 58.5 percent. This was attributed to an "unusually high" number of duplicate ballots.

Unusual Vote Surges

Several unusual vote surges took place in the very early hours of the morning of November 4th in Georgia, Michigan, and Wisconsin. An analysis conducted by the Voter Integrity Project of The New York Times publicly reported data on Election Day that showed several vote “spikes” that were unusually large in size with unusually high Biden-to-Trump ratios. Such spikes or surges could well indicate that fraudulent ballots had been counted.

In Georgia, for example, an update at 1:34 AM on November 4th showed 136,155 additional ballots cast for Joe Biden, and 29,115 additional votes cast for President Trump.¹⁴⁰ An update in Michigan at 3:50 AM on November 4th showed an update of 54,497 additional votes cast for Joe Biden, and 4,718 votes cast for President Trump. And an update in Wisconsin at 3:42 AM on November 4th showed 143,379 additional ballots cast for Joe Biden, and 25,163 votes cast for President Trump.

IX. A State-By-State Analysis and Signal Failure of Our Legislative and

Judicial Branches

All happy families are alike; each unhappy family is unhappy in its own way.

Anna Karenina, by Leo Tolstoy

It should be clear at this point that all six battleground states suffer from most or all of the six dimensions of election irregularities documented in this report. However, like Tolstoy’s unhappy families, it is also true that each battleground state is different in its own election irregularity way. That is, each battleground state may be characterized by a unique mix of issues that, impressionistically, might be considered “most important” in swinging that state for Joe Biden.

Consider Arizona, a state with the lowest alleged Biden victory margin at 10,457 votes. This is a state with statistically improbable high voter turnouts in Maricopa and Pima counties; widespread ballot mishandling; and 1.6 million mail-in ballots (which tended towards Biden) subjected to much lower standards of certification and ID verification than in-person voters (who tended towards Trump).

In Georgia, the alleged Biden victory margin was just 11,779 votes. What perhaps jumps out most in the Peach State is the illegal Consent Decree that effectively gutted the signature match requirements for millions of mail-in ballots. There is also the quite unresolved fake ballot manufacturing matter of the roughly 100,000 ballots that were mysteriously pulled, in the dead of night, out from underneath tables and expeditiously tabulated. Of course, we saw that Georgia's electoral version of a Three-card Monte sleight-of-hand led to a strong Biden vote surge.

Of all of the six battleground states which suffered from numerous observer and poll watcher abuses, Michigan must rank as "first among equals." With its "board up the windows" and "rough up the observers" tactics, Detroit in Wayne County was the center of this "see no evil" universe. When two local Republican officials tried to withhold certification of the votes in this county for practices such as these and demanded an audit, they were subject to extreme intimidation and "doxing" and quickly capitulated.

As for Nevada, this is a state likewise with a very narrow alleged victory margin for Joe Biden—33,596 votes. Here, voting machine irregularities associated with the Agilis machine have called into question as many as 130,000 votes. There may also be an unusually large number of ballots cast by out-of-state voters and others who did not meet residency requirements. Of course, the brazen bribery of Native Americans to vote for Joe Biden is a dark stain on the state and the Democrat Party.¹⁴⁴

In Pennsylvania, an equally brazen Democrat Secretary of State issued illegal guidance for the acceptance of naked ballots and ignored direction from the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to fix the matter. She allowed ballots to be illegally cured in contravention of state law and pushed the legal envelope for accepting ballots after Election Day.

In the Keystone State, and as with Georgia's Three-card Monte, shuffle fake ballots out from underneath a table scandal, there is also the equally unresolved matter of possible fake ballot manufacturing. Recall, here, the testimony of a truck driver who swears he picked up as many as 100,000 fake manufactured ballots in New York and delivered them to Pennsylvania. Both the tractor-trailer and the ballots involved remain unaccounted for—and what might have been in this tractor-trailer were enough ballots alone to swing the election to Joe Biden.

Finally, in Wisconsin, the mother of all contestable process fouls is arguably that of the roughly 170,000 mail-in ballots entering the tabulation process under the guise of absentee ballots in clear violation of state law. That's more than eight times the number of ballots of the alleged Biden victory margin of 20,682 votes.

In Wisconsin, there is likewise the large-scale abuse associated with an overly expansive definition of "indefinitely confined voters." Recall here that the increment of new indefinitely confined voters in the 2020 election in Wisconsin was more than five times the alleged Biden victory margin.

While Democrat Party government officials cheated and gamed the electoral process across all six battleground states, many Republican government officials – from governors and state legislators to judges – did little or nothing to stand in their way.

Consider that the Republican Party controls both chambers of the State Legislatures in five of the six battleground states – Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. These State Legislatures clearly have both the power and the opportunity to investigate the six dimensions of election irregularities presented in this report. Yet, wilting under intense political pressure, these politicians have failed in their Constitutional duties and responsibilities to do so—and thereby failed both their states and this nation as well as their party.

The same can be said for the Republican governors in two of the six battleground states—Arizona and Georgia. Both Arizona’s Doug Ducey and Georgia’s Brian Kemp have cowered in their Governor’s mansions and effectively sat on their hands while their states have wallowed in election irregularities.

The judicial branch of the American government should be the final backstop for the kind of issues examined in this report. Yet both our State courts and Federal courts, including the Supreme Court, have failed the American people in refusing to properly adjudicate the election irregularities that have come before them. Their failures likewise pose a great risk to the American Republic.

Concluding Observations

From the findings of this report, it is possible to infer what may well have been a coordinated strategy to effectively stack the election deck against the Trump-Pence ticket. Indeed, the patterns of election irregularities observed in this report are so consistent across the six battleground states that they suggest a coordinated strategy to, if not steal the election, then to strategically game the election process in such a way as to unfairly tilt the playing field in favor of the Biden-Harris ticket.

A major part of this “stuff the ballot box” strategy has been aptly summarized in a complaint filed before the US Supreme Court by the State of Texas: Using the COVID-19 pandemic as a justification, [Democrat] government officials [in Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin] usurped their legislatures’ authority and unconstitutionally revised their state’s election statutes.

They accomplished these statutory revisions through executive fiat or friendly lawsuits, thereby weakening ballot integrity. According to the Texas complaint – which the Supreme Court sadly refused to hear – the goal of this strategy was to flood the battleground states “with millions of ballots to be sent through the mails, or placed in drop boxes, with little or no chain of custody.” At the same time, Democrat government officials also sought to “weaken the strongest security measures protecting the integrity of the vote signature verification and witness requirements.”

The findings of the assessment conducted in this report are consistent with the Texas complaint. Key takeaways include:

The weight of evidence and patterns of irregularities uncovered in this report are such that it is irresponsible for anyone – especially the mainstream media – to claim that there is “no evidence” of fraud or irregularities.

The ballots that have come into question because of the identified election irregularities are more than sufficient to swing the outcome in favor of President Trump should even a relatively small portion of these ballots be ruled illegal.

While all six battleground states exhibit most, or all, six dimensions of election irregularities, each state has a unique mix of issues that might be considered “most important.” To put this another way, all battleground states are characterized by the same or similar election irregularities; but, like Tolstoy’s unhappy families, each battleground state is different in its own election irregularity way.

This was theft by a thousand cuts across six dimensions and six battleground states rather than any one single “silver bullet” election irregularity.

In refusing to investigate a growing number of legitimate grievances, the anti-Trump media and censoring social media are complicit in shielding the American public from the truth. This is a dangerous game that simultaneously undermines the credibility of the media and the stability of our political system and Republic.

Those journalists, pundits, and political leaders now participating in what has become a Biden Whitewash should acknowledge the six dimensions of election irregularities and conduct the appropriate investigations to determine the truth about the 2020 election. If this is not done before Inauguration Day, we risk putting into power an illegitimate and illegal president lacking the support of a large segment of the American people.

The failure to aggressively and fully investigate the six dimensions of election irregularities assessed in this report is a signal failure not just

of our anti-Trump mainstream media and censoring social media but also of both our legislative and judicial branches.

Republican governors in Arizona and Georgia together with Republican majorities in both chambers of the State Legislatures of five of the six battleground states—Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin—have had both the power and the opportunity to investigate the six dimensions of election irregularities presented in this report. Yet, wilting under intense political pressure, these politicians have failed in their Constitutional duties and responsibilities to do so—and thereby failed both their states and this nation as well as their party.

Both State courts and Federal courts, including the Supreme Court, have failed the American people in refusing to appropriately adjudicate the election irregularities that have come before them. Their failures pose a great risk to the American Republic.

If these election irregularities are not fully investigated prior to Inauguration Day and thereby effectively allowed to stand, this nation runs the very real risk of never being able to have a fair presidential election again – with the down-ballot Senate races scheduled for January 5 in Georgia an initial test case of this looming risk.

Chapter 7 Additional Information on the Deception

Here is some additional information. The president is quite disappointed in SCOTUS. In early January he said that the election challenge is not over. The storming of the Capital by Antifa and BLM and other thugs has seemingly [ut an end to the Trump challenges though they are very valid. It proves that Joe Biden is not our president but Congress says he is.

O

The author of the report just presented, White House trade adviser Peter Navarro updated his report about alleged voting irregularities in the 2020 election to include data about Michigan.

The director of the Office of Trade and Manufacturing Policy posted a video on Vimeo recently explaining what he found in the Wolverine State using additional data and documents that he argues could flip the election from victory for President-elect Joe Biden to another term for President Trump.

"I've concluded that the number of possible illegal votes in the state of Michigan tops 379,000 ballots, more than twice the alleged victory margin of Joe Biden," Navarro said. Biden won the state of Michigan and its 16 Electoral College votes by roughly 150,000 ballots.

The Michigan number mentioned in the video was a missing figure in the original, 36-page report shown above, that Navarro had previously released. Navarro developed his report in his private capacity. As you now know, his investigation found at least 100,000 votes in Arizona, Georgia, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin that could be illegal ballots that, if tossed out, would put Trump over Biden's "victory" margin.

Navarro cited Richard Baris, director of Big Data Poll, who he said found roughly 9,500 Michigan voters "confirmed" to be dead through the Social Security Death Index and about 2,000 voters listed as 100 years old or more who were not listed as "living centenarians" in the state.

Pointing to data from Wayne County, the state's most populous county, Navarro said 174,384 absentee ballots were cast in Detroit with no individual voter registration numbers. Therefore, he said, they were "illegally counted."

Navarro also claimed there were "statistical anomalies," claiming that Trump held a "seemingly insurmountable lead" at midnight on Election Day, followed by "an inexplicable vote surge" of almost 200,000 ballots for Biden, compared to only about 10,000 for Trump.

The findings clash with statements by state and local officials, as well as experts, who have said the ballot counting was transparent and accurate and attributed some allegations of irregularities to clerical errors and not voter fraud. The state of Michigan has committed to an audit of the election. Already a hand audit in Antrim County, where concerns were raised about voting machines, affirmed Trump's victory in that county and netted him an additional 12 votes.

Navarro's investigation is just one facet of a larger operation to question and challenge the results of the election as Trump, his legal team, and Republican allies seek to overturn the results over claims of widespread voter fraud and irregularities, which have not had much success in court.

On a recent Monday, GOP lawmakers huddled with Trump and Vice President Mike Pence at the White House about a long-shot strategy to challenge Biden's win in Congress.

To conclude his roughly two-minute video, Navarro said it is "absolutely critical" for there to be an investigation of the six dimensions of voting irregularities mentioned in the original report, which include: outright voter fraud, ballot mishandling, contestable process fouls, equal protection clause violations, voting machine irregularities, and significant statistical anomalies.

He said some or all of these issues were found in six battleground states and "may well be the greatest political scandal in U.S. presidential history."

Chapter 8 Peter Navarro Intro to the Steal Volume II

'On January 4, Peter Navarro released his 'Volume Two' of the report on voter fraud allegations. He calls this one “The Art of the Steal.”

Thank you to Mr. Navarro for permission to reprint this great report in this book

White House trade adviser Peter Navarro was not happy that he had covered all the bases in his groundbreaking report titled “The Immaculate Deception. He released his update, “The Art of the Steal on January 5, one days before the wimpy Republicans gave up on Trump.

By the way, conservatives no longer brag about watching Fox News. We let Donna Brazile speak for the Democrats and have no need to hear her or any of the Fox line of anti-Trump rhetoric. This morning on January 9, NewsMax featured two commentators who definitely said that there was no steal. If NewsMax keeps up with that, I know I for one will Donna Brazile them and begin watching AON and reruns of Gilligan's island rather than NewsMax Conservatives must stand up for what we believe. .

Navarro released another report on Tuesday January 5 documenting what he considers evidence of the Democratic Party's years long effort to "steal" the 2016 election from President Trump, following up on his December report detailing a ton of illegal votes in the 2020 foray.

Navarro used his sequel report to describe an approach taken by Democrats to increase Joe Biden's "narrow and illegitimate 'victory'" by more than 7 million votes in the general election. It was this plus the Republican Wimps in Congress, which gave Biden 306 Electoral College votes for the record but not for reality.

We know Trump won in his "landslide" 2030 win.

Navarro's report, "The Art of the Steal", was released one day before all hell broke loose at the Capitol. Congress was supposed to meet with supposedly gutsy Republicans. The brave of heart were to object to the fraudulent electors in the battleground states. They promised conservative Americans – the 74,000,000 plus who voted for Trump that they would do so. Yes, Republicans in both the House and Senate had promised the people a hearing on the facts even though there were long-odds at overturning the election. They promised to give it a shot and to give the world an opportunity to hear their objections based on fact and affidavits.

But, they found the first excuse and they chickened out.

The Democratic Party literally stuffed the ballot box as a strategy according to Navarro. The crooks relied on expanding voter access to absentee and mail-in ballots and they unconstitutionally relaxed ballot verification protocols and other impediments to registering to vote.

By the way, Peter Navarro is a great and loyal patriot. He has been a vocal critic of the Wimpy, Gutless, Turncoat Republicans who stopped quivering long enough to criticize Trump over the Democrat planned Capitol storming. Navarro told the Republican Wimps point blank: 'You need to shut up!'

"It is important to point out here that much of what the Democrats did was legal; but some of what they did at times also bent, and arguably sometimes broke, the rules or the law," Navarro wrote as he examined closely the changes they made illegally in Pennsylvania voting laws.

Their effort without the endorsement of the state legislature, expanded access to absentee ballots part of which had been passed by the state's Republican legislature in 2019 and a federal court ruling from 2018 that prevented Georgia from implementing an "exact match" voting law to complete his narrative of an election that was stolen from Trump. The expansion of the laws by non-state legislators is the essence of the unconstitutional acts by the states. What they did was against the law—period.

"The practical result of the Democrat Party's two-pronged Grand 'Stuff the Ballot Box' Strategy was to flood the six key battleground states with enough illegal absentee and mail-in ballots to turn a decisive Trump victory into a small alleged Biden 'victory,'" Navarro wrote, referring to Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

Much of Navarro's fire was targeted on "the corrosive effects" of "Wall Street oligarch George Soros" and the "CCP virus pandemic," but he saved some volleys for "unwitting 'useful idiots'" He was talking about Republicans such as Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger and Gov. Brian Kemp, whom Navarro claimed "ran the table on behalf of the Democrats." These useful idiots scammed the Republicans as both officials repeatedly articulated their support for Republican candidates in the Jan. 5 Senate runoff elections. Lies, lies, and more lies. We now know that this too was wrought with fraud. Ask the wimps Loeffler and Perdue.

Throughout this great report, Navarro also deviated from his original electoral grudge to criticize federal institutions for failing to attack Trump's political enemies. After all, the election was stolen. There is no doubt about that

"It is as remarkable as it is abhorrent that the Trump Administration's Department of Justice did not conduct a full investigation and issue indictments in a Russia Hoax that ended in a complete exoneration of President Trump," Navarro decried, despite investigations conducted by DOJ Inspector General Michael Horowitz and U.S. Attorney John Durham, who was recently appointed special counsel to investigate "any violations of law related to the inquiries conducted by the FBI's Crossfire Hurricane operation and, later, special counsel Robert Mueller." It was all a corrupt scheme to take down President Trump.

"Volumes 1 and 2 of the Navarro Report — The Immaculate Deception and The Art of the Steal — together make the strong case for a full investigation of the election irregularities and strategic gaming of our political process that in all likelihood have led to a stolen presidential election," Navarro concluded. "

Any such investigation must begin immediately as this nation simply cannot risk the inauguration of a president who will be perceived by a large segment of the American people as illegitimate."

It may be too late for Trump in 2021 because the Republican turncoats missed their opportunity on January 6. But it is not too late to put the cowards in jail. Now the people are waiting for the next primary so that we can replace all those who did not stand up for Americans with representatives who will be patriots not elitist members of the SWAMP. A lot of Republicans will have their last days in Congress after the next election. Bye Bye Wimps.

BTW folks, Trump and Pence had not spoken for about a week since Wednesday, when Pence stabbed Trump in the back. They are now talking again. At the time, the vice president sheltered in place at the Capitol after the building was stormed by Antifa and BLM and several Trump supporters. Senator James Inhofe of Oklahoma told the Tulsa World newspaper he'd "never seen Pence as angry" as he was after being blasted by Trump for not intervening in the congressional count of Electoral College votes. Trump tweeted that Pence lacked "courage." Trump is right as usual, Pence pulled off a Republican Wimp stunt.

Chapter 9 The Art of the Steal-- Analysis by Dr. Peter Navarro

Executive Summary – The Art of the Steal

The Democrat Party and its political operatives, with the unwitting aid of “useful idiots” from the Republican Party, stole the presidential election from Donald J. Trump.

The Democrat Party used a two-pronged Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy to flood six key battleground states – Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin – with enough illegal absentee and mail-in ballots to turn a decisive Trump victory into a narrow and illegitimate Biden alleged “win.”

Prong One dramatically INCREASED the amount of absentee and mail-in ballots in the battleground states. Prong Two dramatically DECREASED the level of scrutiny of such ballots –effectively taking the election “cops” off the beat. This pincer movement resulted in a FLOOD of illegal ballots into the battleground states more than sufficient to tip the scales from a decisive legal win by President Trump to a narrow and illegitimate alleged “victory” by Joe Biden.

The Democrat Party relied primarily on legal means such as legislative and rule changes at the state level to implement its Grand Strategy and thereby achieve its illegal outcome. However, at times, political operatives advancing the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy also bent, and sometimes broke, the laws and rules of that which is most sacred to our American public – our election system.

Key methods used by the Democrat Party to strategically game America’s presidential election included changes in the law approved by State Legislatures; rule changes and new guidance initiated by Secretaries of State or other election officials; court rulings and interventions; and the aggressive use of so-called “public-private partnerships” to commandeer and manipulate the election process in key Democrat strongholds such as Wayne County, Michigan and Dane County, Wisconsin.

Prong One of the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy used seven basic gambits to dramatically INCREASE the flood of absentee and mail-in ballots: relaxing mail-in and absentee ballot rules; sending absentee or mail-in ballots or applications for such ballots to every voter (universal mailing); increasing both the legal and illegal use of drop boxes; ballot harvesting; and the use of corrupted voting machines.

Prong Two of the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy used five additional gambits to dramatically DECREASE the level of scrutiny of the new flood of absentee and mail-in ballots into the battleground states: relaxation of ID verification; reduced signature matching requirements; illegally counting naked ballots to increase ballot curing – both legal and illegal; and reduced poll watching and observing. Democrat Party operatives frequently hid behind the shield of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) virus and resultant pandemic to further their goals of boosting the absentee and mail-in ballot counts in the key battleground states.

The practical result of the Democrat Party’s two-pronged Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy was to flood the six key battleground states with enough illegal absentee and mail-in ballots to turn a decisive Trump victory into a narrow alleged Biden “victory.” Key political operatives assisting the Democrat Party included Wall Street oligarch George Soros, Silicon Valley oligarch and Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg, and Marc Elias, former Hillary Clinton Campaign General Counsel and one of the alleged architects and financial conduits for Fusion GPS and the Russia Hoax designed to topple a duly-elected President.

Soros money helped fund efforts to change election laws and rules through instruments such as referenda. Soros and his network of organizations such as the political action committee “Secretary of State Project” also helped to elect puppet Secretaries of State in Michigan (Jocelyn Benson) and Pennsylvania (Kathy Boockvar) who would play instrumental roles in bending or breaking election rules and thereby advancing the Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy. Zuckerberg money – nearly half a billion dollars – helped engineer what was effectively a hostile Democrat Party “public-private partnership” takeover of what should otherwise be a nonpartisan election process in key Democrat strongholds such as Wayne County, Michigan and Dane County, Wisconsin.

Useful idiots for the Democrat Party included Georgia’s Republican Governor Brian Kemp and Republican Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger who entered into a Consent Decree that dramatically INCREASED the number of absentee and mail-in ballots while dramatically DECREASING the rejection rate of such ballots. Republican state legislators who voted for the bills that would help the Democrats advance its Grand Strategy likewise were unwitting dupes.

By implementing its Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy, the Democrat Party and its political operatives have strategically gamed one of the most sacred elements of American democracy, our election system. This was brass knuckle politics played at the highest level which has delivered a brutal punch to the nose of the American people and a vicious kick to the groin of American democracy.

That the Democrat Party and its operatives have, up to this point, gotten away with their Immaculate Deception and Art of the Steal, represents a signal failure of the media, Republican state legislators, other Republican government officials across the battleground states, the US Congress, and our judicial branch of government at both the state and federal levels.

Volumes 1 and 2 of the Navarro Report – The Immaculate Deception and The Art of the Steal together make the strong case for a full investigation of the election irregularities and strategic gaming of our political process that in all likelihood have led to a stolen presidential election. Any such investigation must begin immediately as this nation simply cannot risk the inauguration of a president who will be perceived by a large segment of the American people as illegitimate.

Introduction

Volume 1 of The Navarro Report, The Immaculate Deception, revealed a coordinated Democrat Party strategy to steal the 2020 Presidential Election.

That strategy was to stuff ballot boxes with illegal absentee and mail-in ballots across six battleground states – Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

As illustrated in Figure One, this Democrat gaming of our political process was manifested by six types of election irregularities observed across the battleground states. These irregularities included outright voter fraud, ballot mishandling, due process fouls, violations of the 14th amendment's Equal Protection clause, voting machine irregularities, and statistical anomalies.

By exploiting these election irregularities – by bending, and at times breaking, the law or election rules – the Democrat Party thereby illicitly transformed substantial Trump leads into alleged narrow Biden leads across each of the battleground states. However, as The Immaculate Deception documented, these alleged Biden “victory margins” are dwarfed by the number of potentially illegal ballots in every single battleground state as illustrated in Rows 7 and 8 of Figure One above.

For example, the alleged Biden “victory margin” is less than 12,000 votes in Arizona, while the number of potentially illegal ballots was is than 10 times that. In Georgia, the alleged Biden “victory margin” is a mere 12,670 votes, yet the number of ballots in question is more than 400,000.

In the wake of the release of the initial Navarro Report on December 17, 2020, I received numerous requests to explain just exactly how the Democrat Party and its operatives managed to pull off its Immaculate Deception. That is the purpose of Volume 2 of the Navarro Report, The Art of the Steal.

The Art of the Steal takes a more granular look at the Democrats’ Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy. It seeks to answer some of the most basic questions now rising in the minds of an American public and an American political leadership increasingly skeptical about the fairness and legitimacy of the 2020 election. How did the Democrats pull off its Immaculate Deception without detection and appropriate countermeasures by the Republican Party? When did the Democrats' effort to topple a sitting president start? How much of what the Democrats did was illegal? And how much of what the Democrat Party and its agents did was done within the bounds of the law and rules but nonetheless led to an illegal outcome?

The Democrat Party's Grand "Stuff the Ballot Box" Strategy

This section of the report provides a broad overview of all of the various moving pieces and parts of the Democrat Party's Grand "Stuff the Ballot Box" Strategy. In the sections of the report that follow, we will provide additional granularity to each of these moving pieces and parts.

As illustrated in Figure Two, the Democrat Party and its political operatives used a two-pronged Grand "Stuff the Ballot Box" Strategy to FLOOD six key battleground states – Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin – with enough illegal absentee and mail-in ballots to turn a decisive Trump victory into a narrow and illegitimate Biden alleged "win."

Figure Two

The first and most obvious prong of the strategy was to dramatically INCREASE the number of registered Democrat absentee and mail-in ballots cast in six battleground states – Arizona, Georgia Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. As President Jimmy Carter and former Secretary of State James Baker warned in their landmark 2005 Carter-Baker Commission Report, the best way to stuff illegal ballots into our election system without detection is by increasing absentee and mail-in ballots.

The second and more subtle prong of the strategy was to dramatically DECREASE the scrutiny and concomitant certification or verification of this new flood of absentee and mail-in ballots. By essentially taking the ballot verification cops off the beat, the practical result would be to dramatically INCREASE the number of illegal ballots that would be counted in the battleground states.

Figure Three illustrates the various (mostly) legal means and gambits the Democrat Party used to strategically game the presidential election system and thereby achieve what was, in effect, an illegal end – a FLOOD of illegal ballots sufficient to tip the election to Joe Biden.

These gambits included: law changes by state legislatures; rule changes by Secretaries of State (SOS) and other election officials; various court rulings, court interventions, and petitions; the aggressive use of so-called “Public-Private Partnerships” often funded by oligarchs like Mark Zuckerberg and George Soros; and the equally aggressive use of propaganda campaigns under the guise of “public awareness” messaging.

You can see from the checkmarks in Figure Three that each of these gambits are present in a significant degree in all six battleground states. Of the six states, Nevada, with its Democrat Governor and Democrat Legislature, is the worst offender followed by Michigan and Pennsylvania, each of which have a Democrat Governor.

Figure Four illustrates the variety of means and gambits the Democrat Party employed to dramatically INCREASE the flood of absentee and mail-in ballots. These gambits – many of them legal but some of them clearly bending or breaking the law or rules – included: relaxing mail-in and absentee ballot rules; sending absentee or mail-in ballots or applications for such ballots to every voter (universal mailing); increasing both the legal and illegal use of drop boxes; ballot harvesting; and the use of corrupt voting machines.

Figure Five similarly illustrates the variety of gambits the Democrat Party employed to DECREASE scrutiny of absentee and mail-in ballots. These gambits included: relaxation of ID verification; reduced signature matching requirements; illegally counting naked ballots to increase ballot curing – both legal and illegal; and reduced poll watching and observing. Again, it is important to point out here that much of what the Democrats did was legal; but some of what they did at times also bent, and arguably sometimes broke, the rules or the law.

In the remainder of this report, we shall further deconstruct the Grand Strategy of the Democrat Party following the flow and logic of the figures above.

Strategically Gaming America’s Presidential Election

Let’s work our way now systematically through various means and gambits the Democrat Party used to strategically game America’s presidential election. Note that the examples that we will offer throughout the remainder of this report are designed to be illustrative rather than exhaustive.

This previously introduced figure summarizes the eight major means and gambits the Democrat Party used in its gaming of our presidential election:

Law Changes by State Legislatures

Three battleground states – Michigan, Nevada, and Pennsylvania – issued major changes to their individual State Election Laws in the year leading up to the 2020 General Election. These are illustrated in Table One.

Table One

Law Changes by State Legislatures to Impact 2020 Election
State	Law	Date	Provisions
Michigan	Senate Bill 757	10/6/2020	Cities and townships with population over 25,000 granted ballot counting timeframe extension
Nevada	Assembly Bill 4	8/3/2020	Universal mail-in ballots, ballot harvesting, ballot receipt deadline extension, ballot curing extension, and relaxed signature-matching
Pennsylvania	Act 12	3/27/2020	Ballot counting timeframe extension
Pennsylvania	Act 77	10/31/2019	"No-excuse" absentee voting, absentee voting period extension, permanent absentee ballot list, vote registration timeframe extension, and absentee ballot receipt deadline extension

For example, after the Nevada State Primary Election, a Special Session of the State Legislature was called by the Democrat

Governor Steve Sisolak of Nevada to change the state's voting procedures. Notably, the CCP virus pandemic was used as a justification for this action. Consequently, AB-4 was an omnibus measure modifying election procedures during periods of declared emergency in Nevada as currently exists due to the CCP Virus.

In Pennsylvania, on October 31, 2019, Democrat Governor Tom Wolf signed Act 77 after its passage in the Republican-Controlled State Legislature. This is the most drastic election law change Pennsylvania has made in modern history.

Act 77 made numerous major changes to state election law. In particular, the bill enabled "no- excuse" absentee ballot voting so voters no longer have to provide a reason for requesting absentee ballots; and it created a "new option" to vote by mail up to 50 days before an election and enabled voters to be placed on a list to "permanently receive a ballot application by mail."

This was a clear case where an unwitting "useful idiot" Republican legislature played right into the hands of the Democrat Party's Grand Strategy. Note: the term "useful idiot" is attributed to Vladimir Lenin. It describes naïve people who can be manipulated to advance a political cause.

This sweeping bill also extended the amount of time voters could register to vote; extended mail- in and absentee submission deadlines; and authorized a $90 million bond to "reimburse counties for 60 percent of their actual cost to replace voting systems."

Rule Changes by the Secretaries of State

Secretaries of State in Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, and Pennsylvania bypassed their State Legislatures to issue rule changes that effectively allowed the counting of illegal ballots. They did so under the theory that the executive agency makes the rules while power is derived by legislation passed.

For example, on May 19, 2020, Michigan Democrat Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson, elected with the help of George Soros, announced that all registered voters in the August 4, 2020, primary and the November 3, 2020, General Election would receive mail-in ballot applications automatically. This was a sweeping change.

Regrettably, it wasn't just Democrat officials who were involved in promulgating such rule changes. As another useful idiot for the Democrats' Grand Strategy, Georgia's Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger played right into their hands.

On March 24, he announced that election officials would mail absentee ballot request forms to all of Georgia's 6.9 million active voters for the primary election. This universal ballot measure was taken not just for the Presidential Primary Election on May 19 but also for the General Election on November 3.

Rule Changes by Election Officials Other than Secretaries of State

Rule changes were also enacted by other election officials, effectively bypassing any chain of command running through either the Secretary of State or State Legislature. These changes likewise contributed to the expansion of absentee and mail-in ballot voting.

For example, in Georgia, the State Election Board approved a rule in April of 2020 to allow Georgia voters to cast ballots by drop boxes on a twenty-four hours a day basis, using the CCP Virus pandemic as justification. This was a clear case of bending or breaking the rules, as Georgia state law does not permit counties to collect ballots outside of the normal business hours of Election Offices. Moreover, as this expanded drop box capability was implemented, poll observers testified that they were obstructed from observing ballot counting and processing, meaning that fraudulent ballots could have been dumped into these 24/7 drop boxes prior to collection.

Similarly, on October 18, 2016, the Wisconsin Election Commission unanimously voted on a rule change for so-called "ballot curing" contrary to state law (specifically Wisconsin Statutes 6.84 and 6.86). With this illegal rule change, the Wisconsin Election Commission instructed that mail-in ballots with missing addresses should be cured, that is, fixed. However, Wisconsin Election Law states: "If a certificate is missing the address of a witness, the ballot may not be counted."

This may well be a case where the Republican Party was sleeping on the job. This change went unchallenged for eleven statewide elections until the Trump campaign took action following the November 3 election where mail in ballots played a crucial role. The lack of a timelier challenge notwithstanding, the action taken by the Wisconsin Election Commission was clearly illegal.

Guidance Issued by Secretaries of State

As an additional gambit, Secretaries of State and other government officials in four of the six battleground states – Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin – have pushed the envelope of their authorities and beat the rules to unilaterally bypass state legislatures and other election officials to issue so-called “guidance.” Their goals are to effectively expand the universe of absentee and mail-in ballots while reducing scrutiny of such ballots. Moreover, they did so often in clear contradiction of State Election Codes.

The poster children for this problem – and two shining examples of the corrosive effects of the oligarch George Soros on the integrity of American elections—are Michigan’s Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson and Pennsylvania’s Democrat Secretary of State Kathy Boockvar. Both of these liberal extremist puppets were elected with the help of the so-called “Secretary of State Project,” a political action committee funded by George Soros and members of the Democracy Alliance.

The goal of the Secretary of State project was to build a “Democrat Firewall” in key battleground states by placing progressive extremists in positions of authority where they would be willing to bend, and, at times, break the law. This is exactly what has happened in the 2020 Presidential Election.

Consider, for example, Boockvar’s arguably unlawful guidance on September 15, 2020. She directed local election officials not to perform on-the-spot signature analysis for absentee and mail-in ballots. In effect, mail-in ballots could not be rejected even if election officials deemed there was an improper signature match. When it comes to outrageousness, this is about as outrageous as it gets in terms of DECREASING the scrutiny of mail-in and absentee ballots.

More broadly, Boockvar appeared to exhibit a total disregard for the sanctity of our legal system when she submitted clearly unlawful guidance a few days before the November 3 election that allowed voters missing proof of identification to have their mail-in ballots cured until November 12 – nine days after the election. This did indeed break the law; and the Pennsylvania Supreme Court agreed, finding that Boockvar lacked the statutory authority to take that step. Yet it was a clear and blatant attempt by a Soros puppet to rig the election.

George Soros certainly got his money’s worth as Boockvar also sought to extend deadlines for mail-in ballots, citing concerns over delivery times involving the United States Postal Service. Republicans opposed the action. Said Pennsylvania Senate Majority Leader Jake Corman (Republican): “The issue is [that] ...Secretary [Boockvar is] trying to influence this process by sending out guidance at the 11th hour.” He also expressed that the (Pennsylvania) State Department had been “weaponized” and influenced by partisan attempts to sway the vote.

Not to be outdone, in September 2020, another Soros puppet – Michigan Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson–encouraged voters, along with Democrat Governor Gretchen Whitmer, to vote by absentee ballot and drop off ballots in drop boxes in order to “decrease the spread of COVID-19.” She also urged voters “not to wait too long” to send in their ballots and to take the ballots directly to their clerks’ offices for submission.

Court Rulings

The American nation has been witness to the spectacle of our judicial branch likewise being used as a useful idiot for the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy to steal the presidential election. The problem here is that of judicial activism: far too often activist judges have let partisanship and their own ideology get in the way of a sober and clinical interpretation of the law. In this vein, Table Two below provides an overview of a number of court rulings that effectively advance the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy.

Table Two

Wisconsin	Sari Ratner Judge et al v. Board of Canvassers for the City of Madison	10/23/2020	Legalize ballot harvesting events (e.g. "Democracy in the Park")

Consider, for example, the ruling of September 10, 2020 by Obama-appointed Judge Douglas Reyes of the U.S. District Court of Arizona. He ordered an extension period for absentee ballots for the 2020 General Election and thereby allowed missing signatures to be added to vote-by-mail ballots. In this dramatic expansion of the rules for curing ballots, election officials were allowed to give voters until 5:00 PM on the fifth business day after the election to sign their vote-by-mail ballot envelopes if they failed to sign at the time they submitted the ballots.

Similarly, on August 26, 2020, Michigan Court of Claims Judge Cynthia Stevens, appointed by then-Governor and Democrat Jennifer Granholm, ruled that Michigan Secretary of State and Soros puppet Jocelyn Benson had the authority to mail all Michigan registered voters (7.7 million total) absentee ballot applications for the November 3rd election. This, likewise, was a dramatic expansion of universal mailing.

Court Interventions

Democrat-backed and funded third-party groups during the 2020 Election would also intervene in court cases or submit petitions in order to coerce state government officials and judges into pushing Radical Left election law changes.

For example, the oligarch George Soros spent over $28 million on influence operations during the 2020 Election. He funded groups like the Brennan Center for Justice which intervened on behalf of powerful Democrats like his puppet, Michigan Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson.

During the Davis v. Benson case, three plaintiffs sued Secretary Benson for her decision to mail absentee ballot applications to all Michigan voters ahead of the 2020 Presidential Election. On August 25, 2020, the Michigan Court of Claims ruled in favor of Benson, granting her the authority to send ballot applications to all Michigan voters. Again, it is useful to note here that this was a dramatic expansion of universal voting through absentee and mail-in ballots, with such universal voting as one of the worst conduits for illegal votes.

Not to be outdone, the leftist organization Democracy Docket, founded by Marc Elias, former General Counsel to the 2016 Hillary Clinton campaign, intervened in court cases to push election law changes consistent with the Democrat Party's Grand Strategy across all six states. A case in point: Elias and Democracy Docket supplied lawyers as "Intervener Defendants" and filed a motion to intervene in the Election Integrity Project of Nevada v. Nevada case.

It is well worth noting here that Elias is also credited with hiring the dirty tricks group Fusion GPS to "compile the 'Russia dossier' to dig up dirt on Donald Trump in the 2016 race."

It is as remarkable as it is abhorrent that the Trump Administration's Department of Justice did not conduct a full investigation and issue indictments in a Russia Hoax that ended in a complete exoneration of President Trump. Effectively, the Elias-led effort has institutionalized the idea that it is perfectly acceptable to run propaganda campaigns for the purpose of toppling duly elected government officials, including the President himself.

Petitions for Public Referenda

As Table Three illustrates, the Democrat Party also used public referenda to change election laws in both Michigan and Nevada. The purpose of these referenda was to dramatically expand absentee and mail-in voting – just as the Democrat Party Grant Strategy dictates. These referenda are financed in part by the Wall Street oligarch George Soros; and it is worth noting here that Soros, the consummate globalist, made billions by “breaking the Bank of England” while inflicting great harm on the British working class. It is equally worth noting that the Globalist Soros has a strong antipathy towards the Economic Nationalism of Donald J. Trump.

Table Three

Law Changes through Public Referenda
State	Referenda	Date	Provisions
Michigan	Voting Policies in State Constitution Initiative (Proposal 3)	11/3/2018	Straight-ticket voting, automatic voter registration, same-day voter registration, "no-excuse" absentee voting, pre-processing of ballots, military and overseas voters to receipt absentee ballots 45 days prior to Election Day, extended mail-in voter registration until 15 days prior to an election, state-wide audits of election results
Nevada	Automatic Voter Registration (via DMV Initiative)	11/6/2018	Automatic voter registration for all Nevada citizens when receiving select services from the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles

Proposal 3 in Michigan was one of the most radical and sweeping changes to election law ever witnessed in America. Changes consistent with the Democrat Party’s Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy included: straight-ticket voting, automatic voter registration, same-day voter registration, no-excuse absentee voting during the 40 days before an election, extended mail-in voter registration until fifteen days prior to an election, and the auditing of election results. Proposal 3 was backed by Soros-financed far Left groups like Promote the Vote.

Promote the Vote spent $2.5 million collecting signatures for the Proposal 3 petition and for consulting and marketing. The referendum wound up passing with sixty-six percent of the vote in the 2018 Midterm Election. Democrat Governor Gretchen Whitmer and Soros puppet Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson both heavily promoted this radical weakening of election laws in the mainstream media.

In fact, Proposal 3 was an encore to a similarly successful Soros-backed public referendum in Nevada. Shortly after the 2016 election, leftist organizations such as iVote and the ACLU of Nevada, both with ties to Soros, spent tens of millions of dollars in Nevada collecting 55,000 signatures to submit a petition for “automatic voter registration” law changes in Nevada.

The proposed legislation eventually passed by public referendum in 2018. It mandated that individuals would be automatically registered to vote when receiving select services from the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), such as obtaining a renewal or change of address for a license or identification card. In order to not be registered to vote, individuals would have to decline the registration by submitting a request in writing—an obvious strong incentive to be registered.

Public-Private Partnerships (Zuckerberg-Soros Effect)

Both the Wall Street oligarch George Soros and the Silicon Valley oligarch and Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg used their deep pockets to finance public-private partnerships that would help advance the Democrat Party’s grand strategy.

Zuckerberg money – nearly half a billion dollars – helped engineer what was effectively a hostile Democrat Party “public-private partnership” takeover of what should otherwise be a nonpartisan election process in key Democrat strongholds such as Wayne County, Michigan and Dane County, Wisconsin, and Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania.

It is worth noting that there is only one degree of separation between Soros and Zuckerberg. Zuckerberg’s Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL) was founded in 2012 and is staffed by people that worked at the New Organizing Institute, a now defunct organization that was funded in part by George Soros’ Open Society Foundation. During the 2020 Election, it would be Zuckerberg’s CTCL that would spend hundreds of millions of dollars to fund cities, towns, and counties for “election administration.”

For example, Wisconsin used a $6.3 million CTCL grant from Mark Zuckerberg to support the installation of drop-boxes and illegal ballot harvesting events like “Democracy in the Park.” These funds were also used to help with various other election administration activities in several Democrat strongholds including Milwaukee, Madison, Green Bay, Racine, and Kenosha.

Similarly, Pennsylvania received over $12 million from CTCL. Fully $10 million of those funds poured into the Democrat-dominated Philadelphia to help boost turnout and count ballots. The strings attached to these funds required the city to open no fewer than 800 new polling places, thereby dramatically changing how Philadelphia managed its General Election processes. In a clear violation of its tax-exempt status, CTCL has posted anti-Republican and anti-Trump statements on social media.”

Despite its claims of non-partisanship, CTCL’s officials have a documented history of involvement in left-wing political movements. A complaint filed on August 28, 2020 with the Wisconsin Elections Commission (WEC) showed that the organization is comprised of Barack Obama’s allies who were highly skilled in recruiting Democrat voters to the polls.

It is also worth noting here that while this report does not examine any possible interventions by the Chinese Communist Party into our election, Mark Zuckerberg has long sought to enter the Chinese market. He speaks fluent Chinese, and his company, Facebook, has – despicably – hired Chinese Communist Party members to increase Facebook’s ability to censor Trump supporters and the conservative movement.

Zuckerberg also has expressed sympathies for Chinese Communist Party ideology. In 2014, Zuckerberg met with Chinese internet Czar Lu Wei in Silicon Valley, and was caught on Chinese state-run media promoting Chairman Xi’s book entitled “The Governance of China.” In fact, Zuckerberg also distributed this propaganda trash to his colleagues, because he desired for them to understand Communist Party ideology such as “socialism with Chinese characteristics.”

In 2016, Zuckerberg also met with China’s propaganda chief, Liu Yunshan, and praised the Communist Party for its “development of the internet.”

As for George Soros and his web of progressive organizations, the Soros effort to influence the 2020 election ironically would be assisted by a key department in the Trump Administration, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). In November 2019, DHS announced it would partner with Soros-funded VotingWorks – a left-of-center non-profit provider of voting machines and open-source election verification software – to salt key battleground states with voting machines.

Alleged Russia Hoax participant Marc Elias used tactics similar to Soros and Zuckerberg that likewise helped advance the Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy. For example, Elias assisted Stacey Abrams’ nonprofit, the New Georgia Project, in filing a complaint on May 8, 2020, which called for radical Election Law changes. These changes included absentee ballot receipt deadline extensions and increased ballot curing.

Elias’ plan would reap major fruit in Gwinnett, Georgia, as Republicans lost major races for District Attorney, Sheriff, and County Commission Chair. The Democrat Party also flipped the 7th Congressional District seat to the blue side.

Propaganda “Public Awareness” Campaign

Many of the gambits advanced by the Democrat Party, their operatives, and their useful idiots were done under cover of “public awareness” campaigns that often amounted to little more than propaganda. Such campaigns were designed to target voters through published statements, reports, and media stories. The goal was to influence – and soften – public attitudes towards the liberalization of absentee and mail-in voting.

For example, in leaked documents from Soros’ Open Society Foundation, the Soros-funded Brennan Center was listed as the recipient of funds earmarked for the express purpose of “litigation to expand access to registration and improve ease of voting.” As was common practice with the Democrats, the Brennan Center would use the shield of the CCP virus pandemic to advance its goals.

For example, in March of 2020, the Brennan Center issued a memo to influence mail-in ballot election law changes as a result of the CCP Virus pandemic. The memo stated: “All voters should be offered the option to cast their ballot by mail (with multiple submission options, as provided below), so as to enable voters to avoid lines at the polls and exposure to COVID-19.”

Soros-funded Brennan Center memo also made five key recommendations aimed at expanding absentee and mail-in voting. These included: (1) polling place modification and preparation; (2) expanded early voting; (3) a universal vote-by-mail option; and (4) voter registration modification and preparation, including expanded online registration.

Democrat Methods to Dramatically INCREASE Absentee and Mail-In Ballot Voting

Let’s turn next to an examination of the various methods the Democrats used to dramatically INCREASE absentee and mail-in ballot voting in the battleground states. As previously introduced, Figure Six below illustrates the seven principal methods. These methods were identified from an analysis of the various modifications made to state election laws and rules and procedures in advance of the 2020 presidential election.

Note that a checkmark in a given cell in the matrix indicates that particular mechanism was present in a particular state. For example, universal mailing of absentee and/or mail-in ballots was observed in both Nevada and Wisconsin. Similarly, there is an increase in voting through the use of drop boxes in Georgia, Michigan, and Pennsylvania.

Of the six battleground states, Georgia and Wisconsin were subject to six of the seven methods of boosting absentee and mail-in ballot voting while at the other end of the scale Arizona was subject to three.

Relaxed Mail - in / Absentee Ballot Requirements

The relaxation of absentee and mail-in ballot requirements was accomplished in a variety of ways. For example, on March 27, the Dane and Milwaukee County Clerks in Wisconsin issued guidance to voters that the pandemic was grounds for anyone to be considered an “indefinitely confined” voter.

In effect, this gutted the ID verification process for anyone who chose to identify as indefinitely confined because it allowed these voters to cast their ballots without presenting proper ID as a condition for an absentee ballot.

As a result of this change, the number of indefinitely confined voters surged in Dane and Milwaukee counties – two Democrat strongholds – from 72,000 in 2019 to over 240,000 by November 3, 2020. Within the context of Democrat Party’s Grand Strategy, this was a twofer. The guidance simultaneously expanded the universe of absentee and mail-in ballot voters while lowering the level of scrutiny of these ballots.

Similarly, in Pennsylvania, a lawsuit was filed by the Democrat Party on July 10, 2020, citing Act 77’s provisions to expand absentee voting for all Pennsylvania registered voters. On September 17, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court ruled in favor of the Democrat Party, allowing a three-day receipt deadline for absentee ballots postmarked by 8 PM on Election Day (November 3). In other words, ballots with a “pre-election” postmark were counted as long as they were received by 5 PM on November 6th, three days after polls closed. 10,000 absentee ballots in Pennsylvania were received after 8:00 PM on November 3.

Legalizing Universal Mailing of Mail-in/Absentee Ballots

Several states across the U.S. conduct all mail-in voting. These include Colorado, Hawaii, Oregon, Utah, and Washington. In other words, these states send mail-in ballots automatically without the voter’s consent. However, universal mail-in ballots are historically subjected to higher rates of fraud due to lack of I.D. verification, individuals submitting ballots multiple times without being detected, and voting under the identity of another individual; and each of these examples are apparent during the 2020 Presidential Election.

As part of its Grand Strategy, the Democrat Party and its operatives were successful in pushing for universal mail-in voting in Nevada and Wisconsin. In both of these states, election laws were altered so that mail-in ballots could be sent automatically to every individual on the voter rolls.

For example, on August 3, 2020, Democrat Governor Steve Sisolak (D) in Nevada signed AB-4 legislation into law. It directed election officials to distribute mail-in ballots automatically to all active registered voters for the November 3, 2020, General Election. This bill also gave Sisolak the authority to bypass Republican Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske and command her to adjust election procedures during a declared State of Emergency.

Note that the CCP virus pandemic again was used to justify this power grab. This alleged “reform” has led to substantial fraud; for example, roughly 15,000 mail-in or absentee ballots were counted in Nevada from voters who had voted in other states.

Legalizing Universal Mailing of Applications for Mail-in/Absentee Ballots

Closely related to the method of sending mail-in ballots to all registered voters is the technique of sending absentee ballot applications to all registered voters. This was done in Georgia, Michigan and Wisconsin.

For example, as previously noted, on August 26, 2020, the Michigan Court of Claims ruled that Michigan Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson had the authority to mail all Michigan registered voters (7.7 million total) absentee ballot applications for the November 3rd election.

Similarly, on June 17, 2020, the Wisconsin Election Commission voted unanimously to send absentee and mail-in ballot applications automatically to 2.7 million registered voters for the November 3, 2020, general election, who had not originally requested mail-in ballots.

Increase Voting by Drop Box

As discussed in Volume 1 of the Navarro Report, the use of ballot drop boxes raises huge chain of custody issues. As a further complicating issue, ballot harvesting, which is illegal in ten states, becomes much easier with the use of drop boxes.

Perhaps for this reason, prior to the 2020 election season, only thirteen states used ballot drop boxes. In this year's November General Election, however, that number skyrocketed to thirty- eight states and Washington, D.C.

Consider, for example Georgia. Ahead of the 2020 Presidential Primary Election held on June 9, the State Election Board required that "County registrars are authorized to establish one or more drop box locations as a means for absentee by mail electors to deliver their ballots to the county registrars." Drop Boxes were then installed in nineteen of Georgia's 159 counties.

Similarly, in Michigan, there appears to have been a conscious effort to stuff the ballot box by stuffing Democrat strongholds with drop boxes. Thirteen new drop boxes were established in Lansing, 69 five in Ann Arbor, and nearly forty in Detroit. As of the November 3 Election, Michigan had a total of 700 drop-boxes statewide.

Both Governor Whitmer and Soros puppet Secretary of State Benson issued statements in September 2020 to encourage voters to vote by absentee ballot and submit ballots via drop box in order to “decrease the spread of COVID-19.” Here again, we see the Democrats hid behind the shield of the CCP virus to advance their Grand Strategy.

Illegal Use of Drop Boxes

In at least some cases, the expanded use of drop boxes was a clear violation of state law.

Consider, for example, Wisconsin. Drop boxes are clearly illegal according to state election law. Yet, the Wisconsin Election Committee nonetheless illegally issued guidance on August 19, 2020, to election officials in all municipalities throughout the state. It designated “drop boxes or mail slots set up for taxes, mail and public utilities as secure ballot drop locations” and suggested “partnering with businesses...such as grocery stores and banks” as places voters could cast their ballots.

For example, in Pennsylvania, ahead of the 2020 Presidential Primary, ballot drop boxes were established in violation of state law under Secretary of State Boockvar’s knowledge and consent.

Similar problems arose in Pennsylvania. On June 29, 2020, the Trump Campaign filed a complaint to Secretary of State Boockvar and sixty-seven county officials in Pennsylvania, stating that the Secretary of State established drop boxes illegally by failing to provide adequate security, oversight, and supervision over the drop boxes. These conditions would thereby foster an environment that would encourage the legal ballot harvesting and/or tampering.

As indicated in Volume 1 of the Navarro Report, numerous abuses were indeed observed. For example, ballots were illegally dumped into drop boxes at the Nazareth, Pennsylvania, ballot drop box center, in violation of state law. Another witness in Pennsylvania with video and photo evidence caught a man coming out of an unmarked Jeep extracting ballots from an unsupervised ballot drop box to be brought into a ballot counting center.

It's not just that these drop boxes were illegally deployed. They were disproportionately deployed in urban areas with higher Democrat registration, favoring Joe Biden.

Ballot Harvesting

“Ballot harvesting” is the practice of allowing individuals to collect ballots from voters and deliver these bundles of votes to polling stations or drop boxes. Given the obvious chain of custody issues associated ballot harvesting – and the equally obvious opportunities to engage in fake ballot manufacturing – it is no surprise that many states forbid the practice.

These dangers to our democracy notwithstanding, the Democrat Party successfully pushed for the passage of legislation to legalize ballot harvesting in the battleground states of Georgia, Nevada, and Wisconsin.

On August 3, 2020, Nevada Democrat Governor Steve Sisolak called a special session with the State Legislature and signed Assembly Bill 4. It legalized the practice of ballot harvesting.

Bill 4 passed on a party-line vote through both the state Senate and Assembly, with Democrats in favor and all Republicans opposed. Implementation of this bill took place over the strong objections of Nevada Republican Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske who warned that expanded ballot harvesting could fraudulently tip the scales in elections.

In both Georgia and Wisconsin, where ballot harvesting is illegal, Democrat operatives nonetheless pushed the envelope of the law to run ballot harvesting operations. For example, several Democrat non-profits took advantage of the Georgia ballot-curing extension deadline and conducted an absentee ballot-harvesting operation. This operation alone is suspected to have added enough Democrat votes to tip the scales in favor of Joe Biden.

To engage in this end run around the law, these organizations called themselves “Ballot Rescue Teams.” They deployed Democrat volunteer activist operatives to call voters and knock on voters’ doors as part of this operation.

As for Wisconsin, city officials in the Democrat stronghold of Madison assisted in the creation of more than 200 “Democracy in the Park” illegal polling places. These faux polling places were promoted and supported by the Biden campaign. They provided witnesses for absentee ballots and acted in every way like legal polling places—but weren’t.

Moreover, they received ballots outside of the limited fourteen-day period preceding an election that is authorized by statute for in-person or absentee balloting. These were all clear violations of state law that had the effect of propagating ballot harvesting.

Installation of Potentially Corrupt Voting Machines

Much has been written about how vulnerabilities in voting machine systems may be exploited by cyber hackers and other bad actors to alter the count of actual ballots. A poster child for this problem is the dramatic malfunction that was observed with Dominion Voting Systems in Antrim, Michigan to the detriment of the count for President Trump.

In July of 2019, the nonprofit group Fair Fight Action issued a report claiming that another system—Election Securities and Software (ES&S)—has demonstrated “systematic disregard for basic security best practices and a complete lack of competence in the manufacturing of reliable voting machines.”

The report also cited “large-scale negligence [that] exposed personal data of millions of voters, left tens of thousands of names off rolls and led to massive delays in vote counts across the country.” Moreover numerous US Senators “have expressed national security concerns after ES&S lied to federal lawmakers, refused to reveal which states were sent critically flawed machines, and vigorously fought attempts to reveal reliability information.”

Despite such concerns and warnings, Dominion and ES&S were implemented in all six battleground states between 2017 and 2020. For example, in March of 2020, Georgia rushed to install 30,000 new electronic voting machines from Dominion. State evaluators warned that these machines were subject to vulnerabilities. Nonetheless, they were installed in all of Georgia’s 159 counties.

In 2019, Pennsylvania installed Dominion in fourteen of Pennsylvania’s sixty-seven counties, resulting from guidance issued by the Soros puppet Secretary of State Boockvar. In 2020, 33 counties in Pennsylvania also installed the ES&S system. These counties included the Democrat strongholds of Philadelphia and Montgomery. (Dane and Milwaukee in Wisconsin also use ES&S which were also found to be susceptible to vulnerabilities).

In March of 2017, the Michigan state government and twenty-two localities likewise awarded Dominion a $31.5 million contract to provide voting machinery statewide. The top-spending local governments included the cities of Detroit ($457,880), Dearborn ($22,975), and Livonia ($65,310) in Democrat-dominated Wayne County.

Dramatically DECREASE Democrat Ballots Rejected Across Six Battleground States

Even as the Democrat Party sought to dramatically INCREASE the amount of absentee and mail- in ballots, they also sought to dramatically DECREASE the level of scrutiny of such ballots. The practical effect of a reduced level of scrutiny – fewer “election cops” on the beat – was to significantly increase the level of illegal ballots able to FLOOD into the six battleground states.

Figure Seven illustrates how the five major gambits used to reduce scrutiny of absentee and mail- in ballots were distributed across the six battleground states. You can see from the figure that the State of Georgia effectively ran the table on behalf of the Democrats – no small irony given the fact that Georgia has both as useful idiots, both a Republican governor and a Republican Secretary of State.

In studying this figure, it is important to note that all methods of reducing ballot scrutiny are not created equal. One of the most critical elements of a free and fair election is the transparency one gains through comprehensive poll watching and observing. While both Pennsylvania and Michigan are characterized by only this method of reduced scrutiny, this method alone affected hundreds of thousands of potentially illegal votes in both states.

Relaxed ID Verification Requirements

The Democratic push for lower voter identification requirements most notably occurred in Arizona, Georgia, Nevada, and Wisconsin.

For example, behind the shield of the CCP virus, Democrat stronghold counties in Arizona like Maricopa and Pima allowed and encouraged residents of long-term care facilities to vote by video chat. There is no way to verify voter identification by video call, and there is no oversight over special election boards to know, in fact, if ballots are being recorded accurately.

Similarly, as noted earlier, Wisconsin’s Democrat-dominated Dane and Milwaukee counties allowed anyone to register as “indefinitely confined. These Wisconsin votes were thereby tabulated without verifying photo ID.

Relaxed Signature-Match Requirements

A major way mail-in and absentee ballots can be verified is through a process called signature matching. All states require voters to provide signatures on their absentee and mail-in ballot return documents in order to verify identification.

Note that thirty-two states in the U.S. require election workers to match voter signature with a signature on record for the voter on their registration form. In this case, Arizona, Georgia, and Nevada all relaxed signature match requirements, bringing into question hundreds of thousands potentially illegal ballots.

Perhaps most egregiously, on March 6th of 2020, Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, with the approval of Governor Brian Kemp, signed off on a secret legal agreement with the Democratic Party of Georgia, the Democrat Senatorial Campaign Committee, and the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee to significantly alter absentee ballot procedures in Georgia. The Democrats' attorney for this secret deal was alleged Russia Hoax operative Marc Elias from Perkins Coie.

Originally, the signature-matching requirement in Georgia was such that the signature on the mail-in envelope had to match both the voter's signature stored in the State's E-Net system, as well as the absentee ballot application.

The new guidance loosened these requirements; it only required that the signature on the absentee (mail-in) ballot envelope either must match the eNet signature, or the absentee ballot application, rather than both. Further, the State required that if the election worker found a signature to not match, it couldn't be rejected unless a majority of the registrars, deputy registrars, or absentee ballot clerks reviewing the signature agreed.

This wholesale gutting of the state's signature-match requirement resulted in a drastic reduction in Georgia's absentee ballot rejection rate from 6.8% in 2016, to 0.34% during the 2020 Presidential Election. Effectively, almost none of Georgia's 1.3 million absentee ballots were rejected. On top of this, Georgians were given the opportunity to "cure" or "fix" their ballot signatures on ballots incorrectly filled out for three days after November 3 (Election Day). If the flood of absentee ballots in the 2020 election had been rejected at the same rate as in the 2016 election, that would have been enough alone to flip the election to President Trump.

A similarly egregious problem reared its Grand Strategy head in Nevada. New legislation passed in August of 2020 allowed voters over sixty-five who have a disability or are unable to read or write to have someone assist them in physically marking signatures on their ballots. These relaxed rules thereby have called into question at least some of the 400,000 ballots cast by Nevadans aged 65 and older. This "reform" also likely contributed to the statewide absentee ballot rejection rate dropping from 1.6% in 2016 to 0.58% in 2020.

Illegal Counting of Naked Ballots

A quick review of the Figure Seven above indicates that the State of Georgia effectively cornered the market on the illegal counting of naked ballots. This was part of the bitter fruit of the aforementioned Georgia Consent Decree.

Increased Opportunities for Ballot Curing

As a fourth method to DECREASE the scrutiny of absentee and mail-in ballots, Democrats pushed for ballot curing leniency, which increased the ability or timeframe for curing problematic ballots. Ultimately, this effort allowed for illegally submitted mail-in or absentee ballots to be counted.

For example, on September 10, 2020, Obama-appointed Judge Douglas Rayes of the U.S. District Court for Arizona ordered election officials to give voters five business days after Election Day to sign their vote-by-mail ballot envelopes. Voters had until 5 PM on November 10 to sign the envelopes even if they failed to sign at the time they submitted the ballots.

In the wake of this order, Democrat volunteers raced around the state texting, calling, and knocking on people’s doors to make sure thousands of ballots would be cured. Without the ruling, such votes would otherwise have been deemed illegal.

Perhaps most egregiously, the Wisconsin Election Commission unanimously offered guidance for vote curing, notably in contradiction of Wisconsin Statutes 6.84 and 6.86. For example, the Wisconsin Election Commission instructed curing mail-in ballots with missing addresses. This was despite Wisconsin Election Law plainly stating: “If a certificate is missing the address of a witness, the ballot may not be counted.” (Nevadans were also given a ballot-curing extension for up to a week after Election Day.)

Reduced Poll Watching/Observing

Democrat Party officials and operatives repeatedly sought to reduce the meaningful access of Republican poll watchers and observers during the ballot counting process in half of the battleground states. At the same time, these officials and operatives also sought to reduce the actual number of poll watchers and observers, often behind the shield of the CCP virus.

For example, Act 12 was passed by the Pennsylvania State Legislature on March 27, 2020. It mandated a reduction in the amount of poll workers. Also in Pennsylvania, certified Republican poll watchers were not allowed within six feet of ballot counters, and even kept at distances between 50 and 100 feet.

Despite the disenfranchisement of observers and legal voters, counties like Philadelphia asserted that these restrictions had to go into effect due to pandemic social-distancing guidelines. Such limitations would remain in place until a Pennsylvania Court Ruling went into effect on November 5, after hundreds of thousands of ballots had already been processed.

Michigan, likewise, was a hotbed poll watcher and observer abuses designed to reduce the scrutiny of potentially illegal absentee and mail-in ballots. For example, Republican poll workers were kept more than six feet from ballot counters, sometimes, on entirely separate floors. Like in Pennsylvania, this flagrant denial of ballot observation was justified under CCP pandemic guidelines.

The practical effect of the Democrat Party's Art of the Steal was to substantially increase the number of potentially illegal ballots across all six battleground states. The equally practical result of the Art of the Steal was to effectively tip the balance of the election through the strategic gaming of the electoral process. While much of what the Democrats did was not per se illegal, what they did enabled illegal activity, namely, stuffing the ballot box with illegal mail-in and absentee ballots.

Concluding Observations

By implementing its Grand "Stuff the Ballot Box" Strategy, the Democrat Party and its political operatives have strategically gamed one of the most sacred elements of American democracy, our election system. This was brass knuckle politics at the highest level which has delivered a brutal punch to the nose of the American people and a vicious kick to the groin of American democracy.

That the Democrat Party and its operatives have, up to this point, gotten away with their Immaculate Deception and Art of the Steal represents a signal failure of the media, Republican state legislators, and other Republican government officials across the battleground states, the US Congress, and our judicial branch of government at both the state and federal levels.

Volumes 1 and 2 of the Navarro Report – The Immaculate Deception and The Art of the Steal – together make the strong case for a full investigation of the election irregularities and strategic gaming of our political process that in all likelihood have led to a stolen presidential election. Any such investigation must begin immediately as this nation simply cannot risk the inauguration of a president who will be perceived by a large segment of the American people as illegitimate.

Sidney Powell has been a key player fighting almost independently for the president to get a fair hearing on the legitimate claim that the 2020 election was stolen by Democrats in select counties of Battleground States. The Navarro report cited above gives a perspective on the extent of the steal.

In late December, Sidney Powell's team released a binder of election fraud claims and related materials that undergird their claims challenging the integrity of President-elect Joe Biden's victory. The "non-election" of Joe Biden as US President is a historic moment. It will be the first time in US history that anybody who examined the facts of the election would conclude that Joe Biden was not elected President of the United States. The truth shows that President Trump was elected with a total of at least 74,000,000 votes but more than likely, he achieved as many as 85,000,000 votes for an overwhelming victory.

After All Joe Biden never even took the time to campaign. How could he beat the totals of votes achieved by Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton in the 2008, 2012, 2016 elections.

The 270-page binder was provided by Powell's staff to Zenger News on Wednesday ahead of an interview in which Powell reaffirmed her assertions that White House officials were blocking her access to President Trump after the former federal prosecutor says she was verbally offered a role as special White House counsel to investigate fraud. Powell could be seen with at least part of the binder's contents during a recent visit to the White House.

There is already enough evidence to assure that an honest look would render a Trump victory. Consequently, there is no new evidence appearing in the binder. However, it does contain some of the materials Powell has cited as she asserted there was voter fraud and foreign interference in the 2020 election.

These allegations that have informally been dismissed by biased federal and state officials, who claim they have not seen evidence of widespread fraud. After reading the Navarro report, it is easy to see the extent of their bias.

Powell's "Kraken" lawsuits have had little success in court because cowardly judges would not give the Trump legal team a hearing on the evidence. Meanwhile, the electronic voting machine companies targeted by the allegations are gearing up for litigation which will not come if the Biden administration has any say. The fix is in for sure on this rigged election.

In addition, the binder contains FBI and Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency alerts about Iranian hackers targeting election-related systems, the Homeland Security Department designation of election infrastructure as critical infrastructure, a version of White House trade adviser Peter Navarro's report on alleged voting irregularities, a report from an examination of Dominion Voting Systems equipment in Antrim County, Michigan, and letters from Democratic lawmakers over the years raising concerns about electronic voting systems equipment.

You can download the 270-pages of election facts at the Washington Examiner at this link:

As noted, private attorney Sidney Powell provided Zenger News with a 270-page binder supporting her multiple cases alleging widespread election fraud in the 2020 U.S. presidential election. Powell has cases pending in the Supreme Court regarding the states of Michigan, Georgia, Arizona, and Wisconsin. Her supporting documents in each case are between 1000 and 2000 pages long.

Here is the table of contents for the Powell 270-page binder. It is tough reading but in these Covid-infested times, it gives a great opportunity to review most aspects of the big steal.

Where have all the honest representatives gone?

On January 6, more than seven weeks after Election Day, Trump and his supporters held out hope that some honest people could be found in Congress. No supporters expected Trump to concede to the former Vice President because the Vice President did not win the election in a legal manner.

Rudy Giuliani, who leads Trump's legal team, has focused his strategy on the fact that voting machines in several battleground states that Trump lost were used to flip votes to Biden. Both Giuliani and Powell have pushed for further access to voting machines to conduct audits. Despite how easy it would be to prove, one way or another, the principle powers in the rigged election world, would not permit a reexamination of election materials, equipment, or facts.

"What are they all trying to hide? American elections are supposed to be easily auditable and transparent," Powell told the Washington Examiner in December. "That's why Federal law punishes the failure to keep all records for 22 months with up to one year in prison. This is important not only to the United States but to the world. There is no way of hiding this fraud and 'moving on' as if any election could ever be trusted again. Our entire government seems to have become a big lie and coverup. The American people are 100% fed up with it."

Being a regular person whose conversations are limited with friends and family because Pennsylvania is locked down, I have had discussions with many people who are smarter than the Democrats think we are. We all know it was a fix. Because Pelosi runs the corrupt Congress, many of us do not think the reexamination will happen fairly if at all.

Trump had huddled recently before January 6, with conservative lawmakers who were planning a long-shot bid to object when the House and Senate meet on this day to certify the Electoral College results. "See you in Washington, DC, on January 6th. Don't miss it. Information to follow!" Trump tweeted on the Sunday prior to January 6.

Trump incited no riots but asked his followers to keep faith in the process. Pelosi and her legions of lefties brought Antifa and BLM in to destroy something good and then blamed Trump for it.

Chapter 11 January 6, 2021 Final Piece of the Dem Coup

Word on the streets of the Capitol is that momentum among sick Democrats is continuing to build for a fresh and fast push to impeach President Donald Trump. They have not figured why yet, but they're hell-bent on impeach him with less than seven days left in his rightful term

House Speaker Nancy Pelosi is accusing all Trump supporters who violently invaded the Capitol this week of choosing "their whiteness over democracy." She offered no thoughts on BLM or Antifa leading the Capitol onslaught. But the people are smart enough to count two plus two.

Pelosi has been doing a lot of Trump bashing because of the elector objections brought forth on Wednesday the 6th of January. Rhode Island Democratic Rep. David Cicilline told the news that an impeachment article he and colleagues have drafted accusing Trump of inciting insurrection has collected 176 co-sponsors. Perhaps these nuts from Bellevue y will be defended by Mr. Fred Gailey when he defends Santa Claus next.

These goofy Dem lawmakers plan to formally introduce the proposal Monday, Jan 11, and they had 30-second speeches all day Wednesday and they took their vote on Wednesday. In the quickest impeachment ever the Dems got their vote. The men in the White coats are standing by.

Pelosi spoke to her San Francisco constituents Saturday but shed no fresh light on Democrats' plans to move against Trump. Anything she comes up with was expected to be a dark day for America. That day was today with Trump impeachment # 2. The Senate will not act on it so it will go no place but to prove Democrats hate the 80,000,000 real Trump voters.-

Most Americans decry the fact that Pelosi cannot impeach herself. They see her as jealous of Trump because nobody likes her. Pelosi never has gotten over Donald blowing the whistle on her for using the USAF for her own personal taxi service, as well as her allowing out of control spending. The fact is that Hell hath no fury like a Pelosi scorned.

They say it doesn't help to fight City Hall, especially when City Hall is dirty. But at least until 2020. Regular Joe's had a chance when they made a challenge against the CITY, the state or the feds. No longer.

Regular people have the dirty deck stacked against them. We have not YET resorted to dirty tactics in order to get our way. Perhaps to even the sides, good people are going to have to react like the Patriots did to King George's Intolerable Acts. Can it ever change if the ones who lose keep getting hoodwinked by those who have all the Pelosi gavel "tricks." at their disposal.

They literally just let them through

There is plenty of good footage showing that the Patriots were shocked that others went into the capitol—others not just interested in making a statement. The real Trump supporters were staying outside. They were heard saying things like, “Oh my God, a bunch are trying to break in the Capitol! Its getting dangerous, were leaving. I’m not going in.”

No one was storming to get INSIDE but the ANTIFA thugs who stormed over the fences who had assistance from the start to avoid check points and just go right on into the event. Then had assistance to get inside! The press did not report that.

Those who were there see what went down and they know there was a coordinated attempt to not only steal the election. They know about the payoffs. The big cheeses in the SWAMP and the Deep State paid off all those on both sides who could be bought and that is looking like quite a lot of them. They held a coordinated a break in and staged a false flag inside the Capitol Building and blamed it on the Patriots.

The fact is this is not how patriots behave. If the Patriots were going to rush the Capitol they would do that in a different way. Patriots don't climb on buildings like monkeys and give out hollars and woop woops. ANTIFA does that. The ANTIFA style is a dead give away! ANTIFA left their signature on this event as big as their graffiti! But the fix is in at many levels of government.

Some Republicans had the courage to stand their ground and not get sucked into the Democrat and media rhetoric. For example, in a late-night, fiery defense of President Trump and his truthful condemnation of the 2020 presidential election, Matt Gaetz from Fort Walton Beach FL blamed Democrats' rhetoric and ANTIFA / BLM for the attack on the U.S. Capitol. And he denounced the presidential election as rife with systematic fraud, which it was.

Liberals posed as Trump Supporters; stormed the Capitol to agitate real Trump supporters!

Gaetz, who is a longtime Trump ardent defender, was one of the few Republicans who explicitly defended him Wednesday night--unwavering. After the riots had changed how most of the ambivalent were feeling, most other Republicans who spoke in the evening debate, even those objecting to Biden's victory, took cowardly approaches, calling for unity and understanding of one another's positions.

These are not Trump Supporters! Do these jerks look like any of the Trump supporters you know? You know in your heart they are insurrectionists from ANTIFA and / or BLM

The Dems would not have given the Republicans any such break. That's why the Dems win even if they have to cheat. Republicans forgive their nasty ways and take it on the chin too often. Republicans must be primaryed and replaced with patriots who believe in America. And the US Constitution.

Gaetz: “We should come to build America up,” he said. “Not tear her down and destroy her, and I sure am glad that at least for one day, I didn’t hear my Democrat colleagues calling to defund the police.”

He rightfully absolved Trump of any blame for the storming of the Capitol. Trump had a right to encourage his supporters to make their positions known. He never intimated that violence should be used.

The election was stolen. They had always intended to march to the Capitol. It was not prompted by hearing Trump talk against the fraudulent election and Democrats. Nope, Gaetz contended. People were angry because Democrats’ rhetoric fired them up, Gaetz suggested. And he suggested that members of the shadowy, left-wing, anti-fascist group antifa led the charge.

“This morning, President Trump explicitly called for demonstrations and protests to be peaceful. He was far more — you can moan and groan — but he was far more explicit about his calls for peace than some of the BLM and left-wing rioters were this summer when we saw violence sweep across this nation,” Gaetz said.

“Now we came here today to debate, to follow regular order to, to offer an objection, to follow a process that is expressly contemplated in our Constitution. And for doing that, we’ve been called a bunch of seditious traitors. ... And when those things are said, people get angry,” Gaetz said.

Amen!

Chapter 12 Impeachment Lunacy

After all of the anti-trump “crap” brought from Democrats from 2016, Donald Trump was never accepted by Nancy Pelosi and company as the president of the United States. From Russia Russia to the Mueller Report to the Ukrainian Phone Call to the first impeachment, it was all rigged with Pelosi and the press.

If it were up to the Democrats Trump would never have been able to get anything done for the people. But Trump is a special guy and they are ordinary jerks who don’t know how to scrap it out with somebody smarter than them. Now, they want to prove that their first lunacy was not a fluke. If the elections were not crooked this fall, I don’t see how any honest Democrat could have voted for a Democrat..

Later in the year 2020 with the COVID pandemic, Dems conveniently forgot that Trump had been effectively addressing the COVID-19 with an early start program by stopping travel and other measures. They blamed Trump for the pandemic even though Biden and Pelosi complained at the time of the travel ban that there was no issue. Pelosi told the public to celebrate the “New Year” in Chinatown. Ironic! Meanwhile they completely ignored the virus and were concerned only about their bogus impeachment—which went no place because it lacked truth.

Well, the Lunatics went at it again on 1/13/2021 and the perfect lunacy approach was again impeachment and the Dems do the crazy lunatic things Democrats in Congress know a lot about. Pelosi surrogate Dems have proven they care about nothing but the burning desire to quell their blistering 5-year hate for Trump while the country is falling apart searching for an impossible unity. What’s it all about Alfie.

What's it all about Alfie
Is it just for the moment we live
What's it all about
When you sort it out, Alfie
Can you ever clean Trump from your brain?
And if you do Alfie, then what?
Will things get better or worse, Alfie!
Then what? Will Joe Biden heal your wounds, Alfie? Alfie? Aldfe?

But, citizens of America there is no unity or goodness in the hearts of the Democrats. Who knows what evil lunacy lurks in the hearts of Democrats in Congress. At the impeachment hearings were you not surprised at the parroting of Pelosi? I was. No originality from the left.

Everybody knows including the shadow that Dems do not care about the country. They care only about getting Trump for crimes untold because they never happened. .

To prove that they are certifiably nuts and that they do not care about their constituents, on January 11, 2020 the House Democrats introduced one article of impeachment against President Donald Trump. But, what for? There again was no crime. Then, on January 13, they closed the deal. It sealed their lunacy. Current Democratic legislators will be trying for years from now to get the history books cleansed of showing that they voted to impeach one of the best presidents America ever had the pleasure of having. Heck, he never took a dime for his service to the country? How much has Joe Biden taken from America and from the Chinese?

Tell me! Tell Me! Tell Me! Do you love me! If not why have you forgiven me – just to get rid of Trump?

Go ahead folks and read their singular new bogus article of impeachment. The corrupt media on Monday charged Trump with what would be a nasty thing if true--"incitement of insurrection." Today on the 13th they followed through.

The Senate is ruled by a SOB, Mitch McConnell who is a piece of guano. Who knows what SOB's do when they are outstaged by a president like Donald Trump. Mitch, you are a Creep and you will always be a creep. Bye Bye Leadership position.

Why?

They say it was because Trump had urged his supporters to support him. Sounds like a high crime or misdemeanor to me? Who are we kidding? He told them to march on the Capitol last Wednesday like I did for years in the Pro-Life March – sorry to you Dems who like to kill babies—I do not.

And when they got to the Capitol folks what were they to do? “listen to the speeches of Congressional speakers in the chambers. It was a big day for Trump. Democrats and protesters ruined it. Whether there were loudspeakers on the Capitol steps or the protesters were listening on their own speakers, the purpose was to show the Congress by their sheer numbers that what the Congress was doing mattered to the people who were in front of the Capitol.

That’s about it. Trump supporters are not trained in ANTIFA or BLM riot tactics. Most who heard Trump’s speech called it a day and those who moved to the Capitol wanted to do as much as they could to help. It is that simple. Unless you want to amass false charges against all conservatives.

As soon as they had won the January 6 session because of their staged storming, the day’s key move came when House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif., told Democrats that her chamber would proceed with Trump's impeachment if Vice President Mike Pence did not agree to invoke the 25th Amendment to remove the president from office. The Democrats were even giddier than when they prosecuted the “Perfect Trump Phone Call to Ukraine.”

Majority Whip Rep. Jim Clyburn, D-S.C., said the House could delay sending impeachment articles to the Senate until after Joe Biden's first 100 days in office to allow the president-elect to get his agenda off and running, including Covid-19 relief legislation and the confirmation of his Cabinet officials. That is not going to happen because that is not lunacy and Pelosi has only lunacy to offer her constituents.

It has been reported that Pelosi, Schumer and Schiff orchestrated the ANTIFA / BLM insurrection. They supposedly kept it a secret to get mileage out of it for Trump’s impeachment. What do you think? Look at the pictures of the police escorting the bad guys into the Capitol. What is that about? And, of course they blame Trump. That is their only game.

Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, R-Ky, a wimpy turncoat for sure, said in a memo obtained by NBC News that the soonest his chamber could receive the articles of impeachment would be Jan. 19, the eve of Biden's inauguration, unless senators give unanimous consent to taking the measure up earlier. Show us you matter Mitch. I am done trusting you along with many other good Americans who voted for Trump. I am glad quite frankly you are not the big cheese in the Senate any more. Why you had to force your wife to resign is something history will fault you for. She could have gone down as a loyalist but because of an angry Mitch who did not get his way, she had to suffer.

I would suggest you Mitch, you horse's ass go ahead and resign and make room for a patriot. I bet there is not one dissenting vote in accepting your resignation. Why not get the hell out of Congress while you are at it Uncle Mitch. You have told your last lie to the people because we now know who you are, Mr. Boldface. ___!

FYI, in a recent poll, nearly three-quarters of voters say Democrats have created a scenario in which democracy is under threat. The majority of voters say Biden should resign or be removed—ask them!.

Some other Democrat retribution follows:

- New York State Bar Association moves to oust Rudy Giuliani.
- Biden plans ahem, America United inauguration theme.

My son now thinks that if they can do that to Trump, what chance does he or anybody else who believes in the goodness of America have in the new America.

Don't give up your guns folks. It is the court of last resort. Keep them locked up from the government. Keep them as your statement of the power of the Constitution. Don't use your guns as you won't have to because Democrats are cowards. All you have to do is be tough and stand your ground. Democrats who find resistance--always wilt.

Wilt, Wilt Wilt, you SOBs. And soon!

Chapter 13 VP Pence Did Have the Authority to Help Trump. America lost!

Donald Trump was right

A lot has happened over time since November 3 and on to January 6 and then January 20, for the corrupt media and the Hollywood elites helping the Democrat Party to muffle the actual events of January 5 and 6 and on use made up narratives (lies for those living in Accu Packu) into the sham impeachment that is one of Hollywood's greatest shows on earth.

Late Tuesday before the debacle on January 6, 88 state legislators from five battleground states—more than enough to rectify a stolen election sent an extensive letter to Vice President Mike Pence. In the letter, they pleaded with VP Pence to not ccept the fraudulent electors sent by their states and that they wanted another ten days (long before the Jab 20 deadline) to evaluate and perhaps send a different slate of electors based on the corruption information they had recently discovered.

Yes, it was 88 state legislators not Trump who first asked Mike Pence to do what the legal team had advised Pence that he had the authority to do. Some say Trump wanted to unilaterally decertify the elections—not true. Trump was reminding Pence that the states ahd requested a do-over. Trump was asking Pence to postpone the certification until the states had the opportunity to examine the new facts. Pence was asked merely to send them back to the states for a look-see and a possible redo but to let the states make any determinations necessary when they reexamined the facts.

The state constitutions of those who sent this letter demanded they take action and they did but with the winds of the corrupt media on his back, Pence was confused and no longer trusted Trump so this kept VP Pence from doing the right thing. He took the cowardly way out and did not give the states their opportunity for the re-examination they had requested. Why? Beats me. Maybe somebody had threatened Pence's family. a.

The letter sent by the state legislators, not the President or his minions clearly asked Pence, who had the authority according to most scholars to postpone the opening and counting of Electoral College votes, currently scheduled to take place during Wednesday's joint session of Congress, "for at least 10 days." Nobody was asking for a then and now reversion of the results—just ten more days.

What had happened was that when the Electoral College met in fifty state capitals on December 14, 2020, subsequent to the certification of the November 3 election results by officials in each state, 306 Electors cast ballots for Joe Biden, and 232 cast ballots for Donald Trump. Certain legislators in state capitols that did not agree with the results wanted to do a recheck. Their letter reads as follows:

On January 6, 2021, you are statutorily authorized and required under the Electoral Count Act of 1887 to preside over both houses of Congress to count and record the Presidential electoral vote count to elect the President and Vice President of the United States. This congressionally set deadline, however, is not the supreme law of the land, and in fact must not supersede our state legislative authority under the Constitution. Moreover, the deadline is not necessitated by circumstances, especially when it truncates the fulfillment of our constitutional duties and our responsibility to the American people.

"There are extensive and well-founded accusations of electoral administration mismanagement and deliberate and admitted violations of explicit election laws enacted by state legislatures in Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin," the state legislators continued, adding:

Therefore, we write to ask you to comply with our reasonable request to afford our nation more time to properly review the 2020 election by postponing the January 6th opening and counting of the electoral votes for at least 10 days, affording our respective bodies to meet, investigate, and as a body vote on certification or decertification of the election. This action can be completed prior to the inauguration date, as required by the Constitution.

The letter was organized by Got Freedom, a 501 (c) (4) non-profit election integrity watchdog group that also organized a Saturday phone call with 300 state legislators that President Trump addressed.

“The letter was signed by 88 lawmakers, with more signing on by the hour, and similar letters have been signed by other legislators in the swing states, bringing the total to well over 100 total signatories,” Got Freedom said in a statement released late Tuesday.

The facts folks do not help the Democrats though the Hollywood elites do better than Joe Sh--- the Ragman in producing videos based on lied that are nonetheless compelling. I think their videos might have even convinced Donald Trump until he woke up from his Hollywood induced fog.

Chapter 14 Yes, President Trump Won: Analysis by Dr. Peter Navarro

The Case, Evidence, & Statistical Receipts

Yes, President Trump Won:
The Case, Evidence, & Statistical Receipts

February 19, 2021 – almost two months after this book was published

1

Thank you to Peter Navarro for permission to include this great document in this book.

navarreport@protonmail.com. This is Peter Navarro's third chapter of The Navarro Report.

Introduction

Volume 1 of the Navarro Report, The Immaculate Deception, assessed the fairness and integrity of the 2020 Presidential Election by identifying and assessing six key dimensions of alleged election irregularities. These irregularities included: outright fraud, ballot mishandling, a wide range of process fouls, multiple violations of the 14th Amendment Equal Protection Clause, voting machine irregularities, and statistical anomalies.

his assessment was conducted across six key battleground states – Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. It would be the outcomes in these six states that would ultimately be election-determinate – just as the strategy of the Democrat Party assumed.

Evidence used to conduct The Immaculate Deception assessment included more than 50 lawsuits and judicial rulings, thousands of affidavits and declarations, testimony in a variety of state venues, published analyses by think tanks and legal centers, videos and photos, public comments, and extensive press coverage. Three key findings of the report include: (1) Six types of election irregularities were present and pervasive in most or all of the battleground states; (2) Each battleground state differed in its own way with respect to the types of irregularities that were election-determinate; (3) There was no single “silver bullet” that allegedly won the election for Biden; instead it was “death by a thousand irregularities” in any given battleground state; and, most importantly with respect to the question as to whether the election may well have been stolen, (4) the narrow alleged Biden “victory” margins in each of the six battleground states were dwarfed by the number of potentially illegal ballots.

Volume 2 of the Navarro Report, The Art of the Steal, examined the institutional genesis of the six types of election irregularities. One key finding: The Democrat Party efforts to strategically game the election process across the six battleground states began years before, and in many cases, shortly after President Trump was elected in 2016. A second key finding: the Democrat’s This gaming of the election process was implemented through a two-pronged Grand “Stuff the Ballot Box” Strategy designed to flood the six key battleground states with enough un-scrutinized and potentially illegal absentee and mail-in ballots to turn a decisive Trump victory into a narrow alleged Biden “win.”

Prong One of the Democrat strategy dramatically INCREASED the amount of absentee and mail- in ballots. Prong Two dramatically DECREASED the level of scrutiny of such ballots. This resulted in a FLOOD of potentially illegal ballots into the battleground states more than sufficient to tip the scales from a decisive legal win by President Trump to a narrow and potentially illegitimate alleged “victory” by Joe Biden.

Importantly, much of what the Democrat Party and its operatives did to effectively achieve what may well be an illegal result was pursued through a variety of legal means. Nonetheless, at times, Democrat government officials also bent, and at times, broke the laws or rules of their state.

Volume 3 of the Navarro Report is designed to serve as a capstone to what has been a comprehensive analysis of the question: Was the 2020 presidential election stolen from Donald J. Trump? In this report, we provide the most up-to-date statistical “receipts” with respect to the potential number of illegal votes in each battleground state.

The broader goal of this final installment of the Navarro Report is to provide investigators with a well-documented tally of potentially illegal votes on a state-by-state and category-by-category basis. This tally is presented in Figure One on the next page of this report. Note that each number in this figure has a corresponding endnote identifying the source of the number. Note further that we have taken a conservative approach to the count of potentially illegal ballots.

As with previous volumes of the Navarro Report, you can see clearly in Figure One that the number of potentially illegal votes dwarfs the very thin alleged Biden “victory” margins. In the face of this evidence, no reasonable person would conclude that the 2020 presidential election was, beyond any shadow of doubt, a fair election. Rather, anyone who reads this report should feel compelled to seek greater clarity about whether, in fact, this election may have been stolen from Donald J. Trump.

While it is now politically correct in progressive circles and the mainstream media to demand that all Americans submit and confess to the “truth” of what may well be the fiction of a free and fair election for the sake of “unity” and “harmony,” such a Kafkaesque demand in the face of the evidence in this report will likely have the opposite effect.

To wit: almost half the country now believes that there were significant irregularities in the 2020 presidential race; and the failure to fully investigate these irregularities will only increase the number of Americans who have such doubts. This will be particularly true if the suppression of what necessarily must be a search for truth is facilitated by the authoritarian – nay fascist – behavior of a small group of social media oligarchs who have taken it upon themselves to de-platform and censor tens of millions of pro-Trump Americans who now find themselves victims, rather than consumers, of platforms like Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

In considering these truths, let us never forget two things: (1) The Democrat Party and its operatives stole the 1960 Presidential Election – it happened then and it can happen again; and (2) it took decades for historians to finally acknowledge the 1960 version of the Immaculate Deception in the face of the same kind of virtue-signaling and cancel culture pressures we are witnessing today.

Despite a similar quest to silence Republican and conservative voices today, 74 million Americans who voted for President Donald J. Trump have the right to a full investigation and bipartisan search for truth. If, however, the Democrat Party, RINO elements of the Republican Party, the anti-Trump mainstream media, and the out-of-control censoring social media oligarchs do not cease and desist from their efforts to suppress the search for truth about the 2020 election, history will judge all of these people, corporations, and institutions in the harshest possible manner.

At this point, we have moved dangerously in what seems like a nanosecond from a full and vibrant American Democracy to a Communist Chinese-style, Cancel Culture, Police State guarded by a collusive social media oligopoly that is beyond out of control.

In the remainder of this report, we will simply present the statistical “receipts” on a state-by-state and subcategory-by-subcategory basis what may well be the worst theft in American political history. If the U.S. Congress and State Legislatures across the six battleground states ignore this evidence, they will do so not just at their own peril but also at the peril of America’s faith in our elections and the sanctity of our Republic.

The Arizona Battleground

Figure Two tabulates by category a total of 254,722 potentially illegal votes. This number constitutes roughly 24 times the alleged Biden victory margin of 10,457 votes. By far the largest category is 150,000 mail-in ballots cast by voters registered after the registration deadline. Another 22,903 absentee ballots were on record as having been returned on or before the postmark date, which is highly unlikely.¹

In reviewing the statistics in Figure Two, it is worth noting that Arizona had statistically improbable high voter turnouts in Maricopa and Pima counties; widespread ballot mishandling; and 1.6 million mail-in ballots (which disproportionately leaned towards Biden)² which were subjected to much lower standards of certification and ID verification than in-person votes (which leaned toward Trump).³

The Copper State also accomplished the remarkable feat of exceeding 100% turnout of its registered voters. This is indeed a remarkable feat because Arizona does not allow same-day voter registration. The "over-votes" alone totaled 11,676, an amount more than the purported Biden "victory" margin of 10,457.⁴

From the figure, it should also be clear that Arizona boasts a litany of other election irregularities. For example, a total of 19,997 persons voted where they did not reside⁵ while 2,000 voters did not have an address at all.⁶ 5,790 voters moved out of state or registered to vote in another state,⁷ 5,726

out-of-state residents voted in Arizona,⁸ and 36,473 individuals voted without providing evidence of citizenship.⁹

The Georgia Battleground

Figure Three tabulates by category a total of 601,130 potentially illegal votes in Georgia. more than 50 times the alleged Biden victory margin of 11,779 votes.

From the figure, we see that the largest category of potentially illegal votes is that of absentee ballots cast requested before or after the statutory deadline. In the state of Georgia, voters have 180 days prior to Election Day to request absentee ballots, according to state law.¹⁰ However, during the 2020 Presidential Election, Georgia officials counted over 305,700 ballots cast by individuals who had requested absentee ballots more than 180 days before the absentee ballot request deadline, in blatant violation of Georgia Election Code.¹¹ From the figure, we also see that 10,000 ballots of deceased individuals were counted. ¹² 15,700 votes were counted from “ghost” voters, that is, voters who requested and submitted ballots under the names of voters who no longer reside at a particular address.¹³ Similarly perplexing is that over 1,000 voters without an address cast ballots.¹⁴ Voting machines –which Georgia election officials were in an inexplicable rush to install leading up to the 2020 election¹⁵ – likewise may account for a substantial number potentially illegal ballots.¹⁶ There were also over 40,000 cases of voters voting in counties in which they did not legally reside, as well as over 66,000¹⁷ voters who had successfully cast ballots even though they were under the legal voting age of 18.

The Michigan Battleground

Figure Four tabulates by category a total of 446,803 potentially illegal votes in Michigan. almost three times the alleged Biden victory margin of 154,818 votes.

The largest amount of ballots in question in Michigan stems from inexplicable vote tabulation surges along with alleged voting machine irregularities¹⁸ and ballots counted despite lacking voter- registration numbers.

There were also two major questionable “Biden vote spikes” in the early hours of November 4th. At 3:50 AM EST, Michigan added 54,497 additional ballots cast for Joe Biden and just 4,718 votes cast for President Trump.¹ At 6:31 AM EST, an update showed an additional 141,258 votes cast for Biden, while President Trump received just 5,968 additional ballots.¹⁹

Additionally, it is illegal in Michigan to count absentee ballots without having corresponding voter registration numbers for corresponding precincts, according to state law. Despite this, election officials allowed over 174,000 of these ballots to be counted anyway.

Michigan also processed ballots of over 35,000 voters without addresses on state records, at least over 480 confirmed dead voters,²² and over 13,200 voters registered to vote in other states— in blatant violation of state election law. Lastly, over 27,800 ballots were requested under the name of a registered voter without their knowledge and / or consent.²⁴

The Nevada Battleground

Figure Five tabulates by category a total of 220,008 potentially illegal votes in Nevada. roughly six times the alleged Biden victory margin of 33,596 votes.

Nevada's largest irregularities stemmed from the use of the Agilis signature-matching machines installed in Clark County to verify signatures on ballots. Using machines instead of people for signature match verification is in blatant violation of state law and calls into question the 130,000 ballots verified by these Agilis machines.²⁵

The Agilis machines were also alleged to have not been operated "in conformance with the manufacturer's recommendations" on Election Day. First, the images on file used by the Agilis machine to compare to the signatures on the outside of the mail-in ballots were of lower image quality than "suggested by the manufacturer" for the machine to operate properly, and the machine was altered or adjusted by election officials to a setting "lower than the manufacturer's recommendations," making the machine unreliable.²⁶ Nevada also registered 42,284 double voters,²⁷ ascertained by reviewing the list of voters and comparing voters with the same name, address, and date of birth—a method shown in peer reviewed papers to have over 99% accuracy.²⁸ That category alone exceeds the alleged Biden victory margin of 33,596 votes.

In addition, 19,218 out-of-state voters cast ballots in Nevada. This was ascertained by lining up voter lists from all counties against publicly available USPS records on permanent change of addresses with other states and correcting for military and student voters.²⁹

Finally, 1,506 votes were cast in the name of deceased persons—verified by comparing mail voters with social security death records.³⁰ Over 8,000 ballots were cast by persons without addresses—found by referencing voters with the Coding Accuracy Support System and finding undeliverable addresses.³¹ 4,000 non-U.S. citizens also appear to have voted—found by comparing non-citizen DMV records to the list of voters.³²

The Pennsylvania Battleground

Figure Six tabulates by category a total of almost a million potentially illegal votes. Pennsylvania. This is roughly twelve times the alleged Biden victory margin of 81,660 votes.

By far the largest category of potentially illegal ballots – over 680,000 – is associated with poll observer abuses.³³ Certified Republican poll observers were kept at distances the length of a football field.³⁴ They were prevented from accessing back rooms where tens of thousands of ballots were being processed, and they were rounded up into restricted areas when trying to fulfill their legal duty to observe the ballot counting process.³⁵ Without meaningful observation of the ballot counting process, it is impossible to verify the legality of absentee and mail-in ballots.

State Representative Frank Ryan, along with several other members of the State Legislature, found that over 202,000 more ballots were cast than actual registered voters in the state.³⁶ In addition, there were 58,221 absentee ballots counted that were returned on or before the postmarked date on the envelope.³⁷ 9,005 additional ballots were counted without a postmark on the envelope,³⁸ in clear violation of state election law.

There were also over 14,300 absentee ballots cast from addresses in which registered voters did not legally reside, ³⁹ over 7,400 registered voters from other states⁴⁰ that successfully cast ballots in the state of Pennsylvania, over 8,000 likely dead voters⁴¹ according to an analysis of state records and publicly available obituaries, and over 1,500 suspect votes in the names of persons over 100 years old.⁴² Pennsylvania was not exempt from the double-voter problem either, with 742 voters on record as having voted twice,⁴³ adding several hundred fraudulent ballots into the mix.

The Wisconsin Battleground

Figure Seven tabulates by category a total of over half a million potentially illegal votes in Wisconsin. This is more than 25 times the alleged Biden victory margin of 20,682 votes.

By far the largest category of potentially illegal votes is associated with alleged “bad-faith voters” who registered as “indefinitely confined” and thereby broke “Wisconsin election law to circumvent election integrity photo identification requirements.”⁴⁴ These persons voted without showing a voter identification photo and therefore underwent a far less rigorous I.D. check than would otherwise have been conducted. (Wisconsin voters who had registered under “indefinitely confined” status were also seen attending weddings, riding their bikes, going on vacation, and otherwise not confined.) 45

In the wake of the expanded definition of indefinitely confined voters – a definition ruled legally incorrect by the Wisconsin Supreme Court – the number of indefinitely confined voters surged from just under 70,000 voters in 2019 to over 200,000 in 2020.⁴⁶ Through this one problematic dimension, the integrity of 216,000 Wisconsin votes were compromised in the 2020 General Election.⁴⁷

In addition, as illustrated in Figure Seven, 17,271 ballots were cast at 200 illegal polling places through “Democracy in the Park” events,⁴⁸ in direct violation of Wisconsin state law. These polling locations provided witnesses for absentee ballots and acted in every way like legal polling places. Moreover, many received ballots outside of the limited 14-day period preceding an election that is authorized by statute for in-person or absentee balloting. These were clear violations of state law. City of Madison officials facilitated the event which was broadcasted by Biden radio advertisements.⁴⁹

Finally, as noted in the figure, there were 6,848 voters registered in other states who voted in the state of Wisconsin—ascertained by comparing all states’ voter databases with the National Change of Address (NCOA) database.⁵⁰ Also, 234 individuals were documented as having voted twice in Wisconsin.⁵¹ Moreover, a whopping 170,000 in-person absentee ballots were cast without the submission of a legally required absentee ballot application.⁵²

Concluding Remarks

Based on this third and final volume of The Navarro Report, and as Figure Eight demonstrates, it should be clear that there are far more questions raised about the potential illegality of the 2020 presidential election than have been answered. Clearly, the case, evidence, and statistical receipts presented in this report provide a strong case that the 2020 election may well have been stolen not just from President Trump but also from the 74 million Americans who went to the ballot box in good faith in support of President Trump.

Figure Eight

Thorough Investigation Is Essential
Possible Illegal Votes	3,069,002
Biden “Victory” Margin	312,992
Margin of Error > Margin of Victory	10x

In light of this evidence, it is impossible for anyone to claim that President Trump was in any way wrong in stoutly raising the question of election fraud and irregularities in the weeks following the November 3 election and in calling for his supporters to PEACEFULLY protest. Indeed, for the president not to rise to defend the integrity of the ballot box would have been a betrayal of the 74 million Americans who voted for the president thinking they were participating in what may well not have been a free and fair election.

In light of this evidence, it is also irresponsible – in the extreme – for the Democrat Party and its leadership, or journalists in the mainstream media, or RINO Republicans to claim there is no evidence of election irregularities. That's absurd on its face. As this report shows, there is an abundance of evidence – a virtual cornucopia of potentially poisonous election irregularities.

In light of this evidence, this must also be said: Those American citizens who are now questioning the potential illegality of votes cast in the 2020 election should NOT be subjected by cable news networks, social media platforms, or the print media to the kind of abhorrent behaviors that we are now observing – social and political behaviors that are far more worthy of Communist China authoritarianism than American democracy.

From public shaming to de-platforming, doxing, and public calls to punish and shun all those who have supported the president or worked in his administration, these types of behaviors are not the American way. Rather, this is Orwell, Kafka, and Xi Jinping all rolled up into the death of the First Amendment and the death knell of our democracy.

Based on the analysis and the granular, documented quantities of illegal votes in this report, the only thing that must happen now as we engage in a peaceful transition of power is a FULL investigation of this matter.

The Department of Justice should immediately appoint a Special Counsel BEFORE the Biden administration begins.

State legislators and Attorneys Generals in the battleground states, particularly Republican states, must launch similar investigations.

Absent a full investigation, we as a nation run the risk of institutionalizing a rigged electoral system in which a large segment of America will no longer have faith in. That's why clearing the air about the 2020 presidential election is not just about Donald J. Trump but rather about something much larger and of far more import —the future of our election system, the public perception of that system, and ultimately the future of our free and democratic Republic.
